TROLLEY CARS IN A CRASH

One of the Big Main Line Cars Ran Into Rear of Small Car on East Fifth Street

TWO SLIGHTLY INJURED.

Two Passengers on Netherwood Car Were Tossed Through the Doorway—Rear Platform Was Torn Away—Brakes on the Big Car Failed to Work—The Crews.

A Netherwood car, No. 15, which left the Watchung avenue terminus at 10:15 last night, was run into from the rear at East Fifth street and Franklin place by car No. 72, one of the large double-truck cars of the Elizabeth line. The rear platform of the small car was torn away and two passengers standing on it, Frank Leivers, of South avenue, and Alfred Luthman, of Johnston avenue, were hurled through the open door. They were badly bruised and cut by broken glass. Hugh Higgins, conductor on No. 15, fell among the debris but escaped with a few abrasions.

The sudden stopping of No. 15 and the failure of the brakes to work on No. 72 is given as the cause of the accident. Higgins gave his motorman, Peter Wooden, the single bell to stop at Franklin place. A woman alighted and had just cleared the step when No. 72, in charge of William Smith and George Elston, of Elizabeth, poked into them at almost full speed. Smith made every effort to stop his car but his tugs at the brake met with no response. The crash followed before any of the passengers in either car could brace themselves.

Four passengers occupied the interior of the forward car and although all were jarred, none were hurt. In the rear there were numerous passengers but all escaped injury. The only damage sustained by No. 72 was the wrecking of the door separating the main and smoking compartments.

Leivers and Luthman were taken to the home of Dr. Hedges where their hurts were attended to. Dr. Fritts, the railway physician, was on the scene early, but found little to do. What was left of the wrecked car was hauled to the Fourth street car barns at an early hour this morning.

DUKE'S BARN BURNED.

Hay Barn on Tobacco King's Farm, Near Somerville, Was Burned to Ground Last Night.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 1—A large hay barn on the property of James B. Duke, the tobacco millionaire, near this place, was burned to the ground last night. The origin of the blaze is a mystery. Many believe it was incendiary.

As it was out of the town limits but two of the fire companies were allowed to go, the Central Hook and Ladder Company and Lincoln Chemical Company, but before they could get there the flames were beyond control. The former company was in the midst of a banquet it its new quarters.

The loss will amount to about $5,000. Had there been any wind it is probable that the whole lot of buildings on the estate would have been destroyed.

Funeral of Horace Holcombe.

The funeral of the late Horace Holcomb, took place yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock from his residence on Mountain avenue. The services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. C. E. Herring of the First Presbyterian church. The floral offerings from the many friends of the deceased were numerous and costly. The pall-bearers were Wm. Shotwell, David Weaver, David I. Smalley, Lewis Bird, John Bodine and I. J. Coon. Interment was at Hillside cemetery.

Welcome News.

A sweet little girl was born yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Clarke, 411 LaGrande avenue, and this morning a cablegram was sent to U. S. Consul W. T. Griffin, at Limoges, France, telling him of the happy event that makes him a "grandpa."

N. P. H. S. A. A. Entertainment.

The pupils of the North Plainfield High School will give an entertainment in their hall this evening. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the athletic association. A varied and interesting programme has been arranged.

CLEVER LITTLE PLAYS WERE WELL PRODUCED

Pantomime "Mary Jane" and Play "Cranford" Were the Attractions.

THOSE WHO TOOK PART.

GIVEN IN PARISH HOUSE OF HOLY CROSS CHURCH LAST EVENING.

All of the Participants Acquitted Themselves With Credit—A Decided Hit Made by "Judy" Townsend—The Committee in Charge.

In the parish house of Holy Cross church, last evening, a large audience witnessed the rendition of a delightful programme, consisting of pantomime and amateur theatricals. The latter was the three-act play, "Cranford," as adapted by Marguerite Merington from Mrs. Gaskill's familiar story. No better cast could have been chosen for its interpretation, the embryo actors acquitting themselves with an ease of manner which called for nothing but favorable comment.

The pantomime, which consisted of the usual reading and shadow pictures, was entitled "Mary Jane" and dealt with a love affair encountered by that young woman with a certain "Benjamin." George O. Stevens read the part while the characters were taken by J. O. Stevens, Miss Ida Davis and Archibald Brakeley. It was an amusing piece of nonsense which served to set the audience in good humor before the treat of the evening was produced.

"Cranford" abounds with comedy and timely situations which kept the spectators eagerly looking for more. Three acts seemed all too short so smoothly did the characters deliver their lines with their accompanying amusing gestures. To select any one as being especially prominent would be a difficult matter as each acted his or her part with a conscientiousness which manifested a desire to please.

The entire cast was as follows: "Miss Matilda Jenkins," Miss Mabel VanDeventer; "Mary Smith," Miss Alice Barlow; "Lady Glenmire," Miss Larra Long; "The Hon. Mrs. Jamieson," Mrs. George O. Stevens; "Mrs. Forrester," Miss Frankie Burr; "Mrs. Fitz-Adams," Miss Edna Moore; "Miss Betty Barker," Miss Long; "Miss Pole," Miss Stevens; "Martha," Miss Conant, and "Peter Marmaduke Arley Jenkins," Morgan T. Townsend.

As a mirth provoker, Morgan T. Townsend had an invaluable alley in "Judy" Townsend, who made her initial bow (wow) to the public, scoring an instantaneous "hit." "Judy" is a four-footed actress who owes her professional success to the carefully coaching bestowed upon her by Miss Margaret Townsend.

Following the rendition of the play, the audience showed its appreciation by lingering to personally compliment the participants on their success. During this time and throughout the evening music was rendered by the Woman's Orchestra, of Dunellen.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Mrs. J. O. Stevens, Mrs. W. Montgomery Downey and Mrs. Samuel Townsend.

Funeral of Mrs. Roberts.

The funeral services over the body of the late Mrs. Marinda Roberts were held at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas J. McGann, 17 Lincoln place, Monday evening. The remains were subsequently taken to her old home in New York State for interment.

Left the Hospital.

Michael Garland, of the Pond Machine Tool Works, who sustained a severe injury to his foot while at work Tuesday, has left the hospital, where he received treatment. He expects to return to work in a week or so.

Work of Sewing Class.

The sewing school of Warren chapel will hold its last meeting of this year Saturday. All who are interested are invited to be at the chapel at 10:30 when the children's work will be on exhibition.

Of Special Interest.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the First Baptist church will hold a meeting of special interest tomorrow evening. J. H. Manning, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will lead.

Received His Horse.

Dr. Guy Hillman, the dentist, received his own horse, yesterday, from his former home in New York State. The doctor is a great lover of driving and for this reason sent for his horse.

MUSICAL AFTERNOON.

Enjoyed by the Members of the Ensemble Club Yesterday Afternoon.

At the home of Miss Anna O. Marsh, of Madison avenue, yesterday afternoon, an interesting programme was rendered by the Ensemble Club. The lives and works of Wagner, Rubenstein and Brahms were discussed. Selections from these composers were rendered by Mrs. B. I. Drake, Mrs. Fred Stack and the Misses Strong, Moore, Randolph, Thompson, MacIntosh, Phillips, Harriet, Palmer and Fawcett.

NO DROP IN COST OF MILK

LOCAL MILKMEN WILL NOT FOLLOW CUSTOM WITH BEGINNING OF MAY.

Say That They Cannot Afford to Sell Milk at Present at Six Cents a Quart.

Notwithstanding the fact that May 1 is the day on which dealers drop the winter price of milk from eight cents a quart to the summer rate of six cents there was no reduction made today, according to the statement of several dealers. While a compromise rate between the two prices has been mentioned by those of the milkmen who are willing to reduce the price to six cents and those who insist they cannot handle the fluid during the hot months at less than eight cents with a profit no agreement has been reached.

One dealer said to day:

"The high cost of grain and the lack of outdoor feed comes hard on the milkmen. Grass is at least three weeks behind and any attempt on our part to sell milk at summer prices when winter cost of feeding exists is out of the question. It has been suggested that we drop the price today to seven cents per quart, but that is not feasible. People who understand the situation would much prefer to pay two cents a quart for milk for thirty days longer and then have the reduction of two cents than to pay seven cents during the summer months. As soon as we can see our way clear to do so the price will be cut to six cents, but there will be no reduction from eight cents today."

At the office of one prominent firm dealing in milk it was said that the price of milk would not be reduced by that concern to consumers today, and added that the commodity should remain at eight cents after June 1.

WALKED BEFORE CAR.

And the Fender Gathered Little Larena Farlee Up Out of Harm's Way Just in Time.

While crossing Fourth street, at the intersection of Park avenue, on her way to school, yesterday afternoon, Farena Farlee, of East Front street, miraculously escaped serious injury and possibly death. She walked in front of a trolley car, running at a fair speed, and was caught by the fender.

The sudden collision knocked her down and she was hurled to one side, out of harm's way. As soon as possible the car was stopped and Patrolman Lunger, who was one of the passengers, picked the girl up. Dr. J. T. Fritts was summoned and it was found that no bones were broken. She was able to walk to her home.

The girl is a daughter of George Farlee. It is said that she was not observing at the time and that the motorman sounded the gong and stopped his car quickly.

NEW OFFICERS.

Chosen for the Somerset County Medical Society at Last Meeting.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 1—The following are the newly-elected officers of the Somerset County Medical Society: President, Dr. S. O. B. Taylor, Millstone; vice president, Dr. C. R. P. Fisher, Bound Brook; secretary, Dr. A. L. Stillwell, Somerville; treasurer, Dr. J. P. Hecht, Somerville; representatives to State Society, Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, North Plainfield; Dr. H. M. Weeks, Skillman; Dr. Mary Gaston, Dr. W. H. Long, Jr., Dr. T. H. Flynn, Somerville; Dr. H. V. Davis, North Branch.

All Horseshoers Given Holiday.

Two more of the local boss horseshoers signed the half holiday petition, yesterday, bringing in every one in the city. They were J. E. Flannery and John Stevens. In the borough but one man has refused to sign and as he has no employes, the journeymen are not greatly concerned.

First Loss in Three Years.

The death of Jacob Gaub, which occurred last week, was the first in the membership of the Sanger and Turners for nearly three years.

WHERE THE DIFFERENCE IS BOROUGH TAX BILLS ARE INVARIABLY HIGHER THAN CITY BILLS.

Comparisons of Tax Rates Do Not Furnish Any Real Basis, Whatever, for Calculation.

Comparisons of tax rates of different towns do not furnish any basis of calculation for business men. It is the amount of the tax bill, and not the rate, which is important. Let any man who owns real estate in the borough compare the amount of his tax bill with the amount of the tax bill on any similar property in the city, which he considers of value equal to his own, and he will usually find that the borough tax bill is between fifteen and twenty per cent. higher than the city tax bill.

And yet the city property has the benefit of sewers, paid fire department, and a public library, while the borough property has none of these advantages.

BOROUGH PAYS CITY TAXES

BY PATRONIZING THE BUSINESS HOUSES LOCATED IN THE CITY.

Consolidation Would Enable the Boroughites to Get Some Benefit From It.

Among the strong reasons that the borough should be anxious for consolidation is the fact that the borough citizens already pay a large portion of the taxes on the business real estate of Plainfield from which the borough derives no benefit in return. It will hardly be denied that the borough, having one-third as large a population as the city, and trading at the city stores, pays a large percentage of the money taken in at those stores, and that out of the money thus received the taxes are paid.

Examination of the city tax records shows that the business portions of Plainfield on Front street, Park avenue, North avenue, Watchung avenue, Madison avenue, etc., are assessed in round figures $1,750,000, or in other words nearly three quarters as much as the whole assessed value of the entire borough. The taxes assessed on this sum of $1,750,000 amount to $43,750 per year. Assuming that one-quarter of this amount really comes out of the money paid by the borough citizens, and that is an entirely fair assumption, then the borough is paying over $10,000 yearly toward the taxes on the city property, from which the borough is receiving no financial benefit whatever.

If the two places were consolidated, the borough would receive its proper proportionate benefit in taxes upon the business property which it helps support.

The figures above given do not include manufacturing property such as Pond Tool Works, Potter Press Works, Scott Press Works, Hibbard-Ely Safe Works and the like, and they furnish a convincing argument for consolidation.

THROWN AGAINST CAR.

Thos. Corley Had An Encounter With Blue Line and Now Is In The Hospital.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 1—Thomas Corley, aged twenty years, was struck by a Royal Blue Line train at this place yesterday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock. He with a companion was walking along the tracks at the time. The companion escaped, but Corley was not quick enough. The train hit him and threw him against a coal car, facturing his collar bone.

The young man was taken to Plainfield in a train and then to Muhlenberg Hospital, where he is doing very well. Corley's last residence was in New York, although previous to that time he lived in Pittsburg.

Packed Barrels for Missions.

The Young Women's Mission Band of Trinity Reformed church packed two barrels of clothing and other useful articles yesterday, one for the Schofield colored school at Aiken, S. C., and one for Miss Curry's day nursery in New York.

Recital Postponed.

The Gerrit Smith recital scheduled for this evening has been postponed to May 8 and 20, owing to the annual entertainment of the Monday Afternoon Club at the Casino.

—Fred Rockfellow, of West Second street, who for some time has been employed by Wm. Hand & Son, has given up his position.

STEAM ROLLER AT WORK.

Making Small Improvements to the Streets in the West End.

Street Commissioner Gavett has had the steam roller doing some good work on West End streets, during the past few days. Plainfield avenue, West Sixth street, West Fourth street west from Plainfield avenue and Liberty street have been touched up and the residents are greatly pleased with the result. The machine will be kept in the West End for several days yet doing small odds and ends where they are most needed.

THEY MUST BE VACCINATED

PROMPT MEASURES TO PREVENT ANY POSSIBLE SPREAD IN SCHOOLS.

Children in the Bryant and Irving Schools Must be Vaccinated Or Stay Away.

For the general protection of the public health the pupils of the Bryant and Irving Schools have been vaccinated by Dr. J. B. Probasco, president of the Board of Education. In some cases, however, pupils objected and consequently they were sent home by the teachers. The parents of these children have been informed that they will be barred from the privilege of attending school until vaccinated. In many instances, when the parents learned that it would be impossible to get their children reinstated otherwise, they immediately had the operation on the arm performed.

This speedy action has been taken by the Board of Education in order to prevent a possible outbreak of the disease among the school children. It was learned a few days ago that children of persons, now confined in the isolation hospital, had attended the sessions of the two schools recently. Although not alarmed the board believed in taking every precaution, and Dr. Probasco lost no time in carrying out the plan agreed upon. First, however, he consulted counsel. He was informed that under the State law such a policy may be pursued, whenever there is likelihood of an epidemic.

Since the work has been accomplished Dr. Probasco has been in communication with the State Board of Health. He was informed by these authorities that his action was justified. The board endorses the work.

STRONG WORKER.

Alexander F. Irvine Will Lecture Twice in Plainfield at the Y. M. C. A. Next Week.

Alexander F. Irvine will give his beautifully illustrated social wreckage lecture at the Y. M. C. A. meeting, Sunday afternoon, and his illustrated lecture on "Millet" Monday evening at the same place.

Mr. Irvine lived in the congested district of New York for many years During the greater part of that time he was a missionary of the New York City Mission and Tract Society; first as a missionary to the Bowery lodging houses, and later as pastor of the church of the Sea and Land. Mr. Irvine was one of Dr. Parkhurst's lieutenants in his fight with Tammany Hall and municipal corruption, and over his signature in the New York Weekly Witness of August 26, 1891, is the first gun fired in the campaign. In the Parkhurst society he was supervisor of the Second Assembly District, and chairman of the committee on labor.

Dr. Schauffler says he is a fine and fiery speaker and has plenty of matter from which to draw. He is also strongly endorsed among others by Rev. Drs. Duffield and Parkhust.

PAINTING VAULT.

New City Vault is Receiving the Final Touches Now.

The new vault in the city offices is being painted inside by men from the Hibbard-Rodman-Ely Safe Works. Owing to the great amount of turpentine used to insure speedy drying it has been impossible for the men to work but a brief spell at a time. The only light to depend upon inside of the vault is that furnished by candles and this adds much to the inconvenience in doing the work.

Settled Law Suit.

A settlement was effected yesterday in the attachment suit brought in the Union county Circuit Court by James B. Guttridge against Mary E. Goodwin, of Fanwood. Payment was made in full by the defendant. Guttridge was represented by Lewis A. Clement.

Chapel Meeting.

The annual meeting of the East Third Street chapel will be held this evening, when officers will be elected and other important business transacted.

LOCAL INSURANCE CO. WINDS UP AFFAIRS

Old Institution Has Finally Decided to Go Out of Business—No Patronage.

IT SENT NOTICES OUT.

FEAR OF HEAVY LOSSES HAS CAUSED POLICYHOLDERS TO WITHDRAW.

Company Has Been Conducted on Assessment Basis, and Policyholders Feared Assessments Would be Too Heavy.

Largely through an unaccountable fear of heavy losses which would result in large assessments, the policy holders of the American Mutual Fire Insurance Company have brought about the disbandment of the organization. The insurance company is a Plainfield concern and those whose risks are carried generally reside in this vicinity.

After fully considering the situation presented, the board of directors has decided to wind up the affairs of the company. Notice of this action has been sent to policy holders by Former Judge W. R. Codington, who is the secretary of the beneficial institution. Though losses by fire recently have not been especially great, a large percentage of those insured have declined to renew their policys on expiration. This has fallen heavily on the concern, the prosperity of which, as in all insurance companies, depends on the amount of business done. The plan of the company is mutual and hence assessments are called for from time to time to meet the losses sustained by members. Stock companies, where there is no liability for assessments, appear to have grown in favor, and this has had a tendency to draw business from the Plainfield concern.

So great has been the withdrawal from the company that at present there is only $175,000 in insurance carried. Beside this there are premium notes aggregating $20,000. The present indebtedness, it is said, is but $1,100. This amount is mostly represented by notes in bank. To meet the liabilities the directors have ordered an assessment of from four to five per cent., as may be deemed expedient. This assessment is made on all premium notes and is payable before Sunday, June 1. It is believed that the assessment will be promptly met and the concern relieved from further liability.

An arrangement has been made with the German-American Insurance Company, of New York, to carry all risks made by the company for a period of ninety days. The time set for the change in risk was April 10 and it will expire in July. This plan was devised to relieve the American Mutual Company from any risk while winding up its affairs. Before the expiration of the time limit the policy holders have been requested to cancel their insurance and reinsure in some other concern. The German-American Company is making an effort to attract the policy holders to that concern.

AT THE RANGE.

Company K Began Practice Yesterday Afternoon on New Range.

The new rifle range of Company K was practically open for the first time yesterday. Private Henry. Wyckoff made a score of 43 at a range of 200 and 300 yards, and Private Kenneth Anderson of the company team made 59 points at a similar range. The men will now take frequent practice with the rifle, preparatory to entering camp at Sea Girt.

Their Tenth Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams, of South Second street, will celebrate the tenth anniversary of their marriage, this evening. A large number of invitations have been issued for the affair and many guests are expected from out of town.

Improving Property.

Howard A. Pope has purchased of the Lattimer estate the house and lot, 114 East Front street, and after he gets through the extensive repairs he is making to the property it will be a credit to the neighborhood.

Netherwood Will Open Soon.

It is expected that the Hotel Netherwood will open for the season June 1. The hotel will be under the same management as it was last year, that of Major J. W. Coleman.

—There will be a special meeting of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, No. 14, tomorrow evening at 7:30 sharp. A full attendance is requested.

STRIKE BEGAN THIS MORNING

All the Plumbers and Part of the Painters on Strike for Increase in Wages.

WHAT DEMANDS ARE.

Other Building Trades Have Set June 1 as Time for Answer to Their Demands—Prospects of a Compromise—All But Two Painting Shops Have Agreed.

May 1 brought with it a strike in the building trades. The plumbers and some of the painters went on strike this morning. They had given their employers until today to grant an increase of wages which had been demanded. The carpenters, masons and tinners have set June 1 as the time when they want an answer and will not strike unless an attempt is made to use non-union labor before that time.

While there was a tendency on both sides to effect a compromise, bosses and journeymen failed to come to the same terms and the result was that the men were ordered out last night. So far there has been no attempt to bring in non-union men and both sides are hoping that a compromise will be finally reached.

So far as the painters are concerned many of them went to work at noon. Those granting the increase of twenty-five cents a day include The New York Painting & Decorating Company, Cranston Brothers, McGinley & Hansen, William Alpaugh and Thomas Egany, and their men have returned. The other two firms holding out are Woolston & Buckle and Rushton & Hansen. These two firms agreed to the increase but they want it to begin with June 1, while the men set today as the time.

The journeymen plumbers are all out and the boss plumbers have agreed to stand together in their opposition to an increase of fifty cents per day. The bosses are willing to give an increase of twenty-five cents, beginning June 1, but they think that fifty cents is too much. A. M. Griffen paid all of his journeymen plumbers this morning and discharged them. The tinners are still at work. The journeymen plumbers say that they were willing to compromise with the bosses and accept the twenty-five cent increase, provided it was granted May 1, but now that the bosses refuse to compromise they will stand for the fifty cent increase and will be satisfied with nothing less.

There was a rumor today of a sympathetic strike. It was said that unless the demands of the striking men are not granted by next Monday all of the other trades will go out. The other trades have set June 1 as the time they want an increase.

The journeymen plumbers have been getting $3 a day, the masons $3.50 and the tinners $2.50. Each one of these trades want an increase of fifty cents. The painters have been getting $2.50 a day and the carpenters $2.75 and they want an increase of twenty-five cents a day. The painters claim that they are the poorest paid mechanics in the city, that there has not been an increase in their wages in fifteen years, while there have been increases in the other trades.

Ralph W. Chrystie, manager for the New York Painting & Decorating Company, went to the company's headquarters at Jersey City this morning to confer with the officials regarding the increase in wages. At 1:30 o'clock Mr. Farley, foreman in the company's store, received a telephone message from Mr. Chrystie that the increase would be granted at once. Mr. Farley said that the company had received a three months' notice and were prepared for the change in the schedule.

WANTED WEDDING GOWN.

Bride of Three Months Had Decided to Leave Her Husband's Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Davis Johnson, two of the Boulevard's elite, had a falling out, last night. They have been married three months. When the quarrel waxed strong, Mrs. Jeff said she was going to leave but that she was going to take her wedding dress with her as it had cost her $22. Jeff objected and she had him arrested.

This morning City Judge Runyon found out it was a family quarrel oft repeated and he advised them to settle the matter between themselves. They promised to do so.

Miss Florence Buckley, of Watchung avenue, is improving rapidly from a severe attack of pneumonia. She has been attended by Dr. J. H. Carman.

Mrs. Dudley S. Miller, of Orchard place, who has been ill with pneumonia, is now able to be about the house. Her recovery is now assured and she will be out within a short time.

Mrs. Mosher, wife of Justie Mosher, who has been seriously ill for some time past, is gradually growing weaker. Her physician has been obliged to administer medicine to relieve suffering.

Patrolman Jerry Cash was out yesterday for the first after being confined to his home for a month with a severe attack of pneumonia. He was attended by Dr. Boone while Mrs. Holland, a trained nurse was constantly in charge.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May be of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

Adam and Eve failed to secure a single vote of confidence in the Elizabeth Presbytery when the case of the young candidates for licensure, who had lost faith in the identity of our first parents, came up on second consideration. There had been no change in the belief of the theological student, but he had changed his mode of expressing his meaning. In some things the Presbyterian church is a stickler for form, the niceties of which cannot be appreciated by people who have not had the benefit of a theological training.—Newark News.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

The latest social event in society circles is a "weighing party," which was inaugurated at a church social in Perth Amboy the other night. The admission fee was a pound of something made of rubber—old overshoes, goloshes, bicycle tires and such like—which was afterward sold to a junk dealer at market prices. The church this week frees itself from a debt as a result of the social. It's more profitable than strawberry festivals or pink teas.

Like a Drowning Man.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such hold of me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marsh, well-known attorney of Nocona, Tex. "I took quantities of pepsin and other medicines but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am sound and well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. L. W. WORKING FOR PEACE.

Boer Leaders Conferring With the Different Commandos.

PRETORIA, May 1.—In pursuance of an understanding reached by the Boer delegates at the conference recently held here the delegates are busy visiting the burghers in the field.

General Botha, the Transvaal commander in chief; Acting President Schalkburger of the Transvaal, General Delarey, General Lucas Meyer, commander in chief of the Orange Free State forces; Secretary of State Reitz of the Transvaal, Mr. Steyn, ex-president of the Orange Free State, and General De Wet have each taken a separate district for the purpose of conferring with the burghers as speedily as possible. After these conferences a general meeting has been arranged for at Vereeniging, Transvaal, May 25, when a final decision is expected.

It is believed among Boers who have surrendered and other well informed persons that the peace outlook is favorable if the discussions place the situation fairly before the burghers.

Palma Welcomed to Santiago.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, May 1.—President Elect Palma arrived here this morning and was enthusiastically received. The mayor of this city has proclaimed that the remaining days of this week are to be regarded as holidays here, and no work will then be permitted. The city has been elaborately decorated in honor of Senor Palma's arrival. Every business house and residence in Santiago displays bunting and palm leaves, and thousands of Cuban and American flags are flying. Twenty triumphal arches have been erected in the city. Senor Palma was met and escorted through the city by a detachment of American troops.

A Strike Averted.

NEW YORK, May 1.—After conferring for nearly six hours the committee representing 145,000 coal miners in the anthracite fields and the operators separated, announcing that they had completed the business for which they had met. While President John Mitchell of the miners' organization and President C. F. Baer of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad refused to say what had been accomplished it was generally reported that a mutually acceptable settlement of differences had been effected.

High Prices For Blooded Cattle.

OMAHA, Neb., May 1.—The highest prices ever paid for thoroughbred cattle at the South Omaha yards was bid for a herd of Aberdeen-Aberdeens. The six-year-old cow Blackbird was sold to Canton Bros. & Stevenson of Holstein, Ia., for $330, and a calf at her side brought $170. Forty-four head brought an average of $234.

No Opposition to Sherman.

UTICA, N. Y., May 1.—The Republican congressional convention for the Twenty-fifth district, comprising Oneida and Herkimer counties, has been called for Thursday, June 5, at noon, at the courthouse in Herkimer. It is understood Congressman James S. Sherman will be renominated without opposition.

LONG OUT; MOODY IN

Farewell Banquet For Departing Naval Secretary.

FEW CHANGES IN THE DEPARTMENT

Congressman Moody Leaves House For Cabinet Position After Seven Years' Service as Representative From Massachusetts.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Secretary Long has closed his official career as the head of the naval establishment. The event was unmarked save by the calling of many friends to take official leave of the retiring secretary. Noticeable among the day's callers were Secretary Hay and Mr. Moody, Secretary Long's successor.

Secretary of the Navy John D. Long was given a complimentary dinner at the New Willard hotel last night by the chiefs of the various bureaus of the department with whom he has been associated during his official career, which came to a close yesterday. Covers were laid for fifteen, the center of the table being prettily decorated with red and white roses and other flowers. On the menu cards was a hand painted representation of the flag of the secretary of the navy in blue, while an immense silk flag of the same character was the only ornament in the room. Admiral O'Neil presided. Secretary Long having a seat to his right and Admiral Dewey on his left.

According to arrangement Secretary Moody assumed the duties of secretary of the navy this morning.

Very few changes will follow the change in the head of the department. The only one which will take effect at once will be the installation of Fred L. Fishback as confidential clerk in place of Mr. Greer, who has been appointed an assistant paymaster in the navy. Mr. Fishback is clerk of the house committee on banking and currency and is a personal friend of the new secretary. Cyrus W. Wells, private secretary to Secretary Long, will serve Secretary Moody in the same capacity for the present.

Congressman Moody spent the last day of his service as representative of the Sixth Massachusetts district in the performance of his regular legislative duties. He attended the meeting of the appropriations committee, of which he is a member, in the morning and was on the floor of the house during the greater portion of the day. During his seven years' service in the house he has won the sincere esteem and respect of the members on both sides of the political aisle, and there were many expressions of regret at his departure. During the day he was almost constantly surrounded by friends, who came personally to voice the general regret of his departure and to express their good wishes for his success in the cabinet.

A Position For Schley.

NORFOLK, Va., May 1.—There is a movement on foot to make Rear Admiral Schley president of the Jamestown Exposition company. He is known to be the choice of several of the principal incorporators, who have written him with a view to ascertaining whether he is in a position to accept the office. The board of directors will meet on May 7, when a permanent organization will be perfected. This will include the election of a president, treasurer and thirty-one additional directors.

Princess Radziwill Gets Two Years.

CAPE TOWN, May 1.—Princess Radziwill, who has been on trial here before the supreme court on the charge of forgery in connection with notes purporting to have been indorsed by the late Cecil Rhodes, has been sentenced to two years' confinement in the house of correction.

Fatal Tornado In Oklahoma.

GUTHRIE, Okla., May 1.—A tornado passed over the town of Dav[illegible] situated off the railroad in L[illegible] county, during the night, doing much damage to crops and stock. Several farmhouses were blown down. Mrs. John Penn, and her daughter, aged ten, were killed.

Forty-nine Bodies Found.

CAIRO, Ill., May 1.—The body of a boy which was identified as one of the Burke children has been found floating in the river a few miles below this city. The total number of bodies recovered from the Pittsburg disaster is forty-nine, but there are still a great many missing.

Rubber Tire Makers Strike.

CHICAGO, May 1.—Seven hundred employees of Morgan & Wright, manufacturers of bicycle tires, have gone on strike to compel the reinstatement of fellow workmen who, it is claimed, were discharged for joining a labor union. One hundred of the strikers are girls.

IN VENETIAN PRISON

Officers of Cruiser Chicago Not Released.

THE CASE REPORTED TO WASHINGTON

Charge on Which Americans Were Convicted, That of Resisting the Police, Is a Serious One Under Italian Law.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—A dispatch from Rome says that the officers of the United States cruiser Chicago who were arrested at Venice remain in prison there. An application for their discharge has been rejected. The Italian law does not allow the court to grant pardon in cases of assault on the police. The dispatch adds:

"Some of the newspapers mention the lynchings of Italians in the United States as sufficient reason for a refusal of royal clemency. It is considered probable, however, that the prisoners will be released by order of the king June 1, the date of the fete of the constitution."

Secretary Long has received the following cablegram from Captain Dayton of the Chicago, dated Venice, in answer to the department's inquiry:

"Dodridge, Wynne, Ledbetter, Kress and one marine on leave arrested. Principal charge resisting police. Serious under Italian law. Sentences, Wynne, four months, ten days; remainder three months each. Have not yet their full statement or a report from court, but applied for.

"Resisting arrest largely due to pressing in of crowd and not understanding language. Appeal made to Rome. Impossible to explain all circumstances by cable. Will make full report."

Release Not Demanded.

ROME, May 1.—The minister of foreign affairs, Signor Prinetti, says that George V. L. Meyer, the United States embassador here, has not demanded the release of the imprisoned officers of the cruiser Chicago and that the latter, by their appeal from the sentence of the court, have submitted themselves to the Italian law. Signor Prinetti said also he believed that any diplomatic action would be out of place while the question remained under the consideration of the Italian court.

All Confined In One Room.

VENICE, May 1.—The officers of the Chicago are confined in the common prison of St. Mark. They are all together in one room.

Much Feminine Sweetness Wasted.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., May 1.—Many letters are received at Clinton prison, Dannemora, N. Y., each day addressed to the three Van Wormer boys, who are confined in the deathhouse there under sentence of death for the murder of their uncle, Peter Hallenbeck, near Hudson, N. Y. Nine-tenths of them are penned by women, and most of the missives express sympathy for them in their misfortune. A few have contained proposals of marriage, others are requests to exchange photographs, and they come from all parts of the country. Not one of them is delivered to the young men, and they are ignorant of all the sympathy that is being wasted on their account.

Chinese Village For St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, May 1.—Lee Toy, merchant and so called "mayor" of Philadelphia's Chinatown, has applied for a Chinese village concession at the Louisiana Purchase exposition. He says that as soon as it shall be granted he will go to Shanghai, Hongkong and Canton for men, women and babies to show the real everyday life of a Chinese village, including music, acting and a tea garden. Some of the most skillful men to show Americans the handiwork of Chinamen in progress in the way of handmade carving, spinning and weaving silken and other fabrics by hand will be brought over. He expects to bring over about 300 persons.

Receiver Appointed.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 1.—Judge Chester has appointed former State Comptroller James A. Roberts of Buffalo receiver of all the property of the Metropolitan Mutual Savings and Loan association, a corporation located and doing business at the city of Buffalo, and has fixed the amount of his bond at $50,000. The order further provided that the corporation show cause at a special term of the supreme court to be held in this city May 10 why such receiver should not be made permanent.

Morgan's Fee Not So Bad.

LONDON, May 1.—It is understood that J. Pierpont Morgan gets $12,500,000 in stock of the shipping combine in return for his services in organizing and financing the combine. The Morgans, who had until yesterday the option of confirming or withdrawing from the provisional agreement by which the White Star line was to enter the Atlantic shipping combine, have notified that line of their intention to carry through their part of the agreement.

Senator Money Ill.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Senator Money of Mississippi, who suffered a severe shock as a result of his difficulty with a street car conductor last week, has been confined to his apartments for several days past. It is doubtful whether he will be able to appear in court today, when the charges growing out of the affair are to be heard.

Killed by an Ice Cake.

UTICA, N. Y., May 1.—Myron O. Foote of Deansboro, superintendent of the Ontario and Western milk station at Oriskany Falls, was struck on the head by a large cake of ice at that place and died a few hours later.

AGRICULTURAL BILL PASSED.

Senate Has a Heated Debate Over Philippine Resolution.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The house passed the agricultural appropriation bill and began consideration of the District of Columbia appropriation bill, the last but two of the regular supply measures. By the terms of a special rule adopted before the District bill was taken up it will be in order to attach a rider to it to make operative the existing personal tax law of the District, which has been a dead letter for twenty years. Chairman Cannon estimated that there was $100,000,000 of untaxed personal property in Washington. The Goldfogle resolution calling on the secretary of state for information as to whether American citizens of Jewish faith were excluded from Russia was adopted.

A resolution offered in the senate by Mr. Patterson (Colo.) directing the secretary of war to order by cable Major Gardener, now in the Philippines, to come immediately to Washington to appear as a witness before the Philippine committee precipitated a warm discussion. The debate continued for about two hours, considerable feeling being manifested on both sides of the chamber. The charge was made by the minority that the majority of the committee was endeavoring to suppress facts and information.

The bill for the purchase of the Rosebud reservation in South Dakota and the sundry civil appropriation bill were considered, but no action was taken on them.

Will Fight the Injunction.

CLEVELAND, O., May 1.—At the conclusion of a conference of the American league magnates, held behind closed doors at the Hollenden hotel here, President Ban Johnson stated that it had been decided to fight the injunction cases against Lajoie, Frazer and Bernhart to the end. The perpetual injunctions granted by the common pleas court in Philadelphia against these players will at once be carried to the Pennsylvania supreme court. Mr. Johnson stated that new evidence would be introduced when the cases were reopened before the supreme court, which the attorneys for the American league believed would result in a reversal of the court's former decision.

Proposed Postal Currency.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The committee of postal and treasury experts who have been considering the question of a fractional postal currency probably will recommend to congress a measure calling for the establishment of a currency of notes adapted with improvements from the postal notes used in Canada, Great Britain, Germany and France. This plan calls for books of fractional currency arranged in detachable coupon form, which are to be obtained from postoffices or rural free delivery carriers in amounts from 5 cents to $2.

Weavers' Strike Closes Yarn Mills.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 1.—An unlooked for development in the affairs of the American Woolen company in connection with the strike of weavers in thirteen of its mills came when an order was issued to gradually close the yarnmaking departments in the Olneyville mills. Over 1,200 hands will be paid off. The closing of a number of mills in other cities has stopped the demand for yarns. It is estimated that this strike at present affects 20,000 persons.

Another Congressman In Trouble.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Congressman J. J. Butler of Missouri is made the defendant in a suit for $10,000 damages instituted in the District supreme court by August Scholz, a waiter at a local hotel. Scholz alleges that while serving the Missourian at the hotel on Saturday the latter assaulted him. He says Mr. Butler used vile and abusive language toward him and struck him a heavy blow with a water bottle.

The Illinois Sails.

NEW YORK, May 1. The Illinois sailed at 3 o'clock yesterday for England, where Rear Admiral Crowninshield will represent the navy of the United States at the coronation of King Edward. She carried thirty-seven officers and 698 men, the largest complement ever carried by a ship of the United States navy.

Hailstorm In Georgia.

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 1.—A heavy rainstorm, accompanied by hail, has passed over this section. The precipitation was one inch in about thirty minutes. Hail fell at three separate times during the disturbance. There were frequent shocks of lightning.

Chicago Jewelry House Fails.

CHICAGO, May 1.—The wholesale jewelry firm of Moore & Evans, one of the largest in the west, was placed in the hands of a receiver yesterday. A statement of liabilities and assets is being prepared. The firm is said to have done a business of $1,000,000 a year.

Woman Killed In a Queer Manner.

TROY, N. Y., May 1.—Mrs. Catherine Mauneng, aged thirty-five years, was accidentally killed by being crushed against the wall of a factory by a wagon which was being backed up to the building as she was passing.

Russian Assassin Sentenced.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 1.—Balschaneff, the man who assassinated M. Sipiaguine, the Russian minister of the interior, April 15, has been sentenced to death. He will be hanged May 3.

Iron Molders Strike.

TOLEDO, O., May 1.—Two hundred and fifty iron molders are on a strike. The molders demand an advance in their wages of 10 per cent, making the minimum wages $2.50 per day.

WE STAND BACK OF OUR SHOES

If an unworthy pair finds place in our stock, it's not your fault and not your loss.

Our shoes are made in such a way, from such stock, that there's no excuse for anything but entire satisfaction.

We seldom have a complaint, and never a dissatisfaction; we don't do business that way.

Our shoes are fashionable, durable and comfortable, and you pay only for the shoes—nothing for name.

A larger stock than you usually see, and lower prices for the same quality than you ever run across.

GREAT DISCOVERY CLAIMED.

German Professor Announces a Cure For Tuberculosis In Cattle.

BERLIN, May 1.—Advance sheets of Professor Behring's forthcoming book on tuberculosis in cattle are now available here. From these sheets it is seen that in his book the professor details the results of six years' investigations at Marburg, where he was assisted by Drs. Ruppel and Roemer.

Professor Behring affirms that tuberculosis in man and cattle is propagated by identical bacilli and that the seeming differences between the human and the cattle bacilli result from the capacity of the bacilli to accommodate themselves to the organism in which they live. The writer explains the process by which he reaches the conclusion that, chemically and physiologically, the tubercle bacilli in man and cattle are of the same species.

Professor Behring says he has successfully infected cattle with virus from humans, producing thereby fatal animal tuberculosis. He also says he has discovered a method to render cattle immune against tuberculosis, which is done by vaccinating the cattle when they are young. This he declares to be his greatest discovery and says the method is in use on farms at Marburg. He alluded to his method of inoculating cattle in his speech at Stockholm when he was awarded one of the Nobel prizes.

Last Rites Over Morton's Remains.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., May 1.—It was a sorrowful procession that followed the remains of J. Sterling Morton to the final resting place at Wyuke cemetery. The streets were lined with people, who stood in respectful silence while the procession, headed by a guard of honor, passed through the downtown streets. During the latter part of the day shops were closed, and people took advantage of an opportunity to view the remains as they lay in state at the Public Library. That building was draped in black, relieved only by a profusion of palms and ferns banked around the casket. Mr. Morton always had been popular with the children, and 100 of them paid their tribute before the casket was removed to the family home.

May Day Strike In Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, May 1.—The May day strike fever is on in this city, and this morning nearly 12,000 workmen failed to report for duty because their employers have refused to comply with their demands for advances in wages and shortening of hours, the principal demand of all the unions being for an eight hour day. Those who struck are the structural iron workers, numbering 2,500; carpenters, 5,000; house wiremen, 250; tile setters, 200; slate and tile roofers, 300; sheet metal workers, 300; plumbers, probably 650; bricklayers, 2,000; lathers, 300. The striking of these men will stop much of the building operations now under progress.

EIGHT GIRLS KILLED

False Fire Alarm In Philadelphia Factory Causes Panic.

TWO SCORE SERIOUSLY INJURED.

A Slight Elevator Accident Results In a Mad Rush of Twelve Hundred Cigar Operatives For the Street.

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—An unfortunate accident to a deaf and dumb boy, Isador Baccus, was directly responsible for the death of eight girls and young women, the fatal injury of three others and the serious injury of more than two score of girls employed in the cigar factory of Harbourger, Loman & Co., a branch of the American Tobacco company, located at Tenth street and Washington avenue.

The building in which the disaster occurred is a five story brick structure and reaches an entire block. Twelve hundred persons were at work at the time of the accident, 90 per cent of whom were girls whose ages range from twelve years upward.

The trouble began on the fourth floor of the structure. Baccus, who was janitor of the building, started for the fifth floor for a ball of twine. The elevator was at the top of the shaft, and Baccus pulled the rope to bring it down. He opened the door leading to the shaft and leaned forward to see where the carriage was. As he did so the elevator, which was descending slowly, struck him across the back of the neck pinioning his head between the elevator and the floor. A stock boy released Baccus and cried for help.

The foreman rushed from the building to call an ambulance, and immediately there was a panic among the employees. Some of the younger girls fainted, while others, not being able to control their feelings, cried fire.

Instantly there was a mad rush for the stairway leading into Tenth street. The girls rushed down the narrow staircase until they reached a bend in the exit between the second and third floors. In their eagerness to escape the frightened leaders fell. Others immediately following tripped over the struggling mass of humanity, and in less than a minute there were hundreds of children and young women struggling in the passageway.

The shrieks and screams of the terror stricken girls could be heard for a block or more. During the excitement an alarm of fire was turned in, but before the engines could reach the scene several of the occupants of the building had rushed to the windows and jumped to the street, a distance of over fifty feet.

When the firemen and policemen arrived, every effort was made to quiet the terrorized girls. The firemen rushed up the stairway and begged the girls to be calm, telling them that there was absolutely no danger, but the sight of the firemen seemed only to add fuel to the flame.

While the policemen and firemen were endeavoring to quiet the girls on the stairway ladders were being run up on the outside of the building, and the employees who had climbed out on to the fire escapes and window ledges were quickly taken to the street.

After a few minutes the men were enabled to check the awful crush on the stairway, and then began the work of rescuing those who had been trampled and crushed between the second and third floors. A call for ambulances had been turned in, and as quickly as the dead and injured were carried from the building they were hurried to hospitals.

The panic was over in less than half an hour, but in this brief space thousands of persons had been attracted to the scene by the wild screams of the relatives of the victims and the shrieks of the girls at the windows.

Wireless System For Government.

NORFOLK, Va., May 1.—Professor R. A. Fessenden, the inventor and developer of the new system of wireless telegraphy, will in future receive and transmit all his government business over the wireless telegraph from Roanoke island to Cape Hatteras and thence by direct government wire to Norfolk and Washington. This decision was announced by Professor Fessenden and is considered abundant proof of the successful termination of the experiments with the system. Professor Fessenden was in Norfolk yesterday on his way to Washington, where he will make his report to Professor Moore. He said he was delighted with the result of his experiments and that he now considers the wireless telegraph system a complete success.

The Retvizan Off For Russia.

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—The Russian battleship Retvizan, built by the William Cramp & Sons Ship and Engine Building company, has left the shipyard for Russia. The battleship, which is commanded by Captain Stchenosvitch, is bound for Kronstadt, stopping at Cherbourg en route. The Retvizan has on board a complement of men numbering about 700.

NEW ARRANGEMENT NEEDED.

The campaign of the police against the hackmen who insist upon violating the city hack ordinance has been resumed. Half a dozen of the offenders were arraigned before the City Judge yesterday morning and fined $2 each. Most of them were frank enough to admit that they had disobeyed the law and made no pretense of opposing the prosecution.

There is surely need of some action on the part of the city authorities to do away with the present unsatisfactory condition of affairs. There is probably no class of men who are compelled to work any harder to earn their daily bread than the hackmen and they can ill afford to be making frequent additions to the city treasury. Yet, through the existing conditions, they return to their violation of the hack ordinance with remarkable persistency except when a policeman happens to be in the immediate vicinity.

The Daily Press has long claimed that the existing relations between the hackmen and the city were not what they should be. There has been, as everybody knows, frequent, and flagrant violation of the hack ordinance. Evidently either the law or something else is at fault. For the sake of the hackmen as well as the public, this condition of affairs should be remedied as speedily as possible.

There is surely some way that all can be pleased, a definite boundary set for the hackmen beyond which they will not go and the present conditions arranged to the satisfaction of all concerned. The city has no desire to take the hard earned profits of its licensed carriers and yet its laws must be obeyed. Either the existing law must be properly enforced with the co-operation of the drivers themselves or else there must be a new ordinance that will meet the requirements of the occasion.

That worthy charity, the Westfield Fresh Air Camp, is soon to be started up for the season. There was some talk at the close of last season of removing the camp from its present location, which has been thought by some to be rather unhealthy, to one near Netherwood where there would be no question about the health of the location. The Christian Endeavor Societies of this and neighboring places have done much in the past to assist in this excellent work for the benefit of the poor children of New York and there is no doubt that they will continue their good efforts this season.

At the request of the city Board of Health, the Relief Association has given up its spring sale. This was done as a means of preventing a possible spread of contagious disease. The association has always depended to a great extent on this sale and the failure to hold it is going to place the Relief Association in an unpleasant condition financially. Those who are interested in the objects of the association, which are to relieve the worthy poor and unfortunate of the city, now have an opportunity to give timely assistance.

The Daily Press is daily printing some pertinent and interesting facts concerning annexation and consolidation. It will pay every resident of the borough to carefully scan the columns of this paper nightly for these articles which contain much of interest to everyone in that municipality.

If the report that some of the cars now in use on the local trolley line are to disappear this spring never to return, Plainfield will hardly recognize itself. Their departure will also serve to end the claim of the Bound Brook Chronicle that Plainfield has a "corner" on arks.

The various card clubs which have held the attention of many of the local young people during the winter months are closing up their affairs for the season and outdoor sports have very generally taken their place.

In the comparative tables of tax bills in city and borough, published in yesterday's Daily Press, a typographical error was made. The borough special school tax should have been .78 instead of .73.

Believing in the old saying that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, the city school authorities are taking active measures to prevent any possible spread of small-pox through the city schools.

The local horsemen are beginning to show some activity. This year, they propose to work in unison with the horsemen of Westfield for the benefit of their favorite sport.

The thirst for organization has now extended to the undertakers. They are talking about forming a State organization.

TO TRY SPECIALS.

Police Board's Plan to Fill Vacancies on the Local Force.

The Police Board has decided that in selecting a patrolman to take the place of Patrolman John Watson, resigned, to try specials for the work. In this way the ability of a man can be determined. After the ability is determined the Council will be asked to confirm an appointment of the man for regular duty.

Assisted at Entertainment.

Unintentionally the name of Mrs. George W. Saums was omitted from the programme in the entertainment given at Trinity Reformed church Tuesday evening. She played the violin most acceptably during the rendition of the several hymns. Miss Ethel May Derby also received an encore in singing "The Holy City," and she sang the last stanza in response.

No Successor Yet.

Rev. George Hauser, who for five years has been pastor of the German Reformed church, today moved to Catskill, N. Y., and the house at 91 Duer street, which he occupied, has been rented to a New York family. The members of his church have not as yet made arrangements for his successor.

Hokey-Pokey Social.

At a meeting of the social committee of the Hope Chapel Christian Endeavor Society, held last evening, it was decided to hold a hokey-pokey social and entertainment on Tuesday evening, May 12. Mrs. L. R. Howard and George E. Firstbrook are instrumental in arranging a unique programme.

Approaching Marriage.

Frederick Leyonmark announces the approaching marriage of his niece, Miss Charlotte Leyoumark, to Andrew C. Krog, which will be celebrated Wednesday evening, May 21, at 8 o'clock, at the residence, corner of East Second street and McKinley place.

Council Meeting.

The Common Council will hold its regular May meeting Monday evening, when considerable business of importance will be taken up, including the passsage of the tax ordinance and many other things in the various departments.

For Foundry Purposes.

Building Inspector Doane today granted a permit to Charles L. Moffett to erect a building 20x30 feet for foundry purposes at 710 LaGrande avenue. George B. Naylor is the architect, and he will also do the work.

SUBURBAN NEWS

A Department Devoted to the Minor Events in Greater Plainfield's Suburbs by Our Own Correspondents.

DUNELLEN.

Housekeepers who are tired of the routine of baking may find relief by attending the sale of homemade cakes, pies, bread, etc., which will be held in the guild room of Holy Innocents church Saturday afternoon from 4 to 8 o'clock. All are most cordially invited. A cup of tea will be served as refreshment to all inclined to partake.

A number from here attended the baseball game between the Plainfield High School and the Vaquerio Club, of Princeton University, yesterday. A number of the Princeton team were entertained in town by G. W. Churchill, J. Barrets and James Craig. Thomas Thomas, of this place, played on the Princeton team.

The gypsies, who have been camping near the round house, left yesterday for parts unknown. It is not thought that they took away with them any more than belonged to them as no one has reported any chickens or any thing of the kind missing.

Adam Dealaman, who is spending some time in the south for the benefit of his health, has sent to his children a pair of beautiful tame fan-tail doves as pets.

The Ladies' Orchestra of this place played very acceptably at Holy Cross church in Plainfield last evening when a play was presented.

Mrs. Walter Vliet is critically ill at her home on Front street. Dr. Hedges, of Plainfield, is in attendance.

Walter Vliet and family are entertaining a number of friends from out of town.

The W. C. T. U. will hold its regular weekly meeting this afternoon.

Edmund Teel is having city water put in his house on Jackson avenue.

Prayer meeting was held last evening in the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. E. Cottrelly is entertaining a number of out-of-town friends.

The cornet band met last evening and held an excellent practice.

Henry Mattis is spending a few days in Somerville.

W. J. Hamilton is suffering from a lame foot.

NEW MARKET.

Appropriate exercises were held by the pupils of the New Market school, yesterday afternoon, in honor of the memory of J. S. Morton, who died a few days ago and who was the originator of Arbor Day. A sketch of his life was read by Township Supervisor H. C. Cathers and an appropriate recitation on Arbor Day was given by Frank Burdick. Songs were given by the entire school.

An unusually large number of summer boarders is expected in town this summer.

A regular meeting of Friendship Social Circle was held yesterday afternoon.

The brass band will hold a practice this evening in Recreation Hall.

The baseball team practiced last evening for a short time.

Charles Horn is visiting out-of-town friends for a few days.

Miss Irene Day visited in Plainfield yesterday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The following will be the line up of the baseball team in the game with Clinton Avenues Saturday afternoon: Harvey, pitcher; Malley, catcher; Hand, first base; Baldwin, second base; J. Flannery, third base; Crousins, short stop; Albert, left field; Johnston, centre field; H. Flannery, right field. This will practically be the team that will represent the village in the national game this season. Manager Johnston has gotten together an aggregation of players that as far as reputation goes will be the best the town has ever had. Malley, the catcher and J. Flannery, on third, are new to the team, but will no doubt make good their reputation as they have been used to fast company as far as the game goes. Both were members of last year's Bay Ridge team, one of the best semi-professional clubs around New York. To secure a good team the club has had to look with some anticipation for better financial support than last season as the expenses will be much heavier. But there is no doubt but the team will receive the support necessary to support the club and the season outlook for the game in town is very bright.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Vincent will entertain the teachers of the Baptist church Sunday-school at their weekly teachers' meeting at their home in the borough tonight. In resuming the teachers' meetings it was arranged to hold the meetings alternately between the borough and village. Thursday evening next the meeting will be held at the manse.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will hold an important meeting in its rooms in the hall tonight at 8 o'clock. Important business relating to the death of Louis Frentz, who was a charter member of the Council, will be transacted. A full attendance of the members is desired.

Rev. Mr. Bindenberger, of the Methodist church, is arranging for a special song service in his church Sunday evening. A programme of interest to all has been arranged and it is hoped that the services will be well attended.

Mrs. George W. Marsh, of Front street, has been entertaining her mother, Mrs. A. L. Jimerson, of Westfield, for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bartles, of Glenside, have been entertaining relatives from New Brunswick for a few days.

The Junior baseball team have as yet been unable to arrange a game for Saturday afternoon.

Township Committee will meet in the town rooms tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Much complaint is heard here of the way in which the fish are let out of the mill pond, whenever the water is drawn off for any reason. Yesterday the gates were opened and the pond drained, fish and all. It is alleged that in no instance, when the gates were raised, have the parties who raised them taken sufficient precaution to keep in the fish. It is a simple matter, say the complainants, to stretch a net across the opening, and thus keep the game from going down the brook.

Mr. and Mrs. Ephriam Boice and Mrs. Benjamin Hand, of Plainfield, visited with friends in town yesterday.

Oscar Thorne has received three thousand strawberry plants, which he will set out this week.

Mrs. W. H. Manning will undergo treatment at Roosevelt Hospital, New York city, Monday.

John McGuire will leave the tower soon and will join the crew of a local freight.

Miss Nellie B. Manning is still suffering with acute quinsy sore throat.

Mrs. Lewis Randolph visited in Metuchen yesterday.

Mrs. I. L. Winans is ill with sore throat.

Sunday's Supply.

Rev. Dr. E. H. Judson, pastor of the Judson Memorial church, New York, will occupy the pulpit at the First Baptist church Sunday morning, and Rev. Dr. Eddy, of the Ephiphany Baptist church, Fifth avenue, New York, in the evening.

Dangerous If Neglected.

Burns, cuts and other wounds often fail to heal properly if neglected and become troublesome sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve prevents such consequences. Even where delay has aggravated the injury DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve effects a cure. "I had a running sore on my leg thirty years," says H. C. Hartly, Yankeetown, Ind. "After using many remedies, I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes healed the sore." Cures all skin diseases. Piles yield to it at once. Beware of counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

PRINCETON BOYS WON FROM HIGH SCHOOL

Defeated Crack Nine of City High School by a Score of 14 to 9 Yesterday.

VISITORS BATTED HARD.

PRINCETON TEAM FOUND VERY LITTLE TROUBLE IN WINNING GAME.

High School Tried VanAuken and Moynihan in the Box—The Winners Used Football Tactics in the Running of Bases.

The baseball aggregation of the Valquerio club that came over from Princeton University yesterday afternoon played rings around the Plainfield High School nine, on Pittis Field, taking back to their town a score of fourteen to nine in their favor. The majority of the players on the visiting team were big and husky, and their prowess in hitting the ball somewhat awed the local boys, so much so that several errors, which finally helped score runs, were made on comparatively easy hit balls.

The visitors at times showed an inclination to introduce football tactics into the game, Cole and Wright being the chief offenders. The former deliberately butted over Munro at third and the latter rammed his head into Moynihan's stomach while attempting to reach home. Thomas, who played second for the visitors, lives in Dunellen, and the smooth game he put up immensely pleased his friends on the bleachers.

Craig, the miniature shortstop on Plainfield, made a remarkable one-hand running stop of a ground hit in the sixth inning and also made a hit that brought in a run in the eighth. Cole lead in batting for both sides, getting a home run, a three bagger and a single. Denton knocked no less than eighteen flies during the game; he also made a fine running catch of a long hit fly from Long's bat in the fifth.

The fourth inning was most productive of runs. With three men on bases in that inning Cole knocked out his three bagger, came home on Kay's hit to Munro, who fielded the ball poorly, and the latter came home with Long on Wright's hit past short. In Plainfield's half of the same inning three runs were scored by bases on balls, a hit man and Dyer's hit to deep left. Considering that the visitors were much heavier than the High School boys the latter's showing was creditable.

The score:

HOW TO WORK FOR CHRIST

ENVANGELIST PRATT EXPLAINED WHAT CHRISTIANS DUTIES ARE.

Everyone is Prepared to Assist in Some Way—How Moses Learned That Truth.

Last night Evangelist J. R. Pratt, in connection with the evangelistic meetings at the Monroe Avenue church, spoke on "The Call of Moses to God's service." He said: "Many people have a mistaken idea as to what is meant by God's service. It is not simply going to church once or twice on Sunday and listening to an eloquent preacher or fine music or to be on exhibition but it means working for God as Jesus worked for God.

"Moses after attending the Egyptian universities until he was forty, becoming versed in all the arts and sciences and philosophy of what was in his time the most learned nation of the world, was taken by God and put in His university for another forty years living the humdrum, tedious, nomadic life of a shepherd until he had acquired those qualities which were essential to his successful leadership of the Israelitish people. At eighty, when most men desire to lay down the cars of state, Moses began to assume them.

"God appeared to Moses in the burning bush and by turning the old shepherd's crook into a serpent and then restoring it to a crook convinced Moses of His power to take even lifeless objects and give them the power of life and that He could do great things with Moses despite his objections on account of his unfitness."

The objections raised by Moses as to his unfitness, his fear of criticism and his lack of power of speech, were all applied by the speaker to present day Christians who allowed supposed unfitness or fear of criticism and lack of courage and of eloquence to prevent them from fully serving God and doing His work.

In the afternoon Mr. Pratt continued the course of studies on "The Work of the Holy Spirit in the Life of the Christian Believer," and spoke of the way in which the Holy Spirit guides men and women.

The series of meetings will close on Sunday. Mr. Pratt has arranged for a young people's meeting Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Admission to this meeting will be by ticket and attendance will be limited to persons between the ages of twelve and forty years. Sunday night, the farewell meeting will be held.

License for Sebring.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 1—The Somerset County Court has granted a license to Charles P. Sebring to keep a hotel in North Plainfield township. He was represented by his counsel, Robert M. Clark, but there was no opposition and the license was granted after a short debate.

Called Themselves Plainfielders.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 1—Archie Cruser and Tillie Gable, said to be Plainfielders, were arraigned before Justice Sutphen yesterday on a charge of drunk and disorderly. The former was sent to the county jail for fifteen days and the latter fined $5.

A $3,000 House.

Miss Katie Kelly, of 512 West Fifth street, has commenced the erection of a two-story house, to cost $3,000, on East Second street. William H. Brokaw has the carpenter work, and C. William Krausse the plumbing.

Asked to Show Cause.

Elizabeth D. Noe has been ordered by the United States District Court, sitting at Trenton, to show cause before that tribunal on May 26 why she should not be discharged from bankruptcy.

Gone to Trenton.

Thomas Decatur, formerly proprietor of the hotel at Whitehouse, has purchased White Horse Inn at Trenton, and will assume management May 5.

POWER IN POLITICS.

Senator Gorman of Maryland Is a Born Leader of Men.

To His Followers There Is No Judgment as Reliable as His—Story of a Fredm Combines This Broad Statement.

During his career in the United States senate, Mr. Arthur Pue Gorman, who has recently been reelected to that body, took conspicuous rank among national legislators. Among his constituents in Maryland Mr. Gorman was long known as "the Sphinx," and this title followed him to the senate, where he was both admired and feared.

"Day after day," said one of his old colleagues, "the grim Marylander would sit listening to a heated debate over some important measure. Even if the proposed bill were against the interests of his constituents he would not interrupt senators, either to ask questions or to combat their arguments, nor would he mingle in the conflict when his fellow-opponents combined to fight the measure. But when the whole subject had been threshed over, and the vote was about to be taken, Gorman would break his ominous silence. With calm and critical judgment he would review the entire subject, and then would stir the senate with an oratorical effort that would win the admiration of even his enemies.

"This habit Gorman had of reserving his fire," continued his former associate, "finally made him a formidable figure in the senate. At first his colleagues—some of them, at least—made the mistake of regarding his silence as an indication either of indifference or of inability to grapple with the subject. The fact that Gorman had once been a page in the senate induced some of the older members to regard him, early in his senatorial career, with indifference. But none of them made the mistake more than once. I remember congratulating a famous senator for his splendid efforts in behalf of a certain cause and of saying to him that triumph for his measure seemed certain.

ARTHUR PUE GORMAN.
(Democratic Leader and Senator from the State of Maryland.)

"'Let us not be oversanguine,' he replied, 'for we must remember that Gorman hasn't yet been heard from.'"

Maj. James Albert Clark, who for many years as a republican editor in Maryland strenuously opposed Gorman, speaks in the highest terms of the senator. "Gorman," says Maj. Clark, "would have been at home in the Roman senate. We have not had so grim a statesman since Daniel Webster. I have known Gorman for nearly a quarter of a century and during all that time I never knew him to indulge in a laugh in public. No element of frivolity ever enters into his dealings with affairs of state. It is only in his home life, which is ideal, that he throws off his burdens. And no man ever loved home more than Gorman does. Seeing him there, at frolic with children, one would not imagine him to be the Jove of the senate, which he was, and, no doubt, will be again. It is said of Gorman," added the major, "that in all his public career he has never passed a Sunday away from his family."

Both the friends and opponents of Gorman acknowledge his masterly qualities as a leader. "Apropos of his strength in this regard to illustrate how completely his followers rely upon his judgment," said a Washington official, "one of his old-time colleagues is fond of telling of a dream he had. He says he dreamed that a Maryland statesman died and in due time was ushered before the Ultimate Gate, before which all spirits stand to await St. Peter's verdict.

"Finally the gate swung open.

"'You may enter,' said the venerable saint.

"The shade from Maryland hesitated, and St. Peter desired to know the secret of his indecision.

"'Well,' replied the hesitating one, 'I suppose it's all right for me to go in, but before I take any step along this line I should greatly prefer to be able to confer with Senator Gorman, of Maryland.'"

AN UNWILLING HEIR.

Prince William Ernest of Saxe-Weimar Who May Reign in the Kingdom of Holland.

Queen Wilhelmina's recent disappointment in the hope of an heir brings into prominence Prince William Ernest of Saxe-Weimar, who is at present the heir apparent to the throne of the Netherlands and who inherited from his grandmother, besides immense properties, a fortune amounting to $20,000,000.

It was rather an extraordinary chance that made this young man of 27 grand duke of one of the most important of the Saxon duchies, as well as next in succession to the girl queen of Holland, supposing, of course, that her majesty is not blessed with offspring. His mother was the daughter of King William II. of Holland and the sister of Queen Wilhelmina's father, William III. Probably nothing was further from the princess' mind than that one day a son of hers would become heir apparent to the throne, for, besides the king, she had another brother, Prince Henry, and before she married the eldest son of the grand duke of Saxe-Weimar and left Holland for Germany both her royal brother and Prince Henry had married and the king had an heir.

PRINCE WILLIAM ERNEST

Fortune, however, was bent on playing pranks. The king's son became dissipated and died unmarried, after a checkered career, and although Prince Henry married twice he had no children by either union. So it happened that, late in life, the grand duchess of Saxe-Weimar found herself in the remarkable position of heiress presumptive to a little girl, her own niece, now Queen Wilhelmina.

Naturally, the Dutch people, who for many years have been perplexed by the uncertain succession to the throne, would much prefer a son of their beloved queen as monarch to the grand duke, and that young man himself is credited with hoping sincerely that his cousin and her consort may be blessed with an heir.

MISS ISABELLE HAGNER.

Civil-Service Reformers Object to Her Acting as Social Secretary to the President's Wife.

Civil service reformers have discovered what they believe to be a clear evasion of the law in the fact that Miss Isabelle Hagner is carried on the rolls of the war department as a clerk at $840 per annum. She is detailed away from her desk to serve as the social private secretary to Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Root.

The reformers to whose attention this case has been called say that it might be proper and legal to detail Miss Hagner as the secretary to Mrs. Roosevelt, but they ask what warrant of law exists to supply her services in a similar capacity to the wife of the secretary of war.

MISS ISABELLE HAGNER.
(Social Secretary to Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Root.)

The art of successfully fulfilling the duties of private secretary is one that appeals to many gentlewomen, and many have incurred considerable expense fitting themselves for this work. These ladies resent the fact that Miss Hagner fills two such important posts on such a meager salary, and they have brought their grievances to the attention of some senators and representatives, who will investigate.

It is contended that the secretary who attends to the white house work should not receive less than $100 a month. They also consider that Miss Hagner should either remain at her desk at the war department or resign.

The experience of the past winter has taught Mrs. Roosevelt that she needs some one who can give her entire time to the labors. Miss Hagner, in addition to serving Mrs. Root, acts in a similar capacity for Mrs. Depew and Mrs. Hanna. There evidently will be much opposition to Miss Hagner's appointment to the white house if she is continued on the war department rolls.

MASTER'S SALE.

In Chancery of New Jersey.

Between Florence McKenzie and others, complainants, and Anna Frances Martin and others, defendants. On bill for partition. Decree for sale.

By virtue of a decree, made by the Chancellor of the State of New Jersey, bearing date March 21, 1902, in the above stated cause, I will expose for sale, by public vendue, at the residence on the first tract, hereinafter described, on at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, the real estate in said decree mentioned and therein described, situate in the township of Warren, Somerset county, New Jersey. Beginning at a stone in the middle of the road leading from Coontown to Warrenville, it being the northwest corner of said lot, and the northeast corner of lands now or late of Lewis Mundy, and running thence south sixteen minutes east, 1248 feet, 9 inches; thence south thirty-four degrees, east 455 feet; thence south twenty-two degrees thirty minutes east 695 feet to a stone heap, and William Jennings corner; thence south twenty-seven degrees thirty minutes east, 350 feet to line of land formerly of William D. Sherwood; thence north fifty-nine degrees ten minutes east, 1136 feet to the corner of the school house lot, Warrenville District, Number 5; thence north thirteen degrees west 230 feet; thence north twenty degrees east, 118 feet; thence north sixty-nine degrees east, 141 feet, to the middle of the road leading from Mount Bethel to Plainfield; thence north eight degrees west 951 feet along the middle of said road, to the southeast corner of a lot of land belonging to Daniel Cory, and near the middle of the road leading from Coontown, at its junction with said last mentioned road; thence along the middle of said Coontown road, north fifty-six degrees fifty minutes west 431 feet; thence along the middle of said road north thirty-seven degrees forty-five minutes west, 515 feet; thence along the middle of said road north eighty-two degrees west 188 feet, and thence still along the middle of said road, due west, 792 feet to the place of beginning. Containing seventy-five 345-100ths acres, or thereabouts, and recorded in the Somerset county clerk's office in Book Y No. 4 of deeds for said county, page 417, &c.

TUESDAY, THE THIRTEENTH DAY OF MAY NEXT,

Excepting and Reserving, however, the four certain tracts of land conveyed by the said Mary E. McKenzie in her lifetime, viz:—

First Tract.—Beginning at a stake in the middle of the road leading from Warrenville to Coontown, the same being the northwest corner of Mary E. McKenzie's farm, and adjoining lands owned by Michael Albert; thence along said line south thirteen minutes east, three chains and sixteen links to a stake and stone; thence due east six chains and thirty-three links to a stake; thence north thirteen minutes west three chains and sixteen links to a stone in middle of said road; thence along said road due west, six chains and thirty-three links to the place of beginning. Containing two acres more or less. Recorded in Somerset county clerk's office, in Book I No. 6 of deeds, pages 3, &c.

Second Tract.—Beginning at a point on the top of the hill N. W. of Warrenville, and twelve feet south of where a fence running easterly and westerly on the McKenzie property ends in McKenzie's westerly line; thence south twenty-two degrees and thirty minutes east five chains and forty-three links to a stone heap; thence south twenty-seven degrees and thirty minutes east six chains and sixty-six links to a corner of Morgan C. Jennings' line; thence with M. C. Jennings' line, north fifty-nine degrees and ten minutes east sixteen chains and sixty-seven links to corner of school house lot; thence north eighteen and one-half degrees west four chains and thirty links to a stone heap; thence south eighty-one degrees and forty-five minutes west seventeen chains and ninety-four links to the place of beginning. Containing fourteen and 92-100ths acres of land, be the same more or less. Recorded in Somerset county clerk's office in Book X, No. 8 of Deeds, pages 231, etc.

Third Tract.—Beginning in the middle of the road leading from Warrenville to Mount Bethel, and at the northeast corner of the school house lot in Warrenville; thence running with the middle of said road, north eight and one-half degrees west eight chains; thence north seventy and one-half degrees west four chains and fifty links; thence south sixty-five and one-half degrees west three chains and fifty eight links to a large cherry tree; thence south nineteen and one half degrees east two chains; thence south three degrees and forty minutes east three chains and twenty links to a pear tree; thence south eight degrees and thirty minutes east five chains and seventy links to a point in the north line of land of Alfred Jennings; thence with A. Jennings' line, north eighty-two degrees east four chains and thirty links to northeast corner of Alfred Jennings' land; and also the northwest corner of said school house lot; thence with the north line of school house lot, north about fifty degrees east three chains and fifty links to the middle of said road and place of beginning. Containing seven and 65-100ths acres, be the same more or less. Recorded in Somerset county clerk's office in book Y, No 8, pages 12, &c

Fourth Tract.—Beginning at a stone in line of land of Eliza Jennings south thirty-two degrees west three chains and thirty links from the middle of the road leading from Mount Bethel to Plainfield, said stone being the southwest corner of lands conveyed by deed of Andrew Wells and wife to Squire Ferrell et als, Trustees to school district No. 5 Recorded in Book No. 2 of deeds, p. 588, &c; thence with the west line of the property conveyed aforesaid, north eight and one-half degrees west four chains and thirty links to a stone heap on the brow of the hill; thence south twenty-two degrees and thirty minutes east five chains and forty-three links to a stone heap to corner of lands of said Eliza Jennings Mary F. Jennings and the above described lot; thence north thirty-two degrees east about one hundred feet; to a stone and place of beginning. Containing about one-eighth of an acre of land more or less. Recorded in Book C. No. 9 of deeds, pages 245, &c., in the office of the clerk of the county of Somerset.

And at the aforesaid time and place I will also expose to sale, by public vendue, all those certain lots, pieces or parcels of land situate, lying and being in the village of Scotch Plains (now Fanwood), County of Union and State of New Jersey, as the same are laid down on a certain map made by J. W. Soper & Co., civil engineers, described as a map of building lots on Stansberry farm in the village of Scotch Plains, filed in the clerk's office of the county of Union in the year eighteen hundred and seventy, and which said lots on said map are designated and known by the Nos. eight (8), nine (9), ten (10), eleven (11), twelve (12), thirteen (13), fourteen (14), fifteen (15), sixteen (16), seventeen (17), eighteen (18), twenty-six (26), twenty-seven (27), twenty-eight (28), thirty-seven (37), thirty-eight (38), thirty-nine (39), forty-seven (47), forty-eight (48), forty-nine (49), fifty (50), fifty-one (51), fifty-two (52), fifty-three (53), fifty-four (54), fifty-five (55), fifty-six (56), and fifty-seven (57) in block No. 3, and lots Nos. forty-two and forty-three (42 & 43) in block No. 4; and lots Nos. twenty (20), twenty-one (21), twenty-two (22), twenty-three (23), twenty four (24), and twenty-five (25), in block No. 10, being the same premises conveyed to said decedent in her lifetime by deed of Thomas C. Barry, dated the nineteenth day of June in the year of our Lord One thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, and recorded in the clerk's office of Union county in Book No. 129 of Conveyances, pages 443 &c., together with all and singular the hereditaments and appurtenances to the said premises belonging, or in any wise appertaining.

SMART COATS.

The Blouses and Short Bolero Lead, Velvet Fashionable.

The zibelines and hairy textures of the autumn and winter season are to give place to smooth fabrics with the sheen of silk, and, although embroidered spots will be used, yet so far the fancy is entirely for plain materials. All the smart woolens have some admixture of silk, and the limp, soft style of finish is universal.

Coatees, blouses of the Russian type and the bolero will be quite the mode for spring toilets, but the smarter costume for bazaars, weddings and other special occasions will be made with a Louis coat, of which there are endless variations. Large collars are indispensable, and the Richelieu shape is copied to match the coat and is appliqued with lace and silk passementerie.

Velvet is very fashionable used in applique fashion, and there are scrolls and sprays of cut velvet introduced over lace, silk and plaited gauze with charming effect. Very handsome trimmings are composed of diamonds, medallions and scrolls cut out in velvet and placed on the material to outline the edges or make borders or bands. The velvet figures are then outlined with lace or passementerie.

JUDIC CHOLLET

THE SPRING HATS

The Turban Has Quite Eclipsed the Sailor Shape.

The turban has quite eclipsed the sailor hat and is altogether more mod ish even when adorned in the simplest fashion. Toques and hats generally are worn very forward and quite close at the back. There are a few styles which are immensely popular, and of these is the tricorne, made wider and more decided in front and invariably finished with a large bow of ribbon or velvet at the back.

Another model, similar to the tricorne, but rounded in front, has the back bow, or lace is draped round the brim and forms a little drooping cascade at the back. Many hats are made in the same style, with jet or sequin lace over the brim and finishing with the little tail at the back. Entire brims of small flowers or foliage are quite a feature in spring chapeaux.

Embroideries will be lavishly employed for smart day and evening gowns, and for the latter the raised applique designs in chiffon and ribbon work are as fragile as they are costly. There are, however, simple but effective embroideries which can be managed by those fond of fancy work, such as yokes, fronts and bands of satin or taffeta, worked with colored spots and tiny sprays, or bias strappings to place between stitched straps of the dress material can be of contrasting colored silk with spots and tiny floral sprays or single blossoms.

JUDIC CHOLLET

His Friend, The Enemy

By WILLIAM WALLACE COOK,

Author of "Rogers of Butte," "The Spur of Necessity," "Mr. Fitt, Astrologer," etc.

(Copyright, 1901, by the S. S. McClure Co.)

"The work I've laid out for myself," observed Landy, "is winnin' you over to vote for Harmony. Election day is comin', Sile; and I don't want you to throw away your vote."

"You're the worst man I ever see to stick and hang," returned Whittaker, petulantly. "If I'm going to throw away my vote by casting it for Concord, what do you care?"

"I don't want to see you do a thing you'll be sorry for. Look here," proceeded Landy, growing confidential. "Vote for Harmony and I'll see that you get three good lots for doing it."

"Has Vlandingham send you to me?"

"Not exactly; but I've got an understanding with him."

"There's a pointer for you, Mr. Herbert," said Whittaker, winking at Guy. "Don't you know, Abe," he added, addressing his cousin, "that Mr. Herbert is a Concord man?"

"Heard he was," replied Landy, nibbling at a plug of tobacco. "I'll see that he gets three lots, too, if he'll only vote for Harmony."

Guy smiled.

"Way," said he, "I've got about twelve hundred lots in Concord, Mr. Landy."

"So I'm told," responded the unruffled Landy. "But the hull twelve hundred won't be worth three Harmony lots after the election."

"I don't think I can accept your offer even if that is a fair statement of the case." Just then Guy had a bright thought. "There are 35 voters in Amityville, aren't there, Mr. Landy?" he asked.

"Fifteen," corrected Landy, "and I carry every vote in my pocket. The population of the village is 35, countin' men, women and children."

"How many Harmony lots did Mr. Vlandingham give you for turning these votes to his side?"

Landy jumped.

"What makes you think he gave me any?" he asked, warily.

"I'm sure he did. He must have given you a good many, it strikes me, for Amityville is the key to the situation."

"You're right about our town being the key to the situation. Our votes will settle the county seat business—no doubt about that."

"Now I should think," resumed Guy, "that Mr. Vlandingham gave you a whole block in return for the Amityville vote."

"A block!" gasped Landy.

"Yes, or more."

"Why, if I had a block of Harmony lots I'd be independent rich as soon as the county seat question is settled and the boom sets in."

"Your influence would be worth it. Didn't you get a block?"

"No, nor half a block. I only got six and was given two to transfer to every voter in Amityville."

"You don't say so!" exclaimed Guy. "Is it possible that that is Mr. Vlandingham's idea of fair treatment? Only six lots for gaining the county seat for Harmony! Well, well!"

Guy leaned back in his chair and looked at Landy sympathetically.

"Vlandingham has pulled the wool over your eyes, Abe," chuckled Whittaker, making due note of his cousin's long face.

"It doesn't look as though he had treated me just right, does it, now?" mumbled Landy.

"No, sir," said Guy, with emphasis. "Did you make a straight bargain with Mr. Vlandingham?"

"There wasn't any bargain at all. When Vlandingham got ready to have his petition to the county commissioners signed he handed me a due bill for six lots, together with 14 other due bills for two lots each for the rest of the voters in Amityville. All he did was to slap me on the back, and call me 'Abe,' and say how much he thought of me. Gosh! And to think that he was makin' game of me all the time."

"It is too bad, Mr. Landy," rejoined Guy. For some time he had been furtively taking Mr. Landy's measure and he was now ready to lay on the finishing stroke of a hastily evolved plan. "If Amityville votes for Concord," he went on, "it's almost a certainty that Concord will win. When it is once settled that Concord has the county seat good and fast, the town will boom and lots will sell like hot cakes. As I told you, I have over twelve hundred good lots and I wouldn't object to giving 34 due bills for two lots each to every man, woman and child in Amityville, excepting Abraham Landy. As for Mr. Landy, I would ask him to distribute the 34 due bills and then, if he would promise to return a solid vote for Concord, I would give him a thirty-fifth due bill for 50 lots, two full blocks."

"You'd do that, would you?" exploded Landy, leaping from his chair.

"I would," answered Guy, "and I would consider Mr. Landy had done me a favor."

Mr. Landy clasped his hands behind him and walked around the house, his eyes turned groundward.

"You've hooked him!" muttered the delighted Whittaker. "By jinks, you've hooked him, Mr. Herbert."

And Whittaker was right. Ten minutes later Guy was writing due bills by the dozen and half an hour later Mr. Landy was homeward bound after having given a written agreement to poll every Amityville ballot for Concord. While he was engaged in giving away lots, Guy did not forget to present Whittaker with half a dozen; thereupon that gentleman solemnly covenanted that his house should remain forever upon the Concord side of his farm.

This deal consummated, Guy went in and laid down. He felt that he had done a good stroke of work for Concord. His conscience troubled him somewhat, for there was a hint of sharp practice in his deal with Landy that was directly opposed to the young man's inclinations and general character. Still, if Vlandingham had bought Amityville signatures to his petition, why should not Guy buy Amityville votes? The ballots of the two sets of imported voters, each just a score in number, would nullify each other. Now that Amityville was to go for Concord, the success of Concord seemed certain.

The first flush of assured victory over, Guy began to feel sorry for Miss Betty. She was bending every effort toward a victory for Harmony and was so confident of the result that he—well, he almost regretted that he had allowed himself to purchase Mr. Landy's influence.

"Lady to see you, Mr. Herbert," announced Whittaker, abruptly opening the door. After grinning slyly he vanished as quickly as he had appeared.

"A lady," murmured Guy, in trepidation.

He had been so busy with his thoughts that he had heard no sounds indicative of the arrival of a visitor. As he arose he glanced through a window and saw Miss Pinkney seated in a gorgeous trap and holding a horse. The next moment he saw Whittaker approach the trap, stand beside it and engage Miss Pinkney in conversation. Guy's heart fluttered! At last! At last he would be able to explain that affair on the lake shore.

Miss Betty was waiting for him when he entered the other room. She came forward hastily and took one of his hands in both her own. The look on her face was one which he had never seen there before. Sadness, heartburning, regret—these were all in the glance she gave him.

"I can remain but a moment, Mr. Herbert," she said. "I have been in Bismarck for a few days and, on my return to Harmony I learned something which has brought me straight to you to ask your forgiveness."

"My forgiveness?" he repeated, clinging to one of her hands. "Forgiveness for what?"

"For allowing you to help me, thus causing you to be looked upon as a traitor by your own townspeople; and for daring to think that you had brought the sheriff and two others with you to the lake, a week ago last Wednesday. Oh, I feel as though I am personally culpable and that your wound is the indirect result of my own actions." Her blue eyes grew misty and her voice shook. "Will you forgive me, Mr. Herbert?"

He longed to clasp her to his breast and then tell her how dear she had become to him in the brief time they had known each other; he would have given worlds to kiss her tears away and do other sentimental and foolish things which he had no earthly right to do, but he restrained himself. He loved her, and he defied the months and years to disprove a truth which two short weeks had made clear to him. Yet, while sure of his own feelings, he must wait to assure himself of hers.

"Who has told you my side of the case, Miss Vlandingham?" he asked.

"Some one who knows," was the reply; "some one who lives in Concord and is thoroughly conversant with every phase of your ill-treatment at the hands of the mistaken people there."

GET INSIDE.

Your Friends and Neighbors in Plainfield Will Show You How.

Rubbing the back won't cure backache.

A liniment may relieve, but can't cure.

Backache comes from the inside, from the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills get inside.

They cure sick kidneys.

Here is Plainfield proof that this is so:

Mr. C. E. Hepburn, of 123 Duer street, formerly of Canada where he first heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have my endorsement for they cured me of a long standing case of backache which annoyed me very much especially if I took cold for at such times I was in pretty bad shape. I heard different people speak very highly of Doan's Kidney Pills, concluded to try them, got a box from my druggist, Mr. L. W. Randolph, and used them according to directions with the above results. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement of a preparation like Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

HAILED AS PROPHET.

Postmaster General Payne Considered an Infallible Political Prognosticator by His Friends.

Mr. Henry C. Payne, the new postmaster general, is a remarkable type of the modern political leader who dominates by the same kind of genius which builds vast fortunes. A sound capacity for organization; a shrewd judgment of men; an imperturbable mentality which accomplishes its purposes by means of intellectual instead of emotional processes—these are felt to be the principal characteristics of the man who is spoken of among the party leaders as the "political member" of President Roosevelt's cabinet.

No trait of Mr. Payne's character is more conspicuous than his political sagacity. Among newspaper men he is held to be a political prophet without a peer. The manner in which his reputation was earned is decidedly interesting. In the campaign of 1896 Mr. Payne declined to give out any estimates until a fortnight before election. Then the reporters were called into his room at national republican headquarters, and he read from a slip of paper a list of states which, in his opinion, would give their electoral votes for Mr. McKinley. Mr. Payne's estimate was printed in the newspapers of the west, and when the returns came in it was found that he had made a mistake in regard to only one state.

There is, however, another side to his nature known only to his most intimate friends. This, says the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post, is his devotion to his wife, who has but recently escaped from a period of invalidism which extended over many years. For much of that time she was unable to leave her room and suffered the most intense agony. To lessen her pain and bring into her life gleams of brightness have formed the dominant purpose of his life. His devotion to her has been of a rarely tender and untiring kind.

PRINCE ADALBERT.

Third Son of Emperor William, a Bright Naval Cadet, May Visit New York Very Soon.

Among the 50 cadets on the German naval training ship Charlotte, which may arrive at New York toward the end of April, is Prince Adalbert, the third son of Emperor Wilhelm II. He is a bright-faced boy of 18, and has been an officer in both the army and navy since his tenth birthday. On this account, although still a cadet in actual training, he enjoys all the privileges of an officer. It is not likely that the officers will accept many invitations during their visit, although it is possible that they will visit Washington. In that case Prince Adalbert will be presented to President Roosevelt by the German ambassador. The Charlotte is one of a fleet of training vessels maintained by the German navy. She is a similar vessel to the Moltke, which recently visited this country.

Dog Breaks Man's Leg.

David L. Black, of Middletown, N. Y., was the victim of a peculiar accident. He was standing on the sidewalk on Fulton street watching a horse that was being led to a shop to be shod, when a small dog began snapping at the horse's heels. Suddenly the horse kicked with both feet and sent the dog flying through the air with almost cannon ball force. Before Black could get out of the way the dog struck him on the leg below the knee, breaking both bones. The dog soon recovered, shook himself and trotted down the street, apparently unharmed.

SPORTING NEWS

ON THE DIAMOND.

The greater part of the Hope and St. Mary teams are out on their respective fields each evening for practice. It seems to do most of them a great deal of good and is regarded by some as better than a regular game.

The Safe Works team and the Orange Y. M. C. A. ball tossers will cross bats, Saturday afternoon. The game will take place on the former's grounds and will commence promptly at 3:45. Accommodation has been made for receiving the fair sex, seats having been placed where they command a clear view of the field.

May 15 has been set by the League officials on which the managers must furnish the names of the players who will be retained until the close of the season. Fifteen names must be given and if at any time after that a new player is to be added, consent must be obtained from the League but he cannot engage in any game until two weeks afterward.

Davy Gordon, the crack little player of the Hope team, is putting up a remarkable game. At Dunellen Saturday with Tune Hewitt he led in batting, getting one of the two two-bag gers when they were most needed. In his new position in right field he covered the ground as though he had always been there. Manager Cose was greatly pleased with his work as was Captain Martin also.

As yet none of the League teams have secured official umpires. This is a matter which has been given serious consideration by reason of the fact that most of the available men are members of one or the other associations in the League. None of these can be retained according to the constitution. There are a number of other applicants who will be given a trial in some of the preliminary games.

GOLF.

Edward Lord, the new steward at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, has arrived and will soon have arrangements completed for serving meals at the clubhouse.

Within a short time Morris Dumont, captain of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club golf team, will begin to select members for the team. He will arrange matters so that members will play their best to remain on the team, thus giving others a chance for positions in case of poor playing.

Regular play for the Boys' cup will begin next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock on the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club course. It is the hope of the golf committee that as many boys as possible enter the competition which will be continued throughout the season every Saturday morning.

AT THE TRAPS.

A shooting match for $100 a side between Jack Reed, of Trenton, and F. Bissett, of South River, will be held this afternoon at the latter place. The match will be at fifty birds a side. The men met at Trenton last week, when Bissett won by two birds. A large number from Plainfield will go to see the match.

OUT ON PROBATION.

Charles Scudder and Arthur Whitehead are in Charge of the Officer.

Charles Scudder and Arthur Whitehead, colored, both of this city, who have been confined in the county jail awaiting the action of the Grand Jury, were released yesterday in the custody of the county probation officer, Mrs. Williamson.

Scudder was sent down last week, charged with stealing two bicycle tires from a consignment he was carting to Sigmund Frucht. Whitehead is accused of stealing a pair of trousers from in front of a Front street clothing store and has been locked up for the past month.

NO STRIKE OF MOULDERS

NINE HOUR DAY WAS REQUESTED AT POND TOOL WORKS.

Is Likely to be Granted—No Demand at Scott's—The Situation at Potter Press Works.

There was a report in circulation this morning that a general strike of the moulders had occurred. On inquiry at the Pond Tool Works it was learned that the men employed by them had asked for a nine-hour-day, but did not go out on strike. It is likely the demand will be acceded to by the Pond firm.

At the Scott Press Works the employes are required to work but fifty-five hours a week, which is very slightly in excess of nine hours per day. Here no demands have been made and the whole force is working as usual.

On interviewing the Potter Company by telephone no accurate information could be obtained, as the superintendent was absent.

VAN NEST HELD.

Ten-Year-Old Lad, Charged With Larceny, Will Await the Grand Jury's Action.

Arthur VanNest, the ten-year-old boy accused of stealing $50 worth of jewelry from the home of Miss E. Frances Vaughan, of West Seventh street, waived examination before Justice Nash, this morning, and was held in $100 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury. The amount was furnished by his father. He was represented by Robert M. Clark.

Despite his youth, the police say they intend having VanNest placed in some institution, until he attains his majority. They claim he has committed a number of petty thefts and has a habit of enticing other boys away from home, as was the case two weeks ago.

PERSONAL.

Coriandt Adams, of Netherwood, has returned from a visit at Mariners Harbor, S. I.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bushnell, of Central avenue, have returned from a sojourn in Europe.

Walter Delevan, of West Fourth street, is spending a few days with relatives at Sea Isle City.

Frederick H. Juner, of South Second street, has returned from a visit with friends at Lenox, Mass.

MUSIC HALL CHANGES.

The New Owner in Town and Will Probably Award Contracts Soon.

William J. Butterfield, the new proprietor of the Stillman Music Hall, is in Plainfield today looking after his interests. For the past four weeks, he has been very busy staging his new show, "Man to Man," which is now ready. Tomorrow he meets Evarts Tracy, the architect, who prepared the plans for the extensive alterations to be made to the buliding and who has been securing bids for the work. After a conference between Mr. Butterfield and Mr. Tracy, a decision will probably be reached regarding the contracts.

PRESS OFFICE BLAZE.

Put Out by Extinguisher Before the Prompt Arrival of Firemen.

A small blaze, without any damage, was caused yesterday afternoon in the job composing room of The Daily Press by spontaneous combustion. It started in oily rags and spread to a small can of benzine. Assistant Chief Jennings and some of the men from headquarters responded to a still alarm, but there was no need for their services, as a chemical extinguisher belonging to the office put out the blaze. The assistant chief and the other firemen were complimented for the astonishing quickness in getting to the scene.

WHERE TROLLEYS MEET.

LOCAL SUFFRAGE WORKERS

ELECTED OFFICERS AND LISTENED TO INTERESTING ADDRESS.

Mrs. Mariana W. Chapman, State President, Spoke at Some Length on the Work.

An informal address on "Politics and the Home," was given at the annual meeting of the Plainfield Women's Suffrage Society, by Mrs. Mariana W. Chapman, president of the New York State Woman's Suffrage Association, yesterday afternoon. The session was held at the home of Mrs. David P. Hall, of Madison avenue, and was attended by seventy-five members of the local organization.

The lecturer spoke at some length on the great work women have accomplished in elevating the standard of orphan asylums, children's homes, jails, boards of education, and other institutions, all of which affected the home.

Officers for the year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. David P. Hall; vice president, Mrs. Isaac Miller; recording secretary, Mrs. Harold Durar; corresponding secretary, Mrs. William Patton; treasurer, Mrs. Samuel Huntington.

All the reports showed that the society is in excellent condition. Petitions were distributed for signatures relative to the matter of asking Congress to appoint a commission to investigate the results obtained by women's suffrage in Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho and Utah. The women of New Jersey will forward these petitions to their Congressmen in the several districts.

After the business session tea was served. In this feature of the affair the organization was assisted by the Misses Caroline Hall, Anna W. Miller, Viola Conklin, Kathleen Ryder and Wilhelmina Patton.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—The Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. will meet this evening.

—Rev. J. W. Richardson and family moved today from 939 Prospect avenue to 210 East Ninth street.

—Hoseman Louis M. Dunavan, of No. 2 wagon, is the architect and master workman on extensive interior repairs now being made at fire headquarters.

—R. W. Waldo and family moved yesterday from the house owned by William Bloodgood, at 990 Central avenue, to New York city, and Mr. Bloodgood will next week return to this city.

To Assist at Reception.

At a meeting of the A. O. H., Division No. 4, held last night, the members decided to take part in the reception to be given two former members of Parliament who will be in Elizabeth, Tuesday evening May 6. A committee, consisting of P. Casey and Patrick Harrington, was appointed to complete all arrangements.

Wasn't an Offender.

Harry Huff, a hackman, was arraigned before city Judge, this morning, on the familiar charge. He proved that he had been summoned to the depot on a call and sentence was suspended.

Case of Acute Nerve.

"Speaking about nerve," said Commissioner of Pensions Evans to a Washington interviewer recently, "I have just been in contact with an acute case. When I first assumed office as commissioner of pensions I had a great deal of trouble with an attorney who was engaged in all kinds of fraudulent practices. After a long period of worriment and great difficulty the attorney was finally given a three-year term in the penitentiary. The other day I received a letter from the same man saying he was about to be released from imprisonment and asking me as a personal favor to secure a railroad pass for him to California."

BRIDGE IN BOROUGH ACCEPTED BY COUNTY

Johnston's Drive Bridge, on Which Work Was Stopped, Has Been Completed.

INSPECTED BY BOARD.

STRUCTURE WAS BUILT BY W. T. KIRK & CO., OF THIS CITY.

The Somerset County Freeholders Visited Bridge Wednesday and Accepted It—Had Ordered Work Stopped, But Changed Minds.

The new bridge at Johnston's drive has been formally accepted by the Somerset county Board of Freeholders. A meeting was held at the bridge Wednesday afternoon and it was attended by all the members. Director William J. Logan presided.

W. T. Kirk & Co. were the contractors for the structure which is an up-to-date bridge in every particular. It is said that it has been much needed of late. Soon after the iron work was delivered on the spot the board suddenly concluded to delay the structure's erection. They took the stand that North Plainfield would probably be annxed to Union county and that in such event, the Union county board, in their opinion, should pay half the cost. A resolution was passed ordering the work to cease, but Contractor Kirk having made all arrangements for the speedy completion of the structure went ahead with the work.

In was then that the board decided that the action would cause unfavorable criticism and hence revoked its resolution. The bridge was gotten ready for use some weeks ago, and it is said that it conforms with the contract in every particular. Saturday, May 10, the freeholders will meet in Bernards township, to view the bridge near Amermann's farm.

No action has yet been taken on the proposition to build a new bridge over Green brook on Giraud avenue. The present bridge connects Union and Somerset county. The Union county Board of Freeholders has been anxious to erect a first-class bridge, replacing the present unsightly structure. This has been prevented by the Somerset county board which will not spend the money necessary to carry out the proposition. It is said that the Somerset county board is determined that the wishes of the board on this side of the brook be not carried out, and from present appearances the chances for the desired structure are slight.

HIS CLASS THERE.

W. D. Williams Entertained His Sunday-School Class Last Night.

The Sunday-school class of young women at Trinity Reformed church, taught by W. D. Williams, of West Fifth street, was entertained last evening at the home of the teacher, when a very pleasant time was had by all.

Various games proved a source of amusement, while the host added to the pleasure of the evening by reading a story of interest and rendering one of his own compositions on the piano. There were also vocal and instrumental selections by Miss Florence Smalley and Mrs. Chauncey F. Colthar, which were well received. At the close of the programme refreshments were served.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Williams, Mrs. William Wyman, Mrs. Chauncey F. Colthar, Miss Florence Smalley, Miss Louise Lunger, Miss Matie Force, Miss Lydia Wyman, Miss Laura Wikoff, Miss Erma Green, Miss Bessie Remsen and Miss Edith Huff.

To Be Repeated.

Illuminated sacred songs, arranged by J. F. Billet, assistant secretary Y. M. C. A., and given at an entertainment under the auspices of the Willing Workers of Trinity Reformed church, last Tuesday evening, was so highly spoken of that a request has been made to repeat the same, together with the entire entertainment. This will be done Friday evening, May 19. Some slight changes will be made in the original programme.

Preparing for Summer.

Miss Adams, representing Adams & Chapman, the East Front street milliners, has returned from New York, where she has been inspecting all the newest things in summer styles. The very latest vogues in hats, flowers, foliage and laces have been purchased by her and Plainfielders will be well repaid by inspecting the stock.

DEATH OF W. J. MILLS.

Promising Young Man Passed Away at His Home on Elm Place.

The death of Wm. J. Mills, son of Robt. and Eliza A. Mills, occurred last evening at his parent's residence, 66 Elm place.

Mr. Mills was taken ill Saturday, but he had been in poor health for some days previous. He was a promising young man, twenty-seven years of age; a machinist by trade.

The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of his parents. Interment will take place in the M. E. cemetery.

GREAT NEED OF COURAGE

BY THE CHRISTIAN IN DOING THE WORK OF THE LORD.

Evangelist Pratt Told Important Truths Regarding the Christian Work Last Evening.

"God's army is always a victorious army but He wants none in the ranks who are fearful or easily dismayed and discouraged." He can win great victories with very small forces. Gideon's band of three thousand picked men easily routed an army of 135,000 Midionites. Christians in order to gain great victories for Christ and the church must have zeal, courage, faith." These were some of the thoughts expressed by Evangelist J. R. Pratt at the Monroe Avenue church last night. "The Christian young man or young woman will need courage. If one walks close to God and shows the sins of the age he is quite likely to be ostracised by the four hundred of the so-called best society. The victory over the Midianites was gained by what might seem ridiculously unfitted implements of warfare, pitchers, torches, trumpets, not a single Winchester rifle nor a round of ammunition.

"Christian man, Christan woman, let the pitcher, the vessel which covers up your light be broken. Let your light flash out clear and steady. Denounce sin with a trumpet like voice which shall always ring true."

In the afternoon class for Bible study Mr. Pratt spoke concerning the ways in the Holy Spirit, reveals Christ to the world in and through the Christian believer. The supreme purpose in the Christians life should be the revelation of Christ and to do business for God and to do it intelligently and definitely. Consecration is man's act. Cleansing and filling are acts of God working in the heart of the believer through the Holy spirit. This constitutes sanctification.

Mr. Pratt speaks at the last week night service tonight at 8 o'clock. There will be no meetings tomorrow, Sunday morning at 10 o'clock there will be a meeting for prayer and consecration, at 11 o'clock, sermon by Mr. Pratt. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock a meeting especially intended for young people will be held at which Mr. Pratt will speak and Chas. L. Lewis will sing. Mr. Pratt's subject will be "Traits of Character That Win." Sunday evening at 7:45 o'clock the closing service will be held.

AUCTION SALE.

Given for the Benefit of the Swedish Pilgrim Church Last Night.

Nearly $100 was cleared for the Swedish Pilgrim church by the sale of fancy articles made by the Sewing Circle, in the Congregational church, last evening. Rev. O. G. Norsen was in charge and, as auctioneer, he disposed of seventy garments, all of which brought fair prices. He was assisted in selling by Henry Brandt and Miss Matilda Gustavson.

Following the sale refreshments were served and a social hour followed. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Annette Brandt, Mrs. August Brandt and Mrs. Matilda Johnson.

Injured in Trolley Accident.

Robert Mattox, the fifteen-year-old son of Roundsman Mattox, was among those injured in the trolley crash on East Fifth street, Wednesday night. He has since been confined to his home and suffers greatly from internal pains. Dr. Long is in attendance.

Improving Property.

Howard A. Pope has purchased of the Lattimer estate the house and lot, 114 East Fifth street, opposite his present residence, and after he gets through the extensive repairs he is making to the property it will be a credit to the neighborhood.

Sewing School's Work Over.

Tomorrow the Sewing School of Warren chapel will hold its last meeting of the current year. The children's work will be on exhibition at 10:30 at the chapel. All interested are invited to attend.

A COMPARISON OF VALUES

PROPERTY ON THE COUNTY LINE IS ASSESSED IN BOTH COUNTIES.

Difference in Figures in City and Borough Are Clearly Shown by This Example.

Assessed valuations in North Plainfield are higher than in Plainfield. That means that a property of a given true value, say $1,000 or $5,000 or $10,000, or any other sum, is valued for assessment purposes higher in the borough than property of the same value is valued for assessment purposes in the city.

Take as an example the carriage repository on Somerset street, which is half in Union and half in Somerset county. The Plainfield assessor values the half in the city for assessment purposes at $1,600. The borough assessor values the half which is in Somerset county at $1,900. The tax rate in the city is $2.50 per hundred dollars, which makes the tax on the city half of the building $40. The borough tax rate is $2.42, which makes the tax on the borough half of the building $45.98.

This is a fair illustration of a condition which exists throughout the whole city and borough, and shows that while the tax rate is lower in the borough, the taxes are nearly fifteen per cent higher.

AIDING SCHOOL ATHLETICS

ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN BY PUPILS OF THE BOROUGH HIGH SCHOOL.

Clever Programme of Music and Recitations Was Well Rendered in School Hall.

The entertainment given last night by the pupils of the North Plainfield High School in aid of their athletic association was, from the viewpoint of an excellent and well executed programme, a decided success. But the boys and girls should certainly have been rewarded for their efforts by a larger house.

The first number on the card was a piano trio, the Misses Clara VanFleet, Minnie Green and Alberta E. Waterbury taking part. This was delightfully rendered; so also was the smart chorus "Rock-a-bye" which immediately followed. Humorous sketches recited by Grover Kipsey received due praise. Miss Myra Lippincott and Edmund LaPorte acquitted themselves most favorably in a pretty duet.

A solo by Miss Agnes LaBoyteaux, with violin obligato, Miss Seal, elicited well deserved applause. Worthy of special mention was the lively chorus "My Sunflower Sue," in which seven boys and seven girls sang. The girls were robed in gowns of light green with a headgear of orange crepon designed so as to resemble the petals of a sunflower. This chorus was heartily encored. A violin solo by Miss Seal was of more than ordinary merit; as an elocutionist, Ursula Krewson exhibited talent of no mean order. The Misses Bessie and Florence Wyckoff performed most satisfactorily in a piano duet and in the quartette "Uncle Ned," the Misses Winifred Carroll, Hazel Martin, Florence Lawson and Clyde Slater delighted the audience with an old favorite. Enjoyable and mirth provoking was "Hoo Doo Doo Man," a chorus and pickaninny caricature by seven of the younger students, Clarence Hand, Marshal Ward, Edwin Perrin, Harry Smith, Carroll Steiner and Sherman Harbelle. The entertainment closed with the chorus "Twilight."

First Half Holiday.

The local journeymen horse shoers are jubilant over securing the last boss shoer in city or borough to sign the Saturday half holiday petition. He is Jerry O'Connor, of the borough, whose name was added to the list yesterday. The journeyman will have their first half holiday of the season tomorrow.

Gave Him Reception.

The Cameron Pleasure Club tendered a reception last evening to Chas. Kenneth at its rooms on West Second street. A committee, consisting of Ira C. Bowers, B. Collins Firstbrook, Tony Lusardi, was appointed to make arrangements for an excursion to Coney Island June 25.

Mrs. Baldwin, of West Front street, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia and enlargement of the liver, has been given up by her physician and her death is expected at any time.

NO CHANGE IN STRIKE

Bosses Have Given Plumbers and Painters Until Monday to Accept Proposition.

NO ANSWER RECEIVED.

Employers Are Willing to Grant Additional Twenty-Five Cents to Begin June 1—Plumbers Met Last Night—They Are All Out —Few Painter Are Also Out.

Twenty-four hours have made little or no change in the local strike situation. All the plumbers and a number of the painters are still out. In the other building trades, work is going on as usual. It now looks as if the crisis would come Monday morning. That is the time set for the final answer. If the journeymen fail to take advantage of the concessions offered by the bosses, the latter declare that they will then move to secure other help.

Sometime ago, the Master Mechanics Association agreed that the demand for more wages by the journeymen of the building trades should be granted to the extent of twenty-five cents more a day, beginning June 1. This will hold good, they say, until Monday morning. If the men on strike do not return at that time, their places will be filled by men from out-of-town.

Last evening was the regular meeting night of the journeymen plumbers and they considered the stike. It is understood that they will hold out for the fifty cent advance originally asked for. Some of the working bosses have been completing jobs left unfinished but no steps will be taken to fill the strikers' places until it is assured that the strike cannot be settled by Monday morning.

There was no change in the situation among the painters. Besides Woolston & Buckle and Rushton & Hansen, which firms employ a large number of the local painters and paper-hangers, William C. Chamberlain, of East Third street, has not agreed to the demands of the journeymen. Two members of Amalgamated Paperhangers Union came out from New York and were put at work on a "rush" job for Woolston & Buckle. No more outside help will be put to work by the painters until a final decision is reached in the present trouble Monday morning.

While there has been more or less talk about a sympathetic strike in the other branches of the building trades, the men are still at work.

TWO NEW INDUSTRIES.

Will Occupy the Old Oil Cloth Works in the Near Future—A Factory and a Foundry.

There is a scene of activity about the old oil cloth works, where in the near future there is to be established two new industries. One is a sash and blind factory and the other a brass foundry. J. G. Burdick will have the sash and blind factory and Former Sheriff L. M. Codington, of Somerville, will operate the foundry.

Mr. Codington has been conducting a foundry business at Bound Brook, but is now moving his plant to this city. There is some talk of forming a stock company to conduct the two businesses on a large scale. In order to accommodate the two plants additions are being made to the building.

JURY STILL OUT.

Vetromile Case Was Retried in the City Court This Morning.

Before City Judge Runyon and a twelve-man jury, Leonardo Vetromile, or "John Wilson" was again placed on trial for assault and using profane language, in the Council chambers, this morning. Counsellors Clark for the prosecution and Swackhamer for the defense went over the old points of the case and it was given the jury at 1:20 o'clock. At 2 o'clock no verdict had been reached.

Was a Surprise.

The revealing of the motto "1902" by the seniors at the North Plainfield High School concert last evening was no small surprise to the juniors, who had not suspected the design of their elder brothers.

Endeavor Social.

A sociable will be held under the auspices of the Park Avenue Baptist church Christian Endeavor Society, this evening. An informal programme has been prepared for the occasion.

PARTICULAR SYNOD COMING

NEXT REGULAR MEETING AT TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH THIS CITY.

Will be Held Here Tuesday and Wednesday, May 6 and 7—Outline of Programme.

The Particular Synod, of New Brunswick, will hold its next regular meeting in Trinity Reformed church, Plainfield, Tuesday afternoon, May 6, at 3 o'clock. The Lord's Supper will be celebrated immediately after the opening of the Synod.

The sermon by the retiring president, Rev. John Hart, and the special address by Rev. W. H. Beocock will be delivered in the evening. Representatives of the Boards will be received at about 11 o'clock Wednesday morning.

It is expected that there will be nearly forty delegates present and in many instances their wives will accompany them. The Ladies' Christian Work Society, of the church, will serve a supper to the delegates in the lecture room of the church Tuesday evening, the opening day, and a dinner Wednesday noon. Tuesday evening the delegates will be taken to the homes of members of the church and entertained over night.

It is an honor to Plainfield to have such a prominent and representative body of divines and elders meet in this city and no doubt the visitors will be given a cordial reception. The meetings will be open to the public.

EPWORTH LEAGUES GATHER

EIGHTH ANNUAL STATE CONVENTION AT BURLINGTON.

Sessions Began Yesterday and Will Conclude With Tonight—The Speakers.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Burlington, May 2—The eighth annual convention of the New Jersey Conference, Epworth League, opened here yesterday.

An address of welcome was delivered by Rev. Dr. W. P. Davis, presiding elder of the Trenton district. Appropriate responses were made by Rev. G. S. Meseroll, Rev. F. C. Mac Corkle and Rev. Dr. J. F. Shaw. At the close of the morning session an address was made by Rev. F. D. Gamwell, of New York.

At the afternoon sitting, Rev. J. E. Lake spoke on "The League and Our Conference Paper;" Rev. J. W. Lee, "The League and Amusements;" Rev. S. H. Hann, "The League and the Liquor Traffic."

This morning there were conferences on "Our Department Work," in charge of Rev. M. E. Snyder and Mrs. Emily W. Helms. "Song Through Sacrifice" was the subject of an address by Rev. Geo. H. Neal, and "The Holy Spirit Essential to Our Success" was a paper by Rev. H. J. Zelley.

Department conferences will be continued this afternoon and Rev. T. S. Brock assisted by Rev. S. G. Pitt, will be the conductors. Rev. C. L. Mead, of Hoboken, is booked for an address on "Personal Power." On the programme also is a symposium on "Revivals" by Rev. G. L. Dobbins, Rev. J. L. Roe and Rev. Dr. E. Hewitt.

The junior rally, in charge of State Superintendent S. H. Thompson, concludes the afternoon proceedings.

The closing sermon tonight will be preached by Rev. Dr. John Handley, of Long Branch.

Borough Council Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the North Plainfield Borough Council takes place this evening. The advisability of erecting a new fire engine headquarters will be discussed. It is not probable that the meeting will deal with the question of consolidation.

To Send a Delegate.

It is the purpose of the Loyal Temperance Legion of New Jersey to send a delegate to the National W. C. T. U. convention this year, and the Plainfield branch has been asked to assist in raising a sufficient sum to do this.

Funeral of Infant Son.

Funeral services over James, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Krog, of Terrell road, were held from the parents' home yesterday. Rev. J. O. McKelvey was in charge. Interment was made in the North Plainfield cemetery.

GIVEN UP HOTEL.

Albert Moffett, Victim of Trolley Accident, Has Taken to Farming.

Albert Moffett, well known to Plainfielders as the hotel keeper at Clark township, near Rahway, has disposed of his hostelry to engage in farming. He moved yesterday to a farm in Mountainside borough, back of Westfield, and will hereafter devote his time to tilling the soil. Mr. Moffett has only recently recovered from severe injuries sustained in the trolley accident at Westfield last spring, when a large car turned completely over in rounding a curve.

MUSICALE TO AID CHURCH

WAS GIVEN TO LARGE AUDIENCE AT SAENGERBUND HALL.

Under Auspices of the Consistory of German Reformed Church Last Night—Those Who Took Part.

A concert and general entertainment was given under the auspices of the consistory of the German Reformed church, last evening, the affair being held in Saengerbund Hall. The hall was crowded and the occasion proved to be both enjoyable and profitable.

The overture was played by A. Gaub, violinist, accompanied by F. Murray. Recitations were rendered by Mrs. Fred Bach, Miss Cara Weber and A. Wolf. The Misses Vordermeyer and Miss Windham played a piano trio and a zither duet was rendered by Miss M. Jellig and F. Jellig. Madame Menzeli Bartlett accompanied Mr. Gaub in a violin selection and a tenor solo was sung by H. Hoffman, accompanied by H. Eichhorn.

Among the others who contributed numbers on the programme were the Misses Ann Bartlau and Jennie Dresselt, and Otto Keller, von Carl Haser, Henry Dresselt Charles Dresselt and Herman Klinsman. The Saengerbund Society rendered a number of vocal selections. Herman Eichhorn acted as musical director.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

Officers Elected and Reports Received at East Third Street Chapel Last Evening.

The annual meeting of the East Third street chapel was held last evening at the chapel. C. W. McCutchen presided over the meeting.

W. C. Conger was elected trustee for three years in place of Irving L. Braly, whose term expired. E. L. Bonney was re-elected trustee for three years. He was elected treasurer. There was a balance of $180 reported in the treasury and all bills are paid. There is yet due $68 from subscriptions.

L. W. Randolph was re-elected superintendent and he gave a detailed account of the work during the past year, showing marked progress. The present enrollment is 140. During the evening Mr. McCutchen, president of the board, congratulated the workers at the chapel, especially the superintendent.

BARBERS ELECT.

New Officers Chosen For Journeyman Barbers' Union Last Night.

At the regular meeting of Journeyman Barbers' Union, No. 315, held last evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Alexander Stills; vice president, John A. Powers; corresponding and financial secretary, Fred C. Tramm; treasurer, Albert Braun; recorder, William Palmer; trustee, Donato DiLonardo; by-law committee, William Palmer, H. G. Wentrick and Wililam Griffin.

It was voted to retain the present meeting room in Trades Council Hall and at the next meeting plans will be discussed for properly observing the first anniversary of the organization which will be next month.

TEN YEARS AGO.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams Celebrated the Event of a Decade Ago.

In honor of the tenth anniversary of their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wililams, of South Second street, entertained fifty of their friends, last evening. Dancing was the feature of the evening's divertisements and was continued until an early hour this morning. Specialties were furnished by members of the Cameron Social Club, including Firstbrook, Bowers and Lusardi.

Case Discontinued.

The case of Albert Mackie against Frank O. Dunning, which was to have come up before Justice Mattison at 10 o'clock, this morning, has been discontinued.

EVENING OF SCOTTISH BALLAD AND STORY

Annual Entertainment of the Monday Afternoon Club at the Casino Last Evening.

SOCIETY FOLK THERE.

THE PROGRAMME WAS GIVEN BY MISS AMY MURRAY, A TALENTED ARTIST.

Sang the Songs of the Land of the Heather and She Related Quaint Stories of Scottish Wit—Old Folk Songs—Refreshments.

A brilliant array of society folk from both city and borough spent two delightful hours at the Casino, last evening, as the guests of the Monday Afternoon Club on the occasion of its annual entertainment. It was termed "An Evening of Scottish Song" with Miss Amy Murray, of New York, the sole artist. In the winning manner peculiar to the lads and lassies from the land of the heather, Miss Murray sang the simple songs heard among the cotters and related quaint stories with just enough of the real Scotch humor in them to depict the Scot's ready wit. She was accompanied on the piano by Charles Edmund Wark.

Miss Murray's selections were taken from the writings of James Hogg, "The Ettrick Shepherd," Hector Mac Neil, "Bobbie" Burns, Sir Walter Scott, the songs used by the Jacobites in the rebellion of 1745 and the old folk songs. Eleven ballads were sheaved into one for the first part and they were interspersed with half as many descriptions as to their origin and something of the life of the author. In several Miss Murray accompanied herself with the ancient Celtic harp.

The second part consisted of two old folk songs, "Saw You Johnnie Comin? quo she," and "The Barrin' o'the Door" and the always pleasing "Caller Herrin" familiar to every true Scot. To carry out the proper effect in the latter Miss Murray appeared in the holiday dress of a Newhaven fishwife.

At the close of Miss Murray's programme, at her suggestion, the audience arose and hand in hand sang with fervor, "Auld Lang Syne." It was a fitting finale to the evening's entertainment.

Refreshments were served to the guests during the intermission and for a brief period informality reigned. The social committee of the club was in charge during the evening but the receiving was done by Mrs. R. R. Conklin, assisted by Mrs. Charles A. Reed and Mrs. Walter M. McGee. Profuse decorations of apple blossoms and plants had transformed the Casino so that it was hardly recognizable.

MISS CODINGTON WEDDED.

Former Plainfield Young Woman Married in New York Wednesday.

Miss Mae Codington, daughter of S. A. Codington, of Somerville, and John Anderson F. Newton, of New York, were quietly married at the Church of the Transfiguration, in the latter city, Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock.

The bride was gowned in blue Foulard satin, and carried bride roses. She wore a picture hat. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Newton left for the south where they will spend three weeks. On their return they will reside in Brooklyn. Mrs. Newton formerly resided in this city and has many friends here.

LOST RIGHT LEG.

Operation Was Necessary to Save Life of W. W. Wooden.

In order to save the life of William W. Wooden, of East Front street, physicians at Muhlenberg hospital were forced to amputate his right leg above the knee, Tuesday. Gangerene had set in from an old trouble, presumably a bunion, which had affected him for a long time. Dr. E. W. Hedges, assisted by his brother, Dr. B. VanD. Hedges, performed the operation. The patient rallied from its effects but other ailments, aside from the main trouble, have greatly weakened his condition.

Gift Was a Surprise.

At the regular weekly meeting, yesterday afternoon, the Ladies' Society of the Gesang and Turn Verein made a birthday presentation of a willow rocker to Mrs. Fahn. After the presentation, which came as a surprise, refreshments were served.

FOR A PARK ON PALISADES

NEXT STEP OF LEAGUE FOR PRESERVATION OF THE PALISADES.

Annual Session of That Organization Will be Held in New York Tomorrow.

The annual meeting of the League for the Preservation of the Palisades will be held at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at 25 East Twenty-second street, New York City.

The league was founded by the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs in May, 1900, and it is through its efforts that the Palisades Commission was appointed, legislative action taken and the money appropriated by New York and New Jersey for the purchase of land from the edge of the cliff at Fort Lee northward for four miles and from the base of the cliffs from Ross's Dock northward parallel with the top. The Palisades Commission has already purchased fourteen miles of the Palisades, including four trap rock plants and quarries.

Except at Fort Lee, the front of the Palisades northward is inaccessible and the women of New Jersey desire to extend the privileges of this historic land, so an appeal has been made by the forestry committee of the New Jersey State Federation and Palisades Preservation League for co-operation in raising a fund of $10,000 for the purchase of a park on the top of the Palisades.

THEATRICAL.

Manager F. F. Proctor will prosecute a vigorous spring campaign at his seven beautiful playhouses. The introduction of full orchestras at three of his New York city theatres has added zest to the entertainments and the programmes of intermingled dramatic and vaudeville numbers are greatly enhanced thereby.

The souvenirs which are distributed at the daily matinees are attracting great throngs of women patrons to the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street, Fifty-eighth Street and Newark theatres. Pin trays bearing photographs of Adelaide Keim, Mabel Montgomery, Edna Archer Crawford and Beatrice Morgan, the leading women of the Proctor Stock, and of Frederic Bond, general stage director, are now being distributed.

Mr. Bond and Miss Keim will head the Proctor Stock Company, which opens the summer season at Proctor's, Albany, at an early date. The Stock Company will have possession of the Fifty-eighth Street and the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street all summer, and Proctor's, Montreal, will, as usual, keep open uninterruptedly, the Stock Company having sway, with revivals of the best successes of the New York dramatic season.

Continuous vaudeville will be presented at the Twenty-third Street for several more weeks, and the Fifth Avenue will keep open all summer, presenting the customary bills of dramatic and vaudeville interludes in continuous performance.

The Sunday concerts which are given at all of Manager Proctor's New York theatres will be continued, the specialties presented being of a musical and vocal nature, in keeping with the character of the day and in full compliance with the letter of the law. The best acts are selected from the weekly programmes and many additional engagements are made for Sunday only, the performances being continuous at all houses.

—The Plainfield Camera Club will meet Monday evening in the rooms on East Front street.

Don't Start Wrong.

Don't start the summer with a lingering cough or cold. We all know what a "summer cold" is. It's the hardest kind to cure. Often it "hangs on" through the entire season. Take it in hand right now. A few doses of One Minute Cough Cure will set you right. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. Children like it. "One Minute Cough Cure is the best cough medicine I ever used," says J. H. Bowles, Groveton, N. H. "I never found anything else that acted so safely and quickly." L. W. Randolph.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May be of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

The Asbury Park City Council, as was expected, has passed a resolution in favor of buying from Founder Bradley the beach front and sewer system for $150,000. As there was not a vote against the plan, it can safely be predicted that the scheme will be carried out at the close of the coming season. It will be the greatest step in advance that Asbury Park has ever taken. The prosperity of that resort in the past has been largely due to the wise guidance and business acumen of James A. Bradley, and it is fitting that while he is occupying the office of mayor the final steps shall be taken to give the city control of the beach front.—Newark News.

Mr. Fowler, author of the new currency bill, has the courage of his convictions that his measure is certain to win a victory, and that it is the panacea of our financial defects. All that it needs is that the people at large should thoroughly understand it, and should be educated up to its level of wisdom. With this end in view he is distributing 1,000,000 copies of his report, the largest issue of a politieal document on record except in Presidential election years. Farmers, merchants, lawyers, ministers, manufacturers, in a word, all who have influence in their respective communities, are thus invited to study the question in the light of Mr. Fowler's standpoint. Our New Jersey Congressman goes to work about the matter in the right way and aims at the bullseye. Once let the people generally become thoroughly awakened in favor of Mr. Fowler's admirable measure and Congress will not be long in response to what will then be a mandatory fact.—Newark News.

HALF CENTURY OLD.

The Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, of Elizabeth, Will Begin its Celebration Sunday Morning.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 2—The Madison Avenue Presbyterian church of this city will Sunday begin the celebration of its silver anniversary, which will last three days.

The church was founded in 1877 as the Madison Avenue chapel, and it has prospered greatly during the past twenty-five years. The congregation has also largely increased, and numbers many of the foremost people of Elizabeth. The celebration will begin in the morning, when an appropriate historical sermon will be preached by Rev. H. W. Hathaway, the pastor.

In the afternoon there will be addresses by Rev. Dr. E. B. Cobb, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church here; Rev. John J. Kerr, pastor of the Third Presbyterian, and Ira B. Wheeler, former president of Elizabeth's Board of Education and a deacon in the First Presbyterian church.

On Tuesday night next there will be a grand concert given, and an address by Dr. Charles D. Shaw, of Paterson. This will be followed by a social session of the congregation at which refreshments will be served, and will wind up the anniversary exercises.

BUT ONE NECESSARY.

Alex. F. Irvine Never Has to be Introduced Twice.

Rev. Dr. Schauffler, in writing of A. F. Irvine, of New Haven, says: "My endorsement of Alexander F. Irvine may do to introduce him for the first time to an audience. After they have heard him once they will need no endorsement from me or anyone else. He is a fine and fiery speaker and has plenty of matter from which to draw. I have heard many say that he is a delightful lecturer."

Mr. Irvine will give an illustrated address to men at Y. M. C. A. Hall Sunday afternoon and his illustrated lecture on "Millet," Monday evening in the supplemental course of the Y. M. C. A.

On Enrollment Committee.

C. J. Baxter, of Plainfield, president of the New Jersey State Teachers' Association, has appointed Cains Hoffman, of Somerset county, and M. D. Heyer, of Union, on the enrollment committee of the association.

Miss Emma Havens, of Brooklyn, is visiting Plainfield friends for a few days.

Like a Drowning Man.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such hold of me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marsh, well-known attorney of Nocona, Tex. "I took quantities of pepsin and other medicines but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am sound and well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. L. W. Randolph.

EXPECTS A RECORD BREAKING SEASON FOR THE CENTRAL.

How the Central is Planning to Meet it—Other Changes Now Being Made in the Jersey Central's Service.

In the current number of The Railroad Employe, appears a conversation lately held between a representative of that journal and General Passenger Agent C. M. Burt of the Jersey Central. What Mr. Burt has to say will be of general interset to the people of Plainfield.

He is reported as follows:

"We are anticipating the heaviest shore travel this coming season in the history of our company. We look for a largely increased traffic on our Sandy Hook boats which have been renovated and repainted during the past winter, and this service will be inaugurated on May 5.

"In anticipation of a greatly increased travel both to the seashore and Philadelphia, thirty new passenger coaches of the latest approved type have been ordered and their delivery in time for the early summer travel is guaranteed. In addition to the passenger coaches there are under construction one thousand box cars of 60,000 pounds, seven hundred and fifty steel coal cars of 80,000 pounds, five hundred steel gondolas of 80,000 pounds, and eight hundred refrigerator cars of 600,00 pounds capacity.

"A new ferryboat, a companion to the 'Lakewood' and 'Bound Brook,' will be put in service on June 1.

"Commencing on May 11 trains will be run between New York and Philadelpia on an hourly schedule, leaving both cities simultaneously on the even hour during the day. These trains will be furnished with the most elegant of modern equipment and will arrive and depart direct from the Reading terminal station in Philadelphia. This service will commence at 7 o'clock in the morning, continuing until 7 o'clock in the evening. The schedule of the present express trains between the two cities will be changed to conform to this hourly schedule. This service will be enteirely independent of the present Royal Blue Line trains, which will be continued as at present. The running time of the trains has not yet been definitely determined upon, but none of them will be scheduled to consume more than two hours and a half in covering the distance between the two cities, while the majority will be scheduled at two hours.

"To handle this additional service the immediate delivery is expected of three new locomotives of the Chautauqua type, and a like number of the Atlantic type. Previous to June 1 the delivery is expected of twelve specially designed engines for the suburban service, fifteen switch and twenty-seven ten-wheel freight locomotives.

"The summer suburban train schedule will go into effect on Monday, May 26."

TO ENTER PRINCETON.

The Johnson Trolley Line Will Begin Work There Next Week.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Princeton, May 2—The Johnson Trolley Company, whose entrance into the borough of Princeton was fought so bitterly by the college authorities, will begin work on the extension up Witherspoon street into the town Monday. Cars have been running only to the borough line up to this time, but within the next month cars will be running almost to the edge of the campus.

The main line will be extended east to New Brunswick, where connection will be made with lines from New York. In Trenton the line will use the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad tracks and a short line down Calhoun street, giving it an entrance into the heart of the city. Tracks will be laid over the Calhoun street bridge, connecting the city line with Morrisville, effecting communication with Philadelphia lines, completing the connection between New York and Philadelphia.

TEACHING AGAIN.

Miss Phillips Back at Oak Tree After Attack of Small-Pox.

Miss Susanna Phillips, a young teacher at Oak Tree, three miles from Plainfield, has resumed her duties again, having recovered from a severe attack of small-pox. It seems that Miss Phillips contracted the disease while nursing her brother, who finally succumbed to the ravages. The physician who attended Mr. Phillips was also taken ill with small-pox.

THOUSANDS STRIKE.

Widespread Labor Disturbances Mark May Day.

EIGHT HOUR DAY THE COMMON DEMAND

Demonstrations of Workingmen Orderly as a Rule, With the Exception of Russia, Where Many Were Killed In Riots.

NEW YORK, May 2.—May day strikes were the rule in several parts of the country, thousands of men quitting work. The eight hour day figured as a common grievance in the demands, while increases in the wage scale were sought by a majority.

Efforts to prevent disorder were general, but in Lodi, N. J., the striking dye workers got into a clash with deputy sheriffs, and during an exchange of shots a woman fell with a bullet in her arm, while a mill official was badly beaten.

Pittsburg led in the number of men out, between 12,000 and 15,000 being on strike. In Paterson, N. J., almost every trade is affected, the working population being as a rule idle.

As usual, May day was observed in the chief capitals of Europe by parades and demonstrations of workingmen. As a rule, these demonstrations were orderly and the day passed quietly.

A notable exception was in Russia. A dispatch to the Politiken of Copenhagen that was filed on the German frontier announces that the labor population of the while district between Moscow and Vladimir (central Russia) is in revolt. There have been numerous encounters between the workingmen and the troops, and many persons have been killed or wounded.

Quiet In Quaker City.

PHILADELPHIA, May 2.—May day in labor circles was a quiet one here, differences between labor and capital except in a few instances having been amicably adjusted. Structural iron workers to the number of 100 quit work owing to the failure of the Pennsylvania Steel company and the American Bridge company to sign the union agreement. Only three operations were affected. One hundred and fifty granite cutters were locked out by eight firms. The cutters want an advance, which was granted by twenty-two firms. There was a complete suspension of work among the tile layers and tile layers' helpers.

May Day In Berlin.

BERLIN, May 2.—The workmen of Berlin celebrated May day by holding forty-six large meetings, at which resolutions were passed demanding an eight hour day, labor reform legislation and the enactment of commercial treaties in order to give the laboring population cheap food. They demanded also that the government withdraw the tariff bill. No disturbances occurred here or elsewhere in Germany.

Planing Mills Idle.

READING, Pa., May 2.—Owing to the failure of contractors to sign the new wage scale for a year, dating from May 1, the planing mills of this city are idle. Over 250 men went on strike. The building operations are practically at a standstill as a result of the strike of hod carriers. These are the only trades having difficulty over the question of wages.

Carpenters Strike.

BAY CITY, Mich., May 2.—All carpenters employed by contractors have struck, and not a union man is at work excepting on individual jobs. There are about 170 men affected. The West Bay City Shipbuilding company, which employs a large number of carpenters, is the only concern which has granted the advance demanded.

Granite Workers Out.

GLOCESTER, Mass., May 2.—The granite industry on Cape Ann was stopped by the strike of 800 workers because their demand for a shorter day and an increase in wages had been refused. The quarry owners are willing to make a compromise offer, but the men will not listen to it.

Rioting at Passaic.

PASSAIC, N. Y., May 2.—During a fight between deputy sheriffs and a crowd of striking silk workers at the Alexander & Boettger mills, in Lodi, last evening a woman was shot. The clash was brought about by a fight between the strikers and the mill superintendent.

May Day In Madrid.

MADRID, May 2.—May day was celebrated by Socialist demonstrations and by the holding of Socialist meetings in all the chief towns of Spain. Speeches were made urging the claims of laborers, but no disorders are reported. There was very little abstention from work.

Forty-eight Mines Closed.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 2.—Forty-eight mines in Springfield and the Chicago and Alton subdistricts have closed, and 5,000 are idle as a result of the inability of the miners and operators to reach an agreement as to under machine and double shift work.

Hod Carriers and Carpenters Out.

PATERSON, N. J., May 2.—All the union hod carriers in the city went on strike, and in consequence practically all work on buildings now in course of construction has been tied up, as the carpenters are also on strike.

Mother Poisoned Children and Self.

DENVER, May 2.—Mrs. John L. Kingsbury, wife of the foreman of a local laundry, poisoned her two children, aged eight and twelve years respectively, and herself. All are dead. Despondency is given as the cause.

PHILIPPINE TALK.

Senate and House Continue the Endless Discussion.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Aguinaldo was the special subject of discussion in the senate yesterday. As soon as the Philippine government bill was taken up Mr. Carmack (Tenn.) resumed his criticism of the Philippine committee because of its refusal to call Aguinaldo and other Filipinos as witnesses. He maintained that as reflections by witnesses had been cast on the character of Aguinaldo he ought to be permitted "in all decency" to defend himself.

Mr. Carmack's contention was sharply combated by Mr. Foraker (O.), Mr. McComas (Md.) and Mr. Burton (Kan.). Mr. Culberson (Tex.), in support of a statement by Mr. Carmack that the war department suppressed information and falsified the Philippine situation, presented a letter from the secretary of war which, he thought, was proof of the Tennessee senator's assertion.

The secretary stated in the letter that it was not practicable to supply the information requested because no special account was kept of Philippine war expenses, and it would require the service of a large force of clerks to work out the information desired.

Both the Rosebud reservation bill and the sundry civil appropriation bill received consideration, but not final action.

The house gave most of the day to the District of Columbia appropriation bill, which was not completed. Mr. Shattuc (O.) spoke on industrial conditions and Mr. Gaines (Tenn.) in criticism of conditions in the Philippines.

Serious Disorders In Portugal.

LISBON, May 2.—The newspapers here say that a cabinet crisis is imminent. The student disorders which have occurred at Coimbra, the capital of Beira province, have necessitated the closing of the university there. The government authorized the rector of the university to issue a notice ordering all students not natives of the place to quit Coimbra within forty-eight hours. Immediately this notice was issued the students attacked the police, firing revolvers and throwing stones. Troops suppressed the disorders, and two students were wounded, one mortally.

Diphtheria Serum Successful.

BERLIN, May 2.—The use of Professor Behring's diphtheria serum has resulted, according to statistics just published, in the lowest death rate from diphtheria in Berlin in the year 1901 ever recorded. The deaths from diphtheria were then 469. Prior to the introduction of Professor Behring's serum the deaths from this disease ranged from 1,300 to 2,600 a year.

FAIR ONES ASSEMBLE

Convention of Woman's Clubs at Los Angeles.

BAR MORMONS AND SECRET ORDERS

Two Notable Contests For Seats as Delegates Settled Outside—Features of the Opening Day—Immense Floral Display.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 2.—The formal opening of the club woman's convention yesterday afternoon was markedly brilliant. Hundreds of delegates and visitors packed the Simpson auditorium to the roof. The interior was embellished with 50,000 calla lilies, and representative American women sat on the platform, while the usual happy greetings were exchanged between hostesses and guests.

The opening day was otherwise distinguished by two separate questions which would have developed into sensations had they reached the convention. One of them, which got as far as the board of directors, had to do with turning down a delegate from a secret society. The other, which concerned the possible unseating of Mrs. Roberts of Salt Lake City, wife of the former congressman from Utah, in the event that she should try to appear as a delegate, was squelched in its native state.

In the meantime the real skeleton, the colored question, will make away with enough time in the course of convention events.

Undoubtedly one feature that largely made impressive the opening session was the floral scheme, possible only in the land of flowers. The California lilies not only banked solidly the back of the platform, but the two balconies their entire length, while great clusters were tied to every aisle seat in the house.

After invocation by Mrs. Chester P. Darland addresses of welcome were delivered by Governor Henry T. Gage, Mayor M. P. Snyder, Mrs. Kate A. Bulkeley of Oakland, president of the California federation, and Mrs. Josiah Cowles, president of the local biennial board. Mrs. Lowe responded in so gracious a manner as to call out rounds of applause. Then came greetings from fraternal delegates.

The official reception, which closed the day, came off in the evening under the auspices of the Friday Morning club at the Women's clubhouse, a quaint structure of mission architecture, which had been transformed into a tropical bower.

Shaffer Heads Amalgamated.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 2.—All that now remains to be done by the Amalgamated association is the election of vice president, the appointment of the conference committee and the selection of the next convention city. The election, which resulted in a decisive victory for all the present officers, was the principal business yesterday. As forecasted, the opposition to President Shaffer centered their hopes in Thomas Williams of Zanesville, O., who was the only opposing candidate. The name of Assistant Secretary M. F. Tighe was not presented. Shaffer was triumphantly elected, receiving 148 votes to Williams' 56. When the result was announced, the executive received a great ovation. It is his fourth term.

Schley In Mississippi.

JACKSON, Miss., May 2.—One year ago Jackson received President McKinley as a visitor, and 5,000 patriotic citizens of Mississippi came to pay him homage. An equal number gathered in this city in honor of the arrival of Admiral Schley and his wife, and the welcome they received was one of whole souled southern hospitality. The city was given over to the distinguished visitors from the moment they arrived in the morning until they departed for Meridian at night, and thousands of people from many parts of the state enthusiastically greeted the admiral until the train's arrival.

Views of President Iglesias.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, May 2.—President Iglesias in his message to congress says that no negotiations can be made with the United States concerning the proposed Nicaraguan canal before a constitutional amendment authorizing the leasing of land for the canal is made. The president says also that the present crisis has resulted in the exportation of Costa Rican gold coin.

Pittsburg Strike Waning.

PITTSBURG, May 2.—Nine organized building trades in the Pittsburg district started the conflict yesterday for higher wages. Many of the employers agreed to the demands during the day, and at its close there was every indication that the struggle will be of short duration. Of the 12,000 men who were ordered out in the morning probably not more than 6,000 are idle today.

New Portuguese Minister Presented.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Visconde de Alte, the new Portuguese minister, called at the state department yesterday attired in the full uniform of his rank and was escorted to the White House by Secretary Hay and presented to President Roosevelt. At the White House the minister delivered the usual felicitous speech, and the president responded in kind.

Spanish Claims In Cuba.

HAVANA, May 2.—Two officers representing the Spanish government have arrived at Havana for the purpose of claiming the ordnance and ammunition left in the fortifications of the island at the time they were evacuated by Spain. The military authorities here, it is understood, consider the larger portion of this war material to be worthless.

THE STRIKE.

It is earnestly to be hoped that the present strike in the building trades will be settled as speedily as possible.

The public at large does not know or realize the actual rights and wrongs of the question. It simply knows that the prosperity of the community is threatened by this tie up of most of the building trades. As it is a subject which directly affects all, both sides should be willing to give and take a trifle so that a satisfactory settlement can be reached without delay.

Even during the winter it was seen that warm weather would bring lots of business in building circles. A number of large contracts are now to be awarded soon while there is prospect of other important building operations to be planned before many months pass by. This means lots of work for the local contractors and those they employ. The sooner, therefore, the present strike is settled, the better it will be for all concerned.

This is not a time to give vent to personal feeling. Both sides must view the situation rationally and without prejudice. That is the only way whereby the employer and employe can reach an amicable understanding. The interests of the public demand that work go on with as little delay as possible. If committees from the interested parties cannot come to terms, impartial arbitrators are always possible and should be selected without delay.

When the Borough Council meets tonight, it is probable that a resolution will be introduced calling for an immediate election on the question of annexation. This resolution is fathered by the opposition. The Daily Press as the other advocates of the Greater Plainfield scheme, favors action on the question without unreasonable delay. That does not mean, however, that the question should be rushed through. There must be time for the elimination of any personal feeling and a proper consideration of the question according to its actual merits. When the people are ready to receive it in that mood, the election cannot come too quickly. Until then, however, it is the duty of the Borough Council to restrain the hot headed ones.

On sober second thought, the Somerset County Board of Freeholders decided to rebuild the Johnston avenue bridge over Stony brook, even if it did happen to be in the borough of North Plainfield. The new bridge has now been completed and received by the board. It is worth while remembering, however, how the freeholders acted when the subject first came up for consideration. It shows the temper of the people of Somerset county, outside of the borough, on the question of annexation.

SOME OF ATTRACTIONS TO BE FOUND AT LOCAL STORES.

A Few Interesting Items Concerning Greater Plainfield's Merchants

W. W. Wilson, of West Third street, has the best line of garden seeds in Plainfield. All varieties. His potatoes command a ready sale.

If it is too expensive to eat beef, try a vegetable diet. All spring vegetables, fresh and cheap, are sold at R. W. Barnes', on Park avenue.

Cool, refreshing drinks, delicious to the taste, are a feature at the Somerset pharmacy, corner Somerset street and Craig place. Quick and polite attention given all.

The sweet flowers of summer fill the air with fragrance, while the sweets at Campbell's confectionery store fill one with pleasure. These goods are made of pure material and are wholesome.

Whether or not a beef trust exists matters not to J. W. VanSickle, the North avenue market man. He accords his patrons the best of treatment in regard to the quality and price of meat. Give him a trial.

When a person wears clothes that fit all right there is a peculiar satisfaction. You are sure to enjoy this if you have Cashin, of Park avenue, make your clothes. He can serve you in the men's furnishing goods line.

While arranging for an afternoon tea don't forget that floral decorations enhance the attractiveness of the affair. C. L. Stanley, of North avenue, will arrange to supply any quantity you desire in the way of flowers.

To some people all kinds of milk are considered alike, but when you have tried the kind served by Wm. Lindsay & Son, of Mountain avenue, you will notice a difference. He sells pure milk and a postal card will bring it to your door.

C. M. Nagle, the West Front street druggist, now has his handsome new soda water fountain completely installed. It makes a pretty appearance in the day time but at night when lighted by twelve incandescent globes the effect is dazzling.

Jerry Foss, the Park avenue sea food dealer, has returned from Long Branch, where he completed all arrangements for having his fish shipped directly from the nets to this city. Mr. Foss is a member of a company which engages in deep sea fishing and which retails the catches inland.

It has become fashionable of late to hold marriages in May, instead of June. Beautiful flowers are always a feature of nuptial events. There is one place where you are sure to get gorgeous varieties. That's from W. H. Brower's Sons, of Broadway. Leave your order with John L. Brower, 127 East Fifth street.

Woodhull & Martin announce their annual sale of white goods. They succeeded in getting all the pieces opened at their mills to cut samples from and of course, buy them very cheap. This season's lot have been received and are now on sale. There are over 500 styles and about 20,000 yards in the lot and the showing is one remarkable for variety. Those interested should make early selections as there will be no more when sold.

A Department Devoted to the Minor Events in Greater Plainfield's Suburbs by Our Own Correspondents.

DUNELLEN.

Yesterday was May Day and last night the children enjoyed themselves immensely taking around flowers and other offerings to their favorites. In former years there have been a good deal of roughness and boisterousness but last night everyone was remarkably quiet.

In spite of the report that the Central offices were to be moved to Philadelphia May 1, all of the employes living in town have received passes for another month. The moving of a number who contemplated going with the offices will now have to be deferred.

All the members of the Ladies' Guild of Holy Innocents' church are busy preparing for the sale of home-made pies and cakes in the guild room Saturday afternoon and evening.

H. L. Terry, of Plainfield, spent Wednesday with his father, W. H. Terry. Mr. Terry has lately returned from a trip to the south and his health is much improved.

Word has been received in town that Miss Annie Burke and Henry Hill, two well-known local young people, have been married at Miss Burke's home in High Bridge.

A large number of tickets are still being sold for the entertainment to be given by the Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar Club Saturday evening.

Fred Wilcox, Jr., has resigned his position with the Central Railroad and accepted one as draughtsman in the Pond Machine Works.

Marjorie Wade has returned home after a visit of several months with relatives in Canada.

Mrs. Morris Rarick and Mrs. Abner Coriell spent yesterday in New York shopping.

John Rarick, of Newark, is spending some time at the home of his son, Morris Rarick.

Mrs. A. N. Randolph is spending several weeks with relatives in Quakertown.

Three new players have been secured to play on the Dunellen A. C. Saturday.

Mrs. Everett Gordon entertained company from Elizabeth yesterday.

Chas. Clark, of Centre street, spent Sunday with friends in Elizabeth.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held yesterday.

The checker club will meet this evening for special practice.

Some improvements are being made around the postoffice.

NEW MARKET.

The quarantine has been raised on the Kischner place which will be thoroughly fumigated by Health Inspector Addis, of Plainfield.

Percy Vail and family arrived yesterday from New York to spend the summer at their home in this place.

An entertainment will be given May 29 under the auspices of Lakeside Council.

Prayer meeting will be held this evening in the First Baptist church.

The brass band held a regular practice last evening in Recreation Hall.

A practice game of baseball will be played by the local team tomorrow.

The baseball field has been rolled and is in excellent condition.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Funeral services of Hannah, wife of Edward Mettett, were held from her late home in Newark yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Merrett was well known in the village, having spent her childhood here, being the daughter of Ann and the late Anthony Dobbins. Mrs. Merrett has been a patient sufferer for over a year with consumption but it has only been a short while that her family and friends have abandoned hopes of a cure. The end came peacefully Monday morning. Interment was made at Newark.

Miss Squires' class, of the public school, enjoyed a May walk to the mountains yesterday afternoon at the close of the school session. Flowers were gathered by the children and today Miss Robinson, a former teacher in the school but now teaching in one of the New York schools, will take them to the pupils in her class in New York who are not so fortunate as their country cousins.

The supporters of the baseball club are anticipating a large crowd at the opening of the season tomorrow afternoon. The strong Clinton Avenue team, of Plainfield, will be the opponents of the home team and a good game is assured. Game called 3:30 sharp.

During the week a number from town have attended the revival meetings being held in the Monroe Avenue church, Plainfield. Rev. Mr. Pratt is well remembered in the village, having held a series of meetings in the Baptist church several years ago.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., held a large and interesting meeting in its rooms, last night. Important business was transacted. A large attendance of the members were present.

Friday evening prayer meeting will be held in the Baptist church tonight. Rev. Mr. Shott will lead, the subject being, "Healing of the Man Born Blind."

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the close of the morning service in the Baptist church Sunday.

Mrs. John R. Haskard is making some improvements about her home on Grand street.

Township Committee meets in the township rooms tonght at 8 o'clock.

Horace Hand, of Plainfield, was the guest last night of friends in town.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Back street is being vastly improved. The gutters are being cleaned out, the sidewalks levelled and other general reparations are being done.

Many large catches of catfish, eels and suckers, have been secured from the brook since the pond was let out.

Edward TenEyck, of Newark, who is visiting here with his father-in-law, is suffering from the grip.

Miss Hattie Elliot is slowly improving from her illness of pleuro-pneumonia.

Camp No. 41, P. O. S. of A. held a meeting last night in Washington Hall.

PERSONAL.

Edward Heidloff, of Boston, has been visiting his brother, W. F. Heidloff, of Duer street.

Mrs. W. O. Chapman, of Roseville, will come to Plainfield within a few days to visit relatives.

Mrs. Felter, of Nyack, N. Y., is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Tier, of Bank place.

Miss Genevra M. Miner, of Freeport, L. I., has returned home after a visit with her uncle, Joseph E. Morse, of Franklin place.

Miss Isabel Frances St. John, of Simsbury, Conn., has returned home after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Allis, of West Fifth street.

Mrs. J. A. Allis and Miss Grace Daggitt, of Montclair, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Allis, of West Fifth street, have returned home.

Howard Taylor Lewis, who has been visiting at the home of his aunt, Mrs. George H. Babcock, of West Eighth street, has returned to Alfred University.

Frederick William Armitage, of Montclair, and Clifford Ficht Hutchings, a senior at Steven's Institute, have returned home after spending a short time with Plainfield friends.

Dangerous If Neglected.

Burns, cuts and other wounds often fail to heal properly if neglected and become troublesome sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve prevents such consequences. Even where delay has aggravated the injury DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve effects a cure. "I had a running sore on my leg thirty years," says H. C. Hartly, Yankeetown, Ind. "After using many remedies, I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes healed the sore." Cures all skin diseases. Piles yield to it at once. Beware of counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

AFTER THE TAX DODGERS.

New Yorkers Who Claim Residence Elsewhere Must Prove Claims.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Persons who live in New York part of the year and who claim exemption from personal taxation on the ground of acquired residence in other states will have an opportunity to prove the justice of their claims before the tax commissioners after May 15, when hearings will be had in all such cases.

A list of such persons has been prepared, and, as it is alphabetically arranged, Mrs. Caroline W. Astor, who is assessed $250,000 and who has established a residence in Rhode Island under the so called Gerry act, will be one of the first summoned.

Speaking for the board of tax commissioners yesterday, Commissioner Gillespie declared that it had been determined that technical residence in another state would not be accepted as evidence of right to exemption. In every case where exemption is claimed on the ground of nonresidence the claimant will be required to prove that he is a bona fide citizen of another state and that his residence here is merely incidental.

Besides Mrs. Astor there are a dozen or more New Yorkers who will be affected by this decision. The total of the assessed valuations on personality which this decision will affect is something more than $3,000,000.

PARDONED BY KING.

Officers of the Chicago Set Free From Venetian Prison.

ROME, May 2.—The king has pardoned the officers of the United States cruiser Chicago who have been imprisoned at Venice.

They were immediately handed over to the United States consul, from whose charge they will be transferred to the Chicago, which is ready to sail.

The imprisoned American naval officers generously indemnified the parties claiming damages for injury, and the public prosecutor telegraphed that all legal impediments to the prisoners' pardon were removed.

The claimants for damages had telegraphed to the minister of justice, Signor Cocco-Ortu, asking him not to accede to the petition until their claims were adjusted.

German Exposition Opened.

DUSSELDORF, Prussia, May 2.—Crown Prince Frederick William opened the Exposition of Rhenish-Westphalian Industry and German Art here. The president of the exposition in the opening address made use of the quotation from the late President McKinley, "Expositions are the timekeepers of progress." The machinery exhibition is regarded as the best ever assembled in Germany, and Joseph Brucker, the St. Louis exposition commissioner, expects to get some of its best features for St. Louis. Foreign exhibits are lacking. The buildings compare favorably with those erected at Paris, Chicago and Buffalo. The detached building erected by the Krupps, the gunmakers, cost $250,000.

Government Receipts and Expenses.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The monthly comparative statement of the government receipts and expenditures shows that during the month of April, 1902, the total receipts were $45,215,390, a decrease as compared with April, 1901, of $2,552,000. The expenditures for the month aggregated $40,799,263, which leaves a surplus for the month of $4,316,000. For the last ten months the total receipts were $464,218,269 and the expenditures $398,624,999, leaving a surplus for that period of $65,593,270.

A Stay For the Van Wormers.

HUDSON, N. Y., May 2.—Former Judge J. Rider Cady, counsel for the three Van Wormer brothers, sentenced to death for the murder of their uncle, Peter A. Hallenbeck, has served notice of appeal on District Attorney Chace. This will serve as a stay of execution pending argument before the court of appeals. Copies of the notice were filed with the county clerk and the warden of Dannemora prison, where the young prisoners are confined.

Submarine Boat Sails.

PHILADELPHIA, May 2.—The submarine boat Fulton, upon which an explosion occurred on Tuesday last, has passed out to sea from the Delaware Breakwater in tow of the tug Storm King. The yacht Mindora, which acted as a convoy to the Fulton on her voyage from Brooklyn to the Delaware Breakwater, also passed seaward. The vessels are bound for New Suffolk, N. Y. The Fulton has all of her original crew on board.

Lightning Strikes a Monument.

GROTON, Conn., May 2.—Lightning which struck the top of Groton monument during a heavy electrical shower threw the copestone, weighing half a ton, to the ground. The monument was built in 1831 to commemorate the massacre of Fort Griswold in 1781. The shaft is 150 feet high.

Cartoonist Nast For Consul.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The president has nominated Thomas Nast of New Jersey to be consul general at Guayaquil, Ecuador. Mr. Nast, who is well known as a veteran cartoonist, is an old personal friend of President Roosevelt, and his appointment is purely a personal recognition to a friend.

Brisk Demand For Liquor License.

NEW YORK, May 2.—The number of applications for liquor tax certificates received at the New York county offices of the excise department for the current fiscal year, which began May 1, is 7,029. The number of applications made last year was 6,977.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 4. "Prayer a Necessity"—Text. Matt. xxvi. 36-46.

"He went a little farther and fell on His face and prayed."

It was in Gethsemane. The full moon rode high in the heavens, lighting the slopes of the Mount of Olives, with its villas, gardens and tents of pilgrims who had come to the great Passover feast. The temple on Mount Moriah, across the Kedron valley to the west, rose in terrace after terrace of sunny whiteness, with its towers and pinnacles glittering with gold in the moonlight, a dream of oriental splendor.

The Master had eaten with his disciples the last supper, in which He had instituted a new sacrament of holy communion in bread and wine.

Judas had left the company to seek the chief priests and complete the plot for the betrayal of his Master.

Jesus and the eleven after the supper had left the city by the eastern gate and sought a favorite place of retirement under the shade of trees in an olive grove on the western slopes of the Mount of Olives. He clearly saw that the end was near. All the malice and hatred of Pharisees, Sadducees and Herodians were combining for His death. To one of ordinary sensibilities such a situation must have been full of inexpressible horror. How much greater anguish one of such tenderness of soul and spiritual delicacy as He had must have felt as the blackness of the whole situation rolled in upon Him!

Conscious of His Sonship with the Eternal Father and the full grasp of the spiritual truth of man's capability of sonship also to God, knowing all that rejection of their true relation to God must bring to men, yearning for them with fathomless love and earnestness and fully realizing that, in spite of all His works of mercy to the bodies of men, His appeals to their sense of duty, His demonstration of divine truth, those whom He had made every effort to win to righteousness were now with quenchless hatred conspiring for His death, all this burst over Him with power which unaided human nature could not withstand.

The soul was sorrowful, exceeding sorrowful, even to the point of deathly exhaustion.

The body has such intimate relations to the soul that the condition of one produces similar conditions in the other. The body was "very heavy."

Not sleep, but prayer, was His refuge. How many times in His life had He found in the night season on mountain tops, far from men, spiritual restoration by communion with the Father, which He needed for His work with men! Now He seeks His Father's aid. No other source of strength is to be found. This never fails. No one but Himself can ever know the full depth of the horror which filled His soul. He shrank from the bitter agony which racked soul and body and which hung over Him with deeper doom yet to come. "Father, let it pass if it can be Thy will." "Thy will be done." He conquers. He finds the rest of perfect confidence, the peace of trustful obedience. His submission is absolute acquiescence in the Father's will. No more fear, no faltering. The Father leads and holds His hand.

To every one for all time this is the lesson of supreme value. Here is prayer touching the depths of human need. Do you pray as Jesus did?

What Religion Is.

Religion is spirit permeating and controlling the world about. When it fails to control, it ceases to be. We are all living for some one thing. What that one thing is determines the character of our lives. Profession is not so much what one pretends to do as what he does. By this standard God will judge mankind. The supreme purpose of every life is its real service. Jesus approaches every man along the line of his favorite pleasure—the student among his books, the merchant amid his goods, the farmer on his farm. "These," He says, "are yours, but lovest thou Me more than these?" We may love them and ought to. The accent is upon the word "more." Our answer to that question anticipates the judgment.—Presbyterian Journal.

Broad Sympathy.

All the saints belong to the whole church of Christ, and that man robs himself of his inheritance who allows denominational jealousies or fears to govern the range of his sympathies. The streets of the city of God are exceeding broad. On them is room for the reconciliation of ancient enmities. —John E. McFadyen in "The Divine Pursuit."

Habit.

Habit is a mighty force and must either tend toward that which is good or that which is evil. It rests with us whether it shall be one of our best friends or one of our worst enemies.—Christian Intelligencer.

His Choosing.

If He had let me take the pleasant way
Whereto my steps were bent,
The path where birds sing in the boughs all day
Shaded and well content,

I had not found beyond the leagues of sand,
Toll worn, the mountain crest
From which mine eyes look over to that land
Wherein shall be my rest.

If He had let me slumber as I craved,
Pillowed in grasses deep
Beside the stream whose murmuring waters laved
The silver coasts of sleep,

I had not heard His footsteps drawing nigh
Across the lonely place;
Unknown, unloved, they would have passed me by Nor I have seen His face.
—Christian Endeavor World.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

TOPIC.—Prayer a necessity.—Matt. xxvi. 36-46.

In the garden of Gethsemane we see the Lord Jesus Christ in a number of different relations, but the one that here appeals to us is His attitude to God in prayer. He agonized for the sins of the world; He kept His favorite disciples nearest to Him; He warned His disciples against the dangers before them; He showed sublime resignation to the will of God, and with all these He illustrated the importance and necessity of prayer. No prayer is recorded in sacred history so pathetic and so comprehensive as the prayer of Christ in Gethsemane. It put God in His place; it manifested submission to the will of God; it recognized the fact that God is and should be supreme in all things and that we are absolutely dependent upon His will.

The example of Christ illustrates the necessity of prayer. Christ lived in constant communion and fellowship with God. Prayer was the constant attitude of His mind and the practice of His life. He felt the necessity of private prayer amid the cares and perplexities of everyday life. Devotion with Christ was not left to the supreme moments when the necessity of God's help and presence pressed heaviest upon Him. He prayed without ceasing. In His everyday life He spent much time in secret in prayer. And, if He needed to do so, how much more do we need time for secret prayer! Christ also felt the need of prayer in the great moments of His life. Before choosing the twelve He prayed all night. Before calling Lazarus from the dead He looked to God in prayer. Before the trying ordeal of the cross He sought a favorite place of prayer and poured out His soul in devotion and in agony unto God. And, if in the crises of His life He, the Son of God, needed to pray, how much more do we in our weakness and ignorance!

Our constant need of God proves also the necessity of prayer. If our need of God were only occasional, then prayer would be only an occasional necessity. But we need God every day, every hour, every moment.

I need Thee every hour,
Most gracious Lord.
No tender voice like Thine
Can peace afford.
I need Thee, oh, I need Thee;
Every hour I need Thee!
Oh, bless me now, my Saviour!
I come to Thee!

The temptations of life are constant. Our powers of resistance are not great. The spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak. Therefore we need to watch and pray lest we yield to temptation. Necessity is laid upon us to be in constant communion with God and to have His power with us at all times. The disciples slept when they should have prayed, and the consequences were disastrous. Therefore "watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation."

BIBLE READINGS.

Lev. iv, 1-3; Num. xv, 30; Deut. vi, 6-9; II Sam. vi, 6, 7; II Kings xx, 1-6; Ps. ii, 15, 90, 8; Matt. vi, 5-15; Luke xviii, 1-14; Col. iv, 2-6; II Pet. ii, 9, 10.

As He Is.

"We shall see Him as He is." That is the promise. We have not truly discerned Him yet. Not His disciples, who lived with Him in daily fellowship, who walked and communed with Him by the way, not even they saw Him in very truth. No mortal can so behold Him through the veil of flesh. And if even now we thrill with a wondrous and transcendent joy in those hours when our souls most closely approach the throne of God, what will be our rapture when in that bright heaven which may be nearer to us than we think we see Christ "as He is!" Be sure that no conception of Him can do more than dimly shadow forth His glorious reality. A thousand times more beautiful, more pitiful, more loving, more divine, is He than we have dreamed. Thanks be to God for the promise left us that we shall see Him as He is, and then—ah, yes—we shall be satisfied.—Beatrice Clayton.

God's Tests.

God's ways of testing us are His own. They are tried upon us when we least expect them. They strike us in our least protected part. They are to the unregenrate heart cruelty, but to them which believe they are the chastening which forms our baptism into the fold of God. That would not be chastening which did not hurt us. And whether the discipline be hard or light it is only a fool in intellect and an ingrate in heart who will not submit calmly and nobly to the decree.—Kate Upson Clark in Interior.

Needless Misery.

Much of our misery is needless. Even where it cannot be helped we make it worse by our worries. The affliction is imbittered and intensified by gloomy thoughts and feelings which we inject into it and by our refusal to accept the tender of compensating grace. Favoring providences are lost sight of in the imaginary ills. Life abounds in cheer, and if we want to we can get more sunshine than cloud out of it. Christian philosophy begets the hopeful and triumphant soul which sings amid the storm.—Presbyterian.

Kindness.

You may pulverize ice, but it is ice still, but let a sunbeam fall on it and it is soon dissolved. Abuse, however severe and humiliating, never softens men, but kindness will melt the most obdurate.—Philadelphia Methodist.

On Easier Terms.

Persons may taste religion and seem to like it if they could have it upon easier terms than denying themselves and taking up their cross and following Christ.—Central Presbyterian.

His Friend, The Enemy

By WILLIAM WALLACE COOK,

Author of "Rogers of Butte," "The Spur of Necessity," "Mr. Fitt, Astrologer," etc.

(Copyright, 1901, by the S. S. McClure Co.)

"My ill-treatment, I fear, has been overdrawn," said Guy, smiling. "I love the study of my fellow man, Miss Vlandingham, and although I have been put to some inconvenience while in Concord, I assure you that I have had a good deal of enjoyment out of the situation existing there. In trying times like these, human nature flies to the surface and that makes the study of character not only easy but delightful. I am glad, however, that you know I was not at fault when I met you at the lake. Did you hear of my telegram?"

"Yes, I know of that. Col. Keever told the operator that you had decided not to send it."

"And it was simply a coincidence that caused you to appoint, for our meeting, the very place, day and hour that was hit upon by Col. Keever and Col. Dingle for their affair of honor?"

"A coincidence entirely. You will forgive me, will you not, and forget my hasty words at the lake? Please, hurry, for I must be going."

"I forgive you freely, although I do not see how you could have acted otherwise than as you did."

"Your generosity prompts you to say that. But you must not be too generous. For instance, I would not want you to think that you must not strain every effort to win the county seat contest. It is a case of Greek meeting Greek, you know; and all is fair in war—"

"And love!" added Guy.

The color flew to her face.

"I like to see a man successful," she added, "even if he is fighting against me."

"I have done, and shall continue to do, everything I can to keep the county seat at Concord," averred Guy.

"There!" she exclaimed; "I like to hear you say that and in just that tone of voice. It sounds business-like and manly, you know, and that's the way I like to see people—some people—that is, people in whom I take an interest, and—what am I saying?" She bit her lip in vexation and stamped her foot. "Please let me go," she said, attempting to withdraw her hand.

He raised the gloved hand to his lips. The scarlet flew to her cheeks again and she turned and fled from the house.

CHAPTER XVIII.

The election was to be held on Tuesday, and the Monday immediately preceding had been fraught with matters of grave concern for Col. Keever. The most momentous of these matters was the strike of Sampson for back pay and higher wages; the most momentous because, like the newly-started snowball, the incident grew amazingly in importance until it ended in the Colonel's disgrace, his banishment from the town, and the wrecking of the Blizzard.

To begin with, the Blizzard had never been much of a financial success. It was a paper of Johnsonian excellence; that is to say, so ponderous in its utterance that it had to be read with a Webster—unabridged—at one's elbow. The little fishes talked like whales on every line and through every column. In a community necessarily deficient in its supply of Websters, the Blizzard was venerated and feared because of its evident learning. For the same reason, but few subscribed for it; and so small was the subscription list at the time the unfeeling Sampson went on strike and so meager was the advertising patronage that the Colonel had barely two dollars that he could call his own.

His printing "plant" had cost him $500, and he had paid all but $450 of that debt. He had no lots in Concord, and if called to a strict accounting by Guy it would have been found that there were 100 or so which had not been turned over. That very Monday, Pedro Smith had pressed the Colonel for a board bill long past due; the news company had sent his "patent outsides" by express, C. O. D., and the bundle was still in the express office while the forms waited in vain on the "Army" press.

What was the Colonel going to do? Racked by these worries he had entered his office only to be confronted by Sampson who demanded money and declared he would "stop work" if he didn't get it.

This was the last straw. The Colonel's patience gave way and hot words were passed between him and his printer. And then—well, he struck Sampson with his cane, and Sampson hit him with a chair, and threw him into one corner, and shook a fist in his face and vowed revenge, r-r-revenge! After that, Sampson went away in high dudgeon and the Colonel picked himself up, limped to his office chair and sat there for a long time, bitterly reflecting. The sun went down, the shadows of evening fell and still the Colonel's acute mind had found no loophole for escape from his present difficulties.

It was at this juncture that four gentlemen from Harmony, all of serious aspect and wearing black slouch hats, ascended the unsteady stairs that led to the office of the Blizzard. And one was very tall, and one had a glass eye, and the third stumped through life on a wooden pin, and the fourth carried an empty sleeve. Business called them to Concord and ill-fortune had prepared the Colonel to greet them in receptive mood.

The committee of ways and means—dark ways and questionable means—came at night as befitted doers of ignoble deeds. Their two-seated carriage and team were left at the edge of town and they were unseen by any save Sampson. He still had a key to the workroom and as they entered by the front he entered at the rear.

Col. Keever cherished no ill-feelings and he greeted his callers cordially and humorously. Should he put their names down for a year's subscription to his invaluable paper, two dollars a year, in advance.

No; the four gentlemen from Harmony had not called for any such purpose.

Indeed! While his four callers were unfortunate, in so far as they resided in a town with such a poor outlook as Harmony, yet lack of taste was not a crime, and Col. Keever was glad to extend the right hand of fellowship to Col. Dingle, Maj. Harp, Capt. Blue and Mr. Boomer.

Col. Dingle, Maj. Harp, Capt. Blue and Mr. Boomer gratefully acknowledged Col. Keever's amicable sentiments and begged to assure him of their own, coupled with a slight offering in the way of liquid refreshments.

This preliminary matter arranged to the voluble satisfaction of all parties, Col. Dingle asked to know if they were alone.

Col. Keever told him that they could not be more utterly alone if they were set down on the broad bosom of the Sahara—with nothing to drink.

Then they all laughed and clapped Keever on the back and seemed to think it an excellent joke, and Col. Keever became bland and facetious and informed them again of his everlasting regard.

After this, Mr. Boomer went to the door and looked out on the landing and down the stairs and came back seemingly satisfied.

"All clear, Colonel," he said, and Col. Dingle hitched his chair into confidential proximity to Col. Keever's.

CORPORATION NOTICE

Sealed Proposals for Sewer Bonds for the City of Plainfield, N. J.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a meeting thereof held April 28th, 1902, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Wednesday, the fourteenth day of May, 1902, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 151 North avenue, in the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, at which time and place said Common Council will receive and open sealed proposals for the purchase of sewer bonds to the amount of forty-one thousand dollars to be issued by the City of Plainfield under the ordinance of said city entitled "An ordinance to provide for the issue of bonds to defray the costs and expenses of the improvement of sewage disposal works, beds and appurtenances," approved April 7th, 1902, and the act of the Legislature of New Jersey entitled "An act to provide for drainage and sewerage in cities of this State," approved April 7th, 1890, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto.

Said bonds will bear date the first day of May, 1902, and be payable as follows: that is to say: On the first day of May, nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, five bonds; and on the first day of May of each and every year thereafter, down to and including the year nineteen hundred and thirty-four, five bonds, and on the first day of May in the year nineteen hundred and thirty-five the remaining six bonds: that said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four per centum per annum, payable semi-annually.

Said bonds are to be coupon bonds and to be in the form approved by the Common Council, and now on file in the office of the City Clerk of said city.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding, or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

All proposals must be endorsed "Proposals for purchase of sewer bonds," and should include the accrued interest from date of bonds to date of purchase.

By order of the Common Council of the City of Plainfield.

Dated May 1st, 1902.

JAMES T. MacMURRAY,
City Clerk.

THE BOOK OF THE PRESIDENTS.

By General Charles H. Grosvenor.

Twenty years member of Congress. Pronounced the most sumptuous and magnificently beautiful book ever issued in the United States. Contains 27 large full page Photogravure Portraits, reproduced from the best paintings in the White House, the Congressional Library, the Capitol Building, the Corcoran Art Gallery of Washington.

Contains Department of Autograph Letters, showing an autograph letter of each President of the United States, and Department of Armorial Bearings and Genealogical Notes. These two features have never before appeared in any book ever issued.

Both President McKinley and President Roosevelt posed specially in the White House for their portraits to be used only and exclusively in this work. This is the greatest honor ever conferred on any publication ever issued in this country. This work reflects credit upon the Nation. Every patriotic American citizen will buy it. Sells at sight. Small fortunes being made by men and women and large fortunes will be made on this publication within the next three years. High-class men and women employed on commission or part salary and part commission. $1,500 guaranteed yearly. Also Manager wanted to open a small office at home or in home town to have charge of agents and correspondence, look after the advertising and other work. Write for terms and circulars.

THE POWERS IN CHINA

American Energy and Millions Important Factors.

VON WALDERSEE ON EASTERN STATUS

Speaking of Relations of Foreign Nations In the East, the Count Says Our Influence In World Politics Will Be Beneficial.

BERLIN, May 2.—"American energy and American millions are making themselves felt in China more and more powerfully," said Count von Waldersee in an interview at Dresden, where he is visiting the king of Saxony. Count von Waldersee was commander in chief of the allied forces in China. Continuing, he said:

"We have come into closer political touch with the United States, and that country will exercise a favorable influence in the world's politics."

In this interview Count von Waldersee was surveying the present position of affairs and the relations of the powers in China. He referred also to the attitude of the officers of the armies of the powers toward each other and toward himself while he was commander in chief in China. Although he chose his language with caution, Count von Waldersee made several statements of the first importance. "The English-Japanese alliance is of pre-eminent significance," he said. "It reveals the seriousness of the world situation. In Japan, which I visited after leaving China, a collision with Russia is regarded as unavoidable. The Japanese troops which I saw are excellently trained.

"Several of the Russian positions in east Asia seem still to be exposed, but this will not be for long, because Russia is making the best use of her time. Her position at sea is daily growing stronger," said the count, "and great interests are at stake in China.

"From all sides, Burma, Tonquin, etc., energy is being directed toward the Yangtse valley, which, because of its position and wealth, is the most important part of China."

Referring to his relations with the French forces during the Chinese troubles, the count said: "The idea of revenge is no longer alive in the young generation in France."

Heroes of 1777 Remembered.

READING, Pa., May 2.—A historical monument has been unveiled and dedicated at Ephrata. The monument, which is a shaft of solid granite thirty-nine feet high, was erected in memory of the heroes of the battle of Brandywine, which was fought on Sept. 11, 1777. About 400 of the sick and wounded were brought to Ephrata. Two hundred died and were buried on Zion hill, where the monument stands. Ex-Governor Pattison was among the speakers.

Fair Postponement.

ST. LOUIS, May 2.—President D. R. Francis of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition company says that final action by the executive committee on the question of postponing the world's fair until 1904 will probably be taken before the close of the present week. The executive committee is waiting to hear from Senator Cockrell at Washington before taking this action.

New York Central Raises Wages.

OSWEGO, N. Y., May 2.—The wages of 250 employees of the New York Central shops in this city have been advanced from 10 to 40 cents per day. The monthly salaries of the operators, station agents and yard clerks of the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg division have been increased from $5 to $10, according to the length of service and efficiency.

President at Annapolis.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—President Roosevelt left here this morning for Annapolis to present the diplomas to the graduating class of the Naval academy. He will return to Washington about 6 o'clock in the evening. With the president went Miss Alice Roosevelt, Commander and Mrs. Cowles, Secretary Cortelyou, a stenographer and Dr. Urie.

Coler Confers With Hill.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 2.—Former Comptroller Bird S. Coler of New York city held a long conference with Senator David B. Hill here. He stated that his visit was for the purpose of discussing plans for organizing the Democratic party.

Oil Train Burned.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., May 2.—A broken drawhead caused the wreck of an oil train on the Erie railroad at Sparrowbush, west of Port Jervis. Fourteen cars were burned. The loss is $40,000.

Australian Cabinet Resigns.

MELBOURNE, Victoria, May 2.—The cabinet has resigned. The premier is considering the situation.

ON THE DIAMOND.

The baseball nine of the North Plainfield High School is out for practice today on the Myrtle avenue grounds.

Jim Montross will pitch for the Hope team in tomorrow's game with the Cuban Giants. He will be caught by "Dutch" Hartfelder. Fred Dixon will again be seen on first base.

The Y. M. C. A. baseball team will cross bats with the Dunellen A. C. team tomorrow afternoon at Dunellen. The players will assemble at the Y. M. C. A. building at 2:40 o'clock.

The grounds on the corner of Grant and Myrtle avenues will be the scene of a baseball encounter on Saturday afternoon at 3:30 between the Orange Y. M. C. A. and the Safe Works team.

The Imperial A. C. baseball team defeated the Arlington A. C. nine yesterday afternoon on the Hope chapel common. The score was 10 to 7. The battery for the winners was Howard Lowrie and Oscar Green and for the Arlingtons Brown and Combs.

The Underwood A. A. defeated the Netherwoods in a closely fought contest on the old golf grounds, yesterday afternoon. The score was 18 to 4. The Douglas brothers formed the battery for the Underwoods and VanDeventer, Ulrick and the Freeman brothers for the Netherwoods.

The following are some of the baseball games that have been arranged by local teams for tomorrow afternoon: Hope against Cuban Giants on former's grounds; St. Mary against Raritan Baseball Club on former's grounds; Safe Works against Orange Y. M. C. A. on Myrtle avenue grounds, North Plainfield; Y. M. C. A. against Dunellen A. C., on latter's grounds; Plainfield High School against Hasbrouck Institute on former's grounds; North Plainfield High School against Rutgers' Prep, at New Brunswick. On the Hope grounds there is a large and roomy grandstand and on the St. Mary field one on a smaller scale.

GOLF.

Frank O. Reinhart, Princeton, secured a place yesterday in the qualifying round for the President's cup played at Garden City, with a net score of 91. In the first round play he met Walter J. Travis and was defeated by 3 up and 2 to play. In the competition for the second cup J. Whitney Baker, Princeton, made a score of 94 in the qualifying round. In the first round play he beat J. R. Maxwell, Nassau, by 5 up and 4 to play. In the match play between Reinhart and Travis, the former's score was 86, while his opponent scored 83. While the friends of Reinhart are disappointed over his defeat they have satisfaction in knowing that he put up a strong game against the former champion.

INDOOR SPORTS.

The boys department will give a spring exhibition at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow morning commencing at 10:15 o'clock.

To Enter College.

The following pupils, who will be graduated from Leal's School in June, will enter the universities named: D. A. McGee, Yale; W. M. E. Perkins, Harvard; E. Clinton Hall, Columbia; Stuart Simons and Frank P. Simons, Princeton; Langdon Howard, Lehigh; Thomas Minford, Jr., Yale; F. Roland Horne, Lehigh; Ralph V. Schoonmaker, Columbia.

Rescue Mission Meeting.

The Temperance Rescue mission held its regular weekly meeting last evening in the First Church of Christ There was a large attendance and, besides the usual services, a musical and literary entertainment was provided.

New Hats Received.

The baseball nine of the Plainfield High School has just received new hats for the members of the team. They are of the university style, of a red color, with the letters "P. H. S." in blue.

Mr. Meredith Reappointed.

ATTEMPT TO HURRY VOTE

Borough Council Defeated a Plan to Rush Forward Elections on Greater Plainfield.

HIGH WORDS PASSED.

Councilman Lee Fathered the Resolution Which Was Bitterly Denounced by the Mayor — Lost by Vote of Two to Three—It Was Laid on the Table.

A surprise was sprung at the regular meeting of the Borough Council, last evening, when an attempt was made to secure the passage of a resolution to hold special elections this month on the question of annexation and consolidation, submitting the second proposition to the people before action be taken on the first. As from a clear sky, when all was going on serenely, the resolution, inroduced by Councilman Charles A. Lee, came as a thunder bolt. A stormy scene ensued, and finally on motion of Councilman Northrop the resolution was laid on the table.

From all appearances one would be led to believe that the session was going to be one of unusual importance for gathered there beside the borough fathers were leaders in the fight over the all important propositions. Among the distinguished ciizens present were men enthusiastic over the idea of United Plainfield, such as William L. Saunders, Peter A. Emmons, Elston M. French, Frank Curtis, George T. Rogers, Benjamin A. Hegeman, Jr., and F. W. Iredell. On the other hand seated in the rear of the councilmanic chamber were Chas. Place, W. W. Howland and A. V. D. Honeyman, all opposed to annexation and consolidation. Senator Charles A. Reed attended the session in his official capacity as borough counsel. Other interested spectators were George F. Fairchild, William G. Debele, David Bodine and Thomas Doud.

The only absentee among the councilmen was Charles Nichols, who is said to be against the consolidation proposition. Council was about to adjourn, when Councilman Lee arose and submitted the following resolution:

Whereas, a certain act entitled "An act to unite and consolidate the municipal corporations known as the inhabitants of the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union, and the mayor and council of the borough of North Plainfield," and also "An act to annex the territory within the boundaries of the mayor and council of the borough of North Plainfield, in the county of Somerset, to the county of Union," were approved by the governor April 16, 1902, and have, therefore become laws; and

Whereas by the enactment of these laws an unsettled state of affairs now exists, and, until elections thereunder, will retard certain important projects to the detriment of the inhabitants of this borough, therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the mayor and Council of the borough of North Plainfield, deem it wise to hold, as speedily as possible, the special elections provided for in said acts for the settlement of the questions involved by the legal voters of the borough.

Resolved, That a special election be held in the borough of North Plainfield as provided for in section 2 of the act, entitled, "An act to unite and consolidate the municipal corporations known as the inhabitants of the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union, and the mayor and Council of the borough of North Plainfield," approved April 16, 1902, on Thursday, May 15, which said date is hereby fixed as the date of such election under the provision of said statute; and that the clerk of said borough is hereby directed to cause public notice of the time and places of holding said election, to be given by advertisements signed by himself and set up in at least ten public places in this borough; said notices to be also published by said clerk in The Weekly Review, a weekly newspaper of said borough, printed and circulating therein, and also in The Daily Press and Courier News, daily newspapers of the city of Plainfield, on Saturday, May 3, and also on Saturday, May 10. The polls shall open and close on said day according to the provisions of the laws of the State, relating to elections, and the places for holding such election shall be in the rooms to be provided for by the clerk of the borough in the manner described in section eighty-five of the "Act to regulate elections" (Revision of 1898) and any supplements thereto. Such election shall be conducted by the officers of such borough provided by law for the time being to conduct elections therein.

Resolved, That another special election be held in the borough of North Plainfield as provided for in section two of the act entitled "An act to annex the territory within the boundaries of the mayor and Council of the borough of North Plainfield, in the county of Somerset, to the county of Union," approved April 16, 1902, on Thursday, May 22, which said date is hereby fixed as the date of such election under the provisions of said statute; and that the clerk of said borough is hereby directed to cause public notice of the time and places of holding said election, to be given by advertisement signed by himself and set up in at least ten public places in this borough; said notices to be also published by said clerk in The Weekly Review, a weekly newspaper of said borough, printed and circulating therein, and also in The Daily Press and Courier News, daily newspapers of the city of Plainfield, on Saturday, May 10, and also on Saturday, May 17. The polls shall open and close on said day according to the provisions of the laws of the State relating to elections, and the places for holding such election shall be in the rooms to be provided for by the clerk in the borough in the manner described in section eighty-five, of the "Act to regulate elections," (Revision of 1898), and any supplements thereto. Such election shall be conducted by the officers of such borough provided by law for the time being to conduct elections therein. Charles A. Lee.

Mayor Smalley was taken completely by surprise and as soon as he could get to his feet he asked Councilman Lee if his resolution was intended to be taken seriously. He wanted to know whether Mr. Lee was in his right mind, to which he received reply that the latter was well aware of what he was doing. His Honor stigmatized the action as "outlandish to come up in that form" for, said he, the matter is too serious a proposition to be dealt with so speedily and lightly. Mr. Lee inquired if his resolution was not introduced in the proper way, to which the Mayor retorted that a resolution was proper, but the purpose in this case was ill advised.

Councilman Northrop moved that the resolution be referred to the borough counsel to decide upon its legality and also the technicalities in the proposition. A vote on Mr. Northrop's motion was about to be taken when Mr. Lee protested asking if it was right to sidetrack his resolution. "The people would be sidetracked if that resolution were passed," declared Mayor Smalley with much vehemence.

A discussion followed concerning which motion should be put, Mr. Lee stating that he had a right to offer the motion and that it should receive impartial attention. By request the counsel gave his opinion on the question stating a matter could be referred to him at any time.

Mayor Smalley then took another shot at the resolution declaring that in all fairness the action in introducing such a resolution was highly improper and gave vent to his feelings freely.

"Your remarks are out of order," said Mr. Lee.

"I wish to say right here, that the mayor is never out of order," was the response from the chair.

"I have rights here," shouted Mr Lee and then more arguments took place, the Mayor at one stage declaring that Mr. Lee was wrong in one of his statements. Councilman Northrop ended the discussion, which was very warm, by withdrawing his resolution and substituting that the resolution be laid on the table. Messrs. Arnold, Clark and Northrop voted "aye" and Messrs. Codington and Lee "nay," the chair deciding that the motion was carried.

Councilman Northrop then moved that the borough counsel prepare a proper resolution in the matter and that the Council itself at a future time set dates for the elections. Again the vote stood three to two, Codington and Lee voting in the negative.

Councilman Clark made some remarks concerning what he knew of the proposition to introduce the resolution, declaring that in his opinion sober public discussion would better serve the desired end at present. He moved that a committee of three be appointed to investigate the advantages and disadvantages of annexation and consolidation and to glean the opinion of the citizens in the matter. In voting on this motion the lines were drawn as they were on the two previous ones.

Mayor Smalley immediately named as a committee to ascertain the benefits and disadvantages Councilmen James

COMPANION OF MISS STONE WRITES HERE

Letter From Madame Tsilka Has Been Received by Rev. C. L. Goodrich, of This City.

WAS READ ON SUNDAY.

INTERESTING WORDS FROM ONE WHO PASSED THROUGH THRILLING TRIALS.

She is a Turkish Subject and is Now Held at Salonica for Examination by the Turks—Inquires After Her Plainfield Friends.

An interesting communication in the shape of a letter from Madame Tsilka was read by Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, Sunday morning during divine worship. Writing soon after her release from a captivity, which was generally felt would end in the martyrdom of herself and friend, Miss Stone, her words seem to be as a voice from the grave.

Everyone remembers the awful days spent by Miss Stone and Madame Tsilka in the mountain fastness until ransomed from the brigands by friends in this country. Friends in this city, especially among the Congregationalists, were in much suspense, and this letter is especially welcomed by them. Excepting a part inquiring about some persons here, the communication is published in full.

It is as follows:

Salonica, Turkey, Europe, April 9, 1902.

My dear Mr. Goodrich—Thank God, I suffered the martyrdom of motherhood, but not that of death. God is great! God reigns! Miss Stone and I can speak of experience now, that God is mighty to save! When we were carried to some unknown region far away from our beloved ones, isolated from all other human beings except the brigands, God was with us, for who sustained us in those trying hours, weeks, months? It was God.

Mr. Goodrich, I do not know how to thank you for your thought and sympathy expressed in your article in the Congregationalist. It is so comforting to know that our friends have thought of us, have prayed for the captives. How often I thought of my friends in Plainfield. How my mind and soul would feast on the memory of the past! I recalled the friends by name. * * *

I thought of your little church and how the few I met there impressed me with their earnestness and spirituality. But to think that I ever again should sit in church to worship God, was too good to believe. Now to my great joy my room opens into the chapel where the little flock at Salonica worship God every Wednesday night and twice on Sunday.

My mountain daughter Ellen is very well and strong. She little cares what the papers write about her. Some make her older than she is. She was born on January the fourth. I am well comparatively speaking but it seems to me that I shall never regain the strength of nerve that I had before the capture. You may wonder why we are at Salonica and not at our field in Korteha? Miss Stone, being an American citizen, refused to be held for examination by the Turkish authorities, but I am Turkish subject, so they keep us here and question us at their pleasure. Our country is such that we suffer not only from brigands, but also from the Turks. Mr. Goodrich pray for us that God may lead us to our work again and that He may bless the suffering thro us. Please remember me to all my friends.

Very sincerely yours.
Katerina Stephanova Tsilka.

NEW UNIFORMS.

Have Been Received by Members of Crescent Division, U. R., K. of P.

Crescent Division, No. 13, Uniformed Rank, Knights of Pythias, received new uniforms for its members, last evening. They consist of a natty military suit with fatigue cap and accoutrements. Quartermaster Charles McGinley has a gorgeous regalia made from designs prepared by himself, which stands out in striking contrast with the other sombre garbed Knights. The uniforms will be worn in public for the first, the third Sunday in June when the Knights of Pythias observe their annual custom of decorating the graves of departed brothers.

Mrs. Pliny Fisk, who has been spending the past season in New York, has returned to Plainfield and taken up her residence in West Seventh street.

ONE OF THE REASONS WHY

BOROUGHITES ARE NOW COMPELLED TO PAY MORE TAXES.

And They Do Not Have All the Advantages That the Residents of the City Do.

If a house and lot in the city worth $5,000, is assessed at $2,000, the tax rate being $2.50 per $100, the tax bill will be $50. If a similar house and lot in the borough also worth $5,000 is assessed at $2,400, the tax rate being $2.42 per $100, the tax bill will be $58.08. The city property has the benefit of sewers, and is much more desirable for that reason alone. Is it any wonder that there are no new houses going up in the borough, or that houses stand vacant, lots will not sell, and tax-payers grumble?

YEAR AT CHILDREN'S HOME

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE CHILDREN'S HOME ASSOCIATION HELD.

Officers Elected and Reports Were Received—The Matron Was Re-engaged for the Term.

The annual meeting of the Children's Home Association was held Thursday afternoon when the work for the past year was reviewed.

The officers elected for the following year are as follows: President, Mrs. Horace Kimball; vice-presidents, Mrs. Martin I. Cooley, Mrs. Laura S. Gilbert; recording secretary, Miss Lucy H. Everett; treasurer, Miss Ella Serrell. Mrs. S. A. Hendrickson was engaged for another year as matron, and Dr. Edward Rushmore was again chosen visiting physician. The various committees will stand as they are until the June meeting.

The report of the treasurer was as follows:

CHANGED MEETING HOUR.

Christian Endeavorers of Park Avenue Bapist in Business Session.

Following the regular business meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church, last evening, the members enjoyed a short social period. Games were the feature. The affair was in charge of the social committee which consists of Aaron Thompron, Jr., Ernest Whitney and the Misses Helen Cuming, Viola VanWinkle, Elizabeth Runyon and Bessie Giles.

During the business meeting the members decided to change the Sunday afternoon meeting of the society from 4:30 until 7:15 until the pastor goes on his vacation. After that it will be combined with the midweek prayer meeting held Wednesday evenings.

MASS MEETING.

Called to Discuss the Questions of Annexation and Consolidation.

A mass meeting will be held in Saengerbund Hall Tuesday evening for the discussion of annexation and consolidation. The call has been made by those known to oppose the measure, and the meeting will be addressed by A. V. D. Honeyman and W. W. Howland. Charles W. McCutchen will preside. The call will be found in the advertising column

Chef Vs. Headwaiter.

Henry Mackenzie, chef at a local hotel, was arraigned in the city court, this morning, charged by John DeGross, headwaiter in the same hostelry, with threatening to kill him. The evidence tended to show that DeGross was in no great danger and the complaint was dismissed.

ROUTINE BUSINESS AT COUNCIL MEETING

Plans Ordered for New Borough Enginehouse—To Secure an Option on Site.

A NUMBER OF PETITIONS.

TALK OF OPENING UP THE UPPER END OF WATCHUNG AVENUE.

Franchise Taxes Received From Corporations in the Borough—The Usual Monthly Reports Received—New Enginehouse.

The Borough Council convened in regular monthly session last evening, and with the excepition of Charles P. Nichols the full body was present. A large amount of routine business was disposed of. There was a petition from the Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., asking for funds to defray the expenses of Decoration Day, for which an appropriation was granted.

Another petition was read from residents along Harrison street asking that the culverts be cleaned and that a policeman be assigned to duty on that thoroughfare. This petition was referred to the proper committee.

The Mayor explained that according to law members of the police force should be citizens of the borough. The silk mill desires a night watchman and John Glatson was appointed by him a special marshal for the post. Although Glatson was not a citizen of North Plainfield, Mayor Smalley suggested the appointment be ratified. The Council complied.

On call for reports the following from Tax Collector Brown, a statement of taxes collected during April, was submitted: Taxes, interest and sidewalks, $1,327.93; board of health, $25.75; special school, $504.74; recorder, fines, $31; Frank Rowley, clerk, license, $17.50; sale of dirt, $2.50; Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company, franchise tax, $299.21; New York and New Jersey Telephone Company tax, $40.68; bills payable, note, $500; balance on hand, April 1, $2,449.56; total receipts, $5,198.87; disbursements, $3,250.11; cash on hand, $1,948.86.

Chairman Lee, of the police committee, reported ten arrests; collected in fines, $16; spent for meals, $10.

Charman Arnold, of the street committee, reported expenditures: Macadamizing, $807.90; street sprinkling, $60.40; total, $868.30.

Chairman Clark presented the fire, water and lamps committee's report is follows: John Schenck, $12.30; Geo. J. Stewart, $5; Frank Mobus, $16; A. M. Griffen, $22.46; Gamewell Fire Alarm Telegraph Company, $292.34; Plainfield Gas and Electric Company, $41.42; total, $779.52.

Councilman Northrop moved that the finance committee be authorized to borrow $500 to cover current expenses, which was passed.

The Mayor asked the corporation counsel the proper mode of precudure to open the upper end of Watchung avenue. Mr. Reed said that the abutting property owners should petition the Council and that there should be an assessment for benefits and damages.

Chairman Clark, of the fire, water and lamps committee, asked that $50 be appropriated to secure plans for a new engine house, and also to secure an option on a desirable site. The sum was granted and Borough Counsel Reed was instructed to draw up a proper petition for citizens to sign. Mayor Smalley was empowered to secure an option on a desirable site. At this stage of the proceedings Councilman Lee introduced a resolution relative to annexation. The resolution was the signal for lively time before the meeting adjourned. A full report of this discussion will be found in another column.

CLEVER SPEAKER.

Such is Alex. F. Irvine, Who Will be at Y. M. C. A. Tomorrow.

A letter received from the Y. M. C. A., at New Haven, Conn., states that Alexander F. Irvine spoke nearly every Sunday for two years at the Grand Opera House meeting in winter and on the green in summer. The opera house meetings were for men.

Mr. Irvine will give his beautifully illustrated lecture, entitled "Social Wreckage," at Y. M. C. A. Hall tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, and his illustrated lecture on "Millet" in the supplemental course Monday evening. Prof. G. A. Morris will sing.

Mrs. Fred Canfield, of Somerville, has been visiting Plainfield friends for a time.

VETROMILE WAS DISCHARGED

THE JURY IN HIS CASE IN CITY COURT FOUND VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY.

Charged by Patrolman Higgins With Assaulting George Washington—Jury Out Two Hours.

A verdict of not guilty was found by the jury in the twice-tried Vetromile case, yesterday afternoon. It took the twelve tried and true men two hours to reach this conclusion and when the result was made known the defendant was at once discharged by City Judge Runyon. Vetromile's interests were attended to by S. S. Swackhamer.

In both the trials, the testimony narrowed down to a question of veracity between Patrolman Morris Higgins, who made the complaint for George Washington, and Vetromile himself. The specific charge against the defendant was one of assault on Washington and also using profane and indecent language.

Vetromile claimed Washington entered his store with the express purpose of provoking a quarrel and last that he openly insulted his wife. Patrolman Higgins testified that he was in the immediate vicinity of the store and that Washington went in the place with the intention of buying a box of shoe blacking. He was taken for a police "stool," set upon and thrown out. The trial placed Patrolman Higgins in a hard position as it was impossible for him to procure a witness outside of Washington. In the West End, which has been the patrolman's bailiwick for a year, his drastic policy in pursuing lawbreakers has made him unpopular with that element. There were a number of these who he says witnessed the occurrence and could have aided him but flatly refused to give any favorable testimony. In consequence he bore the brunt of the trial on his own shoulders.

MEETINGS CLOSE SUNDAY

TOMORROW'S EVANGELISTIC SERVICE AT MONROE AVENUE M. E. CHURCH.

Evangelist Pratt Talked Last Night on Secret of Success of the Prophet Elisha.

"The Secret of Success in the Life of the Prophet Elisha," was the topic discussed by Evangelist J. R. Pratt at the Monroe Avenue church at the meeting, last night.

Elisha, when he was called of God, immediately left his oxen and plowing, sacrificing the oxen on the altar thus burning the bridge behind him. He followed Elijah from Gilgue to Bethel and from Bethel to Jericho and the River Jordan and was present with the great prophet when he was taken away in the chariot of fire. Because of his persistency in following Elijah he was given the double portion of Elijah's spirit and was enabled to work miracles.

Persistency in following God until the self life is thoroughly crucified brings Pentecost with its power into the life of the Christian believer. There is too much luke warmness, indifference among Christians today. They call it conservatism. It is simply indifference.

At the afternoon meeting Mr. Patt opened the question box and answered several questions growing out of the teachings of the past two weeks.

There will be three meetings tomorrow. At 11, address by Evangelist Pratt; at 3, special meeting for young people addressed Evangelist J. R. Pratt, Chas. L. Lewis will sing; at 7:45, closing evangelist service.

HOME BUYERS LEAGUE.

Local Concern Incorporated to Furnish Safe Investment for Savings.

The New Jersey Home Buyers League has been incorporated and will soon begin business in this city. It is a local concern, having a capital of $150,000, and claims to furnish a safe and profitable investment for savings. It is intended also to assist members in procuring and paying for homes costing from $1,000 to $5,000.

The officers of the association are: President, J. D. Loizeaux; vice president, H. C. VanEmburgh; secretary, J. F. MacDonald; treasurer, Harry B. MacDonald; counsel, William M. Stillman. The City National Bank and the First National Bank will be the depositories. The offices are in the Smalley building.

UNION PAINTER WAS FINED FOR WORKING

Fined $50 Because He Disobeyed the Strike Order—He Must Pay or be Expelled.

SITUATION UNCHANGED.

EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYES APPARENTLY AWAIT TRIAL OF STRENGTH.

New York Organizer Addressed the Local Painters Last Night—No Movement Made Toward a Compromise—The Painter's Side.

While both sides have defined their positions, there is no change in the strike situation. Employers and employes are apparently awaiting the trial of strength which is promised on Monday and have done nothing to bring about an amicable settlement of affairs.

The only happening of importance was the action taken at a meeting of the Local Union of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers. Chas. Rice, an employe of Rushton & Hansen, was fined $50 for working yesterday morning after he had been ordered to strike. He is instructed to pay the fine by the next meeting night or be expelled from the brotherhood.

Organizer Tazelear, of New York, was present and urged the members to stand firm. The painters say that their position has been misrepresented when it was said that they were promised the asked for raise June 1. This promise, they say, had the proviso that all other crafts accept the same proposition.

AUCTION OF LOTS.

Inter-Urban Realty Company Will Dispose of Property in the East End of City.

A hundred lots, owned by the Inter-Urban Realty Company, located on East Second street, corner of Terrill road, in this city, will be sold at auction to the highest bidder Saturday afternoon, May 10, at 2 o'clock.

The lots are to be sold on small payments, the sum required being only about $20 down and $10 per month until paid for, thus affording a good opportunity for a young man to obtain a lot for a future home. He can then borrow enough to build a house. As the main trolley line, between Elizabeth and Plainfield, runs directly through these lots it is thought they will increase in value in the very near future.

Elston M. French, the enterprising real estate man, has charge of the same and he is distributing trolley passes, good for the above date, to all prospective purchasers. The auctioneer is to be Charles H. Lyman.

WILD RUN.

Fractious Horse Took a Flying Trip Through Town Yesterday Afternoon.

Another startling runaway was furnished by a fractious horse belonging to the Plainfield Cleaning and Pressing Company, yesterday afternoon. The animal has participated in a number of wild runs, but has always escaped serious injury.

It started yesterday on West Eighth street, near Madison avenue, and ran to Park avenue. Opposite the Park Avenue Hotel the driver, John Goodwin, leaped out of the wagon and the animal bolted straight for town. Park avenue was filled with carriages but all scurried out of the way and gave the runaway an undisputed path.

At Front street the horse essayed to turn into Somerset street, but ran on the sidewalk, sending pedestrians flying in all directions. Again it got to the street and ended its wild run by turning into the alley adjoining J. P. Homan's shop, where Wm. McDonough and John Smith seized it. The wagon was slightly damaged.

Wrong Date Given.

The illuminated sacred songs, arranged by J. F. Billet, will be given at Trinity Reformed church, under the auspices of the Willing Workers, Friday evening, May 9, and not 19, as previously stated.

Tomorrow's Preachers.

It is Rev. Dr. A. F. Elder who will preach in the First Baptist church tomorrow evening. He is the assistant to Rev. Dr. E. H. Judson, who will occupy the pulpit in the morning.

May Walk Postponed.

The annual May walk of the Gesang and Turn Verein Society, booked to take place tomorrow, has been postponed till Sunday, May 11.

A CAMPAIGN AGAINST SONG BIRD SLAYERS

State Game Warden Hawkins is Determined to Stop This Illegal Slaughter of Birds.

IS AGAINST STATE LAW.

CHIEF OFFENDERS ARE THE YOUNGER BOYS WITH FLOBERT RIFLES.

City Ordinance as Well as State Law Is Against Such Shooting—Birds Are Plentiful This Year—Warden Will Protect Them.

The practice that some young men have of going about at this season of the year with flobert rifles and shotguns killing insectivorous birds, is likely to lead them into trouble. State Game Warden C. M. Hawkins, of Roselle, is particularly active just now in this direction and he is determined to put a stop to this sort of thing.

A few days ago Mr. Hawkins found several lads in the vicinity of his home armed with flobert rifles, shooting song and insectivorous birds. He was surprised to learn that the boys did not know they were violating the State law and when he took the boys into custody and went home with them to inform their parents of the crime they were committing, he was still more suprised to learn that their parents were ignorant also. The boys and parents were warned that if the practice was repeated the full punishment would be meted out.

There is a city ordinance which forbids the use of firearms in the city limits and there is a similar State law, yet its provisions are constantly violated. These provisions do not permit a person under fifteen years of age to use any kind of a firearm except under very limited conditions. There is a penalty of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than three years, or both, at the discretion of the court.

The killing of birds, especially in the spring of the year, is an offense that should be followed by severe punishment. The State law forbids it, with the intent to protect all birds, excepting the English sparrow, hawk and one or two others.

Game Warden Hawkins reports that by reason of the protection the State laws have afforded, the birds are quite numerous this year. He is watchful, however, and determined to enforce the laws against those who still persist in killing birds. He is up by sunrise, scouring the fields and localities in which he has reason to think bird killers may be found. The robins are plentiful this spring, and they begin singing in the topmost boughs of the trees the moment the sunlight streaks the east. To bird killers they are then an excellent mark, for their songs awaken the gunners, and at the same time locate the birds.

The State laws, the energetic work of Game Warden Hawkins and others, and the general public sentiment awakened in the protection of the beautiful and useful birds, have all had good effects, but there are still some who do not know the laws and who persist in killing the birds. To the latter Mr. Hawkins gives fair warning. A continuation of the practice will result in much-deserved punishment.

THEATRICAL.

The press of the metropolis has been wont to refer to the performance at Keith's Theatre, New York, as "the funniest show in town," and that criticism should be ably sustained next week, judging by the brilliant programme offered at "The Home of Vaudeville." Every act is an acknowledged "headliner" in its particular form of amusement, and combined they present an all-star aggregation of comedians. Most prominent in the long list are Will M. Cressey and Blanche Dayne, who will present their greatest laughing success, "A Village Lawyer." Their act has won excellent criticism from press and public wherever produced, and as they use all their own special scenery and electric light effects, they should prove one of the delights of the season. Stephen Grattan and Maud White are the latest recruits to the vaudeville ranks from the Broadway Theatre, and their little comedy "Locked out at 3 a. m.," has earned for them one of the biggest hits recorded this year. York and Adams are great favorites in their funny Hebrew characters, and the Misses Melville and Stetson are acknowledged the cleverest comediennes upon the continuous stage. Others upon Keith's long programme who have "earned their tablets in the Halls of Fame," are Billy Van, favorite comedian; the DeForrests, whirlwind dancers; Davenport and Mantell, original sketch artists; Brook Bros., comedians; Lawson and Namon, novelty performers; and Louis Granat, the famous whistler.

IMPROVEMENTS AT SEA GIRT

CAMP GROUNDS AND RIFLE RANGE WILL BE GREATLY BETTERED.

Legislature Appropriated $7,000 for That Object—Will be Ready for Annual Camp.

The Sea Girt camp grounds and rifle range, where the National Rifle Association holds its annual shooting contest, are to be greatly improved, and when the improvements are all made it will be the finest range in the world, it is declared. The work will be completed in time for the annual camp and for the rifle shooting season and the meeting of the National Rifle Association. The rifle pits are to be made permanent by rebuilding them and making them of concrete and using new target machinery.

The Legislature appropriated $7,000 for this particular work. Three thousand dollars was also appropriated for the erection of an administration building for the Rifle Inspector General's departments, which will contain a magazine and offices for the officers of the range. The magazine is badly needed, for there is no suitable place for the storing of any large number of arms and for the keeping of records. This building will relieve the clubhouse of the State Rifle Association of much strain for room and it will separate business from pleasure.

There is now being drilled an artesian well. The drill has gone down about 500 feet, but it will have to go 1,000 or more before water is reached. This will furnish an abundant and pure water supply for the whole camp, an important consideration. The camp is to be made completely sanitary by a sewer system which extends all over the ground. The total expenditure will be $17,520.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

The engines of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad are being equipped with combination speed registers and indicators, which show many fine runs by passenger trains Last Friday evening on train No. 5, westbound, the Baltimore-Chicago limited, the indicator recorded a speed of sixty-four miles an hour—this with seven heavy vestibuled cars hauled by engine 1314, a six-wheel connected machine. A few days before a speed of seventy-nine miles an hour was attained by engine 848, with the Duquesne limited over the Pittsburg division. The train, while this burst of speed was on, was composed of four heavy vestibuled cars, Pullman standard. Recent performances show these runs not to be exceptional.

Opening Up South End Park.

South End Park, situated on Park avenue just beyond Randolph road, is now being developed by Charles L. Moffett and Cornelius E. Gulick. They are now opening and putting to grade three thousand feet of new street and starting several fine residences. This is a most attractive residential section of the city and it is predicted that within a short time it will be occupied with fine homes.

Don't Start Wrong.

Don't start the summer with a lingering cough or cold. We all know what a "summer cold" is. It's the hardest kind to cure. Often it "hangs on" through the entire season. Take it in hand right now. A few doses of One Minute Cough Cure will set you right. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. Children like it. "One Minute Cough Cure is the best cough medicine I ever used," says J. H. Bowles, Groveton, N. H. "I never found anything else that acted so safely and quickly." L. W. Randolph.

MADISON'S TRIAL OF MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Some Facts Concerning the Annual Report of That Borough's Public Plants.

THEY ARE INTERESTING

SUMMIT RECORD BRINGS OUT SOME OF THE CHIEF ITEMS.

Plants Have Been in Operation for Twelve Years—What They Have Cost the Borough of Madison During That Time.

The people of Plainfield and North Plainfield have been more or less actively interested in the question of municipal ownership of public plants for some time past. The borough of Madison has been experimenting in this direction, and it appears not without considerable success. The following from the Summit Record will command general attention:

"The borough of Madison comes forward again this year with a report of the operation of its water and lighting plants that must prove of rare interest to those who have given any consideration to the question of municipal ownership of such plants. Madison is somewhat similar to Summit in size and in the character of its population, and when the taxpayers here feel like indulging in bitter reflections over the burden of taxes they are obliged to bear because of the exorbitant water charges, they are prone to turn their attention to Madison and to use that borough as a shining example of what Summit might have accomplished by constructing its own water and lighting systems.

"The report just issued is for the year ending April 1, 1902, and it appears to be a complete and comprehensive review of the operations of the combined plants. It shows an itemized statement of the receipts and expenses for the year, the former reaching a total of $23,645.57, and the latter, $15,539.19, or gross profits of $8,313.38. From these gross profits the sum of $1,714.27 was paid for permanent improvement and a debt certificate of $5,000, or a total of $6,714.27, leaving a net profit for the year of $1,654.71. The latter is the net sum derived by borough without giving any consideration to the question of the street lighting and fire hydrant service. The borough is provided with 450 street lights and 152 hydrants, and at the lowest charge imposed by private plants in other cities these would cost about $12,000 per year.

"The two plants combined have been in operation twelve years and their total cost is $204,493.25. Of this amount there is still outstanding $155,000. In other words, the borough has had light and water service absolutely free of charge for twelve years and in addition has paid from the profits of the plant almost $50,000 for the cost of construction and extension."

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May be of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

The objections made by a few old fogies at Elizabeth against the starting of the crusade against mosquitoes there on the ground that if successful it will remove a historic bird, which has maintained a widespread reputation since colonial days, are as valid as the excuse given for maintaining a cold room by the poetic author of "Ruthless Rhymes for Heartless Homes," who wrote:

"Billy, in one of his nice new sashes,
Fell into the fire and was burned to ashes,
Now, although the room grows chilly,
I haven't the heart to poke poor Billy."

Invited to Speak.

Farmer Orator James E. Martine, has been invited to make a speech at the meeting of the Union county Democratic executive committee, at Elizabeth Friday evening, May 9. Among the other speakers announced are F. O. Martin, of Washington, D. C., and Congressman Salmon. Mr. Martin is secretary of the Anti-Trust League. This will be the last meeting of the committee prior to the opening of the fall campaign.

Like a Drowning Man.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such hold of me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marsh, well-known attorney of Nocona, Tex. "I took quantities of pepsin and other medicines but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am sound and well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. L. W. FAST MAIL WRECKED

Two Killed and Thirteen Hurt on the Central.

CRASH WITH FREIGHT AT CLYDE, N. Y.

The Injured Men Were Postal Clerks, and Several of Them Are In Serious Condition—Both Trains Are Badly Damaged.

CLYDE, N. Y., May 3.—New York Central fast mail No. 3, westbound, collided with a fast freight going in the opposite direction a quarter of a mile west of the station here at 5 p. m. yesterday, killing the engineer and fireman of the mail and seriously injuring thirteen mail clerks.

The dead are: John Grant, engineer, Syracuse, jumped, head crushed, killed instantly; William K. Noxson, fireman, Syracuse, jumped, skull fractured and arm torn off, died a half hour afterward.

The injured, all mail clerks, are: J. W. Shepard, E. R. Force, R. Mills, E. E. Gibson, all of Cleveland, O.; R. C. Baird, John M. Mert and G. W. Nummer of Elyria; J. P. Putnam of Brockton, N. Y.; George I. Smert and George Growney of Buffalo, G. E. Wright of Rochester, Arthur Underhill of Norwalk, O., and John Pitts of Cary, Pa.

The fast freight was going east on track No. 1, but crossed over to No. 2 to permit an eastbound passenger train to pass. When it started to cross back, the mail approached at a speed of fifty miles an hour, and before its speed could be checked the two engines collided. They were torn to pieces and hurled into the air by the force of the impact. The first mail car and six freight cars were crushed to pieces and the other cars of both trains badly damaged.

The crew of the freight jumped in time, but Grant and Noxson were killed. The mail clerks were tossed about, and all were seriously injured, most of them internally, and many terribly bruised.

Assistance was summoned from Syracuse, and the injured were cared for there.

The tower man did not see the freight crossing and gave the mail a clear track. It is said that the freight crew should have waited for the mail to pass, knowing that it was due.

Italian King's Proposed Trip.

VIENNA, May 3.—In a dispatch from Rome the correspondent there of the Neues Wiener Tagblatt says that King Victor Emmanuel will visit Emperor Francis Joseph at Vienna June 25 and that from Vienna he will proceed to Berlin to visit Emperor William. It is anticipated in political circles, says the correspondent, that both Emperor Francis Joseph and Emperor William will later make return visits to Rome. It is believed, continues the correspondent, that the difficulties in the way of Emperor Francis Joseph's coming to Rome, on account of the position of the pope, have been satisfactorily adjusted.

Run on Cripple Creek Bank.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., May 3. A run was started on the Bimetallic bank of Cripple Creek, and when the doors were closed for the day at 3 o'clock there were still many depositors in line. More than $50,000 was withdrawn between 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. The run was caused by a report that the bank was about to go into liquidation. The Bimetallic bank was established in 1892 and is the oldest bank in the city.

Fire In a Storage Warehouse.

NEWARK, N. J., May 3.—Fire at the storage warehouse of H. Van Horn damaged the building and contents to the extent of about $175,000. Mr. Van Horn estimates the damage to the building at $75,000. Property belonging to a large number of people was stored in the structure, and it will be some days before the exact amount of damage can be ascertained. There was very little insurance.

Estate Settled After a Century.

NORFOLK, Va., May 3.—It is said the family of J. W. Colbert of Portsmouth, Va., have just been notified through Attorney J. S. B. Colbert of this city that their share of the estate of the late William Bradford, who came to this country on the Mayflower in 1660, amounts to between $750,000 and $1,000,000. The settlement has been pending for more than a hundred years.

A Degree For Lord Kelvin.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 3.—Secretary Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., of the Yale university corporation announces that the honorary degree of LL. D. will be conferred next Monday afternoon upon Lord Kelvin (William Thomson) of Scotland. The degree will be conferred with the usual academic ceremonies in Battell chapel. The degree was voted to Lord Kelvin last autumn.

A National Historical Museum.

NEW YORK, May 3.—In the presence of a number of women and well known New Yorkers, interested in preserving the historic places of this city, the committee on public education of the board of aldermen unanimously adopted a resolution to make the old hall of records, now the register's office, a home for the National Historical museum.

Fatal Fire Follows Explosion.

SPRING VALLEY, Wis., May 3.—Pearl Hill, living near here, attempted to boil together some kerosene and lard. The mixture exploded, and Hill's wife and one child were burned to death. Hill had one of his hands burned off, and four other children were seriously injured. The house and contents were destroyed.

A HOUSE SURPRISE.

Anticonspiracy Bill Passed Without Debate.

THE FULL TEXT OF THE MEASURE.

Other Bills Passed—Lively Tilt In the Senate Over North Carolina Political Methods—The "Sand Cure."

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The house has passed the anticonspiracy bill reported from the judiciary committee without a word of debate. It came up rather unexpectedly, and Mr. Littlefield (Me.), who had filed a minority report on the bill and had intended to offer some amendments, came in just as it was put upon its passage, and the vote was taken before he understood what was going on. The bill is as follows:

"That no agreement, combination or contract by or between two or more persons to do or procure to be done or not to do or procure not to be done any act in contemplation of furtherance of any trade dispute between employers and employees in the District of Columbia or in any territory of the United States or between employers and employees who may be engaged in trade or commerce between the several states or between any territory and another or between any territory or territories and any state or states or the District of Columbia or with foreign nations or between the District of Columbia and any state or states or foreign nations shall be deemed criminal, nor shall those engaged therein be indictable or otherwise punishable for the crime of conspiracy if such act committed by one person would not be punishable as a crime, nor shall such agreement, combination or contract be considered as in restraint of trade or commerce, nor shall any restraining order or injunction be issued with relation thereto. Nothing in this act shall exempt from punishment otherwise than as herein excepted any persons guilty of conspiracy for which punishment is now provided by any act of congress, but such act of congress shall as to the agreements, combinations and contracts hereinbefore referred to be construed as if this act were therein contained."

The amendment providing the machinery for the enforcement of the personal tax law of the District of Columbia passed in 1878 was placed on the District appropriation bill as a rider, and the bill was passed. The bill to provide diplomatic and consular officers for the republic of Cuba also was passed.

A lively debate was precipitated in the senate by Mr. Pritchard (N. C.) by some remarks he made on political methods in North Carolina in the course of a discussion of the Philippine bill. He suggested that some of the methods employed by the opponents of the bill in this country ought to be reformed and told of what is called the "sand cure" in North Carolina, the victim having his face crushed into the sand to stifle his cries while he was being beaten to intimidate him politically.

Mr. Simmons (N. C.) declared that he never heard of such a practice, and the debate concerning North Carolina politics was fully launched. Mr. Pritchard charged that the "red shirts" rode over the state to terrorize Republican voters. Mr. Simmons denied that statement and insisted that the "red shirts" never had committed an unlawful act and, as a matter of fact, intended only to organize the voters of the state. The debate waxed warm, Mr. Pritchard declaring that he had been approached by an emissary of the Democratic party with a proposition to drop the impeachment proceedings against Republican judges in North Carolina if he would nolle prosequi cases pending in the courts against certain Democrats for election frauds. Mr. Simmons unqualifiedly denied that such a proposition had been made by authority of the Democratic party.

Embassador Meyer Coming Home.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—At his own request Embassador Meyer has been granted a leave of absence of sixty days from his post at Rome. Mr. Meyer is coming home, according to the understanding here, to contest for the Republican nomination for the vacancy in the Massachusetts congressional delegation, caused by Mr. Moody's appointment as secretary of the navy. It is understood that Mr. Gardiner, the son-in-law of Senator Lodge, is also a candidate for the nomination.

Encounter With Chinese Rioters.

PEKING, May 3.—A detachment of soldiers belonging to the troops of General Yuan Shi Kai, the governor of Chili province, recently lost sixty men killed while attempting to quell an anti-indemnity uprising near the border of Honan province. General Yuan Shi Kai is sending three regiments to destroy the towns in the neighborhood of the scene of the fighting.

British Report Important Capture.

PRETORIA, May 3.—Colonel Barker reports that on April 30 he captured Commandant Manie Botha, his adjutant and eleven others near Frankfort, Orange River Colony. This is regarded as important, as Manie Botha is a nephew of the commandant general and is General De Wet's ablest lieutenant.

Leaving Canada For Tennessee.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., May 3.—Sixteen Greek families, forty people in all, have arrived here en route for the south. They landed in Canada two years ago and engaged in farming near Ottawa, but were not successful. They are now going to Tennessee to raise cotton.

TO POSTPONE FAIR.

Date of Louisiana Purchase Exposition Changed.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Secretary Hay yesterday sent to the senate a letter stating the necessity for postponing the Louisiana Purchase exposition from 1903 to 1904. Inclosed with it was a letter from Chairman Carter of the government commission and a telegram from President Francis of the exposition company showing the necessity for the postponement.

Senator Cockrell had the letter read in the senate and then offered an amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill now pending in the senate providing for the postponement of the exposition in accordance with the request.

The postponement amendment provides for the dedication of the buildings of the exposition on April 30, 1903; for the opening of the exposition to visitors on May 1, 1904, and for its closing not later than Dec. 1 following. The coinage of $250,000 in gold dollar pieces to be used as a souvenir coin is also authorized, the money thus provided to be a part of the $5,000,000 appropriated by congress for the aid of the fair.

CONGRESSMAN CUMMINGS DEAD.

Succumbed to an Attack of Pneumonia Following an Operation.

BALTIMORE, May 3.—Congressman Amos J. Cummings of New York died at 10:15 o'clock last night at the Church Home and Infirmary in this city. The cause of death was pneumonia, incident to an operation. The congressman's wife and cousin, Charles H. Cummings, were at his bedside when death came.

Congressman Cummings came to Baltimore on April 11 to undergo treatment for kidney trouble. Four days after an operation was performed by Dr. Hugh H. Young, and Mr. Cummings seemed to be on a fair way to recovery. A week later, however, pleurisy developed, and on April 25 it was announced that Mr. Cummings was suffering from pneumonia in one lung.

Last Tuesday it was announced that the malady had extended to both lungs, since which time Mr. Cummings has been hovering between life and death.

Hartford Mayor Against Boxing.

HARTFORD, Conn., May 3.—William Crowley, manager of the Nutmeg Athletic club, has been refused a license by Mayor Sullivan for a boxing contest between "Young Corbett" and Terry McGovern which he intended to pull off in this city next October. The mayor announced that there will be no license issued for boxing in the city of Hartford during his administration.

McCoy Beats Russell.

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—Kid McCoy and Charles Russell of Chicago fought six rounds last night at the Industrial Athletic club, in which McCoy had the better of the contest. Russell was in superb condition, while McCoy was a little fat. Russell put up a very fast fight for a big man and during the first four rounds kept McCoy guessing. The latter fought cautiously.

Choynski Knocks Out Weinig.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 3.—Joe Choynski knocked out Al Weinig in the sixth round here last night.

The Longs Leave Washington.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Ex-Secretary John D. Long and Mrs. Long have left Washington for their old home at Hingham, Mass. Secretary Moody and a number of other friends were at the railroad station to bid them goodby.

IN A SORRY PLIGHT.

Venezuelan Government Cannot Explain Defeat.

NEW UPRISINGS ARE REPORTED.

The Disaster at San Antonio and the Loss of General Castillo Cause Astonishment—New Campaign Against the Rebels.

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, May 3.—The Venezuelan government is unable to explain the disastrous defeat of its forces near San Antonio on April 23, when General Castillo was mortally wounded. The officials appear to be dumb with astonishment.

A force of 1,500 government troops, commanded by General Vicente Gomez, the vice president of the republic and the new commander in chief of the Venezuelan forces, has left Coro to join forces with General Velutini, the minister of the interior, and General Velasquez at Barcelona and enter upon a new campaign against the revolutionists, with about 3,400 men.

The government is afraid of the situation in the center of Venezuela and is fortifying Tocuyito, near Valencia.

New uprisings are reported everywhere.

The Tiempo, a leading newspaper of Caracas, has been suppressed. The rigid censorship and the reign of terror prevailing have prevented the newspapers at the Venezuelan capital from referring to the great victory of the revolutionists.

It is announced that among the prisoners captured by the revolutionists at the battle of San Antonio was General Brito Gonzalez, president of the state of Cumana, who was in command of a brigade of government troops.

Mrs. Burdette Withdraws.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 3.—The political feature of the clubwomen's convention is the withdrawal of Mrs. Robert J. Burdette of California from the presidential race. This assures the election of Mrs. Denis of New York to that office, with Mrs. Burdette's chances for the first vice presidency excellent. Following the morning session, when an attempt made by a Massachusetts delegate to precipitate the color question fell flat, the clubwomen took a recess to view the flower parade. Mrs. Lowe rode in a victoria decorated by the Friday Morning club with 3,000 pink roses and was accompanied by Miss Jessie Fremont, daughter of the Pathfinder, and attended by eight outriders in white flannel. The ladies were attired in gray and carried parasols of the same shade. The afternoon session was devoted to two minute reports of state presidents.

British Garrison Relieved.

CAPE TOWN, May 3.—Reports which have reached here via Port Nolloth, western Cape Colony, dated April 10, are to the effect that British columns are now in close touch with the British garrison at O'okiep, about ninety miles inland from Port Nolloth, and that the relief of the British force there is practically completed. The plucky little garrison at O'okiep has been closely invested by the Boers for weeks past and has put up a defense which can be compared to that of Mafeking. The defenders of O'okiep suffered comparatively few casualties, but they were subjected to constant "sniping," and had occasional sharp brushes with the Boers.

Russian Troops Revolt.

LONDON, May 3.—A dispatch received by Reuter's Telegram company from St. Petersburg, dated April 30, says: "The most serious feature of the present situation is the growing disinclination of the troops to act against the people. Punishment has already been dealt out to 800 men of the Sumy regiment for refusing recently to fire on the rioters at Moscow. They have been transferred to service in various remote provinces. A detachment of marines stationed here will, it is said, be disciplined in the same manner for similar action at the time of the student riots in March."

Builders to Try Nonunion Help.

READING, Pa., May 3.—Several of the city's largest contractors, whose building operations are completely tied up by the strike, announce that they will attempt to resume with nonunion men next Monday. The Carpenters' union at a meeting decided that the members would refuse to handle any of the millwork turned out by the mills since the strike. Not a brick was laid in the city. At least 1,600 men are idle. These include strikers and those thrown out of work by the present trouble.

Delay In Beef Trust Litigation.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Official announcement is made that the bill for injunction against Chicago packing corporations will not be filed by the United States government until next week. W. A. Day, special attorney of the department of justice, left Chicago for Washington and took with him a copy of the bill in order that it may be reviewed by Attorney General Knox.

Adelphi Sure of Rockefeller Gift.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Lieutenant Governor Woodruff at a meeting of the trustees of Adelphi college announced that the entire sum of $125,000 required to secure the additional gift of a like sum from John D. Rockefeller had been guaranteed to the institution.

NO HURRIED ELECTION.

When the people of North Plainfield have learned to eliminate all personal feeling and view the question of annexation strictly on its merits, then will come the time for an formal vote on the question. A majority of the members of the Borough Council have shown that they appreciate that fact and it seems that they can be depended on to act in the question at the proper time.

Certain of the anti-annexationists attempted last evening to rush this question to a vote without giving them due consideration. They realized that careful thought means a sure victory for the annexationists. Their only hope was to defeat the measure before it had been thoroughly discussed. Their attempt failed.

While we firmly believe that a majority of the voters of North Plainfield would today vote in favor of annexation, the best interests of all demand that the subject should be given full and immediate attention and that there should be no possible opportunity to have it said that the project was rushed through without giving all an opportunity to fully discuss it. This is a question which will directly affect the future of the borough for many years to come and each and every citizen should be given a full opportunity to look into the question and learn as fully as possible just what the true facts of the case are.

The Plainfield Y. M. C. A. has been very fortunate in bringing to this city many speakers of prominence to address its Sunday afternoon men's meetings. One of the most interesting of these is to be here tomorrow. Alexander F. Irvine has a national reputation as a speaker on questions of sociology.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Voorhees, of Somerville, have been visiting Plainfield friends for a short time.

Miss Evelyn Simonson and Miss Bessie Martin, of the borough, have returned from a visit with Miss Edna Bowers, at Basking Ridge.

Wm. Killiger, an undertaker at Somerville, has been admitted to Muhlenberg Hospital, where he will be treated for ear and head trouble.

Dangerous If Neglected.

Burns, cuts and other wounds often fail to heal properly if neglected and become troublesome sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve prevents such consequences. Even where delay has aggravated the injury DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve effects a cure. "I had a running sore on my leg thirty years," says H. C. Hartly, Yankeetown, Ind. "After using many remedies, I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes healed the sore." Cures all skin diseases. Piles yield to it at once. Beware of counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

MORMONISM AS A MENACE

PAPER PRESENTED AT MEETING OF YOUNG WOMEN OF TRINITY.

Told the Dangers to be Expected From That Sect—Mission Band Will Educate Girl in India.

"Mormonism as a Menace," was the subject of a very able paper prepared by Miss Grace Nevius and read by Mrs. F. S. Cutter at the regular meeting of the Young Womedn's Missicn Band, of Trinity Reformed church, yesterday afternoon.

It was shown by the writer that the Mormons at present have a foothold in seven States and it is only necessary for them to obtain a standing in twelve States to secure a representative in Congress. They claim that the next President of the United States will either be a Mormon or a representative who will favor them and secure liberal legislation for them.

Another startling fact was shown in the foothold that this class of people have already in the east. They are steadily gaining ground in the establishment of churches and converts. Those opposed to Mormonism and its teachings and principles have very little idea of the rapid strides being made by the Mormons. The paper had a tendency to arouse those present to great activity in efforts to thwart the purposes of this class of people in getting control of affairs.

The band decided at the meeting to support and educate a native girl at Ranipettai, India. This will cost $30 a year and the amount will be raised outside of all other amonts collected each year by the band. This additional work will bring to the members greater interest in the religious work now being carried on in India.

H. Arnold, Charles Nichols and Robert Clark, Jr. A suggestion was then made by Mr. Lee that there might be some interested persons present who would like an opportunity to speak, at the same time facing A. V. D. Honeyman, Chas. Place and W. W. Howland. This proposition met with the approval of the chair and a general invitation was extended. After waiting for some time the Mayor saw that no one desired to take advantage of the offer, and the Council adjourned.

The Cleaning of the Vatican.

The Vatican has recently been overhauled for the first time in four hundred years; and out of the eleven thousand rooms, including the Pope's private apartments, the picture galleries, the library, the museum of sculpture and archaeology, the casino, the Sistine and other chapels, and the barracks of the Swiss Guards, over ten tons of dirt were taken every day for the first twelve or thirteen weeks, and in large proportions also during the remaining five months. This will seem incredible no doubt to many persons who have visited a portion of these premises. Indeed, it was not until the Pope began to study bacteriology, that he appreciated that there was any dirt whatever there. In this great undertaking over five thousand people were employed, and one thousand loaves of bread a day were consumed in the cleaning of wall paper alone. Eight thousand brooms, two thousand scrubbing brushes, five thousand pounds of soap went in a week. The bread was used in such quantities that to economize a private bakery was established. The overseer of this work might have economized still more if, for the Italian product, they had substituted Fairbank's Gold Dust washing powder and Fairy Soap. That is wherein American housekeepers have the advantage. "Let the Gold Dust twins do your work."

Charles Vail, of Valley, N. J., has returned after a visit with Plainfield relatives.

Miss Nellie Brown, of Dunellen, has been visiting Plainfield relatives for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoffman, of Plainfield, have been visiting friends at Somerville.

Miss Cora Hand, of Elmwood place, continues to improve from an attack of typhoid fever.

Paul V. Tunison, of this city, has returned from a visit with Abram Tunison, of Somerville.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Services at the Baptist church, tomorrow will be Sunday-school at 9:30; morning preaching by the pastor, subject, "The Seven Utterance of Christ From the Cross." The morning service will be followed by the regular monthly observance of the Lord's Supper. Baptist Young People's Union meeting in the parlors of the church at 7; evening service, subject, "The Carpenter."

The junior ball team is to cross bats this afternoon on the local diamond with the St. Mary's Seconds, of Plainfield. Game is to be called at 2:30, so as to enable the teams to finish and make way for the game between the local and the Clinton Avenues, of Plainfield, which has been called to begin at 3:30.

Rev. Mr. Bindenberger, of the Methodist church, will occupy his pulpit as usual Sunday morning. No preaching service will be held in the evening, instead a special service of song will be held to which the public is most cordially invited.

The Township Committee met in the township rooms last night. Business, relating to the annual repairs upon the roads, was transacted. Several bills and other of the usual routine business was transacted.

Smalley Brothers, who have been conducting the butcher business of the late John R. Marsh, since the latter's death, have closed their shop and will deliver orders for the present from their Plainfield market.

The regular monthly meeting of the Father Light Society, of the Baptist church, was held in the parlors of the church, Friday afternoon. Mrs. Shott had charge of the meeting.

Mrs. John R. Marsh has been making some improvements about her property. Contractor John Bornmann has been doing the work.

Rev. G. M. Shott will make an address at the Rescue Mission, Plainfield, Sunday afternoon.

Chas. Wade has returned from a short stay with friends at Englewood, this State.

Jacob V. Coles has begun a course of study at the Plainfield Business College.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

At the Baptist church, tomorrow, regular services will be held. In the morning the sermon subject will be "Lights and Shadows in Life"; in the evening the topic of the pastor's discourse will be "The People's Attitude Toward Christ." The Christian Endeavor meeting at 7 o'clock will be led by Thomas Gage.

Now that the dam has been put in order there is considerable agitation to end the scattering of coal, which is declared a nuisance by some of the residents of that neighborhood.

John McGuire will undergo necessary examinations at Easton, Tuesday, so that he may begin work on a Lehigh Valley local freight.

Miss Imogene Smith has returned to her school duties as teacher after a short illness.

Miss Lillian Campbell, of Metuchen, is visiting with Miss Fannie Ayres.

COLUMN FOR THE SHOPPERS

SOME OF ATTRACTIONS TO BE FOUND AT LOCAL STORES.

The Gayle Hardware Company is well supplied with farming implements, seeds, etc. One of the best stocks of refrigerators has been received.

Don't be roped into buying poor meat. At Endress' West Front street market only the choicest cuts are kept on hand. Prices in the sea food department are very low.

One of the best shoes sold today is the "Heywood." VanArsdale, the East Front street shoeman, sells it and it is one of his business builders. Made for men, women and young folks.

If you can't afford to get a new suit at this time have your clothes pressed at John G. Bantle's. He's the up-to-date Watchung avenue tailor. Repairing and overhauling is a specialty of his.

For a small amount a beautiful hat, prettily trimmed, may be obtained in the millinery department of I. H. Boehm's progressive establishment, on West Front street. Call and examine the styles.

If you have a minute stop at J. Hervey Doane's jewelry store and examine his complete stock of fine watches. They are guaranteed to keep perfect time. Repairing of watches is a specialty.

M. Weinberger, the West Front street clothier, has made a study of his business and that is why he gives such satisfaction. He has a very large stock of men's and boys' clothing for summer wear at low prices.

For a health restorer, an appetizer and a spring tonic, nothing compares with Hodge's sarsaparilla. It is nature's own remedy composed only of herbs, roots and bark made up by the necessary process. It is sold only at Hodge's pharmacy in the Y. M. C. A. building.

AGED COLORED MAN DEAD

ALEX. BROWN DIED AT THE ISOLATION HOSPITAL WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

Second Victim of Small-Pox Passed Away After a Short Illness—The Other Patients Progressing.

Alexander Brown, colored, one of Plainfield's well-known characters, who was taken to the isolation hospital early in the week with small-pox, died at that place Wednesday afternoon and was buried soon afterward in one of the local cemeteries by Health Inspector Wm. Addis.

Brown was an aged man and from the start he had the disease in a severe form. It is now learned that there was little hope from the first that he would recover. He worked for a long time for James E. Martine and was considered a faithful and honest workman. He leaves one son, Frank Brown. This makes the second death from small-pox in this city, the other person being James McCullough, who came to this city from Newark and was ill only a few days.

The other patients at the isolation hospital are doing fairly well. They are all very sick, but there is no immediate danger in either case.

Mr. Brown was a veteran, having served as a private in the Civil War.

Wants Others to Know.

"I have used DeWitt's Little Early Risers for constipation and torpid liver and they are all right. I am glad to indorse them for I think when we find a good thing we ought to let others know it," writes Alfred Heinze, Quincy, Ill. They never gripe or distress. Sure, safe pills. L. W. Randolph.

PLAINFIELD TESTIMONIALS

Old Pianos Made New.

L. H. Battalia, expert piano rebuilder, with factory at 886 East 134th street, New York, and with branch in this city at 426 Watchung avenue, is meeting with good success. He is receiving testimonials for his skilled work from music teachers and citizens of Plainfield and vicinity. Below are a few of the testimonials already received:

Plainfield, N. J., April 23, 1902.
Mr. Leo H. Battalia,
Dear Sir—This signifies my sincere appreciation of your work in overhauling and renovating our Chickering grand piano, and would heartily recommend any person who desires their pianos put in good order to secure your services. We consider your charges extremely moderate.
Yours cordially,
Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson.

Plainfield, N. J., April 24, 1902.
Mr. L. H. Battalia,
Dear Sir—Enclosed please find check for your work in overhauling my piano, putting in new hammers, etc. As far as I am capable of judging the work is very thoroughly done; the tone is certainly much improved, the action even and quick, so that the piano feels and sounds like a new one.
Yours truly,
Andrew J. Gavett.

Plainfield, N. J., April 22, 1902.
Mr. Leo H. Battalia,
Dear Sir—I am much pleased with your work in renewing the worn parts of my piano. It is greatly improved. You show much interest, enthusiasm and skill, and I cheerfully recommend you to all whose pianos need rebuilding.
Very truly yours,
May Vincent Whitney.

IOWA TOWNS WRECKED.

Three Destructive Tornadoes Sweep Through the State.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 3.—Three tornadoes, at widely separated points, resulted in a property loss of over $50,000 and the serious injuring of twelve people.

The storms were over a hundred miles apart, the one sweeping through Bayard, a town of 500 inhabitants in Guthrie county; another through the towns of Weldon and Van Wert, in Decatur county, and the third through Lohrville, in Calhoun county. The wind blew at a velocity of seventy miles an hour and was followed by a deluge of rain, which in some places almost reached the proportions of a waterspout. All telegraph wires were leveled.

The storms began about 5 o'clock and were over an hour in duration. So far as known each of the three tornadoes swept a path about a hundred yards in width through the three different counties, and not a house or even a fence post in these paths was left standing.

At Lohrville the tornado was followed by a terrific hailstorm.

CARPET WEAVERS LOCKED OUT.

Dobsons of Philadelphia Shut Out Weavers and Close Mills.

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—The general movement among weavers and others in the textile trades in this city for higher wages has resulted in one more strike and one lockout affecting altogether 2,200 persons. The weavers of John & James Dobson, carpet manufacturers, to the number of 250, were locked out because they asked for an advance of 15 cents. The mill was shut down, throwing out of employment 1,550 other workers. At the carpet mill of Stinson Bros. 150 men struck to have the 25 per cent cut made in 1894 restored. Two hundred other employees are affected. The dyers in five shops, representing 140 men, are still on strike for an increase in wages of from $1 to $2 a week.

One hundred and fifty structural iron workers employed by Marshall & McClintic, contractors, were granted the increase asked for and returned to work. The 600 men employed in the various building trades who struck Thursday are still out.

Fierce Storm at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, May 3.—A terrific wind, rain and hail storm struck this city last evening, doing much damage. The rain came down in torrents, and the hail which followed was of sufficient size to completely strip many trees of their foliage and ruin many flower beds. The wind blew down a house in Allegheny, burying an unknown man in the ruins. He was rescued after hard work and taken to the hospital in a badly battered condition. The steel hull towboat Vesta, valued at $50,000 and owned by the Vesta Coal company, was blown over and badly wrecked in the Monongahela river. Her crew were all saved.

No Bids For Havana Bonds.

HAVANA, May 3.—There were no bids for the new municipal loan of $28,000,000. It was advertised that subscriptions to this loan would be opened yesterday. The new Havana loan of $28,000,000 is for the purpose of redeeming the first and second mortgage bonds of the city, to take up the floating debt and to provide money for the payment of the city sewer and paving contract. The specifications of the loan said that any offer less than 90 per cent would not be considered and that the bonds should not pay more than 5 per cent interest.

Promotion For Gunner Morgan.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—President Roosevelt has sent to the senate the nomination of Gunner Charles D. Morgan of the navy to be chief gunner. The position has been created for him. Gunner Morgan came into the public eye in consequence of a letter written by Admiral Sampson, in which he opposed the application of Morgan for promotion to the rank of a commissioned officer because his early training had not been such as to fit him for the social duties of a naval officer.

Reported Japan Concessions Untrue.

LONDON, May 3.—The statement that Japan had signified her intention of placing all her arsenals at the disposal of British squadrons in eastern waters, thereby giving practical effect to the Anglo-Japanese alliance, is not true. Beyond the use of Japanese dockyards for making repairs to British ships Great Britain has no facilities in Japan. The reciprocal use of their dockyards has obtained as a courtesy between Great Britain and Japan for years past.

Rioting In Spain.

MADRID, May 3.—The celebration at Bilbao of the defeat of the Carlist army that besieged Bilbao in 1874 led to rioting. A procession of demonstrators was passing the building of the Biscayan club, where a flag was hoisted as a sign of mourning over the death of one of the club members. The demonstrators, among whom were several officers, invaded the club and compelled the flag to be lowered. A fight ensued, in which many persons were wounded.

Morgan Owns White Star Line.

LONDON, May 3.—The Daily Express asserts that the purchase by J. Pierpont Morgan of the White Star line of steamers is an absolute purchase of everything the company possesses, including good will, real estate and all the vessels in the New Zealand and Australian service of the White Star company in addition to those engaged in the Atlantic service.

SPEED AND STOP CHECK.

An Ingenious Device That Helps Overburdend Truck Horses and Their Owners.

An ingenious little device that is proving a boon to overburdened horses and is bringing woe to many a careless, dilatory or brutal driver is to be seen nowadays on the delivery wagons of many big mercantile houses, breweries and trucking companies. In these days of sharp competition and good wages it is essential to the success of large business enterprises that the greatest possible service be obtained from men and horses alike, but wise employers, who take pride in their handsome delivery animals and pay tidy sums for ANTI-CRUELTY DEVICE.

stanch horseflesh, find no economy in overworking their draught animals. But try as they would, the managers of many business concerns having 50 or 100 or more horses found it almost an impossibility to place the responsibility for abuses until the "speed and stop check," or indicator, of which there are several patterns, came into the market to aid the work of the Bergh society, delivery superintendents and stable bosses.

Now, if Fritz or Patrick stops at his favorite saloon to play a game of pinochle with his cronies and then compels his horses to make up the lost time afterward, it is all indicated on the "speed and stop check," modelled after the fashion of the cyclometer of bicycle fame. The indicator is about the shape of an ordinary alarm clock, with a face about five inches across and divided by minute and hour lines. A clock hand moves continuously, but another dial is so arranged that it records only while the wagon moves, stamping each quarter mile as it is wheeled off. The indicator is attached to a rear wheel, and if a driver stops the time hand goes on, but the distance marker does not. With the number of miles traveled, the time consumed and the stops all indicated, it is easy for the employer to tell at a glance if his horses have been overdriven and if the driver has been attending to duty promptly.

MISS VIVIAN SARTORIS.

Granddaughter of Gen. U. S. Grant Has Decided to Retire from the Social World.

Miss Vivian Sartoris, of Washington, D. C., the beautiful granddaughter of Gen. U. S. Grant, has decided to retire completely from the social world and devote herself to an artistic and musical career. Miss Sartoris at present is in Paris, spending 12 hours a day in fitting herself for the examination to the Ecole des Beaux Arts. Miss Vivian is the elder of the two daughters of Algernon and Mrs. Sartoris, her mother being the only daughter of Gen. Grant. She was one of the most beautiful and attractive girls of Washington society, and rumors of her engagement or marriage have been frequent.

In a recent letter to her mother Miss Sartoris explains that she believed herself in love with Mr. Balfour, but as the time of the wedding approached she discovered her unfitness to assume the responsibilities of matrimony. Mrs. Sartoris tells her friends she does not think her elder daughter will ever marry.

None of her relatives is surprised at the announcement of her absolute withdrawal from society and devoting her brilliant talents to art and music. A few of her friends believe that she will essay an operatic career, but her entrance to the Ecole des Beaux Arts would indicate that her ambition is to become a painter or sculptor.

Woman with a Bright Idea.

An Alton (Ill.) woman has started a crusade against men who will not work and support their families. She wants an ordinance passed requiring such men to be arrested and put at work on the rock pile with wages. The money she would turn over to the families for their support.

THE NEW SKIRTS.

Plainer Effects Are Now Being Adopted.

The skirt of the moment shows many improvements, for it is free from exaggeration of all kinds. It is no longer strained tightly across the back, which mode was so dreadfully unbecoming to the stout woman.

Then there is a certain amount of frou frou round the feet, which is most becoming. There is a greater tendency than ever to shorten the waist at the back and to lengthen it in front. To have this effect the skirt has to be slightly lifted at the back, which is infinitely preferable to the inward curve so often taken by the old tight skirt just below the waist.

With the skirt and waistband raised at the back we have evinced a craze for the short coat, which is ever so smart and really becoming to those who are fairly slight. These little coats have a peculiar cachet when worn by the right woman. They must be accompanied by a large fanciful collar; otherwise they are apt to have a skimpy appearance.

Surely the collar, like the waistband, plays a very important part in the fashions of the hour. Some searchers after novelty predicted the disappearance of the lace and embroidered muslin collar, but events have proved them wrong, for never was the collar more popular, and, after all, what a pretty fashion it is, giving an air of freshness to the oldest coat.

LACE COATS.

Elaborate Blouses and Lace Striped Muslins.

Delightful little short lace coats are seen, both for demitoilet and afternoon wear, on the Riviera. Some are made after the style of the Russian blouse and others of the short sack shape. The tendency is either for a Russian blouse, with the basque, or for a short coat worn with a wide band. Some women look delightful in both, but for the slight figure the short coat has a peculiar chic about it.

These coats are not always made as plain sacks, but are very much improved specimens, falling in plaits or folds, which look charming in guipure and in the finer makes of lace.

Of course Irish crochet is the lace of the moment for day and also for evening wear, but lace of every make becomes daily more popular.

Fashion seems to be getting more elaborate, although the most beautiful gowns have an air of costly simplicity. After all, the simple frock requires more inventive ingenuity on the part of the wearer, as well as of the designer, to achieve success.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

His Friend, The Enemy

By WILLIAM WALLACE COOK,

Author of "Rogers of Butte," "The Spur of Necessity," "Mr. Fitt, Astrologer," etc.

(Copyright, 1901, by the S. S. McClure Co.)

"Colonel," he observed, carefully, "Concord is the county seat of Goodwill county."

Col. Keever replied that he had no reason to dispute his honorable friend's statement. He concurred in it fully.

"Colonel," went on Dingle, "Harmony would like to have the county seat."

Keever averred loudly, in answer to this remark, that Col. Dingle was a truthful man and a man of undoubted ability. They had had their little differences, of course, yet Col. Keever knew how to grant honor where honor was due. When it rained, Col. Dingle knew where to go to keep out of the wet.

Dingle laughed, his natural eye glowed, and he nudged Keever with his elbow. The other three gentlemen joined in the merriment, liquid refreshment was again bountifully administered and the good feeling prevailed to an extent that was almost morbid.

Dingle hung languishingly on Keever's shoulder while the three others huddled about, anxious to laugh at any joke however old, and silently imploring an opportunity to express their unbounded affection for everybody.

"A special election has been called for the purpose of shifting the county seat from Concord to Harmony," Dingle resumed, "and a two-thirds vote is necessary to the consummation of such a change. Now it is impossible to deny that Harmony is a favorite with two-thirds of the county, but we"—Dingle designated himself and his three companions—"thoroughly understand how utterly vain it would be for Harmony to attempt to secure the county seat without the good will and assistance of one whose ability is undoubted, whose virtues are the envy of his fellowmen and whose congenial nature is a theme of general remark. In short, Col. Archibald Keever, of Concord."

Col. Keever smiled his gratification and desired to state that it had never been his extreme good fortune to run across so truthful a man as Col. Dingle nor such a whole-souled, appreciative set of companions as had accompanied him; and he hoped that, knowing him as they all did, they would take this little apostrophe for what it was worth. In the meantime, as the national debt was oppressive, why not give it another lift?

The four gentlemen from Harmony readily understood this hint and four flasks were stretched out simultaneously towards Col. Keever. The latter bowed, and to the end that none might feel aggrieved, paid due and lengthened attention to each flask, supplementing each draught with a peculiarly happy remark relative to the generosity of the donor and the excellence of his gift.

This small formality over, Col. Dingle once more resumed his topic in a voice that was growing husky by very apparent degrees.

"Col. Keever, you have managed the townsite of Concord and managed it well. Among other things you have gone ahead, like an able tactician, and have rushed into this precinct certain men to build bridges and houses, and repair roads and heaven knows what. Now, everybody is aware that the roads are all right, the bridges in good condition and that you have more houses than you can use. Well, then, why have you brought all these men here? Oh, we know! That fertile brain, that intellect that labored and brought forth the Blizzard, has hidden its purpose well, but we have discovered it. Haven't we, boys?"

"We have," came a chorus of thick voices.

Col. Keever wore a perpetual smile, very childlike, very bland; and he would wink his right eye now and then and shake his head with a great deal of feeling.

"What's the purpose?" he inquired, evincing a tendency to run his words together.

"It's this. That special election is called for to-morrow. These men will have been in the county 60 days and in the precinct 20 days; consequently they can vote and, naturally, they'll vote for Concord."

"Shouldn't wonder much," remarked Keever, with a dry hiccough. "Twenty men, and I pay 'em two dollars a day for 60 days—that's $2,400 that it costs us to save the county seat. And who's to the fore in the enterprise? Col. Archibald Keever! I declare, gentlemen, my throat is parched. Would it be asking too much—"

It was not asking too much. Col. Keever was welcome to the best they had in the shop and all there was of it.

"And this brings us back to where we started," said Col. Dingle. "Harmony would like the county seat and she would like it just $2,000 worth."

Dingle gave Keever a playful push.

"What's that?" murmured Keever, rolling his eyes.

"Just this," went on Dingle. "Instead of voting these men for Concord, vote them for Harmony. You can do it. The great mind that built up a paper like the Blizzard can do anything."

Col. Keever relapsed into silence and did his best to think calmly while the four gentlemen from Harmony awaited his reply in soulful expectation.

"Two thousand?" asked Keever, huskily.

"Two thousand," came an equally husky reply.

"Cash down?"

"Fifty now and 1,950 when the votes are polled."

A long period of silence ensued to be finally broken by Keever, with the anxious query:

"Gen'l'men, is there any left?"

There was some left and libations were renewed all around.

"What is it, Colonel, yes or no?" asked Dingle when the gurgiing period was over.

Through Col. Keever's mind there flitted hazily the following items: Four hundred and fifty on account of "plant;" twenty-eight sixty to get that week's issue out of pawn; sixty some odd for Sampson, and there was no knowing the amount of Pedro Smith's bill. Why not?

He coughed, looked around him a trifle nervously and then held out his hand.

"Gi'me the 50."

A crisp bank note was tendered him.

"Here you are," said Dingle, "and here are two documents—mere matters of form, you know, one for us and one for you — setting forth what's to be done, what's to be paid, and when. For your protection as well as ours, Colonel. Sign there."

Unsteadily the editor took up his pen and scrawled two awkward signatures, whereupon Col. Dingle signed below him and the other three attested the act as witnesses.

Then, after drinking the last of the liquor, the four gentlemen from Harmony bade Col. Keever an affectionate "Goo' bye" and left. Col. Keever heard Capt. Blue fall down the full length of the stairs, heard Col. Dingle whoop joyously and Maj.

HE REMOVED THE BANK NOTE FROM THE COLONEL'S POCKET.

Harp tune himself into a discord faintly suggestive of "We Won't Go Home Till Morning," and then these sounds died away and all was still.

Farther and farther the Colonel's head bowed forward until, no longer able to retain his seat, he fell under the desk and lay there, a melancholy example of fallen greatness.

At that moment the door leading into the workroom opened softly and Sampson, a cunning grin on his freckled face, tiptoed into the sanctum.

"It's my turn now, Colonel," he muttered between his teeth as he looked down on the sprawled-out form of his former employer. Stooping over, he removed the crisp bank note from the Colonel's vest pocket. "You owe me something like $65, but I'll apply this on account. And I'll put this in my pocket, too," he added, taking from the desk the paper that had just been signed. "A tramp printer isn't the man to be fooled with, Colonel, and you'll understand this before I'm done with you."

With that Sampson shook his fist at the Colonel and strode from the office.

Meanwhile, Col. Dingle and Maj. Harp and Capt. Blue were riding Harmony-ward in a lethargic condition, while Mr. Boomer, who had fallen from the carriage unknown to himself or his companions, was peacefully sleeping by the roadside some two miles out of Concord.

WILL HEAD A CHURCH.

Samuel Fallows of Chicago, Chosen Presiding Bishop of Reformed Episcopal Denomination.

Bishop Fallows has won for himself the title of soldier, educator, orator, author, preacher and humanitarian. In the church he is Rt. Rev. Samuel Fallows, D. D., LL. D., bishop of the missionary district of the west and northwest of the Reformed Episcopal church. Samuel Fallows worked himself through the University of Wisconsin, graduating as valedictorian with the class of 1859. He was immediately elected vice president of Gainesville university, in which office he served two years.

He then entered the Methodist ministry at Oshkosh, Wis. When the civil war broke out he became chaplain of the Thirty-second Wisconsin infantry. He was sent home sick at the end of a year, and when he recovered he organized the Fortieth Wisconsin regiment, of which he became colonel. Before he was mustered out he had been brevetted brigadier general for meritorious service.

He then became pastor of Summerfield Methodist church in Milwaukee, and later of Spring Street church in the same city. In 1871 Gov. Fairchild appointed him state superintendent of public instruction for Wisconsin. He was twice reelected to the same office by the people. Lawrence university gave him the degree of doctor of divinity in 1873, and the next year he became president of Wesley university at Bloomington, Ill. He became allied with the Reformed Episcopal church in 1875 and accepted a call to St. Paul's church, West Adams street and Winchester avenue, Chicago.

Dr. Fallows was made bishop in 1876. As a literary man his best known works are "Synonyms and Antonyms," "Hand Book of Abbreviations," "Life of Samuel Adams," and the American articles in the Encyclopedia Britannica. Since 1891, when Gov. Fifer appointed him president of the trustees of Pontiac reform school, he has served in that capacity. During the world's fair he was at the head of the educational congress.

AMERICAN PRINCESS.

The First American Girl Entitled to Wear a Royal Title on Purely American Soil.

ed a few months ago in a pretty wedding at a San Francisco hotel. "To the first American girl who will wear her title on American soil," was the toast drank to the prince and his bride. After the charming Hawaiian custom the bridal parties were garlanded with "leis" wreaths of sweet-scented flowers instead of the usual showers of rice. They live in great state in Honolulu.

King Revives Snuff Habit.

King Edward has set the custom of snuff-taking, which as a result promises to be revived generally. At the Marlborough house dinners a Georgian silver snuff box, once used by the prince regent, is handed to his majesty at the beginning of dessert while the ladies are still at the table. The king helps himself liberally, sharing his pinches with favored guests.

ON THE DIAMOND.

John Doyle has been suggested as official umpire for the St. Mary team. He has umpired for the team for nearly two seasons and has give entire satisfaction.

William Symons has been assigned permanently to first base by Manager Muir, of the Safe Works team. The position was to have been held by Ben Evans but he is now in Muhlenberg hospital with a bad attack of typhoid fever.

Manager Muir is not at all satisfied with the field that has been selected as the Safe Work's home ground. It is at Clinton avenue and South Second street and is in close proximity of the railroad. The erection of bleachers is in contemplation but the field is so narrow there is no place to put them without crowding. Several other sites have been offered the management and it is almost certain one will be accepted.

INDOOR SPORTS.

The spring exhibition given at the Y. M. C. A. last Saturday evening did not mark the closing of the gymnasium for the season. Regular class work will be conducted until warm weather sets in.

GOLF.

In the initial play for the Boys' cup at the Hillside course, this morning, Kerro Knox won first place with 88 net and a handicap of 18. Wickham Corwin was second, and H. Lapsley, third.

Five More Knights.

At a regular meeting of Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., held last evening, the following candidates received their first degree: George Ord, George and Wm. Feiring, Walter L. Hetfield and Clarence W. Mundy. There were also several applications for membership presented.

Little Tots Entertained.

In honor of her fourth birthday, Miss Manila Dewey Symons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Symons, of North avenue, gave a party to a dozen of her young friends, yesterday afternoon. Comic songs were rendered by B. Collins Firstbrook.

Change in Office Hours.

NEW QUARTETTE.

Will Make Its First Appearance at the Crescent Avenue Tomorrow.

The new quartette choir at the Crescent Avenue church will sing tomorrow for the first under the direction of the new organist, Herbert H. Joy. The quartette will be composed of the following: Miss Martha M. Henry, soprano; Miss Grace Carroll, alto; W. C. Wood, tenor; Arthur H. Chamberlain, baritone. Miss Henry takes the place of Miss Greenwood, the regular soprano, temporarily, while Mr. Wood will sing on trial. The latter is from New York.

In some unknown manner, fire originated in the wall between the kitchen and dining room at the home of G. Leslie Marsh, of West Fourth street, at 11:15, last night. An alarm was sent in from box 35 but the firemen had little to do, the blaze having been extinguished by members of the family. The damage is trifling.

W. C. T. U. Meetings Discontinued.

Until the W. C. T. U. can be re-installed in their rooms on Madison avenue, the Sunday afternoon meetings will be discontinued. The meeting tomorrow morning at 9:15 o'clock will be held at 116 Central avenue.

To be Ready September 1.

W. S. Butterfield, proprietor of Music Hall, states that the alterations on the present structure will commence June 1 and that the theatre will be formally opened during the first week in September.

Dance Over Mountain.

A dance will be given in the hotel at Mount Bethel, this evening, which will be attended by a party of Plainfielders. A stage load will leave the corner of Front and Somerset streets at 8 o'clock.

PLAYED BALL DESPITE RAIN

Three of the League Teams Played Saturday Afternoon and All Were Victorious.

SCHOOL TEAMS PLAYED.

Scotch Plains Opened the Season Saturday by Defeating Clinton Avenue Team—St. Mary's Had Easy Thing—Hot Game at Dunellen—Hopes Had No Trouble.

Hope Y. M. A., 13; Cuban Giants, 4.
Y. M. C. A., 7; Dunellen, 4.

N. Plainfield H. S., 1; Rutgers Prep., 7.
Scotch Plains, 11; Clinton Avenue, 8.

A cold wind and occasional rain did not help along baseball in Plainfield, Saturday afternoon. The crowds were, in consequence, quite small but several good exhibitions of baseball were seen. All the league teams except the Safe Works played and all came out victorious. The Safe Works game was called off on account of the threatening weather. Both local schools teams played, the boroughites meeting defeat at New Brunswick at the hands of the Rutgers Prep while the city school boys found Hasbrouck Institute, of Jersey City, an easy thing.

HOPES WON AGAIN.

Abounding in two and three-base hits and errors on the part of the colored contingent, the Hope-Cuban Giant baseball game furnished amusement for a fairly large crowd on Hope Common, Saturday afternoon. At no time was the result of the game in doubt as the Hopes drew ahead almost from the start and finished with thirteen runs against their opponent's four.

Montross was in the box for the Hopes and, with the exception of the seventh inning, pitched a fine game, striking out eleven men and letting five walk. He allowed but six safe hits, two of which were three-baggers and two two-baggers. The Hopes made thirteen hits off Davis, five of them for two bases.

The feature of the game was the home run made by "Tune" Hewitt from a hot grounder to deep center. It was the first made on the field this season. Davy Gordon, the Hope's right fielder, put up a phenomenal game at the bat, pounding out two two-baggers and bringing home several runs. Perkins and Hopkins also did some great stick work.

The summary and line-up is as follows:

EASY FOR ST. MARY'S.

The Raritan baseball team suffered an overwhelming defeat at the hands of the St. Mary team, on the latter's grounds, Saturday afternoon. Failure to get acquainted with "Tommy" Keefe's curves was mostly responsible for the Raritans getting only five hits. The complete score was 10 to 1.

Throughout the game the St. Mary players conducted themselves in the manner which has made them dangerous foes to opposing teams. But one error was checked against them and that was an excusable one credited to Winn. Casey, the new player, did great work both in the field and at the bat. It was Keefe's first game this season and it showed he had lost none of his old sterngth and knowledge of curves. He struck out eleven men and allowed but one base on balls. Grogan, the Raritan pitcher, struck out nine men and allowed two to walk. There were a number of excellent double plays made by the St. Mary boys which called forth the cheers of the large crowd of rooters.

IT BEGINS AT 'PLAINS.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 5—The threatening weather of Saturday afternoon failed to prevent the opening of the local baseball season in Scotch Plains, although it no doubt kept many at home. As it was over two hundred enthusiastic fans witnessed the home club defeat their old opponents, the Clinton Avenue team, of Plainfield, by a score of 11 to 8.

The day was hardly an ideal pitcher's one, and both Harvey, of the home team, and Kelly, of the visitors, were batted rather hard. Considering everything Scotch Plains folk were well satisfied with the showing made by the home club. The team went into the game with practically no team practice, the men never having played together before. The new men showed up well and greatly strengthened the batting, a spot in which the Scotch Plains has always been weak. That they will all be retained as permanent members is assured. As the season advances Scotch Plains will be able to put an article of ball that will keep that club in the front ranks among the clubs of the surrounding towns.

HIGH SCHOOL WON.

Twenty-two to eight. That is the terse story of a defeat administered to Hasbrouck Institute when it crossed bats with Plainfield High School on Pittis field Saturday afternoon. As the score indicates play was somewhat loose. Even the home team was a little rocky at times, while Hasbrouck had only one staid interval in the whole game. This was from the second to the fifth inning when Plainfield batters found it difficult to discover the whereabouts of the ball delivered by the Hasbrouck twirlers, and consequently failed to accumulate runs. Apart from this short period, the Institute boys were "away off."

The home team, by piling up ten scores in short order, practically won the game in the first inning. Then Russel, of Hasbrouck, supplanted Horwood in the box. Plainfield was

SOCIETY RECEIVED AT MR. ARENS' NEW HOME

Charming "At Home" Given Saturday Afternoon by Mrs. Arens and Daughter.

FOUR HUNDRED GUESTS.

PARTICULARLY BEAUTIFUL WERE THE FLORAL DECORATIONS.

Those Who Assisted the Hostesses in Receiving and in the Dining Room—A Dinner Given to a Few Friends Afterwards.

A social event of much interest and pleasure was the "at home" given Mrs. Otto Arens and her daughter, Miss Edith Arens, at their beautiful new home on Rahway road, Saturday afternoon, from 4 to 7 o'clock. It was the occasion for the society folk of this city and borough to meet and enjoy the hospitality of the hostess and her daughter, while fully one hundred guests from New York and vicinity were also present. There were fully four hundred guests in attendance during the appointed hours.

The palatial home was made even more beautiful through the presence of so many richly gowned women, while in the decorations there was an attractive scene never to be forgotten. The very choicest flowers were used. The American Beauty rose predominated throughout, while there were potted plants, ferns, palms, rubber plants and many varieties of flowers that were prettily arranged about the reception room and those adjoining it. In the broad and spacious hallways there were banks of flowers on either side.

Mrs. Arens and Miss Arens received the guests. They stood in the drawing room and after greeting them the guests gradually wended their way to the dining room, where refreshments were served. In this room Mrs. Louis Borsum, Mrs. William A. Lord, Mrs. Howard J. Runyon and Mrs. Gilford Mayer poured tea. They were assisted by Miss Maude Lord, Miss Mary Martine, Mrs. Evarts Tracy, of this city, the Misses Hagedorn and Alexander, of New York, and Miss Lillian Helen, of Washington.

While a number of the guests remained but a short time, there were twenty-four who remained in the evening to a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Arens. A feature of the affair was the delightful programme of music rendered by Wheatley's stringed orchestra from New York.

CABMEN'S CHARGES.

Chief Kiely Notified Hackmen That They Must Display Rates of Fare—The Rates.

Chief Kiely has notified all licensed hackmen in the city that hereafter all must display in their cabs placards furnished by the city containing the rates of fare. He has received numerous complaints of overcharging and has adopted this measure to put a check to the practice.

As detailed on the cards, the rate of fare for one passenger in the prescribed limits is twentyfive cents, and for each additional passenger fifteen cents. Outside the limits the rate is fifty cents for one passenger and twenty-five cents for each additional. These charges may be doubled between the hours of 11 o'clock at night and 5 o'clock in the morning.

DISTRICT MEETING.

The Methodist Missionary Societies Meet in Plainfield Tomorrow.

The semi-annual district meeting of the Methodist Women's Foreign Missionary Societies of the Elizabeth District will be held at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church tomorrow morning, afternoon and evening.

In the morning reports of the work will be read. In the afternoon there will be an address by Miss Gallimore from India and in the evening addresses on mission work by Mrs. J. H. Knowles, of New York city, and Miss Gallimore.

King's Daughters Meeting.

The annual meeting of the City Union, King's Daughters, will be held tomorrow afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock in Grace Episcopal church Guild rooms, Sixth and Sycamore streets. There will be election of officers, annual reports, etc.

Residences Painted.

The residences of Walter Scott and Mrs. Lawrence Myers on East Front street, and Dr. M. A. Carman, on Franklin place, have just been painted by the New York Painting and Decorating Company, of Park avenue.

Somerville, May 5—In the Orphans' Court here Friday before Judge Schenck there was a hearing in the famous Warren township will case. Some time ago Jonathan Perrine, an aged resident of that vicinity, passed away and then his remarkable hobby for will making came to light. Different people (who had them in charge) sent in his various wills—seven in all—to the Surrogate for probate. It is positively known that he had made five other wills during his life-time, which swells up the general total to an even dozen. And this was all because he owned an estate of only about $2,500.

Perrine left no children and no widow and the document of the most recent date leaves the property to Katie Rust, a girl who had kept house for him for several years. His sisters, Mrs. Louise Nightingale, of Boston, and Mrs. Frances Krymer, of Brooklyn, are the ones who have filed a caveat against the will. Their counsel is Horace Codington. Bartine & Beekman represent the proponent, Miss Rust.

Friday the subscribing witnesses to the last will testified as to Perrine's mental capacity when the paper was drawn. The court suddenly announced that the case would be postponed for two weeks, until other witnesses can be summoned.

In the criminal courts very little business was done.

Criscingio Garuntrino, who attempted to put his chum, Joseph Tramatato, out of business with a beer bottle, was sentenced to three months' confinement in the county jail.

BOY GYMNASTS.

Spring Exhibition of Boys' Department at the Y. M. C. A. Held Saturday Morning.

Forty members of the boys department of the Young Men's Christian Association gave their spring exhibition of gymnastics in the gymnasium Saturday morning. The exercises were led by the different class leaders; the work done was as follows: Buck, led by Hudson Burr; low bar, led by Munroe Long; parallels, led by Luther Sheppard; horse, led by Paul Collier; rings, led by Francis Anderson. The bouncing blanket was an enjoyable feature. Several of the boys were tossed high up into the air. The mage run was led by Francis Anderson.

The presentation of prizes also took place, the winners were: Francis Anderson, champion athlete's medal; Luther Sheppard, champion gymnast's medal; with Munroe Long, second, silver Y. M. C. A. button, and a bronze button to F. Anderson for third. The medal for good attendance to F. Taylor who has a record of 100 per cent.

BASKET BALL REVIVED.

Girls of City High School Will Play the Game on the Casino Grounds Hereafter.

The girls athletic association of the city High School has been in a quiescent state for two years. Since the upper floor of the Whittier building has been converted into class rooms, the girl have had no place to play basket ball, and there was consequently no reason for their association to continue active. The privilege of the Casino grounds for a basket ball court has now been secured and the association has therefore been revived.

The following officers have been elected: President, Miss Dorothy Waldo; secretary, Miss Elizabeth Phillips; treasurer, Miss Elsie Goddard; manager of basket ball interests, Miss Anna Prescott.

Nothing More Refreshing.

There is nothing more refreshing these days than a Turkish bath and when they can be had with so little trouble there is no excuse for not taking advantage of the superb equipment at Dr. Cooley's baths on Somerset street. John Ryan is in charge for the men and he thoroughly understands his work.

King's Daughters Were Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Moffett, of West Front street, entertained the Circle of King's Daughters of the Park Avenue Baptist church at their home Thursday evening. The evening was spent in playing games and having a social time in general. During the evening refreshments were served.

GOLFIACS DID NOT MIND THE WEATHER

Play on Both Local Courses Saturday Despite the Rain Which Fell at Intervals.

THE DAY'S WINNERS.

HONORS WENT TO KERRO KNOX, CHAS. STOVER AND SENATOR REED.

First Play for Boys' Cup at Hillside Course in the Morning—Played for Golf Committee in Afternoon—President's Cup at Park.

Saturday was not exactly an ideal day for golf, but the local enthusiasts turned out in surprisingly large numbers for such an unpleasant day and the regular competitions at the local courses were, in consequence, well contested. At the Hillside Club, first honors went to Kerro Knox and Chas. Stover while Senator Charles A. Reed was winner at the Park Club.

HILLSIDE CLUB.

The first play for the Boy's cup was the attraction on the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club course Saturday morning. The disagreeable weather had much to do with keeping many contestants away and only a few handed in their scores. Kerro Knox made low score, 88 with a handicap of 18. Wickham Corwin and H. Lapsley tied for second honors with a net score of 95 and each received a point and half.

The scores are as follows:

	G	H	N
Kerro Knox	106	18	88
Wickham Corwin	110	15	95
H. Lapsley	113	18	95
W. Glenney	110	13	97
H. S. Browne	119	18	101

The standing for the cup at present is as follows:

	Points.
Kerro Knox	3
Wickham Corwin	1½
H. Lapsley	1½

In the afternoon there was the regular play for the Golf Committee cup. The scores were quite low considering the limited amount of practice that most of the players have had.

First honors were won by Charles Stover, who has improved his game much over last season. His net score was 81 with a handicap of 27. Roger F. Murray secured second honors with a net of 83, while Dudley H. Barrows won third honors with an 84 net. H. F. Baker, the winner of the three points a week ago, had his handicap of 15 cut in half and his score Saturday was 94 as against 85 on the previous Saturday.

Below will be found the scores for the Golf Committee cup:

	G	H	N
Charles Stover	108	27	81
R. F. Murray	90	7	83

PARK CLUB.

Despite the rain, which fell at intervals during the afternoon, six of the golfers turned out at the Park Golf Club course Saturday afternoon and contested for points for the President's cup. First honors were won by Senator Charles A. Reed, who is now in the lead with four points with Charles W. McCutchen a close second. The other honors Saturday went to S. St. John McCutchen and Samuel Townsend.

Saturday's scores were:

	G	H	N
Charles A. Reed	121	26	95

NO CHANGE IN THE STRIKE

EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYES REFUSED TO CHANGE THEIR STAND.

Talk of Importing Men, But Nothing Has Been Done in the Matter as Yet.

The strike situation remains practically unchanged. The journeymen plmbers are still out, with little prospect of returning for the present. The painters are still out, that is the same number of men as were out last week. It is reported that the bosses intend importing workmen to this city between now and Wednesday unless the striking men return. Some of the bosses are quite indiguant over the stand their men have taken and they say that they do not intend to be dictated to as to how they shall run their business.

The strikers are standing firm and they say that they will remain out until their demands are granted. One stricker said this morning that if an attempt is made on the part of the bosses to engage Amalgamated men from out of town the Union will see that they are sent back. If they persist in working they will see that the men are fined or expelled from the Union. Thus far there has been no violence restored to and everything is peaceful among the men.

BAZAAR FOR ST. JOSEPH'S

WILL BE HELD IN THE NEW ACADEMY BUILDING NEXT WEEK.

A Tea Will be Held Monday and Programmes Arranged for the Other Days.

Beginning with next Monday, the women of St. Joseph's church are to give a bazaar for the benefit of the sisters in the new Academy building at the corner of Jackson and Watchung avenues. A tea is to be given Monday afternoon from 3 to 6 at which there will be an exhibition of the articles to be sold during the week. There will be no programme of any kind Monday night.

All the articles to be disposed of are the handiwork of the sisters. They consist of oil paintings, pastels, hand painted China articles, Mexican brawn work, embroidered center pieces, doilies, Irish point handkerchiefs, pillows, handsomely mounted fire screens, mantel draperies and many other things.

Tuesday and Friday evenings there will be euchres to which an admission fee will be charged. Elaborate prizes will be awarded. Wednesday and Thursday evenings some noted artists have been engaged to furnish delightful programmes.

The patronesses are Mrs. D. T. Kenney, Mrs. Herman Berkhan, Mrs. Joseph Blatz, Mrs. James Bailey, Mrs. Arthur Canon, Mrs. Andrew Carney, Mrs. Marlee, Mrs. Walter Hamilton, Mrs. Andrew Kenney, Mrs. Otto Mueck, Mrs. Thomas Meaney, Mrs. R. H. McCullough, Mrs. Edward Ryan and Mrs. William White.

Lecture on "Millet."

The last of the Y. M. C. A. supplemental course of illustrated lectures for the season will be given at the Y. M. C. A. Hall this evening. Alexander F. Irvine, of New Haven, will represent the great French artist, Millet, as the prophet of labor. Tickets of admission may be obtained at the drug stores. A silver offering will be received.

Chess Club to be Started.

There will be a meeting this evening at the Y. M. C. A. in the interest of forming a chess club. All are invited to be present who enjoy the game. Those who would like to bring along a set of chessmen and board will greatly oblige and help in the evening's pleasure. Meeting called for 8 o'clock.

Pastor and Wife Received.

The regular communion service was held at the Seventh-Day Baptist church Saturday morning, at which time Rev. and Mrs. George B. Shaw were received into full membership by letter from the New York church. Dr. Lewis welcomed the new pastor and his wife.

Rasores Club Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Rasores Club will be held at Mrs. Lapsley's, 816 First place, tomorrow morning. A full attendance is requested.

Officers for West Ends.

There will be a meeting of the West End Hose Company this evening. Officers will be elected.

McAll Auxiliary Meeting.

The McAll Auxiliary will hold its regular meeting at the Public Library Wednesday morning.

ASK TO TALK AT MEETING

Greater Plainfield Advocates Have Requested Permission to Speak at Meeting of ANTI-ANNEXATIONISTS.

Much Interest Taken by Boroughites Over Mass-Meeting Scheduled to Take Place at Saengerbund Hall Tomorrow Evening—Mr. Saunders' Letter to Chairman.

The announcement that the first of the public meetings for a discussion of the Greater Plainfield question would be held tomorrow evening naturally attracted much attention in the borough. It has been generally understood that both sides would hold meetings and that a joint debate was possible. The meeting is likely to attract many as all are anxious to hear just what is to be said on the subject.

There were none more interested in the meeting than the advocates of the annexation and consolidation measures. They will undoubtedly turn out in force. On learning of the meeting, Former Mayor William L. Saunders promptly sent an open letter to Charles W. McCutchen, who is to act as chairman, asking for the privilege of being heard at the meeting.

The letter is as follows:

Chas. W. McCutchen, Esq.,
North Plainfield.

My Dear Sir:

The local papers have brought to my notice the fact that "the voters of the borough are invited to attend a public mass meeting at Saengerbund Hall" next Tuesday evening and that at this meeting "the reasons will be presented why it is inexpedient for the borough to become consolidated with the city of Plainfield or to become annexed to Union county." As it is announced that you are to preside I write to ask on behalf of the friends of annexation and consolidation whether or not you will grant us the privilege of being heard at the meeting? This being a subject of great public importance, and recognizing that there exists a difference of opinion, it would seem fair that we get together and openly discuss both sides of the case with perfect frankness.

Thanking you in anticipation, I remain, with great respect, yours,

W. L. Saunders.

NEW GROUNDS.

Safe Works Nine Has Decided to Locate on Borough Grounds.

The Safe Works baseball management has decided to change the location of the home grounds from South Second street and Clinton avenue, to West End avenue, just north of West Front street, on the Cadmus property. A diamond has already been laid out by the North Plainfield High School team but this club has agreed to give the Safe Works the right to fix the field in any way it choses. Work will be started at once and if the field cannot be made ready for Saturday's game with Scotch Plains, the contest will take place on the Hope grounds.

SETTLED FOR INJURIES.

E. K. Allen Has Made Settlement With the Electric Light Company.

Through Counsellor Francis J. Blatz, E. K. Allen, of Prospect avenue, has made a settlement with the Plainfield Gas and Electric Light Company for injuries received from one of the company's fallen wires. The accident occurred in February and Mr. Allen is only just getting about. The electric light people are backed by the Traveller's Insurance Company which will pay the amount.

OLDEST EMPLOYE ON THE JERSEY CENTRAL

Conductor Phillip VanArsdale Can Relate Experiences in Railroad's Early Days.

HIS EVENTFUL CAREER.

CLAIMS TO BE THE OLDEST RAILROAD EMPLOYE IN THE COUNTRY.

He Has Served In One Capacity or Another for Fifty-Five Years—A Vast Difference Between the Old Days and New.

Phillip VanArsdale, now a conductor on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, claims the distinction of being the oldest railroad employe in the country; for fifty-five years he has held a place of some kind with different transportation companies in this State. Comemncing when eighteen years old Mr. VanArsdale took a position on the "Snake Head," or Elizabethtown and Somerville road, running between Somerville and what is now Elizabethport. The equipment of the road consisted of three ten-ton Baldwin locomotives, three passengers and eight freight cars, the later being on four wheels. Steam was a hard thing to keep in the locomotives and it was not an uncommon occurrence for the supply to run short and stall the train for some hours between the two terminals. The rails were strips of iron fastened to stringers of yellow pine, and occasionally curled up while the train was under way and pushed themselves through the floor of the the cars, much to the discomfiture of the passengers. Hsyterics followed among the female travelers, while the men gave vent to their feelings in strong language. It was one of these freaks of the rails that caused the first fatal accident on the Elizabethport road. While the train was bowling along at the high rate of ten miles an hour a rail ripped through the floor of the car and stabbed a man in the neck, killing him instantly. Virginia pine was used for fuel, and strenuous efforts had to be put forth during the winter when a big snow storm came along to keep up steam enough to show on the guage. If he amount of snow that covered the tracks was large enough to impede traffic a force of men, armed with long handled snow shovels, were perched on the cowcatcher and cleared the tracks of snow and ice. At various points the road connected with stage lines for other places, passengers for Easton and Phillipsburg transferring at Whitehouse. Railroad traveling was expensive when the road first opened and only those who were considered wealthy or has pressing business could afford the luxury. The bagaggeman handled two trunks at a time and "smashing" was unknown. Conductors collected fares from the passengers and $150 a day was the average turned in at the end of the run.

It was not until July, 1852, that ticket offices were opened in the stations along the line. In that year, also, John T. Johnson, who had been chosen president of the New Jeresy Central road, formed from the consolidation of the Elizabethport and Somerville and the Somerville and Easton lines, reported that there were nine first-class engines, three old engines, twenty passenger and baggage and 120 freight cars. Much was made of the magnitude of the rolling stock by the New York papers, some editors predicting that it would soon be the largest railroad in the country if not in the world.

To avoid collision the two trains each day between Elizabethtown and Phillipsburg were never started until one or the other had arrived at the terminus, and only two trains a day were started in either direction. During the early years of Mr. VanArsdale's career on the rail the employes were not uniformed, that event being inauguarated in 1867, and for years after the road furnished the suits to the men free of charge.

Mr. VanArsdale, in relating the story of the first accident on the rail from collision, said:

"It was on the morning of February 3, 1848, at a grade crsosing of the New Jersey Railroad and Transportation Company, now the Pennsylvania, and it happened at Elizabeth. The passenger train was going from Elizabethtown to Somerville, and the former train was making good speed. As she reached the crossing the train of the opposition road was pulling over our tracks and the engineer did not have time to stop after shutting off steam; air brakes, of course, were not thought of them, the system of twisting up the little handle brake on the car platform being having just been inaugurated. We struck the other train in the middle of the last car, and although it was well filled with passengers who were thrown out no one was badly hurt. All got a thorough scaring, and much comment was made on the careless way in which our trains were run. The case caused endless litigation in the courts, nearly everyone who was aboard our train suing for heavy damages. Many of the claimants died before their cases were disposed of by the courts.

"The first employe of the road to meet death was Addison Lang, who lived in Somerville. He fell from the top of a moving car in the yard at Somerville on the morning of September 15, 1847, and was dead before help reached him. The officials and employes of the company erected a monument over his grave in the cemetery at Plainfield, which is still standing."

Of the fifty-five years Mr. VanArsdale has been in the employ of the Central Railroad, twenty were passed as a passenger conductor betwen Newark and Jersey City. The road was originally intended to be a corporation separate from the New Jersey Central, and each tried for months to beat the other. In 1868 the Newark and New York Railroad, in order to steal a march on the Central, selected a dark, stormy Saturday night, and when it could not be served with an injunction after midnight on Saturday until after midnight on Sunday. The river about the present terminal of the Central was filled with pile drivers, and when the Central officials arrived at Jersey City, Monday morning, they found that their rivals had placed spiles for a ferry slip, and also for a track running along the water parallel to their tracks. Nothing was said at the time, but the next Sunday the same men were employed by the Central Railroad to pull all the spiles up and set them adrift. The river about Jersey City was filled for two days with floating timber that made navigation dangerous to ferryboats and small craft.

During his term of work with the Central Railroad he has served as fireman, brakeman, freight clerk at Somerville and conductor on coal, freight and passenger trains. He served as passenger conductor for thirty-eight years without a word of censure from the officials of the company. In January, 1889, the proposition was made to retire him from active service on a pension in recognition of his services. He would not consider the offer for a moment, and was appointed chief station inspector of the Central division, covering the territory between Easton, Rockaway, Lake Hopatcong and Perth Amboy.

STANDARD FOR FOOD.

One Will Probably be Established by the State Board of Health.

The State Board of Health held a conference last week when the question of establishing a standard for food was discussed. The consideration of the subject was simply for the guidance of the board in prescribing fixed standards at some future date, and no definite action was taken.

The constituents of many articles of food were taken up, the aim of the board being to determine from a sanitary and commercial standpoint what adulterations should be prohibited in foodstuffs, and in what cases it should be insisted. The board was agreed that if there are adulterations the fact should be made known when goods are exposed for sale.

To Make Ice.

The Hygeia Ice Company will begin today the work of making ice. The plant has been idle for some time past, but now that the demand for ice is considerably increased operations will begin.

Don't Start Wrong.

Don't start the summer with a lingering cough or cold. We all know what a "summer cold" is. It's the hardest kind to cure. Often it "hangs on" through the entire season. Take it in hand right now. A few doses of One Minute Cough Cure will set you right. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. Children like it. "One Minute Cough Cure is the best cough medicine I ever used," says J. H. Bowles, Groveton, N. H. "I never found anything else that acted so safely and quickly." L. W. Randolph.

GETTING READY TO START TUNNEL SHAFT

Work on the Completion of Tunnel Under the Hudson Soon to be Started.

HISTORY OF TUNNEL.

LARGE DEPOSITS OF MUD ARE NOW BEING CLEARED AWAY.

An Electric Light Plant is Being installed—The Air Locks and Air Pumping Machinery in Good Shape—How Work Was Started.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Jersey City, May 5—This week the tunnel works of the New York and New Jersey Railway Company at the foot of Fifteenth street, will be the scene of bustle and activity once more, when the work of boring the remaining 1,400 feet of the northern tube will be proceeded with.

A force of electricians has commenced wiring the completed portion of the bore on this side of the river for an electric light installation, and as soon as the large deposits of mud are cleared away the operations will proceed in earnest night and day. Three shifts of men will be employed, and as the work proceeds more hands will be taken on.

The air lock and air pumping machinery are in thorough condition. A quantity of new machinery has been delivered at the works. One of the towers will be erected close to the tunnel works, and the other at the long slip near the Hoboken ferry.

A new elevator for the carrying of workmen and material between the surface and the tunnel bore will be built at the shaft at the foot of Fifteenth street in a week or two.

Public curiosity in the tunnel has been revived. Crowds of people have gathered near the works, but they see nothing except confused heaps of lumber, pieces of machinery and numerous large castings. The tunnel shaft is hidden along with the boilers and working machinery in a large wooden shed, and none but employes are permitted to enter.

It is nearly thirty years since public attention was first called to the North River tunnel. It was commenced then with a great deal of vigor and was intended to be used for ordinary railroad traffic. When finally completed, however, it will be the connecting link between the metropolis and New Jersey, of a colossal trolley car transportation system, and that the New York and New Jersey Railway Company, which now controls the enterprise, means business, is evidenced by the fact that it received a loan of $7,000,000 a few weeks ago through the Guaranty Trust Company of New York. This loan is to run for thirty years at 5 per cent. interest, and is secured by first mortgage gold bonds of $1,000 each, bearing interest on Feb. 1 and Aug. 1 of each year.

Of this $7,000,000 the sum of $4,500,000 is to be used for the acquisition of the Hudson Tunnel Railway Company and for the completion of the "Northern Tunnel" and approaches on the New Jersey side of the river. Two million dollars is reserved for the purchase of whatever additional property may be required, and the remaining $500,000 will be reserved for other corporate purposes.

The capital stock of the company is $8,500,000, divided into $3,500,000 of 6 per cent. non-cumulative preferred stock and $5,000,000 common stock. All this stock has been issued and the $7,000,000 mortgage is the only lien on the property of the company.

The original projector of the Hudson tunnel was DeWitt Charles Haskins, who had accumulated a fortune on the Pacific coast and was seeking an investment for it, when he came to New York. At his own expense and without attempting to form a company, he made costly surveys and concluded that the best points for terminals were the present ones at the foot of Fifteenth street, this city, and the foot of Morton street, New York. The first work done on the tunnel was in 1874, when a shaft was sunk at the foot of Fifteenth street, this city, about 100 feet from the bulkhead wall. Forty feet of it had been completed when the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad enjoined Haskins from further work. After a law suit which tied up the work for a year or two Haskins won, the injunction was removed and work was resumed. Shortly afterwards Trenor W. Park made an offer of financial aid and the result was that $2,000,000 was put into the enterprise by Park, Haskins and others and work was pushed vigorously until the funds ran out. English capitalists were then induced to invest in the great undertaking and in 1892 about $2,000,000 more was expended. The English money for the Hudson tunnel was raised through the bank of Robarts, Lubbock & Co., of which firm Sir John Lubbock was a partner. Reorganization of the old company took place in 1897. Its early stockholders were bought out and a new start made. Since then and up to the present time the progress has been fitful, but as has already been stated, the company now in control will go ahead without any let-up until the complete tunnel is a material fact.

The enterprise has not been unattended with fatality. About twenty years ago the tunnel caved in between the shaft and the bulkhead, and twenty-one men lost their lives. Outside of this accident the work has been free of any serious mishap.

The trolley cars that will run through the tunnel will be of special construction, the ordinary street cars being too large. The tunnel cars will have the roof overhang cut off, but they will be of standard gauge.

The North Jersey Street Railway Company's cars and the cars of the Jersey City, Hoboken and Paterson Street Railway Company will approach the Jersey City end of the tunnel via Grove street, and then run over to the foot of Fifteenth street, where the passengers will be transferred to the tunnel cars.

The terminal in this city will be in the block bounded by Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Henderson and Provost streets, and the present intention is to build a large power house and car barns on the site. The New York terminal is to be located on the west half of the block bounded by Christopher, Tenth, Greenwich and Hudson streets.

HOLY TRINITY MUSICALE.

Arranged by Wm. E. MacClymont, of This City, Last Thursday.

"An Evening of Music" was given last Thursday in the parish house of Holy Trinity church, New York, by William E. MacClymont, organist of the church. Among those taking part were Miss May Vincent Whitney, pianist, of this city; W. Paulding DeNike, 'cellist; Mrs. E. W. Buckout, soprano; Hobart Smock and Edward Walker, tenors; Edwin H. Lockhart, bass. Mr. MacClymont presided at the piano. The programme was a most attractive one and was cordially received by a large audience.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—Sadie Randolph, of West Eighth street, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bauer, of Somerville.

—Mrs. Nichols, of Blawenburg, has sold her personal property and has taken up her residence in this city.

—Herman Klinsman, of Harrison avenue, has purchased a new horse to mate with "Duke," the fire horse of West End Company.

—The house on Rockview avenue, formerly owned by Wm. O. Worth, has been rented to Lieut. W. L. Murray, who moved in Thursday.

—The Somerset County Board of Freeholders will meet Saturday, May 10, at the bridge near Alfred Ammerman's in Bernards township.

In Justice Hand's Court.

Judgment in favor of the plaintiff for full amount and costs was rendered by Justice Hand, Friday, in the contract case of Bornman against Kieb. The plaintiff was represented by George Ball while the defendant appeared in his own behalf.

Officers Elected at State Meeting.

At the annual meeting of the Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society of New Jersey, held Thursday at Red Bank, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Alonzo Pettit, Elizabeth; fourteen vice presidents who are secretaries of associations throughout the State; recording secretary, Mrs. J. J. Jones, East Orange; corresponding secretary and treasurer, Mrs. B. J. Shreve, Plainfield.

Resurfacing Washington Street.

Street Commissioner Gavett placed men at work, Saturday, resurfacing Washington street. The thoroughfare will be treated from Front to Seventh streets.

Like a Drowning Man.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such hold of me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marsh, well-known attorney of Nocona, Tex. "I took quantities of pepsin and other medicines but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am sound and well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. L. W. THE MINING PROBLEM

Hanna Says Late Conferences Were Satisfactory.

CIVIC FEDERATION CAN DO NO MORE.

It Brought Together Representatives of Miners' Union and Operators In a Friendly Meeting—The Senator Still Hopeful.

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—Senator Hanna in an interview characterizes the situation in the anthracite coal region as extremely delicate and for that reason said it would be unwise for him to express an opinion as to the probable result of the meeting of the executive committee of the United Mine Workers for the three anthracite districts called for next Wednesday at Scranton, Pa., by National President John Mitchell. Senator Hanna said he was officially notified by Ralph M. Easley, secretary of the National Civic federation, of the statement issued Saturday night by President Mitchell in New York. He immediately wired Mr. Easley instructing him to refrain from calling another meeting of the conciliation committee, as that procedure would be useless in view of the latest development.

Senator Hanna said he had been awaiting a report from the subcommittee of the conciliation committee, but that Mr. Mitchell's statement had anticipated it. The work of the conciliation committee was ended, said the senator, when it brought together the operators and the representatives of the miners' union, and he added that nothing more could be done unless there were some new developments.

"I want to emphasize the fact," continued Senator Hanna, "that the conferences between the operators and miners were satisfactory. Three conferences were held, and the proceedings were conducted in the best spirit. I think the operators formed a favorable impression of Mr. Mitchell and gave him credit for honesty and sincerity in his efforts to change the conditions of the miners. On the other hand, Mr. Mitchell appreciated the consideration shown him and the interests he represents. Unless a bitter and protracted strike should occur I believe much good will come out of the conferences. I am of the opinion that they will lead to better conditions between capital and labor.

"I am in favor of meetings between employers and employees to consider differences. I want the people to thoroughly understand the position of the Civic federation. It can do only two things, exert its influence to prevent a strike or arbitrate when a rupture has occurred at the request of both parties to the dispute. In this case the Civic federation has done all within its province. It brought together through its conciliation committee the representatives of the miners' union and the operators.

"In the evolution of things rapidly taking place in this country the conference of employers and employees is one of the conditions that must necessarily be a part of it. The progress and development of our industries must be accompanied by the development and improvement of the laboring class.

"The peculiar situation of the anthracite mining industry," continued the senator, "makes the proposition most difficult. The combination of the railroad and mining interests brings forward the question of tonnage, and this, with threatened competition from the enormous production of bituminous coal, constitutes matters which must be considered. This is the foundation of the operators' argument. It is not a mere selfish interest that impels them to the stand they have taken, but the proposition is difficult to explain to the rank and file of the workers in and about the mines. It is my hope that when they are educated to understand these conditions they may be considerate and not governed by prejudice in future actions."

A Strike Expected.

HAZLETON, Pa., May 5.—The impression prevails among the miners of the Hazleton district that there will be a general strike as a result of the failure of the operators and the representatives of the United Mine Workers to come to an agreement. If the district executive boards decide on Wednesday at Scranton to order a suspension of work, the members of the union hereabouts will, it is believed, obey the order to a man. It is conservatively estimated that three-fourths of the employees in and about the mines in this region are organized, and if a strike is declared operations will be brought to a standstill at every colliery.

Retail Meat Dealers Organize.

CHICAGO, May 5.—Hundreds of retail butchers throughout the country have begun the organization of an independent packing company, with a capital stock of $5,000,000. It is proposed by the organizers to erect a modern packing plant in Chicago large enough to supply all the beef products handled in their trade and thus offset the designs of the beef trust.

Two Hundred and Fifty Drowned.

YOKOHAMA, May 5.—Two hundred and fifty fishermen are reported to have been drowned in a gale which has made havoc of the herring fishing fleet on the west coast of Japan. The Japanese cruiser Musashi was driven ashore, but her crew was saved.

General Davis Cables Account of What He Styles "One of the Most Gallant Performances of American Arms."

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The war department has received a cablegram from General Chaffee indicating that the campaign against Sultan Bayan, one of the principal Moro chiefs, had been completely successful. The result was accomplished by a gallant assault on the principal Moro fort and its capture after a number of the leading Moros had been killed. The cablegram from General Chaffee says that the following is the full substance of Brigadier General George W. Davis' message from Bayan as received by him:

"Eighty-four survivors Bayan surrendered unconditionally this morning at 7. Sultan Bayan, Rajah Muda Bayan, Sultan Pandapatan and all leading dattos dead and many of their followers. Assault on the principal fort which surrendered last night one of the most gallant performances of American arms. Colonel Frank D. Baldwin and his regiment deserve all praise for hand to hand struggle in four lines of ditches under walls of fort. These trenches are lined with Moro dead from rifle fire. Have never seen or heard of any performance excelling this gallantry and grit. It is my painful duty to report that the overthrow of Moro power not accomplished without severe loss. One officer and seven enlisted men killed, four officers and thirty-seven enlisted men wounded. Will telegraph the list later. After eight-four survivors marched out this morning as prisoners and was understood they were all, eight others, who had concealed themselves in rubbish inside the fort, made a break for liberty, tried way out, but none succeeded. Some more wounded tried to stab soldiers trying to help them. It is impossible to state the number of Moros killed; many lying in tall grass. The surrender saves us from siege and starving. Impossible to have carried works without scaling ladders, which were ready. Intend to retain prsoners until two or three small adjacent forts occupied, then, with your consent, to retain, as hostages eight or ten of the principals and release the others. The force in line of advance consisted of four mountain guns, 470 rifles. This was fully sufficient. Could not have used more.

"Had we sent a strong column it would only have swelled the casualty list. One neighboring datto has already presented himself as a friend, and I expect a general coming in shortly, when the weight of the blow is known. The dead have been sent to Malabang for burial. In light of present knowledge I could have besieged the principal forts and in time forced them to surrender, but that would probably have resulted in a sortie for freedom and escape for many. By attacking them they have been completely crushed, the only kind of lesson these wild Moros seem to be able to profit by. I shall invite the sultan of Tarlac to pay me a friendly visit if he does not do us of his own initiative. Have fort farther east in plain sight and of same strength as was Bayan on beautiful tableland thousand acres fine upland rice. I am urging the people to return to its cultivation.

"The result to follow this action is very important—namely, it secures respect for United States authority in the center of Moro savagery."

Aid For the Boers.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., May 5.—The Iowa Transvaal committee at Orange City, Ia., has collected a fund of $6,000 for the fighting Boers in South Africa and will send its first installment of $2,000 to Dr. Leyds at Brussels next week. The shipment will be followed by others in the near future. The league has collected in all about $13,000, and the work is being continued.

Rebels Capture Santo Domingo.

JACMEL, Haiti, May 5.—It is reported here that Santo Domingo, the capital of the Dominican Republic, has surrendered to the insurgent forces. President Jimenez of the Dominican Republic is said to have taken refuge in the French consulate there. Telegraphic communication is still interrupted, and news is obtained with difficulty.

Flood Follows Drought.

GUTHRIE, Okla., May 5.—Drenching rains have been falling over eastern Oklahoma since early morning, swelling rivers and creeks higher than at any other time this season. Several rivers are rapidly approaching the high water mark, and there is no sign of a cease of the downpour. The rain is of incalculable value to growers of wheat, potatoes and cotton.

Another Priest Missing.

PEKING, May 5.—Another priest is reported to be missing from Chengting-fu, province of Chili. The uprising there embraces a radius of fifty miles. There are eight regiments of cavalry in the disturbed district. There are three American missions at Tamingfu, which borders on the district in revolt. The Americans are believed to be sufficiently protected.

The Indiana In Port.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The battleship Indiana of the north Atlantic squadron has arrived at the Brooklyn navy yard after a cruise of some months in West Indian waters. She will remain in the yard for several weeks undergoing an overhauling and will then take out a crew of apprentices on a training cruise.

FATAL HEAD ON COLLISION.

Two Killed and Forty-five Injured on the Baltimore and Ohio.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., May 5.—Two were killed and forty-five injured, two probably fatally, in a bad head on collision between an emigrant train and a fast freight near Rockwood, on the Connellsville division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. The two trains dashed toward each other on a straight stretch of track, and this fact alone averted what would have been the worst wreck in the history of the road.

The scene of the wreck is a half mile east of Rockwood and half way to the Luzon telegraph station, which marks the terminal of the double tracking operations on the Connellsville division of the road. From Luzon for a number of miles east the road is operated over the single track. The emigrant train was late out of Cumberland and had been given time at the telegraph offices along the line. It was hauling ten coaches of Italian emigrants. The fast freight eastbound was hauling twenty-two carloads of merchandise. When the crash came, the baggage car and the three coaches next were almost demolished.

Almost every occupant was cut and bruised by the shower of broken glass. A number were pinioned beneath the wreckage, and their cries of aid in the foreign tongue were fearful to hear. The trainmen, aided by the willing emigrants who were riding in the rear cars, worked hard to release the sufferers. Smallwood, a newsboy, was with his stock in the baggage car when the crash came. His was a terrible position, and he suffered for almost an hour before he was released. Fire started several times, but was extinguished before any damage was done.

All of the injured were detained here, where they will be well cared for by the officials of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad until their condition will allow them to proceed to their western destination. Both engines, four coaches of the passenger and three of the freight were demolished by the wreck.

The cause of the wreck, as rumored among railroaders here, was that the freight was running a lap on the passenger train's time when the collision occurred, but this has not been proved.

Fierce Storm In St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, May 5.—A terrific storm of wind and rain has prevailed in this city and vicinity, causing considerable damage. Lightning resulted in several fires, one of which destroyed the machine shop and a section of the foundry of William and Philip Madart's patent pulley plant in South St. Louis. The loss is estimated at $300,000, partially insured. Hard work on the part of the firemen, aided by the torrents of rain, saved an adjoining building in which William Madart estimated were stored patterns valued at half a million dollars.

Reign of Terror In Russia.

VIENNA, May 5.—In a dispatch from Warsaw the correspondent of Die Information gives a gloomy picture of the conditions of terror in Russia. He says there is scarcely a single Russian town where sentences of banishment and imprisonment are not constantly being imposed. There has been a great demonstration, says the correspondent, at Ekaterinoslav, in southern Russia, where the Cossacs killed twenty persons, wounded forty more and arrested 150.

Arsenal's Metropolitan.

NEW YORK, May 5.—Out of a field of twenty horses at the end of the first eighth of a mile of the Metropolitan handicap at Morris park raced Arsenal, son of the famous sprinter, Lamplighter, to a lead which he held to the wire and victory, with its reward of $8,970. He was desperately pressed by Herbert and Carbuncle and finished under whip and spur vigorously plied by Johnny Daly. Arsenal closed at 25 to 1 on most books.

Allan-a-Dale Won the Derby.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.—Amid tumultuous cheers Allan-a-Dale, son of Halma, the latter himself winner of the 1895 Derby, passed under the wire winner of the twenty-eighth Kentucky Derby. The outpouring of the people, such as always characterizes a Kentucky Derby, was one of the features of the big event.

Buffalo Elevator Burned.

BUFFALO, May 5.—A general alarm was sent in at midnight for a fire in the elevator district at the foot of Washington street. The C. J. Wells elevator is a total loss. A number of other large elevators and the Cleveland and Buffalo line docks and freight sheds, in the immediate vicinity of the fire, were in great peril for a time.

Specie Coming Our Way.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The French line steamer La Bretagne, which has just arrived from Havre, brought specie amounting to 390,310 francs.

Eight Fishermen Drowned.

LONDON, May 5.—A fishing boat from Galway has capsized off Kilcolgan point, Ireland, and eight of her crew were drowned.

Weather Probabilities.

Fair, with warmer south winds.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

At Columbia, S. C., three cadets were drowned while bathing.

Twelve thousand Jews were reported ready to leave Roumania for the United States.

The president nominated Henry Clay Evans, commissioner of pensions, to be consul general at London.

The American polo team won the first match game for the international cup at Ranleigh, England.

Intimidation.

First Senator—Something seems to be troubling Jones.

His Colleague—See that woman with the eye-glasses and the stern smile in the gallery?

"Yes."

"That's his wife and he's got a woman suffrage bill in his pocket. He doesn't know whether to introduce it and get roasted or to sit still and meet her when the session's over."

"What will he do?"

"Oh, he'll introduce it."—Detroit Free Press.

Baboo Leave.

On the occurrence of a plague scare in one of the afflicted cities of the Punjab, the clerks of a public office took flight, leaving behind them the following application: "We poor, unfortunate Baboos, in solemn conclave assembled, pray your honor to be pleased to permit us to leave this unwholesome spot; for, pray, what can Baboo give in exchange for his soul? In anticipation of sanction we leave to-night."—Madras Mail.

What They Used.

Patience—And you say you camped out in the mountains?

Patrice—Yes; caught our own fish, killed our own birds and cooked our own meals.

"What in the world did you cook them on?"

"Oh, I believe they used one of those mountain ranges."—Yonkers Statesman.

Suspicious Circumstances.

"This woolen underwear you sold me last week is adulterated," declared the angry customer.

"My dear sir," protested the obliging merchant, "I assure you that every thread is pure wool."

"Then," thundered the irate patron, "then why the dickens doesn't it itch?"—Woman's Home Companion.

CONGRESSMAN OTEY DEAD.

Member From Virginia and Prominent Ex-Confederate.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 5.—Peter J. Otey, representative in congress from this the Sixth congressional district, is dead of heart disease, complicated with diabetes. He came to his home here from Washington last Tuesday to consult his physician, but his condition was not such as to cause any more anxiety on the part of his family and friends than for some time past, he having been in bad health for about two years. The marked change for the worse came Friday night. Major Otey is survived by his wife and three daughters. He was serving his fourth term in the house.

Mr. Otey was well known in the south as a business man before he came to congress. He was interested in railroad, banking and insurance. He had been active in the politics of his state since 1869, but never held office until 1894, when he was elected to the house of representatives, since which time he had been a member of that body.

He was born in Lynchburg in 1840 and was graduated from the Virginia Military Institute. While a cadet he participated in the defense of Virginia in the John Brown raid. After graduating he became a civil engineer. In 1861 he joined the Confederate army and participated in the western campaign, culminating at Donelson and Shiloh. Mr. Otey returned with his command after that campaign was over and entered the army of northern Virginia, remaining in the infantry branch until the close of the war. He was badly wounded at Newmarket. When his wounds had healed, he returned and commanded a brigade under General Early at Cedar Creek.

FUNERAL OF CUMMINGS.

Held In the Hall of Representatives. An Honor Rarely Accorded.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—In pursuance of the resolution adopted by the house public memorial services were held yesterday afternoon in the hall of representatives over the remains of the late Representative Ames J. Cummings of New York, who died in Baltimore Friday night. Only twice before in recent years has such an unusual honor been accorded to a deceased representative, those conditions being the state funeral of Representative William D. Kelly of Pennsylvania and of Representative Nelson Dingley of Maine.

The exercises were very impressive. Almost the entire membership of the house and senate was present, and the galleries were entirely inadequate to hold the thousands who went to the capitol seeking admission. Delegations from New York Typographical union, No. 6; the New York Pilots' association and various letter carrier associations were in attendance. The floral tributes were numerous and of the most exquisite character.

The remains of Mr. Cummings, accompanied by the committees of the two houses, were taken to New York at night.

Mr. Bryan In Alabama.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 5.—William J. Bryan and Governor William Jennings of Florida were the guests of the Birmingham Bimetallic club at a banquet Saturday night. Many prominent Alabamians were present. During his speech Mr. Bryan intimated that he would not again be a candidate for the presidential nomination. In referring to the subject he likened himself to Aaron, who, he said, assisted Moses in leading the children out of the wilderness by his public utterances. He said he was perfectly willing to let some other person take the part of Moses.

Cuban Commerce.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The insular division of the war department has given out for publication a statement showing in comparative form the commerce of Cuba for the eight months ended Feb. 28, 1902 and 1901. The value of merchandise imported during the stated period of 1902 was $44,659,314 against $42,920,814 for the corresponding period of 1901. Export figures show $28,487,226 worth of merchandise in 1902 and $34,008,270 in 1901. These returns show an increase of 4 per cent in imports and a decrease of 16 per cent in exports.

Linton a Winner at Paris.

PARIS, May 5.—At the bicycle contests in the Parc des Princes Tom Linton, the English bicyclist, won the eighty kilometer race in 1h. 9m. 50 3-5s. This is the world's record for that distance. Harry Elkes, the American, came in two laps behind the winner, while Robl, the German, was third. Linton led the contestants all the way, except for a short time at sixty kilometers, when Robl was in the lead.

Three Fishermen Drowned.

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., May 5.—By the capsizing of their boat on the Housatonic river while on a fishing trip Alfonse Nordin, aged twenty-six; Emil Bredin, forty-four, and Charles Plancon, thirty-three, were drowned and William Poderantz, their companion, escaped, being able to swim.

Brick Workers on a Strike.

ST. LOUIS, May 5.—A thousand molders, pressers, bolsters and laborers employed at the fire brick and terra-cotta works at Cheltenham, in the outskirts of this city, are on strike. The skilled men struck from sympathy for the laborers, who demand an increase of 15 cents a day.

Haitian Rebels Defeated.

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, May 5.—General Gelito, commanding the rebel forces at Santiago, was defeated May 2 by government troops. The position of the president appears to be gaining in strength.

OUR GOODS IN CHINA

American Made Articles Preferred by the Celestials.

AN INCREASED DEMAND FOR FLOUR.

Capital From the United States Being Invested In Steamship, Mining and Other Ventures—Some Very Serious Obstacles.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—"American goods have an established reputation in China and are preferred to all other foreign articles." This statement appears in an interesting extract from "Commercial Relations of the United States For 1901," which has been given out by Mr. Frederic Emory, chief of the bureau of foreign commerce of the state department.

Novelties of all kinds find ready sale in China, the wealthy classes in particular taking pride in possessing the latest products of ingenuity. In their yamens are found phonographs, magic lanterns, music boxes, cameras and other articles which appeal to their curiosity and work for their amusement. Watches and clocks are extensively sold. There is an increase in the use of American flour. The quantity sold at Tientsin last year was 600 per cent more than two years previously, and, though this was due in good part to the presence of the foreign troops, the better class of Chinese are beginning to realize the superiority of the American product and to use it in preference to the native flour.

American capital is being invested in various enterprises in China. An American company has applied for permission to run a line of passenger and freight steamers between Canton, Hangchow and Hongkong. Concessions for mining gold, silver, copper and antimony ores have been granted by the board of mines to American, French and German parties.

Foreigners who go to China to manage industrial enterprises encounter serious obstacles, it is stated. According to a decree the Chinese retain controlling interests in railway and other concessions. They get beyond their depth, however, it is stated, when they attempt to manage such enterprises and therefore secure foreign superintendents for their iron works, textile mills, agricultural colleges, etc. These foreigners, who as a rule are well qualified for their positions, arrive at their posts with high hopes and full of energy. They are given to understand that every facility will be provided to make their work a success. They select their men and organize for the undertaking, but soon learn that many officials desire that their relations shall be placed on the pay roll.

Results show that these employees' sole function is to be on the pay roll. Many factories have from six to ten men to do work that one man could accomplish in the west. Then, too, unless the foreign superintendent is ever vigilant, no care is taken of anything, and hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of imported machinery is allowed to remain unhoused for so long a time as to completely ruin it.

The foreign superintendent of a Chinese arsenal has stated that it costs twenty times as much to make a rifle there than is would cost to buy one in Europe.

Enough money, it is stated in conclusion, has been expended in China during the last forty years in introducing various western enterprises to have made them a great success if they had been left under the management of foreigners.

Foreign Tobacconists Coming.

LONDON, May 5.—The Cunard line steamer Saxonia, which left Queenstown yesterday for New York, has among her passengers three prominent members of the Imperial Tobacco company—W. R. Clarke of Liverpool, J. D. Player of Nottingham and E. H. M. Guan of the firm of W. D. & H. O. Wills of Bristol. It is said these gentlemen are going to the United States in connection with a plan to manufacture tobacco there to fight J. B. Duke, president of the American Tobacco company, on his own ground by taking advantage of the feeling against trade combinations and by endeavoring to organize the interests in the United States and Canada which are opposed to the American Tobacco company.

Minister Conger Protests.

PEKING, May 5.—E. H. Conger, the American minister to China, has protested to Prince Ching, the president of the foreign office, with regard to the expulsion of Chinese Christians from the new European school established by Yuan Shi Kai, the governor of Chili province, for refusing to worship according to the Confucian tablets. Mr. Conger calls the attention of Prince Ching to the fact that the treaty promises that no discrimination shall be made against Christians.

Wilhelmina Much Worse.

THE HAGUE, May 5.—It was announced from Castle Loo at midnight last night that Queen Wilhelmina had been prematurely confined at 6 o'clock Sunday evening. Professor Rosenstein, Dr. Roessingh and the other doctors were in attendance. The queen suffered intense agony. At 11 o'clock Sunday evening the condition of her majesty was described as critical and small hope for her recovery was entertained.

Kramer Makes a World's Record.

NEWARK, N. J., May 5.—At the Vailsburg cycle track Frank Kramer, the national professional champion, added another world's record to his list by winning the quarter mile race in 28 1-5 seconds. This cut his old record, made last month, by one-fifth second.

STICK TO THE QUESTION.

Although the anti-annexationists failed in their attempt to rush through the elections to decide the questions of annexation and consolidation, they have started their active campaign against the movement with a mass meeting which is to be held in Saengerbund Hall, tomorrow evening. Two prominent citizens of the borough are slated to speak on that occasion. The meeting will be for borough residents only.

It is eminently proper that both sides should publicly explain their reasons for the benefit of the citizens who have not had the opportunity to thoroughly look into the questions at issue. No one has any desire to hush the opponents of the measures as long as they advance fair arguments and do not indulge in personalities. That there are arguments against both annexation and consolidation, we do not deny, but the arguments for them are so immeasurably superior that there is little doubt how the election will go when the people carefully weigh the arguments presented by both sides.

It is to be hoped that the people of the borough will turn out in force to hear what the opponents of annexation and consolidation have to say at their mass meeting tomorrow evening. It is the duty of every voter to fully post himself on these important questions and there is no better way of doing it than of hearing both sides. Let it be remembered, however, that this is simply a question as to the best interests of the borough. Both sides could be very careful to eliminate all personal matters and dwell on the essential points which affect the welfare of the borough. It is a matter of no importance as to who is supporting the proposition and who is not. The question for the people to decide is whether the best interests of the borough of North Plainfield demand its annexation to Union county and its consolidation with the city of Plainfield.

Other mass meetings will be held. The Greater Plainfield forces will arrange meetings at which their side of the controversy will be ably presented. It has also been proposed by one of the most prominent of the greater city advocates that a joint debate be held. The suggestion is an excellent one and The Daily Press gladly tenders its services to bring about such a meeting. In that way, it would be possible to hear the questions argued pro and con from the same platform on the same evening.

The most enterprising of American manufacturers are confident that advertising is essential to success in business, according to the Philadelphia Record. This is evident from the announcement that "the American invaders" have contracted for a vast amount of space in the London newspapers to be used during the coronation season. Men would not spend enormous sums in this way without knowing that it will pay.

By means of newspaper advertising last year a Chicago street railway company made up for a heavy increase of expenses, relates the Philadelphia Record. In the daily newspapers the manager placed large "ads" to tell of the delightful trolley rides which could be taken for ten cents each. The effect was immediate, and so gratifying that this year still larger advertisements will be placed in the newspapers.

There appears to be no doubt that North Plainfield needs a better headquarters for its fire department than the present building. Even if the borough is to be united with Plainfield, it will be necessary to establish a company in the borough and that company will have to be properly housed.

SIXTY WERE LED TO CHRIST

CONCLUSION OF EVANGELISTIC SERVICES AT MONROE AVE. CHURCH.

Four Meetings Were Held Yesterday by Evangelist Pratt Which Ended Campaign.

Four meetings were held yesterday at the Monroe Avenue church in connection with the evangelistic campaign which has been carried on there for two weeks and which came to a close with yesterday's services.

At 10 o'clock at a meeting for prayer and consecration and thanksgiving, Evangelist J. R. Pratt drew lessons from the widow's cruse of oil and said all must not limit God in His power to bless but they do limit Him often in their capacity and willingness to receive.

At 11 o'clock, Mr. Pratt spoke again. His subject was "The Necessity of the New Birth." He emphasized the fact that no process of evolution could change the inborn instincts of human nature. That which is born of the flesh is flesh—that which is born of the Spirit is Spirit.

A young people's meeting was held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Pratt delivered an address on "The Fruits of Character That Wins," taking as an illustration the lives of Daniel and the three Hebrew young men who escaped miraculously from the fiery furnace. He noted the elements of success in the lives of these men and said they were firmness of conviction, definiteness of purpose and courage. Daniel's name is a synonym of these qualities and his life has been an inspiration for more than twenty-five centuries. Chas. L. Lewis sang very touchingly, "We Shall See Him Face to Face."

In the evening Mr. Pratt held his farewell service. In a most searching and convincing discourse he emphasized the thought of "The Unpardonable Sin" which according to the speaker is the sin of unbelief against the Holy Spirit. All others sins may be pardoned but this sin of unbelief cannot be pardoned from the very nature of things.

The meetings which just closed have been most fruitful of good in the number of persons who have been led to accept Christ and to follow Him, in creating in Christian people a new love for the study of the Bible and in kindling a fresh enthusiasm for Christian work—and an impulse to higher Christian living. Mr. Pratt goes from here to Chicago to conduct a series of meetings in one of the large churches of that city. There were fully sixty conversions.

SCHOOL OF METHODS.

Will be Held by Union County W. C. T. U. at Rahway Tomorrow.

The Union County W. C. T. U. School of Methods will be held in the Second Presbyterian church, Rahway, tomorrow morning, afternoon and evening. The programme is a very interesting one, as previously referred to in these columns.

Among the Plainfielders who will take part in the proceedings will be Mrs. M. D. Tomlinson, county superintendent; Mrs. Mary Winter and Mrs. Yardley Brown. There will be many prominent State workers present and some helpful topics will be introduced and discussed. It is quite likely that the Plainfield Union will send a large delegation to the conference.

SUBURBAN NEWS

A Department Devoted to the Minor Events in Greater Plainfield's Suburbs by Our Own Correspondents.

DUNELLEN.

Apgar's Hall was crowded to the doors Saturday evening when the Dunellen Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar Club gave its closing musicale and reception. An excellent programme was presented. All of the musical selections showed careful training and were greatly enjoyed. The soprano solos by Miss Edna Soldan were a real treat. Miss Maud Wilcox also rendered a selection in an acceptable manner. The English faree, "Freezing a Mother-in-law" was given and was greatly enjoyed. Those taking part were S. O Sutton, H. R. Linbarger, C. N. Linbarger, Mrs. Ackerman and Miss Mae Linbarger. After the programme was finished an informal dance and reception was held.

The members of the Dunellen A. C. feel confident that they would have won Saturday's game with the Y. M. C. A. Saturday if their pitcher had come in time to pitch the whole game. Only two runs were made after his arrival.

The cake sale given in the guild room of Holy Innocents' church, Saturday afternoon and evening, was as successful as such affairs always are. All of the cakes, bread, and pies were disposed of.

The Dunellen juniors did not play the game scheduled for Saturday morning as their opponents did not appear.

The wagon, which was struck by the trolley some time ago, has not yet been taken away and is still an eyesore.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes, of Hughesville, spent Saturday and Sunday with Dr. P. W. Brakeley.

Miss Margaret Day does not improve as rapidly from the effects of a broken leg as is desired.

Walter Bodine, of New York, spent Sunday with his parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Thomas Bodine.

A new organist played very acceptably in the Presbyterian church yesterday.

W. VanMiddlesworth, of Jersey City, visited relatives in town yesterday.

Walter Vliet and family entertained out of town relatives yesterday.

Regular services were held in the Presbyterian church yesterday.

James Wotten, of New York, spent Sunday with friends in town.

NEW MARKET.

Quite a number from here attended the entertainment and dance given by the Banjo, Mandolin and Guitar Club at Dunellen Saturday night. A number of the people took part in the programme.

Good congregations were present at both services in the First Baptist church yesterday. The pastor preached at both services.

The members of the ball team held a practice Saturday afternoon in preparation for the beginning of the season.

Mrs. Dougherty, of Bloomsbury, spent Saturday and Sunday with William Dougherty.

Arvid Johnson has been confined to the house by illness during the past week.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The junior ball team played a 4-inning game, Saturday afternoon, with the St. Mary's seconds, of Plainfield. At the end of the fourth inning the game was called to make way for the other game. Scotch Plains was in the lead 8 to 3.

The song service at the Methodist church last evening was well attended. The programme was enjoyed by all and the success of the change will no doubt encourage Rev. Mr. Bindenberger in his new field of labor.

Several from town attended the temperance meeting held at the Rescue mission, Plainfield, Sunday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Shott, of the Baptist church, made an address.

The weekly meeting of the Baptist Young People's Society was held in the parlors of the church last night, subject discussed, "Prayer."

Col. U. R. Stegman, who removed from the village to Brooklyn a year ago, was the guest of friends in town Sunday.

Miss Sadie Reger has returned from a pleasant visit with her parents at Succaswanna, Morris county.

Frederick Clark has received a fresh consignment of horses to meet the spring demand for horseflesh.

Mr. and Mrs. Winfield S. Jimerson, of Westfield, visited relatives and freinds in town yesterday.

Miss Gladys Marsh spent Saturday with Miss Evelyn Buckley, of South avenue, Plainfield.

Horace Hand, of Plainfield, spent Sunday with his grandmother, Mrs. Jacob V. Coles.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Bert Randolph has taken a position at the Pond Machine Works in Plainfield. He started work this morning.

Mrs. W. B. Manning entertained Mr. and Mrs. Willroy Voorhees, of Metuchen, yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tappen, of Newark, visited yesterday with Mrs. Tappen's parents.

Wm. Clawson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Molleson, of Philadelphia, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tingley, of Dunellen, spent yesterday with relatives in town.

Mrs. Thomas Linaberry has returned home after an extended visit in Bloomsbury.

Miss Josephine Martin, of Plainfield, spent yesterday with Mrs. Watson Payne.

Miss Laura Tappen, of Metuchen, spent yesterday at the home of Wm. Faulks.

William B. Manning is visiting in Metuchen.

DEATH OF MRS. BALDWIN.

Widow of the Late Wm. A. Baldwin Passed Quietly Away Friday.

Mrs. Jane Baldwin, widow of the late William A. Baldwin, died at her home on West Front street, Friday afternoon, following an illness of several weeks. Pneumonia was the primary cause of death.

Mrs. Baldwin was sixty years old and leaves five children, three sons and two daughters, all of whom live in this city. The funeral service will be held from her late residence, this afternoon at 2:30. Interment will be at Hillside.

Approaching Wedding.

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of Miss Minnie Trimmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Trimmer, of West Front street, to Ralph O. Runyan, of Clinton avenue. The affair will be celebrated Saturday, May 31, at the home of the bride's parents.

Men's Social Club Meeting.

The Men's Social Club of the Congregational church will hold a monthly meeting in the church parlors tomorrow evening. Refreshments will be served. Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass will deliver a lecture.

Lost Wheel and Rifle.

A bicycle and rifle, left by Selden Thayer on the rear porch of his home on Watchung avenue, were stolen several days ago. The matter was reported to the police and an investigation is being made.

Sewing School Exhibit.

The sewing school under the direction of Miss Laura Lovell gave an exhibition at Warren chapel Saturday morning. There was an atractive display, most creditable to the members of the school.

Final Freeholders Meeting.

The final meeting of the present Board of Freeholders of Somerset County will be held at Somerville, Tuesday, May 13. The new board will meet the day following and organize.

WITH THE OTHER HALF.

Alexander F. Irvine Gave Illustrated Lecture on His Work in the New York Slums.

In Y. M. C. A. hall, yesterday afternoon, Alexander F. Irving, of New Haven, Conn., delivered his address dealing with the life of the poor and the vicious on the East side, New York.

The lecture was illustrated by colored and highly realistic views, showing among others, the different colonies within the great city, a free Thanksgiving Day dinner for 20,000 in progress in Madison Square Garden, and Potters Field where, said the lecturer on the authority of Jacob A. Riis, one out of every ten people who die in New York are buried.

At the outset, Mr. Irvine explained that he spoke chiefly of abnormal conditions. As former pastor of Sea and Land church, near Chatham Square, it was his lot to look after the welfare, both spiritual and temporal, of the people who live in the crowded tenements, the lodging houses, and even on the streets.

He handled his subject sympathetically, and he possessed a natural faculty of instilling pathos into vivid word pictures, descriptive of "how the other half lives." The address abounded with amusing episodes lighting up a dark background, and the poetry and romance of the street, no less than its destitution, has not escaped a keen observer like Mr. Irvine.

FAREWELL RECEPTION.

To be Given to John Doul Miller by Bible Classes at Hope Chapel.

A farewell reception will be given to John Doul Miller by the men and women's Bible classes of Hope chapel, tomorrow evening. Mr. Miller has been teacher of the former class but has been compelled to resign owing to his time being taken up with other matters. The social committee has prepared a lengthy programme for the occasion.

Dangerous If Neglected.

Burns, cuts and other wounds often fail to heal properly if neglected and become troublesome sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve prevents such consequences. Even where delay has aggravated the injury DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve effects a cure. "I had a running sore on my leg thirty years," says H. C. Hartly, Yankeetown, Ind. "After using many remedies, I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes healed the sore." Cures all skin diseases. Piles yield to it at once. Beware of counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

WENTZ'S SUCCESSOR NAMED

C. W. HUNTINGTON WILL BE GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT OF CENTRAL.

Has Just Resigned His Position as Superintendent of the Iowa Central.

From Oskaloosa, Iowa, comes the announcement that C. W. Huntington, superintendent of the operating department of the Iowa Central, with offices in that city, has resigned that place to become general superintendent of the New Jersey Central, with headquarters at Jersey City. Mr. Huntington has been superintendent of the Iowa Central since November 1894.

The position which Mr. Huntington takes is the one left vacant by the resignation of W. W. Wentz, Jr. Since Mr. Wentz left the road his place has been filled by F. M. Ritchie, who was superintendent of terminals. It is believed that Mr. Ritchie will return to his former position as the other position was filled temporarily by him. W. G. Besler's position is that of general manager and he has the position formerly held by Charles H. Warren.

Rural Free Delivery Dogs.

Bavarian military authorities are employing specially trained St. Bernard dogs to carry letters and provisions to the snowed-up garrisons among the Bavarian Alps. The mountain garrisons are often snowed in three or four weeks at a time, cut off from all communication with the outside world. A bi-weekly post has been established, ten dogs traveling together. All provisions of a heavy kind are in store in the garrisons, but lighter delicacies are often lacking, and these, together with letters, are carried around the dogs' necks. When the snow is frozen hard enough six dogs are hitched to a small car piled with things. Occasionally the dogs are tempted to pursue a hare, in which case the mail is slow and imperfect. But this seldom happens, and the authorities on the whole are satisfied with the experiment.—Detroit Free Press.

Ireland Losing Her People.

According to the figures of the registrar general, Ireland is still losing in population, the decline for the last year being figured at 31,435. This is entirely accounted for by emigration, for there was an excess of births over deaths amounting to 13,853, making the loss by emigration for the year 45,288. The registrar's figures show that last year there were 21,330 marriages, 101,459 births and 87,606 deaths. There has been, in comparison with previous years, a slight decline in both the birth and marriage rates, while the death rate shows an increase, which is, doubtless, partially accounted for by the fact that the reductions of the population by emigration are almost entirely drawn from the ages in which the death rate would be smallest.—Boston Herald.

Sold!

At Liverpool street railway station recently, just as the train was about to go out, a boy ran up to a ticket collector, and whispered:

"Sir, there's two men traveling first, and neither of them's got tickets."

Off went the inspector and searched all the first-class carriages through, but without avail; all the passengers had the proper tickets.

Seeing his informer standing near the entrance, he shouted:

"Where's the two men without tickets?"

"On the engine, of course!" shouted the boy, as he edged away.—London Daily News.

Church in Danish West Indies.

With the accession of the three West India islands from Denmark will come accession to the religious forces of the United States. About 16,000 of the 30,000 population of St. Thomas, St. Croix and St. John islands are actively identified with the churches. There are Moravian, Dutch Reformed, Methodist, Catholic and Church of England bodies, the Moravian and Dutch Reformed being the strongest in membership and influence. The Church of England, which has parishes in each of three principal towns of St. Croix, has affairs in charge of the resident bishop of Jamaica.—N. Y. Sun.

PRAIRIE WINDS ARE QUIETED.

Flour Mill in Dakota That Had to Be Abandoned Because of Lack of Breezes.

The old windwheel flour mill at Hurley has been torn down and the material of which it was composed will be converted into a more paying enterprise, says a Yankton report. This old mill and its failure to justify the faith of the parties who built it point to the fact of one big change in the conditions of this country during the last 20 years. When settlers first began to arrive there the constant and heavy winds which were a source of extreme annoyance to all, as also of positive loss as well, in grain blown out of the grounds in the spring and broken down in a more mature state, was at the same time an inspiration that a fortune would go to the man or men who could successfully utilize this great power in the industries of the country.

Many attempts in this direction were made, and covered the whole range of farm operations from a threshing machine to running the whole farm from a central station. None of these attempts was more successful than that of milling, and many mills of the wind variety have run continuously for years and made money. The atmospheric conditions seem to have changed, however, and mill after mill lost money and was dismantled. Unless the old mill at Kampseka is still standing, the Hurley mill was the last in the state, and none has been able to run for many years.

GYPSY COMMUNICATION.

Use of the "Patteran" and Other Methods of Informing Their Wandering Brethren.

The ancient road signs of the Romany, the "patteran," takes the place of signboards or maps. The "patteran" is a little, carefully arranged pile of sticks, grass or stones, placed at cross roads, where none but a gypsy would notice it any more than anyone but a Romany could read it; but to him it is as plain as the noonday sun, and by it—a succession of such wayside tokens—one family or company can follow others who may be days ahead of them for hundreds of miles, says Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.

Though the gypsy has uses for other methods of communication besides the mysterious "patteran," he is not a letter writer. He rightly cares first for his own immediate family circle; the closest "inlaws" do not travel together unless perfectly congenial or unless it is convenient for them to do so, and as the roving life is not conducive to letter writing, even the nearest relatives do not usually hear from each other directly more than once or twice a year at most.

In the city livery stables and pawnbrokers' shops opportunities are afforded for the exchange of news, but for those who roam in small groups and rarely strike a large city or the great bureaus of information, summer camping grounds, where all the gossip of the year is retailed, communication of personal family news is uncertain.

ENGLAND'S SHODDY BOOTS.

Footwear That Looks All Right, But Quickly Goes to Pieces When Put in Use.

Boots and shoes in England have been subject to a very considerable fall in prices of late years. Partly this is owing to the use of machinery, partly to the employment of lads where men used to do the work, partly to the use of what was formerly waste material and partly to sheer dodgery and trickery. Men's lace boots are now to be bought for 2s. 11d; they are made of leather, too, and to look at them you might think it genuine enough. The truth is, however, the uppers are made of what are known as "center splits," and the soles are an artificial compound of leather waste, states Chambers' Journal. The "center splits" are very ingenious forms of shoddy. Good, honest skins are cunningly split into three thicknesses. The center is soft and spongy and has no natural grain upon it; but this defect in its appearance is supplied by a process of printing which produces a surface "grain" and makes it, to the inexperienced eye, just like ordinary leather. It is then made up into boots that give every promise of good service—a promise to the eye (to parody Macbeth)—pretty certainly destined to be broken to the hope.

A TOWN'S RAPID GROWTH.

Population Jumped from 600 to 40,000 as a Result of Visit from President Hayes and Party.

Mr. George Clements, of Kansas City, a well-known knight of the sample case, is responsible for the following story, says the Baltimore News:

"Talk about the rapid growth of cities, why, Neosho Falls, Kan., holds the record. I think the town is still on the map, but I won't be sure. At any rate, I remember when the population jumped in one day from 600 to 40,000, and the next day jumped back again. This was merely occasioned by a fair, and not a country fair at that, but simply a little crossroads celebration. It was just after President Hayes had been elected. He was touring the west at the time, and the citizens of Neosho Falls secured a promise from him to attend their fair. The town was fortunately on the line of a railroad, with a service of two trains a day, but when the company learned of the president's proposed visit a gang of workmen at once started to lay sidings. At least a dozen were constructed around the little frame station, together with a Y for the convenience of the engines. When the great day arrived the president was at hand, with several members of his cabinet and a military escort from Fort Riley. The railroad company estimated that 40,000 people visited Neosho Falls that day, and I dare say some of them are talking about it yet. The next day the visitors were all gone, for there were no hotel accommodations, and nothing to feed them with. The gang of workmen came back and tore up the sidings and the Y, and the town again resumed its normal placidity, just as though nothing had happened."

SOME COSTLY SMOKED MEATS.

Fine Hams and Bacon from Ireland That Rival the Product of Virginia.

"The costliest of all the smoked meats," said a dealer in such things, according to the Chicago Inter Ocean, "are the fine hams and bacon that come from Limerick, Ireland. The prices of these meats may vary slightly from time to time, the hams selling usually, however, at from 33 to 35 cents a pound, and the bacon at 32 or 33 cents a pound.

"These costly smoked meats are made from fine hogs that are fed and tended with scrupulous care. The curing process is a secret. The result is shown in meats of such quality and flavor as to commend them most highly.

"Of course, there are fine hams produced here, also, notably those of Virginia, the finest of which bring 24 cents a pound. Included in the price of the Limerick hams and bacon is a duty of five cents a pound. If you were to add that to the price of the Virginia hams you would raise the cost of them to 29 cents, and adding further the cost of transportation from Europe would bring the Virginia hams pretty close to those of Limerick in price; so that in their original cost they are about the same.

"As to which is the better ham, that would be largely a matter of taste. The Irish ham is rich and juicy, the Virginia is of a more delicate flavor."

ENGLAND'S "WEDDING-RING."

Said to Signify a King Wedded to His People—Legend of the Royal Circlet.

"The wedding ring of England" is of plain gold, set with a large table ruby, on which the cross of St. George is engraved, says Lippincott's. Legend says that this ring belonged to Edward the Confessor, and that he bestowed it on an old beggar who asked an alms of him, he having nothing else at hand at the moment. Soon afterwards two English pilgrims lost their way in the Holy Land and were succored by a "fayre olde man," who on parting said to them: "I am Johan the Evangelyst; and saye ye vnto Edward your kyng that I grete him well by the token that he gaff to me, thys ringe, with hys one handes." Certain it is that James II., when detained by the fishermen of Sheerness on his first attempt to flee the country in 1688, contrived to hide a ring, called "the coronation ring," in his clothing. This was a favorite ring of Mary Queen of Scots, and was sent by her at her death to James I., finally coming into the possession of George IV. through the channels by which he obtained all the remaining papers of the house of Stuart.

The archbishop puts the ring on the fourth finger of his majesty's right hand, saying: "Receive this ring, the ensign of kingly dignity and of defense of the Catholic faith."

The President's Salary.

By the act of congress of September 24, 1789, and again on February 18, 1798, the salary of the president of the United States was fixed at $25,000 and that of the vice president at $5,000. That of the president continued the same until March 3, 1873, when it was raised to $50,000, at which time U. S. Grant was president. The salary of the vice president was raised to $8,000 in 1853, to $10,000 March 3, 1873, and January 20, 1874, it was again reduced to $8,000. The constitution of the United States says: "The president shall, at stated times, receive for services a compensation which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall be elected."

TRAVELS OF A CAT.

"Barney," Born at Sea, Has Sailed Many Voyages and Was Rescued from a Shipwreck.

"Barney" is the name of a remarkable cat, the property of Capt. O. W. Look, of Jonesport, Me. Barney was on the schooner E. I. White, which was wrecked off the Bahama islands a few weeks ago, and was saved and brought to Mansfield by Edward Wilson, steward of the boat, and shipped to Jonesport, where she will spend the winter with her mistress, the wife of Capt. Cook, going to sea again as soon as opportunity offers.

She was born on the ocean on board the schooner 4½ years ago, and has always been to sea.

The picture was taken on the voyage from the Canary islands to Barbados. She has been to most all the West India islands, South America and several southern ports.

BARNEY ON HIS TRAVELS.

Twice in midocean has Capt. Look hove the vessel to and rescued her, she having fallen overboard, once from the spanker boom and once from the taffrail.

In speaking of the cat Mr. Wilson said to a Boston Globe reporter: "'Barney' was the strangest acting cat I ever saw. She would not allow any cats or dogs to come aboard the boat while in port. She was what might be termed the monarch of all she surveyed.

"If we passed a steamboat at sea and the whistle was blown, 'Barney' would at once seek a hiding place. So frightened was she that at times she would remain in hiding two or more days.

"She is a great bird catcher, a fine mouser and will tackle a rat as large as herself."

TALK OF THE LODGE.

It Made Such an Impression That the Member Repeated It Partly in His Sleep.

Out in Kansas there are a good many Swedes, and very exemplary citizens they make. One of these representatives of this state's foreign population stayed out late one night and at breakfast the next morning his good wife Huldah demanded an explanation.

"Where were you last night?" she asked in a before-breakfast tone of voice.

"Ve haf a special meetin' of te lodge, Huldah, an' everything for te gute of te order."

"Last night you were talking in your sleep and you said something about two-cent limit. What did you mean?"

"O, das var nodder faller's fault. Hae var talkin' 'bout raisin' te assessment an' das mek me hot."

"WHERE WERE YOU LAST NIGHT?"

"And you said you 'was in.' What did that mean?"

"Vell, et meant dot Aye var member an' haf youst so motch to say as anybody."

"When you said: 'I'll open it,' what did you mean?"

"Some feller could not get onto the door, Aye tank. You see, dear vife, et is lock all tem."

"Once or twice I heard you say: 'It's a showdown.' What does that mean?"

"Huldah, Aye haf no right to tal yo tengs outside of te lodge, but Aye vill tal ye dis: Das means in lodge language: 'God bless mae home.'"

First of Canal Locks.

The first canal lock built in America is preserved as a relic near the present site of the Soo canal. It was built by the Northwestern Fur company in 1736. It is 38 feet long and eight feet nine inches wide. It had a lift of nine feet and a depth of 2½ feet. During the war of 1812 it was badly wrecked. The early day fur companies used this little water way to lock down their small cargoes of valuable furs.

Oldest City in the World.

So ancient is the city of Damascus, in Syria, that there is no record of its origin in any written histories.

PARENTS Who Ruin Their CHILDREN

"THERE'S one thing I'm determined upon," said Mrs. Jones emphatically. "Mary is going to have all the advantages possible. Now, I never had anything but just a common school education, but Mary will be different. She can play the piano quite well for a girl of her age, though I do have hard work to make her practice. This is her second year in drawing, and I have French and German teachers come here twice a week. I'd like awfully to have her play the violin, too, and I'm thinking of having her take lessons next year."

Aunt Susan Jones settled herself back a trifle farther in her easy chair and rocked vigorously. "Hm-m!" she remarked. There was silence for a few moments, interrupted by the sound of the scale of A minor, which floated out dolefully from the parlor where Mary sat practicing. A succession of flats placed where they should not have been caused Aunt Susan to change her position with a slight shiver and resume the conversation.

"What does she intend to do with all those accomplishments—teach?" she queried sharply.

Mrs. Jones straightened herself up. "Teach!" she exclaimed. "The idea! No, of course not. I guess her father and I are able to do for her as long as we live without her having to go to work."

But Aunt Susan was relentless. "Can she cook? Can she housekeep? Can she make her own clothes?" she queried. "Can she do anything useful?"

Mrs. Jones flushed. "She needn't marry a poor man," she retorted. "When she gets the right age, her father and I are thinking of sending her to one of those fashionable seashore places, where she'll have a chance to meet the right sort of man, who can give her the sort of home she ought to have."

"The sort of home she ought to have!" Aunt Susan looked around her at the spotless kitchen, with its sunny windows filled with flowers; at the rooms beyond, simply furnished, but comfortable and in good taste; at the lawn outside, green and well kept, with its shade trees and pretty flower bed. She knew only too well what an expenditure of labor and what painstaking economy made the little home thus attractive, yet it was not good enough for the spoiled child in the parlor.

"Do you realize"—Aunt Susan spoke out loud now, and her voice was very grave—"that if your plans fail, if Mary loses her health or her looks, if her father should die—in a word, if she should be thrown upon her own resources—there isn't a thing she could do to support herself, and consequently, owing to your present extravagant ideas, she may absolutely come to want? Do you know," she pursued, not heeding the other's look of horror, "I think parents are the greatest hindrances to their children's development. The children are cosseted and petted and kept from harm, and then suddenly an accident of fate thrusts them, helpless and weak as blind kittens, out into the cruel world to make their own way for themselves. It is rare indeed that you see parents trying to form their children's character so that they may succeed in life.

"Then as a consequence the majority of boys and girls acquire real manhood and womanhood through hard and bitter experience with an unfeeling world, and it is not surprising how many are vanquished by the ordeal. If the mother who slaves because she thinks her daughter too good to wash dishes could realize the weight of future suffering she is calling down upon that daughter by making her selfish and helpless! If the mother and sister who scrimp and starve in order that the boy of the family may have fine clothes and go through college like a gentleman could appreciate how they are destroying his manhood and making him weak and inefficient! But they are blind and only realize the wrong they have done the child when it is too late."

MAUD ROBINSON.

His Friend, The Enemy

By WILLIAM WALLACE COOK,

Author of "Rogers of Butte," "The Spur of Necessity," "Mr. Fitt, Astrologer," etc.

(Copyright, 1901, by the S. S. McClure Co.)

CHAPTER XIX.

It was on Monday afternoon that Miss Betty dashed up to the door of Sile Whittaker's shack in the grotesque trap. A dazzling picture she presented to Guy with her light dress, her fluttering ribbons and her bewitching hat. The ubiquitous Miss Pinkney was not along and the silver-plated harness jingled rare music as Miss Betty drew to a halt.

Mr. Whittaker had gone off to attend to some farm work and Guy was alone at the house. He went out forthwith to greet the young lady and to ask her if she would not alight.

"Oh, no," said she, "I can't stop. I have come for you, Mr. Herbert."

"For me?" he echoed.

"Certainly. It was understood that when you were well enough to leave Mr. Whittaker's you were to come to Willowview. Don't you remember?"

That was not Guy's remembrance of the understanding.

"I can't go with you, Miss Vlandingham," he murmured, confusedly. "Really, I—"

"Now, Mr. Herbert!" she pouted. "I have driven out here purposely to get you and is it possible that you will refuse to go back with me?" There was laughter in her eyes as she added: "You need apprehend no danger, now. A Concord man, I am happy to say, may walk the streets of Harmony without the slightest fear."

"It isn't the danger that deters me," answered Guy. "I am not such a coward as that, I hope!"

"Aren't you well enough?" She eyed his stalwart form archly.

"Richard is himself again—almost. But to-morrow, you know, is the election.

"The returns will reach you more quickly in Harmony than they will here."

"I shall not stay here. My post of duty is Concord and Mr. Whittaker is going to take me there in the morning."

"From the way the Concord people treated you," she said, her eyes glowing resentfully, "I shouldn't think you'd ever want to set foot in the place again."

"Irrespective of the feelings of the Concordians," he smiled, "there is my financial interest. I cannot abandon those 1,200 lots."

"What are 1,200, or 12,000 lots to the son of Mr. Montfort Herbert?" she returned. "A mere bagatelle! I know perfectly well that it isn't the money at stake, in your case, nor is it in mine. It is the excitement of the contest." She threw back her shoulders and tossed her fair head. "A stout heart, a fair fight, and the rigor of the game! The end of our plots and our counterplots is now at hand. Either success or defeat will prove equally glorious and you can learn the worst, or the best, at Willowview just as well as you can in Concord. Please don't keep me waiting, Mr. Herbert."

Evidently she thought the son of Mr. Montfort Herbert had a competence in his own right! No one had informed her of the real condition of Guy's fortunes and he was not the one to lay bare the truth.

Guy reflected. He might do more harm than good in Concord if he went there during the crisis. He had no vote, anyway, as two weeks in the territory would not give him the right of franchise. Besides, had he not, in a quiet way, gained a strategic advantage which would keep the county seat at Concord?

"Very well, Miss Vlandingham," he said. "It is kind of you to come for me, and if you really care for my company at Willowview I shall be most happy to return with you."

He went into the house for his satchel and then started for Harmony with a snap of the whip and a jingle of chains. Very shortly they passed Mr. Whittaker, at work by the road, and there was a brief halt while Guy explained matters. Mr. Whittaker said little but smiled in a knowing way, and they could see him lean on the handle of his shovel and watch until they were out of sight.

Only the pen of a poet could fittingly describe that wondrous ride. A sentimental journey it was, every step of the way from Whittaker's to the squire's; a delicious faring across the sunny plain, through a drowsy odor of wild flowers and under such skies as smile over the Fortunate Isles. Touched by the spell, neither of the two young people wasted much time in conversation, and the long lapses of silence into which they fell were rhythmic intervals wherein their hearts echoed back the melody of a song as old as the days of man. Arrived at their destination Guy heaved a sigh of regret. The calends of his love had lifted a white stone to mark a passing hour, and he was more securely a captive if that could be.

Guy's sojourn at Willowview was very brief. Both Miss Hetty and her father exerted themselves to the utmost to make his stay enjoyable, but he was ill at ease. His negotiations with Mr. Landy had certainly won the county seat for Concord, and it seemed to him as though he were acting a double part. When the returns came in, and when the genial squire and the adorable Miss Betty discovered how wily and tactful he had been, he feared that there would be an upheaval and that they would deny him their hospitality, and send him forth in scorn.

It was all very well for Miss Betty to talk of "the rigor of the game." The prime incentive in every game is success, and when the ballots were counted and it was found that Amityville had cast a deciding vote for Concord, he would see then whether Miss Betty would take defeat as "gloriously" as she would have taken a better fortune. It would be a bitter triumph for him if it cost him her favor. Yet if she had not spoken those words in a spirit of raillery—in short, if she really meant them—how incomparable she would become in his eyes! As Pettibone had said, he could go to her and offer her a "dower" interest in his town. And then, if she would accept—! His heart leaped at the thought and his mind winged skyward in sweeping dreams.

That night they were in the cozy parlor just as they had been exactly two weeks before. Miss Betty was at the piano and Guy stood beside her turning her music. The squire was engaged with his paper. Since the young man had come to the house that second time the county seat question had not once been mentioned. As during his first visit, father and daughter were making it plain that while he was their guest there was to be no discordant note to jar their friendship. Guy was delighted at this, for there was a charm in observing Miss Betty as the light and center of her father's home. If her shrewdness and courage had pleased him in the political field how much more was he attracted by her domestic accomplishments.

Guy was watching Miss Betty's white fingers flit over the keys, and now and then exchanging a soft word in which his passion throbbed dangerously near the surface, when there came a sudden interruption. A lusty voice outside gave an alarm of "Fire! fire!" and the squire leaped from his chair as his daughter and Guy hastily left the piano.

"Can it be this house, father?" inquired Miss Betty, nervously.

"No, it's in town," replied the squire, who had drawn back the curtain for a quick look at the surroundings. "I can't just make out what building it is, but it's near the square, that's evident."

He ran to the hall, secured his hat and opened the door. A mellow glare was cast over the scene without, and a man was discovered hastening along the road.

"Hello!" cried Mr. Vlandingham. "What's burning?"

"The courthouse!" was the startling answer flung back by the man as he sped on.

"Oh, dear!" cried Miss Betty, with a sharp note of regret. "I had planned to do something in the morning, before the polls open—something which would have knit Concord and Harmony in closer bonds and have insured a peaceable election, but now it is impossible."

Havana Getting Healthy.

From being a breeding place of disease Havana has been converted into one of the healthiest cities. Malaria, which was a scourge for centuries, has been greatly ameliorated; leprosy is under control; yellow fever has been practically stamped out. It is not to be assumed that the old order will ever be revived, but it will be interesting hereafter to note how the sanitary regulations established by the Americans are maintained.—Albany Journal.

Old Clothes for Clients.

A celebrated barrister was on his way to the law courts one day, with his bag full of briefs, when he was accosted by a funny friend, who asked him if he had become a dealer in old clothes.

"No," replied the smart barrister, "these are all new suits."—Household Words.

Different.

"I saw Slapjacks strolling over to the drug store yesterday."

"Yes. His wife had a toothache."

"Why! there goes Slapjacks now—going like a racehorse!"

"Yes. His tooth is aching to-day!"—San Francisco Bulletin.

He Found It.

Ascum—Hello! Where did you get that black eye?

Downes—Hunting.

"Gun kick you?"

"Oh, no. I was just hunting trouble."—Philadelphia Press.

POTTER PALMER DEAD.

One of Chicago's Prominent Business Men Suddenly Collapses.

CHICAGO, May 5.—Potter Palmer, for nearly half a century one of Chicago's most prominent business men, is dead at his residence on Lake Shore drive.

The exact cause of Mr. Palmer's death has not yet been determined. He had been suffering for several weeks with a nervous disorder, but as he was able to be about the house his condition was not thought to be serious. When he retired Saturday night, he was feeling if anything better than for several days. During the night, however, he seemed to lose all his energy and in the morning was unable to leave his room. He gradually grew weaker during the day, and last evening he suffered a sudden collapse, from which he expired.

The physicians who were attending Mr. Palmer are at a loss as to the ultimate cause of his death. Apparently he had not organic troubles. Mrs. Palmer and their two sons, Honore and Potter junior, were with Mr. Palmer when he died.

Potter Palmer was born in 1826 in Potters Hollow, Albany county, N. Y. He received a common school education and at the age of eighteen engaged as clerk in a store at Durham, N. Y., where he remained three years. When he became of age, he opened a store of his own at Oneida, N. Y., and conducted it for two years. He afterward spent one year at Lockport, N. Y., and then removed to Chicago, where he established a dry goods firm. This firm afterward became Field, Palmer & Leiter, of which the other members were Marshall Field and Levi Z. Leiter and which has been succeeded by the firm of Marshall Field & Co. The sharp advance in the price of goods after the beginning of the civil war found the firm prepared with a large stock, and it reaped immense gains from every advance.

Mr. Palmer retired from mercantile life in 1865, and so liberal had been his policy in meeting public requirements during the war that the government was indebted to him to the extent of $750,000. After disposing of his dry goods interests Mr. Palmer invested largely in Chicago real estate and began the erection of business buildings.

Successful Airship Trial.

PARIS, May 5.—In spite of the threatening weather Senor Augusto Severo, the Brazilian aeronaut, made a successful first trial with his airship at the Vaugirard Aerostatic park. Senor Severo's airship is called La Paix. The balloon, held by a rope, ascended forty meters. The motors were then started. The balloon obeyed the impulse of its propellers, steering easily and maintaining perfect equilibrium. After maneuvering for a short time Senor Severo safely returned the airship to its shed. La Paix is not unlike Santos-Dumont's airships in appearance, but it differs from them in many details. The gas capacity of La Paix is nearly four times greater than that of Santos-Dumont's airships. It has three main propellers and two smaller ones used for steering and in ascending and descending. The two petroleum motors of La Paix are of twenty-four and sixteen horsepower respectively.

New York Priests to See the Pope.

ROME, May 5.—Fifty American priests of the diocese of Brooklyn, headed by Bishop McDonnell, were received by the pope yesterday in the Sala del Trono. After a speech of devotion Bishop McDonnell presented his holiness with a check for $10,000. This the pope accepted, thanking the bishop for the rich gift. His holiness congratulated the American episcopate, which, he said, had been the only one to send him a collective letter of greeting upon the occasion of his jubilee. His holiness asked concerning the health of Archbishop Corrigan. After a solemn benediction and amid great enthusiasm the pontiff re-entered his apartments.

Word From Captain Wynne.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—First Assistant Postmaster General Wynne received the first word that has come to this country direct from any of the officers of the United States cruiser Chicago arrested in Venice. It was from his son Frank, who is captain of the marines on the Chicago, and was in response to cablegrams sent when the first news of the affair reached this country and evidently was dispatched at the first opportunity Captain Wynne had for communication with his home folks. The captain stated that the sender had defended a brother officer from an attack by a mob and that there was no occasion for worry.

Engineer Seriously Hurt.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 5.—The water bar from the firebox of a New York Central freight engine blew out while the train was passing Minoa. Engineer James E. Smith of Albany jumped to escape the steam and hot

ON THE DIAMOND.

Manager Monahan, of the St. Mary team, has arranged some good games to take place before the League schedule commences. All are with strong teams and they will be played in this city.

The Jangudy team defeated the Coddington team in a five inning game of baseball by a score of 5 to 3 on the Somerset street grounds Saturday morning. DeCamp and Reuport were the battery for Jangudy, Coddington and Hoocker for Coddington.

Next Saturday, the Hope team goes to Garwood to play the athletic club at that place. Last season the odds were about even between the two teams, a close game resulting, whenever they crossed bats. A large crowd of rooters will accompany the locals.

The Tigers defeated the Red and Blue Field Club team in an interesting game of baseball Saturday morning. The score was 9 to 5. Hillman and Moran was the battery for the victors, while Hepner and Ramsburger formed the battery for the other team.

The Watchung Field Club won an exciting game of baseball from the American Eagles Saturday morning. The score was 26 to 25. Otto Reuppert and Wm. Barry was the battery for the winners and Claude Hanr and Archibald Bailey was the battery for the Eagles. The game was played in Hyde's field.

Lawrence Doyle, the crack pitcher, who several weeks ago signed with the Safe Works team, has secured his release to join forces with the St. Mary team, for which he twirled last season. His place on the Safe Works nine will be filled by Edward Booth, a Brooklyn pitcher, who comes well recommended.

Saturday morning's inclement weather induced Manager Muir, of the Safe Works team, to postpone the game with the Orange Y. M. C. A. and he wired the team to that effect. The local nine spent the afternoon in practice. Next Saturday the Safe Works plays the Scotch Plains nine on the former's new grounds.

It is not at all improbable that the League official umpires will receive some compensation for their services. The position is by no means an easy one and the umpire does not even see the game his mind being too much occupied with other matters. Persons fitted for League umpiring who have been approached are holding off for a money consideration, but none have placed any exact amount. This will probably be determined upon at the next League meeting May 15.

GOLF.

In the first round for the Garden City cup played on the Garden City Golf Club course, Friday, F. O. Reinhart beat P. H. Jennings, Yale, by 5 up and 4 to play, and in the semi-finals Reinhart beat James A. Tyng, Morris county, by 3 up and 2 to play. In the second round for the Club cup played on the same course, Friday, J. Whitney Baker beat John M. Ward, Fox Hills, by 5 up and 3 to play, and in the semi-finals he beat G. T. Brokaw, also of Princeton, by 6 up and 3 to play.

Funeral of Wm. Mills.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from his late residence, 66 Elm place, of W. J. Mills, son of Robert A. and Eliza Mills. There was a very large attendance of friends of the deceased. Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel, conducted the services. Interment was in the M. E. cemetery.

Miss Mae Eoff, of Crescent avenue, is entertaining her friend, Miss Edyth Wright, a former classmate from Rye, N. Y.

Wants Others to Know.

"I have used DeWitt's Little Early Risers for constipation and torpid liver and they are all right. I am glad to indorse them for I think when we find a good thing we ought to let others know it," writes Alfred Heinze, Quincy, Ill. They never gripe or distress. Sure, safe pills. L. W. Randolph.

merciful to the leather for awhile, but in the last four innings the school boys slugged the sphere all over the field for an aggregate of twelve runs, making a total of twenty-two.

For Plainfield, VanAuken pitched one inning and then exchanged places with Moynihan, the catcher, who showed ability to hand out curves as well as grasp them. Within the catcher's lines VanAuken did not appear to beout of his element. Munro, at third base, caught two difficult foul flies, bat it will be remembered that he also made some very costly errors. Dyer was not up to his usual good form on second base, but he made five hits in the course of the game. Waters was responsible for a two-base hit and a three bagger.

The attendance was small. A dull, threatening day and an atmosphere a little too cool to be called ideal ball weather were conditions contributing to a scarcity of fans, rooters and the less enthusiastic lovers of the national game.

VICTORY FOR RUTGERS.

The North Plainfield High School baseball team encountered a nine from Rutgers Preparatory School on the Neilson Field at New Brunswick Saturday morning.

Armstrong, the North Plainfield twirler, was taken ill in the first inning and retired from the game. His place in the box was ably filled by Stevens. Off his delivery the Rutgers boys succeeded in sending the ball but twice beyond the diamond. Notwithstanding general good playing errors at critical moments lost the day to North Plainfield.

For New Brunswick Hay pitched a star game and was finely held by VanVechten. Owing to the unfavorable weather only seven innings were played. following is the score by innings and batting order:

THE GAME AT DUNELLEN

The Dunellen baseball team went down Saturday afternoon on its own grounds before the Plainfield Y. M. C. A. Throughout the contest was a splendid exhibition only three errors being made in the nine innings, two by Dunellen, one by Y. M. C. A.

For Plainfield Burt and Eames were the battery. In the latter part of the game, Burt was relieved in the box by Percy Hand. Brown and Smith were the Dunellen battery.

OPINIONS ON CITY CASES

Corporation Counsel Marsh Had a Lengthy Report to Make to Common Council.

OTHER MINOR BUSINESS.

Lots of Little Things Kept the Common Council Busy Last Night—The Macadamizing Ordinances Passed—Tax Ordinance Went Through—Other Business.

There were a few matters of importance that engaged the attention of the Common Council at its May meeting held last evening, although in general the business was of a routine nature. All the members were present except Messrs. Pray, Daniel and Murphy and in consequence Mr. Lee was made an auditing committee of one to audit the bills for the evening.

Probably one of the most interesting matters of the evening was the report of Corporation Counsel C. A. Marsh pertaining to several matters affecting the city. He submitted a report regarding the United States Circuit Court case of the American Sewage Disposal Company, of Boston, against the city of Plainfield, for alleged infringements of certain appliances in the construction of a septic tank at the sewage farm. Mr. Marsh stated that the papers in the case were filed April 12 and an answer has to be filed June 1. It was Mr. Marsh's wish that the matter be referred to a committee of the Council for conference with the corporation counsel for the purpose of determining upon a course to pursue.

Mr. Mellick moved that it be referred to the street committee. Mr. Tolles stated that regarding the case he is confident that there is nothing in the suit and that the city will not have much trouble in ending it. The street committee has the power to adopt such course as is deemed necessary and expedient in the case.

Regarding the petition of E. D. Fluck relating to the assessment on a certain property on West Fifth street, Mr. Marsh reported that the petitioner was mistaken in the property and he will be so informed. As regards the petition of W. H. Aspinwall, who claimed that he did not own property when assessed for the same, Mr. Marsh stated that the petitioner should have appeared before the Commissioners of Appeals and so reported. It is not now a case for the Council to settle.

Mr. Marsh reported on the petition of James Huntington, who complained about the assesment of a certain property. He claimed that part of it belonged to someone else. The corporation counsel said that Mr. Huntington should have presented the proper data and maps to show that fact and suggested that the two owners adjust the assessment between themselves.

Another important matter reported upon by Mr. Marsh was that regarding the election bills. He referred to the recent decision of Justice Gummere on the matter and stated that so far as he could learn that decision referred especially to a case in Atlantic City of Bellis against the Freeholders. In his opinion the election officers are entitled to such compensation allowed by law. However, he preferred to look into the matter a little further and will report at the June meeting.

In reference to the petition of Company K for $300 for the maintenance of an armory, Mr. Marsh could find no law whereby the Council would have the right to appropriate such a sum. He suggested that the company cite the law under which the petition was drafted. President Coriell and Councilmen Buckle and Mellick discussed the matter at some length, it being their desire to grant the appropriation if it can be done under the law. Mr. Mellick will personally look into the matter and confer with the officers of Company K about it.

In the Supreme Court case of Edward Marcellus against the city of Plainfield, Mr. Marsh reported that he expected a decision very soon. This was the case where Patrolman McCarthy was accused of having used undue force in arresting the plaintiff at one time.

In all of these matters Mr. Mellick moved that the petitioners be furnished with a copy of the opinion of Mr. Marsh in their particular case and that the petition be returned.

Among the petitions received at the meeting was one from Frank Huntington, who asked for an adjustment on a certain transaction under the Martin Act. He reported that on May 4, 1901, the property of No. 19-21 Raymond avenue was sold to Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., for $16.41. On June 24, 1901, the property at 20-26 Raymond avenue was sold to another party. Mr. Huntington wants the Council to locate the property properly, as there seems to be a mixup regarding them and if they are one and the same he wants the Council to determine which sale has priority under the Martin Act.

Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F., in a communication, thanked the Council for the use of its rooms on March 17, and Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., asked for the usual appropriation of $100 for the proper observance of Memorial Day. The appropriation was granted.

Mayor Jenkins appointed Joseph Clark a special policeman, also John Manley a constable to take the place of the late W. R. Mattox. It was decided by the Council that the Mayor has no right to appoint a constable as he is elected by the people. The appointment was waived and Mr. Manley was nominated for the position by Mr. Buckle and elected by the Council. The appointment was confirmed.

Street Commissioner Gavett reported the granting of twenty-one sewer permits from January to the present time and he also reported a total of 1,535 to date. Building Inspector T. O. Doane reported the granting of twenty-three permits during the past month.

Mr. Mellick offered a resolution transferring $500 from the general to the fire fund and $300 from the general to the poor fund.

Mr. Lee reported back the appointment of D. V. Force as a call man in the fire department and moved that the Mayor's appointment be confirmed. He also reported on the request of H. J Runyon and others for fire hydrants on Rahway road. He offered a resolution that four two-way hydrants be located as follows: One on West Front street and Rock avenue, one on South Second street near Rock avenue, one on Rahway road and Prospect avenue and one on Rahway road east of Prospect avenue. The resolution was adopted. The hydrants will be established after the mains are extended.

Mr. Tolles called up several ordinances regarding streets and after a third reading they were adopted. One was for the opening of Jackson avenue. Another was for the opening of West Sixth street. The third was for the repair and macadamizing of Spooner avenue and the fourth was for the repair and macadamizing of Hobart avenue, between West Seventh and West Eighth streets.

The ordinance providing for the assessment of taxes for the coming year was adopted on a third reading. After Mr. Mellick moved that when Council adjourn it be to meet Wednesday evening, May 14, at 8 o'clock to receive and open bids for the $41,000 sewer bonds, the Council took a recess to discuss some matters which Mr. Mellick wished to introduce. When the members returned Mr. Lee offered a resolution compelling the trolley company operating cars on the Arlington avenue line to bring all cars to a full stop at Fifth street when travelling in either direction. This finished the business of the evening and Council adjourned.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Provide for an Addititon to One Building and a New Store.

Building Inspector Doane has issued permits to Charles Graves, for a one story addition to the building at 310 Liberty street and George Derbrock, of Elizabeth, for the erection of a frame store building on the northwest corner of East Second and Jackson streets. John Dahl will do the carpentering for the latter building and Seaman Williams, the mason work.

Death Rate Decreased.

The statistics of Hackettstown, just issued, show that in spite of the epidemic of small-pox in that town, the death rate during the past year was thirty-one per thousand against forty-one during the previous year.

Received His Commission.

Elmore D. Moffett, who was re-elected a justice of the peace at the last election, has received his commission from Gov. Murphy and it now adorns the wall of his office on Central avenue.

Cottage Prayer Meeting.

A cottage prayer meeting will be held under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the East Third Street chapel at the home of Mrs. Cuthers, New Front street, this evening.

NO SIGNS OF SETTLING IT

Few Changes in the Strike Situation in the Building Trades Since Yesterday.

RUMORS OF CONCESSION.

Woolston & Buckle Have Withdrawn From Master Mechanics Association, So That They Can Hire Who They Please—The Plumbers Still Hold Out.

The labor troubles remain somewhat unchanged from yesterday, excepting that Woolston & Buckle have decided to break away from the Master Mechanics' Association, thus giving them the privilege of hiring what men they choose. They have a few men at work now and it is expected that within a short time other men will be engagd. The firm says that it will pay $2.75 a day to any painter they engage so long as he understands his business and does his work satisfactorily.

Thus far there is no change among the other shops. The painters will hold a meeting this evening and discuss the situation and plan for the future. The journeymen have received a letter from the National headquarters warning them as to their position and asking them to stand firm in their demands.

The firm of Rushton & Hansen have taken practically the same stand as Woolston & Buckle and they propose to get men to do their work just as soon as possible. The other shops who have granted the increase asked for are having no trouble. It was reported this morning that the boss painters met last evening and decided to meet the men half way and grant an increase of twenty-five cents beginning May 15. The report cannot be confirmed.

The journeymen plumbers met last evening and talked over their troubles, but no conclusion was reached. There are no signs that they will give in until the bosses grant their demands for an increase.

SOCIETY WOMEN MET.

Annual Meeting of Monday Afternoon Club Was Held at All Souls Church Yesterday Afternoon.

The annual meeting of the Monday Afternoon Club was held in the Unitarian church yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance and considerable interest was manifested in the proceedings, which included the election of three vice presidents and a treasurer.

The election of a president and secretary will not take place until next year. Mrs. E. C. Perkins, Mrs. Robert Lowry and Mrs. Josiah Browne were elected vice presidents and Mrs. James R. Joy, treasurer. Mrs. Charles A. Reed is secretary and Mrs. E. W. Conklin is the president.

There were proposed amendments to the constitution introduced referring to the officers and election and another one regarding the election of members which were adopted. There was no other business reported and the meeting adjourned in the usual form.

DEATH OF MRS. FAWCETT.

She Was Unable to Rally After An Operation Was Performed.

Another sudden death occurred last evening, when Mrs. Lucan Fawcett, wife of Hughes Fawcett, passed away at her home on Rockview avenue about 8:30 o'clock. Yesterday afternoon she underwent an operation from the effects of which she was unable to rally.

Mrs. Fawcett was a daughter of the late Martin Cathcart. She leaves four children to mourn her loss, three sons, Martin, Reginald and Arthur, and one daughter, Lillian. Martin, the eldest, is fifteen years old.

The funeral services will be held at her late residence Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mislaid His Cash.

Charles Overbaugh, of West Second street, reported to the police last night that $500, which he had in his room, was stolen while he was asleep. This morning he appeared again and said that the money had been mislaid and was again in his possession.

FRANK HAND PASSED AWAY

END CAME AFTER LINGERING ILLNESS OF SIX MONTHS.

Well-Known Truckman and Member of Many Fraternal Orders In This City.

After six months of intense suffering with Brights disease, Frank Hand passed away at his home on East Second street shortly after 6 o'clock this morning. His death had been expected for some time and the members of his family were present at the end.

Frank Hand was thirty-two years old and was known in every part of the city. He was engaged with his father, Captain William Hand, in the trucking business and always took an active interest in the work until his illness began last December. He was a member of local lodges of the Free Masons, Jr. O. U. A. M., Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows, delegations from each of which will attend the funeral. Besides his parents he leaves a widow and two children and two brothers, Fred, of this city, and Milton, of Jersey City.

The funeral services will be held from his late home, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

DISTRICT MEETING.

Of the Methodist Woman's Foreign Missionary Society Which Began Here This Morning.

The semi-annual district meeting of the Methodist Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Elizabeth District, began at the Monroe Avenue church this morning. Mrs. J. H. Knowles, of New York, is presiding in place of Mrs. F. H. Cooper, who is ill.

After the devotional exercises, an address of welcome was given by Rev. John MacMurray, pastor. Then followed interesting reports of work by Mrs. Wm. Trewin of Elizabeth, and by the secretary for literature, Miss E. V. Hann, of Cranford. A symposium, "United Study of Missions," was conducted by Miss E. F. Strong, district secretary, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

KIND STRANGER GONE.

In His Efforts to Assist Patrick Haines, He Forgot to Return Latter's Rig—Police Notified.

For the purpose of saving a little time, Patrick Haines, an Oak Tree milkman, hired a stranger at the corner of Park avenue and Front street, yesterday morning, to go to Clifton & Campbell's for seed potatoes. He also obligingly loaned him his team of bay horses and truck to carry the "spuds." The stranger bought six bushels of potatoes but since then no one has seen him or the rig.

Haines reported the matter to the police, together with a meager description of the missing man. The police of the surrounding cities have been asked to assist in the search.

ANOTHER CASE.

Six-Year-Old Michael Crowley Added to List at Isolation Hospital.

One more case of small-pox was reported this morning by the Board of Health. It is Michael Crowley, aged six years, son of Mrs. Crowley, who is now at the isolation hospital. He developed the disease yesterday and was taken to the hospital last evening. This makes seven people at the hospital with the disease.

To Repeat Entertainment.

"No illustrations on canvas were ever given in this city that brought forth as great praise. They were the most realistic and conveyed an impression upon the minds of those who saw the reality of Gospel hymns rendered in a most impressive way." The above is a quotation from George L. VanEmburgh and expresses the opinion of many in reference to the entertainment given in Trinity Reformed church, Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the Willing Workers. Owing to the many requests, "Illuminated Sacred Songs" will again be presented Friday evening, this week, at Trinity Reformed church.

Gone West.

Paul Whitall, of East Fifth street, has arranged to conduct a general real estate business at Great Falls, Montana, and will leave for the west Wednesday. Incidentally he will take up government lands. Mr. Whitall is a member of Company K and has many friends in this city who will wish him success in his new field.

Rev. Floyd Appleton, of Brooklyn, formerly assistant rector of Grace church, was in town yesterday visiting friends.

EXHIBIT OF SCHOOL WORK

Superintendent Maxson Announced to School Board That One Will be Held.

BUSINESS WAS ROUTINE

There Was Lots of It at Meeting of City Board of Education Last Night—Arranged for the Commencement Exercises—Other Reports—More Room Needed.

Nothing but routine matters occupied the attention of the members at last evening's meeting of the Plainfield Board of Education. None of it was of any great importance but the session was one of the longest held in some time.

The usual reports were made as follows: Tax Collector Smith; total amount collected, $941.06 and interest of 86.96, making a total of $1,028.02. Custodian of School Moneys W. F. Arnold, total receipts for the month, $1,028.02: disbursements, $7,658.80, leaving a balance on hand of $16,296.75; medical inspectors, pupils examined 249.

A further report was also made by the medical inspectors in regard to the condition of the Irving School, following the discovery that two pupils there had been stricken with small-pox. Strict measures had been adopted to prevent the spread of the disease by vaccinating all pupils and teachers not previoulsy treated and fumigating the rooms where the afflicted pupils had been seated. All pupils who refused to submit to vaccination were sent home until the scare subsided. This latter action was taken at the request of President Probasco who had previously consulted with the Corporation Counsel. His plan of procedure met with the hearty approbation of the board. It was stated that seventy-seven pupils had been vaccinated in the Irving School and seventy-two in the Bryant School by Drs. Norman H. Probasco and Rolland H. Tomlinson. For this service the board appropriated $10 as a compensation for each physician.

The medical examiners also reported that there was serious need of city water being introduced in the Irving School, the drinking supply at present being obtained from a pump. On motion it was decided to consult with the local water company in regard to the matter as the mains do not extend within several blocks of the school.

President Probasco reported that the First Baptist church could again be obtained for the High School commencement exercises in June and on motion a vote of thanks was extended the trustees of the church for the extension of the privilege. To complete arrangements for the commencement, President Probasco appointed Messrs. Richards and Woodhull, a committee of two to secure music and Clerk Clark to provide programmes, ushers and police.

Communications from M. A. Korff and P. Ludwig Conde asking for consideration in awarding the contract for music, were referred to the committee on music. Superintendent Maxson reported that Rev. E. T. Tomlinson, of Elizabeth, had been engaged to make the address at the Grammar school exercises to be held the same day as those of the High School.

The committee on teachers was empowered to renew contracts with all teachers they deemed competent and fill all vacancies. Henry M. Maxson was re-appointed superintendent of the local schools for one year at a salary of $3,500. The Board of School Estimate reported that the amount though necessary to maintain the school system for the ensuing year to be $64,796.65, exclusive of the State tax appropriated this district. The committee on fuel was ordered to advertise for bids for furnishing the coal supply for the ensuing year, same to be opened at the next meeting.

Superintendent Maxson reported that the teachers and pupils of all the schools were preparing an exhibit of school work, to be shown parents in two weeks. As it required a great deal of time he asked that the usual elaborate Memorial Day programme, which has always been customary, be narrowed down to simple exercises. The matter was referred to him to settle as he saw fit.

The Superintendent also asked that the Board rent two Sabbath-school rooms in the Monroe Avenue church for the accommodation of West End pupils next fall as the Irving School's capacity was now overtaxed. Some of the classes are holding half sessions for two sets of pupils and a large increase is expected at the opening of the next term. The trustees, he said, would no doubt rent the rooms for a nominal sum. The matter was referred to the committee on building with power.

At Mr. Maxson's solicitation, the truant officer was instructed to prosecute William Brown. No further business coming forward, adjournment was taken.

MORE LIKE PICNIC.

Free Transportation, Lunch and Other Things at E. M. French's Auction Saturday.

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock Elston M. French will offer by auction sale about one hundred lots of land situated on the main trolley line between Plainfield and Elizabeth. Chas. H. Lyman, the auctioneer, will rattle off the property in his usual genial and brisk manner.

Every inducement is offered prospective purchasers and even those who have not buying intentions, to visit these lots. Mr. French will supply free trolley tickets for the round trip from all points between Roselle and Cranford. A brass band will be in attendance and free lunch will be provided. Altogether the affair will be more like a picnic than an auction.

The land offered is situated in desirable locality and each block will be sold without reservation. Contractors are now at work macadamizing the various streets on which the lots abut; the sidewalks are being flagged and curbed as rapidly as possible.

IN HEALTHY CONDITION.

Showing Made at Annual Meeting of Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed Church.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church was held yesterday afternoon in the church parlor. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read showing the society to be in a very healthy condition. A paper on the life and habits of the mountain whites, of Kentucky, was read by Mrs. A. L. Force.

The following officers were all re-elected: President, Mrs. E. A. Parse; first vice president, Mrs. Cornelius Schenck; secretary, Mrs. T A. VanZandt; treasurer, Mrs. Robert Clark, Jr.

The annual anniversary meeting of the society will be held in the sanctuary of the church Sunday evening, and besides the reading of the secretary and treasurer's report for the year an address to the women will be delivered by the pastor.

MADE NO DEFENCE.

Winslow Carson Held on Charge of Striking His Wife.

Charged by his wife with striking her in the face, Winslow Carson stood trial before Justice Nash, yesterday afternoon. He was representrd by Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., who after declaring that Carson went to his wife's home to make up after a quarrel, entered no defense. Mrs. Carson declared her husband struck her without any provocation.

The defendant was held in $200 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury. The amount was immediately furnished.

BEHEADED SNAKE.

Miss Miles Showed Much Presence of Mind on Discovery of Reptile.

Miss Miles, the daughter of Frank W. Miles, of Somerset street, gave an exhibition of real nerve, yesterday, when she met and quickly killed a good sized snake which was travelling about the yard. Miss Miles discovered the reptile as she was coming out of the house. She hurriedly secured a spade and before the snake could travel very far she overtook it and brought the spade down with a sufficient force to sever the head from the body.

REMAINS OF OLD ONE.

Thus Thos. Hammond Accounted for His Drunkenness on the Street.

When Thomas Hammond was arraigned before City Judge Runyon, yesterday afternoon, on a charge of drunkenness, he couldn't "for the life of him" tell where he got intoxicated. When told he was found on Grant avenue, yesterday morning, he surmised it was the remains of a jag he took on Sunday. As there was no disorder in the case, sentence was suspended.

May Term Begins.

The May term of the Union county Grand Jury began today. The jurors from this city who were sworn in this morning are Robert H. Cook, foreman; J. Fred MacDonald, E. T. Barrows and James E. Martine.

STRICKEN AT HIS OWN HOME

Sudden Death of H. Newton Spencer, Surrogate of Somerset County, at His Home.

HE DIED LAST NIGHT.

Was An Old Resident of North Plainfield, Where He Spent Most of His Life—Was Active in Republican Circles—He Was Out Two Hours Before Death.

The death occurred very suddenly of Henry Newton Spencer, surrogate of Somerset county, at his home on Somerset street, last evening. Mr. Spencer died at 9 o'clock; two hours before he was out taking a walk in his garden. The immediate cause of death was heart failure, although he had been suffering previously from an attack of acute gastritis.

Thursday Mr. Spencer attended to the duties of his office at Somerville, as usual. Sunday night, the family physician, Dr. M. B. Long, was called in but it was not until a few moments before his actual demise that he was considered to be in any immediate danger. He leaves a wife and family of two sons, and one daughter to mourn his loss.

The elder son, Alexander Gibbey Spencer, is assistant surrogate of Somerset county. Harry L. resides at home. The only daughter, Mrs. Wm. C. Force, lives in Plainfield. Mrs. Spencer is completely grief stricken at the sudden loss of her hubsand. She was Mary I. Gibbey, daughter of Judge Gibbey, of Rahway.

Mr. Spencer, at the time of his death, was a member of Plainfield Council, Royal Arcanum, the Exempt Firemen's Association. At one period he was a director of the American Fire Insurance Company.

Henry Newton Spencer was born on September 18, 1843, at Washington valley, Union county, and is thus fifty-nine years of age. He was a son of Jas. L. Spencer and Caroline B. Wilcox. After having been graduated from Wallace's Business College, Plainfield, in 1857, he entered the grocery business in the employ of his brother, Lewis C. Spencer. At the outbreak of the Civil War Lewis C. entered the army and Henry Newton conducted the business assisted by his father until 1866. About this time he opened a business at Rahway, and, in 1869, removed to North Plainfield, where he took charge of a store at 73 Somerset street, which he continued to conduct up to three years ago.

Mr Spencer was a prominent Republican, having cast his first vote for Abraham Lincoln. Ten years from 1886 to 1896 he represented his district on the county Republican executive committee and also for eight years about the same period served on the executive committee of the Republican State League. At one time he was a very active member of the Plainfield Reform Club, being president of that organization for a number of years. He held many political positions, having served several terms as township and district clerk; collector and treasurer of the borough of North Plainfield and at the time of his death was surrogate of Somerset county. In the course of his political activity he had some acute differences with members of his own party especially at the time of election to the surrogateship, but the majority of Republicans finally proved to be his staunch friends.

Mr. Spencer comes of French lineage, and his ancestor fought in the Revolutionary War. Col. Henry Spencer, great grandfather of the deceased, was a brave soldier killed at the battle of Elizabethtown in 1780. Wm. Spencer, grandfather of Newton Henry, was a resident of Chatham, Morris county, fifty years and was a prominent merchant of that place.

On his mother's side, Wm. Line, great great grandfather, was a captain of militia in the Continental Army and lived on a farm near Green Brook, Union county, for several years.

New House for South End Park.

Building Inspector T. O. Doane has issued a permit to G. E. Gulick, of 43 Lincoln place, for the erection of a house on Marion avenue, near Moffett avenue. Mr. Gulick will be his own architect and builder, and the masonry work will be performed by J. W. Mundy, of 43 Summit avenue. The structure will cost $4,000.

ROYAL ARCANUMITES GATHER AT LAKEWOOD

Annual Session of the Grand Council of New Jersey is Being Held.

IT BEGAN YESTERDAY.

REMARKABLE SHOWING WHICH THAT ORDER HAS MADE IN JERSEY.

History of the Order—How it Has Spread—Comparison of Figures—Present Condition of the Royal Arcanum.

Representatives from the councils of the Royal Arcanum of New Jersey met in Lakewood yesterday for the twentieth annual session of the Grand Council of the State, which continues today. The report submitted by the grand secretary, Robert H. Alberts, contains an interesting account of the work accomplished since the last session, together with the statistics which will be instructive to the members of the order.

The net increase in membership during the year was 1,072, and while this gain does not come up to the expectations of the grand lodge officers still it is considered good work, especially when a membership of 18,182 will be reported. There are 117 councils in the State; when the Grand Council was instituted there were but fifteen councils and 1,021 members in the State.

The following officers have charge of the session: Grand regent, Horace I. Browne, Hoboken; grand vice regent, James M. Washburne, Jersey City; grand orator, John H. Farrell, Paterson; past grand regent, L. A. Lightfoot, Cranford; grand secretary, Robert H. Alberts, Hoboken; grand treasurer, Henry Hollingshed, Jr., Camden; grand chaplain, George Lounsbury, Tenafly; grand guide, Frank R. Valentine, Woodbridge; grand warden, John D. Beach, Bayonne; grand sentry, Charles Heim, Hoboken.

It is not thought that much new legislation will be proposed or enacted. The affairs of the order in this State are running smoothly and nearly every council is engaged in an active campaign for new members, who will measure up to the high standard set by the order. Many new risks are desired, but they must be of the right kind or admission will be refused. When Grand Regent Bowne took the chair he aimed to report a membership of 18,000 at the close of his term. This has been accomplished to his satisfaction and the gratification of the members of this State. The grand regent retires to the chair of past grand regent knowing that his efforts have been successful and that they are appreciated. Grand Treasurer Henry Hollingshed, Jr., succeeded the late William T. West, who held the office since 1887 until his death, which occurred a week before the session last year.

The Royal Arcanum was organized June 23, 1877, in Boston, by Darius Wilson Wilson, C. K. Darling, W. O. Robson, E. M. Crawford, J. A. Cummings, G. W. Bush, William Bradley, J. H. Wright and J. M. Swain. Each of these nine men was experienced in the work of fraternal orders, having held prominent positions of trust in the most successful orders of that time. W. O. Robson was the first supreme secretary, which office he has filled up to the present time. On April 1, 1878, the new order had three grand councils, Massachusetts, Ohio and Michigan; eighty-two subordinate councils and 2,776 members, and a record of having paid out $9,000 in death claims. A decade later the reports showed sixteen grand councils, 1,068 subordinate councils and 79,171 members. Up to that time $10,411,200 had been paid to beneficiaries of deceased members.

The figures on December 31, 1898, were: Twenty-two grand councils, 1,753 councils and 189,184 members, and total benefits paid of $49,185,100. The original rate of assessments was then insufficient. The death rate had increased to such an extent that it had been necessary during 1898 to levy seventeen assessments. The order had just completed its twenty-first year and the leaders of the supreme council decided that it was time to readjust the rates charged for the insurance offered by the order, and create a new scale calculated to cause each member to pay a sufficient sum to meet the death-rate at his age. The old rate was taken as a basis. This was multiplied by twenty-one, the maximum number of assessments at that rate for a year, and the total divided by twelve. The result was set down as the monthly cost to a member.

The effect of this change was that when the supreme council met one year later the membership stood at 193,512 and the net increase in new councils was nine. The predictions that increased cost would result in great losses in membership were not verified. The next year a net gain of over 17,000 members was recorded, while 1901 showed 21,058 and the year that ended on April 30 last went on record with a net increase of more than 17,000 members.

The amount of protection in force is $585,704,000. Death claims amounting to $70,114,000 have been paid since the order started. The increased assessment rate has resulted in the prompt payment of all death losses, besides forming a "reserve" or "emergency" fund of $1,556,874.92. For 1901 the average age of the membership was 33.15, being reduced from 33.39 in 1900. The death rate in 1901 was 10.73 per 1,000 members, while in the previous year it was 11.05. The average amount paid per month by each member as an assessment was $2.52 in 1901, as against $2.66 in 1900.

Like a Drowning Man.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such hold of me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marsh, well-known attorney of Nocona, Tex. "I took quantities of pepsin and other medicines but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am sound and well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. L. W. Randolph.

THEATRICAL.

Unusual interest attaches to the reappearance of Mrs. Fiske at the Manhattan Theatre beginning this evening, for a short spring engagement, during which she will revive several of her notable plays. The first week will be devoted to "Tess of the D'Urbervilles," in which Mrs. Fiske won one of her most distinguished successes. All theatre-goers remember the sensation Mrs. Fiske caused by her original impersonation of "Tess" at the Fifth Avenue Theatre. She gave life to one of the strongest and most subtle characters in modern fiction. Hardy's powerful novel contains little at first glance that would suggest a play in which light and shade might be blended, as he develops little or nothing of what is known as "comedy" in the story. The dramatization of "Tess," however, shows an injection of rural scenes and types that, though not found in the book, furnish an agreeable relief from the tension that would result were the play made simply to represent the tragedy developed. In the main elements the play faithfully follows the novel, and the scenes in which the milk-maids and yokels figure in characteristic comedy and in which the father and mother of "Tess" and her little brother and sister appear are skillfully designed to qualify the prevailing seriousness. Mrs. Fiske happily will have the assistance of several actors who formerly appeared with her in this play. Frederic de Belleville will again play the part of "Alec D'Urberville," John Mack will again appear as "John Durbeyfield," and Mrs. Mary Barker as "Joan Durbeyfield." The picturesque and appropriate scenery of the original production has been renewed.

Miss Theresa VanNest, of Martinsville, is spending some time with her brother, George W. VanNest, Jr., of Clinton avenue.

Miss Edythe Garrett has returned to her home on Staten Island after spending a few days with Miss Evelyn Simonson, of Duer street.

Don't Start Wrong.

Don't start the summer with a lingering cough or cold. We all know what a "summer cold" is. It's the hardest kind to cure. Often it "hangs on" through the entire season. Take it in hand right now. A few doses of One Minute Cough Cure will set you right. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. Children like it. "One Minute Cough Cure is the best cough medicine I ever used," says J H. Bowles, Groveton, N. H. "I never found anything else that acted so safely and quickly." L. W. Randolph.

DEFENDED BY LODGE

Bay State Senator Upholds Present Philippine Policy.

THE ISLAND SITUATION REVIEWED.

Imputations Cast on President, War Secretary and Army Warmly Resented—Troops Provoked Beyond Human Endurance.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—In vindication of the administration's policy in the Philippines Mr. Lodge (Mass.), chairman of the Philippine committee, addressed the senate yesterday. Long before he began to speak the galleries were thronged with people, and the attendance on the floor of the senate was unusually large. Mrs. Cowles, the president's sister, was an interested auditor. His review of the situation in the islands and of the utterances of the minority in criticism of the conditions there was notably interesting, forceful and effective. He spoke with deep earnestness and at times became eloquent.

Mr. Lodge warmly resented the imputations cast on the president, the secretary of war and the army for the alleged cruelties and atrocities said to have been practiced in the Philippines. He said every effort had been employed by the officials in authority to prevent such cruelties as had been referred to, and measures had been taken to punish those guilty of them. Such things, however, were incidents of every war and could not be prevented absolutely. He had no defense to make of many of the cases of torture which had been cited, but the men of the American army had been provoked almost beyond human endurance. He recited scores of instances of cruelties and tortures practiced by the Filipino insurgents on American prisoners. Men had had their ears cut off, had been disemboweled, had been driven into streams and, while drowning, shot to death; had been tied to trees and stoned to death by women and children and buried alive. Others had been shot and beloed treacherously while succoring the wounded. In the face of these horrible atrocities some of the American troops had been guilty of administering the "water cure," but the instances of this kind were isolated and no part of the general policy in the Philippines. He warmly defended General Chaffee for his conduct of military affairs in the islands and paid a brilliant tribute to his heroism and patriotism. As he concluded his defense of the American army and the American administration he received cordial applause from the galleries.

In a brief reply Mr. Rawlins (Utah) declared that the charges which had been made were not against General Chaffee or the American army, but against the senator from Massachusetts (Mr. Lodge) and others who were responsible for the present Philippine policy.

New York to Chicago In 18 Hours.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 6.—Vice President Brown, General Superintendent Smith, General Passenger Agent Daniels, Chief Engineer Wilgus and the division superintendents of the New York Central railroad are en route over the line on a special train for the purpose of determining how the running time between New York and Chicago can be reduced. It is stated by the officials of the company here that an attempt is to be made to frame a schedule so that the run from New York to Chicago can be made in eighteen hours.

Seal Fishing Season Ended.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., May 6.—The sealing steamer Kite escaped from the ice floes in White bay last Wednesday and has reached here. The seal fishery is now over, and the total catch amounts to 275,000 seals. No vessel of the fleet sustained serious injury, and only three men perished. The value of the catch approaches $450,000.

NOTED PRELATE DIES

Archbishop Corrigan a Victim to Pneumonia.

A BRILLIANT ECCLESIASTICAL CAREER

Succeeded to the See of New York on the Death of Cardinal McCloskey. He Was Born In Newark, N. J., In 1840.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Archbishop Corrigan died at 11:20 o'clock last night.

The death of the archbishop came as a great surprise and shock to those in the archiepiscopal residence. It was more so to the general public, for the last bulletin of the day was that so certain were the physicians that an improved condition of their patient was apparent that the doctors said there would be no more bulletins till morning.

About 11 o'clock, however, the trained nurses who had charge at the bedside noticed a change. Acting on instructions, the physicians were telephoned for.

At the same time the archbishop's two brothers were summoned to the room as well as a number of priests. The sinking spell which had seized on the sick man was soon seen to be fatal, and in less than a quarter of an hour his grace was dead.

The Most Rev. Michael Augustine Corrigan, D. D., was born at Newark, N. J., in 1840. His parents came from Leinster, Ireland. After having been graduated from the schools of his native place he was sent to St. Mary's college in Emmitsburg, Md.

After leaving St. Mary's in 1859, having made a brilliant record as a student, he went to Europe to take holy orders. In Rome he was one of the thirteen students who registered in the American college there when it was opened. He devoted two years to the preliminary studies of the college and then began the study of theology.

Although ordained a priest by Cardinal Patrizi in the Lateran basilica in 1863, he remained in the American college another year and won the degree of doctor of divinity. Dr. Corrigan then sailed for home and reported on his arrival to Bishop Bayley in Newark, who at once assigned him to the professorship of dogmatic theology and sacred Scripture as well as to the directorship of Seton Hall college. Later the Rev. Father Corrigan became vice president of the college and when only twenty-eight years old became president of that institution.

When Bishop Bayley visited Rome in 1870, Dr. Corrigan became the administrator and vicar general of Newark. He was consecrated bishop by Cardinal McCloskey on May 4, 1873, and remained in charge of the diocese of Newark for seven years. In that time he consecrated forty-two new churches, among them the cathedral in Newark. Besides these achievements, he established many religious communities and founded a home for erring women and a reformatory for boys.

Owing to his successful administration of his diocese Dr. Corrigan was selected to be coadjutor of Cardinal McCloskey. On Oct. 1, 1880, he was raised to the archiepiscopal see of Petra and made coadjutor, with the right of succession. When Cardinal McCloskey died, Archbishop Corrigan succeeded to the see of New York.

Governor Odell at Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 6.—Governor Odell of New York, with his party, has arrived here. The party was entertained with a tallyho drive and luncheon tendered by Senator Fred M. Smith for the chamber of commerce and Mayor M. P. Snyder. In the evening the New York State society and the chamber of commerce held a reception in Governor Odell's honor. Governor Henry T. Gage and Mayor Snyder extended the welcome of the state and city to the party. Governor Odell will visit Santa Barbara, Monterey, San Francisco and possibly the Yosemite.

Mrs. Soffel Pleads Guilty.

PITTSBURG, May 6.—Mrs. Kate Soffel, wife of former Warden Soffel of the Allegheny county jail, who figured in the sensational escape and recapture of the Biddle brothers last January, was called into court yesterday and entered a plea of guilty to the charge of aiding and abetting in the escape of the prisoners. She will be sentenced next Saturday.

Fire at New Milford, Conn.

DANBURY, Conn., May 6.—Fire in New Milford, which broke out late last evening, destroyed a large amount of property in the heart of the city. The New Milford House, the New England House and the stables attached, together with a number of stores, were destroyed. Help was sent from this city to fight the flames.

The New York Reaches Japan.

CORPORATION NOTICE

Sealed Proposals for Sewer Bonds for the City of Plainfield, N. J.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a meeting thereof held April 28th, 1902, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Wednesday, the fourteenth day of May, 1902, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 151 North avenue, in the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, at which time and place said Common Council will receive and open sealed proposals for the purchase of sewer bonds to the amount of forty-one thousand dollars to be issued by the City of Plainfield under the ordinance of said city entitled "An ordinance to provide for the issue of bonds to defray the costs and expenses of the improvement of sewage disposal works, beds and appurtenances," approved April 7th, 1902, and the act of the Legislature of New Jersey entitled "An act to provide for drainage and sewerage in cities of this State," approved April 7th, 1890, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto.

Said bonds will bear date the first day of May, 1902, and be payable as follows: that is to say: On the first day of May, nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, five bonds; and on the first day of May of each and every year thereafter, down to and including the year nineteen hundred and thirty-four, five bonds, and on the first day of May in the year nineteen hundred and thirty-five the remaining six bonds: that said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four per centum per annum, payable semi-annually.

Said bonds are to be coupon bonds and to be in the form approved by the Common Council, and now on file in the office of the City Clerk of said city.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding, or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

All proposals must be endorsed "Proposals for purchase of sewer bonds," and should include the accrued interest from date of bonds to date of purchase.

By order of the Common Council of the City of Plainfield.

Dated May 1st, 1902.

JAMES T. MACMURRAY,
City Clerk.

MEDIATION FOR BOERS.

Congressional Hearing Begun on the Subject.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The first congressional hearing to those favoring mediation for the Boers was given by a subcommittee of the house committee on foreign affairs, consisting of Representatives Adams of Pennsylvania, Gillett of Massachusetts and Cousins of Iowa. The room was crowded with delegates from many parts of the country, including Commandant Snyman, who was on De Wet's staff; Charles S. Keyser of Philadelphia, chairman of the Boer legislative committee, and a number of members of the committee.

A number of members of congress also attended the hearing, including Representatives W. A. Smith of Michigan, Feely of Chicago, Burke of Pennsylvania, Champ Clark of Missouri, Sulzer of New York and Burleson of Texas.

Dr. Hexamer of the National German alliance urged that resolutions be reported asking the president to communicate to Great Britain an expression of the sympathy of the American people for those struggling in South Africa and expressing the hope that the unfortunate differences may be adjusted.

Mr. Keyser, chairman of the Boer legislative committee, presented a large number of petitions filling a small chest, many of them bound in volumes. He said that the governors of Illinois, Louisiana and Colorado were strongly pro-Boer and that one of the most aggressive Boer sympathizers would be chosen governor of Pennsylvania.

COLOR LINE DRAWN.

Women's Federation Votes to Admit White Members Only.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 6.—After two hours of discussion of the question of admission of colored women into the Women's federation the anticolored women won the day when the convention overwhelmingly voted to accept what is known as the compromise amendment agreed upon in New York several weeks ago.

Upon the opening day of the convention it was evident that a spirit of tolerance would rule. There was absolutely no bitterness in the preliminary talk outside the convention hall. In the morning there was suppressed excitement during the consideration of the charter, which came up first, and when Mrs. A. O. Granger, president of the Georgia federation, moved that sections 2 and 3 of article 2, parts of the proposed amendment, be made the first order of business every one knew the battle was on.

When points of order and interrogation points flew thick and fast, Mrs. Lowe retired from the chair temporarily, calling Mrs. Denison to preside.

The color discussion has entirely overshadowed everything else, but election rumors are flying fast. There seems to be a feeling that the Decker forces are gaining ground. A Colorado woman said that seventeen states have already announced their intention of voting for her for president. The rumor that Mrs. Denison has withdrawn from the race was promptly denied by her.

STOCKBROKERS FAIL

Wall Street Seriously Affected Thereby.

LIABILITIES REACH INTO MILLIONS.

Crash Was Due to Heavy Decline In a Number of Industrials and of the Webb-Meyer Securities.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Three Stock Exchange firms—Offenbach & Moore, Henry Bros. & Co. and Lockwood, Hurd & Co.—announced their suspension in the order named at the opening of the market yesterday. The amount of their joint liabilities is variously estimated at from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000, assets unknown, and in the opinion of good judges a goodly portion of doubtful value.

Two of the insolvent firms announced that they hoped to settle in full and resume. No very definite statement was forthcoming from the parties most interested.

The day closed with the usual rumors of more failures, criminal prosecution and the like. The solvency of several financial institutions of standing was brought into question, but for such rumors there appeared to be absolutely no foundation.

The market was seriously affected by the three failures, stocks breaking heavily at the outset, with slow recoveries, but the closing was fairly steady. Call money opened at 10 per cent, rose as high as 20 per cent and closed at 6 per cent. Most of the leading banks and trust companies in the financial district made large loans during the day after not a few of them had called a number of loans to husband their resources in the early hours of the market.

The failures were directly due to last week's serious decline in a number of industrial stocks, beginning with the slump in International Power, which was followed by the collapse on Friday of the so called Webb-Meyer securities. Two of this group, Rutland Railroad preferred and St. Lawrence and Adirondack, are regularly listed on the Stock Exchange. The others, including Dominion Securities, Hackensack Meadows, North American Lumber and Pulp and Storage Power, are or rather were more or less extensively dealt in on the "curb."

Long Lost Child Found.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 6.—A young child about seven years of age which has been an inmate of a charitable institution here since April 5, at which time it was found alone on the street, having been abandoned by parties unknown, is believed by the local department of charities to be Margaret Vintin Taylor, for kidnaping whom two women are now serving a term of imprisonment at Cincinnati, O. The child disappeared on Aug. 3, 1898, and no trace of it was ever found. At the time the child disappeared it was visiting its grandparents at Fernbush, near Cincinnati. The Ohio authorities have been informed by the Albany police that the child has been located here, and they have been requested to notify its parents, who now live at Bellevue, Ky.

Promotion For Austrian Minister.

VIENNA, May 6.—The budget presented today at the meeting of the delegations in Budapest provides that Ladislaus Hengelmuller von Hengervar, the Austro-Hungarian minister at Washington, shall receive a salary of 80,000 crowns when he is raised to the rank of embassador. This salary is double the amount of the minister's present stipend, and the increase will be made on the ground that it is necessary to appoint a councilor in order to complete the staff of the Austro-Hungarian embassy at Washington and to provide for the creation of a consulate at Cleveland, O., to watch over the interests of the 50,000 Austrian subjects in that locality.

Crelin Found Guilty.

NEWARK, N. J., May 6.—Chief Justice Gummere late yesterday charged the jury which has for ten days been listening to the evidence in the trial of Philemon B. Crelin, the admitted slayer of his wife Helen and daughter, Mrs. Mary Ferguson, in Millburn on Feb. 18. The defense has been that Crelin was mentally irresponsible at the time, his mind being affected by epilepsy. The jury was out about three hours and brought in a verdict of guilty in the second degree. Sentence will be pronounced later.

Americans Buying Potash Fields.

BERLIN, May 6.—A press correspondent at Hanover telegraphs that besides the representatives of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical company New York and London capitalists are buying potash properties in Germany and have already acquired the Hohenzollern works and four other unworked properties which have been tested by borings. Technical experts are examining potash fields in Hanover province, the duchy of Brunswick and the Thuringian states.

Aged Minister Injured.

NEW ORLEANS, May 6.—Rev. B. M. Palmer, D. D., one of the most prominent Presbyterian ministers of this city and known throughout the country, was knocked down by a trolley car at St. Charles and Webster streets and perhaps fatally injured. His arm and leg were broken, his head was injured, and he is thought also to be hurt internally. Dr. Palmer is eighty-three years old.

Will Abstain From Western Beef.

OSWEGO, N. Y., May 6.—Two hundred employees of the Standard Oil box factory here have signed an agreement to refrain from purchasing western beef for thirty days.

GIVE IT PUBLICITY.

It is to be hoped that every citizen of the borough, without regard to belief on the questions of consolidation and annexation, will turn out for the mass meeting at Saengerbund Hall when two prominent citizens of that municipality are going to explain their reasons for opposing the measures mentioned. It will be a good thing to hear what the "antis" have to say.

It is a good thing to hold meetings of this kind. The more publicity given to these questions, the more chance there is of having them decided on their merits. Instead, however, of each side conducting meetings and arguing all one way, the public could be far better served if the leading men for and against the measures would lay aside personal feeling and arrange a series of joint debates.

There is nothing to be gained by indulging in personalities in this discussion. Every man is entitled to his own opinion. Both sides should realize that fact and agree amicably to some plan of campaign whereby both sides can be heard.

We do not fear that a careful exposition of the reasons of the "antis" is going to injure the cause of Greater Plainfield. On the contrary, we would rather that the people should hear those reasons so that they can see for themselves how futile they are when compared with the arguments of the greater city advocates.

Slowly but surely the four local baseball teams, which make up the city league, are rounding into proper form. While all the clubs manage to lose their initial games, the few weeks that the season has already been open has shown a change in the form. A few more weeks will bring even greater changes. When the league opens Memorial Day, there promises to be some of the hottest baseball ever seen on local diamonds.

There is no immediate prospect of a settlement between employers and employes in the building trades. The strike is still on and neither side seems willing to concede a single point from the position now held. In the end, somebody has got to win. The public would be benefitted if both sides would agree to immediate arbitration so that building operations might not be further delayed.

Basket ball has been revived among the girls of the city High School. It is an excellent sport for the young women and is deserving of every encouragement. There is nothing unladylike or sensational in the game which should make it in any way objectional.

There is prospect of some livey things happening before the mass meeting in Saengerbund Hall, this evening, adjourns. At any rate, it promises to be well worth attending.

Mr. Hankinson, of the Westfield Leader, was in Plainfield yesterday.

SUBURBAN NEWS

A Department Devoted to the Minor Events in Greater Plainfield's Suburbs by Our Own Correspondents.

DUNELLEN.

The members of the baseball team practice on the Madison avenue grounds every evening. The players think the practice does them about as much good as a regular game. Last evening a large number were out and some new candidates displayed excellent form in the outfield.

Robert Humpston, who has long occupied the position as organist in the Presbyterian church, has resigned. Miss Voorhees, of Plainfield, has been secured to fill the place.

Frank Wynkoop's house on Front street is receiving a coat of paint which is greatly improving its appearance.

Miss Louise Brakeley is making a stay of several days with Miss Florence Abernethey, of Jersey City.

Wm. G. Holton Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will hold a regular meeting this evening in Apgar's Hall.

Rev. Father Maloney, of Hopewell, will deliver a free lecture this evening in St. John's church.

The Borough Council held its regular monthly meeting last evening and transacted routine business.

Rev. Father Kerr is preparing a large class for confirmation, which will take place next week.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes, of Hughes Villa, has been spending a few days with Dr. P. W. Brakeley.

The Checker Club will hold a regular meeting this evening in the North avenue club room.

The Borough Board of Education will hold its regular monthly meeting this evening.

A number of gardeners about town have already planted a large part of their gardens.

Work on George T. Schenck's house will be started as soon as possible this month.

The next meeting of the Literary Circle will take place Saturday evening.

The Dunellen A. C. will play the Y. M. C. A. at Plainfield Saturday.

Miss Mary Teel is spending some time with relatives in Easton.

NEW MARKET.

The farmers throughout Piscataway anticipate rather an unprofitable season in truck gardening this spring. The irregular weather so far has caused it.

It looks as if New Market would get a factory located there at last. Negotiations are under way for a tract of land by an iron company.

Abram Nelson's new house is far on the road to completion and will be finished in a short time.

A few summer boarders have already arrived in town and more are expected about June 1.

Charles Titsworth, of Manch Chunk, is spending a few days with his mother in town.

Henry Williams, of Plainfield, visited friends in town yesterday.

The baseball team practiced last evening.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Ernest Humes, a former resident of the village but now of Jersey City, has been visiting at the home of Hervey Marsh for a few days. Ernest has just been discharged from the hospital, after a confinement of several weeks, caused by injuries received while trying to stop a runaway horse at Jersey City.

The attendance at the baseball game, Saturday, was very encouraging to the club. The bad weather, which threatened rain at any time, could not dampen the ardor of the rooters and there is no doubt had the weather been pleasant the attendance would have been doubled.

Charles Reick and Samuel Johnson, who have been serving an apprenticeship at Scott's Press Works, Plainfield, finished their time Saturday and, in honor of the event, gave a little "blowout" to their friends Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grant, of Plainfield, have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Grant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Paff, Sr.

The board of trustees of the Baptist church met and transacted routine business at its meeting in the church parlors last night.

William Borkowsky, of Brooklyn, has been visiting at the home of his aunt, Miss Maggie Cook, of Westfield avenue.

Miss Josie Marsh, accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Albert Darby, is spending several weeks at Saratoga, N. Y.

Rev. G. M. Shott was in New York, yesterday, attending the ministers' weekly conference meeting.

The Board of Education will hold a regular meeting in the school parlor tonight at 8 o'clock.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Mrs. William H. Manning will remain at Roosevelt Hospital, New York city, ten days, during which time she will be treated.

The Tuesday evening prayer-meeting which will be held in the church tonight will be led by the pastor.

The Baptist church will hold a business and covenant meeting Saturday afternoon.

V. L. Frazee and family have moved out of town.

HINE FOR COLONEL.

Trolley Promoter Likely to Head the Fifth Regiment of the National Guards.

The new Fifth regiment of the National Guard will elect field officers in the near future. A commandant, a lieutenant-colonel, and several majors will be chosen.

Colonel Edwin W. Hine, of Orange, secretary of the Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Street Railway Company is at present the only candidate for commandant. The candidates for lieutenant-colonel are Dr. Daniel A. Currie, Englewood; Major Francis D. Jackson, Hoboken; and Captain Hamilton M. Ross, Jr., of Passaic. The lieutenant-colonel, like the colonel and majors, is elected by all the line officers of the regiment, but the officers of each battalion are usually consulted in the selection of a commandant.

It is probable that if the new Fifth regiment is allowed to participate in the election of a commander for the First Brigade, the name of Colonel Hine will be presented. In that event a spirited three-cornered contest may be expected between Colonels Hine, Campbell and Smith.

GUN CLUB'S BALL.

Complete Success of Affair at Saengerbund Hall Last Night.

The Plainfield Independent Shooting Club held its second annual May ball in Saengerbund Hall last evening. Some two hundred couples were present and the devotees of Terpsichore were gratified to their heart's content.

Chas. Jensen was floor manager and John Wirth assistant floor manager. The committee having the arrangements in hand were J. A. Blatz, chairman; L. M. VanDyke, secretary; Adolph Bohren, treasurer; Chas. Jensen, Adolph Barre, John Wirth.

At midnight a sumptuous dinner was served in the basement. Prof. O'Reilly's music discoursed music for the occasion.

After Teachers' Certificates.

Miss May Conroy and Miss Alice Martin were applicants from North Plainfield for teachers' certificates at the Somerville examination Friday and Saturday.

Last of Dr. Cregar's Talks.

Dr. Peter B. Cregar gave the fifth and last of his "First Aid to the Injured" lectures, to the members of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., Saturday morning.

W. C. T. U. Social.

The W. C. T. U. is planning to hold an entertainment and social in the near future.

Warren's Election.

The Warren Engine Company will meet this evening for the election of officers.

COLUMN FOR THE SHOPPERS

SOME OF ATTRACTIONS TO BE FOUND AT LOCAL STORES.

A Few Interesting Items Concerning Greater Plainfield's Merchants

A natty line of shoes, seasonable as to style and reasonable as to price at Flynn's, West Front street.

George Kirch, Liberty street, has a splendid line of groceries at the lowest possible prices. All goods delivered free.

Rings and alarm clocks, a jingling combination, as well as watches in all styles and prices, are shown at L. Moraller's & Son, Park avenue.

Did it ever occur to you that in trading at S. Scheuer & Sons' store that you can save money? In every department you can buy best quality of goods at low prices.

Have you seen those pretty cat thermometers at the Plainfield Art Store in the Y. M. C. A. building? They are one of the novelties of the day. New line of picture molding just received.

The welcome song of the birds recalls to one the sweet notes produced by any one of the superb pianos sold by G. H. Kenyon, of West Front street. They should be heard to be appreciated.

Everything in the bread, cake or confectionery line is always to be found fresh and nice at John Wirth's West Front street bakery. All orders are given prompt attention and are always delivered.

Woodhull & Martin's annual white goods sale is proving a wonderful attraction. Crowds of women are flocking to take advantage of the extraordinary offerings. A matter of over 500 styles is a wonderful variety.

Whether it be a wedding, reception or any kind of a social affair you need floral decorations and there is no better place to secure them than at Mrs. Denton's conservatory on West Front street. All work is done in a satisfactory manner.

When health hags in the balance, never delay. To prevent a loss of time, always keep granular effervescent phosphate soda on hand. It is useful as a laxative in so-called bilious headache. Prepared and sold at Shaw's pharmacy, 207 West Front street.

Take no substitutes for the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company's household groceries. They are standards for purity and are known and sold the world over. The local store at 137-139 West Front street always has a full line and delivers orders free to any part of the city.

Fury Sold Out.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 6—Charles J. Fury has sold out his interest in the Somerset House to George Schenck, formerly proprietor of the TenEyck House. Mr. Schenck took charge yesterday. Mr. Fury, who has an interest in a large bottling concern, will devote all his time to that business.

Red Men on the Diamond.

At their meeting Friday night Miantonomo Tribe, I. O. R. M., sent a challenge to Wetumpkah Tribe for a baseball game. The challenge will no doubt be accepted and the contest will probably take place Decoration Day.

Interesting Meeting.

J. Harry Manning, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., led the Christian Endeavor meeting in the First Baptist church Friday evening. The meeting was a most interesting one.

Story in The Outlook.

L. Fullerton Waldo, of this city, is the author of an interesting story on the early American settlers which appeared in The Outlook last week.

New Postoffice.

Congressman Howell has made application for a new postoffice about two miles north of Somerville. The place will be known as Nowale.

New Fire Box.

A new fire box has been put in at the corner of Duer street and Lincoln place in North Plainfield. The number is 148.

House Quarantined.

The home of Frank Hafner, of East Sixth street, is quarantined as one of his children has scarlet fever.

Half Holiday Granted.

Allan B. Laing, the electrician, has granted his men a Saturday half holiday for the rest of the season.

Dangerous If Neglected.

Burns, cuts and other wounds often fail to heal properly if neglected and become troublesome sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve prevents such consequences. Even where delay has aggravated the injury DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve effects a cure. "I had a running sore on my leg thirty years," says H. C. Hartly, Yankeetown, Ind. "After using many remedies, I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes healed the sore." Cures all skin diseases. Piles yield to it at once. Beware of counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

TALKED WELL.

Alex. F. Irvine Pleased All With His Lecture on "Millet."

Before a large audience Alexander F. Irvine, delivered his lecture, "Millet," last evening in Y. M. C. A. Hall. The lecture was the last of the supplemental series. Mr. Irvine, like Edwin Markham, whose poem "The Man With the Hoe," was inspired by Millet's painting, is a devout worshipper of the great French artist. The views showed many historic scenes in and around Cherburg, and in the picturesque reign of LaHague where the great master was born. He described Millet's early struggle from the time he entered a studio, where the genius of the pupil outshone the ability of this tutor, and his later rise to fame, though not to affluence.

Mr. Irvine has an effective style of speaking which is very enjoying and peculiarly his own.

CHESS CLUB FORMED.

Organization Started at the Y. M. C. A. Last Evening.

A chess club was formed at the Y. M. C. A. building last evening, when a number of chess players met in response to an invitation from Physical Director C. E. A. Heywood. Alex. Millar was chosen chairman and Mr. Heywood secretary of the meeting. It was decided to meet for play every Monday evening at the association building. An ordinary membership in the association will entitle a person to join the club.

West End's Officers.

At the meeting of West End Hose Company last evening the following officers were elected: Gus Feiring, foreman; John Bremmer, first assistant foreman; George Giddis, second assistant foreman and secretary; Wm. Demarest, recording secretary; Herman Hansen, treasurer. Wm. Demarest was elected a delegate to the Firemen's Relief Association.

F. H. Jacobs Coming.

F. H. Jacobs, who was associated with William Phillips Hall and Rev. Theodore S. Henderson in the Gospel campaign meetings in this city in the spring of 1901, has consented to speak at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. He will also sing. Mr. Jacobs addressed the largest men's meeting ever held in Association Hall.

Marked His Birthday.

In honor of his eighteenth birthday, Walter P. Foster, of West Sixth street, entertained thirty friends at his home last evening. Music, games and dancing formed a delightful combination of divertisements which brought midnight all too quickly. A collation served during the evening was a feature of the occasion.

Reception at Hope.

All members of the men's and women's Bible classes of Hope chapel are requested to be present this evening, at the reception to be given John Deull Miller. Donald McInnis, chairman of the entertainment committee, has prepared an elaborate programme and refreshments will be served at the close.

Hope Y. M. A. Meeting.

All members of the Hope Y. M. A. are urged to be present at the regular monthly business meeting to be held this evening. A matter of great importance which has been talked over among the officials is to be broughi up for consideration. There is also considerable routine business to be transacted.

Talks of Opening Office.

Dr. David Brown, a former resident of Plainfield but now taking a post-graduate course in dentistry in the University of Maryland, at Baltimore, is spending a few days with friends in town. He is considering opening an office here, but has not yet definitely decided.

Talked to Heptasophs.

Deputy Supreme Archon J. V. E. Vanderhoef, of the Improved Order Heptasophs, addressed a large gathering of the members and friends of Trenton Conclave, last night.

HOPE FOR THE QUEEN.

Wilhelmina, Though Critically Ill, May Yet Recover.

THE HAGUE, May 6.—Hope is growing for the life of Queen Wilhelmina.

The latest unofficial information from Castle Loo is optimistic, though it is well understood that the condition of the queen remains critical.

The doctors' bulletins from the castle are extremely guarded, but confirm the increasing hope that the queen will survive.

The offices of the official newspapers were besieged with inquiries and surrounded by people awaiting bulletins. Telegrams of inquiry arrived from all parts of the world. All the foreign diplomats either personally called for news or sent their secretaries to make inquiries about her majesty's health.

The doctors remained with her majesty at the palace through the night, and neither the queen mother nor the prince consort went to bed.

The premature confinement of the queen—feared from the time she was stricken with typhoid three weeks ago—occurred at 6 o'clock Sunday night. She was attended by Professor Rosenstein, Dr. Roessingh and others. Her suffering was intense.

The Dutch newspapers, rathe strangely, publish nothing concerning Queen Wilhelmina's illness beyond the official bulletins and brief expressions of thankfulness that her majasty's life has been saved.

It is no longer concealed that the operation which was performed was most dangerous and that for one hour the patient's life hung by a thread, causing the most terrible suspense. Even now, although the queen's physicians are exceedingly reticent, it is known that her condition remains precarious and that everything depends upon the strength of the patient's constitution. There is reasonable hope for her majesty's recovery, however, provided that hemorrhage is averted.

SQUIERS FOR CUBAN POST.

President Names Secretary of Legation at Peking For Minister.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—H. G. Squiers, secretary of the legation at Peking, has been selected by the president to be minister to Cuba, and General Bragg of Wisconsin has been selected as consul general at Havana.

Mr. Squiers' selection fulfills the very first requirement laid down by the president—namely, that the minister at Havana should be a man of diplomatic experience. He is a native of Canada, but was appointed from New York. In 1894 he was appointed second secretary of the United States embassy at Berlin, retiring in 1897. In January, 1898, he was appointed secretary of the United States legation at Peking, remaining there constantly until a few months ago, when he returned to the United States on leave. His connection with the defense of the legations during the Boxer uprising is highly creditable. He had had military experience and by virtue of that fact was practically in charge of the legation defenses.

General Bragg, the new consul general at Havana, was born in Unadilla, N. Y., in 1827. He entered the Union army as a captain in 1861 and reached the grade of brigadier general in the regular establishment. He served for some years in congress and afterward was appointed United States minister to Mexico. His present home is at Fond du Lac, Wis. The salary of the consul general at Havana is $5,000.

Son Mourned as Dead Returns.

STONINGTON, Conn., May 6.—After an absence of ten years, part of which time he has been mourned as dead, John Fish, a member of a well known Mystic family, has just returned to his home, bearing a commission as captain in the British army. At the age of nineteen he left New London in a sailing vessel and went to San Francisco, afterward going to South Africa, where he enlisted. He was wounded at the siege of Ladysmith. Some years ago news of Fish's death reached his mother here, and until now she had no intimation that the report was untrue.

No Successor to Moody.

BOSTON, May 6.—Governor Crane has sent a message to the legislature to the effect that there is no provision in the law for the filling of the vacancy in the Fifty-seventh congress caused by the resignation of Congressman Moody of the Sixth district to become secretary of the navy. In making the new apportionment last year the act passed related solely to the Fifty-eighth congress. The old law was at the same time repealed, and the Sixth district cannot choose a new representative until the next election.

Lord Kelvin Honored at Yale.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 6.—Before a background of the American and English flags interdraped William Thomson, first Lord Kelvin, of the University of Glasgow received from Yale university the honorary degree of doctor of laws. The ceremony took place in Battell chapel before an audience that thronged the college church. The occasion was a remarkable one, because it was the first time in over a hundred years that a special assembly has been held at Yale for the conferring of an honorary degree.

Lawson's Yacht Stuck Fast.

BOSTON, May 6.—Owing to an insufficiency of water Arnold Lawson's new forty-six foot schooner was not able to take her maiden plunge yesterday, but all the formalities attendant upon the launching were carried out at Lawley's shipyard. The vessel was christened Cygnet by Douglas, the youngest son of Thomas W. Lawson, who broke a bottle of champagne over her bow as she started down the ways.

HERE'S A QUEER THING.

The "Morning Hour" in the Senate Begins at Noon and Lasts About Two Hours.

The "morning hour" is one of the queer things of the United States senate. In the first place the "morning hour" is two hours long, though it may be completed in ten or 15 minutes. In the second place, says the Washington Star, it never occurs in the morning, but begins at 12 o'clock noon, except on the rare occasions when the senate meets at 10 or 11 o'clock. Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, is responsible for the elongation of the morning hour so as to make it cover 120 minutes. Prior to 14 years ago the "morning hour," while existing in the afternoon, was but an hour in length, but a resolution submitted by Mr. Hoar was adopted August 10, 1888, and that provided that the "morning hour" should be two hours in length or that it should end at two o'clock. This resolution provided "that after today, unless otherwise ordered, the morning hour shall terminate at the expiration of two hours after the meeting of the senate." The morning hour is devoted to the presentation of petitions, the introduction of bills, reports of committees, etc., and is the time when all sorts of little matters of that kind are attended to. At two o'clock the presiding officer lays before the senate the bill on the calendar, which is set aside as having precedence over other measures, and that is generally the time for long speeches of all kinds unless unanimous consent is secured to consider pension bills for a specified time or unobjected bills on the calendar.

MONKEY MASCOT IN WAR.

A Simian Veteran of Philippine Strife Who Was in Many Engagements.

Fritz, the mascot of company H, Twenty-third regulars, and veteran of the Philippine war, is known to the boys of the company as "comrade," and to them he is away above the average of his kind.

Fritz enjoys the rare distinction of being the only one of 12 monkeys able to stand the long ocean voyage from Manila. Frank J. Knoffkey is his owner, and the soldier has never gone into an engagement since April 14, 1900, when Fritz was brought into camp, without the faithful monkey either on his shoulders or trudging along close by his side. Fritz has been one every island in the Sulu archipelago and suffered without a murmur the long and trying campaigns.

When Knoffkey lay wounded on the field in Cebu island his comrades in uniform pressed on, but his comrade Fritz nestled close to his side and guarded him through the watches of the night.

On the regiment's forced march across Latey island, Fritz divided his time between walking and riding on the shoulders of the men along the line. It was on this occasion, says the New York Mail and Express, that he came near losing his life at the hands of several wild monkeys because he had no tail. A monkey loses his social standing in the Philippines when he is minus a tail. Fritz escaped from his indignant relatives only by leaping to the shoulders of his master.

AMERICA'S JEWEL MADNESS.

Prevailing Rage for Precious Stones Surpasses Anything Ever Before Seen in This Country.

The world has never seen, and in no other part of the world is there now to be seen, anything like America's jewel madness as shown by the conditions of to-day, when more than 300 New York establishments are engaged solely in the importation of precious stones, when agents of American dealers are searching Europe for the white gem and hopelessly endeavoring to supply American appeals for rubies and emeralds, and when 6,000 men in South Africa are toiling to obtain diamonds, more than half of which are to add to the beauty and happiness of the American woman. It is she that has caused the United States to become the greatest diamond market in the world, says Ainslee's Magazine. For her we have imported in a single year $20,000,000 worth of precious stones; for her, at one period, we smuggled them in at the rate of $7,000,000 a year; for her we annually buy something like $12,000,000 worth of diamonds, and thus, for her sake, heartlessly leave of the world's output of diamonds only some $8,000,000 worth to satisfy the vanity of all the rest of the women on earth. For her adornment we annually cause to be brought to this country diamonds weighing in the aggregate 1,200 pounds, a weight three times that of the total output of the famous Kimberley field, and practically the equal of that of the whole of South Africa, the world's greatest diamond mine.

Killing of Seals.

The increased value of sealskins in 1900 induced the lessees of the Pribilof islands, the breeding grounds of the seal herds, to kill 13,000 two-year-old seals, whereas the rule has been not to kill any seal which has not reached the age of at least three years. If the killing of two-year-olds is allowed to continue it is certain that the seal herd will soon be exterminated.

Fattened Oysters.

Half-developed oysters and bivalves which are in poor flesh, as a stockman would say, are now kept in regular pens and fattened for the market, as if they were pigs or other live stock.

How Cows Lie Down.

A western cattleman says that all cows lie down on their left side and never on their right unless the left is injured.

PLUCKY BARNARD GIRLS.

How They Got In the Swim Despite Callow "Mere Man."

The lesson on the woman question recently administered to the young men students of Columbia university is strenuous enough to last them the rest of their lives if they are possessed of average masculine sense. That it may so last them, that they may teach it in turn to their sons and grandsons, is the best one can wish for them. The lesson is this: The world was made for woman also, and she herself, not callow college boys, is to decide where her place in it shall be.

From the very beginning the young men of that institution of learning which is the pride of New York city have persecuted with persistent sex arrogance the girls of Barnard college; the hall designed for young women students. The men's college paper has even gone so far in its sex insolence as to assert that Columbia is not a coed school at all. The university authorities, being men who belong to the twentieth century, are on the side of the women. When recently these authorities granted to the Barnard girls for each Wednesday evening the use of the swimming pool of the university gymnasium, men students who enjoyed it all the rest of the time sent earthward and skyward a howl of foaming rage. They vowed by the Eternal, as it were, that they would rout the women out of that sacred he-tank or "bust." What was more, not even a female mosquito should buzz around the pie and doughnuts vended behind the college lunch counter. "We men always have been victorious in the battle of the sexes, and we'll be again," they said.

The Barnard girls were troubled, but not dismayed. They were receiving the mild final droppings of that shower which fifty years ago deluged Susan B. Anthony with dead cats and brickbats and feminine medical students with hisses and written missives of devilish insult. They continued on their way, saying not much, but working and thinking and willing tremendously. Then the mills of the gods that at length crush into powder brutality, persecution and all wrong done by one party to another began to grind. They ground not "slowly" in this case, but quickly, the gods apparently deeming that here was an emergency requiring dispatch.

The story of the men's persecution of the women students was well ventilated in newspapers, and the sympathies of reporter and editor were in every case on the side of the girls, which was a great help to them. After a few weeks the returns began to come in. Columbia boys looked down their noses, and an expression of glumness overspread their faces when one morning lately it was announced that an endowment of an even $500,000 had been secured for the enemy on whose neck they had sought to set their collective foot—the girls of Barnard.

Thus bad began, but worse remained behind. Less than a week after Barnard got its half million endowment once more the newspapers took up the tale and told how a generous anonymous benefactor of the feminine sex had given a quarter million more to build a magnificent gymnasium of their own for the Barnard girls, with a swimming pool especially that was to rival the baths of Diocletian in size and luxuriousness of equipment, a pool to which the boys' tank would be even as a washtub.

BARNARD GIRLS IN THE SACRED HE-TANK, COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY.

The Barnard gymnasium will be the handsomest and most thoroughly appointed of any such establishment in the world, and connected therewith will be a splendid restaurant, and into neither "gym" nor restaurant will ever a Columbia boy be allowed to set foot. So it is said.

But the crowning overthrow and rolling in the dust of the boys, the worstest worse, so to speak, is this: Adjacent to the college grounds is a plot which the Columbia Athletic club has been years trying to buy for an exercise field, and this now has actually been purchased under their noses for the young women of Barnard, where they may march, play ball and sprint at their own sweet will. Between the college campus whence the men tried so persistently to drive the women students altogether and the new athletic field there is to be a very high grillwork fence, through which the girls may bite their thumbs at the boys and say:

"You may go to grass with your old Wednesday tanking."

Yes, decidedly the Barnard college girls are in the swim.

KATE SHARP

By WILLIAM WALLACE COOK,

Author of "Rogers of Butte," "The Spur of Necessity," "Mr. Pitt, Astrologer," etc.

(Copyright, 1901, by the S. B. McClure Co.)

"The best laid plans of mice and maids gang aft agley, you remember," observed Guy. "For my part, I hope that ill-fated courthouse will be burned to the last stick. It has caused trouble enough."

Together they sat on the porch watching the yellow flames leap high and toss their sparkling, star-like cinders. Then gradually the fiery tongues sank down and down, the glare faded out of the sky and they knew that the courthouse had ceased to be a factor in the contest.

The squire returned, by and by, and with him walked a youth who was wheeling a bicycle.

"Let us go in for a minute," they heard the squire say. "You can leave your wheel at the gate."

They entered the house, whither Miss Betty and Guy had preceded them, and Guy then discovered that the youth who was accompanying the squire was none other than Lemuel Bilkins. Notwithstanding a certain air of bravado and triumph, it could be seen that Lemuel was very much agitated and frightened.

"A fellow-townsman of yours, Mr. Herbert," remarked the squire, a grim smile flitting across his face. "This young man," he laid his hand on Lemuel's shoulder, "came over from Concord and burned the courthouse. He was caught while attempting to escape. The people were strongly tempted to make an example of him, but I reminded them of our new policy—"

"Of my new policy, father," interrupted Miss Betty.

"Quite so, my dear. I reminded them of your new policy and the incendiary was turned over to me. His name is Lemuel Bilkins and he has probably done a brave thing, as his people will look at it. That was a very bright idea of yours, Mr. Bilkins."

There was sarcasm in the squire's voice, but Lemuel could not detect it.

"It was the Colonel's idea," answered Lemuel, falteringly but proudly. "He said if I'd do it I could have Sampson's place in the office."

"Has Sampson left Keever's employ?" queried the squire, with sudden interest.

"Why," returned Lemuel, "he set on the Colonel like a tiger an' if the Colonel hadn't held himself in he'd jest naturally have killed Samp."

"This is news indeed!" exclaimed Guy.

"I have brought the young man here, Betty," resumed her father, "so that you might tell him what you intended doing with the courthouse tomorrow. He will see, then, that the building was sacrificed to no purpose."

"Won't you sit down, Mr. Bilkins?" asked Miss Betty.

"I'd ruther stand," returned Lemuel, fidgiting. "If it's all the same to you, I'd ruther go right off, too."

"You are in no danger, Mr. Bilkins," went on Miss Betty. "I give you my word. Stand if you like, for I will detain you only a few moments. The purloining of the courthouse was my plan. I did not intend to steal it, but after Harmony had legally acquired the county seat I was going to have the building paid for. Had I not done this, I hardly see how a clash could have been avoided, for the Invincibles were organized and drilled, and it was their avowed intention to march upon Concord and take the records by force. I had absolutely no power over them. By allowing them to work off their ardor in a more theatrical way their purpose was accomplished without violence. We bear no ill will toward you or your people, and I had arranged to have the courthouse hauled back to its original site in the early hours of the morning. I am very sorry, indeed, that you have made this impossible. If you will remember what I have told you, however, and tell your fellow-citizens about it, they may perhaps accept the intention in lieu of the deed."

Lem Bilkins, when the squire conducted him from the house and started him homeward on his bicycle, appeared as one stunned. As for Guy, this fresh proof of Miss Betty's consummate ability in managing a delicate situation merely increased his admiration for her.

Next day came the crucial test, and the nerves of the entire county were stretched to tightest tension. There was much excitement in Harmony, and the squire was abroad all day, not even returning home for his luncheon. Miss Pinkney walked over from the town and awaited the returns in company with Miss Betty and Guy.

Great was the consternation of the ladies when Barney, late in the afternoon, arrived with the intelligence that Amityville had gone solidly for Concord.

"Why," cried Miss Betty, "every one of the Amityville people signed the petition for this election!"

"And the squire gave Mr. Landy six lots!" wailed Miss Pinkney, who was the picture of despair.

"The squire wasn't liberal enough," put in Guy, looking keenly at Miss Betty. "I gave Mr. Landy two entire blocks and distributed Concord real estate to every man, woman and child in Amityville."

"You did that?" cried Miss Betty. "You, Mr. Herbert?"

Miss Pinkney looked daggers at Guy when he bowed in answer to her friend's question.

"I knew all along, Miss Vlandingham," said the young man, "just how Amityville would go. That was one reason why I did not want to come here yesterday. I have done what I could for Concord, and, it seems, have earned your displeasure."

"Earned my displeasure!" she repeated, with a rippling laugh. "Not a bit of it! You were a foeman worthy of our steel and I am almost as glad you have won as I would have been had Harmony achieved the victory."

"Betty!" gasped Miss Pinkney. "You are certainly beside yourself. Do you know what this means to your father, to mine, to all of us? Oh, dear, dear, dear! I can't imagine what we are all going to do! And to think that we were all so certain of Amityville!"

"That is where the joke comes in!" exclaimed Miss Betty. "What a surprise this will be to my father! You've certainly won, Mr. Herbert. It was very clever and I am proud of your success, believe me. Allow me to congratulate you!"

She gave Guy her hand.

"Betty!" cried Miss Pinkney, "you're a—a modern Tarpeia. The idea of you—you of all the others—being happy because Concord won."

Miss Pinkney began drawing on her gloves in an angry flutter.

"Lois," returned Miss Betty, "you do not understand, dear. I am not happy because Concord won, but because Mr. Herbert has come out of the east, burdened with his inexperience, and worsted a clique of old campaigners like my father and yours."

"Are you proud of me for going into the open market and buying votes?" asked Guy.

"Hush!" she returned, raising an admonitory forefinger. "That is too hard a name for something which the great political parties never scruple at doing. It was a case of diamond cut diamond. You interested the Amityville people in your town even as my father had interested them in ours—only you were shrewd enough to be more liberal. The game of politics is a selfish one, at best, and you—"

Just then the squire stormed in.

"My condolences, Herbert," he exclaimed, in gay mood, waving a slip of yellow paper above his head.

"What?" asked Guy, startled.

"I sympathize with you, but a town divided against itself must fall, you know. Harmony carries the day, and the deciding votes come from Concord itself. Five, Betty! We have a majority of five! Here, read this telegram."

The squire threw himself into a chair and Guy turned mechanically toward Betty. She had taken the message from her father's hand and now read as follows:

"Concord casts 20 votes for Harmony. Conservative estimate gives you five majority. Riot here. Town in a turmoil. Hard to tell what will happen. BIGGS."

"Hurrah!" cried the excited Miss Pinkney, waving her handkerchief.

"Where in the world did those 20 Harmony votes come from?" asked Miss Betty.

Her father pursed up his lips, looked at the ceiling and twirled his thumbs.

"Victory is perched on our banners, Betty," he observed, finally. "I don't know how it got there any more than you do, but what's the odds?"

What's the odds? That is plainly what Miss Betty thought, for the moment.

"Now what do you think, Mr. Herbert?" she asked, turning on the amazed young man and shaking the telegram before his eyes.

"I think I shall have to return the congratulations which you gave me a few moments ago," laughed Guy. "Not only that, but I think, too, that I shall have to return to Concord at once."

"Oh, no!" said Miss Betty.

"It would be suicidal!" declared the squire. "Didn't you hear the message? 'Riot here—town in a turmoil.' Don't go back there until matters quiet down."

"They could spare me in case of a victory," said Guy, "but it's cowardly to remain away in time of defeat. I must go immediately. Perhaps Barney will take me?"

"I'll take you myself if you're bound to go," answered the squire, promptly. "I don't want to persuade you against your convictions, you know, and I have the greatest respect for your courage, but really I'm afraid you'll be in some danger if you go over there just at present. Wait till morning, anyway."

"No, squire," returned Guy, firmly. "I must go to-night."

A REPUTATION.

How It Was Made and Retained in Plainfield.

A good reputation is not easily earned, and it was only by hard consistent work among our citizens that Doan's Kidney Pills won their way to the proud distinction attained in this locality. The public endorsement of scores of Plainfield residents has rendered invaluable service to the community. Read what this citizen says:

Mr. C. D. Lippencott, of 39 Chatham street, says: "I was a victim of kidney complaint and dreadful backache, so bad in damp weather or when I caught cold that I could not get about. I was in the hardware business at this time and the heavy lifting and being on my feet so much greatly aggravated the troubles. I was at my worst when I concluded to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I got them at L. W. Randolph's drug store. It only required a few doses to convince me that I had the right remedy. My backache disappeared before I had finished the first box."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster, Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Prehistoric Pictures.

Much interest attaches to the recent discovery at Combarelles, in the department of Dordogne, France, of a cave the rock walls of which are decorated with engraved figures, some of which are rudely colored, representing such animals as the horse, the cow, the bison, the reindeer, the mammoth and the wild goat. Most of these pictures, which number more than 100, are covered with a stalagmitic deposit, partially or entirely concealing them. It is believed that they were made in paleolithic times, and that they furnish evidence that the reindeer and the mammoth lived in France contemporaneously with the artists of the cavern.—Chicago Chronicle.

Automobiles for Tourists.

A line of "observation automobiles" is to be run in Washington, D. C., for the benefit of visitors. Each vehicle carries 22 passengers and will be accompanied by a lecturer on points of interest at the capital. The fuel is kerosene and the motive power steam.

THE ROCHAMBEAU MISSION.

Frenchmen Set Sail For America Under Special Orders.

TOULON, France, May 6.—The Gaulois, with General Brugere and the other members of the Rochambeau mission on board, weighed anchor at 8 o'clock last evening. Admiral Fournier has issued the following order:

"Officers and Men of the Navy—I know you all realize keenly the honor in being selected to conduct to the United States this important mission, which is felicitously headed by General Brugere. I know I may count upon your unfailing and perfect conduct and discipline through your always bearing in mind the noble memories France left in the marvelously happy country you are about to visit under the auspices of our distinguished embassador, M. Cambon. You will show yourselves worthy of the confidence reposed in you and of the hearty welcome you will not fail to receive not only from the American civil and military authorities, but also from the hospitable American people.

"In short, you should all show your keen appreciation of being the feted guests of the great American nation, whose ever growing prosperity France, ever in a chivalrous spirit, admires today as she formerly admired her heroism while fighting with the Americans for their independence. Long live our sister republic! Long live France! Long live the United States!"

MORO PRISONERS SHOT.

Eighty-four Tried to Escape—Thirty-five Were Killed.

MANILA, May 6.—Eighty-four Moro prisoners under guard made an attempt to escape yesterday. At a preconcerted signal they got between the soldiers forming the guard and a company at dinner. The latter, realizing what had happened, fired on and pursued the Moros, killing thirty-five of them and capturing nine. The other fugitives escaped.

The one chance of saving the life of Captain Moore of the Twenty-seventh infantry, who was wounded during the recent fighting with the Moros in the island of Mindanao, is by trepanning a portion of his skull which is resting on the brain.

The body of Second Lieutenant Thomas A. Vicars of the Twenty-first infantry has been temporarily buried at Malabang.

Hopes are still entertained of saving the lives of the other wounded American officers.

A soldier has died of cholera on board the United Stafes transport Warren, in quarantine here. Her crew and passengers have landed by the United States steamer Meriveles. The Warren will be fumigated and undergo another five days in quarantine.

JIMINEZ FLED.

Dominican President Leaves Capital In Revolutionists' Hands.

MONTE-CHRISTI, Santo Domingo, May 6.—Messengers under a flag of truce who arrived at Puerta Plata, Santo Domingo's principal port, on the north coast, from Santo Domingo confirmed the reports of the capitulation of the Dominican capital, which took place Friday. It was also confirmed that President Jiminez sought refuge in the French consulate at Santo Domingo.

The negotiations between the revolutionists and General Deschamps, the governor of Puerta Plata, for the surrender of that place have, it is further reported here, fallen through. The governor refuses to surrender without an order from the Dominican government.

GOLF.

In the play-off of the tie for the cup in the tournament handicap of last Saturday, in which Horace Russell, F. O. Reinhart and Partrick Grant were tied at 79 net, Judge Russell did not play, and Grant with 79, a duplication of his former score, won from Reinhart, who returned 81 net.

Nearly all of the players to take part for Harvard, Columbia and Pennsylvania in the sixth intercollegiate tournament, which begins today at Garden City, arrived yesterday and were out for practice. The team championship, six on a side, will begin today in eighteen-hole match play rounds, and the qualifying round of the individual championship will be on Thursday, the best eight to keep on at match play. It is noticed that Plainfield is represented on the Princeton and Columbia teams. F. O. Reinhart and J. Whitney Baker will play with Princeton and W. L. Glenney on Columbia.

ON THE DIAMOND.

North Plainfield High School will play Rutger's Prep. on the Myrtle avenue grounds Saturday afternoon.

The Plainfield High School nine will meet the North Plainfield High School boys on Pittis diamond, Wednesday afternoon.

The West End Hose Company last night accepted a challenge from the Warren Engine Company for a game of baseball on Decoration Day. The cricket grounds will be the scene of combat.

The Y. M. C. A. ball team will play the Dunellens on the Y. M. C. A. diamond Saturday afternoon. This will be the first regular game on the home field with the Y. M. C. A. team. An interesting and close game is expected.

At the monthly business meeting of the Hope Y. M. A. to be held this evening, an appropriation will undoubtedly be made for the wiring in of the association grand stand on Hope Common. As it stands at present it is the largest and most roomy of any in the city but is unprotected from foul balls. A wire screen has been suggested and the officials look upon it favorably.

SEASON AT WESTFIELD.

Was Opened Most Auspiciously With Cuban Giants Saturday.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 6—The baseball game Saturday between the Westfield team and the Cuban Giants, which opened the season, attracted six hundred people to the grounds. The home team was too much for the visitors, defeating them by a score of 11 to 1. The home team played a superb game throughout and justified the great expectations of the cranks. VanZant and Burke was the battery for the Westfield team, while Green, Felson and Garcia occupied the points for the visitors. The score by innings follows:

Westfield	1	0	2	0	3	3	0	2	*	—11
C. Giants	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	— 1

BRET HARTE DEAD.

His Wife and Daughters Were Residents Here for Many Years—Have Moved to New York.

Word has been received in this city of the death of Bret Harte, the popular story writer, which occurred at his home in London, yesterday. The fact is of interest to Plainfielders aside from readers of his works, inasmuch as Mrs. Harte and her two daughters were residents of this city for many years and were socially prominent.

His eldest daughter, Jessamy, was married here to Willis Steel, of New York, and was well known as an artist and newspaper writer, having been employed by the Scribners. Mrs. Harte and Miss Ethel Harte moved to New York from Plainfield four years ago.

PATRICK FLYNN DEAD.

Young Man Passed Away at His Home on McDowell Street.

The death of Patrick Flynn, aged twenty-two years, occurred suddenly at his home on McDowell street, early yesterday morning. He had been in poor health for some time but the trouble was not thought to be serious. Flynn was unmarried and lived with his mother, Mrs. Mary Flynn, from whose home the funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 8:30 and later from St. Mary's church. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

—The Ladies' Aid Society of the German Lutheran church will meet at Mrs. Scheidecker's, 413 New street, tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

DIED IN BED.

Peter Bruun, an Old Resident, Died of Apoplexy This Morning.

Peter Bruun, an old and well-known resident of this city, was found dead in bed, early this morning, at his home on South avenue. Apoplexy is given by the physicians as the cause of death.

Brunn was fiftv-eight years old and was a gardener by occupation. He leaves a widow, three sons and two daughters, all of whom live in this city. The funeral services will be held from the residence of his son, Edward Bruun, of West Fifth street, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

Plenty of Servants.

In a New York household the domestic corps consists in all of 17 servants. It happens that the family consists of one person. As this gentleman is likely to be invited out frequently to dinner, and is not of an age to do much entertaining himself, the servants are not often called on to make any extraordinary exertion.—N. JUNKMEN GATHERED IN.

Five Rag Pickers, Lacking Licenses, Gathered in by Police.

Five rag-pickers, traveling under the title of junkmen, were arraigned in the city court, this morning, charged by Roadsman Mattox and Patrolman Higgins with having no license. Joseph Trywin and his two sons, of Newark, pleaded guilty, but as it was their first ofiense and they promised to leave town, sentence was suspended.

George Fernigo and Raffael Vigari, also of Newark, were warned yesterday to procure a license, but were found this morning working the West End. Each was fined $3.

Borough Reported to be Free From Any Cases at Board Meeting.

The Borough Board of Health met last evening. Herbert Carver, of Harrison street, who was given a permit a year ago to keep a pig, was denied a renewal of it. He has been keeping several pigs, to the annoyance of the neighborhood, it is said.

The secretary of the board, Rev. W. E. Honeyman, was authorized to purchase a rubber suit for the inspector, Wm. N. Pangborn, for use in contagious disease cases. Mr. Pangborn reported that the quarantine had been removed at the home of Mrs. Herbert VanVliet, on Pearl street. Mrs. VanVliet had diphtheria and has recovered. There are now no cases of contagion in the borough.

SYNOD IS IN SESSION HERE

The Particular Synod of New Brunswick Meet in Trinity Reformed Church.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED.

Meetings Began Yesterday Afternoon—Continued Last Night and This Morning—The Speakers and What They Said—Officer Were Elected—Delegates Present.

The Particular Synod of New Brunswick, Reformed Church in America, comprising the Classis of New Jersey, met yesterday afternoon in Trinity Reformed church, continuing its session last evening and this morning. There were fifty delegates present from the various churches throughout the State. This is the first time in the history of the Synod that it has met in this city and, in consequence, considerable importance was attached to the gathering.

The Synod was called to order by Rev. John Hart, the retiring president, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and from that hour until 4 o'clock the Lord's Supper was celebrated, Mr. Hart officiating. At the conclusion of this the business matters engaging the attention of the convening body were taken up.

The first matter was that of election of officers. Rev. Henry Ward, of Closter, N. J., was chosen president and immediately took the chair. Rev. Taber Knox, of Warwick, N. Y., was elected vice president, while Rev. Willard Conger, of Asbury Park, and Rev. Oscar M. Voorhees, of Three Bridges, were elected temporary clerks. Rev. Dr. Isaac Brokaw, of Freehold, continues in his position, that of stated clerk.

The stated form of bequest, which has been read at every Synod meeting as well as at the Classis since 1814, was read by Rev. Willard Conger in accordance with custom.

In response to an invitation from the First Reformed church, of New Brunswick, the Synod voted to meet in 1903 with that church. It will have been nineteen years since the Synod has met in that church.

At this time the president announced a number of committees to look after the various departments of work. They reported at the closing session. Following the consideration of a few other minor details, the after noon session adjourned at 5:30 o'clock, when the delegates were entertained at supper in the Sunday-school room by the reception committee from the Ladies' Christian Work Society. The women provided generously for the visitors and gave them a cordial reception. The various tables were attractively set and laden with all the good things the market affords.

Mrs. Seaman Williams was chairman of the committee and those assisting were Mrs. Henry VanName, Mrs. P. E. Stuart, Mrs. Henry Paul, Mrs. Mary J. Disborough, Mrs. Anna Gillem, Mrs. Henry Pugh, Mrs. Salmon C. Baker, Mrs. Elias H. Bird, Mrs. Edward Cooley, Mrs. William A. Woodruff and Mrs. O. W. Dunham as waitresses. Those who had charge of affairs in the kitchen were Mrs. Robert Clark, Jr., Mrs. Emma VanDoren, Mrs. G. Q. Dolliver and Mrs. P. M. Demarest.

It was 8 o'clock when the evening session was called. The president, Rev. Mr. Ward, was in charge. Daniel E. Davis presided at the organ and H. J. Martin was the precentor. Rev. A. Vennema, of Passaic, read the Scripture lesson and Rev. Mr. Wortman, of East Orange, offered prayer. Then followed a solo, "Calvary," by Miss Ethel May Derby.

Rev. John Hart, retiring president, then delivered his sermon. His text was "Without Me ye can do nothing." The chief thought advanced by the speaker was that in all things it is essential and necessary to have the aid of Christ. This, Mr. Hart said, was being realized more and more every day by missionaries, ministers and all followers of Christ.

"It is God who gives a new heart and Christ's spirit inspires one to do good and lead the right kind of a life. You can lead a man to Christ, but you cannot bring him. It is Christ who cleanses the heart and we bear fruit through Him. Severed from Him we can do nothing."

The next speaker was Rev. W. H. Boocock, of Bayonne, who took up the thought of the preceding speaker and remarked: "May we not expect a higher organization in the Christian church? I mean a co-ordination with a view to increasing practical efficiency. A full life means an expansion of the organism."

Mr. Boocock believed that the church is today understanding its mission better. He argued against the divided condition of the church and said he believed the various members should be brought together, co-ordinated.

"If capital, railroads and steamship lines combine, why not the churches of God," said the speaker. "Why not have one mission board instead of ten," he argued. "The work of federation is growing." Continuing, the speaker referred to specialization in the work of the ministry and gave his views as to the duty of a minister of the gospel and his various requirements. He believed that the church needs better preaching.

Following the last discourse the evening session closed with the benediction by the president of the Synod. After the meeting the delegates were escorted to the homes of various families in the church, where they were entertained over night.

The following delegates from the Classis were reported as being present:

Classis of Bergen, Rev. Henry Ward, Rev. Wm. Manchee and Rev. John Rudolph and Elder M. J. Bogert.

South Classis of Bergen, Rev. O. L. F. Mohn, Elders Henry Hoersch and John VanHorne.

Classis of Monmouth, Rev. O. VanBeverhoudt. Rev. Willard Conger, Rev. Floyd Decker, Rev. Isaac P. Brokaw, Elders D. P. VanBrakle and V. P. Buck.

Classis of Newark, Elders Joseph S. Mundy, James Polk and Nelson Jacobus.

Classis of New Brunswick, Rev. A. S. VanDyck, Rev. Henry Lockwood, Rev. A. F. Todd, Rev. C. T. Anderson, Elders W. H. Ayres, V. M. W Suydam and A. J. Conover.

Classis of Paramus, Rev. Taber Knox, Rev. H. W. Brink, Rev. A. Vennema, Rev. N. H. VanArsdale, Elders Andrew Smith, H. P. Demarest, P. H. VanIderstine.

Classis of Passaic, Rev. J. S. Hogan.

Classis of Philadelphia, Rev. H. C. Willoughby, Rev. Oscar M. Voorhees, Rev. Wm. Schmitz and Elder William Hamilton.

Classis of Raritan, Rev. W. E. Davis, Rev. H. T. Jones, Rev. P. M. Doolittle, Rev. Wm. Johnston and Elder Garrett Conover.

This morning's session opened with devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. Taber Knox, of Warwick, N. Y. After roll-call and the presentation of reports regarding the State religion in the churches of the Synod, a representative of the Disabled Ministers' Fund, Rev. Dr. Dennis Wortman, of East Orange, made a strong plea for that cause.

At his suggestion the Synod united with other Particular Synods in inviting President Roosevelt to be the guest of the General Synod at its next meeting.

The next speaker was Rev. Dr. C. L. Wells, of Flatbush, representing the Board of Foreign Missions. Dr. Wells was followed by a speaker in behalf of the Board of Domestic Missions, Rev. Dr. James S. Vance, of Newark. Rev. John G. Gebhard, of New York, spoke in behalf of the Board of Education. Christian education for the ministry was his subject.

Items of routine business occupied the remaining time until noon, when the Synod was adjourned. The meeting next year will be held in New Brunswick.

After the adjournment, luncheon was served to the delegates in the lecture room, by the women of the church.

RASORES CLUB OFFICERS.

The Annual Meeting of the Club Was Held Yesterday.

The annual meeting of the Rasores Club was held yesterday when the following officers were selected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Horace Kimball; vice-presidents, Mrs. Israel C. Pierson and Mrs. William DeWitt Miller; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. H. R. Halloway.

Following the election there was a general discussion regarding topics for the coming year and a programme will be decided upon later. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were very encouraging.

Must Provide for Family.

Peter Sorenson, of this city, was arrested by Constable Eugene Chamberlain, of Westfield, Saturday, on a charge of non-support preferred by his wife. He was given a hearing before Justice Toucey, of Westfield, and was held in $200 bonds to provide for the family.

SIX MONTHS' EFFORTS OF THE CITY NURSE

Reports of Her Work Made to City Union of King's Daughters at Semi-Annual Meeting.

THE OFFICERS ELECTED.

MEETING HELD AT PARISH HOUSE OF GRACE P. E. CHURCH.

Nine Circles Were Represented—The Amounts Pledged by Circles for Support of City Nurse—The Reports of Officers Made.

Representatives from the various circles of King's Daughters' City Union met in semi-annual meeting at the parish house of Grace P. E. church yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Nine circles were represented at the meeting, Benevolent, Charity, Cheerful Workers, Daughters of the Cross, Whatsoever, of Trinity Reformed church, Whatsoever, of Park Avenue Baptist church, Golden Rule, Advance, Inasmuch Children's Circle.

Rev. E. M. Rodman opened the proceedings by reading Scripture and offering prayer. An address was delivered by Rev. J. H. Wilson, curate of Grace church. He spoke on the necessity of courtesy and kindness to be displayed by the members in carrying out their work.

The treasurer's report showed the total receipts were $508.27, expenditures, $340.82, leaving a balance on hand of $167.45.

Reports were read from the different circles represented and amounts were pledged for the work of the city nurse committee as follows: Benevolent, $100; Charity, $100; Cheerful Workers, $50; Daughters of the Cross, $75; Whatsoever, Trinity Reformed, $30; Golden Rule, $25; Advance, $50; Inasmuch Children's Circle, $50. Many of these sums will be increased by November.

The report of the nurse committee, read by Miss Emily B. Tracy, was a most interesting document. It showed that since the semi-annual meeting in November Miss Anderson, the nurse, had been kept unusually busy, sometimes making fifty or more calls a week. Three weeks ago, on account of her arduous labors, it was found necessary to give her a rest. After two weeks' vacation she has returned to her duties.

The nurse committee has met each week to hear the nurse's report and to consult with her over peculiar cases. Visitors from the circles were also asked to attend these meetings but not all have complied with the request. Some suggestions and instruction followed for the guiding of members while visiting the sick and indigent.

At one time this winter the committee was called upon to furnish a nurse for a woman very ill with pneumonia, a widow with three little children who needed constant care and attention. The woman recovered and is now earning her own living. The money for this was supplied by outside friends.

When Plainfield was threatened with small-pox last winter, the Board of Health asked the assistance of the King's Daughters' nurse to help with the free vaccination offered those unable to pay. Miss Anderson gave considerable time to this work for which the city paid into the treasury $8.50.

The report concluded by stating that the funds were low while demands were constantly increasing. An appeal was made to the circles not to let the good work suffer.

Miss Anderson, the nurse, made 878 calls in the last six months, making a total of 1,778 for the year. The committee reported ten operations and three deaths.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Miss Lillian A. Force; vice president, Mrs. Chas. A. Reed; recording secretary, Miss Catherine Glen; corresponding secretary, Miss Edith Little; treasurer, Mrs. S. A. Krom.

Before adjournment, Miss Force thanked the meeting for the honor of being re-elected president. She felt that the coming year would be a prosperous one, chiefly because new circles had entered, and the president was especially happy to welcome into the union the children's circles. The baby camp work is about to be taken up and support is expected from the people of Plainfield in general as well as from the circles.

ANNUAL MUSICALE AT SEVENTH-DAY CHURCH

Fine Programme Successfully Rendered Before a Large Audience Last Evening.

THE PROGRAMME GIVEN.

WAS ARRANGED BY THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETY OF THE CHURCH.

Solos by Miss Harris, Selections by Double Male Quartette and Mixed Chorus and Instrumental Numbers—Those Who Took Part.

The eighth annual musicale of the Seventh-Day Baptist Christian Endeavor Society was successfully given last night in the church, before a very large and appreciative audience.

The evening opened with the stirring music of Weber's "DerFreischutz" overture, rendered by five musicians; Miss Mabel Maxson and Miss Grace VanSickel, first piano; Mrs. W. C. Hubbard and Mrs. F. J. Hubbard, second piano; and Miss Jessie M. Utter, organ. The three movements of Jensen's exquisite "Wedding Music" were also given by two pianos and organ, later in the programme.

Another enjoyable instrumental number was a trio for violin, piano and organ. This was Saint Saens' "Prelude du Deluge," given by Prof. Ludwig Conde, Miss Jessie M. Utter, and A. L. Titsworth. Mr. Conde also won much applause by his spirited and sympathetic rendering of the Andante and Finale from Mendelssohn's "Concerto."

The vocal music was also most acceptably rendered. The soloist of the evening was Miss Luella C. Harris, whose clear voice and ease and finish of execution made her two numbers, "The Sky-lark," by Schnecker, and "An Open Secret," by Woodman, very enjoyable.

The part of the programme which was received by the audience with the greatest enthusiasm was that presented by a double quartette of male voices. The singers were Edward Maxwell Honeyman, Elmer D. Cutting, R. W. Wright, Dr. Otis B. Whitford, David E. Titsworth, Stacy Raynolds, F. S. Cutter and Henry Baldwin Drake. Their two numbers were "More and More," by Seifert, and Dudley Buck's arrangement of "Annie Laurie." They sang without instrumental accompaniment, but with unity and sympathy.

A very pleasing number was the rendering of Gade's "Spring's Message" by a chorus of sixteen voices, with piano and organ accompaniment. D. E. Titsworth acted as conductor. The singers were Mrs. David E. Titsworth, Mrs. Frank T. Clawson, Mrs. G. L. Homan and Miss Nellie Miller, sopranos; Miss Grace Carroll, Miss Alice Carroll, Mrs. James Everett Kimball and Mrs. W. C. Hubbard, altos; E. Maxwell Honeyman, Elmer D. Cutting, R. W. Wright and Dr. Otis B. Whitford, tenors; F. S. Cutter, Henry B. Drake, Stacy Raynolds and E. C. Martin, basses.

During the evening a silver offering was received. An organ solo, a dainty "Serenade," by Taft, was played by A. L. Titsworth, as offertory, with skill and delicacy.

The last number on the programme was a graceful little cantata by Greger, entitled "Spring and Love." It was presented by the chorus of sixteen voices, with solo parts by Miss Harris, Mr. Honeyman and Mr. Cutting. Mr. Titsworth acted as conductor. The chorus work was well done, and the solos were very acceptably rendered.

TO CELEBRATE THE FOURTH.

Hope Y. M. A. Begins to Make the Plans for That Day.

At last evening's meeting of the Y. M. A. of Hope chapel George E. Firstbrook was elected secretary in place of Percy Hand, resigned. The membership limit was increased to 105. There were four applicants admitted and three propositions were received.

It was decided to have a celebration on Hope Common Independence Day. A committee was appointed consisting of George E. Firstbrook, chairman, William N. Runyon, John H. Cose, Thomas Muir and David B. Martin.

Trackmen Struck.

There was a short strike of the trackmen on the Jersey Central yesterday. They demanded a raise from $1.20 per day to $1.30. After being assured that such an increase was already planned the men returned to work.

"ANTIS" HAVE THEIR TURN

Opponents of Greater Plainfield Held Mass-Meeting at Saengerbund Hall.

PRESENTED ARGUMENTS

A. V. D. Honeyman and W. W. Howland Were the Speakers—Chairman Was C. W. McCutchen—Hall Was Crowded—Newspapers Criticized—Varied Reasons.

Every seat was taken and standing room was at a premium at the anti-annexation meeting in Saengerbund hall last evening. Present in the audience were a large number of ardent supporters and promoters of the proposed annexation and consolidation as well as those who are putting forth their exertion to prevent any such union. A contingent of the fair sex occupied seats in the gallery.

Prominent among those on the stage were Dr. J. H. Buchanan, J. H. VanWinkle, Dr. W. E. Honeyman, A. V. D. Honeyman, Councilman Chas. L. Nichols, Isaac P. Runyon, Dr. J. H. Cooley besides a great many others.

Chairman Chas. W. McCutchen, in opening the proceedings, explained the purpose of the meeting. He had lived in the borough of North Plainfield twenty-two years, and never during that all that time he had never taken part in any political meeting nor made a speech from a political platform. He asked the audience to be indulgent towards his maiden effort. Never had so momentous a question been presented to the people of North Plainfield as this present one. The attitude of the people of the borough to their neighbors in the city was in no wise infriendly. But they could like their neighbor without marrying that neighbor. No doubt it is a homogeneous community but consolidation, he declared, is not necessary, indeed, not wise. Although he appreciated the sacrifice made by some of the political leaders of the borough, and their elevation to public affairs with possible neglect of their own, yet he was somewhat disappointed with them of late. He refused, he said, to be a party to the scheme of consolidation, not that he loved Plainfield less but that he loved North Plainfield more. He introduced A. V. D. Honeyman.

Mr. Honeyman said that there were certain times when the majesty of American institutions is superb. This is one of these occasions—when the people come together to hear discussed problems that vitally interest them. He was glad to see so many of the enemy there, but thought a good many of them were like the man in the famous allegory who kept on descending till he reached the quagmire.

"I have no political axe to grind," said Mr. Honeyman. He had been asked why he was in the opposition. Not he, but the other party, was the opposition, he explained. In the natural order of things, all burden of proof rested on those in favor of annexation. "The noblest motive is the highest good," sufficiently explained his own position.

No attempt, he continued, was ever made in the history of New Jersey to change county boundaries without some understanding as to benefits and detriments. These were some estimable citizens who wanted to go over to Plainfield. He objected to their compelling their neighbors to go over also. The desire he characterized as only the desire of a few—not the multitude.

Mr. Honeyman criticised the press. They presented only one side of the story and he thought it strange that the local newspapers were so harmonious on this question. The same ideas in individual language appeared in both papers each evening, evidently an output of the library bureau recently established.

Neither he nor Mr. McCutchen had been interviewed by either paper. The press being closed to them, they found it necessary to get the public ear through the medium of the platform.

It was in 1889 that consolidation was first discussed with the result that it was decided to leave the matter to the people. An election showed 385 against and 183 in favor of the proposal. From that time there was no ripple of discussion till the recent bills were advertised. The bills were passed, but at the present—he would refrain from discussing the manner in which they were passed. Everyone thought, his opponents included, that the proposition would be submitted to the people.

At this juncture the speaker dealt with some of the arguments of the annexationists. The first cry is that the people demand annexation. Senator Reed had said: "Every time there has been talk about a new engine house or a sewer, the people have demanded to know what is being done about annexation." There was absolutely no such demand said Mr. Honeyman, there had been no articles in the press; no public discussion; no borough resolution. There was no popular sentiment either way. It was the Senator's argument that the public demanded it.

In answer to the argument that from the time North Plainfield was set off from the township of Warren it never had a county office, except for one Democrat bill. Mr. Reed was elected, Mr. Honeyman quoted from records to disprove the statement.

To obliterate jealousy between Somerville and North Plainfield was another reason advanced by his opponents for their support of the annexation scheme. He had never heard of any jealousy except between politicians, and he had recently made inquiries in that direction.

Mr. Honeyman here read an article from the New York Tribune, on consolidation. Combatting the statement in that paper regarding the names on the protest to the Governor, he characterized as untrue the assertion that the list was padded and that signatures had been obtained in saloons—and more than once from the same persons—and presented a copy of the original petition in support of his contention. The petition showed 576 names, 506 of whom are voters and twenty non-resident tax payers. It would be interesting to get at the inner facts concerning the counter petition he declared.

The assessment arguments were dealt with, and French's carriage repository, situated half on each side of the line, and assessed in both counties for equal amounts, was cited as demolishing the contention that assessments are high in North Plainfield. Other minor arguments that have from time to time appeared in the press were also handled.

As a real substantial reason against consolidation Mr. Honeyman thought the people of Somerset would be selling themselves too cheaply; that they would mortgage themselves too heavily; that valuable local officials would be removed. He couldn't understand why the present mayor wanted to legislate himself out of office. Join Plainfield and give up everything, schools, fire department and water works. If, as is urged, the schools did not come up to the standard they had the power to remedy. In Plainfield they would have practically no voice in the government. Regarding saloons it had always been his opinion that license were a matter for the courts, not politicans; if different laws exist relative to saloons on either side of the line the Senator might easily have remedied any grievance of the people by introducing a bill at Trenton. They would lose control over street railway, over schools, over nuisances, if united. He spoke of the increased cost of school maintenance in North Plainfield and urged that annexation would not make education cheaper, quoting statistics to support his stand. He read a statement of taxes to show the rate was less in North Plainfield than in Plainfield. Borough government was far better than city government, and the borough of Phillipsburg was cited as an example. In conclusion Mr. Honeyman read a letter he had written to the Governor on April 17 urging an early election. Also the reply upon which he placed special stress.

Executive Department.
Trenton, April 24, 1902.

My dear Sir:—

Answering your inquiry of April 17th, I beg to say that Senator Reed informed me that they were willing to have an election any time. I told him that your friends desired to have an early expression of opinion and he said there was no objection to that whatever.

Yours very truly,
Franklin Murphy.

Senator Reed, who was sitting in a front seat, remarked he had no objection to that now.

Mr. Howland was introduced. When a community desires to make a change, he began, the arrangements are discussed and there is some objection in the press. Today there was nothing of that sort. A few citizens of North Plainfield had assumed they were the people and got the president of the North Plainfield Water Company to draft bills for the proposed

YOUNG JAHN BURNED ALIVE

Gasolene Explosion Resulted in Boy's Death and Fatal Injury of Father, Robt. Jahn.

LEAKY BARREL DID IT.

Jahn's Metal Working Shop at Scotch Plains Was Scene of This Double Fatality Last Night—The Father Tried to Save Son—Caught by Flames—Died This Morning.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 7—A headless charred trunk is all that remains of little Herman Jahn, the five-year-old son of Robert Jahn, whose metal working shop is located on Park avenue, near Westfield avenue. Robert Jahn died at Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, this morning, his body a mass of burns. Both were victims of an explosion of gasolene which occurred in Jahn's shop shortly after 8 o'clock last evening.

As is his custom, Jahn went out to the shop in the rear of his home to see all was right. He carried a lantern. His little son accompanied him. They entered the building together. Without warning, there came a blinding flash and crash. Jahn managed to get outside but could not find his son. So he plunged into the flames which now filled the interior. In another moment, he rushed forth his clothing all ablaze.

Alarmed by the explosion, some of the neighbors gathered. Before they could extinguish the flaming clothing, Jahn had been horribly burned. He was taken to the house and the ambulance summoned by telephone. He was taken to the hospital at 9:30 o'clock in great agony. He was attended by Dr. Westcott. He died at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Scotch Plains fire department was called out but had considerable difficulty in extinguishing the fire in the shop, owing to the difficulty in obtaining water. After the fire was out, the search for the boy's body began. It was finally found at 10:30 o'clock in a corner under a heap of charred hay. The head and feet had been burned off and the remainder of the body charred beyond recognition.

It is generally believed that there was a leak in a barrel of gasolene which stood in the shop and that the fumes caught fire from the lantern Mr. Jahn carried. This caused the explosion. The shop was badly damaged. Mr. Jahn had been working on a large contract for a Plainfield builder.

Mrs. Jahn became frantic when she learned of the fatality and it was feared that her mind would become affected. She is still in a critical condition.

Jahn had been a resident of this village for fifteen years, coming here from Bayonne. He was a metal cornice worker by trade and had built up a successful business, in which he was helped by his sons. The little fellow who perished yesterday was one of eleven children, none of whom are over twenty-five years of age. He also leaves a widow.

He was a member of Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., and Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F., of Plainfield, which organization will conduct the funeral services. They will be held Friday afternoon together with those of his little son.

CUT BY BOTTLE.

Fred Dunavan Had Hand Badly Cut by Breaking of Bottle.

Fred Dunavan, of L. W. Randolph's pharmacy, is carrying his right hand in a sling, the result of an accident at the store yesterday. He was putting stoppers in bottles containing hair tonic, when one of the bottles broke.

Mr. Dunavan's hand came in contact with the broken glass and two fingers, together with other parts of the hand were badly lacerated. Dr. Pittis was summoned at once and gave proper treatment. Mr. Dunavan will be unble to use his hand for some time.

Exempts to Meet.

The members of the Exempt Firemen's Association are requested to meet at their rooms Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock for the purpose of attending in a body the funeral of their late brother, H. N. Spencer. A full attendance is desired.

Fred Willis, of Hunters Point, L. I., is the guest of West End relatives.

THEATRICAL.

A brilliant programme is being arranged for the benefit concerts to be given at Keith's Union Square Theatre, upon the afternoon and evening of Sunday. The charity performances are in aid of the Settlement Home for Crippled Children of New York. This worthy institution is the only one in the city which provides a home for the little unfortunates where they may be fed, clothed, sheltered and trained in gentle homelike ways. Without the Home, the little sufferers would be compelled to go to Randall's Island or sink to licensed beggary. Their present quarters in West 70th street, conducted by charitable ladies, have become too small for the many applicants, and Mr. Keith has offered his theatre and the best talent available, in the effort to aid so worthy a cause, by the concerts upon the afternoon and evening of Sunday. No performances are ever given at Keith's Theatre upon Sunday, and the management deviates from its policy only in the case of this most worthy charity. The programme will consist of the principal stars now appearing at the Keith Theatres in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Providence, and many prominent Broadway dramatic and operatic favorites have kindly volunteered to help the little sufferers.

Like a Drowning Man.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such hold of me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marsh, well-known attorney of Nocona, Tex. "I took quantities of pepsin and other medicines but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am sound and well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. L. W. HISTORY OF AMERICAN MUTUAL

WHY PLAINFIELD'S FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY WILL DISBAND.

Step Has Been Considered Before — The Members Fear Heavy Losses Through Assessment.

The present is not the first occasion that the American Mutual Fire Insurance Company, which will permanently discontinue business July 10, has contemplated such a move. Some ten years ago the same question was actively debated, but the matter ultimately dropped and the institution continued its existence. Again about one year ago the advisability of dissolving was seriously discussed, but once more the company entered on a new lease of life.

The popularity of stock companies in which, unlike the mutuals, no extra assessments are levied on account of heavy losses by fire, is the chief cause contributing to the present dissolution. In the American Mutual, principally a local concern, there were practically no salaried officials—consequently there was no inducement for anyone to take an industrious interest in the welfare of the business. The surveyor received but fifty cents for each piece of property examined and the secretary a similar amount for the writing of a policy.

About 175 people still retain policies in the company. The great majority of these are held in Union and Somerset counties.

The American Mutual Fire Insurance Company was incorporated by a special act of the New Jersey Legislature in 1846. The original promoters of the company were all prominent residents of Plainfield or adjoining districts. Their names, which appear in the charter are as follows:

Elias Kilpatrick, Elijah Runyon, Madison Terrell, James A. Ogden, Isaac Titus, John Smalley. The first Board of Directors were Elias Runyon, Jacob Thorne, Elias Kilpatrick, John Doughty, Elston Marsh, Wm. H. Cleaver, Jonathan Corey, John Simpson, Jos. Perine. Jno. Ross was the first president.

Another similar institution incorporated at about the same period as the American Mutual was the Washington Fire Insurance Company. The Washington wound up its affairs about ten years ago.

Don't Start Wrong.

Don't start the summer with a lingering cough or cold. We all know what a "summer cold" is. It's the hardest kind to cure. Often it "hangs on" through the entire season. Take it in hand right now. A few doses of One Minute Cough Cure will set you right. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. Children like it. "One Minute Cough Cure is the best cough medicine I ever used," says J H. Bowles, Groveton, N. H. "I never found anything else that acted so safely and quickly." L. W. Randolph.

BRINGS SUMMER BOARDERS.

A Large Metropolitan Newspaper Which is Helping the Summer Resorts.

The Brooklyn Eagle several years ago established a Bureau of Information in Brooklyn, where the public could, free of charge, secure details of hotels and boarding houses for the summer. The idea at once became popular, and branch bureaus were opened in Manhattan and other cities. Country hotels and boarding houses by sending to this Bureau can secure a listing blank, fill it out and return it and then be represented free of cost, and send their circulars and cards for free disribution.

The Brooklyn Eagle has also been considered for years the best medium for summer boarders in New York City.

The Rocky Point Inn, in the Adirondacks, said: "We are giving the Eagle a larger share of advertising than most other papers, as experience has demonstrated its value to us in past seasons."

Chauncey B. Newkirk, of Wurtsboro, Sullivan, county, said: "Last season one small ad brought me five guests."

La Rue Bros., proprietors of the American Hotel of Sharon Springs, N. Y., wrote: "Our house is full and mostly by Brooklyn people. Daily we recieve applications for rooms, and all on account of our standing ad. in the Eagle."

FILIPINOS WELL TREATED

AMERICAN INFANTRYMAN RELATES HIS OWN EXPERIENCES.

Corporal Derflinger Has Returned From Philippines and is Visiting Borough Relatives.

Corporal Derflinger, Company M, Fourteenth U. S. Infantry, is spending a few days at the home of his brother-in-law, John Lloyd, of Harrison street.

Mr. Derflinger returned about six months ago from the Philippines, where in the provinces of Sapota and Imus in the island of Lizon, and also in China, he saw active service for a period of three years. He was present at the scaling of the walls of Pekin by the allied armies and was in more than one skirmish with Filipinos.

The corporal is not inclined to place much credence in the reports concerning the alleged cruelty of American soldiers. Speaking about the fighting Filipinos he said, "We could have killed them off in less time than it takes to tell, but we were under strict orders not to fire unless fired on first."

According to Corporal Derflinger, army officers paid a compensation of $30 to each Filipino rifle, and taken all in all the natives were treated with utmost consideration and respect.

Mr. Derflinger's home is in Reading, Pa., but in the near future he intends to take up his residence in Plainfield. He has an inetresting exhibit of oriental souvenirs, including Japanese art, Chinese photographs and relics of Luzon.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May be of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

Plainfield boasts of a two-pound hen that recently laid a three-pound egg. No wonder North Plainfield wants to be annexed. There is a strong suspicion that the egg was laid with a view to ultimately hatching out some political candidate next fall.—Elizabeth Journal.

Electric light wires touched a wire netting on a Syracuse baseball field yesterday and caused the death of a young man who leaned against the netting. With the deadly power of electricity so well understood and the possibility of its presence known to be indicated in no visible way, it is extraordinary that State laws are not passed providing that all electric wires be placed underground—Newark Advertiser.

SANDY HOOK BOATS RUN.

Steamer Monmouth Went Into Service in New Dress Yesterday.

The North river is beginning to put on its holiday attire so far as the river craft is concerned, and the steamer Monmouth, of the Sandy Hook Route, which went into service yesterday, is among the first to appear in new dress. The Sandy Hook Route has without exception the finest class of patronage of any line in the world.

This fleet includes the steamers Monmouth, Sandy Hook and St. Johns, and leaves from Pier 8, North river, foot of Rector street, running to Atlantic Highlands, where trains are met for coast resorts, including Seabright, Long Branch, Deal, Elberon, Asbury Park, Avon and Pt. Pleasant. The boats are staunch in build, superb in eqiupment and greyhounds in speed. The staterooms are rented for the season by men prominent in Wall street, and in political and social life, and their quarters as well as the main salons are elaborately fitted and furnished. Each boat has a finely equipped dining room under the direction of a prominent caterer, and the entire craft is so handled as to make them floating palaces. The trips are so timed as to be convenient for the banker, broker and business man who desires a home at Jersey seaside resorts.

The management of the New Jersey Central has inaugurated a fire brigade on its North river property in West street, and complete fire apparatus has been installed. Another feature this company recently adopted is the carpeting of the aisles in its Atlantic City, Lakewood, Shore, and main line trains.

The new double ended locomotives for suburban work which are new to this section of the country have begun to arrive, and are models of strength, assuring speed and schedule time.

SANTIAGO HERO DEAD

Rear Admiral Sampson Succumbs to Long Illness.

SEMICONSCIOUS FOR SEVERAL DAYS

Born of Poor Parents, He Graduated First In Class at Annapolis—He Served In the Civil War With Credit.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Rear Admiral William T. Sampson, retired, died at his home in this city at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The immediate cause of death was a severe cerebral hemorrhage. He had been in a semi-comatous state for several days. At the bedside when the admiral breathed his last were Mrs. Sampson, Mrs. Cluverius, the admiral's married daughter; Admiral Sampson's two young sons, Ralph and Harold Sampson; Dr. Dixon, the attending physician, and nurses and attendants.

Mrs. Sampson has broken down under the severe strain and was quite ill during the day. But for the critical condition of the admiral she would have been confined to her bed.

The funeral ceremonies will take place tomorrow at the Church of the Covenant in this city. The remains will be taken to the admiral's old home at Palmyra, N. Y., for interment.

William Thomas Sampson, born Feb. 9, 1840, was of humble origin. His father was a laborer in Palmyra, N. Y., and young Sampson, the eldest of eight children, dug in the ditches with his father and so did most of his studying at home, having little time for school.

In 1857 a cadetship at Annapolis was refused by several of the wealthy lads of Palmyra. Sampson took it and graduated first in his class. He was made a lieutenant in 1862 and first saw sea service on the ironclad Patapsco. He was an executive officer when she was sunk by a torpedo in Charleston harbor in 1865.

In that emergency he showed the coolness that afterward distinguished him. His feet caught in the boarding net as the ship sank. He waited until the first rush of water was over, then disentangled himself and floated to the surface.

He served on the European station and at the Naval academy after that and finally became superintendent at Annapolis in 1886. He then had a lower rank than any of his predecessors in charge of the academy.

He next became chief of ordnance as a captain and was considered the greatest ordnance expert in the navy.

He was at the head of the court that investigated the blowing up of the Maine in Havana harbor and again demonstrated his coolness.

President McKinley chose him as a commander of the fleet in Cuban waters at the breaking out of the Spanish war. He was moved to that position over the heads of many men of higher rank, for he was only a captain.

It was believed the controversy that was waged so fiercely after the war as to who was entitled to the credit of the Santiago victory had much to do with the failure of his health.

He was retired as a rear admiral in February last.

Twice Admiral Sampson was married. By his first matrimonial venture he had four daughters, Mrs. Roy C. Smith, wife of Lieutenant Smith of the United States navy; Mrs. Jackson, wife of Ensign R. H. Jackson; Mrs. Cluverius, wife of Walter C. Cluverius, and Miss Olive Sampson.

His second wife was Miss Burling of Canandaigua, and by the marriage he had two sons, Ralph, fourteen, and Harold, twelve years old.

Wrecked by a Cyclone.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., May 7.—The Shenango Tin Plate works in this city, the largest tin plate plant in the world, has been almost wrecked by a cyclone. Every stack was torn from its foundation and hurled through the roof of the buildings, steam pipes were broken and torn away, the roof torn off and damage done will reach $100,000. A panic occurred among the 2,000 employed at the plant, but, strange to say, not a single employee was injured.

Greek Royalty Safely Landed.

ATHENS, May 7.—The royal family of Greece have been safely landed at Chalkis, Eubœa island, thirty-five miles from here. The royal yacht Amphitrite has not yet been floated. The Amphitrite, with the royal family on board, ran aground in the Euripus channel while proceeding to Chalkis last night, whither the royal party were proceeding to celebrate the king's name day.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 7.—The new city charter, over which a hard political battle was fought, was adopted by 608 majority. The charter provides new building laws which prohibit the erection of frame structures and regulates the sale of liquor.

BRET HARTE DEAD.

Famous American Author's End Came Suddenly.

LONDON, May 7.—Bret Harte is dead at Camberley, near Aldershot.

Mr. Harte's death was somewhat sudden. It resulted from heart failure. He had suffered from an affection of the throat since last December.

Francis Bret Harte was born at Albany, N. Y., on Aug. 25, 1839. He was a son of a teacher in the Albany Female seminary, a scholar of wide culture, who, dying, left his family practically without means.

Bret Harte received only an ordinary school education and upon completing this in 1854 he went to California with his mother to seek his fortune. Before attaining literary fame Bret Harte was a schoolteacher, a miner, an express messenger, a printer and a newspaper editor. At various times he held offices of minor importance under the government, one of them being secretary of the mint at San Francisco. The young man made a failure of everything he undertook until he found success in literature. He first gained fame by writing "The Heathen Chinee" in 1869, and immediately his writings gained a wide popularity. His productions previous to the appearance of "The Heathen Chinee" had included both verse and short stories.

Besides the two publications of his collected works Bret Harte published in all twenty-two books, including prose and verse. The first publication of his collected works was in 1882. The last is just out.

Bret Harte and his wife separated twenty-eight years ago, the cause being a mystery. Mrs. Harte and her two daughters removed to Plainfield, N. J., and later to New York. There were two sons. No reconciliation was ever effected.

Palma's Progress In Cuba.

HAVANA, May 7.—President Elect Palma has arrived at Cienfuegos on board the steamer Julia. Thousands of persons flocked to the wharf to welcome him there. Senor Palma has employed his time while on the way from Santiago to Cienfuegos in outlining his first message to the Cuban congress. It is said that in this message he will signify his intention of making Cuba's foreign policy one of close relations with all nations and especially with Spain. He will accentuate in this message the profound feeling of gratitude which Cuba owes the United States, and he will declare that the latter country has given the whole world an example.

Belgium Pilgrims Killed.

PARIS, May 7.—A train loaded with Belgian pilgrims on their way to Lourdes has been derailed near Hoyenneville, between Amiens and Compiegne. The accident occurred while the train was going at full speed. Few details of the mishap have reached here. Doctors and engineers have left Paris for the scene of the accident to render assistance. It is known that nine persons were killed and that many were injured. It is feared that the list of casualties may be greater than the number given, as the pilgrims were composed mainly of the sick and the lame.

Asbury Park Pioneer Dead.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., May 7.—George L. Atkins, proprietor of the Ocean hotel, is dead. He was eighty years of age. With the exception of James A. Bradley, the founder, Mr. Atkins had resided here longer than anyone. His sons, Charles and Alfred, are the proprietors of the Normandie hotel in New York. Mr. Atkins was born in Pennsylvania. He engaged in the woolen business in Philadelphia and was thus engaged when, being an enthusiastic Methodist, he was enamored with the plan of Founder Bradley which resulted in Asbury Park being built.

QUEEN NOT SO WELL.

Wilhelmina's Serious Condition Excites Grave Anxiety.

THE HAGUE, May 7.—Advices received here from Castle Loo early this morning declare that Queen Wilhelmina's condition again excites grave anxiety. Another consultation of the queen's doctors was held at 11 o'clock last night. The result of this consultation is not known. Extreme secrecy is maintained as to the contents of the telegrams dispatched from Loo palace. This and other measures are believed to indicate that the condition of her majesty is much graver than appears from the official bulletins. It is said the queen is so weak that she has been unable to take any nourishment since last Saturday.

Dr. Roessingh never leaves her majesty's bedside except for a brief and much needed rest, when he is always replaced by Dr. Pot.

After the consultation held last night Professor Rosenstein was summoned to the palace. He was consulted before the operation of last Sunday.

The queen mother and the prince consort remain continually at her majesty's bedside.

The weather at Loo palace continues very cold.

VASQUEZ IN POWER.

Insurgent Leader Will Rule Santo Domingo Until Elections Are Held.

MONTE CRISTI, Santo Domingo, May 7.—News has reached here from Santo Domingo city that the provisional government established by Horatio Vasquez will continue in power until the elections are held.

Vasquez was formerly vice president of the Dominican Republic. He led a successful revolution against President Jimines, and the forces under his command took possession of Santo Domingo city last week after the capital of the Dominican Republic had capitulated.

Peace has been fully re-established in the southern part of the republic.

An order for the suspension of hostilities between the revolutionary and government forces has just been signed, and terms of surrender are to be discussed.

A Seventh Trial Ordered.

CINCINNATI, May 7.—The United States circuit court of appeals has disposed of the case of J. M. McKnight, who was president of the defunct German National bank of Louisville. McKnight has had six trials and has been three times sentenced to terms of imprisonment from five to seven years, the charge being embezzlement of the bank's funds, based on the fact that he loaned $2,000 on the note of two aldermen alleged to be insolvent. Judge Day announced the opinion of the court, in which it was held that the court had erred in compelling the defendant to testify against himself, he holding the notes and having been called by the prosecution to testify concerning it. The judgment of the lower court was reversed and the case remanded for another trial.

President Denies Wild Story.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The published statement that the president had made objections to the declared purpose of the French government to bestow the decoration of the Legion of Honor upon Admiral Dewey and General Miles is authoritatively denied at the White House. It is stated that the question of the bestowal of decorations upon Admiral Dewey and General Miles was never discussed by the president with any one and that he has not the least objection to such action by President Loubet on the occasion of the unveiling of the Rochambeau statue if he so desires.

New Milford's Loss Heavy.

DANBURY, Conn., May 7.—Between $500,000 and $600,000 is the estimate of loss by a fire which destroyed the business section of New Milford, sixteen miles north of here. Nearly fifty buildings, including most of the stores in the place, two banks and three hotels, were burned. The fire started in the stables of the New Milford House, on Railroad avenue, opposite the New York, New Haven and Hartford station. The cause is unknown.

Race War In Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, May 7.—A Shreveport (La.) special says: "Reports have just reached here of a race war at Blanchard, La., twelve miles from Shreveport, on the Kansas City Southern railroad. Charles Showers, a prominent planter, is reported dead and two negroes, names unknown, dying. Excitement is high, and deputies have left Shreveport for the scene."

The Chicago's Crew Again.

LONDON, May 7.—In a dispatch from Rome the correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says that sailors from the United States cruiser Chicago have indulged in disorderly behavior in a cafe at Trieste. Bottles and glass were thrown about, says the correspondent, and four of the Chicago's men were arrested. The Chicago left Venice May 2 for Trieste.

Negroes Murder and Assault.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., May 7.—Negro lawlessness in the coke regions reached a sensational climax at Dunbar when John A. Callahan, a prominent young man of that place, aged twenty-two years, was brutally murdered and Myrtle Stevens, his companion, outraged by two negroes supposed to be James Finney and James Washington.

Cannon Renominated.

DANVILLE, Ill., May 7.—The Republican convention for the Eighteenth Illinois district renominated Joseph G. Cannon for congress. This is Congressman Cannon's sixteenth consecutive nomination in this district, and he has been defeated at the polls only once.

A STRIKE AVERTED?

Conference of Coal Road Presidents In New York.

ACTION FAVORABLE TO MINERS TAKEN

This Statement Unofficially Made After Meeting, and Pacific Action Is Predicted at the Scranton Convention.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Presidents of the leading anthracite coal roads as well as some of the more important independent producers held a conference of several hours duration in this city yesterday. According to report the conference was attended by the executive heads of the Lackawanna, Delaware and Hudson, Reading and Ontario and Western roads. The Erie is said to have been represented by Chairman Thomas.

No information concerning the meeting was obtainable from official sources. A representative of one of the roads named is authority for the statement that the strike situation was thoroughly discussed and that action favorable to the miners was taken.

The strength of the coal stocks in the afternoon together with the emphatic statement of a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. that there will be no strike, was accepted as proof that pacific action will be taken at the miners' convention in Scranton today.

Oscar S. Straus, vice chairman of the National Civic federation and a member of the special committee on conciliation and arbitration, states that but for the good offices of the Civic federation and the co-operation of the labor leaders of that committee the coal strike would have been declared shortly after the meeting held by the coal miners at Shamokin six weeks ago. The conciliation committee succeeded in bringing about the two conferences that have since been held between the presidents of the four roads—namely, Messrs. Baer, Truesdale, Thomas and Oliphant on the one side and President Mitchell and his committee on the other.

Mr. Straus added that the public is entitled to know that the question at issue had nothing to do with the recognition of the union. The miners represented by Mitchell asked for an increase in pay per ton and a fixed wage schedule and that the coal be weighed at the mouth of the mine, so that the net weight of the ton for which they were paid should more nearly approach the ton of commerce. All of these matters were discussed at the various meetings in an apparent spirit of mutual consideration. The operators, however, absolutely declined to make any concession upon any of these points.

Mr. Straus, upon being asked whether he thought a strike would take place, answered that he felt that the refusal of the operators thus far to make any concession and returning an absolute "No" to Mr. Mitchell and his colleagues would in his opinion not only lead to a strike, but to a most determined one, one he feared that would extend beyond the anthracite coal regions.

A United States Marshal Dismissed.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The president has summarily dismissed John Grant, United States marshal for the eastern district of Texas. On April 1 last the attorney general charged Grant with receiving a fee of $2,000 for service in securing for a Beaumont (Tex.) national bank a designation as a United States government depository. Grant is said to have admitted that he received the $2,000, but said that it was not as a fee, but in payment of the legitimate expenses of himself and friends in that connection. When asked for a statement of these expenses, Grant replied that it was impossible for him to give an itemized account. Thereupon the attorney general recommended his immediate dismissal, which has received the president's approval.

American Help Only.

BERLIN, May 7.—Herr Bleichroeder, the Rosebery of the German turf, has discharged every German who had anything to do with his racing stables, and from trainer to stable boys he has replaced them with Americans, among whom are several colored men. Herr Bleichroeder has told his turf acquaintances he was convinced that Americans knew how to get the best out of racing horses and that he intended to employ no other nationality in his stable. Herr Bleichroeder is a prominent banker.

A Sympathetic Strike.

ST. PAUL, May 7.—A general sympathetic strike among the building trades has been ordered by the building trades council, and several hundred have been notified that they must leave their jobs until the difficulties pending are fully settled. The crafts affected by the strike order are the carpenters, bricklayers, mason tenders, structural iron workers, hoisting engineers and steam fitters and their helpers.

Company Gave In to Employees.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., May 7.—One thousand men and boys, after being on strike for one week at the Natalie colliery, owned by the Shamokin Coal company, have returned to work, the company rehiring a discharged employee for whose reinstatement the men had tied up the operation.

Old England Won the Toboggan.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Old England, fresh from the Pacific coast and running in the colors of G. B. Morris, won the Toboggan handicap at Morris park. He was quoted at the remunerative odds of 15 to 1. Some of the best sprinters in training were engaged in this race over the Eclipse course

BETTER FIRE PROTECTION.

The steady growth of the city, particularly noticeable in the erection of new houses in the outlying districts, has made it necessary to extend the bounds of fire protection. When houses are erected, it is perfectly reasonable for the owners thereof to desire that the city shall protect it from fire. Of late, there have been two parts of the city which, it was very evident, were deserving of better protection. In both cases, the hydrants were so far away that the fire department would have great difficulty in getting a stream there in case of fire.

At the meeting of the Common Council, Monday evening, the fire committee recommended the location of four hydrants, two in the neighborhood of Rock avenue and West Front street and two out Rahway road. The recommendations were approved by the Council and the hydrants will be placed in position as soon as the mains are laid. This action has come none too soon. These hydrants will serve to protect some valuable property which has heretofore been rather neglected.

When the Eight Row was destroyed, the need of more hydrants at that point was fully demonstrated. Luckily, a fire in the neighborhood of Rahway road has not been required to show the city officials that hydrants should be located there as well. Of course, it costs money to locate new hydrants and the amount appropriated for that purpose is limited. Otherwise, there are undoubtedly many places which would have had hydrants long ago. In these two particular cases, however, there was a decided need of immediate action and the Council has done well to act without delay.

Last night the "antes" had their turn to try to demonstrate the fallacy of the claims of the Greater Plainfield advocates. The latter will, in time, have something to say.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Catherine Honan, of West Fourth street, is dangerously ill with pneumonia.

A. W. Sutphen, of Orange, has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Corra Ryno, of Codington avenue.

William E. Lowe and family, of Park avenue, have returned from New York, where they have been spending the winter.

A fine baby boy, who arrived Monday, is the center of attraction at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schlick, of West Third street.

Miss Jessie Roberts, of Brooklyn, has returned home after a visit with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Roberts, of Prospect place.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Fisk, who have been stopping in New York during the past season, will return to their Plainfield home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Woodland, of Newark, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Woodland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Woolston, of Fairview avenue.

IN AID OF HOME MISSIONS

MISSIONARY TEA GIVEN AT VINCENT CHAPEL LAST NIGHT.

Given by Women's Home Missionary Society of First M. E. Church—Excellent Supper Served.

To raise funds for home missions, a "missionary tea" was given in Vincent chapel, last evening, by the Women's Home Missionary Society of the First M. E. church.

From 6 o'clock until 9, an excellent supper was served. Following the supper a programme was given which included vocal solos by Mrs. Burnette and Charles L. Lewis and the reading of a story of home missions by Miss Edith H. Dyer.

J. W. Jackson, who acted as master of ceremonies, also read the annual report of the secretary, Mrs. N. W. Pike, in which she reviewed the work of the year.

The affair was arranged and conducted by the following members of the society: Mrs. J. C. Peck, Mrs. W. C. Snodgrass, Mrs. J. W. Jackson, Mrs. C. E. Horne, Mrs. J. H. Howell, Mrs. W. N. Western, Mrs. Frank Clarke, Mrs. Nelson A. Miller, Mrs. J. H. McNaughton, Mrs. N. W. Pike, Miss Jackson, Mrs. O. L. Jenkins, Mrs. I. L. McVoy, Mrs. Andrew Love, Mrs. J. R. Joy, Mrs. G. M. McGee and Mrs. C. W. McGee. Mrs. P. S. Dyer is president of the organization.

FAREWELL TO OLD TEACHER

RECEPTION AT HOPE CHAPEL TO JOHN DOUL MILLER.

Has Retired as Teacher of the Men's Bible Class—The Programme Given Last Evening.

In order to bade him a formal farewell on his retirement as a teacher of the men's Bible class of Hope chapel, the members and also those of the women's Bible class tendered a reception to John Doull Miller, last evening.

A delightful programme was rendered, under the direction of Donald McInnis, consisting of phonograph selections in charge of Frederick Pearce and Miss Bertha Jones, humorous monologues by Frank Licciardi, vocal selections by Thomas Muir and banjo-mandolin selections with piano accompaniment by Joseph Longhead and William N. Runyon.

Addresses were made by H. C. Squires, superintendent of Hope chapel Sunday-school, John D. Miller, Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, F. H. Andrews, H. R. Munger and Stephen Cahoone. At their conclusion Mr. Miller was presented with Smith's Bible Commentary. The presentation speech was made by Donald McInnis and Mr. Miller responded fittingly. Bouquets of carnations were also presented to Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Cahoone, the latter, the wife of the present teacher of the class.

The entire affair was in charge of the men's and women's Bible classes, with a supervising committee consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McInnis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harris, Miss Cora Harris, Frederick Pearce.

SUBURBAN NEWS

A Department Devoted to the Minor Events in Greater Plainfield's Suburbs by Our Own Correspondents.

DUNELLEN.

The borough Board of Education held its regular monthly meeting last evening in the Whittier school. All the members were present except L. T. Titsworth, who is enjoying himself in California. The resignation of Miss Cora Burt, of Lincoln school, was received and accepted. The members of the board greatly regret Miss Burt's loss as her work has been high class and always earnest. It was decided to hold the annual commencement in the Presbyterian church, June 12. School will be closed June 13. After the superintendent's monthly report was received the board adjourned.

A meeting of the social committee of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church was held last evening at the home of Mrs. Howard Giles. It was then decided to hold a sociable sometime during the next two weeks. The affair will take place at the home of one of the members.

A large delegation of leather lunged rooters is preparing to accompany the local baseball team to Plainfield Saturday when the team plays the Plainfield Y. M. C. A.

A considerable sum was realized by the ladies' guild of Holy Innocents' church by the recent cake sales. The money will be used for church purposes.

A fine lecture was given before a good-sized audience in St. John's R. C. church last evening by Rev. Father Maloney, of Hopewell.

An auction sale of the personal goods of Mrs. S. I. Palmer will be held May 15 at her former residence at Greenbrook.

The brass band will meet this evening in Apgar Hall for the regular weekly practice. A full attendance is desired.

A few members of the gun club practiced on the Prospect avenue ground Saturday afternoon.

The Dunellen Juniors are trying to arrange a game with a strong junior team for Saturday.

James Wotten, of New York, has taken up his residence here for the summer.

A letter is advertised at the postoffice this week for Mrs. John Norgard.

Prayer meeting will be held this evening in the Presbyterian church.

Work is going rapidly forward on the addition to W. H. Cole's place.

Chas. Sprague, of New York, spent yesterday with friends in town.

NEW MARKET.

Lakeside Council is planning to hold an entertainment in Friendship Hall May 29. One of the features will be an sketch entitled, "A Darkey Wedding," by the local amateurs.

Charles Titsworth, who has been employed by the Central Railroad at Mauch Chunk, is staying at home until the starting of more improvements during this month.

Miss Mary Evans, of Piscataway, is spending a few days with out of town friends.

Charles Anderson, of Somerville, visited friends in West Dunellen Monday.

The baseball team practiced last evening on the local diamond.

Paul Meyer visited friends in Plainfield yesterday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Grand street has been put in good condition, under the direction of Town Committeeman Bruchman. The road has been scraped and if it had a covering of crushed stone it would be as good as any road through the village.

Scotch Plains will no doubt send a large delegation with its baseball team to Plainfield Saturday afternoon, when they cross bats with the Safe Works team.

Alexander Darby, of Westfield, has been visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Archibald, of Washington Valley.

Louis Allen, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. D. C. Allen, of Westfield avenue, has returned to his home at Passaic.

The regular monthly meeting of the Bucket and Engine Company will be held in the company's rooms tonight.

The Board of Education met in the school parlors last evening. Business of a routine natnre was transacted.

Miss Ada Buckley, of Plainfield, is spending a week with her grandmother, Mrs. James Buckley.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Adam Deter will soon resign his position as driver of the Lehigh Valley Railroad stage so that he may accept a position in the tower on the railroad.

Mrs. Lebbens Ayres has bought Mr. Pope's house, from which Jacob Thuma has just moved. Mrs. Ayres will move into the house soon.

Jacob Thuma has accepted a position in a tower on a Long Island railroad. Mr. Thuma has removed his goods into Washington Hall.

Mrs. W. H. Manning underwent a successful operation in the New York City hospital, Monday.

Harry Hartsel has brought a wheel and is learning to ride.

Mrs. Lewis Meeker visited in Metuchen yesterday.

Rev. E. E. Jackson, of Liberty street, is recovering from a recent illness.

Willie Sweeney, of West Second street, has returned from a few days stay at Belmar.

Dangerous If Neglected.

Burns, cuts and other wounds often fail to heal properly if neglected and become troublesome sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve prevents such consequences. Even where delay has aggravated the injury DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve effects a cure. "I had a running sore on my leg thirty years," says H. C. Hartly, Yankeetown, Ind. "After using many remedies, I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes healed the sore." Cures all skin diseases. Piles yield to it at once. Beware of counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

union. These bills were taken to the Legislature and passed without any intention of consulting the people. Was that fair? A voice called "Not true." He hoped the people would resent such injustice at the ballot-box.

People complain that North Plainfield was never heard of. Perhaps the Ameer of Thibel or King Menelick never heard of them. A statesman said to the Governor that North Plainfield was in slavery and bondage. Slaves to whom? he asked, to Emperor Newton the first? Speaking of jealousy he knew of no jealousy except between office seekers. He had helped to nominate Senator Reed, but felt like apologizing for it now.

He took up the sewer argument. There was never any intention, he thought, on the part of Plainfield to allow the people of North Plainfield to connect with its system. The sewer is not large enough for both city and borough; it has not pitch enough for North Plainfield without a pumping station. Plainfield's system is only experimental, he declared.

Dealing with taxes he said the press only told half the truth. The property of Plainfield is three times greater than the broough; the assessment is three and a half times what it is in North Plainfield; the assessed valuation of Union county is only just double what it is in Somerset county, people could draw them over conclusions, as well as the newspapers could.

He compared last year's police, street and fire expenditure in Plainfield and North Plainfield. He had heard of a proposition to increase the salary of Plainfield firemen, and he was not against the proposition. The tax rate showed a difference of twenty-eight cents in favor of the borough. Last year's tax sale of the counties showed a difference of fourteen cents against the borough. This was unfairly exploited. Last year Somerset was visited by floods and much damage was done.

They spent $41,000; Union county spent only $17,000 but this year they would disburse from $50,000 to $60,000; it was unfair for one county. An abnormally low rate for ten years eliminating 1901 showed a margin of 9.1 in favor of Somerset county, and twenty-one years margin of 15. The bonded indebtedness of Plainfield is $150,000, of the borough, not bonded, $12,000, and the borough is paying off $1,000 a year. Plainfield is about to issue $40,000 more of sewer bonds. The bonded debt of Union county is $441,000; of Somerset, not bonded, $75,000 A new court house in Elizabeth will cost $250,000 to be added to the already large debt of Union county. Is it good business to exchange a small debt for such an enormous debt? He quoted statistics, further and admonished the people that if they went into Union county and found they were buncoed they could not retrace their steps. He advised them to remain in the borough and county.

Chairman McCutchen thanked the audience and announced that an organization had been formed known as the "North Plainfield Citizen's Association" for the purpose of combatting annexation. He asked those desirous of joining to send their names to J. H. VanWinkle, Jr. Then the crowd went home to talk it over.

AUTOS ARE GOING TOO FAST

POLICE WILL MAKE ARRESTS IF THEY DO NOT GO SLOWER.

Chief Kiely Is Prepared to Take Active Measures to Protect Life and Limb.

Drastic measures are shortly to be taken by the police to put a stop to the reckless running of automobiles through the local streets. Two owners of large gasoline vehicles have been particularly flagrant in their violations of the speed ordinance within the past few weeks and complaints have been made daily to headquarters.

Yesterday one of the drivers was spoken to by a patrolman and he defiantly replied that he knew the laws and would run his machine as he saw fit. He was warned that the first infraction would result in his arrest. Other auto owners, who are prone to skim along the smooth streets at a pace dangerous to life and limb, will also be notified of the existence of a speed ordinance.

The fact that several accidents have occurred lately between automobiles and wheelmen, the police say, is evidence that the question is becoming a serious one and that action should be taken. Chief Kiely states that whenever an arrest is made followed by a conviction in the city court, heavy fines will be imposed.

SOME OF ATTRACTIONS TO BE FOUND AT LOCAL STORES.

A Few Interesting Items Concerning Greater Plainfield's Merchants

At Collier's Park avenue jewelry store, there is at present some very pretty little novelties in silver and gold. Just the thing for a birthday or wedding present.

For exclusive and dainty designs in laces, embroideries, as well as summer dress goods, go to Peck's on West Front street. There you will find a choice assortment to select from.

The stylish line of suitings to be found at Sebring's custom tailoring store is attracting the attention of many men who are looking for summer suits. The style, fit and price are harmonious.

The display of fresh vegetables at T. L. Walsh's North avenue market is always kept up to the standard. Everything in the grocery line is there at prices sure to suit. All orders delivered.

Direct from the nets comes the fish sold at the Rogers Sea Food Company's store. They guarantee it to be absolutely fresh and sell it at the lowest city prices. Special attention is paid to all breakfast orders.

With such a large assortment of seasonable goods in the dry goods and carpet department, as well as housefurnishings, that you find at Woodhull & Martin's store, it does not pay to go to New York. This firm can suit you in every department.

The largest shipment of fish ever received by a local dealer was received by Jerry Foss, of Park avenue, yesterday. It comprised thirty-nine barrels direct from pockets at Long Branch controlled by him. The fish were of many varieties and all were beauties.

THREE ALARMS.

Last Night Was a Busy Time for the City Fire Department.

Two box alarms and one still made the night a busy one at fire department headquarters. An alarm from box 21 called the department to the Rink building on Watchung avenue at 11:35 o'clock. A little blaze on the roof was extinguished without loss. At 2 o'clock, an alarm from box 47 called the firemen to attend to a blazing couch at the home of Mrs. Catherine Flynn, 957 South Second street. The damage was trifling.

Edwin Maynard put out a small fire in the hallway of Woolston & Buckle's building on North avenue before the firemen arrived. A gas jet was responsible.

—Vernon Waters, of East Third street, has taken a position with T. A. Moore, the Watchung avenue undertaker.

A FIERY DISCUSSION

Senator Beveridge's Sharp Criticism Brings on Storm.

THE FILIPINO QUESTION GONE OVER.

House Adjourns For Third Consecutive Day Out of Respect to a Dead Member—Death of Representative Salmon of New Jersey.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—For almost four hours yesterday a fiery discussion of the Philippine situation raged in the senate. It was started by Mr. Beveridge (ind.), who made some sharp strictures on the members of the opposition because, as he said, they persisted in telling in their speeches only one side of the story. While he admitted that some outrages had been committed by American soldiers in the Philippines, it was true, too, that unparalleled kindness had been shown by the American troops to Filipino prisoners and Filipino wounded. Food and medicine, he said, had been shared with them, and they had been succored on the battlefield and cared for tenderly in the hospital. While saying that the omission to tell this side of the story by the Democrats was unintentional, he suggested that it was unfair to make an arraignment of the American soldier and not tell both sides.

Mr. Carmack and Mr. Rawlins warmly resented any imputation of unfairness. Mr. Rawlins declared that no partisan motives had actuated the opponents of the present Philippine policy, but that they were moved only by patriotism and love of country.

Mr. Turner (Wash.) delivered a scathing criticism of the methods practiced by the military authorities in the Philippines, dwelling particularly upon the alleged order of General Smith, whom he denounced as a monster in human form. He urged the Philippine committee to turn all the light possible on the Philippine question to the end that the people might be fully informed on the situation.

Mr. Hoar (Mass.) briefly defended the action of the Philippine committee, saying that already it had furnished much valuable information. He urged that the committee in all justice should call some prominent Filipinos to testify in their own behalf.

The house adjourned immediately after the reading of the journal out of respect to the memory of Representative J. S. Salmon (N. J.). This is the third consecutive legislative day on which the house has paid a similar tribute to one of its deceased members.

Never before in the history of the house have three desks been draped at the same time. It was a coincidence remarked upon by members yesterday in connection with the deaths of Messrs. Cummings, Otey and Salmon that Mr. Cummings was appointed on the committee to attend the Rosecrans obsequies at Arlington, that Mr. Otey was appointed on the committee to attend the funeral of Mr. Cummings and that Mr. Salmon was designated to attend the funeral of Mr. Otey.

To Test Alabama's Constitution.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 7.—An application was filed in the supreme court yesterday for a writ of mandamus requiring the Montgomery county board of registrars to register Jackson W. Giles, a negro, and all other qualified negroes who shall apply for registration. It is further asked in the application that the new constitution of Alabama be declared null and void as in conflict with the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments of the constitution of the United States. The application is supported by numerous affidavits from negroes who have been refused registration by the board.

Six Lives Lost by a Cloudburst.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 7.—Six lives were lost in a cloudburst at Foss, on the Choctaw and Oklahoma railroad. Fifteen houses were carried away. Foss, with a population of 800, is built mostly on high ground, but extends into the valley. The cloudburst raised Turkey creek to a depth of ten feet, and the flood swept down on the village with such suddenness that the people in the valley could not reach high ground. Relief has been sent to Foss from Oklahoma City and other points.

Earthquake Shocks In Spain.

MADRID, May 7. — Earthquake shocks were felt yesterday at Barcelona, Saratoga, Irun, Tafalla and Murcia. At the last named place the cathedral and the convent as well as a number of houses were damaged. The population became panic stricken. At Alberique, in Valencia province, a number of houses were destroyed, while a school building and a church sustained extensive damages. The seismic disturbances dislodged great masses of rock in the Fuensanta mountains.

Peace Outlook Encouraging.

PRETORIA, May 7.—The peace situation is developing encouragingly. According to reliable information which has reached here, several of the nearer commandos have received the burgher delegates in an amicable spirit. It is understood that Commandant Beyers has announced his willingness to abide by the decision reached by the Transvaal government. Considerable opposition to the peace movement, however, is developing among the irreconcilables of General Delarey's force.

Executors of Rhodes' Will Meet.

LONDON, May 7.—The first meeting of the executors of the will of the late Cecil Rhodes was held in London, Dr. Jameson and L. L. Misell having arrived from South Africa with Mr. Rhodes' final instructions. Besides reading the will and deciding to prove it in South Africa no business was transacted at this meeting.

RUSSELL SAGE SUED.

Noted New York Capitalist Brought Into Court by the Charming Marchioness D'Ajuria.

Isabella D'Ajuria, who is suing Russell Sage, in New York for $75,000 as the result of his alleged conduct toward her nearly eighteen years ago, is known to her friends as the widow of Marquis Gregorio D'Ajuria. She is one of the best known miniature painters in America. To many distinguished society folk in New York and Lakewood she has been known simply as Mme. Gregorio D'Ajuria. As the papers in her suit were filed in her maiden name, Isabella, not a few whose portraits she has painted did not at first identify the talented artist with the woman whose name is now so strangely linked with that of the aged capitalist.

MARCHIONESS D'AJURIA.
(She Has Brought Suit Against Russell Sage for $75,000.)

Mme. D'Ajuria, or Marchioness D'Ajuria, as she claims the right to call herself, flashed upon the fashionable colony of Lakewood, N. J., in the season of 1895. She appeared to be possessed of ample means and rented from George Gould for the season the handsome cottage known as Gray Gables. One of her new neighbors, says the Chicago Chronicle, was a man of large wealth who had recently become a widower. On returning from New York to his Lakewood home one evening he found awaiting him a perfumed note from Mme. D'Ajuria inviting him to call. He did so, and found her lavishly arrayed in a superb velvet evening gown. After some conversation and an exchange of neighborly courtesies Mme. D'Ajuria suggested that, as her caller was then living alone, she had thought it might be agreeable for him to become a boarder with her at Gray Gables. She would at the same time, she said, if such an arrangement were pleasing to him, utilize the opportunity to paint for him his portrait in miniature. Her neighbor did not care to give up his own home and courteously declined to approve of such an arrangement.

Mme. D'Ajuria was well known at Lakewood also two years ago. At that time she rented expensive apartments in the leading hotel and lived on a scale of luxurious indulgence. With her was her only child, Oro, a daughter, then about 12 years old, and a young woman who acted as Oro's governess.

HIS ODD MONUMENT.

Memory of Man Who Rode First Bicycle in North England Perpetuated in Queer Way.

This unique monument was recently erected in Scotland over the grave of an old man who was reputed to have been the first to ride a bicycle in the north of Great Britain. For many years he rode over the country roads on a clumsy two-wheeled affair, and on days

BICYCLE AND PONY.
(Odd Monument Erected Over Grave of an Old Scotchman.)

when he was not on his bicycle he was generally seen going along on a sturdy little pony, which was his inseparable companion for a long time.

Several extraordinary monuments have been erected in some of the graveyards in Italy during the last few years, but it is doubtful if among them there is one which is as realistic as the one shown in the accompanying picture and of which a bicycle and a pony are the two very unusual features.

Long-Lived English Family.

Instances of unusually prolonged life are, as a rule, only made known to the outer world on the occasion of the person's decease, whereas it would be much more to the point if the examples recorded were of individuals still living and in the possession of their faculties at an abnormally advanced age. Sometimes this dower of "length of days" is the inheritance of certain families, as, e. g., the Foxes, there having been only two generations in direct line of descent between Sir Stephen Fox, who was born in 1627, and who, so it is said, attended Charles I. on the scaffold, and the third earl of Ilchester, who died in 1858. Of the two aunts of Charles James Fox, one (his father's half sister) died in 1683 and the other (his mother's youngest sister) in 1828—an interval of 175 years!

TRIFLES OF DRESS.

Parasols, Silk Openwork Gloves and Children Boas.

Parasols this year are charming. With few exceptions they are on a simple order, with abnormally long sticks. Crooked handles appear to be the favorites, no doubt, because they are easier to carry. Later on there will be worn beautiful creations in lace and chiffon, but at this time of the year the glace parasol matching the costume is the smart thing.

Silk gloves this year will be worn more than ever. They come in three lengths—short, reaching to within an inch of the elbow and reaching just above the elbow—to meet the requirements of the different lengths of sleeve.

OF CREPE DE CHINE

The latest ones show a broad band of openwork reaching for a little way above the hand.

Boas of accordion plaited chiffon or net thickly sewed with silk flower petals are very chic and add much to the appearance of a dress which is worn without a coat.

A smart evening gown of crepe de chine is shown in the illustration. The waist has satin shoulder straps and a bolero of guipure lace over turquoise blue silk. Below this the waist blouses into a belt of crushed white satin. The sleeves fall off the shoulders, allowing the bare arm to be seen for a little distance. They are of lace and chiffon. The skirt has panels of the lace and a fluffy effect around the bottom given by the many chiffon ruffles. Wherever the lace is used it is over the turquoise silk. JUDIC CHOLLET.

BELTS AND COLLARS.

The Wide Belt, the Du Barry Girdle, Chiffon Berthas.

Belts are being worn a trifle wider. They are made of soft satin or louisine ribbon folded over a boned foundation and run through jeweled slides. A pretty model shows two oval steel buckles, the longer in the back and the shorter in the front.

The Du Barry girdle, made of plaited ribbon, with long, knotted ends, can either be worn knotted at the left of the front or, sash fashion, in the back.

Berthas of black chiffon shirred and cut in toothed points are very smart when the toothed edges are ornamented with a narrow lace applique. Vandyke berthas of yellow lace embroidered in silk of the color of the gown are also dainty novelties.

The black or white tulle bow is as much in evidence as ever. It is worn clasped under the chin with a fancy pin.

Corset covers of colored lawn can be bought at all the department stores. They are meant to be worn under the transparent blouses made of lace or china silk banded with insertions.

The smart picture hat in the sketch is of white chiffon sewed with tiny black chantilly edging and trimmed with a narrow velvet band and two ostrich plumes. JUDIC CHOLLET

By WILLIAM WALLACE COOK,

Author of "Rogers of Butte," "The Spur of Necessity," "Mr. Pitt, Astrologer," etc.

(Copyright, 1901, by the S. S. McClure Co.)

"And go he did, heedless alike of the protestations of Miss Betty and her father.

As he and the squire traveled quickly out of Concord, bells were ringing, horns were blowing, guns were firing and the joy was spontaneous and unconfined.

When the travelers first glimpsed the twinkling lights of Concord they likewise discovered a blot of shadow hovering in the road directly ahead. On drawing nearer, the blot was resolved into a horse and carriage with a man in silhouette on the carriage seat. The rig was at a standstill and looked most ominous.

"Why, it's Pettibone!" exclaimed Guy, as they came in line to pass. He had recognized the high stepper and its driver by a kind of instinct. "Stop a moment, squire."

Mr. Vlandingham drew rein.

"Is that you, Herbert?" inquired the sheriff.

"Yes."

"How are you?"

"Nearly as good as new."

"Glad to hear it. Never had anything break me up quite so much as that skirmish and seeing you tumble into the road. Where are you bound for?"

"Concord."

"Take my advice and turn back."

"Why?"

"It won't be healthy for you to go there, that's why. There are all kinds of stories afloat about you. In their present temper the people wouldn't like anything better than to string you up. Of course, I know you better, and don't take any stock in their yarns. A pair of blue eyes, says I, and I make allowances."

"What are the yarns?" queried Guy, hastily. He resented that allusion to "blue eyes," especially on the squire's account.

"Why, Bilkins got back from Harmony last night and told about your being at Vlandingham's. People in town, though, didn't think much about that until those Jimtown rascals voted for Harmony, every man Jack of 'em. Two hours ago a mob of citizens waited on Keever with a rope and they'd have lynched him, I guess, if he hadn't sworn that you played into the enemy's hands all through, and that those imported voters cast their ballots in accordance with your orders."

The squire muttered an angry imprecation.

"Those Jamestown men would have given the lie to the Colonel's words," cried Guy, with some heat.

"Possibly; but they all left town in a body, nearly scared out of their wits."

"Squire Vlandingham," said Guy, appealing to his companion, "tell Pettibone that Keever is wrong."

"I don't need Vlandingham's testimony," broke in the sheriff; "I know

"RUN, COLONEL!" GASPED BILKINS.

you're straight goods, Herbert. 'S I say, a pair of—"

"What are the people doing now?" asked Guy, heading the sheriff off.

"Everything's quiet just at the present speakin'. It's the calm precedin' a storm. The inhabitants are goin' to cut loose in the morning and, if you're around, you're liable to be the storm center."

"Why are you out here, Pettibone?"

"Was takin' a look for the Jimtown fellers, but I guess I'll have to call it a bad job." The sheriff gathered up his lines. "I'm goin' back now to get a little rest before the trying times that are to come to-morrow."

Guy arose quickly, leaped out of the squire's carriage and climbed into Pettibone's.

"What are you going to do, Herbert?" cried Vlandingham.

"I'm going to Concord," said Guy, with determination, "and I don't want you to run any needless risk by trying to take me further. I am much obliged to you for bringing me this far, squire."

"Don't do anything rash, my boy," returned the squire, earnestly. "Go back with me and wait until this blows over."

"I thank you for your consideration, but I am face to face with a responsibility that I must not shirk. Had I been in Concord yesterday I could then and there have branded Col. Keever's statements as false. It is a little late in the day, but I shall do it now. I am grateful to you and Miss Betty for all that you have done for me," his voice trembled a little, "and I shall never forget. Good-night and good-by."

He waved his hand and Pettibone turned and started back toward Concord. That night the young man did not go to the hotel, but accepted the sheriff's invitation to remain at his house, where they arrived safely and without incident.

CHAPTER XX.

Col. Keever was pluming himself for flight. It was his intention to wing his way westward, alighting at Harmony long enough to receive his $1,950 from the committee of ways and means.

To remain long in Concord would be to court disaster. The score of men from Jamestown he had sent to Amityville there to await him and receive the $2,400 promised for their services. Mr. Pinchbeck was to pay $2,000 of this sum in the event that Concord won the contest. Concord having lost—the men voting their wages out of their hands—there was no money for them forthcoming. Immediately upon collecting the price of his treachery from Col. Dingle, Col. Keever's plan was to give Amityville a wide berth.

Lumber and hardware bills were also due on account of the courthouse. Young Herbert must shoulder these and, to the end that unpleasant questions might be avoided, Col. Keever had begun his preparations for shaking the dust of Concord from his feet as early as Tuesday night.

It was his desire to depart secretly, but on opening the front door of his office he found Christopher Waffle seated on the stairs. Softly closing the door, the Colonel sought exit from the rear, and on the back flight he came upon William Comfort. The Colonel, smothering his wrath, returned to the sanctum and waited. Then he tried again, only to discover that the siege had not been raised. During the entire night the editor made essays at intervals of an hour or so, but was each time balked by the blockading forces. There was nothing for it but to remain where he was and brazen the matter through.

Morning came and found the Colonel asleep in his chair. A commotion outside caused him to move restlessly. What was it he heard? Excited and angry cries, a sharp voice haranguing a mob, an uproar as of men enraged? His faculties were blunted by his vigil of the night. He could not reason from point to point and draw proper inferences. With a stertorous sigh he changed his position in the chair and slept on.

A few moments more and the outside stairs echoed with a wild clatter of ascending feet. The door was burst open and the Colonel started forward, aroused and apprehensive. Lemuel Bilkins was before him, flushed with excitement and tremulous with fear.

"Run, Colonel!" gasped Bilkins; "for heaven's sake, run!"

The Colonel's pudgy face went white in a flash.

"What's the matter, Lemuel?" he demanded, starting to his feet.

"Herbert's in town—he tried to talk to the people—they accused him of makin' those Jimtown fellows vote for Harmony—they were goin' for him hammer and tongs when—when—"

Bilkins, clutching at the desk for support, halted to catch his breath.

"When what?" asked the Colonel in a husky whisper. "Speak out, man!"

"When Sampson jumped up beside Herbert and gave Chris Waffle a paper to read to the crowd." Bilkins drew a sleeve across his dripping forehead. "It was an agreement between you and the Harmony people, and—"

The Colonel fell over against the partition with a hollow groan. Now he knew what had become of that document, and where his $50 had gone!

At that instant clamorous shouts, drawing nearer and nearer, were heard without; swift feet ascended the stairs, and suddenly there came a roar:

"Lynch him!"

"Ride him out of town!"

"Sack the office—pull it down about his ears!"

"There they come!" burst out Bilkins. "Hurry, Colonel! There's lots of trouble, lots of it!" He took down the Colonel's hat and cane in feverish haste. "Go down the back stairs and run for your life, Colonel," he implored, "while I stay here and keep them off."

"Hold 'em off, Lem," cried the Colonel, taking his hat and cane. "Do your duty, boy!"

Thereupon the great man started for the rear exit.

He proceeded with more haste, however, than was consistent with safety. Missing the top step of the flight, he tried to regain his balance by catching the next one, but in vain. Down he fell, head over heels.

UNITED STATES STEEL.

Some Figures in President Schwab's Report.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Following the meeting of the directors of the United States Steel corporation it was stated that the syndicate which is to underwrite the $250,000,000 of new 5 per cent bonds will receive a stated commission of 4 per cent, not necessarily on the whole issue nor solely upon the $50,000,000 cash issue, but upon the actual amount of bonds bought by the syndicate.

The report of President Schwab shows that for the year ended March 31, 1902, there were 13,320,705 tons of ore mined; that the quantity of coke manufactured was 9,079,142 tons and that the furnace product of the corporation was 7,152,121 tons, or 45 per cent of the total production of the United States. The manufacturing cost of the steel properties of the corporation for the year aggregated $315,662,881 and of coke properties $12,453,346. The gross earnings of the corporation's transportation properties, selling value, was $29,511,012; operating expenses and taxes and manufacturing cost, $16,431,006. The outlay for repairs, maintenance and extraordinary renewals during the year was $24,541,688.

The average number of employees in service during the year was 158,263, and the total of wages paid was $112,829,198.

JOB FOR MASSACHUSETTS.

Governor of Arkansas Pardons a Negro on Queer Condition.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 7.—Governor Jefferson Davis has pardoned a negro named Thompson on condition that Thompson go to Massachusetts within the next thirty days with the intention of becoming a citizen of that state. Thompson was convicted in Prairie county of assault with intent to kill and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. The governor makes the following indorsement on the application for pardon:

"Having just returned from the north and having heard many expressions of sympathy by the citizens of Massachusetts for what they were pleased to call the poor oppressed negro of the south and desiring that they shall have an opportunity to reform a certain portion of the negro population of our state:

"Therefore, I, Jefferson Davis, governor of the state of Arkansas, by virtue of the constitution and authority vested in me by the constitution and laws of Arkansas, do grant unto Andrew Thompson, a negro, a full and free pardon on condition that he become within the next thirty days a citizen of Massachusetts."

Five Killed by Molten Metal.

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 7.—Five men dead and three seriously injured is the awful record of an accident at the open hearthstone department of the Pennsylvania works at Steelton. The disaster was caused by the boiling over of a ladle of hot slag at a furnace, its fiery contents engulfing eight men in a pit whence they were powerless to escape. The victims were all Austrian laborers.

ON THE DIAMOND.

The Dunellen baseball team comes to this city for the first time, Saturday, to cross bats with the Y. M. C. A. team. On the following Saturday it visits Plainfield again to play a return game with the Hope team.

The Safe Works team has an especially strong outfield in Dodd, Ward and Jackson. All have played in right, left or center before and in the preliminary work have covered the ground in great shape. Manager Muir is proud of the trio and thinks it outclasses any similar three on any of the other League teams.

In Saturday's St. Mary game, Fred Winn, who has been playing first, and Dick Scott, who covered second, exchanged places. Both did so well in their new positions that the change will be made permanent. Scott did especially well and played with a vim that infused new life into some of the other team members.

The pitching of Percy Hand, in the Y. M. C. A.-Dunellen game, Saturday, was a great and pleasing surprise to his admirers. He has never posed as a pitcher before and it was with some misgiving that he was given a trial. The result exceeded the most sanguine expectations of all the Y. M. C. A. players. The Dunellens made only eight hits during the entire game.

Those who attended the Hope-Cuban Giant game Saturday were startled by the new yell given vent by the former's rooters. It is entirely different from any heretofore used locally and is credited with being the best ever retained by any team. The Hope rooters also have a tantalizing way of counting score when their team is leading and it is generally used with good effect when a member of the opposing team makes a play which calls for the shouts of his friends.

Not in several years has a local baseball player sprung into prominence quicker than "Davy" Gordon, of the Hope team. Although one of the lightest members of the nine he has done the heaviest batting of the season and seems to do better every game. Last Saturday he hit Davis for two beautiful two-baggers and made a couple of sacrifice hits out of five times at the bat. On the other occasion he had two rank strikes called on him and struck at the third to prevent the umpire making it three. It was the first time he struck out this season.

METHODIST WOMEN GATHERED

SEMI-ANNUAL MEETING OF FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF THE DISTRICT.

Concluding Sessions Were Held at the Monroe Avenue M. E. Church Yesterday.

Two more sessions, held yesterday afternoon and last evening, terminated the semi-annual meeting of the Methodist Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Elizabeth district. Both took place in the Monroe Avenue M. E. church.

The afternoon session opened with a devotional service led by Mrs. F. C. Mooney, after which addresses were made by Mrs. J. H. Knowles, Miss E. L. How and Miss Anna Gallimore, lately from India. The reading of reports brought it to a close. In the evening talks were given by Mrs. Knowles and Miss Gallimore and a well rendered vocal solo was given by Mrs. E. E. Brown.

During the sessions refreshments were served by a committee from the Monroe Avenue church, consisting of Mrs. N. Mansfield Smith, Mrs. W. B. Grannatt, Mrs. Rittenhouse, Miss Mae Brower and Miss Lulu Randolph.

The session was attended by sixty delegates from New Jersey and New York. Among the ministers present were Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, Rev. E. L. Earp, Rev. Dr. T. C. Hoyt, and Rev. John MacMurray, of this city, Rev. S. K. Doolittle, of Dunellen, and H. C. Thompson, of Cranford.

SMALL-POX FROM KERWIN'S

HEALTH BOARD HEARS REPORT ON CAUSE OF LAST OUTBREAK.

Commended School Board's Action in Insisting on Vaccination of School Children.

The May meeting of the Board of Health was held yesterday afternoon. Health Officer Leon Thurlow reported that the infection of small-pox in the recent cases was due to a lax quarantine at the Kerwin premises, it having been ascertained that John Crowley visited the place. Mr. Thurlow also reported on dairy inspections, there being eighty for the month. A general improvement was noted.

The Master Plumbers' Association has asked that licenses be granted to efficient plumbers after an examination. A resolution was adopted commending the action of the president of the Board of Education in excluding from the Bryant and Irving Schools all children who have not been vaccinated.

Health Officer Addis reported a total of 171 inspections. There are thirteen under quarantine. There were four cases of typhoid during April and twelve persons were released from quarantine.

YEARLY MEETING.

Combined With Reception to Pastor of Mt. Zion A. M. E. Church.

The members of Mount Zion A. M. E. church combined their yearly meeting last evening, with a reception to their pastor, Rev. G. B. Smith.

During the year $588.50 was raised by the trustees, and $685 by the stewards; $1,329.99 was collected. The membership was raised from twenty-two to fifty. Addresses and music followed the reports.

The reception closed with a supper prepared by the women under the direction of Mrs. E. B. Maynard. Edward B. Maynard was in charge during the evening.

Rose Luncheon.

Mrs. George Wharton Edwards, of Franklin place, gave a rose luncheon yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. J. Kirtland Myers, of East Seventh street, who sails for Europe Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Myers have leased a house in London and will reside there permanently. There were fifteen at the luncheon.

PLANS FOR MEMORIAL DAY

GRAND ARMY VETERANS ARE ARRANGING DETAILS FOR CELEBRATION.

Visits to Cemeteries in Morning and Exercises at Reform Hall in Afternoon.

The members and committees of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., are gradually arranging details for the observance of Memorial Day. Reform Hall has been engaged for the exercises to be held in the afternoon of that day. In the morning the various cemeteries will be visited by details from the Post.

The day before Memorial Day, Thursday, May 29, the public schools of the city and borough will be visited by details of veterans who will make short addresses.

The question of music has not yet been settled. It is likely that the Independent Fife and Drum Corps will be engaged for a portion of the day. The speaker for the afternoon exercises will be settled upon this week. All patriotic organizations will be invited to participate in the observance of the day, although the parade will be a very short one. At Reform Hall a number of children will sing patriotic songs, and there will be the usual service by the veterans.

HAS DONE WELL.

Annual Financial Report of Woman's Guild of Holy Cross Church.

Mrs. Samuel Townsend, as treasurer of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Holy Cross, has just issued her annual statement. It shows a most gratifying condition of affairs in the society. The receipts for the year amounted to $709.98 and [the expenditures $640.75, leaving a balance on hand of $69.23. The greatest amount expended was $430.90 for the church and Sunday-school. The other amounts range from $1 to the church periodical committee to the large sum given the church and Sunday-school.

UNDERTAKERS UNITED.

Those of Union and Essex Counties Formed Association at Newark Last Week—Forty Members.

The Funeral Directors' Association of Essex and Union counties was organized last week at Newark, by representatives from the Oranges, Elizabeth and Plainfield. The new organization starts with forty members and 200 others have signified their intention of joining it.

The object of the association is to improve the condition of the business and to secure favorable legislation which will do away with the present law regarding the shipment of bodies. At the next meeting to be held in two weeks, a constitution and bylaws will be adopted. The following officers have been elected: President, Walter J. Bullock; first vice president, Frederick Ardrey, South Orange; second vice president, E. H. Senior, Newark; corresponding secretary, J. J. Martin, Elizabeth; financial secretary, John F. Matthews, Newark; treasurer, William M. Knapp, East Orange. An executive committee will be appointed at the next meeting. The association is planning to give a banquet in Newark soon.

PAINTERS AT WORK.

Received Increase, But Employers Do Not Recognize the Union Anymore.

Following a meeting of the Journeyman Painters' Association last evening, twelve men returned to work this morning. They returned on the condition that they receive the increase but the union is not recognized.

The Master Mechanics' Association has suspended a section of the by-laws and constitution which compelled its members to employ union labor. In consequence every boss has an "open" shop if he desires. Woolston & Buckle have not resigned from that association as stated yesterday.

Engagement Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Wheeler, of Park avenue, gave an engagement dinner, last evening, in honor of Miss Edith Arens and Adolph Hagerdon, and also their cousin, Miss Mary T. Wheeler and Thomas Vinon, of New York Covers were laid for sixteen.

Harry Maxson, formerly of this city but now of New Rochelle, has returned home after a short visit in Plainfield.

BRAKEMAN'S BOBY FOUND.

The Only Victim of Railway Accident at Newark Bay Draw Bridge.

The body of John D. Long, the New Jersey Central brakeman who lost his life in an accident on the Newark Bay draw, April 19, was found floating in the bay a mile north of the bridge, Saturday afternoon. It was taken to his former home in Bound Brook. The young man was a member of Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., of this city, which organization conducted the funeral services held yesterday afternoon.

To Sing at Mt. Olive.

CITY HIGH DEFEATED BOROUGH SCHOOL BOYS

A Rather One-Sided Baseball Game Was Played on Pittis' Field Yesterday Afternoon.

THE SCORE WAS 12 TO 3.

THE SPLENDID SUPPORT AND STRONG PITCHING WON GAME FOR PLAINFIELD.

First of Series Between the High Schools Was Played Yesterday—Armstrong Pitched Well, But Had Very Poor Support.

Plainfield High School and North Plainfield High School had it hot and heavy on Pittis diamond yesterday afternoon. The result was a decided victory for the former by a score of 12 to 3. The game played by Plainfield was gingery and snappy, but the boys from the borough were away in dreamland—although occasional moments of lucidity showed they were capable of better things.

Artist VanAuken was in the box for Plainfield and the ball he delivered eluded the willow wielders with magic facility. Only three singles were made of him in the whole game and twelve strike outs are tallied to his credit. Armstrong, too, pitched a good, steady game but the quality of his support was not such as would make any species of curves effective. Moynihan caught VanAuken in excellent style while Ovens held the shoots of Armstrong.

Dyer was the chief actor in a spectacular double play made at sceond. First and second bags were occupied when the batter drove out a short fly which Dyer captured some distance behind his plate. The man on first either took long chances on the ball being muffed or perhaps thought the fellow on second was lonesome. At any rate when the smoke cleared away two-base runners had pitched tents on second bag. One of them of course was dispossessed. A clever steal of home by Moynihan was another of the unusual plays of the game.

The lineup:

DINNER TO ATTENDANTS.

Given by Miss Carolyn Vail to the Bridemaids and Maid-of-Honor.

Miss Carolyn Vail, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Vail, of West Eighth street, who will be married this afternoon to Dr. Charles Newton Cutler, of Boston, gave a dinner last evening in honor of her bridemaids and maid-of-honor. The bridemaids are Miss Charlotte Dwight, of Cincinnati, and Miss Grace L. Day, of White Plains, N. Y. The maid-of-honor is Miss Mazie L. Day, of this city. The decorations were very pretty and the whole affair was a charming one.

Missionary Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society of the East Association of New Jersey will be held tomorrow in the First Baptist church. Morning session at 10:30; afternoon session at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Safford, from Boston, the foreign secretary, will make an address. An interesting programme has been prepared. All are cordially invited.

Entertained Whist Club.

The National Whist Club was entertained Tuesday afternoon by Miss May Mulford, of East Fifth street. Mrs. Rafe Smith won first prize, while the seond and third prizes were won by Mrs. Frank Wikoff and Miss Vordemeyer. A social time followed and refreshments were served.

Iona is Growing.

Iona Council, Degree of Pocohontas, met last evening and received three propositions. There were also two adoptions, after which refreshments were served.

—Neuman Brothers' olive oil, their own importation, is the best to be had in the city. Sold by pint, quart or gallon.

MORE ROOM NEEDED.

Large Addition Will Probably be Made to Scott Press Works in the Near Future.

In all probability a large addition will shortly be made to the main building of the Scott Press Works. Press of business has cramped the present quarters and it has been seen for some time that the plant should be enlarged.

The matter has been talked over among the officials and they have practically decided upon adding 300 feet to the eastern end of the machine shop. It will be two stories high to conform with the present part. In the event of an addition being definitely decided upon within a few days, the work of erection will start inside of a month.

COST OF UNION COUNTY JAIL

THE JAIL COMMITTEE OF FREEHOLDERS HAS PREPARED REPORT.

While There is a Slight Increase, it is Inside of the Appropriation Made.

The jail committee from the Union county Board of Freeholders, of which Freeholder William A. Westphal, of this city, is chairman, has about completed its reports for the past year. At the meeting of the board Tuesday Dr. deBois, of Elizabeth, was re-appointed jail physician for the coming year.

The total cost of operating the jail for the past year was $4,545.21 and the average cost per prisoner per day was 24.57 cents. Outside of supplies and salaries, etc., the cost per prisoner per day was 11.46 cents, an increase of 1.3 cent over last year. The total increase over last year for this year is $26.49. There was an average of fifty-one prisoners each month for the year. The total numbers of prisoners received at the jail was 694 and Elizabeth furnished two-thirds of the total or 497. Plainfield furnished 88. The appropriation for the jail for the year was about $6,000 and it can be seen that while there was a slight increase in expense it was kept considerably within the appropriation.

Much credit is due the jail committee for the very admirable and economic manner in which the jail has been operated and the general opinion is that its condition today is better than ever before.

TOLD OF ANNUAL MEETING.

Delegates Reported at Meeting of McAll Auxiliary Yesterday.

The regular meeting of the McAll Auxiliary of Plainfield was held yesterday at the Public Library, when the delegates to the annual meeting held at Morristown presented informal reports. It showed that the work is being admirably conducted along economical lines. There were sixty-five delegates at Morristown from all parts of the United States. The Plainfield branch will be seventeen years old November 5. Meetings are held every first and third Wednesdays in the month, excepting June, July and August.

DIDN'T EXPECT THEM.

Miss Ethel Reynolds Was Unexpectedly Made a Hostess.

Twenty-five young friends of Miss Ethel Reynolds, of Duer street, called unexpectedly at her home last evening. She was greatly surprised when informed the visit was a purely social one and that she was to be made the hostess. She proved equal to the occasion and a delightful time was had by all. Games were the feature during the evening and with other divertisements occupied the time until midnight.

Examination for Postal Clerks.

There will be a civil examination for postal clerks and carriers in this city on Wednesday, May 28, under the direction of W. B. Sharp, secretary of the board of examiners. Only citizens of the United States are eligible and they must be between the ages of eighteen and fourty-five years. Applications must be filed with Mr. Sharp before 9 o'clock in the morning of May 28.

Master Mechanics' Meeting.

The Master Mechanics' Association will hold a special meeting this evening to arrange for attending the funeral of their late brother, Robert Jahn.

Reception to New Deputy.

Central Lodge, No. 48, A. O. U. W., will tender a reception to the new deputy, Washington I. Tier, of Rahway, this evening.

Public Rehearsal.

The third public rehearsal of the Y. M. C. A. Orchestra will be given on Thursday evening, May 22.

SAW HOUSE BEFORE HE DIED

MORTIMER J. GILDERSLEEVE, OF WESTFIELD, PASSED AWAY YESTERDAY.

Had Built a New Home and Was Carried There on a Stretcher Before the End Came.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 8—Mortimer J. Gildersleeve, a prominent resident of this place, died yesterday at his home on Dudley avenue, following an illness with typhoid fever and hasty consumption.

Mr. Gildersleeve was born in 1856 at Stamfordville, N. Y., and has been a resident of Westfield since 1893. For twenty-seven yeas he was a travelling salesman for Tefft-Weller Company, silk house, New York, and since residing at this place he has conducted a dry goods store. He was a member of the Royal Arcanum.

A handsome new house was recently built by Mr. Gildersleeve and a few days ago he moved in. He had to be carried there on a stretcher. To satisfy his desire he was taken through every room in the house to see the work. He leaves a wife and three children.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon from the late residence at 2 o'clock. Rev. N. W. Cadwell will officiate. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery.

FIREMEN BEATEN.

Attempted to Defeat Two of Somerville's Town Commissoners at Local Election.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 8—A spirited election for seven town commissioners was held here Monday night and resulted as follows: George V. Vander-Veer, 433; John Gernert, 433; Wm. H. Taylor, 431; Jas. J. Bergen, 419; Walter Durling, 418; Chas. A. Houston, 402, John Hardgrove, 377; J. Harper Smith, 76; Wm. B. Sharp, 70. There were 459 votes cast.

The contest was over the seats of Messrs. Houston and Hardgrove, who were opposed by members of West End Hose Company, which had been disciplined for disobeying orders in going to a fire outside of the town limits. The candidates supported by these disgruntled people, however, received a very meagre vote.

Funeral of Patrick Flynn.

The funeral of Patrick Flynn, who died suddenly at his home on McDowell street, was held from St. Mary's church, yesterday. A high requiem mass was said by Rev. Father Farley. Interment was afterward made in St. Mary's cemetery. The pall bearers were John, Thomas, Patrick and Michael Connelly, Frank and Jules Parent.

Official Visit.

Mrs. M. J. Mills, of Boston, will pay an official visit to Mizpah Lodge, No. 1, U. O. of I. O. L., Monday evening. At the conclusion of the regular meeting Mrs. Mills will be tendered an informal reception. This evening the members of Mizpah Lodge will hold a dime social at the residence of Mrs. Andrew Mattis, of Madison avenue.

Returned From Grand Council.

Past Regent A. I. Littell, of Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, and Past Regent C. C. Davis, of Greenbrook Council, No. 1725, have returned home from Lakewood, where they attended the Grand Council convention of the State of New Jersey. The session lasted Monday and Tuesday.

Were Not Invited.

Mrs. Solomon Scheidecker, of New street, was given a surprise party, last evening, by fifteen of her friends. Music, games and dancing passed several hours very pleasantly. An added feature was a vocal solo by Mrs. William A. Westphal. The affair terminated at midnight when a collation was served.

Funeral of Peter Bruun.

Funeral services over the remains of Peter Brunn were held from the residence of his son, Edward Brunn, yesterday. They were in charge of Rev. L. R. Howard, of Hope chapel. Those who acted as pall bearers were James Winn, Fred Pangborn, George Robinson and William Sharkey. Interment was made at Hillside cemetery.

Initiatory Team's Visit.

Redwood Camp, No. 10,262, Modern Woodmen of America, received an official visit from the Newark initiatory team and fifty Woodmen, last evening. The team worked the first degree on five candidates. Following the initiation a smoker and informal entertainment was held.

—There will be a meeting of Congregational Juniors, both boys and girls, tomorrow afternoon at 3:45 o'clock at the church.

NON-UNION MEN COMING TODAY

Crisis Expected Soon in Strike of the Local Plumbers—The Painters Going Back.

THE PRESENT SITUATION

Fifteen Men at Work for Woolston & Buckle This Morning—On Non-Union Basis—War to the Death Now in the Plumbers' Fight—Say Outside Help is Secured.

With more painters at work on a non-union basis this morning and the expected arrival of a batch of non-union plumbers, this afternoon, there is every evidence that something is going to happen very soon in the local strike in the building trades. With the painters, most of the men have secured the increase desired but have given up their union demands. With the plumbers, it appears to be a war to the death. The other of the building trades are working as usual.

Without doubt, the most important result of the strike has been the withdrawal of the provision from the association's constitution which compells the members to hire only union labor. Some of the employers will still continue to run union shops but most of the painters, at least, are going to do business on a non-union basis, paying the men according to what they are worth individually instead of abiding by any fixed scale. The boss plumbers plan to do the same.

Woolston & Buckle's shop is hereafter to be non-union. Fifteen of their old men were back at work this morning and the business of the firm is going on again. It is expected that a few more will return and that some of the old employes will go elsewhere. Rushton & Hansen have followed the same course.

The deadlock between boss and journeymen plumbers has continued without any signs of a settlement. Both sides are determined not to give in. Yesterday, several of the bosses went out of town in search of help and claim to have had no trouble in finding plenty of good men. A number are expected to reach here this afternoon.

While the journeymen plumbers promise that there will be no violence, they declare that the new men will not remain at work long and that they are bound to win in the end. It is said that the other building trades, now working, will all strike if an attempt is made to bring in non-union plumbers. This report has not been confirmed from authoritative sources.

FUNERAL OF FRANK HAND.

Largely Attended Services Were Held From the Home Today.

The funeral services of the late Frank Hand were held this afternoon at the residence, 136 East Second street, when a large number of relatives and friends, including organizations to which the deceased belonged, attended. Rev. Charles L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, officiated. There were a very large number of floral tokens including many set pieces. The interment took place in North Plainfield cemetery.

BELATED ANNOUNCEMENT.

Miss Lillian Haberle and Lewis C. Beekman Wedded in November.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Lillian Haberle, of the borough, to Lewis C. Beekman, of West Third street. It took place on November 20, at the home of Rev. George Bowers, of Warrenville, only several intimate friends being present. The young couple are now living with Mrs. Beekman's mother, Mrs. Frances Haberle, of Chatham street. Mr. Beekman is employed as a moulder at the Pond Tool Works.

Supplemental Proceedings.

In the case of Ralph I. Tolles against Louis A. Hummer, the Supreme Court has appointed Herbert Knight to make an examination of Mr. Hummer in supplemental proceedings to discover where the defendant has disposed of his property. The examination will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the office of Lawyer Robert M. Clark, who represents the plaintiff.

—A meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at 116 Central avenue. The superintendent of the evangelistic department will be in charge.

LOCAL TRIBES MAY UNITE

JOINT COMMITTEE DECIDED IN FAVOR OF CONSOLIDATION.

Three Tribes of Red Men are Talking of Forming of One Powerful Tribe.

At a joint committee meeting, held last evening, representatives from Paughcaughnaughsinque, Miantonomo and Wetumpkah Tribes, I. O. R. M., discussed the project of consolidation. Each member declared himself in favor of the plan and it was decided to so report to the respective tribes for final action. The matter will be voted on at the next regular meeting night.

In this city there are today in the neighborhood of 400 Red Men, divided into the three tribes mentioned. As it stands now each has to pay room rent and other expenses, beside maintaining three distinctive sets of officers. The idea has been advanced that where all are working in the interest of the same order that the triple expense for the same cause is unnecessary and should be climinated. With consolidation, there would be but one meeting night when all the Red Men could become better acquainted and the expense of the other two meetings could be curtailed. There are other reasons advanced why the tribes should be untied and these will be made known at the meetings. In all probability the matter will be settled definitely within a short period.

IN COUNTY COURT.

Busy Time at Somerville, Where Several Important Cases Were Brought Up.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 8—Judge Schenck is busy trying the criminal cases. Clarence DeGroat, Morgan Minor and Geo. Brokaw (colored), indicted for assaulting Jessie Hall, of South Bound Brook, proved an alibi and were acquitted.

Jos. Hannon, charged with stealing coal from the County Clerk's bin, was acquitted.

Thos. Stavish, of Bound Brook, was found guilty of illegal selling.

In the case of Simon Frazella, of Bound Brook, who was tried for illegal selling, the court charged the jury this morning.

Robert Catlin, "English Bob," of North Plainfield, indicted for stealing a rig, retracted and pleaded non vult.

POWER-HOUSE AT CRANFORD.

Dispute With Jersey Central Settled and it Will be Built There.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 8—The Elizabeth, Plainfield and Central Jersey Street Railway Company has finally settled its differences with the New Jersey Central Railroad regarding the carrying of freight, etc., and in consequence the trolley company will erect its large power-house at Cranford. The trouble arose over the refusal of the railroad company to reduce its rates for cartage where the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company recently made concessions, which, if accepted, would have taken the power-house on the line of that road.

The power-house will be one of the largest in the State and will supply power for the operation of cars between this place, Perth Amboy, Seawaren, Carteret, Rahway, Elizabethport, Elizabeth and Plainfield.

Suit Over Heater.

Thomas A. Cuming has retained Lawyer Robert M. Clark to defend him in an action brought against him by the Curney Heater Company for $68. The action is for a heater, which the defendant claims was not ordered. The case will be tried May 12 before Justice Hand.

Wedded Quietly.

Fred Covely and Miss Edna Moore, both of this city, were married last evening, by Rev. C. L. Goodrich. They will take up their residence here. Mr. Covely has been in charge of the Westfield Golf Club grounds for several seasons past.

Sparks Were Numerous.

The fire department was called out about 9 o'clock last evening, on account of dangerous sparks flying from a bonfire at Morgan Bird's, East Fourth street. There was nothing for the firemen to do.

Greater City Mass-Meeting.

A mass meeting will be called for next week by those in favor of annexation and consolidations. The date of the meeting is not yet definitely decided.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Barkalew, of Lincoln place, and their daughter, Mrs. F. W. Dunn, and two daughters, of Sandford avenue, returned home today from Southern Pines, N. C.

SHAM BATTLE.

Will be One of the Features of Company K's Celebration on Memorial Day.

At a business meeting of Company K, held last evening, arrangements were made for holding a field day in this city on Decoration Day. A committee of five, of which Captain Browning is chairman, was appointed to complete details.

The company accepted an invitation to parade with the G. A. R. in the morning and the exercises will be held in the afternoon. As planned at present, Companies I and E, of Elizabeth, and M, of Somerville, will assist in a battalion drill and sham battle. The day will close with a dance in the evening in honor of the visiting companies.

CHRISTENING AT THE GABLES

NAMING OF LITTLE SON OF MR. AND MRS. OSBORN W. BRIGHT.

Event Took Place at A. D. Shepard's Home Yesterday Afternoon—Fifty Friends Were Present.

A charming event of yesterday afternoon was the christening party given at "The Gables," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus D. Shepard, when the young son of their daughter, Mrs. Osborn Wyckoff Bright, of New York, was baptized. Guests, including friends from this city and New York, were present to the number of fifty.

Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, pastor of the Crescent Avenue church, officiated at the ceremony. The young son's given name was Osborn Edward. Mrs. John Doul Miller, sister of Mrs. Bright, and who was the matron-of-honor at the wedding of the latter, was the godmother, while Burritt H. Shepard, a brother of Mrs. Bright, who was best man at the wedding, was the godfather.

After the ceremony there was an exchange of happy greetings and a social time was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Shepard gave a tea which was a delightful feature of the afternoon. The home was prettily decorated for the event, white roses and white lilacs being used in profusion.

GOSPEL HYMNS.

Will be Beautifully Illustrated in Tomorrow's Entertainment.

The Willing Workers, of Trinity Reformed church, will be ably assisted by Miss Justina Smith, who has been secured as the soloist in the rendering of "Illuminated Sacred Song" tomorrow evening.

The effective rendition of the Gospel hymns, together with the brilliant and beautifully colored illustrations make complete one of the most pleasing and inspiring of church entertainments. "Gospel hymns in all their reality" is the testimony of those who attended the recital, as given by the Willing Workers a few evenings ago.

BASKETS SOLD.

Sale at Home of Mrs. F. O. Herring for Benefit of Grace P.E.Church.

A sale of baskets was held at the home of Mrs. F. O. Herring on Park avenue, Tuesday afternoon, for the benefit of Grace Episcopal church. The affair was a great success, nearly $300 being the net profit. Those assisting Mrs. Herring were Mrs. Howard Fleming, Mrs. E. L. Finch, Mrs. Edwin S. Hooley, Mrs. George S. Ring, Mrs. Mellor, Mrs. Edward T. VanBuren, Miss May Rodman and the Misses Finch and Fleming.

In Business for Himself.

Charles Conover, of Elmwood place, who has been working for Woolston & Buckle nearly thirteen years, has severed his connection with that firm and started in business for himself under the firm name of Charles Conover & Company. He has many friends in Plainfield who will wish him success in his new venture.

Wheels in Collision.

William Ransom, colored, and Peter H. Latourette, riding wheels, crashed together at the corner of Park and North avenues, Tuesday evening. When the riders got the dust out of their eyes and pulled the machines apart Ransom's was found in a bad state of collapse. Neither of the men were hurt.

Encountered 'Phone Pole.

In turning the corner of Richmond and East Third streets, yesterday morning, in an automobile, N. Pendleton Rogers, Jr., lost control of the machine and drove it into a telephone pole. One spring of the machine was broken.

Ping-Pong Tournament.

The first ping pong tournament in this part of New Jersey will be held this evening at the Westfield Club.

PLANS FOR SCHOOL EXHIBIT THIS MONTH

Will be Largest Collective Exhibit Ever Given by the Plainfield Public Schools.

THE DATES ANNOUNCED.

SOMETHING ABOUT WHAT THE EXHIBIT WILL INCLUDE.

On Account of the Preparations for This Event, No Elaborate Memorial Day Exercises Will be Held—Dates and Hours.

Parents in every part of the city are greatly interested in the arrangements being made by Superintendent H. M. Maxson for an elaborate exhibit of school work. The pupils have entered heartily into the spirit of the project and are preparing a display which promises to surpass that forwarded to the Pan-American Exposition and which attracted so much attention there.

As planned by Mr. Maxson, exhibits will be held in each school on different dates during the latter part of this month. Every pupil will be given an opportunity to take part by contributing a specimen of his work in either drawing, composition or written work completed in class or at home. The exhibit will be neatly arranged by the teachers and will be open for inspection afternoons from 2:30 until 5 o'clock and evenings from 8 until 10 o'clock. Attendants will be constantly in charge to explain the course and systems.

This is the first collective exhibit that has been planned in five years and it will require much painstaking effort on the part of the pupils and teachers to make it successful. To give them as much time as possible in which to do the work, Superintendent Maxson secured permission from the Board of Education to have only simple exercises on Memorial Day. Heretofore it has been the custom to prepare lengthy programmes of songs, recitations and addresses to which the parents were invited. Now it is proposed to have only an address from a member of the Grand Army post and a few songs and not seek for visitors.

As arranged at present the dates on which the exhibits will be held at the various local schools are as follows: Lincoln school, May 15; Washington school, May 21; Bryant school, May 22; Franklin school, May 23; Irving school, May 27; Whittier school, May 29.

FUNERAL OF MRS. FAWCETT.

Services Held From Rockview Avenue Home Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Susan Fawcett, who died suddenly Monday, were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at her home on Rockview avenue. The services were conducted by the Plymouth Brethren.

A large number of people attended the funeral and on the casket were many floral tributes from friends and relatives of the deceased. Three brothers of Mrs. Fawcett, with three brothers of her husband, Hugh Fawcett, were the pallbearers. Interment was in Hillside cemetery.

RESULT OF FIRE.

Did Not Interrupt Business in VanHorn's Furniture Department.

The fire in a part of the storage warehouse of Amos H. VanHorn, at 73 Market street, Newark, Friday, only affected a portion of the compartments. The regular furniture business is going on uninterruptedly. A new six-story building, 30x150 feet on Campbell street, adjoining the Market street store, has been completed and possession has been taken. The few goods damaged will be sold in a few days at low prices.

Ready to Receive Them.

Preparations are about complete for the reception and entertainment of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the East New Jersey Baptist Association which will meet in the First Baptist church Friday morning and afternoon.

Girl Bitten by Dog.

A dog, belonging to Patrick Doyle, of the West End, bit a daughter of John Butler, on West Fourth street, yesterday. Complaint was made to the police and the animal was put to death by Patrolman Higgins.

More Pay for Clerks.

Daniel Clawson and Ernest Millard, clerks at the postoffice, have each received an addition of $100 to their salary, the same to begin July 1.

THOSE WHO COME AND GO

NOTES CONCERNING PLAINFIELDERS AND THEIR MANY GUESTS.

Some of Those That Go to Make Up the Day's Budget of Arrivals and Departures.

John Blimm, of New York, is visiting relatives in Plainfield for a time.

Bert Harold, of East Fifth street, is home from a visit with friends at Denville.

Miss Mae Goddard, of Pawtucket, R. I., is the guest of relatives in the West End.

Charles Loamer, of South Second street, is home from a short stay at Atlantic City.

Mrs. C. T. Nightingale, of Easton, Pa., formerly of this city, is visiting friends in Plainfield for a time.

James A. Gordon, of West Third street, has gone to Goshen, N. Y., for a week's stay with relatives.

Miss Grace Browsor, of East Fourth street, is spending a few day with her friend, Mrs. J. F. Tyson, of Brooklyn.

Paul Whitall, of East Fifth street, left yesterday for Great Falls, Montana, where he will make his permanent home.

Miss Bessie Taylor, cooking teacher in the North Plainfield High School, is unable to attend to her duties this week, on account of the illness of her mother.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

Ann Eliza Stelle celebrated at Tuckahoe, N. J., her ninetieth birthday on May 1 and she still enjoys excellent health. She was born in Piscataway Township in 1812 and was baptised seventy years ago by Rev. Daniel Dodge. Her life has been spent in Stelton, Plainfield, Brooklyn and Tuckahoe. Although she is blind, partially deaf and a cripple, her mental faculties remain most excellent. She takes a great delight in rehearsing the scenes of "long ago." Her mind is well stored with God's word and almost hourly she quotes some passages of Scripture. People who call on her experience a real joy in being in her company.

For the past twenty-one years she has made her home with her brother Ephraim and wife, where she celebrated her birthday anniversary. During the day she celebrated the happy event she was the recipient of many tokens of her worth and appreciation from relatives and friends. To use the words of one who attended the affair "Her lamp is trimmed and burning, ready when the Bridegroom shall come."

BEACH HAVEN.

Jersey Central Will Make Connections for That Resort.

One of the most delightful places on the New Jersey coast is Beach Haven. It is separated from the main land insuring a continued coolness. The bathing has no equal and the sheltered coves make sailing a delight. The fishing is superb and likewise the shooting. The social characteristics are without comparison and in fact every environ needed to make the resort ideal, has place at Beach Haven. The hotels are palatial homes rather than the ordinary houses, and with the exceptional train facilities the New Jersey Central has provided, there is little reason why Beach Haven shouldn't become one of the most popular resorts hereabouts. After May 10, the New Jersey Central's Atlantic City Express which leaves New York at 3:40 p. m., will make connection at Whitings for Beach Haven and the time consumed is but 2.55 minutes. If you are interested write to C. M. Burt, general passenger agent, New York, for Beach Haven books.

Like a Drowning Man.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such hold of me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marsh, well-known attorney of Nocona, Tex. "I took quantities of pepsin and other medicines but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am sound and well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. L. W. Randolph.

PYTHIAN KNIGHTS TO MEET

NATIONAL BIENNIAL GATHERING TO BE HELD AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Great Preparations are Being Made for the Event by the People of California.

The National biennial gathering of the Knights of Pythias, which is to be held in San Francisco, August 10 to 20, is probably destined to become memorable as the greatest fraternal gathering in the history of this country, in point of numbers as well as in splendor. The people of San Francisco and of California are determined that it shall eclipse all similar conventions ever held in the United States. Never before was there such unanimity of action among all the people of the coast. It is not the members of the Order alone who take such a lively interest in the coming gathering of the hosts, but merchants, manufacturers, farmers and miners, all are interested to make the affair a glorious one for California and the most pleasant for the visitors.

It will be made the occasion for showing the famed beauties of this wonderland of the West. Every county and section of the State will bring its choicest products, and place them on exhibition. The city is to be transformed into a fairy land, and the night will be turned into day. Carloads of the choicest fruits will be sent each day from different sections for free distribution. The famous gardens of Santa Clara, Marin and Sonoma counties are to furnish the material for the grandest floral display ever seen. The giants of California's famous forests will be planted at convenient points for visitors to gaze at. Bearing trees from the citrus belt will be brought by the thousands and set along the curbs. Quartz and hydraulic mining will be in full operation as an object lesson to visitors, and oil wells will be bored to show the operation to those who cannot visit every section of the State to behold its wonders and glories.

Fifteen thousand Knights of the Uniform Rank will be in the parade, escorted by the National Guard of California and the troops of the United States Army stationed at the Government Reservation and the forts near the city. Trophies made of California gold and silver, the most valuable ever offered will be given by the citizens for the competitive drill. The temperature in August is mild, from 65 to 70 degrees, with a mild breeze from the ocean. The climate is the most agreeable that can be imagined.

There is ample accommodation in the city for 200,000 visitors—that has been demonstrated on two recent occasions, when fully that number of strangers visited this city at one time, and all were comfortably housed. Besides this, Congress has authorized the Secretary of War to issue 1,000 wall tents for use during the encampment, and as many more tents will be issued as may be required. These and the 5,000 bunks to be placed in the great pavilion, will be at the disposal of members of the Uniform Rank who prefer outdoor life during the camp.

REDUCED RATES TO HARRISBURG.

Via Pennsylvania R.R., Account German Baptist Brethren Conference.

For the German Baptist Brethren conference at Harrisburg, Pa., May 20 to 24, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets to Harrisburg on May 15 to 21, good to return until June 2, inclusive, from all stations on its lines, at rate of single fare for the round trip (minimum rate, 25 cents). An extension of return limit to June 30 will be granted if ticket is deposited with agent at Harrisburg on or before June 2, for which no additional charge will be made.

Holders of special excursion tickets for this event may obtain from the agent at Harrisburg, from May 21 to 24, excursion tickets to all points in Pennsylvania, Maryland, and the District of Columbia, good to return until June 2, inclusive, at rate of single fare for the round trip. Side-trip tickets sold to passengers having tickets to Harrisburg on deposit for extension, will be limited for return passage until June 30, inclusive.

Miss Jackson's Pupils to Appear.

The annual recital of Miss Addie Parker Jackson's pupils will be given at the Casino on May 29.

Don't Start Wrong.

Don't start the summer with a lingering cough or cold. We all know what a "summer cold" is. It's the hardest kind to cure. Often it "hangs on" through the entire season. Take it in hand right now. A few doses of One Minute Cough Cure will set you right. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. Children like it. "One Minute Cough Cure is the best cough medicine I ever used," says J H. Bowles, Groveton, N. H. "I never found anything else that acted so safely and quickly." L. W. Randolph.

ALL DAY SESSION PROVES FRUITLESS

The Statement of President Mitchell Throws No Light on the Situation. He Denies Knowledge of Any Concessions by Operators.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 8.—The executive boards of the United Mine Workers of America for the three districts comprising the anthracite coal region met here at 10 o'clock yesterday morning to consider the report of the special committee which had been in conference with the presidents of the coal carrying railroads and to decide whether the men are to remain at work or go on strike for increased pay, a shorter day's work and an insistance that the coal shall be weighed at the mines.

The miners' representatives were in session all of the day, but nothing was done of which any definite knowledge would be given the public. The meeting as far as the outside world knows made absolutely no change in the situation.

The thirty-four men forming the committee went into session at 10 o'clock in Carpenters' hall and remained together until 4:45, excepting an hour and a half for lunch. When the meeting adjourned, President Mitchell gave out the following meager and indefinite response to a request for an account of what had been done:

"The committee is canvassing the situation very carefully. No decision has as yet been reached. The committee will meet again tomorrow at 9 o'clock a. m."

Further than this nothing authoritative could be learned of the proceedings.

When asked if anything had been heard from the operators, Mr. Mitchell said: "I have heard nothing from the operators. No concessions have been granted, and I know nothing of any movement to secure concessions."

The comparatively early adjournment of the meeting has led to a general belief here that the miners are waiting for something to turn up despite the positive statements of President Mitchell that he knows of no mediatory moves. Many sensational stories are current, among them one to the effect that the companies have a thousand men assembled at Buffalo ready to come on and man the pumps and hoisting engines should the firemen and engineers go out with the miners in case of a strike, as State Secretary Mullahy of the stationary firemen's association has declared they would do.

Students Burned to Death.

RICHMOND, Va., May 8.—Two lives were lost in a fire which destroyed the Burns university school near Charlottesville, Va. The dead are J. C. Knox of Richmond, Va., and Agnew McNeal of Albemarle, Va., both students. Their charred bodies were found in their rooms. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have been incendiary or the result of lightning striking the building. The hostler on the place discovered the flames and immediately gave the alarm. Some of the students escaped by jumping from the windows, and one of the teachers, Mr. Sheffey, was painfully injured in escaping the same way.

Boy of Eleven Charged With Murder

ATLANTA, Ga., May 8.—As the result of the death of six-year-old Colin McDougall of this city, which is claimed to have been caused by sewer gas poisoning, Victor Nutall, aged eleven, has been arrested, charged with the murder of the boy. It is alleged that several days ago Nutall, with two companions, forced the McDougall child to go with them into a street sewer, and while there Nutall is reported to have compelled him to remain under the filthy slime until he had swallowed sufficient sewer gas to cause his death. McDougall died in convulsions last Sunday.

Actors' Home Dedicated.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Amid music, speeches and general rejoicing the handsome new building of the Actors' Fund of America, known as the Actors' home, at West Brighton, N. Y., was dedicated today. Mayor Low, Bishop Potter, the Rev. Dr. Houghton and Joseph Jefferson took part in the dedication ceremonies, and almost every member of the theatrical profession within reach of New York, including managers, players and dramatic authors, in addition to many persons prominent in almost every walk of life, was present.

He Hated Weeds.

HAMILTON, O., May 8.—The will of John D. Maud, a Butler county farmer who died last week, has just been filed here. During all his life Mr. Maud was noted for his hatred of weeds. This characteristic appeared in his will, by which he left $4,000 to the Mound cemetery at Monroe, in whose plot he was buried, "to keep the cemetery free from weeds and all noxious plants which tend to its disfigurement."

To Be the Fastest Afloat.

LONDON, May 8.—It is said that the Cunard line has decided to invite tenders for the construction of a contemplated new steamer for the passenger service between New York and Liverpool which will be the fastest vessel of her kind afloat.

Foot of Snow In Germany.

BERLIN, May 8.—A snowstorm has occurred in southern Germany, and the orchards, which were in bloom, were severely damaged. Snow fell to the depth of one foot. The weather here is unusually cold.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May be of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

The necessity for a law regulating the speed of automobiles was again demonstrated on Saturday when a Philadelphian, in attempting to break the record on a trip from the Quaker City to New York, caused two accidents, one in Princeton and the other in this city, which might easily have resulted in loss of life. New Jersey is now becoming a favorite speeding ground for the horseless carriage people, and, so long as no safeguards are thrown around the sport, their reckless running is a menace to the safety of all travellers along the public thoroughfares.

At the last session of the Legislature a bill was introduced by Senator McKee, which was drawn by former Attorney-General Griggs at the behest of the Automobile Club of America, but it met with defeat. The measure, which prohibited local authorities from requiring a less rate of speed than eight miles per hour in built-up sections, and fifteen miles per hour in portions which are not built up, was regarded as too liberal for the automobilists. The consequence was that no law on the matter was enacted, and so there is no statute in New Jersey for the control of the speed of the machines. In but few communities have ordinances regulating the rate at which automobiles may be run been adopted. The accidents of Saturday, and other similar occurences, which have been numerous in the past few weeks, should arouse the local authorities to remedy the matter as much as lies in their power until the Legislature meets again and adopts a statute amply dealing with the case.—Newark News.

Julia Ward Howe at Carnegie.

The first meeting of the Brain Workers Association to be held Sunday evening in Carnegie Hall, New York, will be addressed by Julia Ward Howe on "The Ethical Office of the Drama." Mrs. Howe also will recite "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," of which she is the author. The object of the association is the aid of worthy genius, and Mrs. Howe has always identified herself with the onward march of men and affairs. Mrs. Howe is the mother of Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of Madison avenue.

TILLMAN EXPLODES.

Senator From South Carolina Makes Fifty Speech.

DEMOCRATS LEAVE THE CHAMBER.

Slaveholding Defended and Government Denounced—Negro Disfranchisement Boasted Of—Root's Reply to House Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Discussion of the Philippine bill in the senate took a sensational turn again yesterday. Mr. McComas (Md.), referring to the alleged cruelties of American soldiers in the Philippines—cruelties which he deeply deplored—told of some of the cruelties which had occurred on both sides during the civil war. Neither side, he said, was to be held responsible for those regrettable occurrences, as neither side approved of them. In this connection he suggested that senators from South Carolina and Mississippi, "where there is less popular liberty than in any others," were shouting loudest for constitutional liberty in the Philippines.

These remarks drew a sensational reply from Mr. Tillman (S. C.), who declared that it was no longer possible to sneer away the responsibility for the infamies committed by the Americans in the Philippines. He said that it it had been known in the south that the reins of government were to be given to the negroes the civil war would have been prolonged indefinitely. He insisted that in order to maintain their self respect the white people of the south had been obliged to subdue the negro by whatever means they could, using the shotgun as one of the means. He frankly described how the negroes had been defeated at the polls, admitting that the whites had got just such majorities as were necessary. "When we get ready to put a nigger's face in the sand," he shouted, "we put his body there too." He declared that the people of the south never would submit to negro domination, and he hoped Republican senators would turn from their "game of deviltry in the Philippines" and assist the south to rid itself of the threat of negro domination.

While Mr. Tillman was speaking many of the Democratic senators left the chamber, his audience on the floor being largely on the Republican side.

Mr. Burton (Kan.) vigorously arraigned Mr. Tillman for his utterances. He asserted that the senator who could defend slavery and government by the shotgun could not be expected to think well of senators who were trying to carry good government to the Filipinos. He was astonished that a senator in one breath should make an appeal for unsullied government in the Philippines and in the next should boast of crimes almost unparalleled in history. Mr. Burton followed with a warm defense of the government policy in the Philippines and became involved in a heated colloquy with Mr. Rawlins (Utah) because he had denounced some of Mr. Rawlins' statements as false. He paid a brilliant tribute to General Funston as one of the great heroes of the army.

The house began consideration of the bill to enable the people of Oklahoma, Arizona and New Mexico to form constitutions and state governments and be admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original states.

Secretary Root has made the following response to the house resolution calling for copies of all orders sent to General Smith and other officers relative to the campaign in Samar:

"No orders or instructions have been forwarded to the commanding military officer in the Philippine Islands relating to the conduct of military operations in the island of Samar or relating to the campaign of General Jacob H. Smith in said island except the 'instructions for the government of armies of the United States in the field,' approved and promulgated by command of President Abraham Lincoln in general order No. 100 of 1863, a copy of which is annexed hereto, and which have been followed and conformed to by all orders made in the Philippines in respect of that campaign so far as the same have been received at the war department.

"It has not been deemed wise or practicable to interfere from Washington with the conduct of military operations on the other side of the world under conditions and exigencies which the competent and faithful officers commanding the division of the Philippines necessarily understand far better than is possible for the war department."

Chicago's Sailors Without Blame.

VIENNA, May 8.—It was learned here that the facts of the reported arrest at Triest of four sailors from the United States cruiser Chicago for alleged disorderly conduct in a cafe are as follows: Last Sunday evening four sailors from the Chicago were baited by a crowd of civilians while ashore at Triest. The police interfered and arrested one of the civilians. The chief of police at Triest says that the conduct of the American sailors ashore was above reproach.

Miners Resume Work.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., May 8.—Work has been resumed at the Sterling colliery, which was tied up by 300 employees last Monday on account of three union men being discharged. The strikers would not resume work until two of the men were reinstated. The colliery is operated by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company.

Mrs. Davis Denies Report.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Mrs. Cushman K. Davis, widow of the late United States Senator Davis of Minnesota, emphatically denied at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel that she was en route to Europe to wed Don Abazuza, formerly Spanish secretary for the colonies. The paper which prints the denial quotes Mrs. Davis as saying: "I am not engaged to Don Abazuza, as dispatches from St. Paul have stated. Even if I were I should not go abroad to marry him. One whom I would marry would have to come to me. I am going to Europe, but the trip is merely for pleasure."

Schley Presentation Postponed.

BALTIMORE, May 8.—Agreeable to the wishes of Rear Admiral W. S. Schley, the presentation of the silver service made from coins taken in the Spanish cruiser Cristobal Colon has been indefinitely postponed. Owing to the death of Admiral Sampson Admiral Schley requested the commission having the matter in hand to abandon the social function which had been arranged for at the residence of Theodore Marburg in this city. The service, together with a letter of presentation from the donors of the magnificent gift, will be sent to Washington by express.

Shipbuilding Statistics.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The census bureau has issued a report on ship building and repairing in 1900. It shows a capital of $77,362,701 invested in the 1,116 establishments reporting for the industry. This amount does not include the capital stock of any of the corporations. The value of the products is returned at $74,578,158, involving an outlay of $2,008,537 for salaries of officials, clerks, etc., $24,839,163 for wages, $3,685,661 for miscellaneous expenses, including rent, taxes, etc., and $33,486,772 for materials used, mill supplies, freight and fuel.

Postal Cars Burned; Mail Saved.

LYNCHBURG, Va., May 8.—Train No. 37, the Washington and Southwestern vestibuled limited, southbound on the Southern railway, ran into the rear of a freight standing at Lawyer's Station, twelve miles below here. Two postal cars, the combination baggage and smoking car and one Pullman were burned. The letter mail and baggage were saved. Engineer McCormick and his colored fireman, Abe Gordon, jumped just before the crash and were painfully cut and bruised, but not seriously hurt. No passengers were injured.

State Experiment Station Burned.

GENEVA, N. Y., May 8.—Fire has destroyed the property of the state experiment station here. Three large barns were totally destroyed and four head of cattle were burned to death. The origin of the fire is not known. The loss was $25,000.

SALISBURY HOPEFUL

Premier Says British Have Made No Concessions.

Message From a Boer Leader to His Wife Says End of the War Seems Drawing Near—Large Capture of Burghers Reported.

LONDON, May 8.—Lord Salisbury during his speech at the annual grand habitation of the Primrose league here said the government had not receded an iota from its previous peace terms to the Boers.

It is stated on reliable authority that several of the Boer commandos have received the burcher delegates in an amicable spirit and that Commandant Boyers is willing to abide by the decision of the Transvaal government. The outlook for peace is encouraging, although there is some opposition among General Delarey's men.

The wife of General Lucas Meyer, the commander of the Orange River State forces, who is in this country, has received a cable message from her husband saying that peace in South Africa is probable.

Advices received here from Pretoria, South Africa, announce that 208 Boers have been captured and that ten burghers were killed in the neighborhood of Lindley, Orange River Colony.

Lord Salisbury in his speech spoke to an immense audience in a much less pessimistic vein than when he was last time heard in public.

He congratulated the league on the stanch support given to conservative governments, one result of which was that Great Britain was now supreme in Egypt, while with regard to Ireland the country need no longer fear the "insane, suicidal projects of imperial disruption supported by many of the opposition statesmen."

At the same time, he added, the country must not expect the "ashes of past conflicts" to be extinguished immediately. Great Britain had had a great and serious war, but, admitting that misery and suffering had been caused, it "must be recognized that the power, prestige, influence and magic effect of our great empire are more potent, more efficient and more admirable than ever before.

"We have suffered," continued the premier, "but we have greatly won."

Banquet For Palma.

CIENFUEGOS, Cuba, May 8.—President Elect Palma was given a banquet by the Spanish colony of Cienfuegos last evening. This entertainment was followed by a ball at the Cuban club. In the morning Senor Palma was given a breakfast by the laborers of the city. This took place on the wharf, which was elaborately decorated for the occasion. The presidential party has left here for Santa Clara, and it will reach Matanzas tomorrow. Senor Palma's party will leave the latter city by steamer for Havana Saturday at midnight, arriving there Sunday morning.

Women's Club Officers.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 8.—The nominating committee of the National Federation of Women's Clubs has completed its list of officers, which is to be voted upon by the federation. The ticket follows: President, Mrs. Dimies T. S. Denison of New York; first vice president, Mrs. Robert Burdette of California; second vice president, Mrs. Emma Fox of Michigan; recording secretary, Mrs. William F. Coad of South Dakota; corresponding secretary, Miss Louise Pappenheim of South Carolina, and treasurer, Mrs. Emma Van Vechten of Iowa.

Taft Starts Saturday.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Governor Taft is busily engaged at the war department disposing of matters relating to the Philippines prior to his return to Manila. He conferred with the president and Secretary Root regarding the friars' lands question. He will leave here Saturday morning for Cincinnati and will sail from New York on the 17th instant. He will stop at Rome to confer with the Vatican authorities touching the proposed purchase by the United States.

President Receives Boer Commander

WASHINGTON, May 8.—W. D. Snyman, the Boer commander who represents Boer interests in this country, lunched with the president yesterday. He declared that there was no significance attached to his presence at the White House and that the visit was purely personal. The other guests were Secretary Root and Governor Taft, who remained to talk over Philippine affairs.

Wants Divorce After Fifty Years.

LOWELL, Mass., May 8.—After a married life of half a century of comparative harmony Mrs. Joshua Daniels of Tewksbury has instituted proceedings here against her husband for separate maintenance, alleging that Mr. Daniels, having become infatuated with a nurse, has taken a stand against his wife. Mr. Daniels is eighty years old.

A Sword For Waller.

NORFOLK, Va., May 8.—A movement has been started here by the Business Men's association looking to the honoring of Major L. W. T. Waller on his return from Manila, he being now en route to his home in this city. It is proposed to purchase a handsome sword for Major Waller. A public reception will also be held in his honor.

New Commander For Ohio G. A. R.

LANCASTER, O., May 8.—Walton Weber of Columbus was elected department commander of the Grand Army of Ohio on the first ballot over five competitors.

AN INVITATION RENEWED.

Among the statements made at the anti-annexation mass meeting Tuesday evening was one to the effect that the columns of the local newspapers were closed to the "antis." It is really pitiable that any well informed man should gain any such mistaken idea of the situation.

Even before the bills were passed by the Legislature, The Daily Press extended a general invitation to both sides offering to publish any fair communications of reasonable length. That invitation has been renewed again and again. A. V. D. Honeyman and Chas. Place have both taken advantage of it. Not a communication against either annexation or consolidation has been declined. In contrast two letters for those propositions have been refused space because the writers refused their names and because they entered into personalities instead of confining themselves to the subjects in question.

The Daily Press is, and always has been, in favor of the establishment of a Greater Plainfield and we intend to make every fair endeavor to bring about the desired result. We are perfectly aware that everybody may not take the same view of the situation. Everyone, however, is entitled to his opinion.

Several columns of arguments in favor of the greater city have already been published. We intend to continue to present reasons for annexation and consolidation. If the opposition does not find them to its notion, we shall be delighted to renew that invitation given so many times before to publish any fair communication on the subject. While the local newspapers have shown that they recognize the best interests of the community by openly advocating the Greater Plainfield laws, it is sheer nonsense to say that the press is closed to the other side. It is an insult to the intelligence of the reading public to attempt to make them believe any such thing.

Twelve painters returned to work yesterday. Their request for an increase of wages was granted but they lacked recognition as union men. The members of the Master Mechanics' Association are no longer bound to employ only union labor. That part of the constitution of the association has been changed. To the public at large, it has very little significance. All they desire is that the men return to work again. It means, however, a great deal to both employer and employe. Now the affairs of plumbers, bosses and journeymen, are the center of interest.

West Sixth street, between Grant and Monroe avenues, at the last meeting of the Common Council, was opened and accepted by the city as one of the public streets and thereby made part and parcel of its municipality. Owing to the efforts of William W. Pearson, a retired lawyer, the ordinance was passed and the property owners are very much pleased at the result as now they can petition for a sewer and have other work done on the street that is necessary.

The sudden death of Surrogate H. N. Spencer was a shock to the community. No one had any idea that his familiar figure would not be seen around here for many years to come. There were few who did not know him and he had a host of friends.

COLUMN FOR THE SHOPPERS

SOME OF ATTRACTIONS TO BE FOUND AT LOCAL STORES.

A Few Interesting Items Concerning Greater Plainfield's Merchants

If you are thinking of investing in a bicycle, VanWinkle, of North avenue, has a full array.

If you want a first-class ten-cent smoke for a nickel you should try one of those Reina finas at T. S. Armstrong's.

If you do not wish to be tempted to hire a natty rig and go for an afternoon's drive, keep away from Love's livery stable, East Second street.

The attractive line of millinery at Bonn's on West Front street is not excelled in the State, besides you can do just as well here as in New York.

Before the real warm weather arrives prepare your wardrobe for it by going to the Paris Cloak Company's place on West Front street and have your summer dresses made.

If your home needs painting or papering do not delay having the work done. The New York Painting and Decorating Company, of Park avenue, is ready to serve you to your satisfaction.

Neuman Brothers, the Watchung avenue grocers, make a specialty of high grade, superior olive oil. They import it direct from France and guarantee it to be the very best quality. It is sold in pint and quart bottles, gallon and half gallon cans.

When a watch or clock gets erratic, it becomes a dangerous article instead of a helpful piece of mechanism. Many an accident has been caused by a slow time-piece. Brown, the English expert, of Watchung avenue, makes a specialty of watch and clock repairing.

Prudent housewives would do well to watch for R. H. Keenan's specialties which are quoted in the columns of The Daily Press. It affords them an excellent opportunity to get the best brands of groceries at a convenient price. All orders received by mail or 'phone will be promptly attended to and delivered free.

OTHER CHARGES.

Men Charged With Assaulting Huff Identified as Railroad Depredators.

Several of the prisoners held in the Somerville jail for assaulting M. V. Huff, last week, have been recognized as members of a gang which have been committing depredations along the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad. They were identified by Chief Detective McNally, of the railroad secret service. As soon as the Somerset county authorities deal with the men, the railroad will prefer further charges against them.

TO CONFERENCE.

Delegates From Mt. Zion A. M. E. Church Left for Camden.

Rev. G. B. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Maynard, of Mt. Zion A. M. E. church, left yesterday for Camden, to attend the A. M. E. conference. It is possible that Mr. Smith may not be returned to Mount Zion church much as the congregation desires him to remain. Under his guidance the church has prospered greatly in the past year and his removal would put an end to much good work.

Many Delegates Expected.

It is expected that there will be nearly two hundred delegates present at the conference of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the East New Jersey Baptist Association to be held in the First Baptist church tomorrow. There will be morning and afternoon sessions.

A Stag Racket.

The I. C. T. Club will give a stag entertainment in its club rooms this evening. Several professional New York entertainers have been engaged to furnish the programme. The honorary members and several local well known young men will be the guests of honor.

Improvements at Roselle.

Attention is called to the advertisemnts in another part of this paper for sealed proposals for crosswalks and the improvement and macadamizing certain streets in Roselle. Any information outside of the advertisements can be obtained from G. A. Rawlins, clerk at Roselle.

School Affairs.

An adjourned meeting of the North Plainfield Board of Education will be held tonight. The supply list for the coming year will be made up in order to give the clerk authority to make the necessary purchases. Also commencement plans will be discussed.

SUBURBAN NEWS

A Department Devoted to the Minor Events in Greater Plainfield's Suburbs by Our Own Correspondents.

DUNELLEN.

The Borough Council has decided to macadamize two blocks on Washington avenue, beginning with Front street. This stretch has been in deplorable condition for a long while and the improvement will be a blessing for teamsters.

The pupils of Whittier school are practicing for the cantata "Snow White" which will be given in Apgar Hall sometime this month.

John Case has disposed of his butcher business to Charles Thorpe, of Plainfield, who will conduct it on a strictly cash basis.

Mrs. A. F. Sampson entertained her sister, Mrs. Louise Holmes, of Plainfield, yesterday.

Mrs. Everett Gordon has returned from a visit with Mrs. Herbert Moore, of Elizabeth.

Prayer meeting was held in both the local churches last evening and was well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertrand Fletcher, of Brooklyn, spent Sunday with relatives in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ross entertained Mr. Ross's brother from Jersey City Sunday.

The cellar for G. T. Schenck's new house on Front street has been dug.

Mrs. Walter Clawson made a shopping trip to New York on Tuesday.

The brass band held a regular practice last evening in Apgar Hall.

The regular weekly meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held today.

Mrs. Maurice Rarick spent Tuesday with relatives in Rahway.

Michael Moynihan visited relatives in Bound Brook yesterday.

Baseball practice was held last evening.

NEW MARKET.

Friendship Social Circle held a regular meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Nelson, of Watchung. The usual pleasant time was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Rogers expect to open an ice cream parlor in the house adjourning their home next Sunday.

Letters are advertised at the post-office this month for H. M. Mabry, Messrs. N. J. Slate Co. and Wm. Moll.

Mr. and Mrs. Aram Nelson have returned home after a week's visit with relatives in Philadelphia.

Miss Mattie Brunnel, of Union, is spending a few days at the home of Mrs. Abram Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pierce, of Plainfield, spent Sunday with R. L. Pierce.

George Logan has been confined to the house by illness for a few days.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Funeral services of the late Robert Jahn and his five-year-old son, Herman, will be held from the Baptist church, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. G. M. Shott will have charge of the services. Interment will be made in the cemetery adjoining the church. It seems strange that the last two fires in the heart of the village should both be caused by an explosion and in each case lives has been lost. The last fire in the centre of the village was the Cook fire several years ago. This was presumably caused by nitro-glycerine or dynamite and one life was lost and one person maimed for life. Too much credit cannot be given the local fire department for good work done. Notwithstanding a great scarcity of water, buildings only a few feet away were saved although on fire a number of times.

No meeting of the Young People's Literary Society was held in the Methodist church last night. Instead the members of the Epworth League met for practice. Sunday evening a special programme is to be rendered at the evening service, it being anniversary of the Epworth League.

The junior baseball team will journey to Westfield tomorrow afternoon to try conclusions with the Westfield High School team. The teams have met twice before this season. Each club has won a victory and the deciding game tomorrow promises to be a good one.

A special meeting of Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company was held in the company's rooms last night to take action upon the death of their brother member, Robert Jahn.

Fanwood Bucket and Engine Company held its regular monthly meeting in its rooms last night. Only routine business was transacted.

Wm. E. Collins has returned from a two-days' stay at Lakewood where he has been attending the Royal Arcanum Grand Council meeting.

The Township Committee will meet in the township rooms tonight at 8 o'clock.

Miss Susie Parse visited friends in Plainfield Wednesday.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

From present appearances the outlook for baseball here this season is not good. The junior baseball nine which was so victorious last year, has not yet formed, and the older baseball element of the town has not put in an appearance.

Harry Hartsel went to Easton, yesterday, on account of the sudden illness of his grandmother of that place.

A meeting of Camp No. 41, P. O. S. of A., will be held in Washington Hall tonight.

Mrs. Fred LaTourette is entertaining out-of-town company.

William Faulks is entertaining relatives from out of town.

Howard Anderson is suffering from a broken arm.

The roads about town were scraped yesterday.

SUDDEN END.

Brogun Brokaw Fell Dead at His Home in Dunellen Yesterday of Heart Failure.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Dunellen, May 8—Brogun Brokaw, one of the oldest and most respected residents of this place, dropped dead at his home yesterday morning. The immediate cause of death was heart failure.

Mr. Brokaw had not been feeling ill up to a few minutes before death occurred. While out working in the garden he became slightly exhausted, and on entering the house a few moments later dropped dead. Mr. Brokaw was seventy-five years of age. He leaves a widow, one son and two daughters.

He was at one time employed by Wanamaker & Brown, of Philadelphia, and more recently, on coming to Dunellen, by Schepflin & Company. He was a member of Holy Innocents' Episcopal church and taught music there for a long time.

GIVEN $5,000.

Mrs. Henry Liefke's Case Against Jersey Central Was Satisfactorily Settled by Her Lawyer.

Mrs. Henry Liefke yesterday obtained a highly satisfactory settlement of her suit against the Jersey Central Railroad Company which was to be tried today. Her lawyer, Craig A. Marsh, accepted the offer of settlement made by the railroad company's lawyers, namely $5,000. Mrs. Liefke received her injuries in December last while alighting from the train at the Grant Avenue station. The railroad company lawyers were John L. Conover, Barcalew and R. V. Lindaberry.

Taken to Supreme Court.

Lawyer R. M. Clark has secured a writ of certiorari from the Supreme Court transferring the proceedings in the case of the Trenton Abbatoir Company against Irma G. Hummer from Justice Smalley's court to the Supreme Court.

Dangerous If Neglected.

Burns, cuts and other wounds often fail to heal properly if neglected and become troublesome sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve prevents such consequences. Even where delay has aggravated the injury DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve effects a cure. "I had a running sore on my leg thirty years," says H. C. Hartly, Yankeetown, Ind. "After using many remedies, I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes healed the sore." Cures all skin diseases. Piles yield to it at once. Beware of counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

A STRONG REVOLT.

Ten Thousand Armed Rebels In Chili Province, China.

PEKING, May 8.—Bishop Favier, the French vicar apostolic in China, has received information to the effect that 10,000 armed rebels, with several cannon, are participating in the revolt at Shengtingfu, Chili province.

It is considered doubtful if Yuan Shi Kai, the governor of Chili, has sent a sufficient force to cope with the rebellion. The bulk of the government forces, with ten Gatling guns, are now due to arrive at the scene of the disturbances.

The leader of the uprising is a military mandarin who killed his family before raising the flag of revolt, so as to prevent their punishment in the event of his failure.

The Plant Estate.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The appraisal of the estate of Henry B. Plant is now going on in this city. The sessions of the appraisers are secret. The Tribune says today that the valuation of the subsidiary and connecting lines making up the Plant system of railroads is under consideration. Some of these are worth little intrinsically, but as a part of the Plant system they have a value much in excess of their original cost. It was learned that the state comptroller's estimate of the Plant estate at the time of Mr. Plant's death was $12,000,000. Since Mr. Plant's death, however, the valuation, it was said, has risen to about $20,000,000. The state's transfer tax of 1 per cent will be levied on the estimated value of the estate at the time of the death.

Many Frenchmen Coming.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The French embassy has been informed that the civil delegation to attend the Rochambeau ceremonies in this city will sail for New York on Saturday aboard the French liner Touraine. This party consists of the envoys from the French foreign office, the representatives of the French ministries of commerce and public instruction, the French commission to the Louisiana Purchase exposition and other nonmilitary officials. The embassy also has been informed that the cruiser Gaulois, which already has sailed for the United States with the army and navy representatives, will make only one stop en route, at the Azores, where she will lie for two days.

President Schurman Declines.

ITHACA, N. Y., May 8.—It is learned here that President Schurman has written Carl Schurz declining appointment to membership on the committee appointed to investigate the alleged Philippine atrocities. President Schurman did not attend the meeting in New York at which the committee, headed by Carl Schurz, was appointed. President Schurman said he feels that the conduct of the investigation and the vindication of the honor of the army may safely be left in the hands of President Roosevelt, who in his order on the subject has nobly voiced the sentiments and determination of the American people.

Southern Methodists Meet.

DALLAS, Tex., May 8.—The first session of the fourteenth quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South was called to order by Bishop Wilson of Baltimore. Distinguished churchmen and laymen were present from all parts of the country. The bishops, with the exception of Bishop Kenner of New Orleans and Bishop Fitzgerald of Memphis, are in attendance.

State Prohibition Convention.

SARATOGA, N. Y., May 8.—The New York state Prohibition convention will be held here Sept. 6 and 7.

NEW WOMAN'S SPHERE

I HAVE scanned carefully the provisions of the great and generous will of Cecil Rhodes so far as these relate to the United States. Giving $10,000,000, a third of a man's whole fortune, toward university scholarships for youths of another country is something the like of which it is safe to say has not before occurred since the world began. Mr. Rhodes has mentioned that two persons from every state and territory in the Union shall be admitted annually by competitive examination as students at Oxford, "in whose glories," writes the effusive Mr. W. T. Stead, "the American descendants of the founders will share equally with those who still inhabit the old country." The will especially mentions that there shall be no race or religious discrimination in the awarding of these scholarships. Thus a raw fish eating Eskimo of Alaska or a New Mexican greaser can share the benefits of this generous will if he can pass examination—all, everybody but a woman, no matter though she have "Lord Christ's heart and Shakespeare's brain." These scholarships are every one in Oxford university, where Cecil Rhodes himself was graduated, and the "glories of Oxford" lack yet their brightest shining, for that university does not admit women students. So, while he believed himself to be doing a generous thing, while all the world blazons his broad mindedness and world patriotism, Cecil Rhodes has actually discriminated against half the human race in this will. It is with infinite sadness I read the provisions of the will. Of course Rhodes never thought of this feature of the case when he drew the testament, never thought of women, though he owed so much to one woman especially. Flora Shaw, colonial editor of the London Times, was the individual who understood Rhodes' enterprises and created British public sentiment in favor of them.

A woman may learn how to be happy though married, also how to be happy though single, simply by training herself to do the best she can with matters that are in her power and not fretting concerning matters that are out of her power. If married and her husband is too mean to live with, then let her leave him and go it alone cheerfully. If hopelessly single, let her remember that of the married women whom she knows at least a third wish they were single or were married to somebody else, and let her, too, go it alone cheerfully. There is a lot of fun to be got out of life wherever you are if you determine that you will have it.

Mrs. Margaret Daly is owner and manager of the First National bank of Butte, Mon. One of her first tasks on assuming ownership was to pay $70,000 which the former cashier had embezzled. It is high time women were becoming bank officials. There has never yet been a woman bank embezzler.

Foot binding is to be done away with in China, but the equally barbarous custom of waist binding still prevails without any sign of letting up in civilized countries.

The members of the Society of the Sons of the Revolution of New York City are at outs—worst of all, too, over a question of fashion. They have a building site for a house for the organization, but it is in a thoroughly unfashionable locality, and some of the high toned Sons vow they won't have the headquarters there. It is only women's clubs that quarrel, is it?

One can hope for and confidently expect any reform to be realized since the barbarous Chinese custom of foot binding is to be abolished. China was the last possible country in which the new woman was to be looked for, yet here she bobs up serenely in the form of the dowager empress herself, who declares that foot binding is "an injury to the good order of creation." In an imperial edict officials throughout the empire are directed to use all moral suasion possible to abolish foot mutilation.

Miss Wilkinson, landscape gardener of the London Public Garden association, has done noble work in establishing tiny parks in the crowded parts of that city. Gardening in all its branches, vegetable, floral and landscape, is an occupation in which women are remarkably successful.

Don't rave about the world's evils. Instruct the world to do and be better and begin on yourself.

Mrs. Lillie Devereux Blake is a woman who does things. Through a suit brought by a woman to recover damages for injuries Mrs. Blake found that under New York law a woman was the servant of her husband and not even entitled to her own earnings. Thereupon Mrs. Blake had an act drafted and laid before the New York legislature giving a married woman who works for wages entire control over such wages. The act was passed and is now law. Let us hope those who receive the benefit of it will be grateful to Mrs. Blake.

ELIZA ARCHARD CONNER.

His Friend, The Enemy

By WILLIAM WALLACE COOK,

Author of "Rogers of Butte," "The Spur of Necessity," "Mr. Fitt, Astrologer," etc.

(Copyright, 1901, by the S. S. McClure Co.)

when he recovered himself, he found that he was sitting on the damp earth, his position in no wise suggestive of dignity. His head had been forced through the crown of his hat and he was endeavoring, in a wild way, to get a view of his surroundings, when Christopher Waffle, Bill Comfort, McQuilkin, Glimmer and Sampson pounced upon him.

"Stand off!" commanded the Colonel, shaking his cane, to which he still adhered with a life-and-death tenacity. "I'll have the law on you! Egad, I'll call you out!"

This was the great man's last defiance.

"Caught!" cried Comfort, laying hold of him and dragging him toward the street.

While the people in the street were deliberating on the fate Keever should suffer at their hands, there was borne to their ears a crash of glass and a form containing a chase full of type for the delayed issue of the Blizzard came tumbling to the ground. This was followed by documents, copy and old papers, which were caught by the wind and scattered broadcast. Then there were sounds of hammering and heavy falls that shook the building to its very foundations, while type cases and type, rollers, brushes, cans of ink and lye and every conceivable thing known to a pioneer newspaper office came raining down from every door and window.

Pinney came out on the steps of the Emporium with a rope, which he waved wildly above his head.

"Hang him!" he shouted, frenziedly. "Hang the scoundrel!"

Guy appeared at the druggist's side as if by magic and snatched the rope from his hands.

"No," cried Guy, sternly. "Nothing of that kind."

"A rail, a rail!" yelled Sampson, ceasing a mad dance around his former employer for the purpose of offering a suggestion. "Ride the gentleman out of town!"

In lieu of a rail, excited hands procured a length of "four-by-four." Keever was placed astride it and then carried, amid hoots and jeers, down the main streets of the town.

And a melancholy figure the doughty Colonel presented.

That white hat, so often and proudly declared to be the badge of his political rank and social position, was still about his ears, while the crown, hinged by a thread at the back, opened and closed with every movement of the four stout men who carried the timber on their shoulders.

The Colonel's clothes were torn, one end of his collar was flapping dismally about his neck and he had lost a shoe, but never once did he forget himself and release his hold upon his cane.

Some two miles out of town the angry citizens dropped their victim roughly and gave him warning, in terms more forcible than polite, never more to show his face within the corporate limits of Concord.

Sampson was the last of the indignant people to make his way back to town. As he was about to pass from sight he turned for one final glimpse of his former employer.

And there the Colonel sat, he, the great man, who had raised out of nothing that monument of tireless energy and intellectual grandeur, The Concord Blizzard! The monument was gone—passed away in a breath—and there he sat, solitary and alone, pondering the depth of his fall.

And Sampson—was he touched by the woful spectacle?

Rearing himself to his full height, he gave a shout of triumph and waved his hat.

"Hit me with your cane!" he shouted, shrilly; "hit me with your cane, will you?"

Then the printer shook his clenched fist, whirled about and disappeared.

CHAPTER XXI.

As time is reckoned, Guy had sojourned in Goodwill county for a period of two weeks, and two days; but in the broad flight of events, affecting his life for better or for worse, this fortnight and more had multiplied itself unceasingly.

He had faced the citizens of Concord very early Wednesday morning and, with the timely aid of Sampson, had succeeded in clearing his fair name of every suspicion. The people began to see how they had wronged the young man, and, as their anger cooled toward him, it mounted higher against the Colonel.

When public opinion had reached the boiling point, the Colonel's castle was stormed and sacked and Guy's last glimpse of the fallen idol was caught from the procession that wended its way down the main street and out of the town. Before these irate citizens returned, the train from the west had arrived and departed, and Guy had gone with it.

His airy dream of a fortune had been snuffed out like a candle in full glare. His inheritance, all that had been saved from the wreck of his father's estate had sunk from a value of many thousands to a few paltry dollars. The dream was past. The stern awakening was at hand, and there was nothing for him but work. As he toiled over some one's set of books, he could reflect philosophically on the "rigor of the game" that had wrecked him.

Miss Betty was the one bright spot in all that chaos of manœuver, plot, counterplot and checkmate. He was in love with her—hopelessly, he feared, in more than one sense of the word. Had Concord won the county seat and had he, in the "boom" that followed, realized a small fortune out of his lots, he might have prosecuted his suit, wooed and won. Let sentimentalists prate as they may, success in business very often goes hand-in-hand with success in love.

Besides, Guy had a reserve of pride. How could he face Miss Betty and tell her that the son of Montfort Herbert had hardly a dollar that he could call his own? No; he would "buckle in," make his mark and then go to her. Months would certainly elapse, perhaps years, but if his love could not withstand the wear of time wherein was it worthy? If she cared anything for him she would wait. On the other hand, if she did not care for him she would marry some one else and he would face the future in a manly way and do his utmost to forget. It was wise counsel that his heart took from his head and he set about his plans with courage and determination.

He made Jamestown his Mecca and there he found a loan and investment concern in need of an assistant bookkeeper. He passed an examination, was found competent and entered at once upon his duties. His weekly stipend was $20—not half the pocket money his indulgent father had at one time allowed him.

It is very easy to work toward a goal as bright as the one Guy had set for himself and it was astonishing how he made shift to economize. Week by week more than half his salary was laid by and, when a month had passed, he was so hungry for news of Concord and Miss Betty that he wrote a line to Pettibone. In the letter he asked how many Concord people had moved to Harmony; asked if the Colonel had ever been heard from; inquired about Waffle, Glimmer, Bilkins and others and requested the sheriff to send him bills for the lumber and hardware used in the ill-fated courthouse. Guy said that he intended to pay these bills and would do so in time. He wrote no word about Miss Betty, eager though he was to hear from her. But Pettibone knew. His reply would be filled with information concerning the owner of the blue eyes, Guy was certain.

After posting the letter he waited. The days passed without bringing a reply and a chill of disappointment swept through the young man's soul. His round of duties became irksome. He was beginning to realize how hard it would be to face the future without Miss Betty. The desire within him to run down to Concord some Saturday night was very strong. During Sunday forenoon he could take an inventory and ascertain how much of the town had been carted away, and in the afternoon he could drive to the other side of the county and find out how much of his town Harmony had already absorbed. He even pictured himself at Willowview indulging in persiflage with the squire over the county-seat contest. He would not reveal the true state of his affairs, but would pose as the wealthy son of Montfort Herbert. A business plea would take him from Willowview Sunday night so that he could get back to Jamestown in time to begin his weekly grind in the loan office. Miss Betty should never know the straits to which he was put until he had wrested a fortune from the clutch of fate and had laid it at her feet, together with his heart.

A REPUTATION.

How It Was Made and Retained in Plainfield.

A good reputation is not easily earned, and it was only by hard consistent work among our citizens that Doan's Kidney Pills won their way to the proud distinction attained in this locality. The public endorsement of scores of Plainfield residents has rendered invaluable service to the community. Read what this citizen says:

Mr. C. D. Lippencott, of 39 Chatham street, says: "I was a victim of kidney complaint and dreadful backache, so bad in damp weather or when I caught cold that I could not get about. I was in the hardware business at this time and the heavy lifting and being on my feet so much greatly aggravated the troubles. I was at my worst when I concluded to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I got them at L. W. Randolph's drug store. It only required a few doses to convince me that I had the right remedy. My backache disappeared before I had finished the first box."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster, Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

AN ORDINANCE

For the assessment of taxes for the year 1902.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That pursuant to the statutes and ordinances and resolutions in such cases made and provided, there shall be assessed and raised by tax for the year nineteen hundred and two, for the general purposes of said City, exclusive of Poor, Library, School, Fire, State and County taxes, the sum of forty-eight thousand three hundred and fifty dollars ($48,350), (this sum includes the sum of twenty-four Thousand dollars ($24,000) to be raised by general tax for street improvements); for the expense for said year for lighting the public streets and places in said city, pursuant to Chapter CCCXVIII of the Pamphlet Laws of 1894, (page 477), as ascertained and determined by resolution of the Common Council and certified to the Assessors of said city, the sum of twelve thousand five hundred dollars ($12,500); for the principal of sewer bonds except obligations, payable out of assessments and temporary obligations as may mature during the ensuing fiscal year, and issued by virtue of the Act of the Legislature entitled "An Act to provide for drainage and sewerage in cities in this State", approved April 7, 1890, and the several amendments thereof and supplements thereto, and proceedings had and taken thereunder in said city, and principal of sewer note maturing during said year under Chapter 33, P. L. 1899, being a supplement to said Act, the sum of five thousand six hundred dollars ($5,600); for interest on the obligations of the city issued under said last mentioned Acts, the sum of six thousand five hundred dollars ($6,500); for the support of the city poor, the sum of four thousand dollars ($4,000); for the maintenance of the Public Library and reading room, the sum of four thousand dollars ($4,000); for the maintenance of a fire department, to be under the control and government of said city, the sum of twenty-one thousand dollars ($21,000); and in addition to the foregoing, a license fee of two dollars ($2) to be paid by the owner of every dog within the City of Plainfield.

Adopted by the Common Council May 5, 1902; approved by the Mayor May 5, 1902.

GUNPOWDER OUTDONE.

A Norwegian Invents a Cannon of Wonderful Projective Power.

BERLIN, May 8.—Professor K. Birkeland, the Norwegian physicist, has been in Berlin recently for the purpose of demonstrating the powers of his electro magnetic cannon before a number of experts in electrical artillery. The results of the demonstrations made by Professor Birkeland have been so convincing that a firm of artillery manufacturers has offered to buy the invention of the Norwegian professor for immediate exploitation provided Professor Birkeland will increase the length of the piece used in the trials so that it will throw a projectile weighing two tons for a distance of twelve miles. The experiments with Professor Birkeland's electro magnetic cannon have so far been conducted upon a smaller scale.

Theoretically Professor Birkeland's device can throw a projectile weighing two tons a distance of ninety miles or even farther by sufficiently prolonging the tube. The principle upon which the new gun acts has not been made public, but it is known that the projectile is expelled from an ordinary cast iron tube thickly wrapped with copper wire. This tube can of course be made more cheaply than the cannon now in use. No explosive gases result from the discharge of the new gun.

Professor Birkeland's invention has stirred up intense interest among technical observers, some of whom are of the opinion that the new gun signifies a greater revolution in fighting material than that brought about by the discovery of gunpowder.

Scholarships For Southern Teachers

NEW YORK, May 8.—By the generosity of George Foster Peabody, V. Everit Macy and John Crosby Brown seven special scholarships have been established in Teachers' college, Columbia university, for the assistance of southern teachers. During the past year these gentlemen have provided special scholarships of a similar nature, and, following the recent educational conferences in the south which they attended, they have voluntarily decided to continue their gifts as a special contribution to the cause of popular education. These scholarships are of the annual value of $300 each. No distinction of race or sex will be considered in making the awards. Any teacher in the southern states may become a candidate by filing proper credentials.

Prelate's Body In State.

NEW YORK, May 8.—While the chimes which he was instrumental in having placed in the tall tower of St. Patrick's cathedral tolled solemnly and thousands of Catholics who loved and revered him stood on the sidewalks with bowed heads the earthly remains of Archbishop Corrigan were taken at 11 o'clock yesterday from the archiepiscopal residence in Madison avenue to the great white basilica in Fifth avenue. Here the body will lie in state until tomorrow morning, when a solemn pontifical mass of requiem will be celebrated and the remains be placed in their last resting place, a vault under the high altar, where now lie the bodies of Cardinal McCloskey and Archbishop Hughes.

Fell 250 Feet and Live.

CRYSTAL FALLS, Mich., May 8.—Three miners employed at the Armenia iron mine, Nester Larson and John and Nicholas Mattson, dropped a distance of 250 feet and live to tell of their experience. They had boarded cage No. 1 preparatory to descending in it, when the brake on the cage in some manner became loosened, and with its human freight it dropped to the bottom. Other men hurried down, expecting to find a cage of dead men, but beyond a broken leg sustained by one of

ON THE DIAMOND.

The Lovell scrubs will contend for baseball honors with the Underwoods next Thursday afternoon.

The St. Mary's junior ball team defeated the Crescent nine on Hope Common Tuesday by 14 to 10. Kiely and Somers were the battery for St. Mary's; Kennedy and Hatner for the Crescents.

The St. Mary Grammar School defeated the New Street nine on Hope Common, Tuesday afternoon, by a score of 14 to 9. The batteries were Kiely and Summers for the Grammar School and Kennedy and Hepner for the New Streeters.

Manager Cose, of the Hopes, has arranged with the Decatur A. C., of New York, for two games in this city on Hope Common July 4. The Decaturs form one of the strongest Metropolitan amateur teams and will make the Hopes hustle to come out ahead.

The St. Mary team has reason to be prond over its signing of Larry Doyle. He is one of the strongest pitchers in the city and, backed by the support he is sure to get from the St. Mary members, the batsmen of the League teams will find him a hard proposition.

Rules to govern the League contests have been formed by the officers, but will not be made public until next week. They are rather strict in one sense of the word, but can easily be lived up to and, if properly observed, will do much to promote baseball in this city.

Some baseball games arranged for Saturday are Hope at Garwood; Safe Works against Scotch Plains, on former's grounds; North Plainfield High School against Rutgers Prep. on former's grounds; Y. M. C. A. against Dunellen, on former's grounds. Manager Moynihan, of St. Mary's, is negotiating with a couple of strong teams and will announce his decision soon.

The baseball match between Plainfield Y. M. C. A. and Dunellen on Pittis Field Saturday afternoon promises to be a sharp contest. The Dunellenites want to be revenged for the defeat inflicted on them last week. Their battery, Brown and Etlinger, are imported cracks from New York, and it is rumored that the second baseman is also a salaried player. But they will have to hustle to defeat the Y. M. C. A. team.

Four Generations of Soldiers.

Soldiering seems to run in the blood of certain families. A typical instance of this is furnished in the person of Mr. William Smith, chief janitor at the Edinburgh Royal Infirmary. Smith's father was a soldier, he himself and four of his brothers "took the shilling" one after another, and he has given four sons and a grandson to the army. This, therefore, is a case of "soldiering" carried through four successive generations, and the youngest of them all is able to make the proud, perhaps unique, boast that not only his great-grandfather, his grandfather and his father, but four granduncles and three uncles, all served their sovereign in the ranks.—London Telegraph.

GRIEG'S MUSIC PLAYED AND GRIEG DESCRIBED

First of Two Musical Lectures Given at Y. M. C. A. Hall by Mr. and Mrs. Gerritt Smith.

THE AUDIENCE PLEASED

HIS COMPOSITIONS WERE SUNG AND RENDERED ON THE PIANO.

Mr. Smith Talked on the Composer and His Works, Describing Them —Was Assisted by Mrs. Smith and Hans Kronold, 'Cellist.

The first of two musical lecture recitals, which are to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Gerritt Smith, of New York, took place in Y. M. C. A. Hall last evening. "Edward Greig, and His Music" was the subject. It was heard and appreciated by a small but select audience of music lovers.

Illustrations of Greig's compositions were given by Mrs. Smith, soprano; Hans Kronold, 'cellist; and Dr. Smith, piano. The programme was made up of eight numbers, comprising twenty-five of Greig's most characteristic pieces. Each one was prefaced by a short description of the theme striven for in the composition and many personal reminiscences gleaned by Dr. Smith during a visit to the composer at his home in Norway, last autumn.

Mr. Kronold's interpretation of the group of numbers allotted him stamped him as a genius. Every bar was colored as weirdly and fantastically as intended by the composer who delights in forceful tones. Mrs. Smith's rendition of some of his most beautiful songs was a treat in itself while the execution of six numbers on the piano by Dr. Smith demonstrated the carefulness and precision with which he has studied the great master.

The programme in detail was as follows:

Piano—Hochzeitstag Auf Troldhaugen, Op. 65, No. 6.
Songs—Margarethlein.
Ein Schwan.
Morning Dew.
Ich Liebe Dich.
'Cello—Melodie. Walzer. Elegie. Norwegisch. } Lyric Pieces.
Piano—Salon. Weigenlied Zu Deinen Fussen. } From Op. 68.
Songs—Good Morning.
From Monte Pincio.
Im Kahn.
Cradle Song.
With a Violet.
'Cello—Morgenstimmung. Anitra's Dance. Solvejgs Song. } Fr. Peer Gynt Suite.
Piano—Erotik. Veglein. } From Op. 43.
Songs—Der Fruhling.
Two Brown Eyes.
Waldwanderung.

Those who served as patronesses were Mrs. J. Kirtland Meyers, Mrs. D. F. Ginna, Mrs. A. C. Baldwin, Mrs. W. L. Saunders, Mrs. George A. Strong, Mrs. M. A. Carman, Mrs. C. W. McCutchen, Mrs. J. Evarts Tracy, Mrs. Isaac L. Miller, Mrs. Stephen Cahoone, Mrs. James W. DeGraff, Mrs. Weir-Lewis, Mrs. Henry D. Hibbard, Mrs. George S. Ring, Mrs. E. R. Ackerman, Mrs. I. H. Brown, Mrs. Josiah Browne, Mrs. Howard Fleming, Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Jr., Mrs. Samuel Huntington, Mrs. F. G. Mead, Mrs. Samuel Kimball, Mrs. E. H. Ladd, Mrs. L. N. Lovell, Mrs. J. H. Howell, Mrs. Mason W. Tyler, and the Misses Evans, Niles, Wells, Fitz-Randolph, Munger, Stewart, Whitney, Smith, Maxson, Ellis and VanBoskerck. The next recital will be given May 28.

Supreme Court Cases.

The Trenton Abattoir Company, through its counsel, Robert M. Clark, has instituted a suit against Harry Ingling, of Pemberton, Burlington, county, for $1,000 on contract; also a suit by the same plaintiff against B. Connor Willy, of Pemberton, for the recovery of $5,000 on contract. The summons in both cases are returnable in the Supreme Court at Trenton May 12.

In Justice Mattison's Court.

A suit has been brought in Justice Mattison's court by Lawyer R. M. Clark for the Trenton Abbatoir Company against Edward Mercier and Sylvester Scribner for the recovery of $200 on promissory notes. Mercier was the maker and Scribner the endorser. The case will be tried May 15.

Walk About Cemetery.

Alex Kane, the contractor, has just completed the laying of a flag walk about St. Mary's cemetery. Four hundred feet were laid on Berckman street and about the same amount on East Third street. The improvement is greatly appreciated by the residents in the vicinity.

MR. M'CUTCHEN LEAVES BOARD OF EDUCATION

Resignation As a Member Accepted Reluctantly by the Borough School Board.

HAS BEEN PRESIDENT.

OTHER MINOR BUSINESS TRANSACTED AT THE ADJOURNED MEETING.

S. St. John McCutchen Had Been Unanimously Requested to Remain in Board, But Insisted on Resignation Being Accepted.

An adjourned meeting of the North Plainfield Board of Education was held last evening. With the exception of Mr. Hallock all the members of the board were present.

There was only one important matter before the meeting. This was the resignation of Samuel St. John McCutchen, which was finally accepted. Mr. McCutchen resigned as president of the board some time ago but retained his place as a member. Two or three weeks ago, he handed in his complete resignation, but his brother members were very loath to lose the services of so valuable a man as Mr. McCutchen had proved himself to be. At the last meeting a petition was drawn up, signed by all the members, asking him to remain, but after careful consideration he found that it would be impossible to further attend to the duties involved.

Mr. McCutchen has been connected with the Board of Education for the past ten years, being president of the body up to a few months ago, and it was with great reluctance that the resignation was accepted. When he was selected last year Mr. McCutchen promised to act only on the stipulation that he would be allowed to retire on the completion of his term. John Valiant, former councilman, was unanimously called to fill the vacant place and was prevailed upon to accept.

Among other business transacted was a report from the book committee read and accepted. The committee on supplies had not been able to get complete estimates, and the matter was left over for the present.

The music committee presented a preliminary report and they were authorized to proceed and given the necessary power.

PAST FOUR SCORE.

Mrs. Rachel Barton Celebrated Her Eighty-First Birthday.

Mrs. Rachel Barton, Central avenue, celebrated her eighty-first birthday yesterday. Last eveneing a large number of friends and relatives of Mrs. Barton gathered at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Moore, to do honor to the occasion, and the venerable woman was the recipient of many congratulations. A most enjoyable evening was spent in amusements and social intercourse. A very pretty mingling of violets and smilax decorated the tables and mantel pieces.

Among those present were Jos. Crowley, of Washington: Dr. C., brother of Mrs. Barton, who is himself 77 years of age. There were also guests from Brooklyn, New York and Jersey City. For her age Mrs. Barton is a very smart old lady. She frequently walks down town from her place of residence on Central avenue.

CASH PRIZES OFFERED.

For Best Essays on the Probation Officer and His Duties.

Mrs. C. B. Alexander, of Hoboken, has offered through the columns of the Review, a paper published by the charities and corrrection department, prizes for the best essay on the probation officer. There will be a first prize of $35, a second of $15, and the best three essays will be published in the Review. An invitation to compete has been extended to all members of graduating classes of New Jersey preparatory schools. Circulars have been sent out to the schools and other places giving all desirable information.

At the Isolation Hospital.

Most of the patients at the isolation hospital are getting along very well. The year-old child of Mrs. Crowley is quite sick, as is also Michael, the young son, but those in charge do not fear any immediate fatal termination of the disease in either case. There seems to be excellent chances for the recovery in each case.

—Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., met last evening and adopted one-half of the new by-laws. The other half was laid over until the next meeting.

HIT BY HAMMER.

John W. Turner Has Brought Suit for Injuries He Received.

John W. Turner, of Somerset street, has brought suit against Ball & Wood, of Elizabethport, for $1,000 for injuries received at the firm's works on April 11 when he was struck in the head by a hammer in the hands of a helper. The suit has been brought in the Union County Circuit Court by Lawyer R. M. Clark, representing the plaintiff and the summons are returnable May 22.

METHODS OF RAISING MONEY

OBJECTION MADE TO ENTERTAINMENTS FOR BENEFIT OF MISSIONS.

Subject Discussed at Women's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society Meeting This Morning.

The semi-annual meeting of the Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society of the East New Jersey Baptist Association is being held today in the First Baptist church. There are over one hundred delegates in attendance. Mrs. Staub, of Elizabeth, the retiring president, occupied the chair during the transaction of business leading up to the election.

After the reading of the various reports, all of which were encouraging and showed progress, the election was held. The following officers were chosen: President, Mrs. J. A. Cubberly, South Plainfield; vice presidents, Mrs. D. J. Yerkes, Plainfield; Mrs. W. D. Fennell, Newark; Mrs. Wm. Myers, Jersey City; corresponding secretary and treasurer, Miss Grace M. Davis, Newark; recording secretary, Miss Florence Bogart, Roselle.

A paper written by Mrs. Wm. Winn, of Camden, and treating of the legitimate forms of entertainment held for missionary purposes was read, followed by a discussion. It was the opinion that most entertainments usually held for raising money for missions could be eliminated, it being a somewhat useless waste of time and energy. The best method considered was the collection of money direct. This part of the programme occupied the time until the closing of the session at 12:30 o'clock, after which dinner was served in the Sunday-school room. The afternoon session was called at 2 o'clock when various papers on foreign missions were presented.

Those in charge of the dinner included Mrs. Harold Serrell, chairman, Mrs. Robbins, Miss Linda Butler, Mrs. Frank W. Jones, Mrs. Elvaine VanName, Mrs. George H. Batchelor, Mrs. Walter C. Dobbins, Mrs. John H. French, Mrs. S. B. Joseph, Miss Florence Marsh, Mrs. J. B. Probasco, Mrs. Clinton Randolph, Miss Pauline Denton and Miss May Shreve.

AMATEUR PLAY.

All is Ready for the Production of "His Excellency The Governor" Tomorrow Evening.

The amateur theatricals for the benefit of The Woman's Exchange, will be given at the Casino tomorrow and Monday nights, and it is predicted by those who have witnessed the several rehearsals, that they will eclipse anything of the kind ever before witnessed in this city.

The play selected for the occasion is R. Marshall's three-act farcical romance entitled "His Excellency, the Governor," which made a great success when first performed at the Haymarket Theatre, London, and had a prolonged run at the Empire Theatre, New York, where it was presented by Charles Frohman's unrivalled company, about two years ago. For the presentation of tomorrow night, entirely new scenery, electrical and mechanical effects have been prepared, and a more handsome stage setting could not be desired. The stage has been enlarged some ten feet in depth, and furnished in sumptious manner under the direction of L. W. Serrell, whose well-known abilities in matters of this nature, are unquestioned.

The cast of characters will be a veritable surprise, and include some of the most talented of the local amateur players. The performances will be the event of the season now drawing to a close, and the interest taken in same, is evidenced by the fact, that the entire seating capacity of the house is sold for tomorrow night, and nearly all sold for Monday night.

Long Waiting List.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Cedar Brook Tennis Club, yesterday afternoon, four applications for membership were received. The club membership is now almost filled and there is a long waiting list. Arrangements have been made for a team match with the Park Club on the latter's courts in the near future.

NEW MEN DID NOT ARRIVE

BUT THEY WILL BE HERE TO BEGIN WORK MONDAY MORNING.

A Misunderstanding As to Time of Meeting Prevented Bringing the Plumbers Here.

Several members of the Master Plumbers' Association have completed all arrangements for the importation of eighteen journeymen plumbers to this city to take the places of the striking men. Owing to a misunderstanding as to time of meeting, they were not brought here yesterday. These men will report to the bosses Monday morning ready to go to work. The shops included in this arrangement are George J. Tobin, A. M. Griffen, Ernest Enander and C. W. Krausse.

Some of the striking journeymen plumbers have been on the lookout for imported men and they have been watching the railroad stations It is not generally believed that any violence will be resorted to by then when the new men arrive.

The situation among the painters remains unchanged. There are a number of journeymen painters at work and it is said that more will return within a short time.

I. C. T. CLUB'S FIRST STAG

MEMBERS AND GUESTS WERE VERY PLEASANTLY ENTERTAINED.

Two Professional Artists Were Assisted by Local Talent—Committee in Charge.

Thirty-five members and twenty guests enjoyed the hospitality of the I. C. T. Club at a stag entertainment given in its rooms, last evening. It was one of the most successful affairs of the many this enterprising organization has given during the past winter.

A social committee, consisting of George L. Apgar, Bert Bilyeu, Clare Bickel, Charles Suhr and Hiram Humes, was in charge during the evening and saw to it that everyone felt at home. Under the direction of V. W. Nash, Jr., a lengthy and most enjoyable programme was rendered.

The features were the contributions of Charles Frain and J. W. Casey, two professional entertainers of New York city. Mr. Casey is a song writer of national reputation and sang one of his most successful compositions, "Sing Me a Song of the Sunny South."

It was followed by several others equally as popular. Mr. Frain gave a number of solos and evoked storms of applause and laughter by his humorous impersonations and monologues.

Other numbers on the programme were boxing contests by Charles Heardle and Charles Overbaugh, Leonce Texier and Bert Bilyeu, Joseph Robinson and Vernon Waters, a fencing contest between Hiram Humes and Vernon Waters, piano selections by Charles Frain, Charles Suhr and Clare Bicknel, vocal selections and specialties by Archibald Hacquer and Thomas Muir and Teutonic and Celtic impersonations by M. Dexheimer Sweeney. Refreshments and cigars served shortly before midnight brought the affair to a close.

MASTER MECHANICS MET.

Arranged Details for Funeral of the Late Robert Jahn.

The Master Mechanics' Association met last evening and arranged for attending the funeral services of their late member, Robert Jahn, at Scotch Plains, this afternoon. The members left North avenue by the trolley at 2 o'clock. L. B. Woolston, John Abbott, David S. Dunavan, C. W. Krausse, of this city, and August Frentz, of Scotch Plains, were appointed a committee to draft resolutions, the same to be presented to the family of Mr. Jahn.

FOR SMALL-POX VICTIMS.

Games and Toys Wanted at Isolation Hospital.

There are several children at the isolation hospital ill with small-pox and within a short time they will be able to play about the room. Any person having picture books, old toys, etc., will confer a favor and considerable pleasure by saving them for the children at the hospital. Health Inspector Addis will call upon any person and get such artiicles if notified of the willingness to contribute.

Before Grand Jury.

The Upson-Huff assault case is now being considered by the Grand Jury. Witnesses were called Wednesday and yesterday to give their testimony.

SUIT AGAINST TROLLEY.

Captain Hand's Van Men Want Damages for Injuries They Received.

Andrew Dominick and Gordon Parsons, employes of Wm. Hand, the truckman, have retained Lawyer R. M. Clark to bring suit against the North Jersey Traction Company, of Newark, for injuries received May 2, when a trolley car ran into a truck which they were in charge of in Newark on the above date. Mr. Clark has commenced to adjust a settlement for the injuries received.

MANY HONORED FRANK HAND

IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL SERVICE WAS HELD YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Rev. C. L. Goodrich Was In Charge —Lodges Conducted Services at the Grave.

One of the largest funerals that has been held in this city in some time was that of Frank Hand, which took place at his late home on East Second street, yesterday afternoon. Not only was there an unusually large gathering of relatives and friends but delegates were present from Jerusalem Lodge, F. and A. M., Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. A. M., and Unity Lodge, No. 102, K. of P., to all of which he belonged.

The obsequies were in charge of Rev. C. L. Goodrich, of the Congregational church, who delivered an impressive and earnest eulogy over the remains of the one whom all knew and loved. At the close he offered a heartfelt prayer which was echoed by all in attendance.

Following the service at the house, the remains were taken to the North Plainfield cemetery where further services were conducted by the lodges. The casket was lowered to its last resting place by four of the deceased's faithful employes, Andrew and William Parsons, James Hill and Ben Perkins.

During the march of the funeral cortege to the cemetery, a guard of honor was formed about the hearse by seventeen colored workmen who have been in the employ of Hand & Son for periods from ten to twenty-five years. It was a mark of respect which showed the regard held for the young man by all his workmen.

Floral tributes were extended by friends to such an extent that the casket was almost buried from sight. There were large set pieces, some of which were from the different organizations and many others from individuals.

RECEPTION TO NEW OFFICER.

New Deputy Grand Master Tier Was Well-Treated by Central Lodge.

Central Lodge, A. O. U. W., gave a reception last night in honor of Deputy Grand Master W. I. Tier, of Rahway, who has been but recently appointed to that office. A short but very enjoyable entertainment was provided, after which refreshments were served and cigars passed around.

At the meeting also a new master workman, William H. Lunder, was elected to fill the place lately made vacant by the resignation of C. E. Hepburn. This caused all the other officers to be advanced at step and they were duly installed by Deputy Grand Master Tier.

SATISFACTORY FINANCES.

Reported at Meeting of Park Golf Club Governors Last Night.

A meeting of the Board of Governors of the Park Golf Club was held at the Park Club house last evening when the finances of the club were reviewed and found to be in very satisfactory condition. Charles C. Burke, of Belvidere avenue, J. B. Betts, of Central avenue, and Sydney R. Titsworth, of West Fifth street, were elected to memebership. Samuel Townsend and Charles B. Morse were appointed to the membership committee of the club.

Found His Friends.

A pleasant surprise party was given to Thomas Randall, of Franklin avenue, Wednesday evening. While he was down town a number of his friends assembled at his home and awaited his coming. The evening was passed in playing games, after which refreshments were served.

Dress Rehearsal.

A dress rehearsal of "His Excellency, the Governor" has been called for this evening. An orchestra will be in attendance and the cast will go through the respective parts as if an audience were present.

PRISONER BROKE JAIL TO AVOID VACCINATION

When He Asked for a Night's Lodging at the Lockup He Didn't Fully Understand.

WAS CAPTURED AGAIN.

HELD UNTIL THIS MORNING WHEN HE WAS VACCINATED DESPITE PROTESTS.

James Lunger, Itinerant Sissors' Grinder, Was Given Lodging at City Jail—He Was Told of Vaccination, Then He Escaped.

While acting Night Sergeant McCarthy was making out reports in one part of police headquarters, last night, a prisoner broke jail in another and made his escape. His freedom was short lived, however, as he was returned to his cell within an hour, but not before several partrolmen had stirred themselves into more activity than they have displayed in many a night.

The prisoner, who was practically not a prisoner, was James Lunger, an itinerant scissors grinder hailing from Grand Rapids, Mich. He is sixty years old and applied in the evening for a night's lodging. Since a smallpox suspect was confined in one of the cells several months ago, all applicants for free board who are accommodated are considered prisoners until morning when they can be vaccinated by a physician. Lunger was not informed of this fact until after he had been comfortably stretched out on the soft side of a cell bench and then he went into hysterics. He declared he had studied the vaccination question from all sides and in his opinion it was all "tommyrot." He demanded to be let go but a deaf ear was turned to all entreaties.

He finally subsided and it was thought he had decided to make the best of the situation but not so. He carefully mapped out a plan of procedure and shortly after midnight settled down to work. The lock on his cell had not been fastened securely and by a little manipulating, he got it off the hasp without attracting any attention. He then tip-toed to the rear hall and thence to the back door, which is ordinarily fastened securely but, on this occasion, was open. Although feeble and anything but agile, the old man passed out into the yard and climbed two high board fences and reached Second street. He then lay down to rest in a front yard.

Soon after he had departed Sergeant McCarthy had occasion to pass the cells and saw that Lunger was missing. He searched about the station and yard without meeting any success and then summoned Patrolman Saffron and McGinley from their posts. They clambered over fences and roamed through backyards in the block bounded by Watchung and Park avenues and East Front and East Second streets, without finding any sign of the scissor grinder.

They were about to give up the search when, as McGinley passed down Second street, Lunger clambered over a fence almost in his arms. He was finally grasped and, on recognizing his captor, set up a howl that could be heard for blocks. He protested in all manner of ways but to no purpose and the relentless bluecoat took him back to the cell he had left.

He was watched closely for the remainder of the night and this morning submitted with great reluctance to having his arm scraped. He left the station vowing he would forevermore give Plainfield a wide berth.

Appraisers at Work.

The appraisers having in charge a settlement of the loss on the Babcock building were in Plainfield yesterday continuing their work of adjusting the loss. The whole day was spent in consultation, but no verdict has yet been announced.

Never Went to Trial.

The case of the Trenton Abattoir Company against VanArsdale & Cotchlein has been settled in full by Lawyer Robert M. Clark, representing the plaintiff, without coming to trial. Settlement was effected last Monday.

Salem's President to Preach.

Another Son.

It was David Ogden Rogers who was in charge of his father's automobile when it crashed into a pole on Richmond street and not N. Pendleton Rogers, Jr., as was stated.

LOCAL SOCIETY SAW PRETTY HOME WEDDING

Marriage of Miss Carolyn Vail, of This City, and Dr. C. N. Cutler, of Boston, Mass.

AFTERNOON CEREMONY.

DR. AND MRS. CUTLER WILL TAKE UP THEIR RESIDENCE IN BOSTON.

Those Who Made Up the Bridal Party—Charming Gowns of the Bride and Her Attendants—The Ceremony Performed at 4:30.

A fashionable home wedding was that of yesterday afternoon when Miss Carolyn Vail, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Vail, of West Eighth street, was united in marriage to Dr. Charles Newton Cutler, of Boston, Mass., in the presence of a large assemblage of people from this city and distant points who are prominent in the social and business world. The palatial home was lavishly decorated for the occasion with the choicest flowers of the season. The parlor, where the joyous event was celebrated, presented an attractive scene in green and white, and in the dining room there was a pretty combination of colors through the use of flowers.

The ceremony was performed at 4:30 o'clock by Rev. Dr. William R. Richards, of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church. Prior to the ceremony there was a rendition of several selections by an orchestra of six pieces. As the bridal party wended its way to the parlor the wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played. The bride was accompanied by her father, who gave her away in marriage.

The bride was richly gowned in white moire Louisine silk, trimmed with old lace. She wore a veil of tulle fastened in the coiffure with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The bridemaids were Miss Charlotte Dwight, of Cincinnati, and Miss Grace L. Day, of White Plains. They were handsomely gowed in pink crepe de chine and lace over pink taffeta. They also wore hats of a pink shade and carried pink roses. The maid-of-honor was Miss Mazie L. Day, of this city, who wore a charming gown of white crepe de chine and lace over pink taffeta. Her hat was of white and pink roses and she also carried pink roses.

The best man was H. Harley Kennedy, of Albany, N. Y., while the ushers were C. Howard Hapgood, of Chicago; Dr. George Hall, Lawrence Fletcher and Dr. W. L. D. Rust, of Boston, Mass.

Following the ceremony from 5 to 7 o'clock a reception was given to Dr. and Mrs. Cutler, when the best wishes of all the guests were showered upon them and a delightful wedding feast was served. During the early part of the evening the bride and groom left Plainfield for an extended wedding journey. Upon their return they will reside in Boston, where the groom has a large practice.

There was a wealth of wedding tokens received by the bride from relatives and friends from near and distant points, including many articles of gold and silverware, cut glass, bric-a-brac.

OFFICERS NAMED.

At Meeting of the Women's Parliamentary Club Held Yesterday.

The Woman's Parliamentary Club met yesterday at the home of Mrs. R. K. Case, on Central avenue, when the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Miss Clementine R. Yates; first vice president, Mrs. R. K. Case; second vice president, Mrs. E. Clark, Jr.; recording and corresponding secretary, Miss Elma Thayer; treasurer, Miss Margaret Case.

Miss Clementine R. Yates and Miss Elma Thayer were elected delegates to the State Federation of Women's Clubs to be held at Montclair May 22. Mrs. J. M. McNaughton and Mrs. A. J. Cadmus were chosen alternates

NEW BAND MASTER.

Duss and His Band Will Make Their Debut at the Metropolitan Opera House.

At the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, Sunday evening, May 25, a new bandmaster and a band will be introduced to the New York public, the bandmaster's name is Duss. He is said to be a genius. He is from western Pennsylvania and the discovery was made by R. E. Johnston who presents him to the New York public.

Music is a hobby with Mr. Duss, he is a man worth many millions of dollars and his conducting of a band is mere pastime. Mr. Johnston has leased the St. Nicholas at Sixty-sixth street and Columbus avenue for the entire summer for this organization where it will open on the night after the Metropolitan appearance.

The St. Nicholas will be turned into a veritable flower garden, several thousands will be spent on its decorations alone. The cold air system will be a great feature as Mr. Johnston guarantees the temperature of the St. Nicholas to be fifteen degrees cooler than the atmosphere outside on any evening it is necessary.

Programmes of great interest [to both the music lover and the layman will be rendered by Mr. Duss and his band, and as Mr. Duss has a reputation of being today the most fascinating, magnetic and sensational conductor of the time, a great season is looked forward to by the management.

A GREAT SCHEDULE.

The Reading's New Plan Has Caused a General Stir—About the Train Service.

The stir the New Jersey Central's recent announcement made in regard to its hourly trains between New York and Philadelphia was far reaching. Very few cities can boast of such a train schedule and the beauty of it is, that it's easily remembered—a train every hour on the even hour from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m.

The locomotives, cars and Pullman cars are the most modern, the roadbed is rock ballasted, and as only hard coal is used there is no smoke or cinders. Every train runs direct to Reading Terminal, Philadelphia, without change and many of them cover the distance in two hours. The Reading Route by which the Philadelphia Line is often known, is not only a short way to Philadelphia, but it is likewise the scenic route. This service goes into effect May 18, but in no way does it impair the fast and elegant service of the Royal Blue Line which will run independently of the Philadelphia Line. c

TEA TABLE TALK.

Short Sketches That Are Not Always News, But Just as Interesting.

An impromptu pig chase, in which a number of locally well known men took part, furnished amusement for a large crowd in the vicinity of Guttridge's store at Netherwood, the other day. The porker was one of a wagon load of diminutive specimens brought to town by "Tune" Melick, known all over the State as the Mayor of Pluckamin. While Tune was busily engaged in talking over the annexation question with several interested parties the pig squeezed between the wagon slats and made a wild dash for freedom. A crowd immediately started in pursuit but the little squealer was game and eluded his pursuers for over a half hour. He was finally firmly grasped by Constable Peter Weaver and returned to the wagon amid the profuse thanks of Pluckamin's perspiring chief executive.

Like a Drowning Man.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such hold of me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marsh, well-known attorney of Nocona, Tex. "I took quantities of pepsin and other medicines but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am sound and well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. L. W. Randolph.

ASBURY PARK READY FOR SUMMER SEASON

Hotels and Cottages Being Occupied and Only Opening of Bath Houses is Lacking.

MR. BRADLEY'S PLANS.

THERE WILL BE SOME NOVELTIES ON THE BOARDWALK THIS SUMMER.

He Has Already Begun His Preparations, But Has Not Yet Made Any Announcement—Meeting of Camp Meeting Association.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Asbury Park, May 9—The warm weather of the past few days has served to bring out rich foliage on the trees, and the twin cities by the sea have taken on their summer garb. The ocean never looked bluer or prettier than now, and the rapid influx of summer cottagers noted during the week is a happy indication of the change soon to take place.

Founder Bradley is seen once more on his board-walk and displays the same jaunty air so familiar to the patrons of Asbury Park, and which has made him a marked figure for newspaper men and the crowds who flock on the boardwalk from year to year. Mr. Bradley, however, is not down for the season, although he makes frequent trips to his seaside domain. What improvements are contemplated on the boardwalk, and whether a new museum will be opened to delight and mystify the summer crowds, can not be stated. The founder of Asbury Park is a very reticent man, and his plans are always left to be inferred or conjectured until the time is ripe for their development. He has not departed from his customary habit this year, but enough is known to state that several novelties will be introduced on the beach, and that the founder in person will again be at the helm.

Very many cottages have been occupied during the week. Others are being prepared for their owners. Real estate agents say that the early opening of the cottage colony is a most gratifying indication of an early season. If the arrivals continue to be as numerous next week as they were this, the Coleman House bowling alleys and billiard rooms will be opened for the accommodation of these summer visitors. At the Marlborough, Grand Avenue, Louraine, Grand Central, Victoria and Tenny House numerous guests have been registered, and there seems to be a universal demand for the opening of one of the larger hotels, which may be acceded to. In any event the season is fairly inaugurated, and it only remains for Founder Bradley to open his bathhouses and pavilions to complete the general transformation.

The semi-annual meeting of the Ocean Grove Campmeeting Association will be held next Wednesday. Although the summer programme has been arranged, the association will attend to the many little details that have so far been overlooked, and may make some changes in the original programme. Reports of the officers and committees for the past six months will be read and acted upon. There are twenty-six members of the association, but three of them died during the past few months. They are Rev. J. R. Van Kirk, of New Brunswick; Holmes W. Murphy and James S. Yard, of Freehold. Carrying out the policy inaugurated last summer, the entertainments in the auditorium the ensuing season will be somewhat subdued, though they are not likely to be commonplace. The musical features under direction of Talli Morgan are certain to be of an unusually high order and will include one of the oratorios as in former years. Mr. Morgan visited the Grove last week and made preparations for forming his monster chorus of 800 voices.

To Consider Benner's License.

At a special session of the Court of Common Pleas held at Elizabeth, Tuesday, Judge Vail granted eighteen licenses to conduct hotels or roadhouses in Union county. The application of John Benner, of Fanwood, was laid over until tomorrow for investigation.

Don't Start Wrong.

Don't start the summer with a lingering cough or cold. We all know what a "summer cold" is. It's the hardest kind to cure. Often it "hangs on" through the entire season. Take it in hand right now. A few doses of One Minute Cough Cure will set you right. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. Children like it. "One Minute Cough Cure is the best cough medicine I ever used," says J H. Bowles, Groveton, N. H. "I never found anything else that acted so safely and quickly." L. W. Randolph.

BRUNSWICK IN TROUBLE WITH PUBLIC BUILDING

Present Contractor Failed to Complete It—The Contract Has to be Awarded Again.

ANOTHER YEAR NEEDED

CONTRACTOR BID TOO LOW SO HE CANNOT COMPLETE THE JOB.

Advance in Price of Material Will Make Some Changes in the Plans Necessary—To Advertise for Bids in a Few Days.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

New Brunswick, May 9—The people of New Brunswick appear to be having a serious time with their new government building. The time limit for its entire completion was reached and passed some weeks ago, and yet the building is, according to the supervising architect, only about six or eight feet above the ground and cannot be completed for a whole year.

Supervising Architect Taylor states that the building will be carried on after the same general plan that was at first agreed upon, but that it is found necessary to somewhat modify some of the details of the plans, owing to the advance in the cost of building material, etc. The plans are therefore being corrected and prepared, ready for a re-letting of the contract for the completion of the work. It is expected that they will be perfected within the next two or three days, and then bids will be advertised for precisely as they were advertised for in the first instance. The advertising must be for thirty days, so that the bids cannot be opened and the contract let again much before the middle of June, and the new contractor will have barely enough time to get the walls up and the roof on before next winter.

The work dragged and was so far behind all last season that the supervising architect was strongly tempted to recommend to the Secretary of the Treasury the cancellation of the contract early last fall, and would have done so then but for the earnest plea of Contractor Gleason for one more trial. Should it now cost the government more than the original contract called for, to fully complete the building, the Secretary will, he announces hold the former contractor and his bondsmen responsible for the additional cost. Mr. Gleason's trouble is said to be due to the fact that his bid was so low that he was not able to comply with the terms of the contract.

Representative Howell, while not directly responsible in any way for the erection of the building, is much disgusted at the fact that the citizens of New Brunswick must now wait another full year at least before they can call at the new postoffice for their mail, while they had expceted it to be occupied by the government by or before this time.

THEATRICAL.

What may be accurately termed a novelty programme is offered at Keith's Theatre, New York, next week. Ernest Hogan, familiarly called "The Unbleached American," than whom there is no funnier or more popular comedian in vaudeville, has just returned from his triumphal tour of Australia and the Hawaiian Islands, and again will delight the many thousands of the Keith clientele. He promises a new repertoire of original darky ditties similiar to those that earned him fame. American's greatest interpreters of rural comedy, Will M. Cressy and Blanche Dayne, owing to their tremendous hit, have been retained for a second week, and will present another delightful little comedy entitled "The Key of C." Joe Reichen and his wonderful dogs will delight the children as well as the adults, and the four Otts, a brilliant family of entertainers, are sure to cause a sensation. The musical part of the programme will be furnished by Howe, Wallen and Walters, three of the greatest musical comedians in vaudeville, the two Rozinos, with their comedy acrobatics; Julian Rose in Hebrew monologues; Milt and Maud Wood, eccentric comedy and dancing; Cadieux, on the bounding wire; Gallager and Barrett, comedians; Hoeffler, the world famous trick bicyclist, and a dozen other stars constitute Keith's brilliant [programme at the Union Square Theatre, New York.

In Justice Huff's Court.

In Justice Huff's court, yesterday, disposition was made of the following cases: H. P. Hirst & Company against Trimmer, Sacher against Wilson, Linke against Anderson, adjourned for one week; Conklin against Ballentine, judgment rendered in favor of plaintiff. In the contract case of Laggren & Ball against Rockfellow Grocery Company, on contract, summons were issued, returnable Tuesday.

Y. M. C. A. CAMP.

Summer Camp on Shores of Lake Wawayanda is Being Arranged.

The Y. M. C. A. boys are to have this season as usual the advantages of a summer camp. The shore of Lake Wawayanda is the chosen site, ideally situated in the midst of a healthy mountain district, and offering special opportunities to the lovers of out-door life.

The fundamental idea of the camp will be the cultivation of manly, Christian character. A day's programme will include a morning and afternoon swim, morning Bible study and evening devotions. In the line of diversion there will be fishing, boating, and field sports a-plenty. Each group of boys will have an assistant leader, responsible for those under his care. Some rules have been formulated for the government of each group, but there is latitude enough for the most fastidious.

The camp will be well supplied with boats, bats, balls, quoits and everything required for the conducting of sports. The reading tent will also be an appreciated feature, provided, as is intended, with interesting books and periodicals, and containing accommodations for writing letters. Particulars may be obtained from J. H. Manning, at Y. M. C. A. building.

Low-Rate Tour to the Yellowstone Park via Pennsylvania Railroad.

On account of the annual convention of the National Educational Association at Minneapolis, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will run a personally-conducted tour to Minneapolis and the Yellowstone Park, leaving New York July 5, and, returning, arriving New York July 20. Round-trip tickets covering all necessary expenses for the entire trip, will be sold at rate of $150 from all points on the Pennsylvania Railroad east of Pittsburg. Rate from Pittsburg $5 less. A special train of Pullman dining, sleeping, compartment, and observation cars will be used. Six days will be spent in Yellowstone Park.

For itineraries and other information apply to ticket agents, Tourist agent, 1196 Broadway, New York; or George W. Boyd, assistant general passenger agent, Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Broad Street station, Philadelphia. 5 9 2 f

NOVELIST MURDERED

Paul Leicester Ford Shot by His Brother.

SLAYER TAKES HIS OWN LIFE TOO

Startling Tragedy Which Occurred at the Author's New York Home the Result of a Controversy Over Property.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Paul Leicester Ford, the celebrated novelist, was shot and killed in his home at 33 East Seventy-seventh street yesterday afternoon by his brother, Malcolm Webster Ford, the athlete, who then committed suicide.

The brothers had been enemies for eleven years, since the death of their father, Gordon L. Ford of Brooklyn, who left an estate valued at $2,000,000 to all of his children save Malcolm, whom he disinherited because of his connection with athletic sports.

Paul Ford was writing at his desk in his house coat when Malcolm entered the room. His wife, who is in a delicate condition, was in her room up stairs.

When Paul refused Malcolm's demand for money, the latter drew a revolver and shot him in the left breast. Paul fell to the floor.

Malcolm stood looking at him a moment and then shot himself through the heart, dropping dead beside his crippled brother. Paul Ford lived for ten minutes. The only words he uttered were:

"I want to die bravely."

Paul Ford was married last year to Miss Grace Kidder, daughter of Edward H. Kidder, a wealthy merchant doing business in this borough and living in Brooklyn.

Previous to that Malcolm Ford was separated from his beautiful wife, who was a Miss Graves of Brooklyn.

This combination of facts served to increase the long standing bitterness between the two brothers.

Soon after the will of the late Gordon Ford was read Malcolm Ford, then living at Babylon, N. Y., brought suit against Paul Leicester Ford and his other brothers and sisters to compel an accounting. He alleged that despite the fact that his father had threatened to disinherit him he had an agreement with the other children by which he was to have a share of the estate.

It was alleged by Malcolm Ford that if it had not been for the opposition of his brother Paul there would have been no difficulty in arranging the settlement which he alleged he had considered a certainty.

The matter has dragged through the law courts ever since, and day by day the feeling of Malcolm Ford against the other members of his family had become more bitter, especially against Paul.

After his marriage Paul Ford moved from the old homestead in Brooklyn to a splendid new house in East Seventy-seventh street. He was weak and a hunchback. His brother of course from his long athletic training was a powerful man. In a physical contest the author stood no show.

Malcolm Ford visited his brother yesterday. The old controversy concerning the money was brought up. Malcolm demanded a settlement. Paul refused. The tragedy followed.

Paul Leicester Ford was one of the best known novelists in the country. His novel, "Janice Meredith," enjoyed a remarkable sale and is still considered a productive piece of property. In its dramatized form it was a great success and was played throughout the country, with Mary Mannering in the star part.

Mr. Ford before his success with "Janice Meredith" turned out a historical novel, "The Hon. Peter Sterling," that was also a great success. He was the author of many other works, several plays and had arranged for the publication of a new novel in the near future.

Mr. Ford enjoyed a wide acquaintance in society. Before he became famous as an author he traveled widely, becoming acquainted with many of the most prominent people in the United States. He was an intimate friend of George W. Vanderbilt, to whom he dedicated one of his books.

Because of his physical deformity Mr. Ford was more or less of a hermit. He suffered a great deal, and, considering his handicaps, the amount of work he performed was wonderful. It is said that he had the finest private library in New York packed away in vaults in the old family residence on Brooklyn Heights.

Palma's Triumphal Journey.

SANTA CLARA, Cuba, May 9.—President Elect Palma arrived here yesterday from Cienfuegos. He was greeted at the residence of the civil governor of Santa Clara province by a great procession of school children singing the Cuban national hymn. The mayors of all the cities of this province were presented to Senor Palma in the afternoon. Later in the day the president elect visited the Provincial exposition, which is now being held here.

Salvador Must Pay.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The United States has won a sweeping victory in the matter of the arbitration of the dispute with the republic of Salvador over the claim of the Salvador Commercial company and other citizens of the United States. Sir Henry Strong and Don M. Dickinson, a majority of the arbitration committee, have rendered an opinion against Salvador for $573,178.

Mrs. Denison Elected President.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 9.—Mrs. Dimies T. S. Denison was elected president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs by a ballot vote of 667 to 258 for Mrs. Sarah Platt-Decker.

ENFORCE THE LAW.

It has been announced that Chief Kiely will insist that automobile owners in Plainfield conform with the law and not attempt to convert the city streets into speedways. It is certainly a commendable course and one which will be extremely popular, even among some of the automobilists themselves. The Common Council saw what was to come and passed an ordinance on the subject some time ago. Now it is for the Chief and his assistants to see that this law is duly enforced.

Despite the fact that some men do not seem to realize it, the automobile has no more privileges on the road than has the ordinary vehicle, drawn by a horse, or the bicycle. The public is not expected to stand aside and allow the horseless carriage to proceed at its own sweet will. It possesses a right to remain on the road and traverse it at a reasonable pace. Special privileges are not accorded it however.

Because a policeman happened to caution a chaffeur about too rapid travelling, the latter individual became abusive. There are too many of these chaffeurs who seem to think that they are the only occupants of the universe and, for the sake of the sport, as well as for the protection of life and limb, it is time that an example was made of some of the worst of these offenders. Automobiling is perfectly unobjectionable until it is carried to excess and then there should be no hesitancy in dealing with it. Chief Kiely will have the support of all good citizens in his attempts to keep the horseless vehicles within the bounds of the law.

The horrible death of Robert Jahn and his little son was one of the most shocking accidents of the year. Known so well in this city, the news of his untimely death caused a feeling of profound sorrow. Accidents of that kind with such fatal results are very infrequent here so when they do happen, they come with almost appalling force.

Funeral of Mrs. Roberts.

The funeral service were held at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon over the remains of Mrs. Fannie E. Roberts, widow of the late Leander Roberts. The services were conducted at the home of her son-in-law, Timothy O. Loizeaux, of Putnam avenue, and were in charge of the Plymouth Brethren. The pallbearers were four grandsons of Mrs. Roberts. Interment was in Hillside cemetery.

Forgot His License.

Sam Wolff, of New York, dropped into town yesterday and began peddling notions, despite the fact that he had no license. He was picked up by Roundsman Mattox who haled him before City Judge Runyon. He promised to get out of the city, on which condition sentence was suspended.

Quietly Had Knot Tied.

Miss Pauline Hurst and John G. Staats, of Netherwood, were married Wednesday evening by Rev. E. M. Rodman at his home on East Seventh street. The groom is employed by J. D. Loizeaux, the lumber dealer. He and his wife will live at Netherwood.

Pedlar's Parade.

The Epworth League of the Grace M. E. church, will give an entertainment, this evening, styled "The Pedlar's Parade." Some unique features are promised. Music will be furnished by an orchestra.

COLUMN FOR THE SHOPPERS

SOME OF ATTRACTIONS TO BE FOUND AT LOCAL STORES.

A Few Interesting Items Concerning Greater Plainfield's Merchants

Your attention is called to the New York Clothing Company's special sales. See ad in this issue.

Carl Peterson, the florist, 217 Watchung avenue, will place on sale Monday a large variety of panises and geraniums.

Things are blooming at Stanley's, North avenue. There are plants of all kinds, besides roses, clematis, hydrangeas, and everything for the aesthetic taste.

For every cash purchase at William W. Wilson's, West Third street, you get a stamp representing a certain amount in cash. A number of these stamps will entitle you to—well, go and see Wilson about it.

In overhauling your pictures for the housecleaning time you may find some that need a new frame or regilding. If so, Philip Swain, of West Front street, is the person to see. He does first-class work at fair prices.

J. P. Powers, the Somerset street pharmacist, has the prettiest window in town. Violets, leaves and blossoms are so arranged as to resemble a vine upon which are hung floral leaves, bath and breath tablets. It is worth seeing.

Variable weather, different sizes, all ages, prevailing style, all are taken into consideration when Harry Werner selects his clothing. The result is, his patrons get the best and are satisfied. Spring styles are now being shown.

John H. Doane, the West Front street shoe merchant, has for years made a special study of the shoe business and prides himself of the fact that he can properly and comfortably fit any kind of a foot. His stock is large and complete as to sizes and quality.

The largest display of furniture in the city is to be seen at the old, reliable house of Powlison & Jones. Prices were never lower and the styles more varied than at present. If you contemplate moving into a new home, improve its appearance with new furnishings.

Ben Fowler, the East Front street confectioner, has added a handsome new wagon to his delivery service. It will be used solely for the ice cream trade which has increased greatly through the superior flavors he manufactures. Orders are delivered every day in the week.

One of the most important special sales of the season is that advertised for today and tomorrow at Hill & Shupp's dry goods store. This firm is now making a decided feature in a mammoth white goods sale, very appropriate to the season. The other departments are brimful of new goods, attractive and reasonable in price.

Red-Letter Day in Hosiery

For Saturday, May 10th.

We have a large Hosiery business, but it should be larger. No department in our large establishment receives more careful attention, or is more elaborately stocked. We place Import orders for nearly all our goods, thus saving the jobbers' profit. This enables us to sell a superior article for a given price. Our Spring Importations are now ready and to quickly introduce them we shall offer extraordinary inducements for Saturday.

At 98c all over lace patterns of fine Silk finished Lisle Thread, with white tipped heel and toe. This stocking is of exquisite beauty and guaranteed to be worth 1.25 pair.

At 89c all over lace of brilliant Lisle Thread, all black, beautifully shaped and superior in finish to silk goods. Real value 1.00 pair.

At 75c lace stripe brilliant Lisle, with white tipped heel and toe, finished with high lustre and daintily fashioned. Many a store would have no difficulty in getting 98c pair for them.

At 50c lace stripe Lisle Thread in 9 dainty fine patterns. This is one of our star numbers and is extremely popular for summer use.

At 50c Gauze Cotton and Gauze Lisle, of unusual beauty and very fine gauze. Color is perfect.

At 50c a full bleached foot black Lisle Stocking of remarkable beauty. High spliced heel and double sole. When visiting our hosiery counter ask to see this particular number.

At 39c pr or 5 pairs for 1.00 black Gauze Lisle and Gauze Cotton of very fine gauze. This stocking retails in many places for 50c pair.

At 39c pr or 3 prs for 1.00 medium weight white sole hose of great durability.

At 25c excellent white foot and white sole hose. Splendid shape, splendid color, splendid goods.

At 25c plain blk Lisle Thread, of medium weight and beautiful finish. This stocking is far superior to the average 25c hose and sells in many places at 35c pair.

At 25c pair our No. 114½. This hose is worth 39c pair or money will be refunded. It is better than any 25c hose sold in New York city and we know it. Extra length, high spliced heel, double sole, etc. Don't fail to ask for it.

At 25c drop stitch Lisle Thread, with pattern running to toe. Color excellent, pattern choice. A very desirable stocking.

At 25c pr lace stripe Lisle Thread, of unusually attractive pattern; fine quality and looks like a 50c stocking.

At 2 pairs for 25c a lace pattern cotton hose of very fair quality and excellent color.

At 10c and 15c good quality, well shaped hose; full sizes and fast black color. These are goods bought directly from the mills and are better than goods at these prices generally are.

At 25c our popular No. 1590½ boys' extra ribbed hose. These goods are made for the hardest kind of wear, yet they are well fashioned, finely finished and absolutely fast black color.

At 25c our celebrated No. 412 ribbed for either boys or girls. Made by same mill as above but lighter in weight and finely finished.

At 25c misses' extra fine light weight lisle thread ribbed hose. This stocking is silk finished and would deceive even a careful observer at first sight into believing it silk.

At 25c the newest lace stripe lisle thread for misses, sizes from 5½ to 8½. This stocking we have waited a year for, the demand for it being so great. It is one of exceptional beauty and cannot be equalled.

FOR STOUT LADIES—Outsizes in plain black and with white soles, at 25c. In drop stitch, plain blk 39c, or 3 for $1. In split sole plain cotton, 39c or 3 for $1. In drop stitch black lisle thread at 50c.

At 10c and 15c pair—Childs' fast black ribbed Hose, with double knee, high spliced heel and double sole. These goods are from a Southern mill, where the cotton grows and labor is cheap. They are much better than you have been buying for these prices.

LICENSES FOR PLUMBERS

Master Plumbers' Association Asks Health Board to Provide for Them in Sanitary Code.

The Master Plumbers' Association has requested the Board of Health to make it compulsory in the sanitary code for the plumbers in this city to take out a license after being examined as to their efficiency by a committee selected for that purpose. The object of the request is that the association and all first-class plumbers shall be protected against poor workmen.

The association asks that the Board appoint one of its number and two members of the association to membership on the committee. This committee will examine all plumbers and ascertain their fitness to have a license. The Board of Health considered the request at its meeting last Tuesday and it was decided to refer the matter to the corporation counsel for an opinion regarding the board's right to issue licenses in such cases.

Miss Nellie McGinnis, Somerset street, has returned from a visit to her sister, Mrs. Harry Cook, Newark.

Dangerous If Neglected.

Burns, cuts and other wounds often fail to heal properly if neglected and become troublesome sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve prevents such consequences. Even where delay has aggravated the injury DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve effects a cure. "I had a running sore on my leg thirty years," says H. C. Hartly, Yankeetown, Ind. "After using many remedies, I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes healed the sore." Cures all skin diseases. Piles yield to it at once. Beware of counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

A CITY DESTROYED.

St. Pierre, Martinique, Laid Waste by Earthquake.

FEARFUL LOSS OF LIFE REPORTED.

British Steamer Escapes From the Island Port With Appalling Story of Destruction From the Recent Seismic Upheavals.

ST. THOMAS, Danish West Indies, May 9.—The British steamer Roddam, Captain Freeman, which left St. Lucia Wednesday for Martinique, has returned to St. Lucia, bringing a report that the town of St. Pierre, Martinique, has been totally destroyed as a result of the volcano disturbances in the island. Almost all the inhabitants of St. Pierre are said to have been killed.

The Roddam reports that all the shipping in the port has also been destroyed. The Quebec Steamship company's steamer Roraima is mentioned as lost with all on board.

The Roddam was almost completely wrecked. Her captain was seriously burned, and seventeen of her crew are dead.

It was announced from St. Thomas last Saturday, May 3, that St. Pierre had been covered with ashes to the depth of a quarter of an inch as a result of the outbreak of the Mont Pelee volcano, and the town appeared to be enveloped in fog.

A second dispatch from St. Thomas, dated May 6, said the flow of lava from the Mont Pelee volcano, which began last Saturday, had completely destroyed the Guerin factories, situated about two miles from St. Pierre. It was also reported that about 150 persons had disappeared and that a great panic prevailed at St. Pierre.

Another dispatch from St. Thomas, dated May 7, said advices received that morning from the island of St. Vincent, British West Indies, announced that for some days earthquakes had been experienced in the neighborhood of the Soufrieve crater, which had been smoking and rumbling. The people in the vicinity of the volcano were leaving for places of safety.

The town of St. Pierre, the commercial capital of the French island of Martinique, is on the west coast. The port there has only an open roadstead. The town has a population of about 25,000.

The island of Martinique contains several extinct volcanoes, the highest point being Mont Pelee, with an altitude of 4,430 feet.

The British steamer Roddam left London April 11 for Barbados.

Mrs. Roosevelt's Garden Party.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Mrs. Roosevelt entertained about 500 guests yesterday afternoon at a garden party in the grounds just south of the White House. She was assisted in receiving by Miss Roosevelt, the two standing beneath a huge elm tree just beyond the steps leading from the south portico of the house. Major Charles McCawley of the marine corps made the introductions. Light refreshments were served in two large flag decorated tents located at the east and west ends of the garden. Music was furnished by the Marine band. President Roosevelt, attired in his riding clothes, appeared during the festivities and greeted the guests, who included, in addition to the cabinet circle, the diplomatic corps, members of the senate and house and their families and others.

A Valuable New Testament.

PRINCETON, N. J., May 9.—A Chinese New Testament of considerable value has been presented to the Theological seminary library. The book, which is a facsimile of the one recently presented to the empress dowager of China and which is probably the only one of its kind in America, was given to the library by Mrs. John Stranoch of Philadelphia. It was presented to her by the British and Foreign Bible society in recognition of the services of her husband, who translated the New Testament into Chinese. The book is bound in full morocco and has solid gold clasps. It was published at the University of Oxford.

Heavy Snow In France and Spain.

PARIS, May 9.—A violent snow storm has swept over the northern section of Paris, lasting for half an hour. The heavy snowfalls continue throughout northeastern and southwestern France. They are accompanied by frosts and the cereal and fruit crops are seriously threatened. Violent snow storms are also reported from the northern part of Spain.

Costa Rica's New President.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, May 9.—Ascension Esquivel was declared president of Costa Rica yesterday. He was elected Feb. 17. The election passed off without the trouble of a revolution, as was expected. The retiring president, Rafael Iglesias, was not a candidate for the second time in November, 1897.

Mail Destroyed In Wreck.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The reports to the postoffice department show that in the railroad wreck near Flagstaff, Ariz., on the Santa Fe road, the entire mail carried on the wrecked train was destroyed. This mail came from southern and central California and was destined for points east and south of Albuquerque, N. M.

OVER THE NORTHERN BORDER.

Wholesale Importation of Aliens From Canada.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., May 9.—While American government officers have been watching lines out of Montreal by which Chinamen have been sent over the border, it is said that the wholesale importation of aliens has been going on among the Thousand islands. United States Government Immigration Inspector Mark Crawford was sent to Brockville, on the Canadian side, to locate the smugglers.

Joseph Tanos, having Syrian quarters on both sides of the line, left Brockville at daybreak with three aliens in a small boat and landed below Morristown, avoiding the customs officers. Tanos sent the aliens on foot to Brier Hill, where they boarded a New York Central railroad train for Pittsburg, getting safely away. Later Tanos made another trip with a Syrian woman, and both were arrested as they were boarding a train and arraigned before the United States commissioner here. The woman was deported to Canada after giving evidence against Tanos, who is held for trial.

Dawes Out of Senatorial Fight.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 9.—The result of the Republican state convention here was a decisive victory for the state administration and for what is known as the "Yates-Hopkins-Lorimer-Northcott combination." The convention indorsed the administration of Governor Yates and the candidacy of Congressman Albert J. Hopkins of Aurora for the United States senatorship by an overwhelming majority. The fight against the indorsement was lead by Judge L. Y. Sherman, ex-speaker of the house of representatives. The convention was the largest held in an off year in Illinois for many years. Charles G. Dawes formally announced his withdrawal as a candidate for United States senator.

Won With Ninety-four Breaks.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Charles W. Flood of this city won the Grand American handicap at targets from a field of ninety-one contestants at Interstate park, Queens, N. Y. He stood on the eighteen yard mark and out of a hundred targets broke ninety-four. Last year E. C. Griffith of Pascoag, N. Y., from the same mark broke ninety-five and won the honors, having previously won the Grand American handicap at live birds.

Three Firemen Killed.

DUBUQUE, Ia., May 9.—Three firemen were crushed to death and another man was badly injured in a fire at the Iowa Iron works. The men were playing a stream of water on the fire near a wall when the latter fell and buried them. The financial loss is $15,000.

Bret Harte Buried.

LONDON, May 9.—Bret Harte was quietly buried at Frimley, Surrey, yesterday in the presence of his widow, son, daughter and a few friends. Many beautiful wreaths were placed upon the coffin.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

Over $10,000,000 worth of gold bearing dirt was ready for washing at Dawson.

A British officer and ten men were killed by a train wreck in the northern Transvaal.

Swan & Finch's oil plant at Elizabethport, N. J., was destroyed by fire; loss, $100,000.

Judge Earle as referee has declared the New York state franchise tax law constitutional.

The British Iron and Steel institute awarded a Carnegie scholarship and a gold medal to students of Columbia university, New York.

FAST TRAIN NOT YET.

Eighteen Hour Run to Chicago Would Be Too Expensive.

NEW YORK, May 9.—George H. Daniels gives out the following statement relative to the possibility of a faster train between New York and Chicago and the position of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad company in the matter:

"The New York Central had under consideration for summer schedule a train leaving New York in the afternoon, say about 4 o'clock, eastern time, to reach Chicago at 9 a. m., central time, making the time through, New York to Chicago, eighteen hours and saving one business day.

"This time is a little faster than now made between New York and Buffalo by the Empire State express, and while it is considered that it can be made with safety the high speed at which the train would have to be run—fifty-five miles an hour, not taking anything out for stops, requiring actual running time for the entire distance at a much higher speed—would necessarily require a light train, say about five or six cars.

"Trains at this high speed, having such limited room for passengers, would require a charge of about $20 per ticket from New York to Chicago to compensate for the added cost of the quick service. The traveling public, not realizing the great cost of running such high speed trains, might consider as unreasonable a rate at $10 per ticket more than that now charged for the twenty-eight hour trains, so it has been decided by the company that the service will not be put on for the present."

ARBITRATION ASKED.

Miners' Committees Propose Leaving Differences to a Board.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 9.—The situation in the threatened miners' strike hangs on the answers that are expected to come to a proposal of arbitration emanating from the miners' committees.

This proposal was evidently agreed upon informally beforehand, for it was only forty-five minutes from the time the meeting convened until adjournment was had.

President Mitchell at the close of the session gave out the following statement:

"The executive committees of the anthracite mine workers' organization have proposed that all questions at issue between themselves and the anthracite mine operators be submitted to an impartial board of arbitration, such board to be selected by the industrial branch of the National Civic federation. This proposition has been sent to the operators by wire. The committees are now awaiting replies."

Telegrams announcing this action were sent to the presidents of the nine big coal carriers and several officers of the Civic federation. President Mitchell declined to make public the full text of the telegrams.

American Bible Society.

NEW YORK, May 9.—At the annual meeting of the American Bible society, held at the Bible House, the eighty-sixth annual report was the chief feature. It is stated that the threatened evils arising from a permanent shrinkage in the support given the society have been arrested. The receipts were $433,173, and the cash balance at the close of the fiscal year was $29,329. The total issues of Bibles of the year, at home and abroad, amount to 1,723,791. This is an increase of 169,063 over those of last year. Of these 686,755 were distributed in the United States, not counting the Philippine Islands, and 1,037,036 in foreign lands. This means an increase of 63,421 in the foreign field and 106,242 in the United States.

Advices From Chaffee.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The following advice relative to the situation in Mindanao has been received at the war department from General Chaffee under date of Manila, May 8: "Brigadier General George W. Davis wires me as follows: 'Situation today every way satisfactory. No hostile shot has been fired since escape of prisoners from guard. Would be exceedingly easy for Moros to climb bluff and cut our telegraph traversing shore of lake four or five miles; not molested. All wounded doing well.'"

Thanks For Queen's Life.

THE HAGUE, May 9.—In the presence of the prince consort and a distinguished congregation which attended Ascension day services at the church in Apeldoorn the Protestant minister of the church delivered an address of thanksgiving for the preservation of the life of Queen Wilhelmina, who, he said, had been saved by the hand of God.

Opposers of Scholarships Defeated.

LONDON, May 9.—At a crowded meeting of the Oxford Union held to discuss the scholarships left by the late Cecil Rhodes a motion to the effect that "Mr. Rhodes' scheme was impracticable and incompatible with Oxford's best interests" was rejected, after much debate, by a vote of 133 to 30.

War on the Mosquito.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Health Officer A. H. Doty, who made such a vigorous crusade last summer against the Staten Island mosquito, is getting ready for another campaign during the coming summer months.

Well Known School to Close.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., May 9.—The Delaware Literary institute at Franklin, N. Y., one of the oldest educational institutions in the state, has decided to close its doors owing to lack of financial support.

His Friend, The Enemy

By WILLIAM WALLACE COOK,

Author of "Rogers of Butte," "The Spur of Necessity," "Mr. Fitt, Astrologer," etc.

(Copyright, 1901, by the S. S. McClure Co.)

Just as Guy, bending mechanically over his ledger, had figured the matter to suit his exacting fancy, he heard a voice in the outer office. He dropped his pen, startled, and his heart leaped into his throat.

"Is this the office of the Jarvis Loan and Investment company?" inquired the voice.

"It is madam," returned the obsequious senior partner. "I am Mr. Jarvis."

"Is there a Mr. Herbert connected with your firm?"

Connected with the firm! Guy shivered and pressed one hand to his throbbing temples.

"There is no such person connected with our firm, madame," returned Mr. Jarvis. "We have an assistant bookkeeper in our employ whose name is Herbert."

Miss Betty there! Guy would have given worlds to effect an escape. He could not even get his coat for that was in the closet beyond the private office.

"I would like to see him a moment, please," said Miss Betty, after a pause.

"Herbert!" called Jarvis in the arrogant tone that is part and parcel of the money-lender. "This way, Herbert!"

Guy was wearing clothes which he had discarded in his better days. He was in his shirt-sleeves and had absently picked up the pen with his ink-stained fingers and placed it behind his ear. In passing the office mirror he halted for a peep at his tumbled hair and careless appearance.

"Herbert, I say!" came from Jarvis, impatiently.

The next moment Guy was in the senior partner's private room.

"What is it, Mr. Jarvis?" he asked.

"A lady to see you," was the short answer.

The young man turned to Miss Betty. Patrician she was from the toe of her daintily shod foot to the feather that crowned her hat.

She gave a start and an amazed look overspread her face. Guy bowed. What did those blue eyes hold besides surprise? Pity? He would have none of that. In an instant he became ridiculously haughty.

"At last," murmured Miss Betty hastening toward him. "At last the lost is found!" She extended a gloved hand which he accepted in a perfunctory way. "Why did you fold your tent and steal away in such nomadic fashion, Mr. Herbert?" she asked.

"I did not know that any one would care," he said, lamely.

"You did not care anyway, that is certain. I am a very persistent person, however, as you must know by this time. I found that Mr. Pettibone had heard from you and I have come to see you on very important business. I am staying with my friend, Mr. James Mortimer. Will you come to see me there, this evening."

"I shall be most happy."

She gave him a quick, penetrating glance and then turned hastily with a little bow and left the office.

"Who is that lady, Herbert?" inquired Jarvis.

"Miss Elizabeth Vlandingham," replied Guy.

"What! Wilbur Vlandingham's daughter?"

"Yes, sir."

"A fine girl and she will come into a property one of these days that will foot up six figures."

These words echoed and reechoed through Guy's brain for the remainder of the afternoon. He felt humiliated. In the midst of his brave thoughts, the son of Mr. Montfort Herbert had been discovered as he was—abject, fortuneless, a waiter upon the grace of the arrogant Jarvis. What could any fine girl with a fortune that footed up six figures do but pity him? Perhaps ask him to Mr. Mortimer's to offer a few hundred as a salve for his poverty? Guy's cheeks were in a flame.

When he had prepared himself that evening for his call at the Mortimer home—one of the finest homes in Jamestown—he had no cause to be ashamed of his appearance. The son of Montfort Herbert, even in his palmiest days, had never looked better.

Once in the drawing-room and Miss Betty came to him quickly. She was clad in a dress of some light, diaphanous material and her Titian hair was a golden glory under the soft light. He wanted to get down on his knees and ask her not to pity him, not to offer him money, not to tender any mistaken kindness which, at her hands, could only abase him in his own estimation. She seated herself close to him, so close that he could look into her blue eyes and note the faintest lights and shadows that played there. A woman's eyes do all the mischief here below. They invite or they flash disdain, reveal nothing of the heart or everything, are angelically kind or cruelly indifferent. A little idle chat and then Miss Betty inquired:

"You came to Jamestown directly after leaving Concord in such a precipitate manner, did you, Mr. Herbert?"

"Directly," he answered.

"And united your fortunes with those of the Jarvis Loan & Investment company?"

"I went to work for them," he said, bluntly, for he had no desire to take refuge behind high sounding phrases. "At one time I was my father's private secretary and kept his books. It is a good thing for a young man to know a trade."

"It is, indeed." She spoke carelessly as though not very deeply impressed.

"Have you heard anything of Col. Keever?" Guy inquired, forcing himself to sudden interest in a topic far from his thoughts.

"Nothing is known about the Colonel except that, after collecting the price of his treachery, he fled to the west."

"I felt all along," said Guy, "that he was a man who could not be trusted."

WHAT CARNEGIE SAID.

Arriving In England, He Predicts Eventual Downfall For Kingdom.

LONDON, May 9.—Andrew Carnegie has arrived in London, and he promptly proceeded to console Great Britain on the subject of the shipping combine by saying there was no cause for alarm.

"To combine the shipping traffic," said Mr. Carnegie, "is a big order. There is a free right of way on the ocean, and the tramp steamers are always with us. The merger may give regular daily sailings to passengers which would be advantageous. I am not in the navigation syndicate, having retired from business and reformed, so I cannot advise you as to the exact character and bearing of the combination, but in my opinion the combine is purely a matter of money making.

"There is no question of patriotism in trade. It does not care a fig for a dag. It is dividends that count. Of course every citizen worth a cent wishes his own country to be first in everything, and a peaceful industrial victory is the only genuine one. Victory through war generally costs more than it is worth.

"If Great Britain continues her costly wars for shadowy ascendency in distant parts and the United States develops her industrial army, there can only be one result—Great Britain will have the shadow and the United States the substance."

After a reference to the booming of the steel combine, saying that the United States was too prosperous to have any surplus stocks of steel for shipment abroad and referring to the development of other lands, Mr. Carnegie reiterated his belief that Great Britain in the future would form a state in the American federation.

"You must some day," he said, "turn your face to your kin beyond the sea. You are not to be a European power in the future, but are to join with your own race in the west.

"Fortunately the feeling toward the old home was never so cordial as now, and race patriotism has taken root."

HETTY TO CARRY A GUN.

The Female Financier Fears Only Lightning and Lawyers.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Hetty Green, the famous woman of finance, has been granted a permit to carry a revolver by the police department. Mrs. Green applied for the permit a week ago to Captain Stephen O'Brien of the Leonard street station, and it was on his recommendation that the permit was given.

Mrs. Green intimated that she had applied for the permit to carry a revolver because of certain unpleasant experiences she had during the past litigation over her husband's estate.

"You must not think," she said, "that I was prompted by fear. I am courageous. There are only two things in the world I am afraid of—one thing is lightning, the other is lawyers."

TO ALEXANDER D. FRAZEE, LULU FRAZEE, BESSIE FRAZEE, CAROLINE REIFF (formerly Frazee), WILLIAM H. REIFF and LILLIA F. MEIGS.

You are hereby notified that at a public sale made by the City Collector of the City of Plainfield on the twenty-fourth day of June, nineteen hundred and one, the Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield purchased for the sum of four dollars and fifty-one cents all the land and real estate situate in the City of Plainfield, in the County of Union and State of New Jersey, fronting on Rushmore avenue, which is laid down and designated as lot No. 232-238, in block No. 456, as shown on the official assessment maps of the City of Plainfield, on file in the office of the City Collector, said sale being made pursuant to the provisions of an act of the Legislature of New Jersey, passed March 30th, 1886, entitled "An Act concerning the settlement and collection of arrearages of unpaid taxes, assessments and water rates or water rents in cities of this State, and imposing and levying a tax, assessment and lien in lieu and instead of such arrearages, and to enforce the payment thereof, and to provide for the sale of lands subjected to future taxation and assessment," and the several supplements thereto and amendments thereof.

And the certificate of said sale was afterward assigned to me. And you are further notified that you appear to have an estate or interest in said land and real estate, and unless the said lands and real estate shall be redeemed as provided in said act before the expiration of one year from and after the service hereof, and when one year has elapsed from and after the time of said sale, a deed for the same will be given, conveying to me the fee simple of said land and real estate, according to the provisions of said act.

Dated, New York, Jan. 9, 1901.

Bitter Philippine Discussion Takes an Amusing Turn.

DOLLIVER AND CARMACK HAVE A TILT

Senator Vest Makes an Important Contribution to American History—Statehood Debate In the House.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Discussion of the Philippine bill in the senate, while it scarcely abated in bitterness, took an amusing phase. In a breezy speech Mr. Dolliver (Ia.) made such a good natured and yet such a sarcastic arraignment of Mr. Carmack (Tenn.) that senators and occupants of the thronged galleries were convulsed with laughter. While seemingly considerable temper was aroused by the debate, good feeling was shown by the active participants in the war of words. Mr. Dolliver and Mr. Carmack, who cordially shook hands and laughed over the encounter.

Mr. Burton (Kan.) concluded the speech which he began Wednesday. He referred as instances of atrocious cruelty to the battle of Wounded Knee, to the Mountain Meadow massacre and to the massacre of Union soldiers at Fort Pillow and contended that the action of the American troops in the Philippines was in most instances entirely within the regulations of civilized warfare.

In response to some statements made Wednesday by Mr. Tillman, Mr. Vest (Mo.) delivered a forceful and effective speech and made a historical contribution with reference to the Hampton Roads conference between President Lincoln and Confederate leaders.

Mr. Vest said, "I am today the only surviving member of the twenty-six gentlemen who acted as Confederate senators."

Mr. Vest then stated that what did happen at Hampton Roads beyond question was this: That when the president and Secretary Seward met the commissioners of the Confederacy Mr. Lincoln, addressing himself to Mr. Hunter, whom he knew well, said:

"In the first place, gentlemen, I desire to know what are your powers and instructions from the Richmond government," avoiding, said Mr. Vest, as Mr. Hunter told him himself, the words "Confederate States."

Mr. Hunter, to whom the inquiry was addressed, said, "Mr. President, we are instructed to consider no proposition that does not involve the independence of the Confederate States of America."

"Then," said Mr. Lincoln, "the interview had as well terminate now, for I must say to you, gentlemen, frankly and honestly, that nothing will be accepted from the government at Richmond except absolute and unconditional surrender."

Mr. Vest said that this terminated the interview, and as the Confederate commissioners retired President Lincoln, addressing Mr. Stephens, who was the last to go out, said:

"Stephens, you are making a great mistake. Your government is a failure, and when the crash comes, as it soon must come, there will be chaos and disasters which we cannot now foresee which must come to your people."

"This account of that interview," continued Mr. Vest, "substantially and almost word for word as I have given it, came to me from Mr. Stephens and Mr. Hunter."

Mr. Vest said that he considered it his duty to make this statement in order that history may not be falsified; in order that the men who were said to have refused this offer at the hands of President Lincoln should not be made to sin in their graves, adding:

"For if they had refused what was said to have been tendered to them by the president they would have been accessories to the murder of every man who fell from that time in defense of the Confederate cause, and they should have given the lie to the intentions which they professed when they risked everything, everything that is held dear among men, in defense of the Confederate cause."

While the deep silence still reigned in the chamber as he spoke and with every eye directed toward him, Mr. Vest concluded as follows: "It may be but a short time until I shall join the twenty-five colleagues I had in the Confederate senate, and I did not want this statement to go into the record of this country without my statement of these facts and my solemn denial that there is a shadow of truth in this assertion which has been going the rounds of the newspapers of the country for the last few years."

The bill to place three new stars in the American flag had the right of way again in the house. General debate, the feature of which was an extended speech by Mr. Grosvenor (O.) in opposition to the measure, was closed at 3 o'clock, and

IMPROVING STREETS.

Borough Street Committee Has Already Inaugurated an Active Campaign This Year.

The street committee of the Borough Council, of which J. K. Arnold is chairman, has had men at work for some days past repairing some of North Plainfield's principal thoroughfares. As a result Jackson avenue, between Watchung avenue and Somerset street, and Manning avenue, throughout its entire length, have been macadamized and fixed up in first-class style, making a marked change in their appearance and considerably increasing their utility as highways for traffic or pleasure. By the end of this week both of these avenues will have received their finishing touches.

At the last meeting of the Borough Council a petition was read from taxpayers asking for needed improvements on Harrison street. Their prayer will be answered next week and that thoroughfare will be made as clean as a whistle. It is the intention also to spend some time and money on Greenbrook road.

All Smoke; No Flame.

The fire department responded to a still alarm about 12:30 o'clock today. It was a case of all smoke and no blaze. It seems that smoke from a wood fire in Abraham Brown's barber shop penetrated from the double chimney into the adjoining apartments of Henry Drake in such clouds that the existence of a fire between the walls was suspected.

Wedded at St. Mary's.

At St. Mary's R. C. church, Wednesday afternoon, Theodore Trentle, of LaGrande avenue, was married to Miss Lillie Dougherty, of West Third street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Andrew M. Egan.

HONORED THE MEMORY OF SURROGATE SPENCER

Services Held From the Home and Church of Holy Cross Yesterday Afternoon.

WERE VERY IMPRESSIVE

EXEMPT FIREMEN TURNED OUT IN A BODY FOR THE FUNERAL.

Many Somerset County Officials and Politicians Were There—Beautiful Floral Tributes—Services Conducted at the Grave.

The funeral of H. Newton Spencer, which took place from his home on Somerset street yesterday afternoon, was the largest that has been seen in North Plainfield for a long time. More than half a hundred carriages were in the cortege that followed the remains from the house to the church of the Holy Cross and afterwards to the last resting place in Hillside cemetery.

Besides the relatives and the immediate friends of Mr. Spencer, a large contingent of county officials and a body representing the Exempt Firemen's Association, were present to pay their last respects to the dead. The pall-bearers were Thos. Doud, Wm. H. Shotwell, ex-Mayor Place, Jacob Voehl, R. M. Fountain, Dr. J. H. Cooley.

The casket was covered with flowers, including many beautiful wreaths. There was a floral pillow from Royal Arcanum, No. 711, a wreath of galyx leaves and calla lilies from Mrs. Robert D. Gibbey, Rahway, a crescent on a pedestal from the Exempt Firemen, besides tributes from the children, one from Mrs. Spencer, and several from friends.

It was 2:30 o'clock when the procession left the house and proceeded direct to the church. A guard of honor from the Exempt Firemen's Association walked on either side of the hearse. The president and vice president carried trumpets wrapped in a heavy crepe mourning cloth, as a marked symbol of regard for their former comrade. The guard was composed of L. E. Barkalew, president; B. A. Mumford, vice president; W. C. Smith, Geo. Ball, Valentine Utzinger, Postmaster Bird, I. D. TenEyck, Assistant Postmaster Jas. Martin. Other members of the Exempt Firemen attended in carriages.

The county officials of Somerset turned out in great force to honor the memory of their late colleague. In attendance from Somerville, were: Judge Schenck, Sheriff McMurtry, Former Sheriff Wyckoff, Prosecutor J. W Griggs, Assistant Prosecutor F. A. Pope, County Clerk Frank Somers, Former Collector N. Y. Dungan, Township Collector Vanderveer, Court Crier Bunn, County Engineer Doughty, Assistant County Clerk Allen. Also present from Somerville were Job Coddington and Lawyers Anderson, Pope and Howard Coddington. Among others noticed were J. Wendell, J. Wendell, Jr., Former Assemblyman E. E. Cooper, of Warrenville, D. Campbell, of Martinville, and Rev. J. D. Cleaver, of Bound Brook.

At the Church of the Holy Cross the impressive Episcopolian burial rites were conducted by Rev. W. Montgomery Downey. Presiding at the organ was Choirmaster W. E. MacClymont, while he along with three others, E. E. Runyon, Morris C. VanArsdale, and Joseph C. Martin sang with a great amount of feeling "Asleep in Jesus," and "There is a Blessed Home." The church was filled to its capacity. After the obsequies were concluded, the majority of those assembled passed up the right aisle around the church to take a last view of the body.

At the grave the officiating clergyman was also Rev. Mr. Downey. The service consisted of the reading of the committal.

Bazaar Next Week.

Arrangements have all been completed by the women of St. Joseph's church, for the bazaar to be held in the Academy building next week. All the beautiful pieces of handiwork made by the sisters are in position and will be shown for the first Monday afternoon when a tea will be given. The exhibit will be open from 3 until 6.

Anniversary to be Observed.

The twenty-first anniversary of the Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church will be observed tomorrow evening, and Rev. Dr. C. H. Pool, of Somerville, will make an address. Dr. Pool is a very entertaining speaker.

NEW ROAD.

Soon to be Laid Out From Lincoln to East Bound Brook.

Counsellor H. C. Suydam, of this city, has made application to the Middlesex county authorities for a new road in Piscataway township leading from Lincoln to East Bound Brook. There is at present a road and bridge over this district, constructed by private enterprise but Mr. Suydam asked that the road be given legal status by being laid out by surveyors of the highway. The request has been granted and six surveyors appointed to meet at Fisher's Hotel, Lincoln, May 28, and lay out the road.

ILLUSTRATED HYMNS AGAIN

ENTERTAINMENT WAS REPEATED AT TRINITY REFORMED CHURCH.

Arranged by J. F. Billett, Under Auspices of the Willing Workers —Those Who Assisted.

In the lecture room of Trinity Reformed church last evening, J. F. Bilett repeated the entertainment of illuminated sacred songs which were given with success a week ago. The affair was given under the auspices of the Willing Workers, a society composed of Horace J. Martin's Sunday-school class. Mr. Billett was assisted in giving the entertainment by Charles E. Vail and his son, Horace Vail, who operated the lantern slides.

Those who sang were Miss Justina Smith, soprano; Miss Sadie Holmes and Miss Bessie Martin, alto; Horace J. Martin, tenor, and Joseph C. Martin, bass. Miss Lillian A. Force acted as accompanist. William H. Miller, of New York, rendered appropriate selections on the piano.

The prorgamme included solos by Miss Justina Smith, who sang "The Holy City." There were also solos by H. J. Martin, J. C. Martin and Miss Edna Cole, while there were recitative parts by Miss Nettie Krietling and Miss Bessie Martin.

COMPANIES MERGED.

S. D. Drake's Interests in Four Companies Consolidated in the Realty Securites Company.

Yesterday the papers were filed with the Secretary of State incorporating the Realty Securities Company, with a capital stock of $500,000. The object of the incorporation is to merge the four companies, of which Silas D. Drake, is president and manager, being the S. D. Drake Realty Company, the Middlesex Land Company, the Union Realty Company, which owns Lincoln, and the Watchung Realty Company, which owns property in Plainfield and ninety acres of land at Trenton.

Prominent capitalists and bankers of Trenton have seen the advantage of this corporation and a great success is predicted for it. Directors, including some of the most prominent people in New Jersey, will be elected at a meeting to be held Monday evening. Within a short time the corporation will be in full swing and some of the best property in the State will be improved and sold.

ELIZABETH'S CAMPAIGN.

Health Board Will Unite Against the Mosquito Pest.

The Elizabeth Board of Health has appointed a committee to co-operate with the citizens in the work of exterminating the mosquitoes.

A week ago when Prof. Robinson and State Entomologist Smith visited the dumping grounds few mosquito larvae were to be seen. Today the water in the stagnant ponds and pools literally swarms with them. If some steps are not taken to mitigate the nuisance the city will be swarmed with mosquitoes by the million. Kerosene oil will be used to sprinkle the ponds and pools and all places that serve as a breeding ground for the wigglers.

Fire in Chimney.

A chimney at the home of Thomas Lumpkins, colored, at 538 West Fourth street, caught fire this noon. The fire department was summoned from box No. 34 and put out the flames in a few minutes. The damage will amout to about $10.

Smoker for Exempts.

The Exempt Firemen's Association is arranging for a smoker and general good time to be held Monday evening, June 2. It will be an open affair and invitations will be issued to all the association's friends.

Called Out Quietly.

A smoking chimney at the home of John Vardon, on Church street, last evening, resulted in the fire department being summoned by a still alarm. An extinguisher put an end to the trouble.

CONCLUDING SESSION OF MISSION WORKERS

Addresses and Reports at the Final Session of Baptist Woman's Missionary Society.

A STATE ORGANIZATION.

MRS. ALONZO PETTIT, STATE PRESIDENT, GAVE AN ADDRESS.

Missionary Exercises in Which the Plainfield Women Assisted—The Newly-Elected Officers Introduced—195 Delegates Present.

The afternoon session of the Woman' Foreign Missionary Society of the East New Jersey Baptist Association, held yesterday in the First Baptist church, proved to be of exceptional interest and attracted a largeer number of women than were present in the morning.

After the devotional exercises, Mrs. Alonzo Pettit, State president of the society, gave an admirable address on State work, also telling of the work being done in foreign fields. Following this talk there was a vocal solo by Miss Bessie Giles.

The next part of the programme was devoted to a missionary exercise conducted by Mrs. F. C. Foster, of Newark, who is State secretary of the Father Lights' Missionary Society. She was assisted by Miss Harriet Shreve, Miss Grace Yerkes, Miss Pauline Denton, Mrs. Herbert Holder, Miss Edith Cairns, Miss Elizabeth Wilson and Miss May Shreve. Mrs. Foster urged the formation of Father Lights' societies in all Baptist churches.

In the report of the treasurer, Miss Grace M. Davis, it was shown that the Women's Circles had given for the year $1,768.86, the Junior Societies, $404.12, and for educationl work $114 was given.

During the afternoon, Mrs. J. A. Cubberley, the new president, and Miss Florence Bogert, the new recording secretary, were introduced to the society. A vote of thanks was extended to the women of the First Baptist church for the excellent dinner and entertainment provided.

The enrollment committee reported that 195 delegates had attended the meeting. After a prayer by Rev. Percy R. Ferris, of Perth Amboy, a hymn was sung and the benediction pronounced by Mr. Ferris. No arrangements were made for a place of meeting next fall, the matter being left to a committee consisting of Mrs. A. H. Ackerson and Mrs. Peckham, of Newark.

AMBOY'S NEW HOSPITAL.

Has Been Opened for Patients—Was Built by Private Subscription.

The new hospital at Perth Abmoy has been opened for the reception of patients. Two physicians and two nurses are in charge of the institution. The building is provided with two wards, with six beds in each, and five private rooms. Dr. G. W. Tyrrell and Dr. F. C. Henry are the first two local physicians to volunteer their services and they will serve two months.

The hospital has been properly furnished by local societies and it is fully equipped with all the latest surgical appliances. The institution was built by private subscription and it is expected that aid will be received from Middlesex county. The cost thus far has been nearly $30,000, and the building is entirely free from debt.

TIME TO SPRINKLE.

May 15 is the Day Set for the Street Railway to Get to Work.

According to the ordinance granting a franchise to the local trolley company, May 15 is the time fixed when the company shall begin sprinkling along the various lines of the road. The people living on the line of the trolley have suffered greatly this year from dust raised by trolley cars and May 15 will be a welcome day to these people. It is generally believed that the company will commence sprinkling on that day without orders from the city authorities.

Reception to Rector.

The women of St. Stephen's church will tender a reception to the new rector, Rev. William Vincent Dawson, Thursday afternoon, from 4 until 7. It will take place in the rectory on Ravine road.

Circus Coming.

Leo Washburn's circus will show in this city next Friday on the West Fourth street grounds.

FOUND A MAN IN HER FLAT

Police Finally Captured a Stranger Who Was Caught by Mrs. Symons in Her Flat.

HAD WATCHES ON HIM.

Was Wanted in Princeton for Grand Larceny—He Was Caught by Two Plainfielders — Was Turned Over to Police—Believed to be a Sneak Thief—McGlinchey His Name.

In the arrest of John B. McGlinchey, of Philadelphia, yesterday afternoon, a few moments after he had ransacked the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. William Symons, of North avenue, the police think they have one of the slickest sneak thieves who has ever operated in this vicinity. Plunder to the extent of $500 was found on his person and numerous pawntickets gave proof that he has disposed of a lot more. He came up for a hearing before Justice Nash, this morning, but at the request of Acting Chief Frederickson, he was remainded until Monday morning at 9:30.

Mrs. Symons started out for a shopping trip about 3 o'clock yesterday but after going a short distance, returned for something she had forgotten. On reaching her flat in the Mulford building, she was surprised to find her bedroom door open and a roughly dressed stranger standing in the entrance. The latter immediately asked if Mrs. Symons lived here, having previously read the name on the door plate. Thinking he was an inoffensive man who wished to see her, she nodded in the affirmative and invited him into the kitchen. She was puzzled, however, about the open door as she thought she had latched it from the inside. It was subsequently learned that an entrance was effected through the transom.

The stranger followed her to the hall but on reaching the top of the stairway, suddenly leaped down and ran to the street. Surmising that something was wrong she hurried to the bed room and at a glance saw the bureau drawers open and the contents scattered about the floor. She then hurried to the street and made the robbery known to a number of men on the side walk, among whom were Edward Flynn and John Kennedy.

From the description she was able to furnish they started in pursuit and reached Watchung avenue just in time to see their quarry turn the corner at East Second street. Both gave chase and captured the man near Church street. He protested they had made a mistake but they refused to let him go and turned him over to Patrolman Lunger. When the prisoner found himself in the policeman's grasp, he put up a fight but was quickly subdued. While on the way to headquarters he blasphemed the bluecoat in a most profane manner.

At the station he gave his address as 529 Vine street, which is a cheap lodging house. Papers, cards and letters in his pockets had Philadelphia addresses on them and there is no doubt that he is from the Quaker City. A search of his clothing revealed three gold watches, one silver watch, a half dozen rings, valuable coins, a revolver and a razor.

Three of the watches, some of the smaller trinkets and the revolver were taken from the Symons flat, while the fourth watch was a gold one valued at $250 taken from the residence of H. Getty Mitchell, of Princeton, two days ago. The local police were given a description of it with other jewelry stolen yesterday by the Princeton police and it was also recognized by a name engraved on the inside of the case. Pawntickets showed how he had disposed of many other pieces of jewelry.

McGlinchey would make no statement to the police and has maintained a moody silence since his incarceration. The Philadelphia police will be communicated with in the hope of learning something about him.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Robert Jahn wishes to extend her deepest thanks to her friends and neighbors and the following organizations for their kindness in her great bereavement: Master Mechanics' Association; Journeymen Plumbers' Association; Exempt Firemen's Association; Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company and the firemen of Scotch Plains; Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, Knights of Pythias, and Gesang and Turn Verein, of Plainfield.

ANOTHER SCHOOL FOR THE WEST END SOON

Present Facilities Are Not Sufficient to Meet the Existing Demands.

MR. MAXSON'S PLANS.

WILL RELIEVE THE CROWDED CONDITION FOR THE PRESENT.

Class Rooms to be Established in Monroe Ave. Church—Increase at Pond's Will Bring More People to West End—The School.

The simple request made by Superintendent Maxson at the last meeting of the Board of Education, that two rooms be hired in the Monroe Avenue church for school purposes at the opening of the fall session, conveys but lightly the cramped condition of the Irving building. It may portend the erection of a new school in that section of the city.

For several years, the spare room in the school has gradually been pressed into service until now not an inch of space is available. When it was erected fourteen years ago it was thought by the school trustees that it would accommodate all the children who might live in the West End for a period of twenty years at least. They did not take into consideration that that section of the city would secure all the manufacturing plants subsequently swelling the residential portion. The result has been the crowding of the large builidng much sooner than expected.

At present several of the grades are compelled to hold two sessions, one set of pupils attending in the morning and the other in the afternoon. This will alleviate the difficulty for the time being but several weeks ago Superintendent Maxson received word from an authoritative source that with the completion of the extensions to the Pond Tool Works 150 skilled machinists would be brought to this city. As they will all settle in the West End with their families the fact is significant. Added to this is the possibility of another large number of new workmen coming to town to occupy the new part of the Hibbard-Rodman-Ely Safe Works, now in course of construction. This factory employes a large force of men and as the firm is enjoying a prosperous season, there is no reason why the force may not be doubled.

Mr. Maxson took this information into consideration and immediately began preparations to increase the school facilities with the limited amount of time at hand. Out of several places offered, none seem adapted to the purpose until he inspected the Monroe Avenue church. Although the idea of renting it was not mentioned to him by anyone connected with it, he consulted with Rev. John MacMurray and learned that the trustees would be willing to do so. The result was the request made to the Board of Education and its favorable reception by the members.

The two rooms to be engaged will fulfill the school needs for some time, or until other plans can be prepared. Being directly across the street from the Irving building it will not inconvenience the puplis in any way. Their rental demonstrates, however, more than reports of cramped classes can, that the West End will shortly require a new and commodious school building.

NEW OFFICERS.

They Are Planning Much Activity for the Reform Club in the Future.

At a business meeting of the Reform Club, held Tuesday evening, Ben Hand was elected president and William C. Smith, Sr., second vice president. The new offices were in charge Thursday evening and conducted a successful meeting. Both made interesting speeches and several solos were rendered by Miss Jennie Smith. C. M. Raybert also spoke.

A meeting will be held in the hall Sunday afternoon when President Hand will give a talk on the objects of the club and outline its principles. An invitation is extended all to be present. Next Thursday evening an entertainment is to be given at the conclusion of which ice cream and cake are to be served.

No More Seeds.

The supply of garden seeds furnished by the Government is exhausted and Senator Dryden announces that he will be unable to supply his friends with any more seeds for the present season.

TEACHERS IN SESSION.

Union County Teachers' Association Met at Elizabeth This Morning.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 10—The Union County Teachers' Association held a meeting this morning in the Morrell street public school. The programme was as follows:

Opening exercises, 9:15; transaction of business, 9:30; "The Teaching of Literature," 9:45; Roland S. Keyser, State Normal School, Jamaica, N. Y.; "The Trees," 10:30, Austin C. Apgar, State Normal School, Trenton; "The Promotion of Pupils," 11:15, general discussion.

PEDLARS WERE ON PARADE

CHIEF FEATURE OF ENTERTAINMENT AT GRACE M. E. CHURCH.

Arranged by the Epworth League—Programme Also Included Music and Recitations.

A large audience attended the entertainment and sale held under the auspices of the Epworth League in Grace M. E. church last evening. The affair was a success in every particular.

During the evening excellent music was discoursed by the Y. M. C. A. orchestra and Miss Gise, of Dunellen, recited most acceptably. A unique and novel feature with which the programme closed was the "peddlers' parade." This was participated in by several young people each one the vender of some special article, from the saleable shoe string to the more popular but less useful ice cream.

The peddlers were Benj. Schuck, shoe strings; the Misses Marion Major and Carrie Pangborn, popcorn; Miss Addie Carney, molasses candy; Charles Hurtt, sandwich man; Ralph Bullman and Ray Stevens, lemonade; Daniel Fairchild, fudge; Louis Hurtt, crullers; Miss Annie Hoagland, cookies; Miss Ella Benner, aprons; the Misses Belle and Jennie DeMott, salted peanuts and bananas; Miss Mary Hoagland, hair bows.

The programme carried out was in charge of the social committee, Miss Mary Steiner, chairman; Mrs. C. H. Greer, Miss Della Voehl, and Mrs. Annie Most, assisted by a literary committee, Ralph Bullman, Ray Stevens and Benj. Schuck.

FRACTURED SKULL.

Twelve-Year-Old Girl Fell From Second Story and Landed on Edge of Stone Areaway.

Edyth Haffner, the twelve-year-old daughter of Frank Haffner, of 428 East Sixth street, lies at her home with a badly fractured skull, unconscious and delirious, from the effects of a fall she received, yesterday afternoon.

In the excitement of a game of hide-and-seek with her brother Frank, she leaned against the closed blinds of a window on the second story of her home, to look into the yard, when they gave way and she fell headlong to the ground. Her head struck the edge of a stone areaway.

Drs. Browning and Adams were immediately summonded and have since been in attendance. It is probable the child will be removed to Muhlenberg hospital tomorrow.

APPLIED FOR RECEIVER.

Rockfellow Grocery Company Made Application at Trenton Thursday.

Application for the appointment of a receiver for the Rockfellow Grocery Company, of Park avenue, was made in the Court of Chancery at Trenton Thursday by the Standard Butter Company and Wilkinson, Gaddis & Company, both stockholders and creditors of the defendant company.

The company has several outstanding claims and judgments against it and owes about $5,500. A representative of The Daily Press saw Fred Stack, of the company, this morning, and was informed that a reorganization of the company would probably be effected very soon and the business would be continued without any interruption.

A Ping-Pong Tournament.

At the regular meeting of Benevolent Council, No. 256, Jr. O. U. A. M., held last evening, a committee, composed of Messrs. Honeyman, Trenchard and Clark, was appointed to secure a ping-pong set and arrange for a tournament to be played by the members. Games are to commence next Friday evening.

—Neuman Brothers are always anxious to be up-to-date and have everything in the fruit and vegetable line just as soon as it can be procured. Today they received a consignment of Maryland strawberries, the first to be put on sale in this city, this season.

ALL SCOTCH PLAINS MOURNED HIS DEATH

Impressive Services at the Funeral of Robt. Jahn and His Little Son Yesterday.

HELD AT THE 'PLAINS.

FRATERNAL BROTHERS OF MR. JAHN CONDUCT SERVICE AT THE GRAVE.

Different Organizations of Which He Was a Member Turned Out in Force to Honor His Memory—Rev. G. M. Shott in Charge.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Scotch Plains, May 10—Not in many years has Scotch Plains witnessed a larger or more impressive funeral than that which took place, yesterday afternoon, when all that was mortal of Robert Jahn and his little son, Herman, was consigned to its last resting place. Every business house in the village was closed and three hundred mourners followed the bodies to the grave. Over half of this number were members of organizations to which Mr. Jahn belonged and as they formed a guard of honor in the funeral procession the spectacle was one long to be remembered.

The Baptist church was the scene of the service which was spoken over the remains of father and son, victims of a sudden and terrible accident. Rev. Gideon M. Shott was in charge. Following a prayer made by Rev. Dr. Park, he announced his text as being found in Kings, xix, 12, "And after a fire, a still small voice." The accident which deprives a happy home of a husband and father and son, he likened to an indication of God's powerful might. The summons is apt to come any time, he said, in one form or another and it remanins for His people to heed His voice and be ready. This comprised the total service at the church, its very simpleness making it all the more impressive.

At the grave, the members of Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, P. of P., assumed charge and their beautiful burial service was carried out under the leadership of George Leighs. The remainder of the mourners stood with bared heads while the casket containing the remains of both, was lowered by George Moorehouse, J. M. B. Pyatt, William Kitchen, Joseph Schreiner, Charles Henckler and Bennett Britton, associates of Mr. Jahn in Goodwill Lodge, K. of P., before is was merged with Perseverance. The first few handfuls of earth were placed on top of the casket covering by the members of the Jahn family and the obsequies were over.

Beside Perseverance Lodge, delegations were present from the Master Mechanics' Association, the Gesang and Turn Verein, and the Tinners and Plumbers Association, of Plainfield, and Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company, of Scotch Plains. All these and many individuals contributed floral emblems many of them being large set pieces.

EVENT OF SEASON.

Will be Production at the Casino Tonight and Monday Night.

The most important local dramatic event of the present season, takes place tonight and Monday night at the Casino, when the amateur theatricals for the benefit of the Woman's Exchange will be given by a number of best and well-known amateur players. Society is on the tip-toe of expectation, for never in the history of local amateur work, has there been such elaborate preparations made for dramatic presentation.

The play selected is "His Excellency, The Governor," which had a great run at the Empire Theatre, New York, where it was performed by Charles Frohman's unrivalled company of players. In the hands of the competent cast who will appear tonight, it will be given with a thoroughness and detail surprising to all who attend.

A good orchestra under direction of P. Ludwig Conde, will render the incidental music. The seating capacity of the house is entirely sold for tonight, but a few choice seats can still be secured for Monday night's performance.

Shoe Social.

A shoe sociable will be given under the auspices of the Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church, in the lecture room of the church Tuesday evening, May 20. The affair will be a novel one.

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May be of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

The sudden death of Surrogate Spencer came as another shock to the community which has been so rudely shaken by the sudden swoops of the grim reaper during the past few weeks. Few knew that he was not in his usual health and ready to receive them with his usual genial smile when the news came of his demise. Mr. Spencer had long been known throughout the county. As the representative of the Republican County Committee in North Plainfield for so many years he became the recognized leader there, and wielded a strong political influence. He held a local office for many years, but first ran for Surrogate ten years ago, but was defeated by Abram Huff. His second venture in a political canvass was successful. Mr. Spencer will be missed by a large number of friends who were closely attached to him.—Somerville Unionist Gazette.

It was an unexpected discovery made by the Board of Freeholders of Middlesex county that the county has no right to issue bonds to build a jail. After the judge of the county had ordered that a suitable jail be erected and bids had been asked for the construction of the building, the whole plan has been temporarily, at least, knocked in the head. This is to be regretted, for the present "paper" jail at New Brunswick is a disgrace to the county and the State. It is remarkable that during the extended discussion of the jail matter the vital point as to the county's right to issue bonds for the purpose without additional legislation was overlooked. Now that the oversight has been discovered, it would be well to take immediate action looking to the preparation of a bill to be submitted to the next session of the Legislature so that it may be passed at the earliest possible moment. There should be no other avoidable delays in beginning the improvement.—Newark News.

THEATRICAL.

"The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" is nearing the beginning of its eighth month at the Broadway Theatre, New York, with the house packed to capacity at every performance. The success this great production has achieved is certainly very flattering to Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger, who hazarded a fortune on the behalf that the public would respond to a great attraction with an enthusiastic generosity commensurate to its merit and importance. That they did not misjudge the public in this respect is shown by the results, which have proved greater than ever before experienced in connection with any amusement enterprise ever staged in this country. Miss Viola Gillette, the beautiful young woman who has made a sensation as "Prince Charming" in this production, has been re-engaged by Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger for the next two years. Arthur Collins, managing director of the Drury Lane Theatre of London, desires to secure her to take the principal role in "Sinbad," the Christmas spectacle for next year, but Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger refused to release her. As the end of the run of "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" approaches, the advanced demand for seats increases. Therefore, all who plan to see this great spectacle will make no mistake in securing their seats at once, either by mail orders or purchase at the box office. Every indication points to crowded houses up to the last performance.

Like a Drowning Man.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such hold of me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marsh, well-known attorney of Nocona, Tex. "I took quantities of pepsin and other medicines but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am sound and well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. L. W. Randolph.

BISHOP VINCENT MAY COME TO PLAINFIELD

Planning to Visit the Places Where the Chautauqua Idea Was First Tried.

WILL VISIT IRVINGTON.

IT WAS WHILE PASTOR AT IRVINGTON THAT FIRST CLASS WAS FORMED.

He Afterwards Established Them Here and in Other Places—Is Returning From Bulgaria to Attend Chautauqua Assembly.

It has been announced that Bishop John H. Vincent, of the Methodist church, during his stay in this country this summer, intends to visit Irvington, near Newark, which was his first field of labor after his ordination, and where, though the fact is probably known to but few, he started the movement which ultimately resulted in the formation of that world-wide educational institution the Chautauqua Assembly. At the same time he is likely to pay a visit to this city where the movement was first thought of. The primary reason for his return to this country after an absence of two years, is to preside over that body during a part of its session, beginning July 2 and continuing until August 28, at Chautauqua, N. Y. Bishop Vincent became pastor of the Irvington M. E. church in 1855. Soon after beginning work there he put into operation the plan of education he had concieved while superintendent of the Sunday-school of the First M. E. church in this city, by forming what was known as a Palestine class, which was composed of the young people of the Irvington church. Meetings were held every Saturday afternoon, with Bishop Vincent as instructor. Its object was the study of sacred history and geography, and a system of graduation was introduced, by which thoroughness in study was secured. At the time Bishop Vincent was taking a course of study at the Newark Wesleyan Institute to complete his higher education, in consequence of his having been unable to enter college. But in addition to this, and his duties as pastor, he found time to increase the course of studies of the Palestine class, which increased rapidly in membership.

After his transfer from Irvington to Franklin he started a Palestine class in the latter place, and later here. All of these classes were continued for some time by his sucessors. In 1857 Bishop Vincent was transferred to the Rock River conference in Illinois, and became pastor of the Methodist church at Joliet. There he also started a Palestine class, which later was formed into what was called a normal class, and was undenominational in character.

Other classes were eventually organized, and in 1861 Bishop Vincent held the first Sunday-school institute in America at Chicago. That same year his book, "Little Footprints in Bible Lands," being the order of studies adopted by him for his Palestine classes, was published, and it became general in the normal classes. In 1865 he published and edited The Northwestern Sunday-school Quarterly, and in 1866 The Sunday-school Teacher, into which he introduced the present system of Sunday-school lessons.

In 1874, Lewis Miller, of Akron, O., who had become interested in the bishop's educational work, suggested making the Sunday-school assembly an annual event, with the result that in August of that year the first Chautauqua Assembly was held at Fair Point, on Chautauqua Lake. Its inspiration was an expanded idea of Bible study, including scientific methods, lectures, discussions, conversations and class drills on all phases of Christian progress, combined with elements of entertainment and recreation appropriate for outdoor summer life. The assembly occupied for the first few seasons the grounds of the Chautauqua Lake Campmeeting Association, chartered in 1871. The new organization, however, was in no sense an outgrowth of the other.

At the first session all of the leading Protestant denominations were represented by persons from forty States and from foreign countries. In 1877 the name Fair Point was, by act of the Legislature, changed to Chautauqua, and in 1878 the Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle was organized. The latter provided for a definite course of reading for individuals and clubs for home study. The Chautauqua University was started in 1885, but afterward its name was changed to "The Chautauqua System of Education," as the word "university" was felt to be misleading and likely to do harm rather than good to the work.

During all these years the growth and work of the movement have been steadily increasing. It has successfully adjusted itself to changed conditions as they have arisen, and this policy steadfastly pursued has been largely responsible for its achievements. Last season in point of attendance and financial receipts was the largest in the history of Chautauqua and even greater results are expected this year.

Bishop Vincent is now in Bulgaria, but will preside over the Italian conference at Turin, Italy, beginning May 14. In a recent letter to a friend he said that he would sail for this country on July 28. When he will visit either Plainfield or Irvington is not known, but it is believed it will be after the close of the Chautauqua Assembly.

SCHOOL DEDICATED.

Mountainside's New Building Formally Opened Yesterday—The Juniors Presented a Flag.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 10—The handsome new public school at Mountainside was dedicated Thursday evening with appropriate exercises. There were nearly 150 people present including twenty-five members of Central Council, No. 131, Jr. O. U. A. M., the Board of Education and a number of parents and children from the vicinity.

During the evening Wm. Stametts, on behalf of the Jr. O. U. A. M., presented a flag to the school. [President Martin Wells, of the Board of Education, accepted the gift with a few well chosen words. Then followed interesting exercises by the children, including recitations, songs, etc.

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE PLANS

WILL BE HELD AT SILVER BAY, LAKE GEORGE, DURING SUMMER.

Begins April 5, and Lasts Ten Days —F. H. Andrews Will be the Presiding Officer.

The international committee of the Y. M. C. A., together with a number of the State committees and the provincial committees, of Canada, have completed plans for a conference at Silver Bay, Lake George, during the summer. The conference is for members of the Y. M. C. A., and will last for ten days beginning August 5.

There will be conferences each day, presided over by secretaries of the International committee and other prominent leaders from the various departments of association work. Discussion of religious work will occupy a portion of time, physical work will be discussed in its various phases; the problem of social work will be considered; educational work will have an important place on the programme; results of investigations of the boy problem will be presented, besides matters of a general nature.

Some prominent speakers have been selected for the occasion chiefly because of the interests they have always taken in young men. Chief among these will be Frederic H. Andrews, of this city, well-known in State Y. M. C. A. work. Mr. Andrews will be the presiding officer of the conference.

In addition to the conference opportunity will be given Y. M. C. A. members to spend their vacation at Silver Bay Hotel, Lake George. The hotel will be open from July 10 to September 30 and every facility for a genuine vacation will be afforded. Lake George is one of the most beautiful and most historic of American lakes, picturesquely situated in the eastern Adirondacks.

FOR CHILD STUDY.

Semi-Annual Meeting of N. J. A. for Study of Children and Youth.

The semi-annual meeting of the Jersey Association for the Study of Children and Youth was held in the Public Library, Newark, this morning. The chief speaker was Professor Will S. Monroe, of the State Normal School at Westfield, Mass., and the other speakers were all from Passaic. The members convened at 9:30 o'clock, and the first speaker was Superintendent Marcellus Oakley, of Englewood. His subject was "Report on a Study of Children's Reading." At 9:45 o'clock there was a "A Passaic Child Study Meeting," and the speakers were Superintendent F. E. Spaulding, of Passaic; Miss Miss Lillian A. Rusling, Miss Sarah Considine, Miss Mattie S. Greelie, Miss Adela J. Smith, Miss Florence M. Rex, Miss Helen L. Speer, Miss Anna E. Clark, Miss Marion L. Newell and Principal M. H. Small, of the Passaic High School. The election of officers took place at 10:30 o'clock, and Mr. Monroe made his address at 11 o'clock.

MISS STONE AT ELIZABETH.

Captured Missionary is Booked to Lecture at County Seat.

Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary who was captured by Macedonian brigands and held in captivity for six months until her ransom, $65,000 was paid, will tell her thrilling story of the captivity in Turkey and Macedonia in Westminster Presbyterian church, Elizabeth, Thursday evening, May 22.

The lecture will be illustrated with stereopticon views of scenes and incidents in the land of her captivity, including portraits of Mme. Tsilka, baby Tsilka and groups of Bulgarians and Macedonians that Miss Stone's missionary work has Christianized; also pictures of the brigands.

CHURCH OPENED.

Presbyterian Church at Liberty Corner Opened After Repairs.

The Presbyterian church at Liberty Corner, which for some time past has been undergoing extensive repairs, was opened for services Thursday. Addresses were made by Rev. Peter Gibb, of Milington; Rev. J. T. Reeve, of Basking Ridge; Rev. Samuel Parry, of Pluckemin; Rev. Lester M. Conrow, of Lamington, and Conover English, of Elizabeth, a grandson of the first pastor. There was special music by a large choir and the new organ was used for the first time.

Pastor Going Away.

Rev. O. G. Norseen, of the Swedish Pilgrim church, left the city today to remain away one week. The church service in the Y. M. C. A. Sunday evening will be led by C. E. Peterson, of East Orange. In addition to being an interesting speaker Mr. Peterson is a vocalist of much merit and will render several selections.

IT RAINED FIRE.

Terrific Volcanic Eruption In Martinique.

FORTY THOUSAND DEAD

Reported Destruction of St. Pierre Is Confirmed.

DETAILS OF AWFUL CATASTROPHE

Latest News From the West Indies Say the Ill Fated City Was Overwhelmed In Three Minutes, and Only Twenty Escaped Out of 25,000 Inhabitants—United States Consul Is Among the Victims.

ST. THOMAS, Danish West Indies, May 10.—It is now estimated that 40,000 persons perished as a result of the volcanic eruption in the island of Martinique.

The British schooner Ocean Traveler of St. John, N. B., has just arrived at the island of Dominica, British West Indies. She reported having been obliged to flee from the island of St. Vincent, British West Indies, during the afternoon of Wednesday, May 7, in consequence of a heavy fall of sand from a volcano which was erupting there. She tried to reach the island of St. Lucia, British West Indies, but adverse currents prevented her from so doing. The schooner arrived opposite St. Pierre, Martinique, Thursday morning, May 8.

While about a mile off the volcano of Mont Pelee exploded, and fire from it swept the whole town of St. Pierre, destroying the town and the shipping there, including the cable repair ship Grappler of the West India and Panama Telegraph company of London, which was engaged in repairing the cable near the Guerin factory. The Ocean Traveler while on her way to Dominica encountered a quantity of wreckage.

ONLY TWENTY ESCAPED.

United States Consul and Family Killed at St. Pierre.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The following cablegram has just been received at the state department from Consul Ayme, dated Pointe a Pitre, French West Indies, May 9:

"At 7 o'clock a. m. on the 8th inst. a storm of steam, mud and fire enveloped St. Pierre and vicinity. Not more than twenty persons escaped with their lives. Eighteen vessels were burned and sunk with all on board, including four American vessels and a steamer from Quebec named Roraima. The United States consul and family are reported among the victims. A war vessel has come to Guadeloupe for provisions and will leave at 5 o'clock tomorrow."

The state department has been receiving dispatches from commercial houses in New York asking that a warship be sent at once to Martinique to afford relief. The matter is under consideration.

The consul at Martinique is Thomas T. Prentis. He was born in Michigan and was appointed from Massachusetts as consul at Seychelles islands in 1871 and later served as consul at Port Louis, Mauritius, Rouen, France and Batavia. He was appointed consul at Martinique in 1900. The vice consul at Martinique is Amedee Testart, who was born and appointed from Louisiana in 1898.

The latest available figures show that the total population of the island of Martinique is 185,000 people, of whom 25,000 lived in St. Pierre and, according to Mr. Ayme, have nearly all perished.

PARIS IN MOURNING.

Flags at Half Mast—Late Dispatches Confirm Terrible Disaster.

PARIS, May 10.—The colonial minister, M. Decrais, received late last evening two cable messages from the secretary general of the government of Martinique, J. E. G. Lhuerre.

The earlier cable reported that the wires were broken between Port de France and St. Pierre; but, it was added, in view of reports that the eruption of Mont Pelee had wiped out the town of St. Pierre all the boats available at Port de France were dispatched to the assistance of the inhabitants of that place.

The second dispatch confirmed the reports of the destruction of St. Pierre and its environs and shipping by a rain of fire, and it was supposed that the whole population had been annihilated, with the exception of a few injured persons rescued by the cruiser Suchet.

Immediately after the receipt of the above dispatches the flag over the colonial office was draped with crape and hoisted at half mast.

All of the thirty survivors taken on board the cruiser were picked up from the waters of the harbor or taken from the vessels anchored there.

Cable communication with St. Vincent, Barbados, Grenada, Trinidad, Demerara and St. Lucia is interrupted. Fears are entertained for the safety of the cable repair steamer Grappler, which was at Martinique prior to the disaster.

Destroyed In Three Minutes.

LONDON, May 10.—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Pointe a Pitre, island of Guadeloupe, French West Indies, says: "The Mont Pelee (St. Pierre) crater ejected yesterday morning molten rocks and ashes during three minutes and completely destroyed St. Pierre and the districts within a radius of four miles. All the inhabitants were burned. The survivors of the British steamer Roddam describe the scene at St. Pierre as being 'glimpses of hell,' beggaring description. The Roddam's men were killed chiefly by molten lava."

Hundreds Killed In Guatemala.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Additional news of the recent earthquake in Guatemala has been brought here by the steamer Newport, which left San Jose de Guatemala on April 25. These advices show that while the first reports of the seismic disturbances were much exaggerated still there was a heavy loss of life and property. At Quezaltenango 300 persons were reported to have been killed or injured out of a population of possibly 40,000.

Volcanic Dust Falling.

BRIDGETOWN, British West Indies, May 10.—Volcanic dust from the eruption in the island of St. Vincent is still falling here. The roads and houses are covered an inch thick. The island of Barbados is over 100 miles from the island of St. Vincent.

RETIREMENT OF EVANS.

Former Pension Commissioner Sets at Rest Some Rumors.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—In view of the published statements to the country it can be said on authority that cannot be questioned that Commissioner Evans' desire to sever his connection with the pension bureau was not prompted by any suggestion or promise on the part of the president or any one speaking for him. His resignation as commissioner was a voluntary act and entirely independent of any outside consideration. After the announcement that his nomination as consul general to London had been confirmed by the senate Mr. Evans made a statement of which the following is a part:

"I have given over five years of the best efforts, most diligent attention and close application to the duties pertaining thereto. I am much pleased with results and present conditions. About 1,100,000 claims have been adjudicated during the period.

"There have been no scandals connected with the service or any branch of it. The disbursements through its various agencies have amounted to over $700,000,000. I have been only one of the contributors to this work. The great results are due to the loyalty, efficiency and intelligent aid had from the officials and employees of the bureau and its agencies.

"I have not felt at liberty until my appointment was settled to make any statement, but in view of the repeated assertions that I had been forced out of office I desire to say once for all that such statement is wholly without foundation.

"President Roosevelt knew from the first that I was anxious to surrender the office and that I only waited for an opportune time. I resigned entirely of my own accord, following out a purpose I had had for many months. The same purpose I had expressed to President McKinley, but I intended to remain until any or all charges were disposed of. My resignation was unconditional and did not hang on any future appointment."

Peace In Santo Domingo.

SANTO DOMINGO, May 10.—Former President Jiminez of the Dominican Republic and his ministers have left the foreign legations here, where they had sought refuge. Quiet has been restored in the city. The hospitals are full of men who were wounded in the last engagements between the Dominican revolutionists and the forces of the former government. A Red Cross hospital has been established and is caring for the wounded. The United States cruiser Cincinnati has arrived here.

Never Paid a Cent.

NEW YORK, May 10.—It has been discovered by the department of docks that for the past fifteen years the beef trust firm of Swift & Co. has been using valuable water front privileges without paying a cent of lawful returns into the city treasury. This extraordinary concealment has been carried on at the foot of West Thirty-ninth street, where the plant of the North river stockyards is operated by this concern.

New Trial For Rathbone.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Senator Hanna has presented to the president a memorial prepared in behalf of Estes G. Rathbone, urging the president to grant a new trial and to set aside the sentence imposed in Cuba on Rathbone for alleged maladministration of Cuban postal affairs.

Wisconsin Village Burned.

SULLIVAN, Wis., May 10.—Fire has nearly wiped out this village. Before the flames were under control the loss amounted to about $50,000. The insurance will not cover the loss.

Bernstein-Lyons Fight a Draw.

BALTIMORE, May 10.—Joe Bernstein of New York and Harry Lyons of Baltimore fought a twenty round draw here last night.

Snow In Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 10.—Dispatches from all over Minnesota report a heavy snowstorm. Early vegetables are said to be injured.

Vineyards Frostbitten.

BERLIN, May 10.—Nearly all the spring growth in the vineyards in the Saar region has been destroyed by frost.

CORPORATION NOTICE

Sealed Proposals for Sewer Bonds for the City of Plainfield, N. J.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a meeting thereof held April 28th, 1902, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Wednesday, the fourteenth day of May, 1902, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 151 North avenue, in the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, at which time and place said Common Council will receive and open sealed proposals for the purchase of sewer bonds to the amount of forty-one thousand dollars to be issued by the City of Plainfield under the ordinance of said city entitled "An ordinance to provide for the issue of bonds to defray the costs and expenses of the improvement of sewage disposal works, beds and appurtenances," approved April 7th, 1902, and the act of the Legislature of New Jersey entitled "An act to provide for drainage and sewerage in cities of this State," approved April 7th, 1890, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto.

Said bonds will bear date the first day of May, 1902, and be payable as follows: that is to say: On the first day of May, nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, five bonds; and on the first day of May of each and every year thereafter, down to and including the year nineteen hundred and thirty-four, five bonds, and on the first day of May in the year nineteen hundred and thirty-five the remaining six bonds: that said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four per centum per annum, payable semi-annually.

Said bonds are to be coupon bonds and to be in the form approved by the Common Council, and now on file in the office of the City Clerk of said city.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding, or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

All proposals must be endorsed "Proposals for purchase of sewer bonds" and should include the accrued interest from date of bonds to date of purchase.

By order of the Common Council of the City of Plainfield.

Dated: May 1st, 1902.

JAMES T. MacMURRAY,
City Clerk.

THE BOOK OF THE PRESIDENTS.

By General Charles H. Grosvenor.

Twenty years member of Congress. Pronounced the most sumptuous and magnificently beautiful book ever issued in the United States. Contains 27 large full page Photogravure Portraits, reproduced from the best paintings in the White House, the Congressional Library, the Capitol Building, the Corcoran Art Gallery of Washington.

Contains Department of Autograph Letters, showing an autograph letter of each President of the United States, and Department of Armorial Bearings and Genealogical Notes. These two features have never before appeared in any book ever issued.

Both President McKinley and President Roosevelt posed specially in the White House for their portraits to be used only and exclusively in this work. SAFE WAS EMPTY.

Great Lawsuit Over Supposed $20,000,000 Ends In a Fiasco.

PARIS, May 10.—The great Humbert-Crawford lawsuit, which was supposed to involve the possession of $20,000,000 and which for years had been before the two continents, culminated in a fiasco when the police officials proceeded to the residence of Mme. Humbert and found that the safe in which alleged securities to the value of $20,000,000 were said to be locked up was empty.

All the parties to the suit are South Americans.

According to the story, R. H. Crawford died twenty years ago and left $20,000,000 to Theresa d'Aurignac, now Mme. Humbert. Just as she was about to obtain possession of the fortune two nephews of Mr. Crawford appeared with a second will bequeathing the property to them. A lawsuit was begun for the possession of the money and securities, which, according to Mme. Humbert, by mutual agreement had been locked up in a safe at her house, conditional on her not touching the money until the court's verdict was rendered.

Mme. Humbert in the meantime borrowed millions on the strength of the supposed fortune.

One of the creditors recently appealed to the courts to open the safe, with the sensational result already set forth. The Humberts have disappeared from the house, which has immensely added to the sensation. It is said that the victims are out fully $10,000,000. It is believed the Humberts have left France. The court has appointed a receiver for their property.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

Fire, Storm and Labor Controversies Cause Great Loss.

NEW YORK, May 10.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

At a time when consumptive demands surpass all previous records in the nation's history it is unfortunate that production should be curtailed. Yet that is the present situation. Fires, labor controversies and a tornado stopped work at many points, greatly reducing the output, and many more wage disputes must be settled before the end of the month or furnace fires will be banked and wheels cease to revolve. Losses by the elements have been severe, the largest tin plate plant in the world being rendered idle probably for a month, while many foundries and shops were totally destroyed.

Procrastinating consumers who predicted a collapse in the iron and steel market similar to the break that occurred two years ago have greatly augmented the pressure by tardily attempting to supply their requirements.

More encouraging weather reports have made the outlook brighter for a normal wheat yield.

Failures for the week numbered 218 in the United States against 187 last year and 24 in Canada against 26 last year.

Missionaries Leave Chili.

PEKING, May 10.—Three American missionaries of the disturbed district of Chili province, fears for whose safety had been expressed, are officially reported to be on their way to Paotingfu under a military escort. The dowager empress and the emperor yesterday received in audience Admiral Skrydloff, commander of the Russian squadron in the Pacific, and his staff.

BIG STRIKE ORDERED

Anthracite Miners Will Go Out Monday.

PROPOSAL TO ARBITRATE SPURNED.

Presidents of Coal Roads Turn Deaf Ear to Request of Miners' Executive Committees For Peaceful Settlement.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 10.—A general strike of the miners of the anthracite region has been ordered for Monday next, but the order has a reserve qualification attached. The question as to whether the strike is to be made permanent is left to the decision of a convention of delegates of all the local organizations of the mine workers to be held at Hazleton next Wednesday.

The miners' executive committees of the three districts met yesterday morning and had a three hour session. At its conclusion President Mitchell gave out the following statement:

"Replies to our proposition to submit the entire question in dispute to an impartial board of arbitration have been received from President Baer of the Philadelphia and Reading, Chairman Thomas of the Erie railroad, President Truesdale of the Lackawanna and President Oliphant of the Delaware and Hudson, all of whom refuse to join us in the adjustment of the differences between us by the methods we propose."

At 4:30 o'clock the committeemen again assembled and remained in session until 7:30 o'clock. When the session concluded, President Mitchell prepared a statement and, assembling the newspaper men at the St. Charles hotel, read to them as follows from a typewritten paper:

"To the Anthracite Mine Workers of Pennsylvania:

"Gentlemen—The executive committees of the anthracite mine workers who were delegated by the Shamokin convention to represent you in the negotiations with the railroad presidents and mine operators for the purpose of obtaining increased wages, shorter hours and better conditions of employment have exhausted all peaceable, conciliatory and honorable means at their command and have failed to secure any concessions of a tangible nature, and, while under the resolutions adopted by the Shamokin convention authority was vested in the executive committees should they fail in the negotiations to inaugurate a strike at whatever time in their judgment held out the greatest promise of success, the committees, after three days' serious deliberation, feel that in justice to the anthracite mine workers and those dependent upon them, before a general strike is inaugurated, the question should be further considered by a delegate convention in which representatives from the various local unions shall be fully instructed by their constituents and prepared to vote in favor of or in opposition to a complete cessation of work.

"In the meantime all persons employed in or around the collieries, strippings, washeries and breakers are instructed to temporarily abstain from working, beginning with Monday, May 12, and continuing thereafter until a final decision is reached by a delegate convention, which will convene on Wednesday morning, May 14, at Hazleton, Pa.

"The instruction for all men to suspend work on Monday does not include firemen, engineers, pump men and other labor necessary to preserve the properties of the operators."

Immediately after the conclusion of President Mitchell's reading the crowd scattered, and in an incredibly short space of time the news had spread by word of mouth and message all through the valley. A thousand varying comments might be heard from the miners as they learned of the committees' action. No one sentence could cover the general sentiment.

There is not a particle of question but that the miners will religiously obey the order and that on Monday next not so much as a shovelful of coal will be mined in the Lackawanna valley.

Reward For a Murderer.

HAVANA, May 10. Governor General Wood has offered a reward of $7,000 for the conviction of the murderer of Senor Vega, who was president of the Spanish colony at San Juan y Martinez, in Pinar del Rio province. It is alleged that the murder of Senor Vega was due to political ill feeling and the anti-Spanish sentiment which has lately been manifested in some parts of the island.

Wade Gave $200,000 to Charity.

CLEVELAND, May 10.—Mr. J. H. Wade, who Thursday gave $100,000 to the Fresh Air camp to assist its charitable work, has now given a similar sum of money to Lake Side hospital in this city. The gift is in the form of 400 shares of United States Steel corporation preferred stock and 400 shares American Shipbuilding company preferred stock, each bearing 7 per cent interest.

Omaha Foundries Closed.

OMAHA, Neb., May 10.—Every iron molder in the city is on strike. About 200 men are affected, and five foundries are closed. The strike is the result of the action of the Molders' union, which decided to [illegible] cents an hour and a [illegible].

Lumber Mill Destroyed.

LACONIA, N. H., May 10.—The plant of the Cook Lumber company has been burned. There were eight separate buildings destroyed in addition to large quantities of stock on cars ready for shipment. The loss is $75,000; insurance, $12,000.

OUR ANNIVERSARY.

It is just fifteen years ago today that The Daily Press made its initial bow to the public of Plainfield. And what a change has come in those fifteen years. It is a far different city that flourishes here but still greater is the difference between the four page paper that began its career a decade and a half ago, and the present prosperous up-to-date eight page newspaper, which is welcomed in nearly every home of the finest city in all New Jersey. Time certainly works wonderful changes.

Fifteen years have seen Plainfield assume an important position in the State's affairs and the progress in The Daily Press office has kept pace with that of the city. Many things have happened during the years that this newspaper has been published. We have made some mistakes, perhaps, but we can look back on the happenings of those years with pride and satisfaction.

The people's interests have always been those of The Daily Press and its readers have learned from long experience that its news is reliable and devoid of sensationalism. It is a newspaper which no one is afraid to have in his or her home. No matter what the controversy may be, both sides are sure of finding fair treatment in The Daily Press columns. We may take a stand editorially for one side or the other but the opposition is always honestly and courteously treated.

For the years to come, The Daily Press has no pledges to make. It has shown in the past what is to be expected of it. It is a paper for the people, giving them the news truthfully and well told. It is the only newspaper in Plainfield that has stood by the advertising rates it announced without fear or favor. As a result, there are more local advertisements to be found in The Daily Press than in any other local paper. With the largest subscription list and the most local ads, The Daily Press practically demonstrates its right to the claim of being Plainfield's leading newspaper.

The Philadelphia Record calls attention to the fact that the head of a school on the bank of the Hudson River says that when he took hold of the concern there were but seven pupils. The institution had not been advertised for years. The new man put a very large sum into newspaper advertising throughout the country, and today the school is one of the most successful of its kind in the United States. He says the school which is "advertised by its loving friends only" cannot succeed in this day.

The time is coming and it will not be long when the State Legislature will have to provide a statute to regulate the use of automobiles in New Jersey. There are always some foolish ones whose recklessness will threaten to permanently injure the sport in some quarters and spoil it for those who are careful and obey the laws. There should be a general unity in the automobile ordinance as in the bicycle laws.

The Daily Press stands ready at any time to use its best offices to arrange a debate on the questions of annexation and consolidation. The advocates long ago expressed their eagerness to take part in such a debate. How about the "antis?"

There promises to be a revival of that excellent game of chess before another year passes by. The formation of a chess club will materially assist in the work.

COLUMN FOR THE SHOPPERS

SOME OF ATTRACTIONS TO BE FOUND AT LOCAL STORES.

A Few Interesting Items Concerning Greater Plainfield's Merchants

R. Frucht, 218 Park avenue, will hold another auction sale tonight at 7 o'clock of high grade bicycles and sundries.

A well-stocked, well-patronized and at the same time a low priced delicatessen store is that of R. W. Barnes on Park avenue.

There is nourishment in the wholesome candies manufactured by Campbell, of West Front street. He always carries a full line of confectionery.

Cashin, the custom tailor, is now prepared to take your measurement for a stylish summer suit. He has all the latest patterns in the best quality of goods.

You can leave orders at J. L. Brower's, East Fifth street, for flowers, and they will be sent to you direct from Wm. H. Brower's Sons, florist, New York.

Foss & Jeter, the Park avenue sea food dealers, are receiving daily large shipments of mackerel. They are beauties and are selling on sight. All kinds of sea food is always to be found at this store.

The users of ozone soap, ozone starch and washing powder will notice by an ad in another column that Nelson VanWinkle is giving away a beautiful chair for a fixed number of ozone trademarks.

Wm. Lindsay & Son, the milk dealers, have just renewed their license with the Board of Health, showing that they sell the pure article. The board only issues certificates to such dealers whose milk is all right.

Don't be penny wise and pound foolish. Of course you are going to store away your winter garments. Why not prepare them against moths and save them by expending a few cents of Nagle's moth balls or mothaline. Sure death to the pests.

Does your butcher give you poor service, or worse still, poor meat? If you are dissatisfied, try J. W. Van Sickle, the North avenue market man. He makes a specialty of the best meats to be had and gives nothing but prompt and courteous treatment to all his patrons.

PERSONAL.

George Cose, of Grant avenue, has gone to Bangor, Pa., for a few days' visit.

Fred Arnold, of Grant avenue, has gone to Salem for a week's stay with friends.

Mrs. Cushing, of Brooklyn, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Louis Eaton, of East Second street.

Elmer French, of Washington avenue, who is detained at his home by illness, is much improved.

Rev. Garrett Conover, his wife and two sons are stopping at the home of Mrs. Conover's mother, Mrs. J. K. VanArsdale, of Grove street.

Red-Letter Day in Hosiery

For Saturday, May 10th.

We have a large Hosiery business, but it should be larger. No department in our large establishment receives more careful attention, or is more elaborately stocked. We place Import orders for nearly all our goods, thus saving the jobbers' profit. This enables us to sell a superior article for a given price. Our Spring Importations are now ready and to quickly introduce them we shall offer extraordinary inducements for Saturday.

At 98c all over lace patterns of fine Silk finished Lisle Thread, with white tipped heel and toe. This stocking is of exquisite beauty and guaranteed to be worth 1.25 pair.

At 89c all over lace of brilliant Lisle Thread, all black, beautifully shaped and superior in finish to silk goods. Real value 1.00 pair.

At 75c lace stripe brilliant Lisle, with white tipped heel and toe, finished with high lustre and daintily fashioned. Many a store would have no difficulty in getting 98c pair for them.

At 50c lace stripe Lisle Thread in 9 dainty fine patterns. This is one of our star numbers and is extremely popular for summer use.

At 50c Gauze Cotton and Gauze Lisle, of unusual beauty and very fine gauze. Color is perfect.

At 50c a full bleached foot black Lisle Stocking of remarkable beauty. High spliced heel and double sole. When visiting our hosiery counter ask to see this particular number.

At 39c pr or 5 pairs for 1.00 black Gauze Lisle and Gauze Cotton of very fine gauze. This stocking retails in many places for 50c pair.

At 39c pr or 3 prs for 1.00 medium weight white sole hose of great durability.

At 25c excellent white foot and white sole hose. Splendid shape, splendid color, splendid goods.

At 25c plain blk Lisle Thread, of medium weight and beautiful finish. This stocking is far superior to the average 25c hose and sells in many places at 35c pair.

At 25c pair our No. 1141/2. This hose is worth 39c pair or money will be refunded. It is better than any 25c hose sold in New York city and we know it. Extra length, high spliced heel, double sole, etc. Don't fail to ask for it.

At 25c drop stitch Lisle Thread, with pattern running to toe. Color excellent, pattern choice. A very desirable stocking.

At 25c pr lace stripe Lisle Thread, of unusually attractive pattern; fine quality and looks like a 50c stocking.

At 2 pairs for 25c a lace pattern cotton hose of very fair quality and excellent color.

At 10c and 15c good quality, well shaped hose; full sizes and fast black color. These are goods bought directly from the mills and are better than goods at these prices generally are.

At 25c our popular No. 1590½ boys' extra ribbed hose. These goods are made for the hardest kind of wear, yet they are well fashioned, finely finished and absolutely fast black color.

At 25c our celebrated No. 412 ribbed for either boys or girls. Made by same mill as above but lighter in weight and finely finished.

At 25c misses' extra fine light weight lisle thread ribbed hose. This stocking is silk finished and would deceive even a careful observer at first sight into believing it silk.

At 25c the newest lace stripe lisle thread for misses, sizes from 5½ to 8½. This stocking we have waited a year for, the demand for it being so great. It is one of exceptional beauty and cannot be equalled.

FOR STOUT LADIES—Outsizes in plain black and with white soles, at 25c. In drop stitch, plain blk 39c, or 3 for $1. In split sole plain cotton, 39c or 3 for $1. In drop stitch black lisle thread at 50c.

At 10c and 15c pair—Childs' fast black ribbed Hose, with double knee, high spliced heel and double sole. These goods are from a Southern mill, where the cotton grows and labor is cheap. They are much better than you have been buying for these prices.

Proposals For Coal.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Board of Education of the City of Plainfield, N. J., at a meeting held May 5th, 1902, notice is hereby given that the Board of Education will meet on Monday evening, June 2nd, 1902, at eight o'clock, at their rooms in the Stillman School, corner of West Fifth street and Arlington avenue, in the City of Plainfield, at which time and place said Board of Education will receive sealed proposals for furnishing five hundred (500) tons, more or less, of coal best suited for steam and hot air heating, in Pea, No. 1 Chestnut, Stove, and Egg sizes, all coal to be thoroughly screened, trimmed, and placed in the bins within the public school buildings, without any extra expense to the Board for such handling, and to be delivered during the month of July next, or at such time as the Board may direct. Bids to specify the quality of coal to be furnished, and whether short or long tons. Payment for all coal contracted for to be made after September 1st next.

All proposals to be endorsed "Proposals for Coal." The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Board will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding, or their agents, provided such parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Board. By order of the Board of Education

F. B. CLARK,
Clerk of the Board.

The funeral of the late Brogen Brokaw will be held from his late residence on Center street this afternoon. Rev. A. A. Phelpes will officiate and interment will be made in Bound Brook.

Rev. H. J. Sproul will attend the general assembly which will begin in New York next Saturday. He will be gone two weeks and his pulpit will be supplied during his absence.

An entertainment will be given early in June by the members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church.

One of the new Central engines was in use in the yards yesterday. It was of the latest type and was the cause of much curosity.

C. F. Brower has sold his farm in Green brook to Mr. Shotwell, of Plainfield, and will remove to Brooklyn next week.

The truant officer has been instructed to look out for a small boy who is playing "hookey" from school.

The digging of the cellar of Schenck's new house has been finished and the masonry commenced.

Work will be commenced shortly in putting the tennis court in the park in condition.

The checker club held an exciting meeting last evening in its club rooms.

The Silver Leaves left this morning to play a junior team at Bound Brook.

Prayer meeting was held in the First Baptist church last evening.

Miss Zella Kelly visited in Plainfield today.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The junior ball team met defeat yesterday afternoon at Westfield in one of the poorest exhibitions of baseball that the club could possibly give. Johnston, of the juniors, struck out fourteen men to his opponents four, but the field support was very poor nearly every hit made seemed to be safe for a run. The Westfield team played but little better and could do but little with Johnston's delivery and the game should have come to Scotch Plains if the boys had a played their game.

Sunday morning at the Baptist church, Rev. G. M. Shott will review a sermon that was preached in the village on a Christmas ninety-nine years ago, on the "Justice of God." The Baptist Young People's meeting at 7 o'clock, subject, "Jesus the Living Bread;" evening preaching service, 7:45, text, "Already."

Saturday evening prayer meeting will be held in the Methodist church tonight at 8 o'clock. Tomorrow evening, instead of the regular preaching service, the church will observe the anniversary of the Epworth League. A pleasing programme has been arranged and the public are cordially invited to attend.

Miss Lillian Fancher and Miss Elsie Shott are spending a few days as the guest of the Scotch Plains girls who are studying at Peddie Institute, Hightstown.

A large delegation of rooters went to Plainfield with the local ball team this afternoon to help root the boys to victory.

A business meeting of the Epworth League, of the Methodist church, was held in the church last night.

Frederick Ivany, of the "Inn," is reported dangerously ill with pneumonia.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

A party of seventeen girls, some of this place, some of Plainfield, went amaying on their wheels this morning. Their destination was Metuchen, from which they returned after refreshing themselves.

Communion service will be held at the Baptist church tomorrow. The Christian Endeavor meeting at 7 o'clock will be led by Miss Matilda Nevius.

A church business and covenant meeting was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Baptist church.

William J. Voorhees and wife, of Brooklyn, are spending Saturday and Sunday with Oscar Thorne.

The choir of the Baptist church will meet for practice, this evening, at 7:45 o'clock.

A number went from here to see the ball games in Plainfield this afternoon.

Preparing for Anniversary.

An important meeting of Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, will be held Monday evening, when active steps will be taken toward a proper observation of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the order June 23. A full atendance is desired. The Orator will meet all comers at ping-pong after the business of the meeting has been disposed of.

A PRETTY AFTERNOON TEA

GIVEN BY MRS. FRANK W. FRENCH AND MISS HARRIET FRENCH.

Took Place at Home of Mrs. French — Pretty Decorations — Those Who Assisted the Hostesses.

A very pretty afternoon tea was given yesterday by Mrs. Frank W. French and Miss Harriet French at the former's home on Craig place. Mrs. French and Miss French were assisted in receiving a large number of guests by Mrs. J. R. Whitney, of Brooklyn; Mrs. James W. Jackson, Mrs. P. M. French, Mrs. Henry A. McGee, Mrs. L. M. French, Mrs. Edward Howell, of Montclair, Mrs. James H. Robley, and Mrs. Samuel St. J. McCutchen.

In the dining room, tea and ices were served by Mrs. Jas. R. Joy, Mrs. Clifton Wharton, Jr., Mrs. B. A. Hegeman, Jr., Mrs. Allan B. Wallace, of Summit. They were assisted by Miss Isabel Milne, Miss Elizabeth Valiant, Miss Persis Snodgrass, Miss Elsie Horne, Miss Gertrude Snodgrass, Miss Edith H. Dyer, Miss Elsie Brokaw and Miss Mary French. In the library, Mrs. Edward T. Wilson, assisted by Miss Helen Weir and Miss Edna French had charge of the lemonade bowl.

Floral decorations which adorned the parlor, dining room and library, were very bright and most tastefully arranged. The parlor was set off with a commingling of pink and white roses and pink azalias. The dining room was hung with dogwood and apple blossoms, while the library was decorated with American beauty roses.

RUTGERS CATALOGUE.

The New Spring Catalogue Has Just Been Issued.

The new catalogue of Rutgers College has been issued this spring, and it shows an increase of 11 per cent. in the number of students over last year. The senior examinations are to begin May 19 and the Seminary commencement is appointed for May 22.

The catalogue announces for the first time that provision has been made for a Latin scientific course, for the completion of which the degree of bachelor of letters will be conferred. There are now 224 students in the college, forty-eight of whom are in the senior class.

New Medical Director.

Dr. S. Wasson Jones, of Newark, has just been appointed supreme medical director for the Improved Order Heptasophs, filling the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. J. H. Christian, of Baltimore, Md. This appointment gives New Jersey two of the best offices in the order, namely the supreme secretary and medical director. Protective Conclave, No. 505, of this city, is arranging to give Dr. Jones a reception in the near future.

City Street Work.

The Councilmanic street committee did not meet this week as there was nothing special to engage its attention. The street work is progressing favorably, although it has not been started in earnest as yet. Within a few weeks this work will be well underway. At present, Elm place, Washington street, Westervelt avenue and a few other thoroughfares are being treated.

I. C. T. Is Growing.

At a special business meeting of the I. C. T. Club held Thursday evening, three applicants were elected to membership and four propositions were received. The club is steadily growing and now numbers forty.

Ornament and Protection.

An attractive addition to the city collector's office in the Smalley building are the brass guard bars that have been placed in front of his glass window. It is an ornament as well as a protection.

W. C. T. U. Social Gathering.

The members of the W. C. T. U. have arranged for a social gathering at the home of Mrs. Stephen Cahoone, Watchung avenue, Wednesday afternoon of next week.

For Soldiers in Philippines.

The committee on soldier and sailor work from the W. C. T. U. is preparing a barrel of literature and comfort bags to be sent to the soldiers in the Philippines.

Fred Dunavan, of L. W. Randolph's pharmacy, whose hand was severely lacerated a few days ago, is steadily improving. It will be a number of weeks before the hand is entirely healed.

Dangerous If Neglected.

Burns, cuts and other wounds often fail to heal properly if neglected and become troublesome sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve prevents such consequences. Even where delay has aggravated the injury DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve effects a cure. "I had a running sore on my leg thirty years," says H. C. Hartly, Yankeetown, Ind. "After using many remedies, I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes healed the sore." Cures all skin diseases. Piles yield to it at once. Beware of counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

ELIZABETH'S VIEW OF IT

ELIZABETH JOURNAL COMMENTS ON ANTI-ANNEXATION MEETING.

Says Charge That Plainfield Papers Are Closed Against "Antis" is Rediculous.

The North Plainfield anti-annexationists held a public meeting last Tuesday night, and their speakers scored the annexationists while the audience shouted their approval at every opportunity. The annexationists will have their mass meeting later, and then some idea of the relative popularity of each side may be gained.

The whole situation has not improved since Gov. Murphy signed the annexation bill; in fact the bitter feeling seems to have been intensified. It is now reported that the anti-annexationists propose, in the event of the popular vote being in favor of uniting with Union county, to carry the case to the courts on a question of the constitutionality of the law. The point they propose to make is that the bill was signed after the Legislature adjourned, and it is therefore unconstitutional. This is a point which is, in itself, well worthy of a decision by the courts, since it has never been made an issue and is an open question. But it is to be regretted that such a case is likely to grow out of the North Plainfield situation, which is complicated enough without further complications.

In passing it may be well to refer to one ridiculous feature. At Tuesday night's meeting, Mr. Honeyman, a strong anti-annexationist, made a fierce attack on the Plainfield newspapers. He charged that they misrepresented affairs, that they deceived the public, that they were "windmills" and that they were closed against the antis. Those who have seen the Plainfield papers during the controversy know that columns upon columns of Mr. Honeyman's arguments have been printed in them, and if they are "windmills" he ought to know it. Mr. Honeyman was formerly an editor himself.

Whichever way the contest now goes, no good is likely to result to the Republican party. If the annexationists win, the antis will vote the Democratic ticket, and vice versa; so that Somerset county is likely to be lost to the Republicans either way. That North Plainfield and Plainfield must at some time consolidate there is no question, but the way matters are now mixed up, the result of mismanagement in the Legislature, bodes only ill to those who believed that consolidation was for the best interests of both places.—Elizabeth Journal.

INDIVIDUAL CUPS.

Contract Given Out by First Baptist Church to Woodhull & Martin.

The First Baptist church, having adopted the individual communion cups, has just closed a contract with Woodhull & Martin for the same. There will be nearly six hundred cups in all, made of glass. With the service there is an arrangement whereby all of the cups in the carrier can be filled at one time. In each pew there will be a receptacle for the cups, where they can be placed after use and collected after the service. The cups will be used for the first time at the communion service to be held in June.

Pigeon Owners to Organize.

Efforts are being made to organize a homing-pigeon flying club by some local bird fanciers interested in the sport. Several Plainfield men are the possessors of some fine homers, but the flocks are kept more for their beauty than for their racing qualities. Westfield has an association of this kind, and Plainfield boasted a club some years ago, but the sport here seems to have declined. Five members entitles a club to become a member of the National Association at Philadelphia.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE DOING

SOME BRIEF PARAGRAPHS OF A PERSONAL NATURE.

Many Folk of Greater Plainfield Are Entertaining or Being Entertained.

Robert M. Clark has gone to Atlantic City for a short stay.

Wm. G. DeMeza, of West Second street, has returned from a stay at Somerville.

Lafayette Rosentiehl, of Somerset street, has returned from a visit with Newark friends.

Silas Clark Mundy, of Stone street, has returned from a visit with Hunterdon county friends.

The condition of Ben Evans, who is at Muhlenberg Hospital, is reported as being somewhat better.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucius H. Biglow, of Madison avenue, are spending a few weeks at Fortress Monroe.

Mrs. David F. Brown, of Newark, returned home today after a pleasant week's visit at the home of her cousin, Mrs. G. L. VanEmburgh, of East Second street.

CITY JOTTINGS.

—The Lord's Supper will be observed at Bethel chapel Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

—Rev. Dr. Joseph Sullivan, of Paterson, will occupy the pulpit at the First Baptist church tomorrow.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey Blair, of East Second street, have again taken up their residence at Belmar for the summer.

—Frank Sharp, of Annandale, has sold his fine bay mare to Former Sheriff W. T. Kirk, of this city. The price was $250.

—George McCombe, of Spooner avenue, has resigned his position at the Potter Press Works to accept a similar one at the Safe Works.

—The Memorial Day committee from Post No. 73, G. A. R., will meet this evening to complete arrangements for the observance of May 30.

—Edward Bellis, of West Front street, has resigned his position with A. D. Mallinson to enter the employ of a New York banking institution.

—Through the Mulford real estate agency J. K. Tillotson, formerly of Madison avenue, has purchased the property owned and formerly occupied by Otto Arens on Park avenue.

ANOTHER CHURCH.

Plans Being Made for New Home of Swedish Pilgrim Church.

Another church will shortly be added to Plainfield's already large list. Architects are now at work preparing the plans for the erection of a building to accommodate the Swedish Pilgrim church, which at present meets in the Congregational church. It will be located on a convenient plot of ground at West Fifth street and Plainfield avenue, bought a year ago. It is hoped to begin actual construction by the first of June.

Formed Partnership.

Eugene A. Moore and Horace E. Moore, of Central avenue, have formed a partnership under the firm name of Monore Brothers, bonds and investment securities, at 10 Wall street, New York. Their friends will wish them success in their new undertaking.

Change in Teachers.

Mrs. Robert Lowry has been secured as the teacher for Mrs. Milne's Sunday-school class at the First Baptist church. Mrs. Milne has been detained at home some time by illness, and only recently returned from a short trip out of town for her health.

Suburban Engine Used.

One of the new double-ender engines of the suburban type was used on the 9:30 o'clock commuter train to New York Thursday morning. The innovation was much appreciated by the commuter element.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Topic For the Week Beginning May 11. "Annual Review"—Text, II Cor. xiii: Num. i, 2, 3; Zech. iv, 6.

"Examine yourselves whether ye be in the faith. Prove your own selves."

The anniversary of the founding of the League naturally leads to a review of the progress made in these years since May 12, 1889, when in the little room in Cleveland, O., the Epworth League came into being. The gain in numbers has been beyond all expectation. Much was anticipated, but none could foresee the proportions to which the movement should attain. Who then could have believed the possibility of such great gatherings as the international conventions have been?

It is well to have a brief survey of the field and consider how far extended our forces are. Alaska and Hawaii, Japan, China and Korea, all have their chapters. The host in India is a great one. Africa in many places, South America, Mexico, all are mission fields. In Europe from Italy to Norway and Sweden and the islands of the West Indies are organized for work in the League.

But numbers are not the most important consideration in the service of Christ. The power lies in the indwelling of the Holy Spirit. Not wealth or talent is a matter of highest value. Our aim is to foster and develop intelligent piety among our young people. We do need scholarship. We need more knowledge of the Bible and all the good things which are open to human learning. Our people need to be growing more and more intelligent. There is no premium on ignorance, for "ignorance is not the mother of devotion," but of superstition. Bishop E. O. Haven used to say, "Christianity is learning and piety." We have got beyond the place where the two are supposed to be in opposition. But in all the getting of learning we must steadily hold in view the fact that it is valueless unless consecrated fully to the service of Jesus Christ. It may be very harmful indeed. If all the powers of soul and body are united in healthy devotion to God, if one honestly means to do and be what God desires, then the more knowledge he gets, up to the measure of his ability to use it well, the better it will be. The same is true of money. These things can be helps or hindrances, wings or weights, depending on the way they are attached to us. What we can use well it is well to have. Beyond that we are burdened and hindered. Our aim should be the highest possible efficiency in God's service. This does not mean any more to one who is to be a minister or a deaconess than to one who is to be a laborer in shop, store, mill, mine or farm. Each of us is to be in league with the Holy Spirit. Our work every day is to do faithfully the task for that day in home, school, street and workshop. In the doing of the ordinary routine task we make character. We shape ourselves and mold our destinies. That is the way Jesus did His life work. Few can be prominently learned or rich in great degree. Very few ought to be. There is a place for us. Let us find it and fit into it and fill it. Let us know all we ought to know, and get all we ought to get, and be strong enough to stop then and not weaken ourselves with straining for things beyond us. Above all things and in all getting let us get the wisdom of complete union with Jesus in spirit. "What with them have we to do?"

One Day of Life.

Neither a blind scramble for what we can get for as long as we are able to stand it nor a snatched fleeting moment torn from its proper connection, but a calm adoption of the Creator's own natural selection of one day of life and after that another! Something of all life present each day; each day with a completeness which may fairly express the motive and method of life as a whole. The gently returning dawn bringing with its renewal of physical light renewal also of the deep streams of the light of inner life. Opening as all life does in wonder—a wonder that, as the mist upon the hills dissolves in ascending radiance, rises from the heart in aspirations of trust and hope. Every faculty and every highest aspiration and all one's best thoughts and noblest instincts will have a place to plant themselves in each such day. Gleams and peeps of the vast infinite world over and around and about us will reach us better through the medium of that one day than through years of disarranged, hurrying, nervous, scattered existence. Such a day will be worth living even in the rush and ceaseless turmoil of a superficial, restless age.—Christian Register.

The Christian Athlete.

The Christian athlete, "valiant for the truth upon the earth," is made such through faithfulness in inward conflicts with his soul's enemies, while fighting the good fight of faith; casting down not human antagonists, but "imaginations and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God and bringing every thought into captivity to the obedience of Christ." So through inward strivings for masteries and striving lawfully he learns how to put on the whole armor of God, the hope of salvation for a helmet, truth for his girdle, righteousness for a breastplate, the spirit and word of God for his sword, faith for his shield, and then not always that he may fight, but (a still greater valor) that he may be equally strong to stand.—Friend.

Do Your Duty.

It is a great deal easier to do that which God gives us to do, no matter how hard it is, than to face the responsibility of not doing it. We have abundant assurance that we shall receive all the strength we need to perform any duty God allots to us.—J. R. Miller.

WE STAND BACK OF OUR SHOES

If an unworthy pair finds place in our stock, it's not your fault and not your loss.

Our shoes are made in such a way, from such stock, that there's no excuse for anything but entire satisfaction.

We seldom have a complaint, and never a dissatisfaction; we don't do business that way.

Our shoes are fashionable, durable and comfortable, and you pay only for the shoes—nothing for name.

A larger stock than you usually see, and lower prices for the same quality than you ever run across.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For Week Beginning May 11. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—Jesus the living bread.—John vi, 22-35, 48-58.

It was the common custom of Christ to represent Himself and His work by apt and comprehensive figures. He calls Himself "the door," the "good shepherd," the "water of life," the way" and in the passage before us the "living bread." "I am the living bread which came down from heaven. If any man eat of the bread, he shall live forever, and the bread that I will give is My flesh, which I will give for the life of the world."

Christ's reference to Himself as "the bread of life" and "the living bread" occurred in connection with the feeding of the five thousand on the shores of the Galilean sea. The multitudes flocked around Him the next day, apparently hoping and expecting that He would continue to supply their physical needs. But this was not His mission upon the earth. While He did not underrate or ignore the importance of the body, His principal mission upon the earth was to save the souls. Hence He used the opportunity presented in connection with the miracle to place this fact before the multitudes and to impress upon their minds the superior importance of that which supports eternal life rather than the present life. "Labor not," He says, "for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of Man shall give unto you. For him hath God the Father sealed." Then in the discourse following He goes on to present Himself as the bread of life, or the one able to give and support spiritual eternal life, as bread or food does the physical life.

Christ became the living bread, or the bread able to give us eternal life, by laying down His life for us on the cross. There His body was broken and His blood was shed for our salvation. By faith we partake of His body and blood, or the results of His sacrifice for us. The living bread is not to be bought. It is a gift of God. Bread that supports the physical life is purchasable, and there have been times when it was most expensive. But not so the living bread. God offers it to us as a free gift. It can be had without money and without price. This may seem to us incredible. It may be hard to realize that such a boon as eternal life could be had for the acceptance, but let us remember that Christ has paid the price of our salvation, and therefore God is able to offer it to us as a free gift upon the condition of our acceptance of it.

Bread to be of use must be partaken of. Its mere existence will not keep us alive. We must actually eat of it if we would live. So we must actually partake of Christ by faith if we are to be saved. The living bread has been prepared, but we must eat to be saved. Let us therefore accept Christ's work in our behalf and be saved by what He has done for us.

BIBLE READINGS.

Ex. xxvi, 4-15; Deut. viii, 1-5; Isa. lv, 1-7; Matt. iv, 1-4; vi. 11; vii, 1-12; xxvi, 26-28; John xxi, 14-17; I Cor. x, 16.

Maintaining Moral Sentiment.

It takes line upon line and precept upon precept to form and maintain an exalted moral sentiment in a neighborhood. And sometimes labor in this direction seems lost. But when we hear our missionaries give an account of the state of society in heathen lands, the utter lack of ideas and sentiments which seem so common with us as to be almost natural, we realize that these years of Christian teaching have borne fruit.

But we may not conclude that the children of even Christian parents will imbibe lofty ideals and possess stanch characters without right teaching and continuous care. But we have the promise that our work shall not be in vain in the Lord and that he that goeth forth weeping, sowing precious seed, shall doubtless come again rejoicing, bearing his sheaves with him.—American Friend.

Doing Good.

To do good and communicate forget not. The man who wants a chance so to act will soon find an opportunity. No one need go with his hands in his pockets for want of something to do for God and the good of humanity. There is work on every hand to which he is lovingly invited.—Philadelphia Methodist.

"To Sift Thee as Wheat."

Sifting is a slow process sometimes. It takes time to get down to the grain, and that is what God wants, the true and sweet kernel. We don't make bread of chaff.—Episcopal Recorder.

A True Way.

The true way of softening one's troubles is to solace those of others.—Mme. de Maintenon.

Be Still.

O heart of mine, be calm and still
And ever trustful be;
Learn thou that God's almighty will
Is right and best for thee,
Though from the shore
There stretch before
The raging billows of the sea.

And dost thou deem that He whose hand
Did first the sea outpour,
Who bade it sweep the shining strand
With thunder in its roar,
Hath not the power
To make it cower
And tremble to the very core?

He brought thee in His wisdom here
Upon its verge to stand,
With rumbling chariots in the rear
And hills on every hand,
Thy faith to test;
Then be at rest,
For this is God's benign command.

Behold! The winds are beating back
The sullen, angry sea;
The billows fly and leave a track
That leads to liberty!
So, heart be still;
A higher will
Shall ever choose the best for thee.
—Philadelphia Ledger.

THE CURIOUS WOMAN.

Very Little That Occurs Escapes Her In This World.

Of all the despicable creatures she is the chief.

There is no getting away from her.

She is the woman who unblushingly asks your age, your private affairs, your family secrets, and who will never rest until she acquires the desired information. No snub is pointed enough for her. If you prove reticent, she will put her questions to you in such a way that if you open your mouth you commit youself. She is narrow and petty of mind, with no object in life as a rule.

If she did have one, there would not be so much time at her disposal to bother about your affairs.

When she doesn't quite dare to ask you questions, the curious woman gets her information in other ways. She will watch your movements and those of her other neighbors from behind the shelter of her lace curtains. She will not hesitate to bribe your maid or even question your milkman. She is an even greater mine of information than the woman who asks questions outright, for she observes. If a newcomer moves into a house on her street, she can tell you just how old the furniture is and, judging from that, just how much money she thinks the people are worth. She knows all the love affairs of the neighborhood, just how late the gas was kept burning in the Smiths' front parlor the night before and at what hour that gay little widow across the street came back from the opera. More than that, she even watches her neighbors wash and makes comments on it as it swings flapping in the breeze.

If the curious woman kept her information to herself, there would be no harm done, but she never lacks for friends of her own kind. Where there is one curious woman you will find several. They hobnob together, retailing their news and comparing notes. Every village has at least one hotbed of gossip of this sort; every town has several. No person is safe from their attacks. They ruin the reputation of both old and young. More than one happy marriage has been prevented by their chatter, more than one home broken up.

Altogether, when you come to think of it, the curious woman is just about the bane of her sex.

HOW TO BUY.

Frenchwomen Dress Better Than Americans on Less Money.

I have a young friend who is teacher of domestic economy in one of the industrial schools, and I am not too old to want to learn what she has to teach. Among other things, she says that no one should make a purchase of any article until she has mentally gone over the subject in all its phases and studied the question from all sides, so that she may know just what she wants, its relation to whatever else she has on hand and what else she expects to need or get. This is true not only in regard to food products, but to her garments and their materials. She tells us that the reason Frenchwomen can dress so much better and more tastefully than the most of us do on even a less amount of money is because they study the matter from the standpoint of true economy. They know to a fraction what a thing is worth intrinsically, and they are not carried away with every novelty, for they know that the most of what is called novelty goods is made to catch the eye and has not the enduring qualities which make a piece of standard goods worth more than the difference in price. The Frenchwoman buys not for the present, but with a clear understanding of the future.

Three Women Chevaliers.

Three women painters in France have been made chevaliers of the Legion of Honor. The first was Rosa Bonheur, who obtained the decoration through Empress Eugenie; the second was Mme. Demont-Breton; the last one is Mlle. Marie Breslau, who won a gold medal at the 1900 exposition.

His Friend, The Enemy

By WILLIAM WALLACE COOK,

Author of "Rogers of Butte," "The Spur of Necessity," "Mr. Fitt, Astrologer," etc.

(Copyright, 1901, by the S. S. McClure Co.)

"Mr. Herbert," she continued, earnestly, "I came here to find you and to assure you that I knew nothing of the transaction that lost Concord the county seat. If I could undo

"I HAVE THE HONOR TO BID YOU A VERY GOOD EVENING."

the wrong, if the election might be recalled and held over again, believe me, Concord would hold its own. Neither I nor my father knew anything of that despicable affair until late Tuesday night."

"I was sure of it," returned Guy.

"Why were you sure of it?" she asked, looking at him steadily. "Had I not told you that it was a case of diamond cut diamond? Did you not see me actively concerned in the stealing of your courthouse? Why should you think well of me after that?"

"But for you, Miss Vlandingham," he replied, gratefully, "that contest would have been a sanguinary one. I had no influence; you threw the weight of yours, into the scales and, by a diplomacy as rare as it was skillful, warded off the violence that seemed bound to come. The loss of one life would not have paid for a dozen county seats."

There was a strange something in the blue eyes as they bent upon him, and why could he not read their mystery?

"I am glad you think that," she said, simply. "I was afraid you had gained a wrong impression. Mr. Pinchbeck paid those 20 Jamestown men and took Harmony lots for the amount. My father has also paid for the courthouse."

This was the nearest she had yet come to striking the blow he feared.

"It is all very well for the payment of the Jamestown men to come out of Harmony," observed Guy, "but I shall pay for the courthouse myself."

She saw that he was determined.

"You may do so some time," she answered. "I don't think you should, but I shall not attempt to set my judgment against your own."

He thanked her for that. Saving ten dollars per week it would take him a little less than two years to pay for the pile of ashes on the Harmony square. Nevertheless, he thanked her mentally and heaved a sigh of relief.

"Have all the Concord people moved over to your town, Miss Vlandingham?" he queried, smilingly.

"The county officials have joined us—Mr. Pettibone and Mr. Biggs. If Mr. Pettibone had not been in Harmony I presume I should not have discovered your whereabouts."

"Are the rest of the townspeople going to remain in Concord, do you know?"

"I understand that there will be no radical change. To be frank, Mr. Herbert, although Harmony is now the county seat and is enjoying the benefits of a 'boom' as they call it, yet Concord is nearer the center of the county and has more good farming land tributary to it. My father says so and I have confidence in his judgment."

"So have I," returned Guy, hopefully.

"My father, Mr. Herbert," she proceeded, hesitatingly, "would like to purchase your interest in Concord."

"How much would he give?"

"He wished me to ask you if you would consider $5,000."

There it was! Guy reddened. Tactful as ever, Miss Betty was seeking to bestow her charity in the way least calculated to wound his feelings. His pride was exaggerated, of course, but had he not loved the fair girl who was seeking to aid him he would not have felt so keenly. He got up.

"I am working for the munificent salary of $20 per week, Miss Vlandingham," said he, coldly. "If I am properly attentive to business I am to receive $25 per week after two years. Notwithstanding that, I am altogether too rich to sell for $5,000 a number of lots that would be dear at $500. I will send you money for the courthouse," he added, drawing himself up grandly and haughtily. "Possibly I can borrow it. If not, I will send my note. I have the honor to bid you a very good evening!"

He strode to the door and laid his hand on the knob. He was not going to look back, but she did not speak, and he heard something very like a sob. Then he turned. Poor Betty had her face in her hands and was weeping forlornly.

Guy felt a sudden pang of remorse. He was a brute to act in that silly way. He had imagined that she would flare out at him, would give a sharp word and retaliate in kind. Instead of angering he had only wounded.

"Miss Vlandingham!"

There was no answer, no lifting of the bowed head, and he walked to her quickly.

"Betty," he murmured, his words coming in a torrent, "I am a wretch. I did not mean what I said! Forgive me. Take those worthless lots and give me $5,000, or $500,000, or $5,000,000 for them, if you want to. It was not the proposition so much as the fact that it came from you. I have loved you ever since we first met—ever since you fell into my arms from the cupola of that freight car. I do not want pity, or money, or anything else from the girl I love—just her heart, that's all. When I have made a fortune I am coming to ask you if you will have me, if you will—"

She looked up at him suddenly, her eyes dancing through her tears.

"Do you know how long it will take you to make a fortune at the rate of $20 per week, Guy?" she whispered.

"It depends largely on the magnificence of the fortune, I suppose."

"Even to make a fortune that is not very magnificent would take too long—too long for me to wait."

"Darling!" he murmured. "You will take me now, as I am?"

"I can help you, dearest. Why can we not face the world together?"

He folded her to his breast.

"I am rich already," he whispered, "since I have your love. My friend, the enemy, is to be my wife and I am the happiest fellow in the world!"

Thus it came about as Pettibone had said. The sheriff knew, for so had it been with himself and Matilda.

THE END.

A LAZY VIRGINIAN.

Put Out One of His Eyes to Save the Trouble of Squinting When Out Hunting.

During one of Senator Daniel's famous campaigns he struck a little town in the central part of Virginia which was said to contain some of the laziest men in the old dominion. He was in the midst of a group on the porch of a small hotel, when a procession approached which looked like a funeral, says the Chicago Tribune. He asked who was to be buried.

"Jack Sheridan," they told him.

Poor Jack! He was a good-natured, good-for-nothing, lazy fellow, who seemed to have a little native talent for drawing and spent most of his time making pictures for the children. He lived upon the few fish he caught and the squirrels he killed, but mostly on the donations of his neighbors.

"So poor Jack is dead, is he?" said Senator Daniel.

"No, he ain't dead 'xactly," was the reply of one of the loungers on the porch.

"Not dead—not dead? Yet you are going to bury him?"

"Fact is, senator, he's got too infernal, all-fired lazy to live. We can't afford him any more. He's got so lazy that the grass is beginning to grow over his shoes—so everlastin' lazy that he put out one of his own eyes to save the trouble of squintin' when he was out a-gunnin'."

"But," says the senator, "this won't do. It will disgrace my constituency. Try him awhile longer, can't you?"

"Can't do it; too late—coffin cost $1.10. Must go on now."

About this time the procession halted and the senator promised, if they would let Jack out, to send over a barrel of corn to the unfortunate.

Upon this announcement the lid of the coffin slowly raised, Jack Sheridan sat up with an effort, opened his one good eye, looked at the senator and asked:

"Is the corn shucked?"

"No," replied Senator Daniel, "not shucked."

"Then," said Jack, as he sank into the coffin, "go on with the funeral."

SAMPSON'S FUNERAL.

Remains of the Dead Admiral at Rest in Arlington.

WASHINGTON, May 10. — With pomp and circumstances exceeding that of any naval funeral in this country, in recent years at least, the remains of Rear Admiral William Thomas Sampson were laid at rest.

Every department of the national government was represented, the executive by the president and his cabinet and many prominent officials of the civil service, the legislative by senators and representatives, the judiciary by the United States supreme court and the military and naval services by officers of all ranks.

The diplomatic body attended the church services.

The military and naval features of the ceremonies were brilliant and impressive. They were conducted under the direction of Rear Admiral Terry, commandant of the Washington navy yard, assisted by Lieutenant Henry George, the adjutant general.

The procession to Arlington lay through the western section of the city and historic Georgetown, whence, after crossing the Aqueduct bridge, it went by way of Fort Meyer to the cemetery. The weather was exceptionally fine, and crowds of people, approximating between 40,000 and 45,000, thronged the streets and country roads and gathered about the grounds at Arlington. They were respectful and reverential in their demeanor and appeared to have been animated by one common impulse to gather to pay a last honor to the distinguished dead rather than by idle curiosity.

An interesting figure in the brilliant group was Commander Raymond Rodgers, who had been specially designated to appear as the representative of the battleship Iowa, which was the last ship commanded by Sampson and of which Commander Rodgers was executive officer.

AN IMPOSING FUNERAL.

Remains of Archbishop Corrigan Interred In Cathedral.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The funeral of Archbishop Corrigan took place at St. Patrick's cathedral at 11 o'clock in the morning. Solemn pontifical mass was said, with Cardinal Gibbons as celebrant, and at 12 o'clock Archbishop Ryan delivered the funeral sermon.

When the ceremonies were completed, the body of the dead archbishop was placed in the crypt beneath the cathedral altar.

From early morning a vast crowd surrounded the high portals of the cathedral, and when the doors opened at 9:30 o'clock the big cathedral filled rapidly. When, at 10:30 o'clock, the organ took up the opening strains of Cherubini's "Requiem and Sanctus," every seat was filled and the open spaces behind the pews were thronged with people. The ceremony was one of the most imposing ever witnessed in this city.

Early in the day a wagon left at the see house a big box marked "The White House Conservatory." It contained a wreath of Easter lilies, white roses and snowballs and was three feet in diameter. The card attached to a broad purple ribbon fastened to the wreath bore the inscription simply, "The President."

The Wool Market.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin says in its report on the wool trade of the United States: "The London market is active at an advance of 5 to 10 per cent in prices over the March sales. Here the market is dull and depressed, with prices favoring buyers on everything but the small lots that are being sold. Western advices continue strong, and the new clip is moving off rapidly at full previous prices, there being no weakening anywhere. THREE NEW STATES

Enabling Acts For Oklahoma, Arizona and New Mexico.

OPPOSITION IN HOUSE COLLAPSES.

Delegate Smith, Who Has Led the Fight For Statehood, Narrowly Escapes Death—Proceedings In Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The opposition in the house to the bill for the admission of Oklahoma, Arizona and New Mexico collapsed at the last minute, and the bill was passed without division as it came from the committee except for a few verbal amendments. The real test came on an amendment offered by Mr. Overstreet (Ind.) to join New Mexico and Arizona and admit them as the state of Montezuma. It was beaten, 28 to 106, and all opposition then ceased. The closing scenes of the debate were accompanied by a dramatic incident which narrowly escaped being a tragedy. Delegate Mark A. Smith (Ariz.), who has been fighting for the admission of his territory for a dozen years, had just made a vigorous speech against the Overstreet amendment when he was seized with a rush of blood to the head. He was conveyed to the lobby, where several physicians who are members of the house by the prompt administration of powerful heart stimulants saved him from a stroke of apoplexy. He later rallied and was removed to his hotel.

The bill as passed yesterday provides enabling acts for Oklahoma, Arizona and New Mexico similar in form to former enabling acts, with the exception that the constitutional convention of New Mexico is empowered to designate the name by which the new state shall enter the Union and in the case of Oklahoma the convention by irrevocable ordinance shall express the consent of that state that congress at any future time may attach all or any part of Indian Territory to it.

The enabling acts differ from each other chiefly in reference to the public lands appropriated for educational and public purposes.

The latter part of the session was devoted to private pension bills, eighty-seven of which were passed, twenty-eight original, fifty-four for increases and five to correct military records.

An effort was made in the senate to fix a time for a vote on the pending Philippine bill, but it was unsuccessful. The minority said many senators still desired to speak on the measure, and it would not be proper to determine at this time upon a vote.

Iowa School For the Deaf Burned.

OMAHA, Neb., May 10.—The Iowa State School For the Deaf, located three miles east of Council Bluffs, has been destroyed by fire. The main building and the chapel are a total loss. It is not known whether or not any one received fatal injuries. None of the inmates so far as known is injured. The loss will reach $400,000. The buildings are located outside the city limits, and the only fire protection is an independent plant. When the fire department reached the institution, the chapel had been destroyed, and an effort was made to save the main building. The water pressure, however, was so low that little could be done. The entire structure and its contents are a total loss. The fire is thought to have originated in the kitchen, which adjoined the chapel.

Cleveland on the Beef Question.

PRINCETON, N. J., May 10.—Former President Grover Cleveland when asked for his opinion of the effect upon the country of the recent course of action by the dressed beef combine said: "It looks as though the packers had overshot the market. I see by the newspapers that the markets are full and that the trust's produce is not being used so extensively as it was and that the stock raisers are content to sell their cattle at reasonable prices. I judge the situation is beginning to ass

THE DRESS REHEARSAL HELD

ALL IS READY FOR "HIS EXCELLENCY, THE GOVERNOR" THIS EVENING.

Amateur Play at Casino Promises to be the Finest Ever Given in Plainfield.

Those who were fortunate enough to witness the dress rehearsal of "His Excellency, the Governor," which is to be produced at the Casino this and Monday evenings for the benefit of the Women's Exchange, saw one of the cleverest comedies that has been produced on any local stage. The rehearsal was held at the Casino and was given with all the mechanical accessories that will form part of the regular production.

Knowing the limited size of the Casino stage, those who saw last night's rehearsal could scarce believe their eyes. An addition has been built at the rear of the stage and by clever manipulation, the stage effects are the most elaborate ever seen in any of the amateur productions. The moonlight on the rippling water in the distance is one of the most effective parts. Then the finest jinrickisha in this country, the show piece in Vantine and Company's big establishment, appears in the first act. The costumes, too, are fine and thoroughly in keeping with the scene of the play.

Everybody knows that the dress rehearsal is not the play itself but last night furnished an opportunity to see something of what is to come and it can honestly be said that the Plainfield public is going to have one of the most enjoyable dramatic treats that has ever been seen in Plainfield.

For the benefit of those who attend the performance, it is asked that the women remove their hats and wraps in the rooms provided for that purpose.

Bridemaid to Prospective Citizens.

Miss Sallie Schuyler, of LaGrande avenue, was one of the bridemaids, Wednesday, at the marriage of Miss Viola Bulkley, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. Duncan Bulkley, of Madison avenue, New York, to Edward Vermilye Cox. After their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Cox will take possession of their new home in Plainfield.

New Lodge at Trenton.

Grand Master Workman V. W. Nash instituted a new lodge at Trenton Thursday evening. The name of the new organization is Lafayette Lodge, No. 65, Ancient Order United Workmen. The charter comprises twenty-five members. All of the preliminary work was done before Mr. Nash's visit.

Church Lawn Graded.

The Grace M. E. church property has been much improved by the trustees of the church. The lawn in front of the church has been graded and the old iron fence has been removed from in front of the edifice.

George H. Robins, of Norwood avenue, has been kept at home a few days by illness.

FINE DAY FOR NATIONAL GAME

Large Crowds Saw Some Good Baseball Played by the Local Nines Saturday Afternoon.

UNPLEASANT FEATURE.

Dunellen Team Quit in Ninth Inning on Account of Umpire's Decision —Hopes Won by One Run—Safe Works Lost Again—Easy for St. Mary's—The Scores.

Hope Y. M. A., 16; Garwood, 15. Scotch Plains, 15; Safe Works, 6. Y. M. C. A., 9; Dunellen A. C., 0. Plainfield, 12; Westerleigh C. I., 5. N. P. H. S., 7; Rutgers Prep., 11. Clinton Ave., 9; E. Y. M. C. A., 16. Westfield, 6; O. N. T., 8.

Crowds took advantage of the delightful weather Saturday afternoon to witness the variety of baseball contests which were offered by the local teams. Two of the league teams won their respective games, one of which gave Dunellen the opportunity to win undesirable reputation of being the first team to withdraw from the diamond on account of an umpire's decision. The City High School sustained its reputation by defeating the Westerleigh C. I. while the Borough High School made a plucky fight against the Rutgers Prep School boys. There were signs of improvement in the play of all the nines.

THE SAFE WORKS LOST.

For the second time this season, the crack Safe Works team went down in defeat on Hope Common, Saturday afternoon. But for all that losing the game was no disgrace as the members up a snappy fight against the supposedly Scotch Plains nine, which in reality was made up of four 'Plains men and five professional players from New York. The score was 15 to 6. An attendance larger than has been present at any baseball contest his season, was present, the number of people being estimated at 800.

For individual work, the Safe Works players were constantly distinguishing themselves. Cooney made a remarkable catch of a foul fly, leaning over the second tier of seats in the grand stand to do it. Gaston, Symons and Siegford also made brilliant plays. The Scotch Plains contingent distinguished itself at the bat, touching Finnerty up for nineteen hits, a number of them two and three baggers. Otherwise Finnerty was all right, striking out seven men to Malay's three. Seven errors were made by the Safe people and four by Scotch Plains.

WORDS IN DEFENCE OF THE FIRST MAN

Rev. J. W. Richardson, of This City, Believes That Adam Was a Real Personage.

A SERMON ON SUBJECT.

DELIVERED TO CONGREGATION AT PARK AVE. BAPTIST CHURCH YESTERDAY.

Human Selfishness and Carelessness Responsible, and Not Adam for Countless Disasters to the Human Race—Interesting Discourse.

A large congregation listened to the morning sermon of Rev. J. W. Richardson, at the Park Aveune Baptist church, yesterday, on the subject, "Adam a Real Personage But How Far Responsible For Tears and Suffering."

Rev. Mr. Richardson took for his text I Cor xv:22 "For as in Adam all die, so in Christ, shall all be made alive." The speaker said: "The theological gymnastics of some of the modern seminary professors, and preachers, is decidedly grotesque when confronted by this chapter. These men tell us that Adam is a myth. According to such theology Paul should have said, 'As the mythical first Adam became a living soul; the second real Adam became a life giving spirit;' what sublime nonsense, what monumental contradictions, these modern critics make Paul utter. These gentlemen tell us that the Scriptural account of the Fall, is an allegory. It seems to me that these gentlemen were born several thousand years too late, to speak so authoritatively upon matters which occurred in Eden. Have they received a newer revelation, which supercedes the Old Holy Scriptures? When was it?

"Paul engages in a definite description of the first man Adam, and his deed and consequences; then Paul relates that what Adam as a man undid, the second Adam Christ restores. Imagine Paul resorting to myths and allegories, in order to find a basis for Christ's person and ministry. The same logic which destroys the personality of the first man, Adam, also destroys Paul's argument connecting Christ with Adam. If there was no first Adam, assuredly there is no necessity for a second Adam to come to undo mischiefs and restore losses, which no first Adam made.

"Paul speaks of the two Adams as living personalities; the modern critics tell us one was a myth; it is singular that these modern gentlemen know so much more about the status of the first Adam, than Paul, who saw the second Adam face to face, and from Him received the doctrine and connection between the first and second Adam. Paul contradicts the critics: Adam was a person.

"We suffer physical disease, not because Adam transmitted consumption, fevers and ulcers to his posterity. Adam died 930 years without one recorded instance of such things developing in his system, because of his transgession. We suffer physically, because many of those who immediately preceded us, loved their pleasures and indulgences. We suffer headaches and inflamations, which we bring upon ourselves by our own indiscretions. We credit a thosand disasters to Adam's transgession and eternal decrees, when present human selfishness, or carelessness, are directly, and altogether responsible.

"God has not decreed poverty and tears; Adams is not responsible for wrongs he never created; nor for the failure of reforms, whose success lie absolutely in the hands of the present generation. By negligence two trains collide; suffering and death ensue; but Adam's transgression is not the cause. A spark of lightning ignites a house; the fire spreads; hundreds are made poor; some become insane; cripples are made; a few become thieves; one commits murder, as the result of that conflagration. But in [no way is the fall in Eden responsible for all this suffering. We must discriminate between the sufferings which come from suddenly liberated forces of [nature, and those which are the result of a deliberate infraction of moral and physical laws."

Invitations Out.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. Abel R. Manning, of 319 Grant avenue, for the wedding of her daughter, Miss Adeline Mabel Manning, to Luther Anthony, of Kingston, formerly of Lexington, to take place at the home of the bride's mother, Tuesday evening, May 20.

FINALE OF ACT II.

CLEVER WORK ON LOCAL STAGE BY SOCIETY'S ACTORS

"His Excellency, The Governor" Produced at Casino Saturday Evening Before a Fashionable Audience Which Appreciated Its Merits.

It was an honorable and a praiseworthy ambition that prompted Plainfield people to appear before the footlights in a play that has been presented by leading artists in the theatrical centres of two hemispheres. That it was not a hazardous ambition or an ambition of the kind that overleaps itself was amply proven by the sequel. The local amateurs evidently has measured their strength and a suitable medium for the exposition of their talents was chosen accordingly.

When the curtain rose on "His Excellency, the Governor," at the Casino Saturday night every available seat was occupied, and many were content to take advantage of an opportunity to stand. Plainfield's smart set was present in great force, and a preponderance of women modishly gowned lent to the auditorium a festive and gala appearance. It was an appreciative audience—in fact it could hardly be otherwise, so excellent was the performance—and frequent rounds of applause manifested a warm approval of the play as well as earnest admiration of the manner in which is was acted. There was not a weak member in the whole cast; each one spoke his or her lines with natural spontaneity, and the enunciation was always clear and precise. As far as some of the cast were concerned, the line between the professional and the amateur, from the standpoint of dramatic portrayal, was literally effaced. The idea of the author was faithfully interpreted; one was always attentive to the bright sparkling comedy, carried along on a flood of good humor, and deeply interested in the fortunes of the personages of the drama, who were so often entangled in the meshes of a peculiar and ubiquitous Cupid. For love is everywhere in "His Excellency, the Governor," and if the last act does not conclude with a multiplicity of marriages, or marriages to be, it is the fault of Mr. Marshall in not making an even division of male and female characters.

The scene of the play is laid in the Amandoland Islands, supposedly British possession in the Indian Ocean and of which Sir Montagu Martin is governor. Unexpectedly Stella, Countess du Gese, now a music hall artist, arrives on an English steamer. She is a distant cousin of Sir Montagu's and in spite of a very cold reception thrusts herself boldly on his hospitality, Sir Montagu being unmistakably bored. Right Hon. Henry Carlton, an expected visitor, duly appears. He is the political sponsor of Sir Montagu and though travelling for his health, does not fail to be inquisitive about the government of the islands, for which he is in part responsible. Accompanying Carlton are his widowed sister, Mrs. Wentworth Bolingbroke, and his daughter Ethel.

A love epidemic sets in immediately. Sir Montagu, who once vowed he would die of an official chill before being captivated by a woman, becomes infatuated with Ethel, as does also his secretary, Baverstock and one of his staff, Carew. The Hon. Carlton, who is well advanced in years, falls in love with Stella, the Countess and music hall artist, much to the discomfiture of his proud sister Mrs. Bolingbroke. Sir Montagu and his two subordinates striving for the hand of Ethel Carlton afford many amusing situations. Carew is finally the favored one, leaving the secrerary out in the cold, and Sir Montagu to die of the chill if he sees fit. Stella wins the Hon. Carlton, but there is no eligible for Mrs. Bolingbroke, although she occasionally makes love on her own account to Sir Montagu. Reported risings of natives in the second and third acts causes one to expect tragedy, but it ludicrously transpires that they mustered merely to celebrate the arrival of Carlton.

The play almost rivals "The Importance of Being Earnest" in the number of its epigrams. Thus Stella is made to say, "wrinkles are the diary of a woman's life, written in cipher;" there are others such as "the countess of today is an ordinary person very inordinately advertised;" "love is the only game where both players can win;" "love is like climbing for an apple, the honeymoon is the eating of it, and the final discovery is that you prefer any other kind of fruit."

The dramatis personae was as follows:

His Excellency, Sir Montagu Martin, G. C. S. I. — George S. Ring
Governor of the Amandaland Islands.
The Rt. Hon. Henry Carlton, M. P. — William R. Cock
Captain Charles Carew, A. D. C. — Frederick W. Goddard.
On His Excellency's Staff.
John Baverstock . . . . . Laurens H. VanBuren
Private Secretary.
Captain Rivers . . . . . Howard Huntington
Of the Midland Fusiliers.
Major Kildare . . . . . Raymond A. McGee
Of the Midland Fusiliers.
A Sentry . . . . . Harry L. McGee
A Butler . . . . . A. Willis West
Mrs. Wentworth Bolingbroke, Mrs. Edward M. VanBuren
Carlton's Sister.
Ethel Carlton . . . . . Miss Edith L. Burt
Carlton's Daughter.
Stella, Countess de Gex, Mrs. Lemuel Wm. Serrell
A Music Hall Artist.

Perhaps "the play is the thing," as Hamlet says, but the performers Saturday night contributed greatly to its success. Mrs. Lemuel W. Serrell, as Stella, Countess Du Gese and music hall artist, was the bright particular star of the evening, revolving in an orbit all by herself. Beautiful, vivacious and witty, she brought with her the atmosphere of vaudeville, and even when a native rising was thought to be imminent her music hall proclivities clung to her with admirable effect. Her acting was always strong and impressive. Though given less opportunity to display her ability, Miss Edith Burt as Ethel Carlton was charmingly natural. She had as many suitors as Portia and if she could not rid herself of them so expeditiously, she always emerged from a difficult situation with marked tact. As Mrs. Wentworth Bolingbroke, Mrs. Edward M. VanBuren was the precisian and the formalist she was intended to be, dignified, disdainful and haughty. Her portrayal of the part was all that could possibly be desired. Wm. R. Cock, as Rt. Hon. Henry Carlton, was redolent of Downing street. He was very suggestive of a Tory cabinet minister, and while discussing affairs of state with Sir Montagu seemed as unromantic as the colonial office itself, but on a tete-a-tete with Stella he was at once transformed into an ardent lover, blithesome as spring. The part was another artistic triumph for Mr. Cock.

George S. Ring as Sir Montagu Martin, G. C. S. I., the title role, was a typical English colonial governor, and manipulated his monocle a la Chamberlain. His acting was most artistic; he was just as one is accustomed to imagine a governor who goes abroad with the hope of distinguishing himself and becoming a peer of the realm.

In the balcony scene which, by the way, reminds one strongly of Romeo and Juliet, only the respective positions are reversed, he poured out his tale of love to Ethel in a manner that might rival the famous young Montagu of Verona, there is even a coincidence in the name. Chas. Carew, on the governor's staff, was admirably taken by Frederick W. Goddard. He made a good representative of the British aide-de-camp, and played the part most acceptably, while Laurens H. VanBuren as John B. Averstock was most amusing in his fussy, fumbling way. He was the most mirth-provoking of the male cast and too much cannot be said in praise of his acting. Howard Huntington and Raymond A. McGee, as Captain Rivers and Major Kildare respectively, clad in khaki, were British officers to the manner born, as much as if they were graduated from Eton and had drilled at Aldershot. Harry L. McGee as a sentry, was a Tommy Atkins to the core, and A. Willis West made a typical butler of the English type. The selections for each part was the best and if the stellor characters outshone the others at times, the lesser lights gave admirable support.

The stage settings were most elaborate, and only as regards size alone, did the stage seem not specially suiited for a metropolitan theatre. The whole action takes place in the vestibule of the government house, and it was filled out in a gorgeous manner, overlooking a beautiful bay extending far out to the horizon. The scenery was new and excellent effect was obtained by the use of electricial and mechanical devices. Great credit is due Lemuel W. Serrell, under whose management the stage was prepared for the occasion. Also to Douglas Houghton, the caste expressed their appreciation on the programme for his untiring efforts in coaching the play.

Saturday night's performance was arranged for the benefit of the Plainfield Exchange for Women's Work and will be repeated this evening for the same object.

To the Public.

The tin and sheet metal business that my husband has left me will be carried on by my two sons. All work in this line will be carefully executed by them, using the best material. I thank the public for the orders in the past as well as those of the future.

Mrs. Robt. Jahn,
Scotch Plains.

A Few More Tickets.

A few more seats for "His Excellency, the Governor," can be secured at Randolph's drug store or at the Casino after 7 o'clock this evening.

—At Neuman Brothers tomorrow will be found a fresh shipment of Maryland strawberries. They are delicious.

TWENTY-ONE YEARS OF CHRISTIAN EFFORT

Anniversary Observed by the Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Church.

AT EVENING SERVICE.

ADDRESS DELIVERED BY REV. CORNELIUS SCHENCK, THE PASTOR.

Interesting Reports of Officers Were Read by Robert Clark, Jr.—Substance of Them—What the Society Has Done During Year.

The twenty-first anniversary of the Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church was held in the church last evening.

After the devotional exercises, the reports were read by Robert Clark, Jr. That of the secretary, Mrs. T. R. VanZandt showed an active membership of fifty-five with eight honorary members. At ten meetings there was an average attendance of 24. Six new members were received. The missionary committee collected $84.04 which was divided equally between the foreign and domestic boards of missions, $43.52 to each board. There was a special offering of $5 to the mountain whites and a special gift of $5 to a hospital in Arabia. The society also gave $10 to the student volunteers and $10 toward the erection of an orpanage at Fort Still.

Among the other donations were the following: W. C. T. U., $5; a box valued at $115 to Alto, Wias.; a barrel of clothing to the Schofield School, South Carolina; twenty garments sent 214 Scripture cards and 89 papers to Miss Dykema, of North Dakota.

The visiting committee made 177 calls during the year. The reception committee realized $51.72 from the strawberry festival held in June which was given toward painting the church. The annual turkey supper netted $149.8, of which $50 was given toward painting the church, making a total of $301.72 toward this object. In all $80 was given toward the piano fund. There were twenty-one articles sent to the Summer Sewing Guild. Two teas were given one at Mrs. Schenck's at which $5.25 was received, and one at Mrs. S. C. Peck's at which $9.69 was received.

The next report was that of the treasurer, Mrs. Robert Clark, Jr. This was as follows: Receipts, general fund, $276.93; sewing fund, $16.68; missionary fund, $97. Disbursements, general fund, $226.73; sewing fund, $14.28; missionary fund, $9.68; balance on hand, general fund, $50.20; sewing fund, $2.40; missionary fund, 60 cents.

After the reading of the reports, the pastor, Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, made an address to the society, in the absence of Rev. Dr. C. H. Pool, of Somerville, who was detained by illness.

The pastor spoke briefly on the subject, "Evolution of Woman in Church Work." He said that twenty-five years ago there were no women organizations in the church and that when Christianity first found woman she was on a lower level than that intended for her. After Christianity found her there followed a co-operation and during the last century many organizations were found in the churches. In the opinion of Dr. Schenck women can do more work with less fuel than any organization in the church. Mr. Schenck said that what he had said was all true of the Ladies' Christian Work Society, and he praised the society highly for the earnest and fruitful endeavor of its members.

The floral display, under the direction of Mrs. H. C. VanName and Mrs. J. C. VanDyke, was very much admired.

Ready for the Fishermen.

Floyd T. Woodhull, accompanied by George R. Vanderhoef and a colored chef, left today for Lake Hopatcong, where they will put Mr. Woodhull's cottage in order for the reception of the fishing party which will arrive tomorrow. Those in the party include Rev. J. W. Richardson, F. C. Langhorne, Dr. E. W. Hedges and Mr. Woodhull's partner, E. C. Martin. Pickerel are ripe in the lake and big catches are expected. The party will return home next Friday afternoon.

Chess Club Meets.

There will be a meeting of the chess club at the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock tonight. Any member of the Y. M. C. A. is entitled to become a member. Preparations are now under way for a contest with an outside club.

GOLFERS AT LOCAL LINKS

The Fine Weather and a Good Course Drew Out Crowds at Both Local Golf Clubs.

THE DAY'S WINNERS.

F. O. Reinhart and Gordon Abbott Won Competitions at Hillside—F. O. Reinhart After Course Record—Chas. B. Morse Low Man at the Park Course.

With both of the local golf courses in fine condition and delightful weather, the Plainfield golfers were tempted out in large numbers Saturday afternoon. By way of special attractions there were the weekly competitions for which there were a goodly number of entries. Frank O. Reinhart was home from the intercollegiate tournament and carried off honors at the Hillside Club in the afternoon, where Gordon Abbott was the morning's winner. At the Park Golf Club, Charles B. Morse was low man for the President's cup.

PARK GOLF CLUB.

Saturday afternoon was the first good opportunity the golfiacs of the Park Golf Club have had to enjoy their sport. The course was in the best of shape and the weather conditions were favorable. Two score members turned out and half that number participated in the weekly play for the President's cup.

Points were scored by Charles B. Morse, Frank Rogers and Charles L. Nichols, their first for the season. None of the gross scores were very low, the lowest being 104. Senator Charles A. Reed still leads with four points while Charles W. McCutchen and Charles B. Morse are tied for second place with three each.

The afternoon's scores, which netted better than 100, were as follows:

	G	H	N
Charles B. Morse	104	27	77
Frank Rogers	113	30	83
Charles L. Nichols	120	36	84
Dr. A. W. Anderson	125	40	85
Charles A. Reed	113	25	88
Nelson A. Miller	119	29	90
William A. Townsend	114	21	93
Henry D. Hibbard	108	11	97

The standing for the President's cup is:

	Points.
Charles A. Reed	4
Charles W. McCutchen	3
Charles B. Morse	3
S. St. J. McCutchen	2
William R. Richards	2
Frank Rogers	2
Samuel Townsend	1

HILLSIDE CLUB.

Considerable interest was manifested in the weekly play for the Boy' cup on the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club Saturday morning. It was the second play for this cup and some excellent scores were made. Although Gordon Abbott scored the first three points. Kerra Knox by finishing second, added two points to the three made a week ago and now has a substantial lead with five points.

The scores are as follows:

	G	H	N
Gordon Abbott	104	18	86
Kerro Knox	99	10	89
N. P. Rogers, Jr.	90	0	90
James Scott	106	15	91
H. Lapsley	103	10	93
W. Glenney	104	10	94

The standing for the cup at present is as follows:

	Points.
Kerro Knox	5
Gordon Abbott	3
Wickham Corwin	1½
H. Lapsley	1½
N. P. Rogers, Jr	1

Although it was a trifle cool, the weather Saturday afternoon was ideal for golf and in consequence there was a large field out to compete for the Golf Committee cup. The course was in the best of condition, permitting low scores.

Frank O. Reinhart, who figured prominently in the intercollegiate matches at Garden City last week, returned to the Hillside course and made the best score for the season, a 79 net from scratch. Reinhart had Morris J. Dumont for a partner and during the early part of the play it was thought that he would beat 79. He played in his old-time form, as

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

Clippings From Other Newspapers Which May be of Interest to Plainfield and Its Citizens.

Apropos of the Governor's refusal to approve Assemblyman Waite's rope fire escape bill, the Trenton State Gazette thinks there is no need of additional law for protection against loss of life by fire, but that there is urgent necessity for stricter enforcement of the existing statutes dealing with this subject. It is true that the law requiring fire escapes on the outside of all hotels, factories and other buildings where there is more than ordinary hazard of loss of life by fire, is not enforced as strictly as it should be, but the fact that there is such delinquency is one of the strong arguments in favor of the cheaper and handier rope escapes. Property owners who dodge the law which calls for expensive and ugly exterior escapes would willingly equip their rooms with a rope or wire cable, which in an emergency might prove as efficient in saving life as the iron balconies and ladders. At least there would have been no harm done in adding this act to those already on the statute books. Governor Murphy's veto of the bill was a surprise to its introducer, who claims to have had good ground for belief that the Governor would sign it.—Camden Post Telegram.

LITERARY.

From its charming cover by Albert Herter to its last page the May issue of The Ladies' Home Journal excels in all ways. The most important new feature is the beginning of Ernest Thompson Seton's department for boys, which is written and illustrated by the famous naturalist-author-artist. Lindsay Denison, who knows President Roosevelt in a personal way, writes of "The Outdoor President," and Helen Keller continues the marvelous story of her life. The fiction features are Miss Porter's "Those Days in Old Virginia," and the first part of a delightful story by Grace S. Richmond called "The Indifference of Juliet." Neltje Blanchan tells "How the Birds Build Their Nests," and Will Bradley shows the boudoir of "The Bradley House." Mr. Bok's editorial is a fine bit of sarcasm aimed at the wise New Yorkers, and Mr Mabie in his literary talk deals with the reading habit and several new books and writers of note. There's no end of good and helpful advice and interesting facts in the various departments, and the illustrations are conspicuously attractive. By The Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. Ten cents a copy; one dollar a year.

There are several notable pictoral features of peculiarly timely interest and also others of an artistic flavor in the magazine number of The Outlook for May. In the first class may be named that describing District Attorney Jerome's official home on the east side of New York, and that on the King of Spain, who this month becomes King in act as well as in name, by General Stewart L. Woodford, formerly United States Minister to Spain. Art and music are respectively represented by an article on the great Spanish painter Sorolla, written by one of his pupils and illustrated by reproductions of paintings and original sketches, and by a thoughtful critical and personal article on the work of Grieg by Daniel Gregory Mason. Western interest and commercial interests are brought to the front in Ray Stannard Baker's "The Commerce of the Great Lakes," which is as well informed as it is readable and is made picturesque by a dozen or more illustrations relating to the shipping and commerce of the Lakes. Articles relating to the spring season are, John Burroughs' little out-of-door essay and poem called "A Spray of Arbutus," and J. H. McFarland's "A Story of Some Maples," which is illustrated with many exceedingly beautiful photographs of trees and their flowers, taken by the author.

—Mr. and Mrs. Keel Perrine, of East Fourth street, have taken up their residence on Duer street, near Greenbrook road.

—Every member is urged to attend the meeting of Plainfield Council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum, this evening, when arrangements for the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Council will be planned.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE DOING

SOME BRIEF PARAGRAPHS OF A PERSONAL NATURE.

Many Folk of Greater Plainfield Are Entertaining or Being Entertained.

Miss Rose Frauler, of Duer street, spent Sunday at Bound Brook.

J. F. Harman, of West Eighth street, has returned from a trip to Europe.

Miss Maud Uhler, of the borough, has been visiting at Bound Brook for several days.

S. W. Dunning, of Sandford avenue, has been the guest of friends at Bound Brook.

James R. Blair, of Duer street, has returned home after spending a few days at Belmar.

Mrs. J. B. Tigar, of Duer street, has returned from a visit with relatives at Bound Brook.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sherman Hobbs, of Newark, have been visiting friends in Plainfield for a few days.

Mrs. Fred Canfield, of Somerville, has returned home after a pleasant visit with Plainfield friends.

Col. Keeler, a Chicagoan, is visiting his sister, Mrs. George W. F. Randolph, of West Front street.

Charles VanMiddlesworth, who has been detained at his home in Chatham street, by illness, is much improved.

Charles F. Manning, of Newark, has returned home after a visit with his brother, W. D. Manning, of this city.

Elston M. French has been confined to his home on Somerset street for the past few days on account of illness.

Rev. Dr. Buchanan, of Pemberton, is spending a few days with his son, Dr. J. Hervey Buchanan, of Duer street.

Miss Adah VanHorne, of Grove street, is entertaining her friend, Miss Cassie Johnson, of Dunellen, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Fisk have returned to their home in West Seventh street, after spending several months in New York.

Ralph K. Miner, of LaGrande avenue, was the guest of his sister, Miss Genevra M. Miner, of Freeport, L. I., over Saturday and Sunday.

Major F. W. Coleman, of the Netherwood Hotel, has been ill for some time past and is just now passing through a severe attack of the whooping-cough.

Like a Drowning Man.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such hold of me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marsh, well-known attorney of Nocona, Tex. "I took quantities of pepsin and other medicines but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am sound and well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. L. W. Randolph.

THEATRICAL.

"The Hall of Fame," the big spectacular burlesque review, is now in its seventeenth week at the New York Theatre, New York, and from present indications promises to run well into hot weather. The cast contains many popular favorites, and the whole piece is replete with catchy music and bright lines. Mabel Gilman still continues to charm with her "Sunflower" song; Emma Carus in "Nancy" has, easily, the most popular number in the production: the Pajama Girls; the girl at The Black Cat Inn; and "Love is a Jailer," sung by Dan McAvoy, Georgia Kelly and Chas. Prince, are also frequently applauded. Marie Dressler, Josie Sadler, Ada Lewis, Louis Harrison and Eullah Lee are others who have scored individual hits in their respective characters. The scenery of "The Hall of Fame" is pretty throughout.

Don't Start Wrong.

Don't start the summer with a lingering cough or cold. We all know what a "summer cold" is. It's the hardest kind to cure. Often it "hangs on" through the entire season. Take it in hand right now. A few doses of One Minute Cough Cure will set you right. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. Children like it. "One Minute Cough Cure is the best cough medicine I ever used," says J H. Bowles, Groveton, N. H. "I never found anything else that acted so safely and quickly." L. W. Randolph.

CHAFFEE IN MINDANAO.

The General Starts on a Tour of Inspection.

MANILA, May 12.—General Chaffee has arrived at Malabang, island of Mindanao, where he was met by General Davis, the commander of the American forces in the island. Generals Chaffee and Davis, with an escort, at once started to ride to Lake Lanao, in the interior, which they will reach during the day.

The American forces in the province of Batangas, southern Luzon, have been concentrated at several towns in the province. This action is taken because armed insurgent resistance in the province has ceased.

The United States Philippine commission has passed a law abolishing imprisonment for debt after the debtor has sworn to bankruptcy. Until this law goes into effect the expenses of those persons who are now in jail for debt must be borne by their prosecutors and must be paid weekly.

Another case of cholera has occurred on board the United States army transport Warren. The ship and her passengers will be detained in quarantine for an additional five days. The Warren has already been quarantined for cholera for over ten days.

There have been 913 cases and 736 deaths from cholera in Manila, while the provinces report 2,710 cases and 1,970 deaths from the disease.

A Brutal Murder.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 12.—One of the most brutal murders ever committed in this city took place at the Atlantic hotel yesterday. Lawrence Bressano, a fireman in the hotel, crept into the meatroom and split the skull of Michael Tornish, the chef, with a meat cleaver. He then took a large butcher knife and slashed the body in a most horrible manner. He cut off the nose and ears, gouged out the eyes and then cut strip after strip of flesh off the face of the unfortunate victim. When the upper part of the body was unrecognizable, Bressano jumped on the body and danced from the head to the feet of his victim until the police, attracted by the frenzied yells of the murderer arrived. Bressano then turned his attention to his would be capturers and was not subdued until one policeman broke his club over his head and another knocked him senseless to the ground with the brass buckle of a belt. Bressano at police headquarters admitted the murder and said he felt better for having committed it.

Found Diamonds In a Shoe.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 12.—Three thousand dollars' worth of diamonds hidden in a servant's shoe were recovered by the local police for Mrs. J. Keys of Brooklyn, N. Y., a guest at a beach front hotel. Henry Brookins, a colored waiter, was taken into custody and bound over for a hearing. Dr. and Mrs. Keys after dinner left the dining room for their apartments, Mrs. Keys forgetting the bag containing the jewels and some money in the dining room. She had taken them there with her for safety. Fifteen minutes elapsed before she thought of her precious stones. She then hurried to her table, but the diamonds were gone. The police arrested the man who waited upon them, searched his room and found the jewels hidden in his shoe.

Government Wins on Reballot.

PARIS, May 12.—The reports indicate that the reballot has been favorable to the government, as half the ministerialists, including M. Leygues, the minister of public instruction; M. Brisson and Jules Siegfried, former minister of commerce, were elected. M. Paschal Grousset (ministerialist), a retiring deputy, who was re-elected in Paris, died of apoplexy last evening. M. Lorthiois (Liberal Republican), who was elected at Lille, in the department du nord, died shortly before the polls closed. All the antiministerialists in Algeria were defeated.

A Fatal Kentucky Row.

GRAYSON, Ky., May 12.—Robert Hicks was killed, Tom Tackett fatally wounded, W. M. Smith shot in the forehead and Henry Tackett cut with a knife so that he will die and others were hurt in a row at Olive Hill. The guilty persons are under arrest, and more trouble is expected.

Fastest Mile Ever Made.

NEWARK, N. J., May 12.—At the Vailsburg cycle track Kramer captured both the half mile open and the one mile handicap. In the latter he made the remarkable record of 1m. 57 2-5s. for the mile, the fastest time ever made by the winner of a handicap.

Missouri Town Burned.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 12. — The business part of the town of Ridgeway was destroyed by fire, which started in Campbell Bros.' drugstore. Six stores and their contents were burned. The loss is estimated at about $50,000, partly covered by insurance.

Lumber Company Burned Out.

TRUCKEE, Cal., May 12.—The Buckeye Lumber company's office, box factory, warehouse, dryboxes and 2,000,000 feet of lumber were destroyed by fire. The loss exceeds $200,000. A trainload of cars on a side track was also destroyed.

Castle on the Rhine For Henry.

BERLIN, May 12.—Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia has inherited the castle of Rheinstein, at Bingen, on the Rhine, from Prince George of Hohenzollern, a cousin of Emperor William, who died May 4.

Paint Mills Burned.

EASTON, Pa., May 12.—The five buildings of the C. K. Williams' Paint company of this city have been destroyed by fire; loss, $100,000; insurance trifling.

MINERS LOCKED OUT

Hazleton Coal Companies Anticipate Action of Men.

PREPARATIONS FOR A LONG FIGHT.

United Mine Workers Elect Delegates to the Scranton Convention—American Federation to Support Striking Miners.

HAZLETON, Pa., May 12.—Anticipating the action of their employees, two of the individual coal companies in this region have practically locked out their men. This step was taken Saturday night, when Coxe Bros. & Co., operating the Beaver Meadow colliery, and Calvin Pardee, Sons & Co., owners of the Lattimer mines, notified their employees that they need not report for work until ordered to do so. This order does not apply to engineers, firemen and pump runners, whose services are necessary to keep the mines free from water. These companies, it is believed, expect a long struggle, and this belief is strengthened by the fact that at Lattimer work has been suspended on the rebuilding of a fanhouse that was burned last week and whose reconstruction was necessary to prevent the accumulation of gases in one part of the slope.

The Lehigh Valley Coal company announces that it will give employment to all men who report for work.

Meetings of the United Mine Workers' locals were held in most of the mining villages in the Hazleton district yesterday, and delegates were elected to the convention which meets here on Wednesday for the purpose of deciding whether or not to make permanent the strike to be inaugurated today. It is impossible to ascertain the attitude of the locals on the strike question. The meetings were secret, and the delegates were ordered not to divulge their instructions until they get into the convention. Seventy-five per cent of the men employed in the various collieries in this (Lehigh) valley are organized, and operations throughout the region will be tied up until Wednesday at least.

Samuel Nedrey, a representative of the American Federation of Labor, who has arrived here, said the federation would render all possible aid to the miners in their struggle.

No Coal Mined.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 12.—There has been no coal mined in the Scranton end of the anthracite region today. The companies agreed at a meeting of the general managers and superintendents on Saturday that no attempt would be made to operate. Some of the companies, however, kept a few at least of their washeries running to insure a supply of coal for locomotives, hoisting engines and the like. The companies will not admit that the agreement to refrain from an attempt at operating is eventually to resolve itself into a lockout should events at Hazleton make such a thing possible. The strike has already made itself seriously felt in other lines of work. The railroads have laid off four-fifths of their coal train crews, in all about 800 men, and the Erie shops at Dunsmore, where mine cars and machinery are repaired, have shut down indefinitely, throwing 300 men out of employment.

Miners to Be Discharged.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 12.—The clerks employed at the various coal offices in this city were hastily summoned from their homes yesterday and put to work on the pay rolls. It is reported that all the employees at the mines in this region will be paid in full not later than Thursday and that when they receive their envelopes they will be told that they are no longer in the employ of the company.

Troops Return From Cuba.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The Munson line steamer Olinda has arrived from Cuban ports with 199 enlisted men of the Tenth cavalry, United States army, who have been stationed at Holguin, Cuba, for nearly three years. The men belong to Troops B, D, I and K and are in command of Captain R. J. Fleming. They are en route to Fort Robinson, Neb. There were also fifteen women and children, families of noncommissioned officers, and seventy-two discharged soldiers.

Fire In Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, O., May 12.—Fire which originated in the Ohio Scroll and Lumber company in Covington, Ky., caused a loss of $75,000. The fire spread to the Anthe Machine works and thence to the Phoenix Furniture factory, but the most serious damage was to the Ohio company's plant.

Dead at the Age of 111.

ST. JOHN, N. B., May 12.—Word has been received here of the death at St. Martins, N. B., of James Ross, who was 111 years old. On the occasion of his one hundred and tenth birthday the municipal council of St. John county presented him with an easy chair.

Dye Helpers Return to Work.

PATERSON, N. J., May 12.—Between 500 and 600 of the striking dyers' helpers at Blume Bros.' dye works, Lodi, have returned to work. Their action practically ends the trouble at Lodi, where about fifty deputies have been on guard since the strike began.

May Irwin's Health Fails.

THE HORROR GROWS

Particulars of the Volcanic Upheaval in Martinique.

FIRE SHOWER FELL ON ST. PIERRE.

Other Towns In Path of Destruction. Whole North Side of the Island Engulfed by Lava From Mont Pelee.

FORT DE FRANCE, Martinique, May 12.—Advices just received here from the vicinity of St. Pierre, ten miles from here, contain further details of the terrible volcanic upheaval which resulted in the utter destruction of that town and the death of nearly all its inhabitants.

The crater of Mont Pelee had been wearing its "smoke cap" since the 3d of May, but there was nothing until last Monday to indicate that there was the slightest danger. On that day a stream of boiling lava burst through the top of the crater, plunged into the valley of the river Blanche, overwhelmed the Guerin Sugar works and killed twenty-three workingmen and the son of the proprietor.

A commission was appointed by the governor to investigate the outbreak, and it returned a reassuring report on Wednesday evening, but about 8 o'clock on Thursday morning a shower of fire rushed down on St. Pierre and the coast from Le Carbet, which had a population of 6,000, to Le Precheur, which had a population of 4,000, burning up everything in its path.

Throughout Thursday the heat in the vicinity of St. Pierre was so intense and the stream of flowing lava was so unremitting that it was impossible to approach the town during the early part of the day. As evening approached the French cruiser Suchet, after a horrible battle with the heat, suffocation and sulphur fumes, succeeded in making a dash toward the shore, nearing the land close enough to enable her to take off thirty survivors of the disaster, all of whom were horribly burned and mutilated.

St. Pierre at that time was an absolute smoking waste, concealing 30,000 corpses, whose rapid decomposition necessitates in some cases instantly completing their cremation, which is only partially accomplished by the lava.

The inhabitants of Fort de France were panic stricken on the morning of the disaster when the sky suddenly blackened until it was as dark as at midnight. The sea shrank back thirty yards and hot rain began to fall, while gravel the size of walnuts poured down on the town. This lasted about fifteen minutes, and then the town began to resume its normal aspect.

The 450 survivors who were brought here Saturday from the vicinity of St. Pierre by the French cable repair ship Pouyer Guertier came from the town of Le Precheur, where, surrounded on all sides by flowing lava, they were nearly roasted to death and expected momentarily to be engulfed.

The work of relief is progressing here on the most extensive scale possible, but in anticipation of disturbances the treasury building and the warehouses are guarded by troops.

The latest reports received here showed that lava continues to pour down the slopes of the mountain, slowly engulfing the whole north side of the island, while fresh crevices are continually opening.

MONT PELEE STILL ACTIVE.

Terrible Scene of Devastation Reported by French Commander.

PARIS, May 12.—The minister of marine, M. de Lanessan, has received a cable dispatch from the commander of the French cruiser Suchet, dated Fort de France, Martinique, saying that he has conducted a search at St. Pierre. The captain reports that the town is now a mere heap of smoking ruins, under which the victims of the catastrophe are buried. The Suchet was able to convey some of the inhabitants of Le Precheur to Fort de France, but could not reach the northernmost part of the island on account of the dense rain of ashes which was falling.

The captain of the Suchet further reported that the Mont Pelee volcano still had a threatening aspect. Subterranean rumblings were still heard, flashes of flame frequently belched from the volcano, and stones were thrown out with immense force.

A dispatch received at the colonial office here from Fort de France says there is no doubt that Governor Mouttet and the commander of the troops at St. Pierre, Colonel Dain, are dead.

Other dispatches confirm the reports that the American and British consuls and their families perished.

A French cable official who went to St. Pierre reports that the company's office has been burned to ashes and that there is no trace of the staff. This official adds that the cremation of the bodies of the victims has begun and that the cable steamer Pouyer Guertier is proceeding to repair the northern cable.

The waves of lava are still reported to be flowing northward. They have extended even to Le Carbet.

A dispatch received here from Fort de France, Martinique, says:

"All the hills surrounding Le Carbet and Le Precheur, near St. Pierre, are covered with refugees to the number of about 5,000, who are being taken away gradually. In the meanwhile provisions are being conveyed to them.

"Of the thirty persons who were originally rescued by the French cruiser Suchet the majority were fearfully burned, and nine died while on their way to the hospital.

"The corpses which are heaped in the ruins of St. Pierre are not only completely naked, but are frightfully mutilated."

ANOTHER STRICKEN ISLAND.

St. Vincent the Scene of Great Destruction to Life and Property.

KINGSTON, St. Vincent, May 12.—After numerous earthquakes during the preceding fortnight, accompanied by subterranean noises in the direction of the Soufriere volcano, in the northwestern part of the island, a loud explosion occurred Monday last from the crater, and the water in the crater lake ascended in a stupendous cloud of steam and exploded heavily. The noises grew louder continually till Wednesday morning, when the old crater, three miles in circumference, and the new crater formed by the last eruption belched smoke and stones, forcing the residents of Wallibou and Richmond valley, beneath the volcano, to flee to Chateau Belair for refuge.

The thunderous noises, which were continually increasing, were heard in neighboring islands 200 miles away.

At midday the craters ejected enormous columns of steamy vapor, rising majestically eight miles high and expanding into wonderful shapes, resembling enormous cauliflowers, gigantic wheels and beautiful flower forms, all streaked up and down and crosswise with vivid flashes of lightning, awing the beholder and impressing the mind with fear.

The mountain labored to rid itself of a mass of molten lava which later flowed over in six streams down the side of the volcano, and the great noises following united in one great continuous roar all evening, through the night to Thursday morning, accompanied with black rain, falling dust and cinders, attended with midnight darkness all Wednesday, creating feelings of fear and anxious suspense.

On the morning of Friday there was a fresh eruption and ejections of fiery matter, more dust covering the island, in some places two feet deep.

The crater is still active as this dispatch is sent, and great loss of life is believed to have occurred. The lava has destroyed several districts, with their live stock. People are fleeing to this town, streams are dried up, and in many places a food and water famine is threatened. The government is feeding numbers of sufferers from the outbreak.

Great physical changes have taken place in the neighborhood of the Soufriere.

Several districts have not yet been heard from, and the scene of the eruption is unapproachable. Every hour brings sadder news. The nurses and doctors are overworked. It is impossible to give full details at present.

As a result of the disaster on this island all business has been suspended for three days. The public mind is still unsettled, fearing further disaster.

Among the deaths are whole families, whose corpses are in several places still lying unburied. The dead will be interred in trenches.

Seismic Disturbances In Aleutians.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—The Alaska Commercial company has received from its agent at Unalaska, Aleutian islands, a letter, dated April 10, giving information of volcanic disturbances in that section. The letter says: "Unalaska has been shaken up by earthquakes lately, and on several occasions the ground was covered with fine ashes from some volcano. Reports reach us from Unimak to the effect that with every westerly wind their village is covered with some kind of ashes, indicating that some western volcano is in action."

Strange Phenomenon In Dominica.

ST. THOMAS, Danish West Indies, May 12.—A dispatch just received here from the island of Dominica, British West Indies, says that a man who has just returned from the boiling lake district of the island went within a hundred yards of the lake and found that the water had disappeared and that from a vent ten feet in diameter in the center was arising a column of steam to a height of thirty feet before spreading into the atmosphere. That district otherwise was apparently unchanged, but the sulphur gases were very strong.

New Yorkers to Visit West Indies.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The steam yacht Aquilo, belonging to William P. Eno of New York, is now on her way, with her owner and a large party of guests aboard, to Martinique and St. Vincent to witness the volcanic eruptions, having left this port on Saturday afternoon. The indications are that she will be followed by a number of larger steam yachts belonging to this port, including some of those that are now out of commission.

Perished at St. Pierre.

DES MOINES, Ia., May 12.—William J. Ince of this city has received word that his aunt and cousin, Mrs. H. J. Ince and her son Samuel, were among the passengers on the Roraima who perished at St. Pierre. They had been visiting in New York and were returning to their home in Barbados.

Linton Breaks the Record.

PARIS, May 12.—In the bicycle contests held at the Parc des Princes Tom Linton, the English cyclist, broke the world's record for the distance covered in one hour on a bicycle. He rode 71 kilometers and 995 meters in this time. Robl, the German cyclist, was two laps behind Linton, and Harry Elkes, the American, was third.

Governor Odell In San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—Governor Odell of New York will be the guest of honor tonight at a banquet given by E. H. Harriman, president of the Southern Pacific Railroad company. After spending a few days in this city Governor Odell will go to Delmonte and the Yosemite, returning home by the Canadian Pacific.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR STONE.

Wisconsin Official a Victim of Cancer of the Stomach.

WATERTOWN, Wis., May 12.—Lieutenant Governor Stone of Wisconsin died here last night after a lingering illness from cancer of the stomach. Mr. Stone spent some time in the south, hoping to get relief, but without avail. On his return he underwent an operation in a Chicago hospital, where the real cause of his trouble was ascertained. After the operation he was removed to his home in Watertown, and death had been expected for several days.

Jesse Stone was a capitalist, banker and manufacturer. He was born Aug. 23, 1836, in Lincoln, Lincolnshire, England, coming to this country at the age of five years. He was twice elected lieutenant governor of Wisconsin on the Republican ticket. He served three terms in the state assembly and held various other offices of trust. He was one of the delegates to the national Republican convention in 1888 and also in 1892 and was a member of the Republican state central committee from 1884 to 1894. He received the title of colonel during Governor Hoard's administration, serving on his official staff. He was also prominent in Masonic circles.

AGAINST BEEF TRUST.

Bill For an Injunction Filed In Federal Court at Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 12.—With the full approval of Attorney General P. C. Knox, representing the national government, District Attorney S. C. Bethea has filed with the clerk of the federal circuit court here a bill for an injunction, sweeping in character, designed to destroy the alleged giant conspiracy to illegally control the meat trade of the United States.

The original of the bill was recorded the moment it was filed and was at once placed in the official files of the court clerk's office. At the same time District Attorney Bethea served notice that at 2 p. m. on May 20 he will appear before Federal Judge Grosscup and ask for a temp rary injunction against the packers and their representatives under the Sherman national antitrust law.

General Collis Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, May 12.—General C. H. T. Collis of New York died at 11:45 o'clock last night. His three children, two sons and a daughter, were at his bedside at the time. General Collis was taken to Bryn Mawr hospital from his country place at Gettysburg, Pa., and operated upon yesterday morning by Dr. Joseph Price of this city. Dr. F. G. Kneer, the general's family physician, was present. General Collis was born in Ireland in 1838 and came to the United States in his youth. On the breaking out of the civil war he enlisted in the Union army as a private, advancing through successive grades to the rank of major general of volunteers. He participated in all the important battles of the army of the Potomac except that at Gettysburg. General Collis was twice elected to the office of city solicitor of Philadelphia and subsequently was for fifteen years director of city trusts of this city. He removed to New York, where he became commissioner of public works under the administration of Mayor Strong in 1895 to 1897.

Arbitration For Detroit Dispute.

DETROIT, Mich., May 12.—After a session which lasted from midnight until 4 o'clock in the morning the street railway employees of this city resolved to submit the dispute with the Detroit United railway over their demand for a raise in wages from 21 cents per hour to 25 cents per hour to arbitration. The company last week refused the raise demanded and offered the men instead a raise to 22½ cents per hour and also offered to submit the entire question to arbitration.

Retired After Forty Years.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Generals Simon Snyder and William Auman, recently appointed brigadier generals, have been placed on the retired list after forty years' service. Both officers are now in the Philippines. General Snyder entered the military service from Pennsylvania in April, 1861, as second lieutenant of the Fifth infantry and served throughout the war of the rebellion. General Auman is also a veteran of the civil war.

Frenchmen Mob Barnum's Show.

BEZIERS, France, May 12.—Barnum & Bailey's circus was the cause of a serious riot here. The crowd seeking admission to the performance was greater than the tent could accommodate, and those who were unable to enter began stoning the circus employees, five of whom were injured. One man had his skull fractured and will probably die. The crowd numbered about 7,000.

Two Students Drowned.

ORLEANS, Neb., May 12.—While a party of students from Orleans college was bathing in the Republican river one named Berry, twenty-one years old and unable to swim, got beyond his depth. Another named Daniels went to his rescue, and both were drowned. The bodies were recovered. Daniels' home is at Logan, Kan.

Lord Pauncefote Ill.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Lord Pauncefote, the British embassador, continues quite ill here, and his condition is giving the family some concern. He is suffering from asthma and stomach and other troubles, and owing to his advanced age his system fails to respond as readily to treatment as was hoped would be the case.

Landslide Killed Thirteen.

ROME, May 12.—Thirteen persons were killed in a landslide at Marola, province of Emilia.

HAVANA'S WELCOME.

President Elect Palma Received With Enthusiasm.

CUBAN FLAG HOISTED ON MORRO.

Festive Scenes In the Harbor and City on the Arrival of Republic's First Chief Magistrate.

HAVANA, May 12.—A large Cuban flag was hoisted over Morro castle here yesterday morning.

This was the signal that the steamer Julia, with President Elect Palma and his party on board, had been sighted, and cheers went up from the thousands who on the shore opposite Morro castle had patiently awaited the Julia's arrival since daybreak. The crowd cheered for the new president and for the flag, which was hoisted over the famous fortress for the first time.

It was a moment of exaltation for the Cubans, and the fact that the stars and stripes floated from its customary flagstaff beside the Cuban flag over the castle did not lessen their enthusiasm.

The Cuban flag flying over Morro was the same one which was first raised over the senate chamber. It was sent to the castle and fastened to the halyards of the flagstaff used to signal the nationality of incoming vessels. When the smoke of the Julia was seen in the direction of Matanzas, the flag was hauled up. As it rose the bands stationed along the water front played the Cuban national hymn, steamers saluted and church bells were rung.

Two hours later, after the last of the great fleet of vessels that had gone out to escort the Julia to the harbor had returned past Morro castle, this flag was lowered and raised over the senate chamber.

There was continuous saluting as the Julia sailed between the rows of decorated tugs and barges, and there were cheers from the crowded wharfs. The several warships in the harbor were also decorated. The stars and stripes floated over the wreck of the Maine, and under this flag the Cuban commission in charge of the festivities had caused a black and white pennant to be placed.

The steam tug Dauntless, the old filibuster, was given the right of the line in the marine procession.

When he arrived at the wharf, President Elect Palma was welcomed by Vice President Estevez in a brief speech. A pretty feature of the reception here was Senor Palma's welcome by twenty-three young Cuban women dressed in costumes representing the American republics. Senora Durio, who represented Cuba, delivered an address and read a poem.

From the wharf President Elect Palma was escorted to the palace by members of the rural guard. Governor General Wood, his staff and the secretaries received Senor Palma at the palace. From here the president elect proceeded to the municipal council building, where speeches were made by the mayor of Havana and Senor Zayas. The latter welcomed Senor Palma in behalf of the people of all classes and all political beliefs. Replying, Senor Palma said that his reception was a gratifying experience, and, judging from what he had seen since his arrival in Cuba, the people were unanimous in support of the incoming government.

General Wood accompanied Senor Palma to the residence of General Maximo Gomez, where the president elect will reside until his inauguration, on May 20.

The municipal council gave a luncheon in honor of Senor Palma. The president elect was seated at the right of the mayor of the city, while General Gomez was seated at the mayor's left.

Art Collection For Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, May 12. The Sun announces that Henry Walters of this city has bought the great Marcello art collection in Rome, paying therefor the sum of $1,000,000. This collection embraces over 900 paintings, and a special steamer has been engaged to bring them to this country. They will be added to Mr. Walters' art collection in this city, where they will be permanently kept.

Much Damage to Fruit.

HOOSICK FALLS, N. Y., May 12.—The cold weather of the past three days having continued, with its accompanying frost, much damage has been done to fruit trees. Farmers think the cherry crop has been ruined. In eastern New York and western Massachusetts young trees in general suffered, but many buds were not far enough advanced to be blasted.

Fatal Baseball Accident.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., May 12.—Walter L. Myles, son of Miles Myles of Edwarddale, near Wilkesbarre, Pa., a junior pupil of the Normal school of this city, is dead from injuries received by being struck by a pitched baseball in a game here. The ball hit Myles behind the left ear and felled him to the ground. He was eighteen years of age.

The Queen Much Better.

THE HAGUE, May 12.—The bulletins issued at Castle Loo concerning the condition of Queen Wilhelmina have been reduced to one a day, and it is expected that they will soon cease altogether. The marked improvement in her majesty's condition continues, and the constant attendance of her physicians is no longer necessary.

One Strike Settled.

UTICA, N. Y., May 12.—The strike of the Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, which has been on since May 1, has been settled, and the men returned to work this morning.

COMING EVENTS.

May 12—The Volunteer League and missionary Bible study class of the Y. M. C. A. will meet at 8 o'clock.

May 12—"His Excellency, the Governor," at the Casino.

A HAPPY MEDIUM NEEDED.

For some unknown reason, the men in charge of the watering carts in this city seem to have considerable trouble in regulating the amount of water to be used in sprinkling the streets. Since these wagons have begun thier regular trips, frequent complaints have reached our ears from those who have occasion to use the streets immediately after the passage of a watering cart. Wheelmen and drivers of smart equipages object seriously to ploughing through miniature ponds where the streets ought to be. While it is admittedly easier for the watering cart men to flood the streets twice a day than to sprinkle them at more frequent intervals, yet it has also been decided that the people who want to travel over the public thoroughfares are those whose wishes should be considered. It will be remembered that the Common Council even took official cognizance of the subject several years ago.

It will be well, therefore, for those who look after the sprinkling of the city streets to see that this subject receives careful attention. Dusty streets are certainly not to be desired, but neither are flooded ones. It may require a little experimenting to strike the happy medium whereby it shall not run to one extreme or the other but it has been done in the past and why not now?

It is the opinion of an experienced adverister, comments the Philadelphia Record, that when tradé is active there is less need of strenuous advertising than at other seasons. In good times an establishment is sure to get a share of the business if it do any advertising, but when it fails to advertise in a dull season it surrenders to its rivals all the benefits of publicity.

BARN BURNED.

Spark From Tramp's Pipe Caused a $3,000 Conflagration at Barn of A. A. Bowman.

A large barn and several smaller buildings on the premises of A. H. Bowman, of Dunellen aveune, were destroyed by fire Saturday evening, entailing a loss of $3,000.

Mr. Bowman's home was in close proximity to the flames but was saved by the firemen. The barn has been used only as a storehouse for some time and it is thought [a tramp who had crawled into the place dropped a spark from his pipe, causing the blaze.

In the hurrry of saving chickens, Mr. Bowman and his family neglected to trun in an alarm. Box No. 83, half a mile away, was pulled by Patrolman Saunders, who saw the glare and concluded it was in his district. Martin Bowman, a young lad, saved two pet bantams at a great risk, rushing through flame and smoke to get to them.

Double Anniversary.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Nelson, of Somerset place, quietly celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary and Dr. Nelson's fortieth anniversary in the ministry yesterday. Dr. Nelson is not now actively engaged in ministerial work, having retired two years ago. He and Mrs. Nelson enjoy excellent health and bid fair to celebrate many anniversaries.

Stabbed and Robbed.

James Parillo, an Italian living at 809 North avenue, was slashed in the face with a stiletto by a countryman, on Terrill road, last evening. His assailant, whose name he does not know, also relieved him of $22. Dr. Browning dressed Parillo's face, which was badly cut and the police are looking for the missing Italian.

The Great Hosiery Sale Continued This Week.

We have a large Hosiery business, but it should be larger. No department in our large establishment receives more careful attention, or is more elaborately stocked. We place Import orders for nearly all our goods, thus saving the jobbers' profit. This enables us to sell a superior article for a given price. Our Spring Importations are now ready and to quickly introduce them we shall offer extraordinary inducements.

At 98c all over lace patterns of fine Silk finished Lisle Thread, with white tipped heel and toe. This stocking is of exquisite beauty and guaranteed to be worth 1.25 pair.

At 89c all over lace of brilliant Lisle Thread, all black, beautifully shaped and superior in finish to silk goods. Real value 1.00 pair.

At 75c lace stripe brilliant Lisle, with white tipped heel and toe, finished with high lustre and daintily fashioned. Many a store would have no difficulty in getting 98c pair for them.

At 50c lace stripe Lisle Thread in 9 dainty fine patterns. This is one of our star numbers and is extremely popular for summer use.

At 50c Gauze Cotton and Gauze Lisle, of unusual beauty and very fine gauze. Color is perfect.

At 50c a full bleached foot black Lisle Stocking of remarkable beauty. High spliced heel and double sole. When visiting our hosiery counter ask to see this particular number.

At 39c pr or 5 pairs for 1.00 black Gauze Lisle and Gauze Cotton of very fine gauze. This stocking retails in many places for 50c pair.

At 39c pr or 3 prs for 1.00 medium weight white sole hose of great durability.

At 25c excellent white foot and white sole hose. Splendid shape, splendid color, splendid goods.

At 25c plain blk Lisle Thread, of medium weight and beautiful finish. This stocking is far superior to the average 25c hose and sells in many places at 35c pair.

At 25c pair our No. 1141/2. This hose is worth 39c pair or money will be refunded. It is better than any 25c hose sold in New York city and we know it. Extra length, high spliced heel, double sole, etc. Don't fail to ask for it.

At 25c drop stitch Lisle Thread, with pattern running to toe. Color excellent, pattern choice. A very desirable stocking.

At 25c pr lace stripe Lisle Thread, of unusually attractive pattern: fine quality and looks like a 50c stocking.

At 2 pairs for 25c a lace pattern cotton hose of very fair quality and excellent color.

At 10c and 15c good quality, well shaped hose; full sizes and fast black color. These are goods bought directly from the mills and are better than goods at these prices generally are.

At 25c our popular No. 1590½ boys' extra ribbed hose. These goods are made for the hardest kind of wear, yet they are well fashioned, finely finished and absolutely fast black color.

At 25c our celebrated No. 412 ribbed for either boys or girls. Made by same mill as above but lighter in weight and finely finished.

At 25c misses' extra fine light weight lisle thread ribbed hose. This stocking is silk finished and would deceive even a careful observer at first sight into believing it silk.

At 25c the newest lace stripe lisle thread for misses, sizes from 5½ to 8½. This stocking we have waited a year for, the demand for it being so great. It is one of exceptional beauty and cannot be equalled.

FOR STOUT LADIES—Outsizes in plain black and with white soles, at 25c. In drop stitch, plain blk 39c, or 3 for $1. In split sole plain cotton, 39c or 3 for $1. In drop stitch black lisle thread at 50c.

At 10c and 15c pair—Childs' fast black ribbed Hose, with double knee, high spliced heel and double sole. These goods are from a Southern mill, where the cotton grows and labor is cheap. They are much better than you have been buying for these prices.

SUBURBAN NEWS

A Department Devoted to the Minor Events in Greater Plainfield's Suburbs by Our Own Correspondents.

DUNELLEN.

The regular bi-weekly meeting of the Dunellen Literary Society was held Saturday evening at the home of Alexander Vars. The usual good attendance was recorded at roll call. The papers that were read on standard topics were well prepared and instructive. As usual the meeting closed with the serving of refreshments after which the members enjoyed a social time.

Good congregations were present at both services in the Presbyterian church yesterday. The pastor occupied the pulpit at both services and in the morning delivered an interesting sermon. Next Sunday the pastor will be away and the pulpit will be supplied.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Perrine, of Plainfield; Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Reed, of New York; Miss Gertrude Suydam, of New York, and Mrs. Maltby, of Newark, visited yesterday at the old Maltby place in West Dunellen.

The Dunellen Silver Leaves went to Bound Brook Saturday morning and were defeated by the junior team at that place by a score of 18 to 5.

The Thomas house on Washington avenue, has been rented to a New York family for the summer and they have already taken possession.

Wilson Fredericks has been appointed manager of the ball team in place of George Richardson who has moved out of town.

Rehearsals are being held daily for the cantata "Snow White," which will be presented by the pupils of Whittier School.

Mrs. Barrett and family have taken possession of their house on Greenbrook road for the summer.

Allen Fredericks has been unable to attend school because of illness for several weeks.

Some improvements have been made around the railroad station.

John Moynihan visited relatives in Bound Brook yesterday.

Michael Moynihan visited friends in Elizabeth Saturday.

NEW MARKET.

The local baseball team played the St. Mary's second team from Plainfield Saturday afternoon and were defeated by a large score. The locals showed startling lack of practice and team play.

Regular services were held in the Seventh-Day Baptist church Saturday morning.

James Anderson, of Newark, spent yesterday with relatives in town.

Regular services were held in the First Baptist church yesterday.

William VanNuis visited in Plainfield Saturday.

PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Scotch Plains again demonstrated that it has a good club to represent the village on the diamond this season, the game on Saturday with the Safe Works team being a walkover. The score was 16 to 6. All the new men are working in well and with a little more practice at team work the club is bound to be heard from in the near future.

Trolley car No. 71, due in the village at 7:45, jumped the track Saturday night near Terrell road and delayed travel for sometime. Passengers were obliged to transfer around the wreck. No one was hurt beyond a severe shaking up.

Seeley's paper mill, which has been running with a night and day gang for several months, has discontinued the night work for the present, owing to the slow market for cardboard.

The Epworth League anniversary at the Methodist church last night was well attended and the programme rendered was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

"Jesus, The Living Bread" was the topic discussed by the Baptist Young People's Union at its meeting in the parlors of the church last night.

A number of the lovers of baseball journeyed to Elizabeth yesterday afternoon to see the national game.

Miss Mattie Hull, of Plainfield, has been visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hull.

Miss Lilly Hoyt, of Brooklyn, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Haberle, of Front street.

The teachers in the public school attended the Teachers Institute meeting at Elizabeth Saturday.

JERSEY FISHING LAWS IN A SHORT FORM

Open and Closed Season for the Various Game Fish in This State.

FEW INTERESTING FACTS

IZAAK WALTON'S DISCIPLES IN PLAINFIELD MAY LEARN THE LAW.

Many Local Fishermen Are Not Fully Acquainted With All the Details—Regarding Size of Fish and Other Information.

While the disciples of Izaak Walton are numerous in Plainfield, there are many of them who are not at all acquainted with the limitations which the State Legislature has fixed upon their favorite pastime. For the benefit of such people throughout New Jersey, the Erie Railroad has prepared a booklet which includes a summary of the New Jersey fish laws as well as those of several other States. For the benefit of the Plainfield fishermen, the New Jersey summary is printed.

It is as follows:

Fishing, Except with Rod and Line, Prohibited—It shall be unlawful to take or attempt to take fish from any of the waters of this State by means of any contrivance whatsoever, except in the manner commonly known as angling with hand-line or with rod and line, under a penalty for each offense; provided, however, that this provision shall not apply to the catching of eels, at any time, by means of wicker eel-baskets anchored on the bottom of streams and ponds, nor to the taking of eels by means of eel-weirs from the 15th day of September to the last day of October, both dates inclusive; provided, also, that it shall be lawful to take minnows and other bait fish with a seine not over fifty feet in length, in all ponds and lakes which have an area of over one hundred acres, and in all other waters with a seine not over thirty feet in length; in every such case, however, all trout, pickerel, bass, pike and pike-perch captured therein shall be immediately released therefrom uninjured as far as practicable; provided, further, that it shall be lawful to take fish in any manner under the direction of or by permission given by the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners for stocking purposes only.

Bass, Wall-Eyed Pike (Pike Perch), White Bass, Pike and Pickerel, Open Season.—It shall be unlawful to catch, kill, take or have in possession, any black bass, pike perch, or white bass, excepting only from the 15th day of June to the last day of November, both dates inclusive, of each year, or any pickerel or pike, except only from the 1st of May to the last day of November, both dates inclusive, of each year, under a penalty of $20 for each fish caught killed, taken or had in possession; and it shall be unlawful in any manner to take any trout, bass, pike perch, pike or pickerel between 9 o'clock in the evening and daylight of the morning following, under a penalty of $20 for each fish so taken.

Brook Trout, Open Season.—That it shall be unlawful to catch, kill, take or have in possession any brook trout, excepting only between and including the 1st day of April and the 15th day of July, both dates inclusive.

Sizes of Fish.—That it shall be unlawful to kill, sell, expose for sale or have in possession any black bass measuring less than nine inches in length, or any trout measuring less than six inches in length, or any pike perch less than twelve inches in length, except for the use of stocking waters of this State therewith, and then only at the direction of the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners, or upon license, first obtained from such board, under a penalty of $20 for each fish so killed, sold, or exposed for sale, or had in possession. It shall be unlawful to put, place, use or maintain in any of the waters of this State inhabited by pike, pickerel, pike perch, black bass or trout, any set line or set lines, or use upon a line for the taking of fish in such waters any contrivances having more than three hooks or more than one burr of three hooks attached thereto, under a penalty of $20 for each offense.

Trespassing.—It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to trespass upon the unoccupied lands of any other person or persons within the State for the purpose of hunting or fishing, killing or catching any of the game or fish enumerated in the statutes, without the consent of the owner or person or persons in possession of such lands being first had and obtained, provided written or printed notice forbidding trespassing shall have been posted in at least four conspicuous places on said lands within three months next before the date of such trespass; and every person violating this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction, be punished by a fine not exceeding $100 or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding ten days, or both, such fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the court before which such conviction is had.

Removal or Export of Game and Fish.—That it shall be unlawful at all times to remove or attempt to remove from this State any of the birds, game or fish whose capture is prohibited, or for which a close season is provided by any provisions of this act; provided, however, that this section shall not apply to birds, game or fish which may have been captured during such periods, as the provisions of this act make lawful for such capture, and that such removal shall not take place excepting within such periods; and provided that this act shall not apply to common carriers carrying from beyond the confines of this State in unbroken packages to some other point beyond the confines of this State any such birds, game or fish.

EPWORTH LEAGUE CELEBRATED.

Fifteenth Anniversary Observed by Local M. E. Churches Last Night.

Special exercises in honor of the fifteenth anniversary of the Epworth League, were held in the local Methodist churches, last evening.

At the Monroe Avenue church, President Edward Beekman, presided. Mrs. Charlotte M. Ross sang a solo. Rev. John MacMurray made an address on "Heroism in Chrisitan Life" in which he spoke of the unpopularity of those who do right. As an instance he cited the case of Patrolman Morris Higgins, of the local police force, who has incurred the enmity of scores, for his prosecution of West End lawbreakers.

Visited Ten Flats.

In order to get his full record from the Philadelphia and Boston police, Acting Chief Frederickson again had John McGlinchey, the captured flat thief, remanded, this morning. He will have a hearing Wednesday at 9:30. The police say that he entered ten flats in this city within three hours. At a number of them he secured small articles.

Large Plant Projected.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, May 12—It is announced here this morning on the best of authority that a large syndicate has purchased the Hays farm, opposite Dewey Park, near Lincoln, and that the contracts are out for the erection of a large manufacturing plant thereon. Philadelphia capitalists are said to be behind the affair.

Engineer Shot in His Cab.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Elizabeth, May 12—Because the steam from his engine annoyed John Schuster, a saloon keeper, Frank Bogart, an engineer on the New Jersey Central, was shot by the former, yesterday, as he sat in his cab. His face was penetrated but he was not badly injured. Schuster was arrested.

Five New Members.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was celebrated at Hope Memorial chapel, last evening. During the service five persons united with the church, four on confession of faith and one by letter. Rev. L. R. Howard was in charge.

Exchanged Pulpits.

Rev. A. C. Nickerson, of the Uniterian church, preached at Montclair, yesterday in exchange with Rev. A. H. Grant of that place.

Dangerous If Neglected.

Burns, cuts and other wounds often fail to heal properly if neglected and become troublesome sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve prevents such consequences. Even where delay has aggravated the injury DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve effects a cure. "I had a running sore on my leg thirty years," says H. C. Hartly, Yankeetown, Ind. "After using many remedies, I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes healed the sore." Cures all skin diseases. Piles yield to it at once. Beware of counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

JERSEY'S CLUB WOMEN MEET AT MONTCLAIR

Semi-Annual Meeting of New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs May 22.

ABOUT THE PROGRAMME

SOME OF THE PROMINENT SPEAKERS WHO WILL BE THERE.

Arranged by Committee From Federation and Another From the Montclair Clubs—Sessions to be Held Morning and Afternoon.

The club women from all parts of New Jersey will be the guests of the several clubs in Montclair Thursday, May 22, when the semi-annual meeting of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs will take place.

The programme, which promises to be unusually interesting, has just been completed by the committee, which consists of Mrs. John L. Scudder, of Jersey City, chairman; Mrs. Stewart Hartshorn, the State president; Mrs. Charles Silvers, of Elizabeth; Mrs. Mary V. Kingsley, of Arlington, and Miss Charlotte Tuttle, of Summit, and these members of the Montclair clubs, acting with the Federation committee, Mrs. Clarence W. Butler, Mrs Randal Spaulding, Mrs. Robert W. Boyd, Jr., and Miss Lena Schroeder.

The morning session will be held at 10 o'clock, and the invocation is to be by Rev. Amory Bradford, Mrs. C. W. Butler, president of the Town Improvement Association, of Montclair, will give the address of welcome, and Mrs. Hartshorn, the State president, will respond. The "Echoes from the Biennial" will be given by Mrs. C. T. Yardley and Mrs. Hartshorn, two of the delegates.

The Audubon Society and the Palisades League are each to be represented on the programme, and one of the unusual features of the morning will be a question box. This is a new feature of the programmes, and the committee anticipate that it will prove to be a benefit and pleasure. The music will be provided by Mrs. Grace Toennies and the Banjo Club of the Montclair High School.

How to utilize the summer months, or some ways of making the vacation time profitable, is the subtitle for the afternoon meeting, and the speakers are to be Mrs. Lillian Betts, Mrs. Eva D. Kellogg and Miss Louise Klein Miller. Among the subjects to be considered are "Vacation Houses," "Vacation Schools and Summer Study Classes" and "School Gardens."

ATTACKED ON STREET.

Miss Delia Cuddy Held Up by a Stranger on Westervelt Avenue.

Miss Delia Cuddy, a domestic in the employ of H. F. McCarthy, of Westervelt avenue, reported to the police, Saturday evening, that she had been stopped and partially choked by a rough man, as she was entering her employer's yard. She screamed and the fellow fled. She was unable to furnish a description of her assailant and the police have small hopes of capturing him.

Must Keep Off Sidewalk.

C. Leslie Slocum and Stuart Freeman, two boys, were arraigned in the city court, this morning, charged by Roundsman Mattox with riding wheels on the sidewalk on LaGrande avenue. Sentence was suspended on condition that they warn other young men desist in the practice.

Death of Geo. VanFleet.

George VanFleet, son of the late Alexander and Phebe VanFleet, died suddenly at his home in Newark, Friday evening. Funeral services will be held this evening and interment will be made in this city.

MUST BE GERMANIZED.

Emperor William and Duchess of Albany at Outs Over Education of the Latter's Son.

Emperor William has been putting his rather Spartan ideas regarding the training of boys—particularly royal boys—into practice on the young duke of Saxe-Coburg with a thoroughness that has kindled wrath in the bosom of the young royal highness' proud mamma, the widowed duchess of Albany, King Edward's sister-in-law.

The young man, who is now just 18, and whose name is Leopold Charles Edward George Albert, will not assume control of the German grand duchy which he inherited from his uncle, the late duke, King Edward's brother, until he is 21. Meanwhile he is under the authority of the kaiser, who is anxious to make a capable man and a good German of him.

(His Mother Is Worried Over the Way the Kaiser Educates Him.)

To this end William II. not long ago prescribed for his young cousin a course of military training similar to that to which he has obliged his own sons to undergo, allowing him, however, to live with his mother at Potsdam. Now, however, the kaiser has insisted that his pupil leave the maternal roof altogether and come to live in Berlin.

The grand duke's mother has from the first been dead against the rather severe regime prescribed for her young hopeful, and she took revenge by combating effectually the efforts of the pedagogues appointed by the emperor to instill German ideas into his head.

Anti-German tendencies on the part of the duchess, who was born under the double eagle, may seem rather surprising, but as the wife of the duke of Albany so great a part of her life was spent in England that her sympathies are now almost entirely English. However, no sooner had she been apprised by the duke's tutors that their attempts to Germanize him were being offset by his mother than the mailed fist came down with a thud and the young man was summoned to Berlin, where his education could be overseen by his imperial cousin.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.

May Visit United States in October to Dedicate New York's New Chamber of Commerce.

The prince of Wales, who has been invited to dedicate the new chamber of commerce at New York next October, and for whom it is said King Edward has decided to accept the invitation of the committee, will not be an entire stranger on the American continent. It is only a few months since he and the princess completed a tour of the British possessions by crossing the continent through Canada. At that time many Americans assisted in his entertainment at Victoria, Ottawa and Montreal, and all seemed to be pleased with his dignified yet democratic bearing, as became a guest of liberal Canada. The prince, who was the duke of York until after his return from the long journey, is the second son of King Edward and the sailor prince of the realm. At a very early age he was sent to the sea, with a view to his ultimate command of the British navy, and his jolly, rollicking ways won for him the love of the nation. On the death of his elder brother, the duke of Clarence, he became heir apparent to the throne, and also fell heir to Clarence's affianced wife, to whom he was afterward married. It has been said that the marriage was the queen's command, and that neither of the young people's hearts was involved in the alliance. The prince has three sons and one daughter, the eldest of the children being Prince Edward, a manly little lad of eight years.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.
(King Edward May Permit Him to Visit America Next Fall.)

THE "HEAVENLY" HAT.

And Other New Creations In Millinery For Spring Wear.

Flowers are blooming this spring in good earnest on all the hats, and some even have the bud, blossom and ripe fruit on the same heavenly creation. One hat shown me yesterday and called "heavenly" had the body of very coarse white straw, with a band of black velvet ribbon around the crown, and this ended in the back with no end of loops of the same ribbon. Under the brim at the left side was a bunch of pink roses without foliage, and on the top was a branch of currant bush with tiny white blossoms and small green fruit and then a lot more in all stages of ripeness. I mention this particularly because it is a type of the curious admixture of fruit and bloom to be found on so many hats.

Hats made of coarse straw are often so covered with foliage that very little is left to the imagination as regards the foundation, for it is all hidden. One hat with a wide brim had the whole under part faced with green leaves, shaded to russet brown in some cases, and the crown was trimmed with a feather made of black tulle. And it was held in place by a big round pearl cabochon. These are very fashionable just now, and they are applied to almost all millinery, black, white or of mixed colors. The size of these flat, round affairs is generally about that of a trade dollar, and they are raised in the center.

Quite pretty hats are made by plaiting in double box folds horsehair and straw braid, generally all black, but sometimes in a mixture of subdued colors. In fact, all hats really should have the foundation black, white or else very dark in color and depend on the trimming for the coloring. This style in one instance had an immense satin rose on the top of the crown and black velvet ribbon half an inch wide tied in many loops around the stems of the roses and buds and left hanging down in the back. This fashion of having things hanging down in the back is almost general. One hat had a wreath of pink, very pink, roses around the edge of the brim, leaving a roll of cardinal velvet to be twisted in with white point d'esprit lace. The lace extended all around the crown and spread down, nearly covering the flowers. It was also made into a tab at the back, and down the center of this the red velvet was extended. It reached nearly to the neck. Many others have lace arranged in a sort of jabot to hang down over the hair in the back.

A pretty bonnet, for such as prefer bonnets for church and other semidress occasions, is of black and white horsehair braid, made with a bell crown. The front is trimmed with black tulle and fine black spangles made into close bows. Directly in front is a large round pearl cabochon, and two others are placed at the back to hold the strings. The strings are of the tulle, and quite an innovation is seen in the strings, which are gathered at the sides to leave the hair free. Generally the strings covered the hair at the sides, and that does not always suit my lady.

Plaid in millinery is not often seen, but this season has given us some hats of plaided straw and some where the hat itself is of plaid material trimmed with plain goods, such as chiffon, mull or malines, which is but another name for tulle. One shown in the illustration has the hat of plaid braid and the trimming of black tulle. It is a most becoming hat for a young woman.

Another hat much liked by the young is the pretty white straw, with no trimming save a band of white ribbon around the crown. Hats intended for warm weather and particularly for golfing have sweatbands in the inside, like men's wear. Some of these have the straws slightly colored, which gives them a delicately iridescent effect. The only ornamentation permissible is the fancy hatpin.

In short, the spring and summer hats are complex affairs in design, trimming and shape. Some are short sailor as to the back and on the front anything that happens to come forth from the hands of the maker. Tricorne is a favorite, and when properly trimmed it can even be worn by quite elderly ladies without calling forth the reserves of the police force.

HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

GIRLS Who Blow GLASS

THE wonder is that women did not take it up long ago, this fascinating, airy, fairy occupation of glass blowing. Many a time at expositions all the world has seen neat and graceful women puffing from rosy lips marvels of pretty trifles. All the world has admired their nimbleness and artistic skill. Yet, womanlike, the sex never seems to have taken up the business as a regular wage earning employment day by day till men suggested the idea and built a factory and set them down in it.

The glass blowing factory at Glenolden, near Philadelphia, is probably the only one in which the operatives are women, and even here a man is over them to teach and superintend them. Concerning his girl workmen, this superintendent said to a reporter of The North American:

"I've been in this business from boyhood up, and I know what I am talking about when I say that no men can turn out such good work as these girls do. Glass blowers would be astonished if they looked in on this factory. The girls are infinitely more careful and painstaking than men have ever thought of being, and they are achieving results never before known to the trade."

Since the ice—the glass, rather—is thus broken at Glenolden probably there will quickly be other factories of glass working women.

There are two reasons why the Glenolden girls are so successful. One is that women's fingers are more delicate and nimble than men's, and the feminine eye is usually quicker than the masculine. Another reason is one special to the present case. The young women in this factory are persons of unusual intelligence—would be so anywhere. They belong to respectable families in the neighborhood, and some of them are high school graduates. They are paid by the piece, the swiftest operatives receiving as much as $12 a week, the slowest no more than $4, but even the lowest figure constitutes a fair income in a country village.

The girls are employed by a firm of manufacturing chemists who make their own vials and tubing. The work is of the finest and most delicate kind known to the trade, and perhaps that is why the women do so well at it. The occupation is a healthful one. A good pair of lungs is essential because of the blowing. It is certain that tight lacing does not "go" in that factory. The young women find the constant blowing expands their chests after a time.

Light cotton wash dresses are the prettiest of all, and the girl glass blowers wear a uniform of blue and white seersucker gowns and white aprons, immaculately clean. They are a pleasing sight as they sit at their tasks, each upon a stool, with the white hot gas flame burner in front of her. Here are two who are making the smallest tubing known to chemists and druggists—capillary tubing, it is called. The girl at the burner holds a section of larger tubing in the white hot flame till the glass is soft; then, as if the two were pulling molasses candy, while the girl at the burner holds one end of the soft tube another girl takes the other end and walks back with it, drawing it as she goes till she is at exactly the right distance to make it into a capillary tube.

There another girl sits and blows tiny glass bulbs. Upon another stool is a young woman making medicine vials; still another draws out tubing, cuts it off and closes it up at one end. It is heat, blow, manipulate, blow, manipulate, heat from morning till night, but the task is not so hard as housework or nearly so trying as schoolteaching. The factory is built upon a healthful and picturesque site in the country, and the workers in this new trade for women are well treated and happy.

When we measure out our medicine drop by drop from a glass tube whose contents have been drawn from a tiny vial, we shall know that both dropper and vial were made, or ought to have been, by the hands of a pretty girl in a blue and white seersucker gown.

CHAPTER I.

THE CABMAN'S FARE.

It was bitterly cold. The keen December wind swept down the crowded thoroughfare, nipping the noses and ears of the gay pedestrians, comfortably muffled in their warm wraps.

Broadway was thronged with the usual holiday shoppers and pleasure-seekers. Cabs with their jaded steeds driven by weatherbeaten jehus, and private carriages behind well-groomed horses handled by liveried coachmen, deftly made their way through the crowds and deposited their fares at the entrances of the brightly-lighted theaters or fashionable restaurants. A wizened hag, seated on the curbstone at the corner, seemed to shrink into herself with the cold as she turned the crank of her tiny barrel-organ and ground out a dismal and scarcely audible cacophony; while an anxious-eyed newsboy, not yet in his teens, shivered on the opposite side of the way, as, with tremulous lips, he solicited a purchaser for his unsold stock. One could hardly be expected to open a warm overcoat on such a cold night, for the sake of throwing a cent to an old beggar woman, or of buying a newspaper from a ragged urchin. Even the gayly decorated shop windows failed to arrest the idle passerby; for it required perpetual motion to keep the blood in circulation.

The giant policeman on the crossing, representing the majesty of the law, swayed the crowd of vehicles and pedestrians with the authoritative gestures of his ponderous hands, and gallantly escorted bands of timid women through the inextricable maze.

And withal, the cable cars, with their discordant clangor, rumbled rapidly to and fro, like noisy shuttles, shooting the woof of the many-hued fabric which is the life of a great city.

Presently from one of the side streets there came a cab, which started leisurely to cross Broadway. The big policeman, with his eyes fixed upon an approaching car, held up a warning hand, to which the driver seemed to pay no attention, for the reins remained slack and the listless horse continued to move slowly across the avenue.

Several people turned to look with mild curiosity at the bold cabman who dared thus to disregard the authority of blue cloth and brass buttons. Their surprise turned quickly to amazement and dismay when their eyes rested upon him; for his head had fallen forward upon his chest and his limp body swayed upon the box with every motion of the cab. He seemed unconscious of his surroundings, like one drunk or in a stupor.

At his side sat a young man closely muffled in his overcoat, and with a sealskin cap pulled well down over his ears. His face was deathly pale. Those who caught sight of his features saw that his bloodless lips were firmly set, and that his eyes glittered with a feverish light. He carried one hand in the lapel of his coat. With the other he shook the inert form of the unconscious cabman, in an effort to arouse him to a sense of the impending danger.

The situation flashed upon the gripman on the car. Instantly he threw his weight upon the brake-wheel, at the same time loudly sounding his gong. The policeman, too, understood in a twinkling what was about to happen, and rushed for the horse's head. But it was too late. The cab was fairly across the track when the car, with slackened speed, crashed into it.

Just before the collision, the young man in the sealskin cap sprang from the box to the street. He landed upon his feet; but, losing his balance, he fell forward upon his left arm, which still remained in the lapel of his coat. He must have hurt himself; for those standing near him heard him groan. But the center of interest was elsewhere, and no one paid much attention to the young man, who, arising quickly, disappeared in the crowd.

The cab, after tottering for an instant on two wheels, fell over upon its side, with a loud noise of splintering wood and breaking glass. The driver rolled off the box in a heap. At the same time, the panic-stricken passengers on the car rushed madly for the doors, fighting like wild beasts in their haste to reach a place of safety.

After the first frenzied moment, it became evident that, although badly shaken up, the passengers had received no injuries, except such bruises as they had inflicted upon each other in their mad struggle to escape. By this time a crowd had collected about the overturned cab, and several more policemen had come to the assistance of the first one, who was now seated serenely upon the head of the cab-horse, a precaution seemingly superfluous, for the poor beast, though uninjured, appeared to be quite satisfied to rest where he lay until he should be forced once more to resume the grind of his unhappy existence.

The cabman had been rudely shaken by his fall. He had lain as though unconscious for the space of a few seconds; then, with assistance, he had managed to struggle to his feet. He stood now as though dazed by the shock, trying to understand what had happened.

"Are you hurt?" inquired one of the policemen.

The man, mumbling an unintelligible reply, raised his hand to a scalp wound from which the blood was flowing freely.

At that moment two men forced their way through the crowd which a circle of policemen had some difficulty in keeping at a distance from the wounded cabman. One was a middle-aged individual, who gave his name as Dr. Thurston and offered his services as a physician; the other was a young man with keen gray eyes, who said nothing, but exhibited a reporter's badge.

The physician at once turned his attention to the cabman; felt him, thumped him, pinched him; smelt his breath; and then delivered his verdict:

"No bones broken. The slight scalp wound doesn't amount to anything. The man has been drinking heavily. He is simply drunk."

The horse had by this time been unharnessed and the cab had been lifted upon its wheels again.

The reporter stood by a silent and apparently listless spectator of the scene.

Dr. Thurston turned to him:

"Come along, Sturgis; neither you nor I are needed here; and if we do not hurry, Sprague's dinner will have to wait for us. It is a quarter to eight now."

The reporter seemed about to follow his friend, but he stood for an instant irresolute.

"I say, doctor," he inquired at last, "are you sure the man is drunk?"

"He has certainly been drinking heavily. Why?"

"Because it seems to me—Hello, we cannot go yet; the passenger is more badly hurt than the driver."

"The passenger?" queried the physician, turning in surprise to the policeman.

"What passenger?" asked the policeman, looking at the cabman. "Have you a passenger inside, young feller?"

"Naw," replied the cabman, who seemed to be partially sobered by the shock and loss of blood. "Naw, I ain't got no fare, barrin' the man wot was on the box."

The reporter observed the man closely as he spoke; and then, pointing to the step of the cab, which was plainly visible in the glare of a neighboring electric lamp:

"I mean the passenger whose blood is trickling there," he said, quietly.

Every eye was turned in the direction of his outstretched hand.

A few drops of a thick dark liquid had oozed from under the door, and was dripping upon the iron step. The cab door was closed and the curtain was drawn down over the sash, the glass of which had been shattered by the fall.

GOOD MAN FOR PLACE.

Mr. Philip Watts Appointed Director of Naval Construction at the British Admiralty.

Mr. Watts, F. R. S., who has been appointed to the office of director of British naval construction, in succession to Sir William White, F. R. S., who is retiring on account of ill-health, has been colonel of the First Northumberland volunteer artillery for many years, and our portrait is from a photograph in the uniform of his corps. When difficulties occurred in South Africa, he at once offered a battery, which was accepted by the government, and under the title of the Elswick battery, did splendid service. A second battery was prepared by Mr. Watts, and PHILIP WATTS, F. R. S.

(New Director of Naval Construction at British Admiralty.)

could have been sent out if occasion required it. Mr. Watts is, of course, best known as a naval designer. He was trained in the service, passing through the college of naval architecture with high honors, and became a constructor at the admiralty, under Sir Nathaniel Barnaby. He left the service in 1885, and became naval architect to the distinguished firm of Sir W. Armstrong, Whitworth & Co., when Mr. White, as he then was, vacated that post. During his stay at Elswick, he has built whole fleets of ships for more than one navy. In the war between Japan and China his ships fought on both sides in the fight, and those best able to judge have declared that they fulfilled all the conditions for which they were designed in a very high degree. Amongst other nations, Chili possesses many ships of Mr. Watts' design, and so does the Argentine Republic. From the first Mr. Watts' ships have been well shaped and have possessed well-balanced engines of great power; they have had greater speed than most other ships of similar construction and size and they have carried heavier armaments. Mr. Watts is 52 years of age. He is the chairman of the Federation of Shipbuilders in England, a good shot and rider, and a keen, all-round sportsman.

NEW CABINET POST.

Should Congress Create It, William R. Merriam May Be Selected to Fill It.

If the recommendation of President Roosevelt for the addition of one more member of the cabinet, to be known as the secretary of commerce, is adopted by the present congress, the first secretary will probably be the present director of the census, ex-Gov. William R. Merriam, of Minnesota. The probability rests upon the fact that no other name has thus far been prominently mentioned in connection with the position. A bill for the creation of the department has been introduced by Senator Nelson, of Minneseota. There seems to be no doubt of its passage by both houses of the present congress. Mr. Merriam's work at head of the census bureau has familiarized him with the commercial and industrial conditions of the country, and by reason of this he is peculiarly fit for the discharge of the duties of the proposed department. Mr. Merriam is alert in his business methods, and by his strict integrity he has a personal following which makes him a strong factor in his party. The president, says Leslie's Weekly, is said to be favorable to Mr. Meriam's appointment not because of the latter's equipment for the position, but because such an appointment would strengthen the administration in the northwest.

SPECIAL ENVOY TO SPAIN.

Dr. Curry to Represent President at the Coming of Age of King Alfonso Next May.

Dr. J. L. M. Curry has been appointed special envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to represent the president at the coming of age of the king of Spain. Dr. Curry is a native of Virginia and was formerly minister to Spain.

Dr. Jabez Lamar Monroe Curry was born in Lincoln county, Ga., June 5, 1825. He was graduated from the University of Georgia in 1843, and two years later received a degree from the law school of Harvard university. He was a member of the Alabama legislature in 1847-48, 1853-54 and 1855-56. He also served in congress from 1857 to 1861, and was a member of the confederate congress in 1861.

Dr. Curry was a soldier in the confederate army, holding the office of lieutenant colonel as well as aid on the staff of Gen. Joseph L. Johnston, and Joseph Wheeler. In 1866 he was elected president of Howard college, Alabama. Two years later he went to Richmond college, Virginia, as professor of English philosophy and constitutional and international law. There he remained until 1881.

From 1885 to 1888 Dr. Curry was United States minister to Spain. After his return he held the presidency of the board of foreign missions of the southern Baptist convention and of the board of trustees of the Richmond university. He was also at the head of the Southern Historical association and general agent of the Peabody education fund and the John F. Slater education fund. He is the author of "Constiutional Government in Spain," "William Ewart Gladstone," "The Southern States of the American Union in Their Relation to the Constituion and the Resulting Union," "The Establishment and Disestablishment of the United States," and "History of the Peabody Educational Fund."

MISS ESTELLE REEL.

Reappointed Superintendent of Indian Schools of the Country by President Roosevelt.

The honorable distinction of being the first woman appointed to an office by President Roosevelt belongs to Miss Estelle Reel, of Wyoming, who has been named as superintendent of Indian schools. Miss Reel is now the national superintendent of Indian schools for the United States and travels constantly over the length and breadth of the land visiting schools and organizing and establishing innovations in the line of manual training on the various reservations. Miss Reel is young and enthusiastic and has force enough for several women, but no more than she needs in her work of inspiring the red men to better living and a greater degree of industry. She traveled 24,-

(Reappointed Superintendent of Indian Schools.)

000 miles last year—more than half of the distance by stage coach.

"My work is simply the extension of the work already done in the government schools and shops," she said, in speaking of her experiences among the Indians. "It requires the utmost persuasive power and plenty of devising and original thinking to do the work laid out for me. The fact that I have accomplished something in the west is apparent in comparing the life of Indians who live within a night's ride of Chicago with that of some who live in Oregon. The former are in as barbarous a condition as they were when America was discovered. Much of my work is far from being technical education. The girls must be taught the rudiments of home-making and the boys the trades, so that they can take their places in civilization. When I find a school excelling I carry its work around to show some other school and in that way inspire to good work.

Miss Reel's success is a strong argument in favor of her sex occupying the high places in the ranks of education.

COULD NOT SURVIVE SHOCK

WM. W. WOODEN DIED AT MUHLENBERG HOSPITAL AFTER AN OPERATION.

Was An Old Citizen of the Borough Where He Was Born Sixty-Five Years Ago.

The death of Wm. W. Wooden occurred at 10 o'clock yesterday morning at Muhlenberg hospital. Two weeks ago it was found necessary to amputate Mr. Wooden's right leg at the knee, on account of gangerene resulting from enlarged toe joints, from which he had been a sufferer for years. The operation was successful but heart failure caused death.

Mr. Wooden was a son of Ezra M. and Anna W. Wooden, and was sixty-five years of age last February. Both in the city and the borough he was well-known and highly respected.

He was born at the corner of Chatham and Warren streets and resided there for many years. At one time he conducted a bakery and confectionery business on West Front street in partnership with his brother, Ludlow. He was a Plainfield man all his life with the exception of twelve years spent in Newark and afterwards at Califon, Hunterdon county, where he conducted the Union Hotel.

Mr. Wooden is the possessor of considerable property, owning among other places the Schlief bakery site on Park avenue. He is a member of the Exempt Firemen's Association.

He leaves a wife and one son, William, twenty-one years of age, to mourn his loss. The funeral takes place tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and interment will be in the Presbyterian cemetery.

A brother, Martin E. Wooden, of New York, and a sister, Mrs. J. L. Bradley, of East Front street, this city, also survive him.

Disastrous Fire at Cranford.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Cranford, May 12—A fire broke out yesterday morning at 9 o'clock in the factory of Charles F. Oaxley, electric and gas light fixtures. The whole building was ruined, partly burned and the rest deluged with water. The loss is estimated at $10,000, but the building and contents were fully covered by insurance.

Found in the Bushes.

Robert Hamilton, of Verdon street, turned over to the city police, yesterday, a pillow case filled with cloth articles he had found in the bushes on Raymond avenue. Some of the pieces were two table clothes, a black shirt waist, a baby carriage robe and several pieces of crochet work. They are being held for a claimant.

Knocked Down by Runaway.

While a young lad was leading a horse belonging to William Farman, of West Third street, this morning, the animal ran away from him. Isabelle Garfinkle, a six-year-old girl, ran in its way and was knocked down. She was picked up by Patrolman Higgins who found she was only painfully bruised.

afternoon, after a close game with the Garwood A. C., at Garwood. Although the score was 16 to 15 the contest was not as rocky as the figures may imply. For the first half both pitchers were hit freely but after the sixth inning they setttled down and not a run was made from then on.

Hope was first at the bat and touched up Hegeman for several hits and brought in two runs. Garwood retaliated and pounded Hewitt for five runs, only to stand by in the second and see the Hope players whirl around the bases for six more tallies. The Garwoods were shut out in the third but in the fourth with three men on base, Hewitt made an excusable but costly error which let all of them reach home. A Garwood coacher with a uniform almost identical with that of the Hopes, stood a few feet from first base and mistaking him for Dixon, Hewitt threw a ball directly at him. The Garwood man jumped aside and the ball landed well out into the roadway.

The base running stopped in the seventh when both Hewitt and Hegeman began fanning men out. An especially brilliant inning was the last when the Hopes retired the Garwoods in one, two, three order. In this inning, "Skeeter" Mague made a beautiful catch after a long run in center field.

Players who distingushed themselves in the game were Martin, Gordon, Feiring, Smith and Montross in both field and stick work for the Hopes and Pae, Crier and Maloney for the Garwoods. Third baseman Smith, of the Garwoods, was very erratic and made several costly errors. Hegeman struck out eleven men and let three walk while Hewitt struck out six and let eight walk.

DUNELLEN WITHDREW.

The game of baseball on Pittis' diamond, Saturday afternoon, between Plainfield Y. M. C. A. and the Dunellen team, ended most unsatisfactorily. In the latter half of the ninth inning the Dunellens quit the field.

Before play was started two agreements were made by the captains of the opposing nines, one to the effect that when a ball was knocked out over the road only two bases would be allowed, and another stipulating that a man would always, owing to the nearness of the backstop, take a base on a passed ball that reached the backstop.

At one juncture of the game a Dunellen batter knocked out a ball which rolled over into the road. He took more than two bases and on the agreement, first referred to, being called to his attention, the Dunellens claimed that a fly ball was meant and not a grounder. The Y. M. C. A's acquiesced and gracefully seceded from their position. In the last inning with the score, 8 to 6 in Dunellen's favor, Y. M. C. A. had three men on bases and none out. Their best batters were on deck. When Dupee trotted in from third on a passed ball, Dunellen put up a strenuous kick. Dupee stopped half way and went back to third before coming home, and it was on this that the kick was made. Umpire Morris Sutphen duly declared him safe. Then the Dunellenites left the field. The umpire gave them ample time to reconsider, but they refused and the game was given to Y. M. C. A., 9 to 0.

Up to the time of this unhappy occurrence, the game was most interesting from a spectator's standpoint. The Y. M. C. A. outfield played well and gathered in almost everything in the line of flies.

BEATEN AT ELIZABETH.

The Clinton Avenue baseball team journeyed to Elizabeth Saturday afternoon, and proved to be easy victims for the Y. M. C. A. nine of that place. The Plainfield team was defeated by a score of 16 to 9.

Kelley pitched for the Clinton Avenues and was touched up for ten safe hits. Bransfield, of the Elizabeths, proved to be a puzzler for the Plainfielders, only four men being able to find him for a hit. An even number of men were struck out by both. The line-up was as follows:

RUTGERS PREP. WON.

The game between North Plainfield High School and Rutger's Prep School on the North Plainfield grounds resulted in a victory for the Rutgers by a score of 11 to 7. Armstrong and Owens were the battery for the boroughites while Hay and VanVechten did similar honors for Rutgers.

For North Plainfield Overton the second baseman, played great ball. He had seven put-outs to his credit, two assists, and is responsible for three of the seven runs made by his side. It was not until the last inning at North Plainfield understood Hay, the Rutgers twirler, when they batted him out for four runs.

The batting order followed:

LOST IN LAST INNING.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 12—The Clark O. N. T. baseball team met and defeated the Westfield team Saturday afternoon on the local diamond by a score of 8 to 6. Up to the ninth inning the score was 6 to 3 in favor of the home team, when the visitors batted out five runs and won.

EASY FOR HIGH SCHOOL.

The Plainfield High School nine met and defeated the Westerly Collegiate Institute team at West New Brighton Saturday afternoon by a score of 12 to 5.

VanAuken was in the box for Plainfield and he proved as difficult a proposition for the Westerly boys as he has been for many other batters this season. He was given magnificent support in the field. A feature of the game being a star catch of a difficult fly by Denton at centre field after a run of seventy-five yards. Thompson the first baseman, drove out a neat two-bagger. Throughout the whole game but two errors are tallied against Plainfield.

Moynihan caught VanAuken in usual good form. Fisher and Kiernan alternated in the box for Westerly, and W. Murray played behind the bat. Owing to the lateness of the hour the game was called at the end of the seventh inning.

Following is the batting order:

Shakespeare a Common Name.

It may come as a surprise to some folk to find how common a name that of Shakespeare not only is, but was long before the birth of the poet. At least three thirteenth-century Shakespeares are known, and there is a possible fourth. If the next century there are notices of bearers of the name at Penrith and Nottingham, where John Shakespeare was a plaintiff in 1357 against Richard de Cotgrave, spircer, for deceit in the sale of dyewood, and recovered damages; in Warwickshire—"Thos. Shakespeare, felon, who had left his goods and fled"—at Youghal, Colchester, Pontefract and elsewhere. Fifteenth-century occurrences of the name are also fairly numerous, and when we come to the succeeding age, immediately preceding and partly including the poet's own era, Mrs. Stopes shows plainly that there were Shakespeares all over the country. The frequent occurrence of the name is, of course, a warning of the valuelessness of the attempts which have been not infrequently made to connect the poet with this or that family on the grounds of similarity of name or age.—Antiquarian.

"I Said to Myself."

A committee had been appointed by the legislature to investigate the alleged bribery of certain members in connection with a defeated railroad bill. The first witness called testified that he saw one of the representatives late one night coming down the hotel stairs.

"I said to myself," he went on, but a member on the side of the defense jumped to his feet.

"Hold on!" he shouted; "you can't testify about what you said to yourself."

The prosecutor retorted that there was no law to prohibit him from so testifying. A long argument ensued, but a majority of the committee agreed with the chairman that the testimony was admissable.

"I said to myself," seriously proceeded the witness, "that M—— had been up to Billy's room to get his pay."

The testimony was recorded and made a part of the official record.—Green Bag.

He Was Prepared.

One of the churches in a little western town has a young woman as its pastor. She was called to the door of the parsonage one day, and saw there a much embarrassed young farmer of the German type.

"Dey say der minister lifed in dis house," he said.

"Yes," replied the fair pastor.

"Vell—m—I—I vant to kit merrit!"

"To get married? Very well, I can marry you," said the minister, encouragingly.

"Oh, but I got a girl already," was the disconcerting reply.—Christian Evangelist.

ROOTERS FORGET TO PAY FOR THEIR FUN

Management of Local Teams Complain of Lack of Financial Support at the Games.

ALTHOUGH MANY GO.

SPECTATORS HAVE A HABIT OF DODGING THE TICKET SELLER.

The Grandstands Are Also Poorly Patronized — League Clubs Are to Take an Active Stand and Insist That Admission be Paid.

Despite the fact that managers of the local baseball nines are making every effort to furnish good, clean and snappy contests, the public seems to be supporting them very poorly in a financial way. There is no lack of rooters or numbers at the games—in fact the attendance has been very encouraging—but the greater portion of the crowds expends its enthusiasm in yelling.

At present all the teams are charging ten cents for general admission and five cents extra for seats in the grandstand, but it is remarkable how many people will lay claim to a good place along the base lines and then refuse to contribute this small amount toward the maintenance of the national sport. Some of them ignore the ticket seller entirely while others purposely evade him and then play a game of hide-and-seek every time he comes around.

Heretofore the possession of a ticket has not been compulsory, but the matter is to come up shortly at a meeting of the League officials and some action is to be taken. It is purposed to make everyone display an admission ticket that enters the grounds and in the event of the refusal, ejectment will follow. Several of the managers declare that their good nature has been imposed upon to such an extent that it will be some time before the teams' finances will be in a satisfactory condition.

When it is taken into consideration that the different organizations have expended large sums in fitting out grounds and teams, it is no wonder they rebel against the non-support. Plainfield has never had better nines than at present and it costs ten and fifteen cents to see games that in other places would bring twent-five and thirty-five. One club has expended over $200 in beginning the season and at the present way returns are coming in, the outlay will not be made up at the close of the year.

FOR STEALING WHEELS.

Well-Known Bicycle Rider Arrested in Westfield Saturday.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Westfield, May 13—William Rogers, aged fifteen years, a well-known bicycle rider, was arrested Satruday night by Officer O'Neil on a charge of stealing a wheel belonging to Wm. E. Ramsey, of 168 Mountain avenue. Rogers was arraigned before Justice Toucey and committed to the county jail from which place he was sent to the Reform School at Jamesburg for two years.

Change in Hours of Mass.

There has been a change in the hour of holding the early mass at St. Mary's R. C. church. During the past season the hour was 7:30 and this has been changed to 6 o'clock for the summer months. The 8:30 o'clock mass has been abolished and masses will be held at 7:30, 9 and 10:30. These hours are for Sunday morning.

Broken Heart Social.

The Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church will hold a "Broken Heart" social this evening at the church.

A "HOKEY POKEY" SOCIABLE

ENDEAVORERS OF HOPE CHAPEL HAD SOMETHING NEW LAST NIGHT.

Varied Programme Followed by the Serving of "Hokey Pokey" and Cake.

Something new and novel in the way of entertainment was furnished by the Christian Endeavor Society, of Hope chapel, last evening. It was styled a "hokey pokey" social, the chief feature of which was that at the close of an entertainment, the forenamed delicacy was served with cake. There was no formality during its disposal and all enjoyed a pleasant hour. The attendance was very large.

The programme as rendered consisted of piano and banjo-mandolin selections by William N. Runyon and Joseph Loughead, topical song "Our Coppers" by Archibald Hacquer and Thomas Muir, vocal selection "Rip VanWinkle was a Lucky Man" by Thomas Muir, monologue by Frank Licciardi and a sketch, "The Stupid Servant," in which the characters were assumed by B. Collins Firstbrook and M. Dexheimer Sweeney. It abounded with funny situations and being well interpreted proved very laughable.

In charge of the affair was the social committee consisting of Mrs. L. R. Howard, chairman, assisted by George E. Firstbrook, Miss Mary Duvier and Miss Maybelle Firstbrook. Others who assisted in serving "hokey pokey" and making the affair a success were the Misses Emma Foster, Marion Porter and Ella Edmunds and John Cose, Albert Marsh, George Cose, Thomas Muir, Albert Grieb and Joseph Loughead.

MYSTERY ABOUT TROLLEY LINE

REMARKABLE OPERATIONS OF TRENTON AND NEW BRUNSWICK RAILWAY CO.

Operating on Greater Scale—Is Believed to Be Forerunner of Important Enterprise for Jersey.

There is much mystery, says the New York Herald, connected with the Trenton and New Brunswick (N. J.) Railway Company. The company is operating on a scale far exceeding anything an ordinary trolley road would and the conviction is growing in New Brunswick that some of the big steam roads which have no seaboard terminal are seeking a terminus in New York city or on the Jersey shore of New York Bay. The terminus, it is said, of the steam or trolley road will probably be on the Staten Island shore.

The Trenton and New Brunswick Railway Company was incorporated at Trenton December 10, with a capital of $1,000,000. Almost as soon as the charter was issued work was begun. Surveyors ran an air line from Trenton to Milltown.

Then agents purchased a right of way, and it is said they obtained a strip one hundred feet wide. A feature of this work was that the strip has been bought regardless of the villages which might act as feeders; the right of way touches but one town and that the little village of Dayton. The entire width is to be graded and then a single line of track is to be laid.

The plans are said to provide for the crossing of the Raritan at a height of 100 feet, and to construct the bridge of steel on the cantilever system, after the general design of the Poughkeepsie bridge over the Hudson River, and to provide for four tracks. Surveyors are now working eastward from Milltown along several possible routes toward Staten Island Sound. Those ostensibly backing the road have added to the mystery by varying statements. Some have said they acted in the interests of the Johnson syndicate, others that they were backed by an entirely different set of men, and seemingly no two agree as to details. The name of more than one trunk line has been connected with the scheme.

LOCAL AMATEURS WERE BETTER THAN BEFORE

Final Production of "His Excellency, the Governor" Was An Entire Success.

AT CASINO LAST NIGHT.

THE HOUSE WAS AGAIN FILLED WITH FASHIONABLE FOLK.

General Improvement in All the Roles—Words of Approbation From All—Some of the Minor Details Are Here Noted.

Before another audience of fashionable people, which filled the Casino, last evening, "His Excellency, the Governor" was produced for the second and last time by some of Plainfield's most talented amateurs. While the initial performance was apparently all that could be desired, there was a general improvement in last evening's production. The audience found much to praise and was emphatic in displaying its approval of the clever situations.

After the comprehensive review of the play and the playervs, which appeared in The Daily Press last evening, it is not necessary to say more of either except to emphasize the clever work done by all the members of the cast and note the improvement over Saturday evening's performance. The improvement was most noticeable in Frederick W. Goddard. Several side remarks were introduced which added to the general effect and occasioned more than one laugh.

Those two little lads in oriental costume, who drew the curtain at the first act, were the young brothers of Mrs. L. W. Serrell, the Masters Chilton. Their make-up was excellent, as was that of Howard Huntington, who appeared in the first act as the cooley who drew the jinrickasha. "The Nightingale," which was sung behind the scenes in the second act, was given by Mrs. George S. Ring, assisted in the chorus by A. Willis West, Laurens H. VanBuren and Raymond A. Mc Gee. A. Willis West accompanied them on the guitar. The serenade, "Want You Ma Honey," in the third act, was sung by Harry L. McGee.

O. G. Waring had charge of the ushers who were Morris J. Dumont, C. Wesley Abbott, H. Reeve Stockton, Thomas R. VanBoskerck, George L. VanBoskerck, and Clarence L. Murphy.

In connection with the play, there has been a charming series of social functions for the members of the cast and those who have assisted in its production. Friday evening, after the dress rehearsal, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Ring entertained the participants and ushers at their home on West Seventh street. At the conclusion of the performance Saturday evening, the same party gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. VanBuren. Last evening, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Serrell gave a dinner to the members of the cast after the affair at the Casino was over.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Plans Will be Completed at the Meeting of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., This Evening.

Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., will meet this evening and complete arrangements for the proper observance of Memorial Day. At this meeting the committee will make a report.

It has been decided to engage Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, of Jersey City, as the speaker for the exercises at Reform Hall. It is also quite likely that details to visit the various cemeteries and public schools will be appointed and other arrangements perfected.

The Independent Fife and Drum Corps has been engaged to furnish such music as the Post will want on Memorial Day, both in a short parade and at Reform Hall, where exercises will be held in the afternoon. An orchestra in charge of Commander J. F. Berg, will render selections at the hall and there will be solos by Charles L. Lewis and Miss Cornelia Miller.

To Attend Marriage.

Miss Ida L. Spicer, of West Fifth street, has gone to Westerley, R. I., where tomorrow evening she will attend the marriage of her cousin, Miss Spicer, a daughter of Dr. Albert Spicer, a well-known dentist of that place.

Pulpit Supply.

Rev. Frank A. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist church, Somerville, will occupy the pulpit of the First Baptist church, this city, Sunday morning and evening.

DINNER-DANCES.

First of Series at Hillside Clubhouse Will be Given Friday Evening, May 30.

During the coming season it is the purpose of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club to give a series of dinner-dances, the first of which will be given Friday evening, May 30, at the clubhouse. Invitations for the first affair will soon be issued. It will be necessary for those desiring to have dinner at the club to notify the steward, Edward Lord, in advance. A charge of $1 will be made for the dinner. In the evening music will be furnished by the club for those wishing to remain and dance. Those in charge of the affair hope the members will be prompt in signifying their desire to take part in these social events.

WELL-KNOWN WHEELMAN GONE

CHAS. C. LISTER DIED THIS MORNING AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

Was a Bicycle Dealer Here and Was Active in the Crescent Wheelmen During Its Existence.

The death of Charles C. Lister, one of the city's best-known men, occurred at his home on Willow avenue, this morning. He had been failing in health since last summer and had been confined to his home for the past five months. Pulmonary trouble was the direct cause of death.

Mr. Lister was thirty-eight years old and had lived in this city twelve of them, coming here from Philadelphia. He engaged in the bicycle business and continued it until his health compelled him to retire. He was an active member of the Crescent Wheelmen during its existence and was also an Odd Fellow and a member of Somerset Council, No. 104, Jr. O. U. A. M.

A widow and three children survive him. He also leaves four sisters and three brothers, most of whom live in or near Philadelphia. One brother, Harry, and one sister, Miss Frances Lister, reside in this city.

BACK FROM KENTUCKY.

Chief Kiely and Col. Randolph Returned From Meeting of National Association of Chiefs.

Chief of Police Kiely and Councilman, now "Colonel," Frank DeW. Randolph arrived home last evening from Louisville, Ky., where for the past week they were in attendance at the annual convention of the National Association of Chief of Police of the United States and Canada. They report interesting meetings and conferences and also a capital time socially.

The Kentucky people, known to the outside world principally for their hospitality, outdid themselves and accorded the delegates a royal welcome. Both Plainfielders enjoyed a delightful trip through the wonderful Mammouth Cave. The title of "Colonel" was bestowed upon Councilman Randolph by the Louisville Chief of Police, who vowed he was entitled to it for the dignified way in which he conducted himself during his stay in the city. Next year's convention will be held in New Orleans.

COLLINS' HOUSE GOING.

Old Shack is Being Removed by New Owner, S. C. Baker, Who Will Erect Building for Printery.

Workmen have begun razing the old frame building on the lot known as the Collins property on West Fourth street, near Liberty. The owner, S. C. Baker, intends erecting a large building for his printery and also make an entranceway through it to his Fifth street property.

The building has been a landmark for years and from its delapidated appearance has been eyesore to the near residents. Its former owner, Peter Collins, was taken from it by force by the Board of Health and removed to the Industrial home. He died a few weeks ago.

Funeral of Mrs. Stewart.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. Matilda A. Stewart, who died yesterday, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the residence of her daughter. Mrs. Andrew Wilson, of Craig place. Interment will be made in the Methodist cemetery.

To Practice at Atlantic City.

Dr. Rolland Davis Tomlinson, of LaGrande avenue, has gone to Atlantic City, where he will practice. His office will be at the "LeGrand," Pacific and Kentucky avenues.

Repairing Break.

Employes of the Plainfield Water Supply Company have been repairing a break in the main on West Front street.

EXCHANGED COURTESIES WITH LIGHTED LAMP

Decided by Hot Combat of Last Evening Aired In Police Court This Morning.

POLICE INVESTIGATING.

JOHN R. PETERSON AND MRS. MAGGIE CANNON TOOK PRINCIPAL ROLES.

Their Stories of the Circumstances Were So Conflicting That the Court Had to Lay the Case Over for Investigation.

When John R. Peterson and Mrs. Maggie Cannon started a quarrel at the former's home on Plainfield avenue, last evening, it was one of the hottest combats ever seen on the Boulevard. Hot words were used in profusion and even the weapons of offense and defense were tingling with warmth. Fortunately the friction failed to generate flame enough to fire the house and the department was saved a run.

Mrs. Cannon sallied into John's home last evening, to demand an accounting for an injury she claims he had done her daughter. With fire in her eye she accused him of blackening the girl's character and vowed she was going to do strenuous things. John objected to her berating him in his own home and emphasized his displeasure, she says, by suddenly heaving a lighted lamp directly at her Fortunately Mrs. Cannon had her hands in the air, gesticulating, and the lamp was returned with a dexterity that took John's breath away and also some cuticle off his head. He regained his composure only to lose it again when a heavy saucer hurled with all the force of Mrs. Cannon's right arm, landed squarely on his cranium. It cut a gash on his head and as the warm blood streamed down his face, he yelled "murder" and darted out of the house. Mrs. Cannon followed and she says when he reached the street he hurled rocks at her, but this is disputed.

Patrolman Vanderweg found Peterson running around half blinded by the blood and at his request arrested Mrs. Cannon. The discomfitted Peterson was also taken into custody and this morning both were arraigned before City Judge Runyon.

Between gulps and sobs, John told his story and blamed Mrs. Cannon for the whole thing. He denied the allegations in regard to injuring Miss Cannon and was sure he was being misrepresented before the court. Mrs. Cannon was equally firm that Peterson wasn't telling the truth and related graphically the lamp throwing, saucer hurling episode. Neither had any witnesses and as Chief Kiely wished to investigate Mrs. Cannon's charges fully, the court deferred action in the matter until he does so.

ARGUMENTS FOR

Annexationists of North Plainfield Have Announced Date and the Speakers for Mass-Meeting.

The annexationists of North Plainfield have arranged to hold a mass meeting in Saengerbund Hall Thursday evening, May 22, when arguments in favor of annexation and consolidation will be presented by Senator Charles A. Reed, Former Mayors B. A. Hegeman, Jr., and Wm. L. Saunders and Councilman J. P. Northrop.

Mayor N. B. Smalley is actively engaged in support of a movement for fair play in arguing the matter pro and con and says that all persons who desire to listen to a fair presentation of the questions now engaging the attention of the boroughites will be cordially invited to the meeting.

Missionary Address.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Crescent Avenue church will be held in the chapel this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Miss Forman, of Allahabad, will make an address, after which tea will be served.

Last Meeting Before Summer.

The regular meeting of the Sunshine Mission Band of the Crescent Avenue church will be held in the church parlors tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. This will be the last meeting before summer and all members are requested to be present.

No Plans Yet.

As yet the executors of the Babcock estate have made no arrangements for rebuilding the damaged structure. This work cannot be planned until the insurance is adjusted which in this case seems to be taking an unusual length of time.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR IN SESSION

ANNUAL CONCLAVE OF GRAND COMMANDERY OF N. J. AT TRENTON.

Met This Morning and Will Continue This Afternoon—Plainfielders Among the Officers.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Trenton, May 13—The forty-third annual conclave of the grand commandery of New Jersey, Knights Templar, is being held in Masonic Temple, today. The session opened at 10 o'clock in the morning. Officers will be elected this afternoon, and it is expected the meeting will adjourn about 6 o'clock.

These officers will act during the conclave: Grand commander, Josiah S. Davidson, Washington; deputy grand commander, Daniel Demarest, Newark; grand generalissimo, Daniel C. Adams, Plainfield; grand captain-general, John J. Henry, Newark; grand senior warden, Jacob Kirkner, Plainfield; grand junior warden, William Carman, Metuchen; grand prelate, George C. Maddock, Trenton; grand treasurer, Frederick G. Wiese, Bordentown; grand recorder, Charles Bechtel, Trenton; grand standard-bearer, Herman H. Mithoefer, Camden; grand sword-bearer, John B. Bertholf, Jersey City; grand warder, Charles A. Mohn, Hoboken, and grand captain of guards, Alfred T. Osmond, Trenton. It is expected that Daniel Demarest will be elevated to the position of grand commander.

There are at present eighteen commanderies in New Jersey, with a total membership of nearly 2,000. There will be about seventy-five votes in the conclave.

NEW SOMERSET FREEHOLDERS

WILL MEET AT SOMERVILLE TOMORROW TO ORGANIZE.

Director Logan Expects Re-Election—Fight Promised Over Appointment of Counsel.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 13—The Somerset county Board of Freeholders met at the bridge near Amerman's in Bernards township Saturday afternoon and accepted the structure. All the members were present.

Oliver H. Perry, the ex-Freeholder, has begun his duties as county supervisor of roads to which office he was recently elected.

The final meeting of the old board was held in the Court House here today and the new board will meet tomorrow and organize. It will be constituted as follows:

Bedminster, David Philbower, D; Bernards, John A. Whitenack, Jr., D.; Branchburg, R. W. Hoagland, R.; Bridgewater, Wm. J. Logan, D.; Franklin, T. E. Gibson, D.; Hillsborough, E. B. Hoagland, D.; Montgomery, E. V. Cruser, D.; North Plainfield, Aug. Mobus, D.; North Plainfield borough, Andrew Lutkins, R.; Warren, Joel Codington, D.

It is believed that Wm. J. Logan will be re-elected director and A. P. Sutphen clerk. There will probably be a resuming of the fight of last year for counsel. John A. Frech, the present advisor, will have pitted against him for the position Former Prosecutor Nelson Y. Dungan.

WASHBURN'S SHOWS.

Will Appear in This City With a Good Programme Friday.

Leon Washburn's combined shows is announced to exhibit in Plainfield, Friday, on West Fourth street lot. The equestrian portion of the exhibition consists of riders from every clime on this and the southern continent of America.

The Indian encampment is another of the features of the wild west. The wigwams, or tepees, have been purchased in Indian Territory and shipped east, so that the public could see how the Indians live out west, and also that the redskins themselves might be comfortable in their own homes. There is an exact reproduction of the Mountain Meadow massacre, requiring genuine Indians, brave cowboys, noted scouts, trappers and humanly educated Texas mustangs.

Sports after round-up, illustrated by the American ranchmen, who pick up hats, handkerchiefs and smaller objects on the ground from the backs of plunging mustangs, and other numerous and varied wild western pastimes are some of the good things promised in Leon W. Washburn's twentieth century exhibitions.

—Clarence Dagnall, of South Second street, has gone to Lambertville to accept a position.

CENTRAL TO RECLAIM MILES OF MEADOWS

More Facts Brought Out at a Recent Annual Meeting of the Central Stockholders.

MUCH DONE ALREADY.

WILL BUILD HUGE PIERS FOR HANDLING OF FREIGHT FROM STEAMERS.

Fully Four Miles of Land is to be Reclaimed and Made Available for Railroad Purposes—Part to be Ready This Year.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Jersey City, May 13—Further details regarding the New Jersey Central Railroad Company's great plans for the reclamation and improvement of the Communipaw shore front, between the foot of Communipaw avenue and the Hudson river, cropped out after last week's annual meeting of the stockholders of the company at the depot in Communipaw. The work when consummated will be even more important in its bearings than at first supposed.

The plans were first prepared in 1900 and comprehended the filling in of the tidewater flats at Communipaw south and east of the New Jersey Central's property fronting on New York Bay. The New Jersey Central stockholders were informed that 887,903 yards of filling have been placed during 1901, making the total quantity of filling to date 1,496,336 yards. There yet remains about 300,000 yards of filling to be placed to complete the first section of this work.

Plans are being prepared for a series of large piers adapted and equipped for the quick handling of freight direct between ocean steamships and cars, as well as furnishing storage and warehouse facilities. The company expects to have the first pier of the series completed before the end of this year. The meadow lands in that vicinity are being filled in to a distance of about 300 feet out from solid earth. Thus far about a mile fronting along New York Bay has been redeemed and it is the intention of the railroad company to build tracks on the site for freight and coal trains.

It is said that when the present plan of the company is carried out fully four square miles of meadow and riparian land will be redeemed and made available for railroad purposes. The New Jersey Central's directors re-elected are all unalterably committed to this improvement project. They expect to push the work this year more energetically than ever.

FRAMES ROTTED AWAY.

A Peculiar Discovery Made at a Local Pharmacy.

A peculiar discovery was made a few days ago by workmen engaged in scraping the old paint from the wooden window frames of the store formerly occupied by Hepburn & Company, pharmacists, in the Codington building, corner of Park avenue and West Second street. It was found that the wood from the surface through had completely rotted and literally crumbled away at their touch.

In comparison with other buildings this framework can lay no special claim to age, but the wood is a black walnut, a variety very susceptible to the corroding action of water. No doubt rain and frequent window washing was the cause of the decay. A new frame will be substituted at once.

Entertained Few Friends.

Miss Eva Dunavan, of North avenue, entertained a few friends at her home Saturday evening, when a pleasant social time was had. Those present included Miss Jessie King, of Belvidere; the Misses Etta and Nellie Breen, of Phililpsburg, and Miss Evelyn Slater, of Somerville.

Resigned as Deacon.

E. E. Anthony, formerly of this city, but now of Fishkill, N. Y., has tendered his resignation as a decaon of Trinity Reformed church, on account of his removal from this city. Wednesday evening, May 21, a meeting will be held at Trinity Reformed church to elect his successor.

Bids for Sewer Bonds.

There will be an adjourned meeting of the Common Council tomorrow evening when bids will be received and opened for the purchase of the $41,000 sewer improvement bonds. So far as known there is no other important business to come before the Council at that time.

ARCHITECTS' STATE BOARD

HAS ORGANIZED AND IS NOW READY TO BEGIN ITS WORK.

The Law Under Which it Was Formed—What the Board is Intended to Do.

The Board of Architects for the State, recently appointed by Governor Murphy, has organized and is now ready to assume the duties imposed upon it by the law.

The president is C. P. Baldwin, of Newark, Hugh Roberts, of Jersey City, secretary and treasurer, and the remaining commissioners are Arnold H. Moses, Camden; David B. Provoost, Elizabeth, and Charles Edwards, Paterson.

The board owes its existence to Chapter 29 of the laws of 1902 and is entitled "An act to regulate the practice of architecture." Hereafter every architect practicing in this State must hold a license from this board. Those who are at present in practice have simply to present to the board an affidavit to that effect, or a certificate from a similarly constituted board of another State, and by payment of a $5 bill they are licensed. Any person who is a member of the American Institute of Architects can come in on the same procedure.

By the act licenses can be revoked for gross ignorance, recklessness, incompetency, dishonest practice or any other good and sufficient reasons. Before, however, this can be done the accused must face charges and undergo a trial before the board. In the event of a license being revoked the right of appeal will be by certiorari to the supreme court.

Should any architect practice without a license, the act has thus to say:

"If any person shall pursue the practice of architecture in this State, or shall engage in this State in the business of preparing plans, specifications and preliminary data for the erection or alterations of buildings, or shall advertise or put out any sign, card or drawing, designating himself as an architect, having an office and doing business within this State without a certificate thereof, in accordance with the provisions of this act, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $50 and not more than $500 for each offense, or imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than one month."

The examinations for licenses will be held semi-annually. There will be fees, of course. The board receives no pay, but expenses are met by the fees.

Like a Drowning Man.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such hold of me that I could scarcely go," writes Geo. S. Marsh, well-known attorney of Nocona, Tex. "I took quantities of pepsin and other medicines but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am sound and well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. L. W. Randolph.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE DOING

SOME BRIEF PARAGRAPHS OF A PERSONAL NATURE.

Many Folk of Greater Plainfield Are Entertaining or Being Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Post, of Cottage place, have moved to East Third street.

HORSE THIEVES.

Have Been Operating in Somerset County and the County Officials Are Getting Worried.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 13—The authorities of Somerset county are having all sorts of trouble in endeavoring to locate a gang of horse thieves that has operated so successfully for the past week or so.

A few days ago a horse and wagon were stolen from the barn of E. A. Rumsey at South Somerville. About a week since a rig was stolen from the barn of Rev. H. D. Opdycke, of Martinsville, and one from Edward Snover at Whitehouse. The robbers that did this work have been so clever that not a single trace of them has been found.

BAPTIST HOME MEETING.

Held This Afternoon at Newark—A Reception Was Held This Morning.

The annual meeting of the Baptist Home for the Aged at 285 Roseville avenue, Newark, will be held this afternoon at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, corner Roseville and Fifth avenues, Newark, commencing at 2 o'clock. A reception was held at the Home from 10 o'clock in the morning to 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Luncheon was provided. Many of the local Baptists attended.

Hasn't Sold Truck Horse.

Dr. Pocock, the fire department veterinary, has not yet been able to sell one of the truck horses, which the department has been trying to dispose of. The doctor says the animal is worth $400 and unless he can get that amount the fire committee will not let him go, although the committee thinks he is an expensive horse for the department use.

Permit for Barn.

Building Inspector Doane has issued a permit to Mrs. Louise Terry for the erection of a frame barn at Lee place and West Seventh street. It will be one and a-half stories in height. Seaman Williams will do the mason work and Wyman & Haberle the carpentering.

Sermons on Commandmants.

Beginning next Sunday, Rev. John McMurray, pastor of the Monroe Avenue church, will inaugurate a series of sermons on "The Ten Commandments." They will be made interesting by present day applications.

Don't Start Wrong.

Don't start the summer with a lingering cough or cold. We all know what a "summer cold" is. It's the hardest kind to cure. Often it "hangs on" through the entire season. Take it in hand right now. CORPORATION NOTICE

Sealed Proposals for Sewer Bonds for the City of Plainfield, N. J.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a meeting thereof held April 28th, 1902, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Wednesday, the fourteenth day of May, 1902, at 8 o'clock p. m., at the Council Chamber, No. 151 North avenue, in the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, at which time and place said Common Council will receive and open sealed proposals for the purchase of sewer bonds to the amount of forty-one thousand dollars to be issued by the City of Plainfield under the ordinance of said city entitled "An ordinance to provide for the issue of bonds to defray the costs and expenses of the improvement of sewage disposal works, beds and appurtenances," approved April 7th, 1902, and the act of the Legislature of New Jersey entitled "An act to provide for drainage and sewerage in cities of this State," approved April 7th, 1890, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto.

Said bonds will bear date the first day of May, 1902, and be payable as follows: that is to say: On the first day of May, nineteen hundred and twenty-eight, five bonds; and on the first day of May of each and every year thereafter, down to and including the year nineteen hundred and thirty-four, five bonds, and on the first day of May in the year nineteen hundred and thirty-five the remaining six bonds: that said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four per centum per annum, payable semi-annually.

Said bonds are to be coupon bonds and to be in the form approved by the Common Council, and now on file in the office of the City Clerk of said city.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals the Council will immediately proceed to unseal same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding, or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also to make proper record of the prices and terms upon the minutes of the Council.

The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved by the Common Council.

All proposals must be endorsed "Proposals for purchase of sewer bonds," and should include the accrued interest from date of bonds to date of purchase.

By order of the Common Council of the City of Plainfield.

Dated May 1st, 1902.

JAMES T. MacMURRAY,
City Clerk.

GALA DAY AT MADRID

Queen Regent Takes Leave of Her Ministers.

PREPARING FOR KING'S ASCENDENCY

Festivity In the Streets, but Sad Scene In the Palace, Where Maria Christina Signs Her Last Decrees.

MADRID, May 13.—The brilliant weather encouraged the crowds to pour out into the streets of the city yesterday, and every thoroughfare was filled with merrymakers who were apparently in the happiest humor.

The appearance of the streets was in strong contrast to the scene which at the same time was being enacted within the palace. Here the festivity gave place to a drama. The queen regent of Spain was sorrowfully taking leave of her ministers and practically relinquishing to the hands of her son the solemn charge which she has so faithfully fulfilled for the past sixteen and a half years.

Premier Sagasta and his colleagues proceeded to the palace at 11 o'clock in the morning for a formal leave taking of the queen regent and to present for her majesty's signature the last decrees to which her hand and seal will ever be affixed as regent of Spain.

When the queen regent withdrew her pen from the parchment conferring the order of the Golden Fleece upon the Duke of Cumberland, her majesty's eyes were moist. Her regency really terminated at this time, although until the king takes the oath in the presence of the combined chambers May 17 his mother remains officially the queen regent.

It was a pathetic scene when the ministers were ushered into the queen regent's cabinet. She received them with the young king at her side. Premier Sagasta in an eloquent address of leave taking delivered in behalf of himself and his colleagues recalled the day when the queen regent, fresh from the grief of her widowhood, honored him with her confidence, although she scarcely knew him. He compared that day to this, when the young king, with his devoted mother at his side, was about to enter upon and exercise his constitutional prerogative. "I was prime minister then, and I am prime minister now," said Senor Sagasta. "During the almost seventeen intervening years," continued the speaker, "the noble queen regent has been a slave to duty. She has sacrificed her youth to the jealous guardianship of her children. She has suffered much, but her majesty finds compensation today in the happiness of the king."

Turning to the king, Senor Sagasta compared the difficulties which confronted him today with the situation at the death of the late king, his father. "The present difficulties," said the premier, "are not insurmountable. Spain has not progressed as much as might be desired, still she has made substantial progress. Peace and tranquillity have been secured, the era of military pronunciamentos is past, and the attention of the people is centered in education and labor."

Premier Sagasta said also that he hoped the new reign would be pregnant with greater achievements and greater blessings to the nation than the preceding reign had been.

The queen regent listened to Senor Sagasta with increasing emotion. Finally, with tears running down her cheeks, she responded and thanked the premier for his words.

A Postmaster Missing.

NORFOLK, Va., May 13.—Postmaster Samuel L. Burroughs of Portsmouth is missing, and United States Postoffice Inspector Bulla is in charge of the accounts, which are short. Mr. John W. THE TIEUP COMPLETE

Work Entirely Suspended In Anthracite Coal Region.

MINERS NUMBERING 145,000 IDLE.

Coal Companies Prepare For a Long Struggle by Discharging Train Crews and Help Generally.

PHILADELPHIA, May 13.—Mine workers throughout the entire anthracite coal regions of Pennsylvania to the number of 145,000 have formally begun their struggle for increased wages and shorter hours. Never in the history of hard coal mining has a tie-up been so complete, not one of the 357 collieries in the territory being in operation. There is every indication for the belief that the suspension which was to cover only the first three days of this week will be made permanent by the miners' general convention which will meet at Hazleton tomorrow.

Absolute quiet prevails everywhere. In pursuance of the request of the district executive boards which met jointly at Scranton last week all the local unions throughout the regions met during the day and evening and elected delegates to the Hazleton convention. It is significant in every instance where the vote of a "local" became public property the ballot showed a decided majority for a permanent strike unless the operators grant concessions. Predictions are made that if it is decided to continue the strike the struggle will be longer and more bitter than was that of 1900, which lasted six weeks.

The coal companies in various parts of the regions have already made preparations for a siege. Coal train crews, telegraph operators, switchmen, carpenters, machinists and other employees numbering several thousand not identified with the Mine Workers' union have been laid off until further notice. Some of the companies have also brought their mules to the surface and placed them in pasture.

President Mitchell has been busy at his headquarters. He was in close communication with all the district leaders and expressed himself as well satisfied with the way the men responded to the call for a suspension of work. He will leave for Hazleton this afternoon.

Long Fight Expected.

HAZLETON, Pa., May 13.—That the miners expect a permanent declaration at tomorrow's convention is shown by the hundreds of applications made by them for work on a new trolley construction operation here, for which up to this time a sufficient number of hands could not be secured. The fear of a strike is most pronounced among the foreigners, large numbers of whom have left for their native lands during the last two days.

Car Repairers Laid Off.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., May 13.—Owing to the strike in the Pennsylvania coalfields forty-three men employed at the Erie railroad's car shops at Port Jervis have been laid off indefinitely.

California Limited Wrecked.

KEOKUK, Ia., May 13.—The California limited, eastbound, on the Santa Fe, was wrecked at Revere, Mo., ten miles from the scene of the wreck of the same train two weeks ago. The axle of the dining car broke, and the train ran into a switch. The train crashed into a box car on a siding. The corner of the dining car was torn off, and six coaches were thrown from the track. The speed of the train at the time was more than a mile a minute. One passenger, Miss Adams of Chicago, was slightly injured.

Indian Lands For Settlers.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The president has issued a proclamation opening to settlement the Fort Hall Indian reservation in Idaho. All of the land within five miles of Pocatello will be sold at public auction at noon on July 17 at a minimum of $10 an acre, and all the rest of the land will be thrown open to settlement and entry at noon of June 17 next. The opening involves nearly 400,000 acres ceded to the government by the Shoshone and Bannock Indians.

French Garrison Attacked.

SAIGON, French Cochin China, May 13.—Savannakek, an important town in Laos, has been attacked by rebellious natives. The town was well defended by the French garrison stationed there. There has recently been considerable trouble with the rebellious natives in the neutral zone dividing Laos and Siam.

A CITY OF THE DEAD

Consul Ayme Visits St. Pierre and Reports.

RUINS STREWN WITH VICTIMS.

Twelve Survivors Only Remain of More Than 30,000 Dwellers In the Ill Fated Town—Heart-rending Sights.

FORT DE FRANCE, Island of Martinique, May 13.—It now seems to be generally admitted that about 30,000 persons lost their lives as a result of the outbreak of the Mont Pelee volcano at St. Pierre on Thursday last. Careful investigation by competent government officials shows that the earlier reports were accurate.

Briefly put, in ten minutes last Thursday morning the city of St. Pierre disappeared in a whirling fire vomited from Mont Pelee, and 30,000 persons were instantly and horribly killed, and the volcano, which for more than fifty years had been a quiet lake occupying its ancient crater, in which picnic parties bathed, suddenly discharged torrents of fiery mud which rolled toward the sea, sweeping everything before it.

Then the last cable communication was broken, and the doomed city was isolated from the world.

The commander of the French cruiser Suchet gave the American consul at Guadeloupe, Louis H. Ayme, the first news of the appalling disaster the day after it occurred. Mr. Ayme has reached the desolate spot where St. Pierre stood and confirms the awful story in all its essential features.

From an interview with Colonel Ayme, who is a trained American newspaper man, the following facts were learned regarding the destruction of St. Pierre:

Thursday morning found the inhabitants of that city anxiously looking toward the thick clouds shrouding the Mont Pelee crater. All day Wednesday horrid detonations had been heard. These had been echoed from St. Thomas, on the north, to Barbados, on the south. During the night of Wednesday these had ceased, and only fine ashes, like rain, fell on St. Pierre.

Twelve survivors only are in the military hospital at Fort de France, while 30,000 corpses are strewn about or buried in the ruins of St. Pierre or else floating, gnawed by sharks, in the surrounding seas. Twenty-eight charred, half dead human beings were brought here. Sixteen of them are already dead, and four others only are expected to recover.

A steamer chartered in Guadeloupe reached Martinique at 6:30 Sunday morning. The lofty hilled island was hidden behind a huge veil of violet or leaden colored haze. Enormous quantities of the wreckage of large and small ships and houses were met with. Huge trees and too often floating bodies, with flocks of sea gulls soaring above and hideous sharks fighting about them, were floating here and there. From behind the volcanic veil came blasts of hot wind mingled with others ice cold.

At Le Precheur, five miles north of St. Pierre, canoes with men and women, frantic to get away, begged for a passage on the steamer.

The whole north end of the island was covered with a silver gray coating of ashes resembling dirty snow. Furious blasts of fire, ashes and mud swept over the steamer, but finally St. Pierre was reached.

The city of St. Pierre stretched nearly two miles along the water front and half a mile back to a cliff at the base of the volcano. The houses of the richer French families were built of stone. The ash covered hills were flanked by the still smoking volcano. The ruins were still burning in many places, and frightful odors of burned flesh filled the air. With great difficulty a landing was effected. Not one house was left intact. Everywhere were viscid heaps of mud, of brighter ashes or piles of volcanic stones.

The streets could hardly be traced. Here and there amid the ruins were heaps of corpses. Almost all the faces were downward. In one corner twenty-two men, women and children were mingled in one awful mass, arms and legs protruding as the hapless beings fell in the last struggle of death's agony.

Through the middle of the old Place Bertin ran a tiny stream, the remains of the river Goyave. Great trees, with roots upward and scorched by fire, were strewn in every direction. Huge blocks and still hot stones were scattered about. From under one large stone the arm of a white woman protruded. Most notable was the utter silence and the awful, overpowering stench from the thousands of dead.

Careful inspection showed that the fiery stream which so completely destroyed St. Pierre must have been composed of poisonous gases, which instantly suffocated every one who inhaled them, and of other gases burning furiously, for nearly all the victims had their hands covering their mouths or were in some other attitude showing that they had sought relief from suffocation. All the bodies were carbonized or roasted.

A. G. Austen, the manager of the Colonial bank of Barbados, landed at St. Pierre with a party from the British royal mail steamer Solent. He found the bank clock stopped at some minutes before 8 o'clock. A horse and buggy and a policeman were in a dead group at the door.

At the request of S. A. Macallister, the United States consul at Barbados, Captain Davis and the Solent were placed at his disposition by the Barbados government.

The Solent arrived at about the same time as the Associated Press steamer and brought to St. Pierre the colonial secretary, two civil doctors, two military officers and Dr. W. E. Aughinbaugh of Washington, as well as a corporal and four hospital orderlies, three trained nurses and a full field hospital outfit. The Barbados government also sent 700 barrels of provisions, one ton of ice and a full supply of medicine. These were useful, but the dead only needed quick burial.

RELIEF FOR SUFFERERS.

Prompt Action Taken by President and Congress.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The house has passed by an overwhelming vote a bill granting $200,000 for the relief of the sufferers in the great calamity in the West Indies. The bill was a substitute for the relief measure passed by the senate and followed the receipt of a message from the president setting forth the magnitude of the calamity and urging an appropriation of $500,000. A special meeting of the appropriation committee was held to facilitate action on the bill, and it was reported to the house within a short time after the receipt of the president's message. Mr. Hemenway, the acting chairman of the appropriation committee, explained that the amount was limited to $250,000 owing to the fact that large private contributions were being made. The discussion was brief. Mr. Underwood (Ala.) being the only one to speak in opposition. The bill was passed by 196 votes to 9.

The president proceeded with the greatest energy to give shape to the relief measure. Secretary Hay was called and brought with him the dispatch from United States Consul Ayme which served as official confirmation of the worst reports of the extent of the disaster and in the opinion of the president fully justified emergency measures. Secretary Hay was requested to acquaint Secretary Root and Secretary Moody with the president's message, and they were charged to carry out the details of the arrangements. The treasury department was instructed to cooperate, and it is supposed that this will mean the employment of the revenue cutters and the medical officers of the marine hospital service.

The war department, with its well organized supply departments, was regarded as in better position than any other institution to take charge of the relief measures, except that it had no means of transportation, the Sedgwick, which is out of commission, being the only army transport on the Atlantic coast. Fortunately the navy had a handy ship in the Dixie, which arrived at New York recently from a training cruise. She was purchased just prior to the Spanish war and, having been a merchant freighter, is admirably adapted to the service required for her now. Secretary Moody immediately telegraphed orders to Captain Berry, her commander, to ship any supplies that are offered him and to sail at the earliest possible moment for Martinique. He was authorized to extend relief to other islands if he found any necessity for so doing. Navigation bureau officers estimated that she can be coaled and provisioned and got under way tomorrow evening.

The scientific departments of the government will avail of the opportunity to send on the Dixie as passengers or observers two professors from the geological survey. A Harvard volcano specialist will also be given passage. The United States cruiser Buffalo, also a converted merchant freighter, will be used as a relief ship if the Dixie does not suffice.

The quartermaster's supplies to be transported on the Dixie will include about 500 tents, suitable clothing for men, women and children and camp equipage, such as axes, shovels, kettles, frying pans and cooking utensils. The subsistence supplies include about 500,000 rations.

Captain Yates Stirling, commandant of the naval station at San Juan, Porto Rico, has notified the navy department that the collier Sterling is being loaded there with voluntary contributions of supplies and will leave for Martinique as soon as possible.

Quiet at St. Thomas.

ST. THOMAS, Danish West Indies, May 13.—Nothing exceptional has occurred at Dominica during the past twenty-four hours. The atmosphere is now fine and reassuring. Refugees from St. Vincent continue to arrive at Dominica, each repeating a pitiable tale of hardship and suffering. The United States steamer Potomac passed Dominica yesterday. Many empty canoes are in the channel, being driven by wind and current toward Pointe a Pitre, Guadeloupe. A few refugees from Martinique have arrived at Dominica in a sloop. The French cable ship Pouyer Quertier is trying to repair the cable. It is reported that she finds it sunk in 1,200 meters of water where formerly it was only 300 meters below the surface.

Soufriere In Full Eruption.

ROSEAU, Dominica, May 13.—The Soufriere volcano on the island of St. Vincent has been in full eruption since Wednesday last. Several plantations have been destroyed. Earthquakes and loud reports accompanied the eruption, and stones and ashes fell at the capital, Kingston. Many persons were wounded, and the bodies of 500 dead are unburied. Barbados, ninety-six miles off, was in total darkness for a time. Pebbles and gritty substances have fallen at Barbados. Canoes crowded with refugees are arriving at Dominica, and their occupants are most hospitably received.

J. P. Morgan In Berlin.

BERLIN, May 13.—J. Pierpont Morgan spent one day in Berlin last week, where he stopped at a hotel incognito. He quite successfully prevented his presence in the city becoming generally known. The object of Mr. Morgan's visit to Berlin has not been divulged.

PALMA IN HAVANA.

Has Conference With General Wood. President Elect Preparing Message.

HAVANA, May 13.—General Maximo Gomez has given up his residence here to President Elect Palma and his family. Senor Palma had another conference with Governor General Wood in the afternoon. The president elect has evidenced much interest in the rural guard and their ability to maintain peace in the island. This was a subject of discussion at both of Senor Palma's conferences with Governor General Wood.

Senor Palma seems to have stood his recent trip through the island even better than the younger members of the party which accompanied him. The president elect is denying himself to visitors until he completes his message to the Cuban congress.

Shipping interests here are demanding that some action be taken looking toward the removal from the harbor of the wreck of the Maine before the termination of the present military government in Cuba. At the naval demonstration in honor of Senor Palma's arrival at Havana the wreck of the Maine proved a serious obstruction to the maneuvers, and accidents were narrowly averted. The bars which are forming at both sides of the wreck are constantly increasing the danger to shipping. When the north Atlantic squadron was recently in Havana harbor, the Kearsarge in an effort to avoid the wreck came within a few feet of ramming the Alabama.

BEEF BOYCOTT SPREADS.

Jews of Greater New York Take to Milk and Eggs.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The boycott on beef by the Jewish residents of the east side, in sympathy with the butchers of that race who are fighting the wholesalers in keeping their shops closed until the price of the kosher meat is reduced, has assumed larger proportions. It is announced that the boycott has spread to all the boroughs. Brooklyn and Newark, which contain many Jewish inhabitants, have to a great extent joined the movement. It is further expected that all the butchers' shops of the east side and the inhabitants, estimated at 250,000 people, will take to a diet of milk, eggs and vegetables in order to bring the wholesalers to terms.

Not a butcher's shop dealing in the kosher meat only is open. There are 1,000 or more of them on the east side and about fifty butchers of other races interspersed, some of whom, according to the boycotters, profess to sell the real kosher killed beef.

Joe Gans the Champion.

FORT ERIE, Ont., May 13.—Joe Gans, the Baltimore lightweight pugilist, is champion in his class at last, after knocking at the door for the past ten years. Frank Erne lost last night a fight which was a decisive tussel, although of very brief duration. The end came with startling suddenness. The men were scarcely warmed up when Gans, trying cautiously, caught Erne napping and landed the knockout blow.

Relief For Russian Peasants.

ST. TERRIFIC EXPLOSION

Twenty-five Dead and Hundreds Injured.

FEARFUL [illegible] NEAR PITTSBURG

Carloads of Burning Naphtha Spread Death and Destruction Far and Wide—Great Loss of Property.

PITTSBURG, May 13.—The Sheraden yards of the Panhandle railroad was the scene last evening of one of the most disastrous explosions and fire known in this section for many years. A score of lives were lost, and about 200 persons were badly burned that, according to the judgment of physicians in attendance, 75 per cent of them will die from the effects of their injuries.

The cause of the catastrophe was the explosion of a train of naphtha cars which were being switched at the yards, and in the switching the rear car telescoped a car forward. The leaking naphtha ignited from a switch light, causing an explosion which threw the flames fifty feet high. Much of the escaping naphtha ran through Cork's Run to Esplen Borough, a distance of one and a half miles, and caused another explosion, blowing to atoms the Seymour hotel and the Collins House, on River road, and badly wrecking a frame building near by in which were congregated 200 or more sports from Pittsburg and vicinity betting on the races, baseball, etc. Few of the occupants of this building escaped injury, many being badly hurt. Mrs. Seymour and her daughter of the Sheraden hotel were seriously and, it is feared, fatally injured.

The first car of naphtha exploded about 4:40 o'clock, and the spectacle soon attracted a large crowd on streets lining the hills on both sides of and parallel to the railroad. The second car exploded about 5 o'clock, but it was 6:15 when three more cars of the deadly stuff went up with a roar that could be heard for miles that the work of destruction really began.

A torrent of flame belched forth on either side of the track, sweeping back the terrified spectators like a charge of artillery and sending a shower of flame over their heads resembling Mont Pelee on a small scale.

The scene that followed beggars description. The successive explosions had heated the air to such an extent that before the third explosion many were rendered unconscious by the extreme heat and the gaseous fumes and were being carried away when the torrent of flame swept over the excited crowd.

All the ambulances from Pittsburg and Allegheny, together with many physicians, were quickly on the scene, and at the earliest possible moment the victims were taken to the city. All of the hospitals were soon crowded with writhing patients and the morgue filled to overflowing.

The property loss will reach up into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Marine Officers Coming Home.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—A cablegram received at the navy department from Rear Admiral Rodgers announces that Major Littleton W. T. Waller, Captain David D. Porter and First Lieutenant J. H. A. BICYCLE OFFENDERS.

In order to bring the bicycle riders of the city to a full realization of the city ordinance which governs the use of bicycles in Plainfield, it seems necessary for the police to make examples of a few of the worst offenders. Just at present the principal trouble seems to be the tendency of certain riders to move too rapidly, and to use the sidewalks in perference to the roadway.

The "scorcher" on the wheel is not as dangerous, perhaps, as the flying automobile but he is sufficient to seriously menace the welfare of life and limb. If anyone feels the need of a burst of speed the smooth county roads outside of the city limits offer plenty of opportunity but the main thoroughfares in the thickly settled portions of the city are not adapted for that purpose. The best time to stop this habit is before it is the cause of some serious if not fatal accident.

The law states implicitly that the wheelmen shall not use the sidewalk. One might think that, when the bicyclist did brave the law and ride on the sidewalk, the cyclist would use every care to see that no accident should result from the trespassing The contrary seems to be the case.

The police have announced that wheelmen must obey the laws or suffer the consequences. Two arrests have already been made. Others are promised unless the speed is properly controlled and the sidewalks avoided.

Without going into the rights and wrongs of the dispute which resulted in the untimely ending of the baseball game on Pittis Field, Saturday afternoon, it was a very regrettable fact from the public's point of view that the management of the Dunellen A. C. felt it necessary to withdraw its team when only half an inning remained to be played. When the umpires are installed in their official capacities, the two teams are expected to abide by their decisions. True sportsmanship demands that both sides accept the decision and finish the game, even if gross errors of judgment are made. The withdrawal of a team from the field, merely because the umpire's decision does not happen to please, is not a course which will commend itself to the public at large or to any opponent.

A very worthy institution is the Woman's Exchange and right royally has it been assisted. For two nights, the people of Plainfield have flocked to the Casino to see a very clever comedy presented by some of Plainfield's most talented amateur actors. On a remarkably small stage, they managed to produce such an elaborate play with scenic effects equal to any to be found at the principal theatres. Then the local talent acted with spirit and gave one of the best amateur performances ever presented in this city. Society honored the two evenings' performances with its presence and altogether, "His Excellency, the Governor" may be considered a complete success from every point of view.

The new management of the New Jersey Central appears to be in a fair way to stand in high favor with the Plainfield commuters. When the privilege of using the card tables on the trains was again granted, there was a feeling among many of the commuters that they had a friend in power. The recent improvement in the service had already given cause for that idea. Now if the new management would only see that the fence separating the tracks at the North Avenue station was painted white or some light color that would make it easily seen, there would be little left to ask for.

A WHITE ROBIN.

Strange Bird Which Has Been Seen on Borough Councilman Lee's Farm, Near Mt. Bethel.

Considerable interest has been evidenced of late in the presence of a white robin on Borough Councilman Charles Lee's farm near Mt. Bethel. The bird was seen recently by A. E. Hoagland, the expressman, and he at first thought it was a pigeon.

The bird has a red breast and wings tinted with the same color, while his back, head and tail are pure white. Residents in the vicinity of Mt. Bethel have frequently noticed the robin, but not until recently has his presence caused much interest. The bird is beautifully marked and he seems to be perfectly at home in the mountains.

Tired of Waiting.

Cornelius Guinee's cab horse becoming somewhat tired of waiting for his owner, who left him in Park avenue, yesterday afternoon, started to walk away. He turned North avenue and when nearly opposite The Daily Press office, Patrolman George Lunger took him in charge and detained him for a few minutes when the owner appeared and drove off.

Soap Factory for Lincoln.

The attorney and vice president of a large soap concern have purchased one thousand feet of land on the boulevard at Lincoln and will erect a factory there in a short time. The company is not in the trust, and it is proposed to do business on a big scale. This purchase has started a big boom in real estate at Lincoln.

Silver Medal for Geo. W. Edwards.

THE GREAT HOSIERY SALE
CONTINUED THIS WEEK.

We have a large Hosiery business, but it should be larger. No department in our large establishment receives more careful attention, or is more elaborately stocked. We place Import orders for nearly all our goods, thus saving the jobbers' profit. This enables us to sell a superior article for a given price. Our Spring Importations are now ready and to quickly introduce them we shall offer extraordinary inducements.

At 98c all over lace patterns of fine Silk finished Lisle Thread, with white tipped heel and toe. This stocking is of exquisite beauty and guaranteed to be worth 1.25 pair.

At 89c all over lace of brilliant Lisle Thread, all black, beautifully shaped and superior in finish to silk goods. Real value 1.00 pair.

At 75c lace stripe brilliant Lisle, with white tipped heel and toe, finished with high lustre and daintily fashioned. Many a store would have no difficulty in getting 98c pair for them.

At 50c lace stripe Lisle Thread in 9 dainty fine patterns. This is one of our star numbers and is extremely popular for summer use.

At 50c Gauze Cotton and Gauze Lisle, of unusual beauty and very fine gauze. Color is perfect.

At 50c a full bleached foot black Lisle Stocking of remarkable beauty. High spliced heel and double sole. When visiting our hosiery counter ask to see this particular number.

At 39c pr or 5 pairs for 1.00 black Gauze Lisle and Gauze Cotton of very fine gauze. This stocking retails in many places for 50c pair.

At 39c pr or 3 prs for 1.00 medium weight white sole hose of great durability.

At 25c excellent white foot and white sole hose. Splendid shape, splendid color, splendid goods.

At 25c plain blk Lisle Thread, of medium weight and beautiful finish. This stocking is far superior to the average 25c hose and sells in many places at 35c pair.

At 25c pair our No. 1141/2. This hose is worth 39c pair or money will be refunded. It is better than any 25c hose sold in New York city and we know it. Extra length, high spliced heel, double sole, etc. Don't fail to ask for it.

At 25c drop stitch Lisle Thread, with pattern running to toe. Color excellent, pattern choice. A very desirable stocking.

At 25c pr lace stripe Lisle Thread, of unusually attractive pattern; fine quality and looks like a 50c stocking.

At 2 pairs for 25c a lace pattern cotton hose of very fair quality and excellent color.

At 10c and 15c good quality, well shaped hose; full sizes and fast black color. These are goods bought directly from the mills and are better than goods at these prices generally are.

At 25c our popular No. 1590½ boys' extra ribbed hose. These goods are made for the hardest kind of wear, yet they are well fashioned, finely finished and absolutely fast black color.

At 25c our celebrated No. 412 ribbed for either boys or girls. Made by same mill as above but lighter in weight and finely finished.

At 25c misses' extra fine light weight lisle thread ribbed hose. This stocking is silk finished and would deceive even a careful observer at first sight into believing it silk.

At 25c the newest lace stripe lisle thread for misses, sizes from 5½ to 8½. This stocking we have waited a year for, the demand for it being so great. It is one of exceptional beauty and cannot be equalled.

FOR STOUT LADIES—Outsizes in plain black and with white soles, at 25c. In drop stitch, plain blk 39c, or 3 for $1. In split sole plain cotton, 39c or 3 for $1. In drop stitch black lisle thread at 50c.

At 10c and 15c pair—Childs' fast black ribbed Hose, with double knee, high spliced heel and double sole. These goods are from a Southern mill, where the cotton grows and labor is cheap. They are much better than you have been buying for these prices.

BAZAAR FOR ST. JOSEPH'S

BEGAN YESTERDAY AFTERNOON AND WILL CONTINUE THROUGH WEEK.

Tea Was Served in the Afternoon—A Euchre Tonight—A Fine Exhibition of Work.

The bazaar in aid of the Sisters' Academy of St. Joseph's church began yesterday afternoon and will last throughout the week. For the opening day invitations were issued and between four and five hundred women took advantage of the opportunity to attend.

The reception committee was Mrs. David T. Kenney, Mrs. Walter Hamilton, and Mrs. Joseph Blatz. Tea was poured by Miss L. Gavin, Mrs. James Bailey, Mrs. A. E. Kenney, Mrs. Arthur Cannon and Mrs. H. Berkhan.

There is a very fine exhibition of work by the sisters of the academy, including hand-painted china, a beautiful tapestry painting, Mexican drawn work; embroidery, and a handsome fire screen, entire piece and doily. The display is certainly worth seeing.

A unique feature is the orange tree. In each orange is enclosed a number, and a corresponding number will be found on some article to be given to the purchaser of the orange. In the tea room a pretty effect is obtained by American beauty roses strung diagonally, lilacs banking the mantel piece, and ferns and palms effectively placed in the corners.

This evening and Friday evening will be devoted to progressive euchre, and on Wednesday and Thursday evening there will be a vocal and musical entertainment. The patronesses of the fair are: Mrs. David Kenney, chairman; Mrs. J. A. Blatz, Mrs. J. H. Bailey, Mrs. H. J. Berkhan, Mrs. A. A. Cannon, Mrs. C. H. Farlee, Miss Lizzie Gavin, Mrs. W. F. Hamilton, Mrs. A. E. Kenney, Mrs. Thos. Meaney, Mrs. E. Ryan, Mrs. Wm. White.

OVERTON MADE BEST SHOWING

COMPARISON OF AVERAGES OF BOROUGH HIGH SCHOOL BALL NINE.

Overton the Best All-Round Player With Armstrong Second—Averages of All the Team.

There is keen competition among the baseball players of the North Plainfield High School for first honors in batting, base stealing and fielding. The percentages so far show, by combining the averages, that Overton, the second baseman, is probably the best all-round player on the team, with Fred Armstrong, pitcher and captain, a good second. To obtain a round thousand for base stealing it is necessary to steal one base in each game played, so that Connor who stole five bases gets as many marks as Overton, who stole fifteen. Yet the method is no doubt fair, since ability to get to first is necessary before ability to steal bases can be displayed.

Adams leads in fielding, Armstrong second. Overton leads both in batting and base stealing and stands fourth in the field. Emmons is second for batting honors, and Humble, computing from the number of bases stolen, second for base stealing, although Connor and Emmons both have as good an average.

The averages follow:

	Batt'g.	Field'g.	B. Steal'g.
Overton	.480	.729	1,000
Emmons	.400	.667	1,000
Armstrong	.375	.963	.750
Mes'rsmith	.375	.800	.500
Conover	.300	.728	1,000
Woodland	.250	.934	.500
Humble	.223	.000	1,000
Powers	.182	.700	.334
Owens	.125	.912	.000
Stevens	.063	.381	.250
Adams	.000	1,000	.000
Hegeman	.000	.625	.000

TWO NEW OFFICERS.

Elected at Meeting of Retail Clerks' Mutual Benefit Association.

The Retail Clerks' Mutual Benefit Association met last evening and transacted considerable business. J. V. E. Vanderhoef was elected secretary and Miss Elizabeth O'Keefe financial secretary. The members decided upon Monday evening, May 26, as the time for holding the entertainment for the retail clerks of the city. All will be invited, whether members of the association or not, and a good entertainment will be provided.

One new member was initiated at the meeting and arrangements were made for chancing off a divan on July 22.

A Few Interesting Items Concerning Greater Plainfield's Merchants

Spring hats in new and latest styles and a fine array of neckties and negligee shirts are the attraction at J. R. Blair's, Park avenue.

The beef trust does not seem to have any effect on Smalley Brothers, North avenue. Their shop is well stocked with a choice line of meats.

You may feel absolutely certain of getting a good article when you purchase from W. W. Dunn, the park grocer. Butter and coffee are his present specialties.

Putnam & DeGraw have a knack of pleasing all of their customers. They keep an extensive stock of dry goods, complete in every department and you are never overcharged.

McDonough Brothers, dealers in coal and ice, are ready to serve you in a satisfactory manner. They will sell you pure ice at a low price. A postal card will bring their wagon to your door.

Dorflinger's cut glass articles are always acceptable as gifts. Why not select some from the large display at Gavett's for your friends? A beautiful line of lamps in great variety of designs is to be found there.

"If at first you don't succeed, try Warnock." If your baker hasn't given satisfaction Warnock will fill the bill. Confectionery of every kind, ice cream, and quick deliveries are some of his specialties. 'Phone 1134.

In selecting your shoes for summer you want the best that the least money will buy, that is, you do not want to pay more than the shoes are worth. If you deal with Willett & Son on Park avenue, you are sure to be satisfied.

Drop in at the store of Callahan & Son, of Richmond street, and see for yourself why this grocery firm is popular. Nothing but the best grades of staple goods and prices that are irrisistable are two of the reasons. Give them a trial order, then compare notes.

When in need of pure drugs or prescriptions accurately and correctly compounded, go to L. W. Randolph's drug store on West Front street. He keeps a complete stock of everything in the drug line, all of the best quality. He also sells delicious soda water.

John Morton, dealer in Watchung Lake ice, noted for its purity, has just put into service a handsome wagon to be used especially for the family trade on special delivery. The wagon is a most attractive one and all orders received for ice will be promptly attended to.

A Uniformed Branch.

Freedom Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, will meet this evening and make further arrangements for the organization of a commandery, a military branch of the Eagles. This branch will be completely uniformed. Tuesday evening, May 27, the Eagles will hold mock trial, when some popular subject will be debated.

Miss Sawyer, of Boston, has been spending a few days with friends in Plainfield.

Dangerous If Neglected.

Burns, cuts and other wounds often fail to heal properly if neglected and become troublesome sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve prevents such consequences. Even where delay has aggravated the injury DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve effects a cure. "I had a running sore on my leg thirty years," says H. C. Hartly, Yankeetown, Ind. "After using many remedies, I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes healed the sore." Cures all skin diseases. Piles yield to it at once. Beware of counterfeits. L. W. Randolph.

OUTWITTED BY LOCAL LAWYER

BRISK EXCHANGE OF LEGAL POINTS IN TRIAL AT SOMERVILLE.

Appeal Case Against a Boroughite Was Being Tried in Somerset County Court.

(Special to The Daily Press.)

Somerville, May 13—At the opening of court, yesterday morning, Judge Schenck took up the jury appeals and the first case tried was that of Carrie L. Schorb ads. John J. Maier. Mr. Maier sold some fertilizers to John M. Schorb, for his wife's farm in North Plainfield, and he gave a note in payment for the same. Mr. Maier sued for a balance of about $80 due on the note.

The case was originally tried before Justice Kitchen in Somerville October 23, 1901, and the verdict was then in favor of the defense. A. M. Beekman, of this place, was counsel for Maier and S. S. Swackhamer, of Plainfield, appeared for Mrs. Schorb.

After all the testimony of the plaintiff had been taken Mr. Swackhamer moved for a nonsuit on the ground that the plaintiff could not sue for payment on a back account and hold the note in his possession. As Mr. Beekman had the note there and offered it for cancellation this nonsuit was then denied by the court.

Mr. Swackhamer then moved for a nonsuit on another count. He said the plaintiff's counsel had failed to prove that the husband was the authorized agent for the wife in the transaction. Mr. Beekman thought he had sufficiently proved that, but asked to open his case that he might be allowed to put the books of Mr. Maier in evidence.

This was done and just as soon as Mr. Swackhamer saw that the charge for the fertilizers on the books was made to Schorb and wife he made another motion for a nonsuit on the ground that Maier had the goods charged to the husband and wife and was only suing one of them, having brought suit against the wife alone.

Judge Schenck sustained Mr. Swackhamer and a nonsuit was granted his client. The case fairly bristled with fine legal points and Mr. Swackhamer proved himself to be very quick to take advantage of any openings left exposed by the opposing counsel.

The next case taken up was that of Luther Childs ads. Charles Abbott French. This was tried December 8, 1901, before Justice Mattison in North Plainfield and is a trial in which the plaintiff is suing for pay for plans for a new residence which he drew for the defendant.

The case will probably occupy the court the best part of today.

Bike Damaged; Boy Safe.

Little Waldorf Ulrich had a narrow escape from injury at the corner of West Fifth street and Arlington avenue, yesterday morning. While riding his bicycle along West Fifth street he fell in front of a carriage belonging to E. L. Finch, of Park avenue. The bike was damaged considerably, but the boy escaped with a shaking up.

YOUTH OF MARQUIS ITO.

On His First Arrival in Europe the Great Japanese Statesman Had Just Two Dollars.

No student of oriental politics would to-day charge Marquis Ito with unprogressiveness. He is rightly considered as the creator of modern Japan. And yet, when he was a young man, he was bitterly opposed to the new-fangled ideas which his crack-brained countrymen were then busy importing from the occident. Because of his active opposition to the propaganda of the dominant party he was proscribed and forced to seek refuge in Europe. To an interviewer the marquis recently detailed the story of his emigration, in which he and young Count Inauye were companions.

THE MARQUIS ITO.
(Recognized Leader of the Progressive Element in Japan.)

"We two young fellows," the marquis said, "made for Nagasaki for the purpose of getting to England. The only word of English we knew was 'navigation.' At the office of the shipping company the man in charge asked what we wanted; all we could say was 'navigation.' He sent us aboard a vessel and imagine our surprise at finding we had been shipped as common sailors. All through the voyage we had to scrub decks and work just as the others did. The English sailors found out that we had money, and it was soon gambled away from us. But not all, for we kept two dollars carefully stowed away in an old stocking for emergencies."

With these two dollars Ito and his friend arrived one wet and stormy day at London docks. No one came to meet them and they were left alone, hungry and destitute in the great city. One of the dollars was tossed in the air, and on the cast Inouye, it was decided was to go and seek for food. He discovered a baker's shop, threw the dollar on the counter, seized a loaf of bread, and, without stopping for the change, rushed back to Ito, who, tired and ravenous, was waiting for him. Next day their friends came for them, and they were no longer alone. Such was Ito's first introduction to England and to western life.

TALLEST MAN ON EARTH.

Edward Beaupre Stands Ten Feet Eleven Inches High and Weighs Just 587 Pounds.

Dame Nature has apparently outdone herself in Edward Beaupre, the young French Canadian giant, who bids fair to outrival the fabled one eyed giant Polyphemus, of Homer's time, while he overtops by several feet modern competitors.

Beaupre, therefore, enjoys the proud distinction of being the tall-

LONG AND SHORT OF IT.
(Edward Beaupre, the Giant, and a Man of Ordinary Size.)

est man on earth. He is 30 years old, tips the scales at 587 pounds, and stands ten feet 11 inches high, his hands measuring 19 inches, and his feet 24 inches by 12 wide. A two yard tape measure barely encircles his chest.

Each of his trousers legs can contain the figures of two ordinary persons, and there is sufficient cloth in one of his suits to outfit ten average men. The massive framework of each of his outstretched arms will bear the weight of three athletes. A man five feet ten inches by his side appears a mere pigmy.

One of the peculiarities about Beaupre is that his father and mother were of ordinary size. From youth he has been a great gymnast and has given much time to athletic sports.

HEARD AT OLD POINT.

Interesting Debate on What the "Niggah" Likes to Eat, Which Ended in the First Round.

A man just returned from the south tells this story of a bet between two larkies of Old Point Comfort:

The traveler was seated on the gallery of the Hygeia hotel when he saw 'Eph" and a blacker companion walking toward the hotel. They were engaged in animated discussion and gesticulating expressively, soon getting near enough to be overheard.

"I kin name hit fust en' I kin name hit de quickes'," said Eph.

"Unh-um," injected the other, "you got to tell 'bout what a niggah likes

"STOP, NIGGAH!"
("Fo' de Lawd, You Ain' Left Nothin' fuh Me to Tell!")

tuh eat de bes' ob eberyting on de yearth—mighty slow an' purticklar so's yo' mouf water whiles you talkin'. It cain' be name whiles you floppin' up a nickel."

"Well—you jes go 'haid an' tell," defied Eph. "I bet you dis heah copper 'gin' a twis' of 'baccah dat when you gits thro' yo' gran' 'miration. I kin name what'll tickle a niggah's palate mo'n all de Belnezzar feasts."

The stakes were put up and the black man launched forth on the prize edible.

"You gits yo' dawg at sun down an' gits over de fence and you walks 'long twel you comes to de woods Den you sings:

"Possum up de gum stump.
Coon down in de holler.
Pretty gal at our house
Fat ey she kin waller."

"Terreely yo' dog run to sycamo' tree. You goes up dat tree an' you see a fat young possum. You gits dat possum down—(Eph began to look anxious), and teks yo' dog an' climb de fence. When yo' git back to yo' cabin you turn in an' bile some water in de pot en put ashes in hit. Den you tek an' turn in an' slaps dat possum in de pot. Den you tek him out, when he good en hot, an' yo' scrape him an' scrape him an' scr-a-pe him. When yo' gits done scrapin', you hangs him out do'se an' freeze 'im all night. De nex' mawnin' you put him in de pot an' bile him twel he tender an' den yo' gits out a pan an' grease hit. Den you turn in an' tek sweetin'-taters an' put 'em all 'roun' on de youtside. Den yo' put in de possum an' tek an' turn in an' put sweetin-taters all on de inside an' set him on de oben. Preseny you smell him cookin' mighty nice an' juicy an'"—

"Stop, niggah!" shouted Eph, in despair. "Fo de Lawd, you ain't lef' nothin fuh me to tell!"

HOGG IS DEMOCTRATIC.

Ex-Governor of Texas Positively Refuses to Wear Knee Breeches for King Edward.

A dispatch from London to the Chicago Tribune, tells of the emphatic refusal of ex-Gov. Hogg, of Texas, to attend a court levee to which he had been invited by the American ambassador when he found it would be necessary to wear the regulation dress of knee breeches, sword, etc. Mr. Hogg, who is six feet tall and weighs 400 pounds, said if he could not wear an ordinary dress suit he would forego the pleasure of meeting King Edward, and remarked that he "would cut a pretty figure in knee breeches."

JAMES S. HOGG.
(Ex-Governor of Texas Objects to Wearing Knee Breeches.)

Mr. Hogg is in London promoting a Texas oil deal. He was elected attorney general of Texas on the anti-trust platform, and later, as governor, was the most bitter enemy in the country of trusts, driving the Standard Oil company out of Texas and originating stringent legislation against trusts. When he left the governor's chair seven years ago he is said to have had just $55, but since has amassed a fortune of $2,000,000 in oil lands.

EVENING GOWNS.

Dyed Lace Perpendicular Trimmings—Ribbon Insertions.

Lace dyed in pale shades makes a rich evening gown. A recent importation was of pale blue silk lace made high neck and elbow sleeves and trimmed with fanciful applications of pale blue liberty satin. The sleeves had voluminous chiffon ruffles looped up at the elbows with pearl clasps.

The perpendicular style of trimming is still the vogue, varied with bias tuckings and strappings. The bottoms of the evening skirts are masses of tiny ruffings and insertions.

Ribbon is used a great deal in trimming evening gowns, particularly Persian and fancy ribbon. This is laid in stripes after the manner of insertions, and sometimes it is cut up into lozenges or odd shaped appliques.

Elbow sleeves dropping off the shoulders are seen on many of the new gowns. They are usually made of some sheer material, lace or chiffon ruffings, and the dress itself is held on by ribbon straps over the shoulders.

The evening dress in the picture is of Limerick lace trimmed with pompadour ribbon in shades of pink and blue. It is made up over white liberty satin.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

SUMMER MILLINERY.

Irregular Outlines and Simple Trimmings.

The fascinations of millinery this year are sufficient to tempt any woman beyond her purse. However, she who has clever fingers may buy one of the many pretty shapes which are sold for so little and trim it herself. For instance, a picture hat made up of tiny plaited chiffon ruffles needs no further decoration than a bunch of black silk poppies and a velvet hair bow.

The drooping bow is a necessary feature of the smart summer hat. The latest thing, however, is to have the ribbon narrow and falling in soft cascades.

All black and all white hats are considered very smart; also hats made of lace and trimmed with lace scarfs passed through jeweled buckles. Hats made of roses and violet leaves and trimmed with knots of soft louisine ribbon are smart, but not always becoming to those with irregular features.

In general, one can say about the hats of the year that they are distinguished by the irregularity of their outlines and the simplicity of their trimmings.

The hat shown is of white chiffon laid in shirrings. The underbrim is of tucked black chiffon. The hat is trimmed with a wreath of white roses, from which on the left side run straps of black velvet ribbon, which are brought over the brim and knotted into a bow close to the hair.

The Sturgis Wager

A DETECTIVE STORY

BY

EDGAR MORETTE

[Copyright, 1899, by Frederick A. Stokes Company.]

One of the policemen tried to open the door. It stuck in the jamb. Then he exerted upon it the whole of his brute strength; and, of a sudden, it yielded. As it flew open the body of a man lurched from the inside of the cab, and before anyone could catch it tumbled in a heap upon the pavement.

"I MEAN THE PASSENGER WHOSE BLOOD IS TRICKLING THERE."

A low cry of horror escaped from the crowd.

The cabman's passenger was a man past middle age, neatly but plainly dressed.

As Dr Thurston and a policeman bent over the prostrate form, the reporter shot a keen glance in the direction of the cabman, who stood staring at the body with a look of ghastly terror in his bulging eyes.

Presently the physician started to his feet with a low exclamation of surprise.

"Is he dead, doctor?" asked the policeman.

"He has been dead for some time," replied the physician, impressively; "the body is almost cold."

"Been dead for some time?" echoed the policeman.

"Yes; this man was shot. See there!"

As he spoke he pointed to a red streak which, starting from the left side of the dead man's coat, extended downward and marked the course of the tiny stream in which the life blood had flowed to a little pool on the floor of the cab.

"Shot!" exclaimed the policeman, who turned immediately to one of his brother officers. "Keep your eye on the cabman, Jim. We'll have to take him in. And look out for the other man, quick!"

Then, addressing the cabman, upon each of whose shoulders a policeman's hand was immediately placed, he asked, roughly:

"Who is this man?"

The cabman was completely sober now. He stood, pale and trembling, between his two captors, as he replied solemnly:

"Before God, I don't know, boss. I never saw him before."

The policeman looked at the man in blank amazement for an instant. Then he turned away contemptuously.

"All right, young feller," he said, "you don't have to confess to me. But I guess you'll have a chance to tell that story to a judge and jury."

Then he proceeded to examine the dead man's pockets. They were empty.

"Looks like robbery," he murmured. "What is it, Jim? Haven't you got the other man?"

Jim had not found the other man; for the pale young fellow in the sealskin cap had disappeared.

The reporter was stooping over the body, while Dr. Thurston cut through the clothing and laid bare a small, round wound.

"Here is another bullet wound," said Sturgis, turning over the body slightly, and pointing out a second round hole in the back of the dead man.

He seemed to take great interest in this discovery. He whipped out a steel tape and rapidly but carefully took a number of measurements, as if to locate the positions of the two wounds. Then he stepped into the cab; and, striking match after match, he spent several minutes apparently in eager search for something which he could not find.

"That is strange," he muttered to himself, as he came out at last.

"What is it?" inquired Thurston, who alone caught the words.

But the reporter either did not hear or did not care to answer. He at once renewed his search on the brilliantly-lighted pavement in the immediate vicinity of the cab; examining every stone, investigating every joint and every rut, prodding with his cane every lump of frozen mud, turning every stray scrap of paper.

"Well, doctor," he said, when at length he rejoined his companion, "if you have done all that you can we may as well go. It is one of the prettiest problems I have met; but there is nothing more for me to learn here for the present. By the way, as I was saying when I interrupted myself a little while ago, are you sure the cabman is drunk? I wish you would take another good look at him. The question may be more important than it seemed at first."

A few minutes later the physician and the reporter were hurrying along to make up for the time they had lost; the cab and the cabman had disappeared in the custody of the police, and the cabman's grewsome fare was jolting through Twenty-sixth street, in the direction of a small building which stands near the East river, and in which the stranded waifs of the new world metropolis can find rest at last, upon a stone slab, in the beginning of their eternal sleep.

Broadway had resumed its holiday aspect; the wizened hag at the corner still patiently ground out her plaintive discords; the tearful newsboy, with his slowly diminishing armful of newspapers, continued to shiver in the cold wind, as he offered his stock to the hurrying pedestrians; the big policeman again piloted his fair charges through the mass of moving vehicles, and the clanging cable cars started once more on their rumbling course, as if the snapping of a thread in the fabric of a city's life were a thing of constant occurrence and of no moment.

A few tiny dark red stains upon the pavement were all that remained to tell the story of the scene which had so recently been enacted in the busy thoroughfare. Presently even these were obliterated by the random stroke of a horse's hoof.

The ripple had disappeared from the surface. The stream of life was flowing steadily once more through the arteries of the metropolis.

CHAPTER II.

THE WAGER.

"What I mean to assert," said Ralph Sturgis, with quiet conviction, "is that every crime is its own historian; that all its minutest details are written in circumstantial evidence as completely as an eyewitness could see them—aye, more fully and more truly than they could be described by the criminal himself."

The reporter was a man of about 30, whose regular features bore the unmistakable stamp of intelligence and refinement. In repose, they wore an habitual expression of introspective concentration, which might have led a careless observer to class Ralph Sturgis in the category of aimless dreamers. But a single flash of the piercing gray eyes generally sufficed to dispel any such impression; and told of keen perception and underlying power. The mouth was firm and kind; the bearing that of a gentleman and a man of education.

"But," objected the host, "you surely do not mean to express a belief in the infallibility of circumstantial evidence?"

"Why not?"

"Because you must know as well as anyone how misleading uncorroborated circumstantial evidence is. I do not forget what remarkable results you have often accomplished for the Daily Tempest in detecting and following up clews to which the official detectives were blind. But, frankly, were not your conclusions usually the result of lucky guesses, which would have remained comparatively useless as evidence had they not been subsequently proved correct by direct testimony?"

"Let me reply to your question by another, Sprague," answered Sturgis. "When you draw a check, does the paying teller at the bank require the testimony of witnesses to your signature before admitting its genuineness?"

"No; of course not."

"Precisely. He probably knows the signature of Harvey M. Sprague, the depositor, better than he does the face of Sprague, the artist. And yet the evidence here is purely circumstantial. I know of at least one recent instance in which the officials of a New York bank placed their implicit reliance upon circumstantial evidence of this sort, in spite of the direct testimony of the depositor, who was willing to acknowledge the genuineness of a check to which his name had been forged."

"I suppose you refer to the Forsyth case," said Sprague; "but you must remember that Col. Forsyth was actuated by the desire to shield the forger, who was his own scapegrace son."

BAGGAGE RIGHTS OF CORPSE.

When Full Fare Is Paid for It the Ticket Carries with It the Regular Privilege.

A dead man has the same baggage rights as a living one. This question has been passed on by the chief baggage master of the Union depot, and it was done in a hurry, too, reports the Denver Post. There were five live persons and one dead man waiting for the decision. The coffin was placed in the baggage car and then the trunks of the five friends were weighed.

The weight exceeded the 150 pounds for each, but if the dead man were allowed baggage, this would solve the difficulty. The clerk had never heard of such a thing before. He refused to check a trunk on the dead man's ticket.

The train was almost ready to start. The five persons did not care to pay for the excess baggage, neither did they like to allow the body to go alone. The whistle of the train tooted its first warning.

Just then the chief baggage master arrived. He took in the situation at a glance.

"Check the trunks," he exclaimed, and the five hurried off in time to catch their train.

Then he explained to the clerk that the General Traffic Managers' association had passed on the question only a few days before. This organization decided that when a full fare ticket is paid for, for the transportation of a corpse, the ticket carries with it the regular baggage privilege of "not to exceed 150 pounds."

THE ABYSSINIAN FORGIVES.

Poor People Who, Though Ignorant, Have Kept the Pith of Christian Morals.

M. Hugues Le Roux, now lecturing in America, contributes to Century a paper on "New Trails in Abyssinia," from which we take this odd passage:

It would be unfair not to mention in passing that these poor people, however ignorant they may be of the laws of the religion they profess, have at least kept the pith of Christian morals, the good which distinguishes them from Islamic teachings—the doctrine of forgiveness.

You cannot dismiss a servant, or, with regard to a culprit, take a stand which everyone believes just, without being visited by the friends and enemies of the delinquent.

They all come and entreat you: "You are a Christian? Forgive him." And the humble do not ask merely that pardon shall be granted by their masters; they endeavor to practice it among themselves.

During the explorations that I made in the west, a rather good-for-nothing boy who was in my private service tried to kill my head servant. The victim demanded, as was his right, that the law of retaliation be applied; but the rest of the servants united in an appeal to the irate man, and the next day he came to me and said:

"I have forgiven the murderer; give him his freedom."

ANCIENT CHOIRISTERS.

An Old Men's Singing Club in California the Members of Which Are Over 65.

One of the most remarkable clubs of modern times has its headquarters in Alameda, Cal. It is known as the "Old Men's Singing club," no one being admitted to it who has not the gift of song and who has not passed at least his sixty-fifth birthday. The club has 101 members, with an aggregate age of 6,666 years. The only woman artist was the Senora Benina Barone, aged 103 years, who danced and sang "La Tolla." This old Spanish woman was born in Mexico in 1798. She danced in the Spanish City of Mexico while in the first blush of maidenhood, and the picturesque cavaliers of those times pelted her with roses. To the tinkling accompaniment of a guitar they sang love songs underneath her window. These, she says, were merry days. The weary feet, which at their owner's request danced once more in order that a few extra dollars might be added to the fund for the poor, were as light as in the bygone days, and if the aged voice quavered, no one noticed it.

WHEN ABROAD SPEAK ENGLISH

He Who Attempts a Foreign Tongue May Get Into a Predicament Like This.

The English-speaking tourist who wastes half an hour of time, temper and energy in trying to make some dweller in a foreign land understand his bad French or Spanish, only to be shocked at length by some such a question as: "Can't you speak English?" is almost as common nowadays as the track-walking tragedian. This is a little story of his experience in Spain, as told by "The Dominie," in Ladies' Home Journal:

"One day we all entered a little shop in Madrid and 'The Captain' began to speak in Spanish to the girl who was behind the counter. She failed to understand and so he tried again. Once and again he tried and tried, and summoned up his whole vocabulary. At last in his attempt to make his meaning plain by illustration he drew from his pocket case a card, and with it stroked his chin. The girl fell into fits of laughter and in perfect English said: 'Oh! what you want is a fine-tooth comb.'"

AMATEUR PHOTOGRAPHER.

Cajole Their Friends Into Becoming the Victims of Their Diabolical Practice.

If the average amateur photographer would not attempt to make portraits! It is bad enough to be misrepresented in an out-of-doors group, but when the snapshot man turns his attention to heads, and poses them near the camera it is too much, remarks the New York Times.

One of these mental torturers did this the other day. He cajoled a much-photographed neighbor to allow him to practice upon her for the full face. His must have been an excellent lens, for nothing escaped it. It seemed to have X-ray qualities. It brought defects out of that poor woman's face of which she had never dreamed. There were big freckles which she had not seen since she was a child, wrinkles which made her 20 years older than she really was, savage lines about her mouth, and her hair was turned into broomcorn.

"There, I think that is a pretty good portrait," said the amateur, as he turned over the result of his efforts to the victim. "That is a good likeness."

It was a likeness, too. There was the same strong resemblance which the caricaturist puts into his sketches and also the same hideous unlikeness, with not even the humorous excuse for it. It was all blank ugliness.

No one will know the blow it was to the woman to receive that awful thing as her picture. Her friends only half guessed it when she timidly asked if they thought it looked very much like her. She had really believed the statement, sometimes wrongfully made, that the camera cannot lie. The camera is an unconscionable hypocrite.
